Arguably, the Stasi’s use of Zersetzung is much more relevant to modern gang stalking in the U.S. than is the FBI’s program of Cointelpro operations. In the decades since Cointelpro, a far more comprehensive and sophisticated domestic surveillance system has been developed in the U.S. than what existed during the era of J. Edgar Hoover. The nature of America’s spying network has moved much further toward that of a police state.

Although the Stasi’s technology for “signals intelligence” (interception of electronic communications) was primitive compared to that now used by the National Security Agency (NSA) to monitor Americans, the Stasi was famous for exploiting “human intelligence” to control East Germany’s citizens. A January 2008 article in Wired magazine described it this way:

“As the enforcement arm of the German Democratic Republic’s Communist Party, the Stasi at its height in 1989 employed 91,000 people to watch a country of 16.4 million. A sprawling bureaucracy almost three times the size of Hitler’s Gestapo was spying on a population a quarter that of Nazi Germany.

Unlike the prison camps of the Gestapo or the summary executions of the Soviet Union’s KGB, the Stasi strove for subtlety. “They offered incentives, made it clear people should cooperate, recruited informal helpers to infiltrate the entire society,” says Konrad Jarausch, a historian at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. “They beat people up less often, sure, but they psychologically trampled people. Which is worse depends on what you prefer.”

That finesse helped the Stasi quell dissent, but it also fostered a pervasive and justified paranoia.”

The interrogation center where the psychological torture methods of Zersetzung were refined

These are the isolation cells in the Hohenschoenhausen Prison in Berlin - which is now a museum.

Click on image to enlarge.

Stasi Prison

The following excerpt from a Wikipedia entry on the Stasi provides a good description of its strategy and tactics - which were virtually identical to “gang stalking.”

By the 1970s, the Stasi had decided that methods of overt persecution which had been employed up to that time, such as arrest and torture, were too crude and obvious. It was realised that psychological harassment was far less likely to be recognised for what it was, so its victims, and their supporters, were less likely to be provoked into active resistance, given that they would often not be aware of the source of their problems, or even its exact nature. Zersetzung was designed to side-track and “switch off” perceived enemies so that they would lose the will to continue any “inappropriate” activities.

Tactics employed under Zersetzung generally involved the disruption of the victim’s private or family life. This often included psychological attacks such as breaking into homes and messing with the contents - moving furniture, altering the timing of an alarm, removing pictures from walls or replacing one variety of tea with another. Other practices included property damage, sabotage of cars, purposely incorrect medical treatment, smear campaigns including sending falsified compromising photos or documents to the victim’s family, denunciation, provocation, psychological warfare, psychological subversion, wiretapping, bugging, mysterious phone calls or unnecessary deliveries, even including sending a vibrator to a target’s wife. Usually victims had no idea the Stasi were responsible. Many thought they were losing their minds, and mental breakdowns and suicide could result.

One great advantage of the harassment perpetrated under Zersetzung was that its subtle nature meant that it was able to be denied. That was important given that the GDR was trying to improve its international standing during the 1970s and 80s.

Zersetzung techniques have since been adopted by other security agencies, particularly the Russian Federal Security Service (FSB).

For more information on the psychological torture methods used by the Stasi - many of which are being used today in the U.S. - you can visit this website.

The use of energy weapons by the Stasi

Nuclear-Symbol

Counterintelligence tactics used by the Stasi were remarkably similar to the tactics now being reported by victims of ongoing Cointelpro harassment in the U.S. Even the most exotic form of torture associated with organized stalking - the use of energy weapons - is an issue which appears in news reports about East Germany's secret police.

An article published by BBC News in May 1999 describes the allegations about the Stasi's possible use of energy weapons against dissidents:

When three of former East Germany's best-known dissidents died within a few months of each other, of similar rare forms of leukaemia, suspicions were aroused among their friends that this was more than just a coincidence.

The writer Juergen Fuchs was convinced before his death this month that he had been deliberately exposed to high levels of radiation by the East German secret police, the Stasi, which could have caused his terminal cancer ….

In 1989, when the Berlin Wall came down, members of East German citizens' committees occupied prisons across the country.

Some of them were surprised to find powerful X-ray equipment there - not, as you might expect, in the medical centres, but in the rooms where prisoners had their photographs taken ….

Thomas Auerbach works as a scientific researcher for the main authority investigating the Stasi. He saw X-ray equipment himself when he was taking part in a sit-in in an East German prison.

He has seen the documents which show that a variety of experiments were being carried out involving the potential uses of radiation as a means of poison and sabotage.

He believes that instead of X-rays, it was highly likely that radioactive isotopes were used to try to induce cancer in prisoners.

Books and Films about the Stasi

Zersetzung der Selle ("Decomposition of the Soul")

Subtitle: Psychologie und Psychiatrie im Dienste der Stasi ("psychology and psychiatry in the service of the Stasi")

This book about the Stasi's methods of psychological torture was published in 1995. The authors, Klaus Behnke and Jürgen Fuchs, studied psychology in East Germany before being expelled in 1977. Unfortunately, as of this writing, the book has not been translated into English.

Zersetzung was the term used by the Stasi to describe the psychological operations (psyops) element of their counterintelligence subversion. The objective was to emotionally and socially destroy individuals who were perceived as dissidents, and to do so in a manner which would not be obvious to others.

Unfortunately, there does not seem to be an English language translation of this book. Similarly, the 2002 documentary based on this book does not seem to be available with English subtitles.

Zersetzung der Seele (Cover)

Das Leben der Anderen (“The Lives of Others”)

This film about the Stasi won the Academy Award for Best Foreign Language Film (2006).

Here is a New York Times review of the movie.

The-lives-of-others-movie-poster

A man who was a target of the Stasi describes the infamous agency

In this 15-minute TED speech given in Berlin in June 2014, Hubertus Knabe, a German historian who was a victim of the Stasi (he was under surveillance for smuggling banned books), describes the infamous secret police agency, and its system of Zersetzung.

Here is the description which accompanies the video:

Tour the deep dark world of the East German state security agency known as Stasi. Uniquely powerful at spying on its citizens, until the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989 the Stasi masterminded a system of surveillance and psychological pressure that kept the country under control for decades. Hubertus Knabe studies the Stasi - and was spied on by them. He shares stunning details from the fall of a surveillance state, and shows how easy it was for neighbor to turn on neighbor.

“Hubertus Knabe: The dark secrets of a surveillance state”

Here is a transcript of the speech posted at the TED website.

The TED website showed that as of September 2014, this video had already been viewed over 700,000 times.

Chief of the Stasi

From 1957 until the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989, the head of East Germany's secret police was Erich Mielke. He was essentially the communist version of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. Mielke presided over a network of 85,000 full-time domestic spies and 170,000 civilian informants.

Erich Mielke

Erich Mielke

When a film company, LOOKS Filmproduktionen, began producing a documentary on Mielke, it submitted a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request to the CIA for its records on the notorious Stasi leader, but the CIA denied the request.

In July 2014 Courthouse News reported that the film company filed a lawsuit to force the CIA to release its records on Mielke.

Blue Line

7. The National and International Scope of
. Gang Stalking

world map 01

Well-documented historical and contemporary reporting - including some of the examples cited in the Published News Reports section of this overview - suggest that organized stalking is used by various foreign intelligence services and law enforcement agencies. In the following section, for example, is a credible first-hand journalist's account of organized stalking tactics being used by Russian intelligence agents. No one disputes that such tactics were widely used by East Germany's Stasi.

Two mainstream news articles I posted in the Cointelpro News page of this website (October 10, 2004 and May 31, 2006) are about gang stalking tactics used by intelligence and law enforcement agencies in Northern Ireland and Canada. As I explain in the Gang Stalking Documents page of this website, a classified U.S. diplomatic cable published by WikiLeaks in 2010 also contained an apparent reference to the use of such tactics in Canada.

Incidentally, the U.S. Senate Church Committee investigations found that the government of Canada was also complicit in the infamous CIA program, MK Ultra.

Anectdotal evidence of the use of organized stalking by other Western governments also includes accounts such as this self-published book about gang stalking allegedly perpetrated on behalf of the Dutch royal family.

From my perspective, another indication of the international scope of gang stalking is the Internet traffic and emails to this website from countries all over the world.

Based on my personal experience and numerous accounts by self-proclaimed victims, organized stalking occurs across the U.S., so moving from one area to another is not likely to help. Similarly, international cooperation among law enforcement and intelligence agencies means that moving from the U.S. to Canada is probably not going to be helpful.

A quick note on that point: anyone in America who is considering moving to another country to escape illegal stalking by the U.S. government's Stasi goons should probably avoid the four nations with the closest ties to the U.S. intelligence community: Canada, the U.K, Australia, and New Zealand. Lynnae Williams, a former CIA clandestine service trainee and former Defense Intelligence Agency analyst, is a self-proclaimed target of organized stalking by the FBI. She ultimately moved to Spain to find refuge.

Unfortunately for the criminals, traitors, and greedy contractors who run the U.S. intelligence community, Ms. Williams revealed that those agencies use sock puppets to monitor social media and to spread false information on the Internet - a claim which has also been confirmed by other sources. Hacked emails from intelligence contractors, for example, revealed elaborate disinformation schemes using sock puppets, and a smoking-gun NSA document leaked by Edward Snowden proved that the NSA collaborates with its British counterpart GCHQ to systematically spread lies the same way.

Other High-Tech Gadgetry: Seeing Through Walls

Seeing Through Walls

A photo from February 10, 2010 Stars and Stripes

Caption for the above photo: “A soldier shows how a new scanner can see motion of an individual behind a wall. The device is set to be fielded in Afghanistan this year.”

Internal documents from the Cointelpro era proved that the FBI secretly used illegal “black bag jobs” (breaking into the residences of targeted individuals) to perform surveillance and to perpetrate psychological warfare - such as the tactic of “gas-lighting” described earlier.

Although the tactic is just as illegal now as it was then (invasive spying without a search warrant), it is apparently used routinely in gang stalking, based on virtually all victim accounts.

Consequently, it would be very easy to deploy miniature spy cameras (which are now very advanced and small and inexpensive) in the victim’s residence. So the use of technology which can see through walls is probably unnecessary in most cases, but the technology does exist.

A June 2005 article in Popular Mechanics by Frank Vizard stated that “through-the-wall” technology “has been aggressively researched by military and university labs since the mid-1990s.” The article is on page 30.

Popular Mechanics June 2005

This August 2012 article in Popular Science describes a form of this technology which uses Wi-Fi radio signals - which are now available in most U.S. homes. Reportedly, Wi-Fi radar can “determine a person’s location, speed, and direction - even through a one-foot-thick brick wall.”

Such technology could be perfect for gang stalking because, as the article notes, the device cannot be detected, since it does not emit any radio waves.

Other High-Tech Gadgetry: Directed-Energy Weapons (DEWs)

DARPA Laser Gun

DARPA Laser Gun - from Business Insider, September 14, 2012

As I noted in the section about East Germany’s secret police, the Stasi used counterintelligence tactics remarkably similar to the tactics reported by victims of ongoing Cointelpro harassment in the U.S. Even the most exotic form of torture associated with organized stalking - the use of energy weapons - is an issue which appears in news reports about East Germany’s secret police. An article published by BBC News in May 1999, for example, describes allegations about the Stasi’s possible use of energy weapons against dissidents.

Claims about energy weapons being used against targeted individuals in the U.S. are difficult to prove - as one would expect, but there are a number of reasons the subject deserves serious consideration.

From a July 2005 Associated Press article:

"For years, the U.S. military has explored a new kind of firepower that is instantaneous, precise and virtually inexhaustible: beams of electromagnetic energy. "Directed-energy" pulses can be throttled up or down depending on the situation, much like the phasers on "Star Trek" could be set to kill or merely stun ….

The hallmark of all directed-energy weapons is that the target - whether a human or a mechanical object - has no chance to avoid the shot because it moves at the speed of light. At some frequencies, it can penetrate walls."

A Directed-Energy Weapon (DEW) emits energy at a target without using a projectile, and can produce a variety of lethal or non-lethal effects. Such weapons have existed for decades, and are used by militaries and law enforcement agencies around the world. DEWs use various forms of energy, such as laser beams, electromagnetic radiation, and particle beams, as well as sound.

Weapons of this type are often referred to as "non-lethal weapons" to distinguish them from weapons such as knives, batons, firearms, artillery, and such; however, the intensity of some energy weapons can produce lethal effects.

Naturally, much of the information about these weapons is classified. One example of the publicly-available documents on the subject is the previously-mentioned declassified Pentagon report about electronic weapons (dated 1998) called "Bioeffects of Selected Non-Lethal Weapons" - which was obtained via a Freedom of Information Act request.

Here is the Defense Department's website about non-lethal weapons.

Occasional references to the subject do appear in the news. An example is this May 17, 2013 article in the Marine Corps Times about the Joint Non-Lethal Weapons Directorate at Quantico, Virginia. The article explains that the directorate performs "research into everything from electroshock weapons to the Active Denial System, a directed energy weapon that causes painful sensations to targeted individuals without burning the skin."

This September 2012 article in Business Insider - "America's Scariest Weapons" - gives an idea of some of the electronics weapons being developed by the U.S. government, such as a "heat ray."

If you are interested in an example of how someone could construct a homemade short-range electromagnetic weapon (for research purposes or for self-defense or whatever), this might be a good place to start.

You will need to be pretty resourceful working in your garage to keep pace with the feds though. In September 2013 it was reported that the U.S. Defense Department granted a $49 million contract to General Dynamics for developing directed energy weapons.

That is some of the non-disputed information about DEWs. The role of such weapons in U.S. domestic counterintelligence operations is in the realm of speculation and anecdotal evidence.

Many descriptions exist on the Internet which purport to be accounts by gang stalking victims claiming to have been attacked with such weapons. Accounts include descriptions of burning sensations, headaches, nausea, sudden fatigue, a fluttering sensation in the chest, etc.

My observations about DEWs and organized stalking:

(1) The extensive use of disinformation by gang stalkers raises problems when assessing the plausibility of claims about the use of DEWs against targeted individuals. To the extent that the use of DEWs is perceived by non-victims of gang stalking as being implausible, discussion of their use (whether accurate or not) could undermine efforts to expose gang stalking generally. Secondly, even if DEWs are rarely used, it could further the counterintelligence objectives to discuss them on the Internet, if only to raise the anxiety of victims, who might begin wondering whether their headaches, high-blood pressure, and other problems are being induced by DEWs.

(2) It is inherently difficult to distinguish between some of the effects of DEWs and the effects of psychological harassment ("psyops") tactics. Stress induced by psychological torment can manifest in some of the same ways - accelerated heart rates and headaches, for example.

However …

(3) The use of DEWs against gang stalking victims is technologically plausible. No one disputes the existence of such devices, and they're consistent with the tactics of gang stalking. For example, harassment by noises generated from adjacent residences is a common gang stalking tactic, so it isn't much of a stretch to imagine the use of energy weapons in the same situation, as the energy would easily pass through most walls.

(4) Such a tactic would be a logical choice for use in organized stalking, since it would be difficult or impossible to prove that such attacks were happening.

(5) Reportedly, the intensity and lethality of such weapons varies greatly, but even the most extreme applications would be consistent with the malevolent campaigns against gang stalking victims. Anyone willing to terrorize someone relentlessly with psychological torment - even knowing that it could lead to suicide or heart attack (or lethal violence by the victim against others in response), would presumably not have moral reservations about using DEWs.

(6) My own personal contacts with self-proclaimed targeted individuals include three cases in which persons whom I believe (for multiple reasons) to be highly credible reported having apparently been attacked by some form of non-lethal weapons.

Counter-measures

Since the role of DEWs in organized stalking is surrounded by at least as much disinformation as any other area of the subject, it is difficult to know how widespread the use of such weapons could be - let alone how to defend against them. The technical issues involved in possible counter-measures are beyond my ken, but for what it is worth, a credible source - Wired - states in this May 2012 article that a Faraday cage blocks all electromagnetic radiation.

Other High-Tech Gadgetry: Brain Implants

This final “tactic” is in a separate category from all of those above because its use as a weapon of organized stalking is apparently fictional. I include it here because the subject appears in numerous online references to gang stalking - although most or all such websites are clearly pieces of deliberate disinformation.

Creating numerous websites which are purportedly authored by people who believe themselves to be controlled by chips implanted in their brains is an easy way to discredit reports of the more mundane - but still evil and illegal - tactics of America’s counterintelligence goon squads. Such disinformation strategies are extremely effective when most of the public is ignorant of basic counterintelligence methods.

The technology of implanted electronic devices to manipulate brain functions is very real. The neuroscience research was pioneered by Jose M.R. Delgado, a professor of physiology at Yale University.

As disinformation, the subject has traction both because brain implant technology has existed for decades and because the U.S. intelligence community has a well-documented history of secret unethical mind-control experiments on humans (MK Ultra).

Anyone wishing to learn about electronic brain implants should probably begin with this October 2005 article from Scientific American: “The Forgotten Era of Brain Chips.”

Scientific American (Oct. 2005)

Even Higher-Tech Gadgetry: Smart Dust

Smart Dust

I mention this only to give a sense of the kind of threats on the horizon - for everyone, not just for those unlucky enough to already be victims of America’s Stasi.

All the mental giants who advocate that U.S. intelligence agencies and their contractors - and the Pentagon and its contractors - should be granted unlimited power and secrecy and money should pause to consider the types of technologies that those people will be playing with in the future.

Here is a technology that is potentially a more sophisticated version of brain chip implants, and which at a minimum will enable Big Brother (and his network of friends) to perform all sorts of monitoring.

“Smart Dust” is a system of tiny wireless electromechanical systems which can function as sensors and perform certain tasks using radio-frequency identification.

A July 2013 article in MIT Technology Review: “How Smart Dust Could Spy on Your Brain”

A final note on the efficacy of gang stalking tactics

At the end of his aforementioned book Stopping a Stalker, retired police captain Robert L. Snow describes the psychological aftermath of stalking.

Keep in mind: Snow is describing the impact of being stalked by a single individual with limited resources - not the long-term effects of being stalked by numerous perpetrators with seemingly unlimited resources, conspiring with each other across a criminal network which has the support of the government and uses refined psychological operations ("psyops") tactics combined with high-tech surveillance.

"During my 30 years as a police officer I have dealt with thousands of crime victims, and have felt a deep compassion for the majority of these people, who have been robbed, raped, shot, swindled, beaten, and burglarized. Yet, by the time I saw these victims, the crime was over and the healing process had already begun.

With stalking victims, however, the crime wasn't over with, but continued on and on. Victims of stalking say the experience is like a prolonged rape, a never-ending and terrifying loss of control over one's life. Stalking is one of the most psychologically crippling things that can happen to a person. Being stalked takes away a person's freedom, a person's security, and often a person's will to live."

9. Mobbing and Workplace Violence

r-CRIME-SCENE-TAPE-large570

"Workplace Harassment" versus "Mobbing"

"Mobbing" is intense systematic harassment of an employee by multiple co-workers and managers. Presumably only a fraction of workplace harassment cases involve the kind of coordinated and severe emotional abuse that could be categorized as mobbing.

Mobbing is sometimes - but probably not always - an element of organized stalking. I would guess that only a fraction of cases of mobbing are part of the even more extreme phenomenon of organized stalking, which includes invasive illegal surveillance and sophisticated psychological operations tactics.

Depending on the circumstances, workplace mobbing - even when not accompanied by stalking outside the workplace - can involve serious psychological abuse. In some cases, the bullying leads to a violent response by the victim, as apparently happened in the cases described below.

The objective of mobbing is to emotionally torture a targeted employee - either to force him or her to quit, or for vengeance, or both.

News Reports on Mobbing

Articles occasionally appear in the mainstream press about mobbing. This August 2000 article from Newsweek/Daily Beast is an early example of reporting on what was already becoming an international trend.

Corporate Psychopaths

The 2012 presentation in the video clip below is a fascinating 14-minute explanation of the dynamics of intense workplace bullying by psychopaths in the corporate world. The presenter, Clive Boddy, is an expert on the phenomenon. Boddy is a professor of Leadership and Organizational Behavior at Middlesex University in England.

Connections Between Mobbing and Organized Stalking

Although apparently accurate, the above video is exclusively about abusive behavior within an organization, such as a corporation. An abusive boss can make the workplace a hellish place for subordinates, but if the psychopathic boss also has connections to public law enforcement and private security personnel, the potential for abuse extends far beyond the range of common workplace harassment.

Opportunities for psychopaths in corporations to abuse the legal system and to abuse modern security technology in order to target individuals for personal reasons have greatly increased recently.

As explained elsewhere in this website, the U.S. law enforcement and intelligence community has worked to expand its powers and information sources by establishing closer ties with corporations - for example, through partnerships such as InfraGard and DSAC. Among the consequences is that it is theoretically now easier for at least some corporate managers to use procedures such as “threat assessment teams” to toss an employee into the legal meat-grinder - for example, by declaring him or her to be an apparent “insider threat.” This is especially true if the manager has established a personal relationship with local or federal law enforcement contact persons.

As described in the section of this webpage about the U.S. Department of Justice, America’s “post-constitutional” law enforcement paradigm’s emphasis on things such as surveillance, secrecy, watch-lists, “predictive policing,” and the aggressive investigation and prosecution of whistle-blowers all create an environment ripe for abuse by managers with personal vendettas.

Another problem for any individual who crosses someone with connections to America's law enforcement and intelligence community is that the entire industry is long on enforcers and short on legitimate targets. Organized stalking - illegal counterintelligence subversion - dates back to at least the FBI's Cointelpro era of the 1950s and '60s, but the size and power of America's "homeland security" infrastructure was radically expanded after the September 2001 terrorist attacks, and now includes numerous government agencies and private contractors whose place at the federal budget pig trough needs to be justified. Any dissident, whistle-blower, or even marginally-suspicious individual who wanders into the cross-hairs of the police state these days is likely to be portrayed as a grave threat to national security by the bureaucrats and thugs who populate the security industry.

Compounding the threat to employees who are potential "targeted individuals" is the trend discussed previously in this website of corporations hiring private spies - many of whom are current or former government law enforcement and intelligence agents who often have contacts with their government counterparts. Here again is the best report I have seen on the topic: Spooky Business

America's diminishing economic opportunities for middle and lower class workers could also be increasing the supply of people willing to serve as pawns and snitches in group harassment activities - whether orchestrated privately or by law enforcement agencies. It seems likely that financially desperate subordinates are more easily manipulated.

Advances in surveillance technology pose another threat to individuals targeted by corporations. Employers now often snoop on employees' email communications, Internet activity, and Facebook pages for example. Also, any corporation willing to hire private investigators can easily spy on employees' personal lives in various ways.

Finally, to whatever extent workplace mobbing leads to violence - as discussed below - there are potentially self-fulfilling and self-reinforcing dynamics at work. A violent outburst by the employee being harassed can be cited as confirmation that he was correctly singled out for investigation and surveillance, and the violent incident can also be cited - locally and nationally - as evidence for the need to increase the use of aggressive security measures.

A Federal Lawsuit about Mobbing and Gang Stalking

In December 2013 a federal contractor, Jeffrey Kantor, filed a lawsuit in Virginia against multiple U.S. agencies for secretly and illegally subjecting him to invasive surveillance, overt stalking, and intentional systematic infliction of severe emotional abuse - including by means of carefully orchestrated verbal abuse by his co-workers.

Kantor's case appears to be a clear example of mobbing as part of a state-sanctioned organized stalking campaign against a targeted individual - in fact, the complaint filed refers to "gang stalking" as such. I posted a complete account of the case here.

Regardless of the ultimate outcome of Jeffrey Kantor's legal claim, it is significant that a widely-reported lawsuit was filed against members of the U.S. intelligence community alleging precisely the same illegal counterintelligence psychological operations tactics reported by virtually all self-proclaimed victims of organized stalking.

News Reports on the Connection between Mobbing and Workplace Violence

Mainstream news reports and commentary on workplace violence - such as mass shootings - tends to follow a predictable template. The primary questions addressed are whether such incidents can be reduced by the following measures: (1) more restrictive gun control laws, (2) better mental health care policies, (3) more rigorous security protocols - such as background checks and metal detectors, and (4) a reduction in the amount of violence in popular culture, such as movies and video games.

When mass-shootings occur in schools and involve minors, the role of bullying as a causal factor is sometimes discussed, but for the most part, in cases of workplace violence, the subject is conspicuously absent from reporting and analysis. News agencies rarely give serious consideration to whether intense bullying by the shooter's managers and co-workers contributed to the violence.

Even in cases of violence in schools, news media attention to the role of bullying is small relative to its importance. A 2011 survey of high school students found that teenagers who are the victims of bullying are up to 31 times more likely to bring weapons to school.

Such statistics give an idea of how deeply corrupt U.S. intelligence and law enforcement agencies must be to acquiesce in organized harassment of targeted individuals; those agencies have to be aware of the high potential for violence it creates.

That failure to discuss what is arguably the most obvious possible causal factor in workplace shootings is partly attributable to intellectually-lazy journalism, but it also involves ideological priorities. People wishing to see stricter firearms regulations enacted, for example, are inclined to view mass-shootings as opportunities for public discussion of those policies. Similarly, those whose agendas include increased surveillance and security systems will seek to use these incidents to bolster their case for a more muscular police state.

Another reason for ignoring the role of bullying in workplace violence incidents is presumably that the organizations involved - companies, schools, and government agencies where such incidents occur - have every incentive to downplay their own negligent tolerance of the bullying.

Reporting on workplace violence is probably self-censored to some extent, because the news agencies involved do not wish to raise the unpleasant issue of whether the victims of such shootings might have brought the violence upon themselves by their abusive behavior.

An exception to the lack of good reporting on this subject was published by the Huffington Post in August 2011. Anthropologist Janice Harper dared to ask the most important question about a mass shooting which had occurred a year earlier in Manchester, Connecticut. Omar Thornton, a delivery truck driver, fatally shot eight of his co-workers and then killed himself.

"Was Thornton bullied in the workplace, mobbed by management and co-workers to the point of mass murder? Given the savagery of his final acts, does it really matter if he was harassed, discriminated against, bullied or mobbed?

It does if it can prevent future acts of workplace vengeance. Last year, when Lt. Governor M. Jodi Rell asked, "In the wake of this tragedy, we are all left asking the same questions: How could someone do this? Why did they do this?" his question was treated almost as if it were rhetorical. Any serious effort to answer it was blasted away with a flippant hate-filled remark as if trying to understand what drives workers to kill somehow excuses the killing and trivializes the trauma the survivors will forever suffer."

As Harper noted, the shooter, Omar Thornton, reportedly did not have a history of violence or mental illness.

Any intelligent person should be curious about why an otherwise non-violent individual would suddenly lash-out at others with lethal force. It turns out that Thornton had apparently been the target of intense harassment by his co-workers. There does not seem to be any reported evidence that the shooter was the target of organized stalking, but the case - like other similar cases - has implications for the issue of gang stalking. Among those implications is that cases of intense harassment of an individual by multiple perpetrators often fail to generate any serious inquiry - even when the process culminates in extreme violence.

Academic Reports on the Connection between Mobbing and Workplace Violence

Peer-reviewed studies by Dr. Kenneth Westhues, Professor Emeritus of Sociology, University of Waterloo, Canada, have found a link between mobbing (group bullying) and mass shootings in recent years in North America in workplaces and educational institutions.

As noted by Keith Labella at Gang Stalking is Murder, the link between mobbing and workplace violence “eluded authorities, university officials, and, obviously, the mainstream media.” Westhues estimates that at least a third of all rampage shootings can be attributed to mobbing.

“In nearly every mass shooting, Westhues found that a programmatic system of workplace or academic bullying had systematically isolated, scapegoated and humiliated the victim and virtually groomed the shooter for the role of monster. The role of psychiatry, police, and administrative bureaucracy as “threat assessment teams” and “safety prevention” was not only an utter failure, but, moreover, prompted the very acts of mass violence they sought to prevent.”

The following passage is from Professor Westhues’s report Mobbing and the Virginia Tech Massacre (November 2007).

“On April 16, 2007, Seung-Hui Cho, a fourth-year student in the English Department at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and

State University, murdered 32 professors and students and injured a further 25, then took his own life ….

Cho appears to have been the target of an uncommon but distinct and devastating social process called workplace mobbing. It is the impassioned ganging up of managers and/or peers against a targeted worker, the object being the target's absolute humiliation and elimination from respectable company."

An example of a case which deserves a closer look

To cite one example (of many), a workplace shooting in Long Beach, California invites suspicion about the possible involvement of mobbing. Even if there are other explanations, this particular case is interesting for several reasons.

Incidentally, at the time of this shooting, I lived close to downtown Long Beach, and I witnessed some of the police and ambulance activity associated with the event. I became curious about the relative silence about it in the media.

On February 16, 2012, on the seventh floor of the Glenn M. Anderson Federal Building in downtown Long Beach, Ezequiel Garcia, an agent of Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), shot his boss, Kevin Kozak, six times. Reportedly (see the article linked below for details), Mr. Garcia's attack on his boss was in response to the fact that Mr. Kozak (who was the second-in-command of ICE's Los Angeles region) had turned-down Garcia's request for a transfer within the department.

Apparently, Garcia shot Kozak "following a discussion about Garcia's job performance." Another agent, Perry Woo, then rushed into the room and fatally shot Garcia. Kozak survived.

This workplace violence incident involved two government officers being shot - one fatally - in a federal building in the downtown area of a major city, yet barely registered as a blip on the media's radar. Furthermore, both ICE and the FBI - which investigated the case - declined to provide any details about what happened.

After spending a year investigating the incident, the FBI determined that the fatal shooting of Garcia was justified. By the way, the FBI always finds that its shootings are justified. As the CBS article below notes, The FBI's spokeswoman, Laura Eimiller, would only say that the details about what led to the incident "would be kept confidential because no criminal charges are planned."

Apart from several paragraphs in the middle of the article linked below, most of the media did not seem to be curious about the incident - or about the silence of the government agencies involved. Apparently the matter did pique the interest of a few people other than myself though; the article cites concerns about the secrecy surrounding the event expressed by representatives of the Citizens for Responsibility and Ethics in Washington (CREW) and the Open Government Project at the Electronic Privacy Information Center (EPIC).

Maybe the ICE agent, Mr. Garcia, was just having a bad day. Perhaps someone cut him off in traffic on his way to work that morning and he was a bit wound-up about it, so he shot his boss six times during his job performance review.

On the other hand, maybe he snapped after a period of systematic harassment, and the feds did not want that made public. At a minimum, the case illustrates the secrecy which often surrounds the activities of America's law enforcement agencies.

This is an article about the incident from CBS Los Angeles Local News.

Mass shooting at the Washington Navy Yard - September 2013

Washington Navy Yard

This website would not be complete without mentioning this incident; news coverage of the shooting - and the public commentary about it - included speculation about the possibility that the shooter had been the target of a “gang stalking” /MK Ultra-type operation.

Here is what has been reported:

A shooting rampage at the Washington D.C. Navy Yard on September 16, 2013 left a dozen people killed (13 including the shooter), and 8 others wounded. Naturally, the shooting received extensive national news coverage.

The shooter, Aaron Alexis, had claimed to have been stalked by multiple perpetrators, and had reported that he was the victim of electronic harassment and noise harassment tactics of the sort often described by other individuals targeted in counterintelligence operations.

Alexis even carved “My ELF Weapon” into the receiver of his shotgun, as seen in this photo. ELF is a common abbreviation for “extremely low frequency.”

navy yard shooting

The incident involved other red flags for many observers. For example, while some people suggested the voices Alexis reported hearing were symptomatic of schizophrenia, others noted that schizophrenia typically begins in early adulthood, roughly between the ages of 15 and 25. Alexis, who was an information technology employee with a security clearance at a defense-related computer company, was 34 years old. Also, persons afflicted with schizophrenia are not typically violent; if anything, they are more likely to be a danger to themselves.

It should also be noted that Alexis never reported that he believed that the voices he heard were coming from some supernatural source - which would have been more suggestive of mental illness. His accounts were much more consistent with the kind of sonic projection device demonstrated here by an engineer who designs them. At 20 minutes and 8 seconds into this TV program which aired in 2009 is an interview with an engineer describing and demonstrating how such devices work. If the link becomes unavailable at some point, you can search for this program on which it aired: Jesse Ventura's Conspiracy Theory, season #1, episode #4 ("Big Brother"). Roll your eyes at the source if you want, but everything about it is credible, and additional reading - as you will easily find out - only confirms it.

No manifesto was left by the shooter citing any political or religious agenda that might have motivated him to shoot twenty people at his workplace. His words and actions are more plausibly explained by his claim that he was in fact being systematically harassed, and he eventually snapped.

Other facts about the incident also drew suspicion. For example, the FBI bypassed the ATF (the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives) and performed their own trace of the shotgun used - even though the ATF is the federal agency in charge of tracing guns used in crimes. An Associated Press article included this quote:

"I have never seen an instance where ATF had not been relied upon to trace the gun," said Mike Bouchard, a former ATF assistant director for field operations. "I have never heard of a situation like that."

Since the investigation of the shooting is being handled by the FBI - which is notoriously secretive and has a history of perpetrating organized stalking crimes against Americans (Cointelpro) - it is difficult to guess how much critical information about the case is being kept secret from the public.

It has not been reported, for example, whether some of the shooting victims had been intensely harassing (“mobbing”) the shooter - as was done to the plaintiff in the federal gang stalking case filed in December 2013.

Multiple news sources - such as the New York Times - made note of the curious timeline of events surrounding the shooting. The shooter’s employer and the Newport Rhode Island Police Department and the navy were all aware that Alexis had reported being harassed by “voices” and noises, yet no one suspended his security clearance or otherwise intervened.

Similarly - and this has never been explained as far as I know - a tactical response team of the Capitol Police was reportedly in the area at the time, but was ordered to stand down (not participate in the police response).

Here are some excerpts from a BBC News report on September 18 which described the non-response:

Multiple sources in the Capitol Police department have told the BBC that its highly trained and heavily armed four-man Containment and Emergency Response Team (Cert) was near the Navy Yard when the initial report of an active shooter came in about 8:20 local time.

According to a Capitol Police source, an officer with the Metropolitan Police Department (MPD), Washington DC’s main municipal force, told the Capitol Cert officers they were the only police on the site equipped with long guns and requested their help stopping the gunman.

When the Capitol Police team radioed their superiors, they were told by a watch commander to leave the scene, the BBC was told.

The gunman, Aaron Alexis, was reported killed after 9:00.

A few days later, a Congressman confirmed that the local SWAT unit had been inexplicably ordered not to respond. Rep. Michael McCaul (R-Texas) told CNN's Jake Tapper that he personally spoke with a SWAT team member who confirmed that they were told to stand down (not respond) to the mass shooting at the Washington Navy Yard.

A week after the shooting, The Washington Times (in their Communities section) published an article exploring the gang stalking (electronic harassment) speculation surrounding the shooting.

A few days later, Wired magazine posted an article which also examined the gang stalking aspects of the navy yard shooting. Here are some excerpts:

Some conspiracists suggest that Alexis was a "targeted individual," or "TI," the term-of-art used by anguished people who believe they're being "gang stalked" by shadowy enemies, often in the government. The elements of Alexis' police report - covert microwave weapons, conspiracies and sleep disturbances - are common elements in gang stalking accounts. (Of course, they're also common elements in schizophrenia.) ….

The microwave weaponry theory would be just as absurd as some of the other conspiracies if the Pentagon hadn't been researching the possibility of using similar voice-projection technology in the past as a nonlethal weapon.

According to one report on the project, such a weapon would create a condition similar to schizophrenia. "Application of the microwave hearing technology could facilitate a private message transmission. It may be useful to provide a disruptive condition to a person not aware of the technology. Not only might it be disruptive to the sense of hearing, it could be psychologically devastating if one suddenly heard 'voices within one's head.'"

The year before, Wired featured an article specifically about the so-called “Voice of God” device.

Nine days after the shooting, CNN reported that the assistant director in charge of the FBI’s Washington field office, Valerie Parlave, was asked whether Aaron Alexis had “talked to or e-mailed anyone ahead of the attack” and she responded “No.”

A month later however, The New York Post reported that the shooter had sent three emails to the group called Freedom From Covert Harassment & Surveillance (FFCHS) - which is ostensibly a gang stalking victims support group - although, as explained in the web page about the organization in this website, is clearly a disinformation front group.

So the fed’s - who apparently monitor everyone’s phone calls, emails, and Internet activity - failed to intervene in any way despite the shooter’s emails (and despite other obvious warning flags mentioned above) in a case involving an employee with a security clearance who was working at military facilities and reporting that he was being harassed and hearing voices.

As The Post noted, this added to the list of questions about the official account of the whole incident:

“[The emails] also suggest that the bloody rampage was plotted as a revenge attack against the US Navy - contrary to FBI statements that the former sailor did not appear to have had a specific target.”

On November 20, 2013, The Washington Times reported that U.S. Rep. Darrell E. Issa (R-Calif.), chairman of the Oversight and Government Reform Committee is seeking information from the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) about the security clearance possessed by Aaron Alexis:

“But Mr. Issa says OPM is refusing to turn over those documents and allowing them to be viewed only behind closed doors.”

In January 2014, Politico reported that a local NBC news journalist in Washington D.C., Scott MacFarlane, received an email which the U.S. Navy sent to him by accident.

The internal email - from the Navy's FOIA (Freedom of Information Act) office - outlined the strategy which they planned to use to limit the amount of information released to MacFarlane, who had filed a FOIA request for internal Navy memos sent on the day of the shooting.

MacFarlane tweeted about the incident with this message:

"EPIC FAILURE- U.S. Navy accidentally sends reporter its strategy memo for dodging his FOIA request"

He included this screenshot of the email.

Click on image to enlarge

Dodging FOIA Request

The most charitable analysis would be that this was simply routine "cover your ass" protocol for a government entity seeking to avoid embarrassing revelations about its incompetent management of security at a naval facility.

On 31 January 2014, the Associated Press reported that Aaron Alexis's medical records revealed that the Veterans Affairs doctors who examined him weeks before the shooting determined that he did not appear to have any mental health issues.

"Speech and thoughts clear and focused …" was the description of the attending doctor.

The AP obtained Alexis's medical records via a Freedom of Information Act request. Normally, the government does not disclose medical records, but the Veterans Affairs Department made an exception because of the public interest in the mass shooting.

As the New York Times reported (in the article cited previously), about six weeks before the shooting, Alexis was staying at a hotel and complained about being harassed by noise - a common psychological operations tactic. The harassment apparently was leaving him sleep-deprived, and he reported his insomnia to his VA doctors, as his records showed.

“An attending doctor provided additional details, saying Alexis suffered from fatigue after sleeping only two or three hours every night over the past three weeks.”

Alexis’s medical record - like the other facts of the case - are consistent with his account of having been intensely harassed.

What does not make sense is the official explanation - namely, that out of the blue, someone who appeared to be normal - and even was given a security clearance - suddenly went on a murderous rampage for no reason whatsoever.

U.S. Navy’s FOIA office nominated for “Golden Padlock Award”

In June 2014, Investigative Reporters and Editors (IRE) named the U.S. Navy’s FOIA office as one of the three winners of the 2014 Golden Padlock Award - which celebrates “the most secretive government agency or individual in the U.S.”

The nomination was made “for blocking access to records” about the Navy Yard shooting. As the IRE noted at that time, “ …to this day, the Navy has still not responded to [NBC News reporter Scott MacFarlane’s numerous FOIA requests].”

FOIA request regarding Aaron Alexis’s interactions with FFCHS

Among the various FOIA requests filed regarding the navy yard shooting was a request filed in December 2013 seeking the FBI files “referencing the Freedom from Covert Harassment and Surveillance (FFCHS) organization in regards to the well publicized shooting investigation …”

As noted above, some of the reporting on the shooting noted that Alexis had sent three emails to FFCHS prior to the shooting.

The FBI rejected the request later that month, claiming that the information was exempt from disclosure requirements on the grounds that it was part of an investigative file. In January 2014, the person requesting the information filed an appeal, noting that the president of FFCHS, Derrick Robinson, had already revealed information about the matter by publishing an FFCHS newsletter in which he stated that he had been interviewed by two FBI agents concerning the case.

In September 2014, the Justice Department finally sent a letter denying the appeal. Language in the DOJ’s denial letter was of the boilerplate variety. The agency asserted that the information sought was exempt from disclosure requirements of FOIA because it fell under the category of “records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes the release of which could reasonably be expected to interfere with enforcement proceedings.”

The U.S. government’s position is that the mass shooting at the navy yard was simply a random act of insanity by a disturbed individual - as opposed to being the result of intense systematic harassment of the shooter, as the shooter himself clearly suggested. Since the shooter, Aaron Alexis, is dead, presumably the only potential “enforcement proceedings” would be civil litigation related to security issues, such as Alexis’s security clearance, and the management of security at the naval base.

At least one such lawsuit has been filed by the family of one of the shooting victims.

Several critical pieces of information will remain in the dark - at least for now. One is the FBI's investigation - if any - regarding Alexis's claims that he was the target of psyops harassment. A closely related question is whether Alexis was, in any sense, a "targeted individual." Obviously, if he had been the subject of any kind of investigation and monitoring, that would have huge implications regarding his security clearance.

The DOJ's denial letter only addresses that issue with a standard blanket statement that applies to all FOIA inquiries:

"To the extent that your request seeks access to records that would either confirm or deny an individual's placement on any government watch list, the FBI properly refused to confirm or deny the existence of any records responsive to your request because the existence of such records is protected from disclosure pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(7)(E). FOIA Exemption 7(E) concerns records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes the release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions. This response should not be taken as an indication that records do or do not exist. Rather, this is the standard response made by the FBI."

The other critical piece of information which remains a secret is the FBI's investigation of Alexis's communications with FFCHS. Some news reports about the shooting noted that Alexis had sent three emails to FFCHS prior to the shooting.

Just to review: FFCHS is ostensibly a gang stalking victims support group, although - as explained in the web page about the organization in this website - it is clearly a disinformation front group. It would be very interesting to read the description of FFCHS that appears in the FBI's investigative files. No doubt, the DOJ would argue that such information also falls under one or more of the above FOIA exemptions. The only way to contest the claim would be to file a lawsuit.

Muckrock, which tracked the FOIA request, now lists its status as rejected.

Here is the DOJ's denial letter: DOJ Denial of Appeal

Whatever led to the mass shooting at the Washington Navy Yard in September 2013, one thing is clear: the U.S. Navy and the FBI do not want the public to know about it.

Theodore Kaczynski ("The Unabomber")

Theodore Kaczynski

A series of bombings was perpetrated from 1978 to 1995 which killed three people and injured 23 others. The bomber, a mathematician named Theodore Kaczynski, was referred to as "the Unabomber" by the FBI before they discovered his identity.

Kaczynski wrote a manifesto which explained that his motive for the bombings was to expose the threat to freedom posed by modern technology.

The court rejected Kaczynski's request to represent himself at his trial, and made a plea agreement to avoid having Kaczynski possibly use his trial as a public platform to express his views. In return for a promise to not seek the death penalty, Kaczynski pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to life in prison.

Those facts are commonly known; what is less widely-known is that Kaczynski was one of the subjects of the CIA's secret mind-control experiments program called MK Ultra while he was a student at Harvard University.

An article by Alston Chase in the June 2000 issue of the Atlantic explored the question of whether Kaczynski's violence was the result of his psychological torture. Kacyzinski was recruited to participate in a series of psychology experiments, and he was deceived about their true nature, which was to examine the effects of extreme emotional stress - possibly to help the CIA develop interrogation techniques.

The article implies that the experiment could possibly have been a factor in Kaczynski's later acts of violence. Some excerpts from the article:

"There is no evidence of immediate mental degradation in the project's aftermath. Emotional turmoil is another matter. As Sally Johnson, the forensic psychiatrist, reported, Kaczynski clearly began to experience emotional distress then, and began to develop his anti-technology views."

"It is clear, also, that Murray's experiment deeply affected at least some of its subjects. From interviews conducted after the project ended, it is apparent that certain students had found the experience searing."

"When, soon after, Kaczynski began to worry about the possibility of mind control, he was not giving vent to paranoid delusions. In view of Murray's experiment, he was not only rational but right. The university and the psychiatric establishment had been willing accomplices in an experiment that had treated human beings as unwitting guinea pigs, and had treated them brutally."

"Kaczynski felt that justice demanded that he take revenge on society."

The injuries and deaths of the 26 victims of Kaczynski's bombs were quite possibly "collateral damage" from a secret and unethical U.S. government program.

Blue Line

10. Selection of Targeted Individuals target 01

“To a hammer everything looks like a nail. To an intelligence agent, informant, or law enforcement officer, everything unconventional or unorthodox looks like at least a pre-embryonic terrorist danger.”

- Bruce Fein, U.S. Deputy Attorney General, Reagan administration

In 2009 Bruce Fein advised Congress that the national intelligence-gathering system of regional data fusion centers should be abandoned. He compared the system to those operated by the Soviet Union’s KGB and East Germany’s Stasi.

Threat assessments by bureaucrats

Incompetence in the U.S. law enforcement and intelligence community creates threats to Americans in two ways. Real threats - such as the 9/11 terrorist attack and the Boston Marathon bombing - often go unrecognized. Meanwhile, people who pose no threat whatsoever are often destroyed - such as the actress Jean Seberg, whose “crime” was supporting the civil rights movement, for which she was stalked and terrorized by the FBI, ultimately leading to her suicide.

One obvious problem currently is that in America we now have a vast industry of government and corporate entities in the domestic spying business, but relatively few actual threats. Predictably, people feeding at the giant homeland security pig trough are eager to create the impression that their jobs and budgets are justified, which makes witch-hunts almost inevitable.

Adding to the problem created by such careerist motivations is the fact that people who pursue careers in the intelligence and law enforcement industry often have, as Bruce Fein observed, a distorted perception of the danger posed by people who are less conformist and less subservient to authority figures than they are.

Writing in Mother Jones in February 2014, Jon Schwarz made this point about the kind of people who make up much of the security infrastructure:

"Throughout history, the security state in every country has attracted employees who were already a bit squirrelly, and then encouraged their squirreliness to blossom in the dark ….

….What these kinds of people share in common is that the pattern-recognition software in their head is badly calibrated and oversensitive. If they weren't spies or intelligence "experts," they'd spend their days proving Paul Is Dead or discovering the face of Jesus in tortillas."

Blacklisting by threat assessment bureaucrats in the U.K.

Based upon the reported facts, I would not refer to the following case as "gang stalking" in the full sense of the term. The incident did not involve the intense and sophisticated psychological operations tactics commonly associated with organized stalking by corrupt law enforcement and intelligence agencies and their contractors. This case was however a well-documented example of social and professional isolation of a targeted individual who was blacklisted by government bureaucrats.

Articles published by the Guardian and BBC News in June 2009 reported that Jane Clift, a resident of the Borough of Slough in England had won a libel case against her borough's council in which she claimed to have been falsely labelled as potentially violent after she complained about someone vandalizing a flower bed in a town park in 2005. The high court (trial court) awarded Ms. Clift £12,000 in libel damages.

Ms. Clift had written an angry letter to the council after becoming frustrated during a phone conversation with the council's "anti-social behavior coordinator." The council then placed Ms. Clift on its "violent persons register" and then emailed people in the community about the fact that she had been placed on the list.

An October 2010 article in the Daily Mail described her blacklisting ordeal as follows:

"Her details were circulated to an extraordinary range of public and private bodies, including doctors, dentists, opticians, libraries, contraceptive clinics, schools and nurseries. Their staff were advised not to see her alone.

The 43-year-old former care worker was forced to withdraw an application to become a foster parent and, eventually, to leave the town where she had lived for ten years."

U.S. government's terrorist watch list

I would confidently bet that the vast majority of Americans targeted by organized stalking would be unlikely to suspect that their personal circumstances might be connected - even remotely - to the subject of terrorism. Still, it is highly plausible that in many cases such a connection exists within the vast homeland security bureaucracy.

The U.S. government's Terrorist Screening Database is shrouded in secrecy. The fact that names are routinely added and removed from the watch-list - which is officially known as the "Terrorist Screening Database" - combined with the secrecy which surrounds the list, make it difficult to know how many people it includes, but apparently the list has grown rapidly. An article in the New York Times in December 2013 reported that at least 700,000 people were on the watch-list, but an Associated Press report in July 2014 stated that official numbers revealed in a lawsuit showed that "more than 1.5 million [names were] added in the last five years."

Some excerpts from the New York Times article:

" …the government refuses to confirm or deny whether someone is on the list, officially called the Terrorist Screening Database, or divulge the criteria used to make the decisions …"

"The Terrorist Screening Center, which administers the main terrorist watch list, declined to discuss its procedures, or to release current data about the number of people on various watch lists, and how many of them are American citizens."

A report released by the ACLU in March 2014 (pdf file linked below) about the terrorist watch list included a number of references which would resonate with anyone familiar with gang stalking. The report described a system which "blacklists" people "including American citizens" - "based on secret standards and evidence, without a meaningful process to challenge error and clear their names."

This is how the ACLU describes their understanding of how people get placed on the feds' watchlists: "We don't know."

The ACLU explained that the U.S. government "has refused to disclose the standards by which it places individuals on other watchlists, such as the No Fly list."

Among the "devastating consequences" of the secret watchlist system cited in the report is the following:

"being placed on a U.S. government watchlist can ….ruin employment prospects, and isolate an individual from friends and associates."

Here is the ACLU's recommendation:

"Ultimately, Congress and the Obama administration must rein in what the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals has called 'a vast, multi-agency, counterterrorism bureaucracy that tracks hundreds of thousands of individuals' - a bureaucracy that remains secret and unaccountable to the public or the individuals it targets for blacklisting."

ACLU - U.S. Govt Watchlisting

Multiple secret watch-lists

As with many elements of America's complex security state, watch-lists exist in multiple jurisdictions and agencies and databases, and are maintained by both public and private organizations. In addition to the federal terrorist screening database and no-fly list, there is the secretive quasi-governmental database maintained by the Law Enforcement Intelligence Unit (LEIU) association, which is described in the "Red Squads" section of this overview. States also maintain files on their residents - such as Louisiana's database of "comprehensive person profiles."

One of Big Brother's interesting lists was the subject of a July 2008 article in Salon. This is apparently the list that will be used by the feds to round up potential trouble-makers in the event that martial law is declared:

Dating back to the 1980s and known to government insiders as "Main Core," the database reportedly collects and stores - without warrants or court orders - the names and detailed data of Americans considered to be threats to national security ….

….Main Core in its current incarnation apparently contains a vast amount of personal data on Americans, including NSA intercepts of bank and credit card transactions and the results of surveillance efforts by the FBI, the CIA and other agencies. One former intelligence official described Main Core as "an emergency internal security database system" designed for use by the military in the event of a national catastrophe, a suspension of the Constitution or the imposition of martial law.

An article in Radar magazine in May, citing three unnamed former government officials, reported that “8 million Americans are now listed in Main Core as potentially suspect” and, in the event of a national emergency, “could be subject to everything from heightened surveillance and tracking to direct questioning and even detention.”

Here is the above-referenced May 2008 Radar article about the Main Core database: The Last Roundup

---

Getting your name removed from a watch-list

Blacklist

Avoiding the cliché “Kafkaesque” is nearly impossible when describing U.S. government watch-lists - or when describing organized stalking for that matter. The protagonist in Kafka’s novel “The Trial” was arrested by agents from an unidentified agency and tried without being told the nature of the charges against him.

Most of the policies governing how people are placed on federal watch-lists are secrets, and the government has an official policy of refusing to confirm or deny whether someone is on the government’s various lists.

The case of Rahinah Ibrahim is instructive. Dr. Ibrahim was placed on the federal no-fly list by mistake when an FBI agent mistakenly checked the wrong box on a form. She struggled for 9 years - including a 7-year legal battle - before a federal judge finally ruled (in February 2014) that her name should be removed from the government’s various watch-lists.

Ibrahim had to litigate most of her case without knowing the information in the U.S. government’s case against her. Even the judge's findings in Ibrahim v. DHS are heavily redacted.

Quotas for reporting suspicious persons

A report by an ABC local news affiliate in Denver in July 2006 revealed that some federal air marshals said they have quotas for identifying a certain number of passengers as suspicious.

Air marshals interviewed for the article said that if they wish to receive positive performance evaluations, raises, bonuses, and special assignments, they must regularly file Surveillance Detection Reports (SDRs) - at least one per month according to some sources - about passengers who supposedly behaved in a suspicious manner. Individuals identified in such reports can end up in an international database watch list.

While it is unlikely that law enforcement and intelligence officials would publicly acknowledge the pressure on employees to name persons as being suspicious, it is easy to imagine how career pressures upon and within various agencies could create a sort of "witch hunt" culture to rationalize the budgets and jobs in the homeland security bureaucracy.

Black-listing by brown-nosers

In a September 2004 article in the Sociological Forum, David Cunningham and Barb Browning at Brandeis University analyzed the selection of individuals targeted by the FBI's original COINTELPRO operations. The article begins with this quote from Frank Donner's The Age of Surveillance:

"The selection of a target embodies a judgment of deviance from the dominant political culture."

In essence, the authors found that FBI agents responded to organizational pressure from the upper echelon of the FBI by rationalizing the targeting of individuals for surveillance and subversion - even when those individuals were not engaged in subversive political activities. They did so by pointing to characteristics of the targets which the agents knew their senior officials regarded as culturally objectionable:

" …field agents drew upon particular culturally resonant signals of deviance to demonize and subsequently act against SDS members even in the absence of threatening political activity."

Agents were trying to curry favor with a small group at the top of the agency - the directorate - who "made the final decisions about all counterintelligence actions."

Targeting suspected potential future "terrorists"

According to some published mainstream news reports, individuals are sometimes targeted for gang stalking because they are suspected of involvement - or potential future involvement - in terrorism or crime, but are not implicated by any legal evidence. For example, see the May 31, 2006 article in the Canadian national newspaper, The Globe and Mail, regarding such tactics being illegally used in Canada.

Not surprisingly, people in the U.S. "homeland security" industry - whose money and power is tied to the perceived risk of terrorism - take a very expansive view of what constitutes a suspicious person.

In the case of federal contractor Jeffrey Kantor an innocent Google search apparently led to him being targeted for gang stalking by federal agents.

A 2011 Air Force training manual for teaching personnel how to identify individuals who should be reported to the Office of Special Investigations (OSI) - the Air Force intelligence agency - included the following examples (on page 43) of “extremist ideologies and movements”

“The colonists who sought to free themselves from British rule”

“Environmental activists who take action to fight against the exploitation of the environment and/or animals”

On page 45 of that manual is some helpful advice for recognizing the rhetoric of hate groups:

“Many extremists will talk of individual liberties, states’ rights, and how to make the world a better place”

If you happen to meet an American who believes in America’s independence from Great Britain, or opposes cruelty to animals, or believes in individual liberties, or - God forbid - wants “to make the world a better place,” be sure to report him or her to a U.S. law enforcement agency or intelligence agency immediately so he or she can be put on a secret government watch list.

Targeting to discredit & retaliate against whistle-blowers

Other mainstream news reports indicate that gang stalking is also used by intelligence agencies to punish or intimidate whistle-blowers - for example, as reported in the October 10, 2004 article in the Sunday Times, a major newspaper in the U.K., about the use of gang stalking by the intelligence agency MI5.

U.S. intelligence agencies are often accused of retaliating against whistle-blowers also. This 2007 report by the ACLU describes several cases in detail.

“ …employees in national security agencies blow the whistle at their peril. They find no protection in the vast patchwork of laws designed to protect whistleblowers. Whistle-blowers often find themselves sidelined, without a security clearance, without a job, discredited, the victim of a smear campaign, investigated, labeled crazy, a bad team player, a liar, isolated.”

Targeting individuals for experimental or training purposes

Some unlucky individuals might be targeted essentially for counterintelligence psyops research or training purposes (even if they are ostensibly chosen for some more “legitimate” security reasons).

If you doubt that is plausible, read about the CIA’s MK Ultra experiments, in which many American (and Canadian) citizens were used as human guinea pigs.

Targeting individuals for extra-judicial punishment & experimentation

A well-researched article in the October 2013 issue of Fortean Times documented a case of state-sponsored gang stalking - described as such - in which a former U.S. military member was apparently targeted both for the purposes of extra-judicial punishment and to test psychological operations technology.

Targeting individuals by mistake bad_aim

Sometimes individuals are targeted by America’s spy industry purely because of a bureaucrat's incompetence. A perfect example of this was reported in September 2011 by the journalist John Cook. Here is his report of how a CIA analyst arranged to have a man kidnapped and tortured, although he was completely innocent. In some jobs, mistakes of that sort would be viewed unfavorably. Apparently, at the CIA they are a bit more forgiving; the analyst was promoted.

Her name is Alfreda Frances Bikowsky and, according to independent reporters Ray Nowosielski and John Duffy, she is a CIA analyst who is partially responsible for intelligence lapses that led to 9/11 … …..

Bikowsky was also, according to Nowosielski and Duffy, instrumentally involved in one of the CIA's most notorious fuck-ups-the kidnapping, drugging, sodomizing, and torture of Khalid El-Masri in 2003 (El-Masri turned out to be the wrong guy, and had nothing to do with terrorism). As the Associated Press' Adam Goldman and Matt Apuzzo reported earlier this year, an analyst they described only by her middle name-"Frances"-pressed for El-Masri to be abducted even though some in the agency weren't convinced he was the terrorist that Frances suspected he was. Instead of being punished or fired for the error, "Frances" was eventually promoted to running the Global Jihad Unit by then-CIA director Michael Hayden. According to Goldman and Apuzzo's story, "Hayden told colleagues that he gave Frances a pass because he didn't want to deter initiative within the counterterrorism ranks."

Exploiting watch-lists for personal vendettas and corporate agendas

As you read accounts - whether published or informal - of organized stalking cases from the Cointelpro era in the U.S., from the Stasi era in East Germany, and of current gang stalking in the U.S., Canada, and the U.K., one of the most common factors seems to be the exploitation of such tactics for personal vengeance.

In recent years, there have been media reports of something called “swatting” - in which an anonymous person - either for revenge or for amusement - calls 911 and makes a false report of an emergency happening at the address of a neighbor or enemy (or in some cases a celebrity) so police will respond to the residence.

It is not difficult to imagine how a more sophisticated and sinister version of that tactic could be used by someone with connections to America’s now-massive and secretive homeland security infrastructure, by reporting someone as “suspicious.”

As it is now structured, the U.S. law enforcement and intelligence industry provides a perfect environment for abuse of power. The claim that America faces a constant indefinite threat of terrorism has created political cover for seemingly unlimited money and secrecy and power for the agencies and private firms involved.

Increasingly sophisticated surveillance and “non-lethal” weapons technology makes the potential for abuse even greater still.

In theory, organized stalking (counterintelligence subversion) could be used against someone by an individual or a corporation in one of several ways.

One possibility is that a person who has either a personal or professional connection to the law enforcement or intelligence industry could have someone named as a “suspicious person” - for example, by submitting his or her name to a Terrorism Liaison Officer (TLO). This might be easily done by a member of InfraGard (the corporate-FBI alliance) or someone with a friend or relative in an agency such as the FBI.

As explained elsewhere in this website, we know from hacked emails of intelligence-security firms and other sources that corporations hire current and former spooks and law enforcement agents to do their bidding, and that such work includes counterintelligence operations (disinformation, infiltration, etc.). It is certainly possible that such work also includes subversion (gang stalking).

One prominent case of gang stalking that apparently involved exploiting U.S. counterintelligence subversion for a personal vendetta is that of Gloria Naylor. A National Book Award-winning novelist, Ms. Naylor also wrote a semi-autobiographical book, 1996, about her experiences as a targeted individual of gang stalking.

An excerpt from Booklist's review of 1996:

"In 1996 novelist Naylor moved to secluded St. Helena Island. A minor fracas with a crotchety neighbor, whose brother worked for the National Security Agency, set into motion a series of events that made Naylor the object of close scrutiny by the government."

Another example - there are many, including my own experience - of organized stalking being used by corrupt members of local and federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies (and their friends) can be found at a blog called "Systematic Police Harassment - Pinellas County Florida."

That website is an account by a divorce attorney in Florida of his gang stalking - which was apparently initiated in retaliation for angering a senior official of a local county sheriff's office.

Similar cases - which were well-documented in published mainstream news media articles - include an incident in Stockton, California in 2011 in which the city manager was stalked by local police after a break-down in contract negotiations, and an incident in Florida in 2012 in which a police officer was stalked by other police officers after citing an off-duty cop for reckless driving.

Threat Assessment Teams & Personal Vendettas

Individuals become targets of surveillance states in a variety of ways. In the U.S., one of the mechanisms which could potentially lead to someone being targeted is a Threat Assessment Team - a concept promoted by the FBI.

A Threat Assessment Team (TAT) is a small group of designated staff members in an organization (public or private) which attempts to assess whether certain individuals in the organization pose a threat.

A description of TATs on the FBI website describes these groups as follows:

Like-minded, concerned professionals gathered together in person or via a teleconference can use the power of synergy to find dynamic solutions in a short time. Using TATs changes the dynamics in employee- or student-related threat situations from What do I do? to What do we do? These meetings allow the participants to share ideas, experiences, fears, and concerns in a problem-solving environment. TATs serve five primary functions.

Information gathering: What does the team know about the threatener and the targets?
Interviewing: What can TAT personnel learn from anyone personally or professionally connected to the perpetrator and victims?
Evaluation: What does all of this information mean in terms of threats of violence to people and the organization?
Decision making: What should the team do now and in the immediate future? Who will take the lead role in managing the subject's behaviors or actions (e.g., human resources, law enforcement, security, campus police, EAP, mental health clinicians)?
Follow-up: If the emotional temperature has cooled around this situation, how will the TAT continue to monitor the people and behaviors involved so that it does not reescalate?

Note that the FBI prefers that the group judging an individual's potential for future crimes be "like-minded." Naturally, you should avoid any diversity of viewpoints on the panel which is going to decide whether to label someone as suspicious. You don't want to mess-up a good witch-hunt.

Tellingly, the FBI's webpage makes no mention of the issue of workplace harassment and bullying. As noted previously in the section on "mobbing," Dr. Kenneth Westhues, a sociologist, found that violent incidents in the workplace and in schools in North America are often a response to the individual being intensely harassed.

Workplace mobbing is a commonly-reported element of organized stalking (for example, in the claim filed against the U.S. government by Jeffrey Kantor in December 2013). Organized stalking - by all accounts - involves the tactics associated with counterintelligence subversion. The FBI is the primary agency in the U.S. responsible for domestic counterintelligence. Draw your own conclusions about the FBI's silence on the issue.

Clearly, there is a potential for abuse of power by these Threat Assessment Teams. Although that is also an issue on which the FBI's chooses to remain silent, a federal judge has found that the practice has already been abused.

A 2011 article about Threat Assessment Teams in USA Today included the following passages regarding the abuse of power by such groups at universities:

Critics say administrators may try to use threat assessment teams for their own purposes. In a case involving a student dismissed from Valdosta State University, a federal judge ruled that the former president improperly called for an investigation into the student's mental health, employment and grades mostly because the student opposed plans to build a campus parking garage.

Students' rights groups say administrators are infringing on students' free-speech rights. 'Putting innocent outbursts into a campus database is a chilling way to police discourse on campus,' says Adam Kissel, vice president of the Foundation for Individual Rights in Education. "In the name of security, behavioral intervention teams are encouraged to go far beyond what they need to do."

Official rationale for counterintelligence subversion

Merely invoking the magic phrase "national security" seems to provide sufficient legal and political justification these days for almost any secret policy of the intelligence community. Even in the rare cases when the U.S. government's "Star Chamber" - the secret FISA Court - rules that a policy is out of bounds, Americans are not permitted to know what the feds were trying to get away with.

As practiced, organized stalking is essentially an extra-judicial punishment, and it grossly violates multiple state and federal laws. However, the policy is presumably justified - at least unofficially - within the FBI and DOJ as being a legitimate counterintelligence policy needed to subvert individuals who would otherwise pose a threat.

As explained later in this overview (in the section on the U.S. Department of Justice), probably the closest thing to an official public statement of the philosophy behind targeting certain individuals was expressed in the policy statement of the now-defunct "Weed and Seed" program. That program's description suggested a law enforcement strategy of identifying and removing undesirable citizens from neighborhoods through a "community-based" law enforcement approach.

Who gets to declare someone a suspicious person?

Consider just one part of the massive “homeland security” infrastructure - electronic surveillance by the NSA. In September 2013 it emerged that at least a dozen NSA employees had been illegally spying on their spouses and partners. This was a small glimpse of the potential abuses of power in the modern U.S. spy industry.

Note: The revelation of those incidents might be what propagandists and intelligence agencies sometimes refer to as a “limited hangout.” In other words, the abuses of power were real, but their revelation might well have been intended to distract from much more serious widespread transgressions - as explained here.

“The story overshadowed the more alarming story that 3,000 privacy violations had occurred over a one-year period.”

NSA whistle-blower Edward Snowden explained that access to the U.S. police state’s weapons is not limited to high-level officials:

“Any analyst at any time can target anyone. Any selector, anywhere … I, sitting at my desk, certainly had the authorities to wiretap anyone, from you or your accountant, to a federal judge, to even the President …”

The desire for a feeling of power: snitches in communist East Germany

Understanding the social dynamics of America’s current “homeland security” domestic spying programs does not require re-inventing the wheel. A great deal can be learned from the well-documented historical predecessor which most closely resembled it: East Germany's Stasi.

In addition to thousands of professional spies, the Stasi (state police) had over 100,000 citizen informants. An informant for the Stasi was referred to as an IM (Inoffizielle Mitarbeiter) - an unofficial collaborator. All sectors of East German society had IMs who supplied information about their fellow citizens to the communist government.

One of the striking things that researchers found when examining the records of the Stasi in recent years is that although some of these informants were coerced into spying, most did not need to be pressured into it.

A November 2009 article in Der Spiegel examined the nature of this rodent-like element of society - which no doubt exists today in America.

"Friends informed voluntarily on friends and spouses even tattled on each other."

Here is the description by the head of the department which now manages the Stasi files:

"More often than not, the Stasi did not need to apply pressure at all," he says. "In fact, many often felt snubbed if their information was deemed to be of no interest." The real motivation behind these acts of betrayal was much more humdrum than one might think. "People informed for personal gain, out of loyalty to the East German regime, or simply because they wanted to feel like they had some power."

As the article notes, often the origin of the targeting of individuals was simply a trivial incident or a misunderstanding. In one case a man was turned-in for having a West German brand of pudding in his kitchen. The Stasi had him fired, and his family became destitute.

Additional thoughts on how individuals are targeted

For more of my analysis of how individuals are chosen as targets for gang stalking, see my May 28, 2013 entry in the "Gang Stalking News" section of this website, in which I explain my inferences from the fact that certain types of people are not chosen as gang stalking targets.

11. The Organizational Structure of Gang Stalking

.

cockroaches 01 copy

"The system of espionage thus established, the country will swarm with informers, spies, delators [accusers], and all that odious reptiles tribe that bred in the sunshine of despotic power; that suck the blood of the unfortunate and creep into the bosom of sleeping innocence."

- Congressman John Allen, during the debates about the Alien and Sedition Acts of 1798.

In the shadowy world of gang stalking, it is difficult for the targeted individual to know the exact nature of the organizational structure of his or her enemies. From the victim's perspective - especially when the person first realizes that he or she is being systematically harassed, it is virtually impossible to know exactly who the enemies are and how they are conspiring with each other.

For many victims, their situation remains opaque because of the vast disinformation campaign they encounter when they attempt to ascertain what is happening via Internet research.

As I described in the introduction to this overview however, the basic nature of the crime - namely, that it is a government counter-intelligence program - is an unavoidable conclusion since the apparent scope of the activity would make it impossible for it to be undetected by America's now-massive homeland security surveillance and information-sharing infrastructure.

Gang stalking's organizational structure apparently involves a mixture of personnel. At the top are government officials and agents in federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies, who would need to at least passively acquiesce in the program, if not orchestrate it. Several levels of delegates below them would be needed to manage and perform various operations.

The FBI's original version of Cointelpro also made use of local government and civilian minions. A Los Angeles Times account of one of the Cointelpro operations explained that "the bureau had enlisted a local police chief, letter carriers and a switchboard operator at Swathmore College to spy on campus and black activist groups in the Philadelphia area."

Agents and criminals

Police and thieves in the street, oh yeah

Fighting the nation with their guns and ammunition

from the song "Police and Thieves" by Junior Murvin (1976) also covered by The Clash (1977)

In a sense, everyone who participates in organized stalking - and officials who knowingly permit it - are criminals, insofar as stalking is a violation of federal law and of state laws in every state - as well as being a violation of several provisions of the U.S. Constitution.

For many people, the notion that law enforcement and intelligence agencies would be perpetrating crimes seems counter-intuitive. Remember though, U.S. intelligence agencies such as the CIA, routinely engage in criminal activity according to the government itself - as explained in an earlier section of this overview ("Crimes by U.S. Law Enforcement & Intelligence Agencies"). Also, law enforcement and intelligence agencies such as the FBI often authorize crimes by criminal informants.

Why would law enforcement and intelligence agencies incorporate outsiders such as criminal informants, private contractors, and citizens into their counterintelligence operations?

One reason is that outsourcing can create plausible deniability. If a government agency (or a corporation) contracts with a private firm - and then that firm employs criminal informants, former cops, and former agents to perform the dirty work - the crimes can be several steps removed from officials. Another reason is that structural complexity itself can be desirable if one is trying to conduct activities in a way that will be difficult for outsiders to understand.

"A Wilderness of Mirrors"

Room Full of Mirrors

Another reason the U.S. intelligence and law enforcement community might countenance a system of counterintelligence which has overlapping public and private elements - might be to exploit a counterintelligence concept called "a wilderness of mirrors."

The description -attributed to James J. Angleton, the CIA's Chief of the Counterintelligence from 1954 until 1974 - comes from T.S. Eliot's poem "Gerontion."

In essence, the idea is to make it difficult to ascertain the structure and dynamics and agendas which are at work. Having a complex and opaque system of counterintelligence (CI) operations serves the interests of the perpetrators - as does further obfuscating the nature of the system by spreading disinformation - as explained in detail later in this overview.

Of course, another factor could simply be greed. As with the U.S. military-industrial complex, parasitic intelligence-security contractors all want a place at the pig trough whenever a government program creates opportunities. Also, the domestic spying industry provides a lucrative revolving-door career path for employees of law enforcement and intelligence agencies.

Opportunities for expansion of personal power could be just as significant a factor. For example, as government-corporate alliances such as InfraGard and DSAC are formed, participants in organized stalking can exploit the system for their own personal vendettas.

This is true in police agencies as well. A prime example was the previously-described incident in 2011 in which the city manager in Stockton, California was stalked by local police to punish him for not granting them a sufficiently generous contract.

Some CI operations are handled directly by the FBI and other intelligence agencies. Other CI activities are performed for the government by private intelligence-security firms under government contract. CI work is also done by such firms on behalf of large corporations. In some cases - for example, the infiltration and subversion of the Occupy Wall Street Movement - CI activities were performed by the FBI and by private firms.

Presumably, one major difference between the structure of the original Cointelpro operations and modern gang stalking is the huge number of private intelligence/security firm contractors with secret clearances now employed by “homeland security” programs and corporations.

The DOJ, FBI, & DHS

Cerberus

America has a vast, complex, interconnected workforce associated with law enforcement, intelligence, and national security operations. It includes everything from local volunteer neighborhood watch programs to the Pentagon. Components of that infrastructure include federal, state, and local government agencies, private contractors, criminal informants, hybrid quasi-governmental associations such as the previously-discussed Law Enforcement Intelligence Units (LEIUs), corporate-government intelligence-sharing partnerships such as InfraGard and DSAC, and volunteer organizations. The U.S. intelligence community alone consists of 16 agencies (17 counting the Office of the Director of National Intelligence - which oversees the other 16).

Adding to the complexity are overlapping jurisdictions, bureaucracy, “revolving-door” employment patterns, and coordination between different groups. Some examples of that coordination - both formal and informal - would be disturbing to many Americans. For example, there have been reports of connections between the CIA and local Law Enforcement Intelligence Units, as was described in the section of this overview about “red squads.”

The scale and complexity of America’s security industry - combined with its inherent secrecy - makes it difficult to speculate about the exact way counterintelligence operations are perpetrated. Whatever particular operational structure supports Cointelpro-type stalking in the U.S., it would unavoidably involve the approval and coordination of at least these three federal intelligence agencies: the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), the Federal Bureau of Investigations (FBI), and the Department of Homeland Security (DHS).

The three agencies work with each other on the collection and sharing of information - as in the case of this biometric-based database of criminal suspects.

The DOJ is the U.S. executive department responsible for law enforcement. As such, it would need to provide legal authorization for programs such as COINTELPRO.

“An internal affairs office at the Justice Department has found that, over the last decade, hundreds of federal prosecutors and other Justice employees violated rules, laws, or ethical standards governing their work.

The violations include instances in which attorneys who have a duty to uphold justice have, according to the internal affairs office, misled courts, withheld evidence that could have helped defendants, abused prosecutorial and investigative power, and violated constitutional rights.”

- Project on Government Oversight report, March 2014

The FBI is both a federal criminal investigative agency and the nation’s primary counterintelligence agency. It was the FBI which secretly orchestrated the original version of Cointelpro under FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

“Never hesitant about flexing its muscles to target dissenters and whistleblowers, the FBI ….is more dangerous than ever.”

- J.D. Tuccille, Journalist, Reason, September 2013

The DHS - which was created in response to the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks - is the department with primary responsibility for counter-terrorism programs, such as maintenance of the national network of data fusion centers used to share security information across all levels of government.

“Homeland Security is an illegal and unconstitutional force directed at the American people.”

- Paul Craig Roberts, former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, CounterPunch, July 2014

The Central Intelligence Agency (CIA)

Octopus

Whatever your assessment of the possible nature and scope of illegal counterintelligence activities currently taking place in the U.S., it is impossible - given the agency's history - to rule-out the possibility that current or former CIA agents are involved - directly or indirectly, formally or informally - in at least some cases of domestic psychological operations.

As with organized stalking generally, motivations might vary from counterintelligence subversion, to experimentation, to personal vengeance for individuals and corporations with connections.

I noted the following in the section on MK Ultra. Sorry for the redundancy, but it bears repeating.

The CIA's official mission statement refers to spying on America's "adversaries" - which generally refers to foreign adversaries. On the other hand, the mission statement also proclaims that the CIA "upholds the highest standards of conduct," and yet the agency has a well-documented history of involvement with things like torture, assassinations, drug trafficking, orchestrating coups against democratically-elected governments, kidnapping families for dictators, arranging the capture of Nelson Mandela, spying on Americans based on their political beliefs (in the past and recently), and - in the case of Project MK Ultra - performing secret unethical mind-control experiments on Americans.

The agency's crimes associated with MK Ultra will never be fully known, because CIA Director Richard Helms - by his own admission - ordered the destruction of the program's records in 1973. Those kinds of practices continue today. The CIA is known to have destroyed videos of their agents' use of torture in interrogations, and to have spied on the U.S. Senate while it was investigating the CIA's use of torture.

As explained in the section on Red Squads, the CIA reportedly also has a role in the training of local Law Enforcement Intelligence Units (LEIUs). Accounts by self-proclaimed victims of organized stalking often include relatively sophisticated methods. The tactics and technology are consistent with the operational capabilities of the CIA, and consistent with the agency's reputation for operating outside of legal and ethical boundaries.

Also worth considering is the fact that the CIA supports regimes which torture their citizens. In his book CIA Diary (1975), former CIA case officer Philip Agee wrote about the agency's support of the brutal fascist military dictatorships in Latin America:

"Repression in Brazil even includes cases of the torture of children, before their parents' eyes, in order to force the parents to give information."

It does not strain the imagination to think that such an agency might have its slimy tentacles connected - in various plausibly deniable ways - to the organized stalking of targeted individuals.

The National Security Agency (NSA)

Tower of Sauron

"The ultimate goal of the NSA is total population control."

- NSA Whistle-blower William Binney

William Binney, a 36-year veteran of the NSA (he was a mathematician and code-breaker), has described that spy agency as having a “totalitarian mentality.” He has also said this about the NSA’s crimes against Americans: “I call people who are covering up NSA crimes traitors.”

As with the CIA, one can only speculate about the NSA’s possible involvement with organized stalking, but there are reasons to suspect that the agency is not entirely innocent. Although the NSA - unlike the CIA - specializes in signals intelligence rather than operations, revelations in 2013 by NSA whistle-blower Edward Snowden showed that the NSA is aggressively involved in spying on its own citizens - and lying about it.

NSA Director Keith Alexander lied about the mass surveillance of Americans by the NSA - twice. He denied that the data was being collected, then after it was revealed, he claimed that the program had uncovered 54 terrorist plots. When challenged by Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman, Patrick Leahy, he admitted that the number was an exaggeration. Later the President’s Review Board reported that the actual number of terrorist threats detected was zero.

Domestic spying is not new for the agency either. The U.S. Senate’s Church Committee investigations in the 1970s said this in its conclusions about the NSA’s activities:

“ …the deliberate targeting of American citizens and the associated incidental interception of their communications demonstrates the need for a legislative charter that will define, limit, and control the signals intelligence activities of the National Security Agency.” (Church Committee Final Report - Book 3, page 764)

Another reason to think that some members of the NSA acquiesce in organized stalking is more specific. A semi-autobiographical book by Gloria Naylor - winner of the National Book Award for her novel The Women of Brewster Place - was published in 2005. In the book, Naylor described her experiences as a target of organized stalking. The book's title, 1996, was the year Naylor realized that she was being stalked. (Presumably, it is also a reference to Orwell's 1984.) Apparently, her harassment began after she had a dispute with a neighbor whose brother worked for the National Security Agency (NSA).

Here are some of Naylor's comments in an interview on National Public Radio, January 23, 2006:

"I think I just ran into the wrong people at the wrong time, and like the book shows, what starts from a very innocent dispute with a neighbor cascades and cascades and cascades into a whole production."

" …these cars began to surveil me. People began to follow me around, and it did, it was very disrupting to think that your privacy was being violated, and for no reason that I could come up with."

Another reason to suspect that some members of the NSA must acquiesce in organized stalking - and this would apply to the other numerous intelligence agencies as well - is that it would be impossible for them to be unaware of the various electronic communications associated with it. This website you are reading, for example, receives several hundred visits every day. Gang stalking must be something of an open secret among much of the intelligence community.

Finally, another reason to suspect that NSA officials likely approve of gang stalking is that such operations are consistent with what is now known about the agency's culture. When William Binney - the technical chief of the NSA who became a whistle-blower - testified before Germany's parliament in July 2014, he said that the NSA seeks "total information control" over American citizens and has a "totalitarian mentality."

Intelligence-Security Contractors ("Surveillance Role Players")

spy

I am unaware of any publicly available information about the exact origin or nature of the jobs for "Surveillance Role Players" which are listed on numerous defense/security contractor websites. Possibly the position was created as part of the massive increase in the "national security" infrastructure following the 9/11 attacks.

It is very possible that Surveillance Role Players (SRPs) fill a variety of roles. For example, one of those roles might be to simulate the role of terrorists and others in various security drills.

Another role might or might not be to perpetrate the counterintelligence stalking of targeted individuals. In the absence of reporting on either the nature of SRPs or the nature of counterintelligence stalking, it is at least worth considering that the two phenomena might be connected.

Certainly the collusion of corporations and federal agencies in the area of domestic intelligence activities is not new. The U.S. government has been colluding with big corporations to spy on Americans since the dawn of the Cold War, as this article in Wired notes, although the practice has greatly expanded.

"The government is increasingly using corporations to do its surveillance work, allowing it to get around restrictions that protect the privacy and civil liberties of Americans, according to a report released ….by the American Civil Liberties Union …"

Cointelpro Version 2.0 (gang stalking) apparently makes use of the large supply of Americans who possess security clearances - over 5.1 million people as of 2013- almost a third of whom work for private firms. Nearly one-third of the Americans with top secret clearances are private contractors rather than government employees.

Numerous online job listings by defense/intelligence contractors for SRPs seek applicants with active secret clearances and training in counterintelligence. Each listing indicates that the unspecified work involves human intelligence operations (as distinguished from signals intelligence) within the U.S. Some of the ads note that an element of the job is to "coordinate with local law enforcement."

In at least some cases, the client for the Surveillance Role Player contractors is the Department of Defense. Often though, the job announcements do not indicate which U.S. government department or agency is the client. It seems likely that some of the contracts would be with the Department of Homeland Security.

I posted one of these ads in the introduction of this overview. Here is another example:

These ads could be evidence that federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies support outsourced organized stalking operations. Absent leaks by whistle-blowers, one can only speculate about that. Clearly though, SRPs would have the tactical skills, technological assets, funding, and law enforcement connections needed to perpetrate nationwide stalking operations involving counterintelligence methods.

SRPs would also have a powerful incentive to maintain secrecy about such operations. Members of the intelligence community - including contractors - are exempt from the Whistleblower Protection Act. So even if an intelligence-security contractor firm were to mistakenly hire someone who has moral integrity, that employee would still be reluctant to expose misconduct. Revealing secret practices - even practices which are legally dubious - would involve a high risk of serious legal trouble.

Another aspect of the SRP job which makes it a plausible explanation for how organized stalking is perpetrated is the fact that the position is relatively low on the food chain. If organized stalking is widespread - as anecdotal and media reports seem to suggest - the street-level work is certainly not being performed (in most cases) by FBI agents. Victims of organized stalking seem to be rather ordinary individuals who are not connected to criminal or terrorist organizations. In many cases, targets seem to have no idea how they came to be targeted. Some of them - perhaps most - might have simply crossed someone with connections to the law enforcement industry.

Such targeted persons do not have the resources and skills that would require serious “tradecraft” on the part of the perpetrators. Any brown-noser who can follow orders and keep a secret could perform this level of dirty work. Surveillance Role Players would seem to fit the bill.

Training the lowest-level perps

Most of the employment announcements I have seen for SRPs state that one element of the job is training others. That too is consistent with observable activities associated with organized stalking. Acts of harassment done for psychological operations purposes are often perpetrated by someone having only a single momentary interaction with the target. For example, someone unknown to the victim makes some particular comment or performs some act of rudeness, or simply glares at the victim. Such persons are probably ignorant of why the victim is supposedly even being targeted.

Perhaps SRPs orchestrate and delegate those minor acts of “no-touch torture” which collectively make up what the Stasi referred to as “zersetzung” - the process of systematically degrading the target’s morale.

Many Surveillance Role Player job ads - such as the one below - indicate that the work is part-time. That would make sense for this type of work for several reasons. For one thing, a part-time job would be easier to conceal from the public. Also, it is possible that harassing people full-time might be a bit demoralizing for all but the most purely sadistic CI agents. Some cops frequently behave as bullies, but few people could spend all 40 hours of their work week perpetrating acts of harassment.

Of course, an additional practical reason for restricting employees to part-time status is that it greatly reduces the obligation to provide benefits for them.

Note also that the job ad below states that one element of the work is to "coordinate with local law enforcement." If SRPs are stalking people, they would inevitably need to sometimes coordinate their activities with police. Quite possibly, Law Enforcement Intelligence Units (LEIUs) could be involved in some ways. As explained in detail in the section of this website about "red squads," LEIUs have a long history in the U.S. of functioning as political enforcement agencies.

If any readers of this website have any insights about the precise nature of these jobs (which seem never to be discussed in the mainstream news media), I welcome them. Obviously, it's pure speculation from my perspective that they are possibly connected with organized stalking, but such a connection would neatly answer these three questions:

"What do surveillance role players do?"

"Who perpetrates organized stalking?"

"How do the stalkers maintain the secrecy of their operations?"

SRP job announcements do not indicate which U.S. government department or agency is the client. The most likely entity would be the Department of Homeland Security.

Gang stalking crosses multiple boundaries: geographical, jurisdictional, legal, and moral. My guess is that the participants are primarily motivated by the financial benefits, but also by the notion that they are part of a secret group which is essentially above the law, and which imposes what they see as a moral punishment on dissidents. They are America's more cowardly and more secretive version of the Taliban.

The professional caliber of Surveillance Role Players

Players in this game are not exactly members of the premier league in the intelligence business. First, spying (espionage) is traditionally regarded within the intelligence community as a more prestigious occupation than counterintelligence work.

Secondly, for obvious reasons, domestic counterintelligence operations are less challenging than foreign counterintelligence operations. Even those who argue that counterintelligence work deserves to be taken more seriously, such as Roy Godson, acknowledge that distinction.

Some ads for SRPs list a college degree among the qualifications, but many - such as the one below - require only a high school diploma. This means that former enlisted military personnel with counterintelligence (CI) training can easily make some good money relative to their education level as SRPs - possibly by harassing and spying on their fellow citizens. That would be tempting for a certain type of person during any period, but especially in today's relatively weak job market.

Finally, counterintelligence subversion which targets amateurs (non-intelligence professionals) who have very limited assets is by definition the easiest work of all. Unlike covert operations - which must be conducted without being detected by the targets - organized stalking involves overt harassment, so the level of "tradecraft" required is relatively primitive.

Being a gang stalking perp is several rungs down the ladder from being the protagonist in a John le Carré novel.

Another job announcement for a Surveillance Role Player - highlighting added:

Click on image to enlarge.

SRP Job Ad - BAE

Goldilocks' porridge temperature IQ

Sometimes it is better from an employer's perspective to hire people who do not think too deeply about the business in which they are involved.

One of the mistakes made by the National Security Agency (NSA) that led to the scandalous revelations of its Big Brother spying programs in 2013 was that the agency permitted one of its contractor firms - Booz Allen Hamilton Inc. - to hire an employee who was exceptionally intelligent.

Edward Snowden was smart enough to not only understand the information technology aspect of the spy agency, but also to perceive how morally corrupt and unconstitutional the surveillance system was, and how to expose the whole slimy business to the public.

Corporations who employ Surveillance Role Players quite possibly seek to hire people smart enough to carry out orders, but not smart enough to consider the philosophical implications associated with a Stasi-type system of political enforcement.

This phenomenon is definitely at work in the law enforcement industry. One example is a federal lawsuit by a police department applicant in Connecticut. A man was denied the opportunity to apply for a job with the New London Police Department on the grounds that he was too intelligent. As a matter of policy, the police department only interviewed candidates who were just slightly above average in intelligence

“on the theory that those who scored too high could get bored with police work and leave soon after undergoing costly training.”

In August 2000, a federal appeals court ruled that the policy was legitimate.

The moral character of security contractors

Admittedly, the possible participation of SRPs in counterintelligence stalking is purely speculative for now. On the other hand, there are well-documented cases of lawlessness and minimal oversight among military, security, and intelligence contractors, so one does not have to wonder about the plausibility of such involvement.

A perfect example of contractors with secret clearances performing dirty work for the federal government was a June 2014 report by Pulitzer Prize-winning New York Times journalist James Risen. The article documented how the mercenary soldier corporation formerly known as Blackwater operated with legal impunity in Iraq.

Several weeks before an infamous incident in which Blackwater personnel killed 17 civilians in Baghdad in 2007, the U.S. State Department had begun investigating the corporation’s misconduct and lack of oversight. However, American Embassy officials pulled the plug on that investigation and ordered the investigators to immediately leave the country. That move followed a rather interesting exchange between a Blackwater official and an investigator:

… the inquiry was abandoned after Blackwater’s top manager there issued a threat: “that he could kill” the government’s chief investigator and “no one could or would do anything about it as we were in Iraq,” according to department reports.

The death threat - which was made by a former member of SEAL Team 6 - was witnessed by another investigator. Despite having the statements of the investigators - as well as a long list of other examples of serious misconduct by Blackwater employees, the State Department never even interviewed either of the investigators during its inquiry.

The attitude among Blackwater employees - whose corporation had a contract worth over $1 billion to protect American diplomats - was described by the lead investigator as follows:

"Blackwater contractors saw themselves as above the law," he said, adding that the "hands off" management resulted in a situation in which "the contractors, instead of Department officials, are in command and in control."

Although most of us can only speculate about a connection between Surveillance Role Players and Cointelpro stalking, Americans should at least be curious why their government is constantly hiring people with counterintelligence training and secret clearances for unspecified activities within the U.S.

Journalists especially ought to investigate this mystery - if only out of professional curiosity.

U.S. Military Counterintelligence Agents

Military CI Agent

Where do intelligence-security contractor firms find the aforementioned "surveillance role players?" Since the qualifications include counterintelligence training and secret clearances, the most obvious source of personnel would be former military counterintelligence agents. In fact, the job announcements - such as the one shown above - specifically state that applicants with military experience are "highly desired." For someone who is a former military CI agent, domestic spying offers an opportunity for easy money and power.

The Military Counterintelligence Agencies

Each branch of the military has a component responsible for counterintelligence:

U.S. Army Counterintelligence
Office of Special Investigations (Air Force)
Naval Criminal Investigative Service (Navy & Marine Corps)

US Army Intelligence Insignia

US Air Force OSI Insignia

US Navy - NCIS Insignia

Agents in each of the branches are federal law enforcement officers. They conduct the operations and investigations in their respective branches aimed at disrupting such crimes as espionage and sabotage, and they also handle other criminal matters.

This is the badge carried by Army Counterintelligence Special Agents:

ci_badge

Cashing In

CI stands for counterintelligence; it also stands for "cashing in."

Imagine for a moment that you are a military intelligence agent who is either close to leaving the military or has recently left the military (or you are transitioning from full-time active duty status to that of a part-time active reservist). Now imagine you are told that you can work either full-time or part-time for an intelligence-security contractor and make good money for relatively easy work. (Harassing and spying on civilians in your own country is presumably a bit easier than working on counterintelligence operations in say, Afghanistan.)

Imagine further that you are the kind of person likely to be working in military counterintelligence to begin with - someone who can follow orders and keep a secret (and lie), and who does not question the morality of his or her work.

Keep in mind that the job proposal - working as a "surveillance role player" - offers the allure of participating in a secret program that operates outside the law - sort of a low-rent spy club.

The opportunity would be especially appealing to anyone whose marketable job skills are limited. A CI agent's job training emphasizes things such as lying convincingly. That kind of skill set is not always in big demand outside of fields such as used-car sales and politics.

Further imagine that - just like J. Edgar Hoover and his thugs - you subscribe to the kind of reactionary authoritarian political outlook that enables you to rationalize perpetrating various unconstitutional actions against your fellow citizens. Morally, you can live with what you do because you have an authority figure - your boss at the security-intelligence firm (and more generally, the military-intelligence industrial establishment) sanctioning your activities. In short, you're a minion of a larger program run by people smarter and more powerful than you, and as such you are not inclined to question the morality of it all. (It would be "above your pay grade" to think independently about such matters.)

You can see why a job as a "surveillance role player" might be very attractive to such a person. If the individual is fundamentally a bully as well, he or she will have found the promised land.

Domestic spying on American civilians by the U.S. military

Not only do U.S. military CI agents sometimes cash-in on their experience by working as intelligence-security contractors after they leave the military, some of them do some spying on American civilians while they are still on active duty.

Most Americans probably assume that the targets of spying by the U.S. military are exclusively foreign enemies. That is not always the case. For example, one of the scandals which led to the U.S. Senate's famous Church Committee investigations during the 1970s involved U.S. Army intelligence agents getting caught spying on anti-war protesters.

About a decade ago, news reports began to emerge about efforts by the Defense Department to quietly loosen restrictions on its ability to conduct domestic spying. In June 2004, Newsweek reported the following:

"Without any public hearing or debate, NEWSWEEK has learned, Defense officials recently slipped a provision into a bill before Congress that could vastly expand the Pentagon's ability to gather intelligence inside the United States, including recruiting citizens as informants."

Allegations of political spying by military contractors have also been in the news in recent years. This lawsuit in Washington State for example, accused two civilian employees of the U.S. Army of spying on anti-war protesters. The case was dismissed in June 2014, but the plaintiffs are appealing the decision.

Larry Hildes, the lead attorney for the plaintiffs, had some interesting comments about the case, as reported in this write-up.

Hildes and [co-counsel] Hendricks say there are dossiers and PowerPoint presentations on some of the demonstrators that made the rounds at domestic terrorism conferences.

Some of the depositions of Army personnel, Hildes says, “are amazing.” One colonel, he says, said “of course we monitor the peace movement because they’re anti-military and might demonstrate against us.” Another, Hildes says, “was like something out of Dr. Strangelove. ‘There are no limits in intelligence-sharing to defend the homeland.’ He said that three times!”

Hildes says another Army official bragged about their effectiveness in disrupting the lives of PMR demonstrators to her bosses in the Pentagon-and that there was a PMR task force at McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey. “There’s no way they weren’t duplicating this model other places,” he says.

If Judge Leighton’s current ruling stands, Hildes says, “the Army can take any peace group, where any member of it has ever engaged in civil disobedience, which is probably most peace groups in the country, and spy on them as much as they want, gather personal information as much as they want, label them as terrorists as much as they want, and everything is okay. Nothing’s out of bounds. The ground where the First Amendment and Fourth Amendment coexist to protect dissent, if this ruling stands, will be gone.”

Here is a deposition from the case which is an interesting read. It appears that just being an anti-war activist was enough to get someone designated as a surveillance target - which also involved having security personnel gather information about the activist’s friends and relatives.

John Towery Deposition

Gang stalking by active duty military intelligence agents

The cover article of the September 2013 issue (U.K. edition) of the magazine Fortean Times was called “Strange Tales of Homeland Security.” As the blurb on the cover made clear, the piece was about “State-Sponsored Gangstalking.” The author - Robert Guffey, a faculty member of the English department at California State University Long Beach - gave a detailed account of a gang stalking case which involved the U.S. military.

A marine had gone AWOL after stealing some sensitive military property - including night vision goggles and a laptop containing classfied information. Apparently the Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS) initiated an organized stalking campaign against the suspect and his associates as well as an investigation. Various psychological operations tactics were used, such as overt stalking, in addition to some far more exotic methods.

So there is at least one credible published report of intense gang stalking being used by a U.S. military counterintelligence agency against an American citizen. Possibly the operations were intended to serve as both a form of extra-judicial punishment and as experimentation.

Click here to download a copy of the article as a Word document. (The article is behind a subscription pay-wall at the Fortean Times website.)

Strange Tales of Homeland Security by Robert Guffey

Connections between U.S. military intelligence agencies and Law Enforcement Intelligence Units (LEIUs)

Most accounts of organized stalking include reports of sophisticated electronic surveillance, black bag operations, and exotic weapons. As noted in the previous section on LEIUs, former CIA analyst and expert on the history of spying in America, George O'Toole, offered an insight into how such tactics and equipment are acquired by police department intelligence units. Writing in 1979, O'Toole said this:

"U.S. Army Intelligence, which in the recent past has shown a disturbing propensity for spying on Americans, is more than a little chummy with the local cops in many cities. The Army trained several Baltimore intelligence-squad officers in techniques of electronic eavesdropping and surreptitious entry at its Fort Holabird spy school in Maryland. In return, the Baltimore cops passed along many of their intelligence reports to the army. In Chicago the Red Squad was in daily contact with the army's 113th Military Intelligence Group during the late 1960s and early 1970s, passing along intelligence reports and receiving a variety of technical assistance."

U.S. military intelligence agency databases about American civilians

In March 2014 the Washington Examiner reported that the Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS) maintains a huge database which tracks civilian law enforcement records - including even minor offenses such as parking tickets. At the time of the report, the database already contained over 500 million entries.

The article quotes Eugene Fidell, who teaches military law at Yale Law School, describing the military's current policy as "domestic spying."

"Clearly, it cannot be right that any part of the Navy is collecting traffic citation information," Fidell said. "This sounds like something from a third-world country, where you have powerful military intelligence watching everybody."

Criminal "Informants" (Street-Level Perps)

rat

My comments on this subject are mostly speculative, but are based on first-hand experience as a target of illegal harassment by members of America's security industry.

Criminal "informants" are the pawns on the counterintelligence chessboard. In a legitimate counterintelligence operation, an informant might have useful information and contacts - and therefore, be comparable to a more valuable chess piece, but in "gang stalking," the perpetrators are expendable. Very likely, ex-convicts - over whom authorities have leverage - are used for some of the acts of overt stalking of counterintelligence targets. Potential pawns of this sort are never in short supply in America - a nation with one of the world's highest per capita rates of incarceration.

Quite possibly, "informants" are the "students" referred to in the previously-discussed job descriptions for Surveillance Role Players (SRPs). The SRPs probably delegate much of the street-level harassment to rodents even lower on the food chain than themselves. This creates a perfect system of plausible deniability; the perpetrators seen by the target are unknown to the target, and the identities of the SRPs are unknown to the informants. Very likely, the security agent simply gives some cash to the perpetrator for executing some one-time act of harassment - such as making a comment which would be meaningless to anyone except the target, such as a reference to something learned by illegal surveillance. In other cases, the perpetrator might cut-off or bump the target in pedestrian traffic as a form of psychological warfare. Again, the contacts would be meaningless to outside observers, and virtually impossible to prove. Also - and this is critical: The street-level perpetrators have minimal credibility because of their backgrounds, so they pose little threat of exposing the operations.

Finally, this type of perpetrator is basically expendable from the perspective of the security agency (public or private) which uses him or her. If the “student” gets injured or killed, or captured, no one in a position of power will really care. If you want to get an idea of how America’s law enforcement industry views its informants, you should read this September 2012 New Yorker article about what local and federal police agencies did to 23-year-old Rachel Hoffman.

The fate of “informants” and other non-professionals recruited to participate in counterintelligence stalking cases - as distinguished from criminal investigation cases - is not easily ascertained because of the secrecy which surrounds such activity. Some of the published news reports cited on this website contain evidence that U.S. intelligence agencies might have orchestrated harassment campaigns in which informant perpetrators - and possibly others - were seriously injured or killed when the victims lashed out in response to the harassment. (For examples, see the news reports about the Washington Navy Yard shooting in 2013 cited in this webpage’s section on “Mobbing and Workplace Violence,” as well as the January 2014 stabbing in Manitoba, Canada, and the November 2014 shooting at Florida State University, cited in this webpage’s section about “Published News Reports.”)

Helpful Tips

Based on my own observations, and credible accounts shared with me by other self-proclaimed victims of government stalking, many low-level perpetrators are apparently rotated by the agents and contractors coordinating the harassment, so the target is not confronting the same individuals repeatedly. Even though a victim might be harassed daily, many of the stalkers only have a single instance of direct contact with the victim.

One of the implications of the apparently extensive use of multiple anonymous perpetrators for organized stalking is this: the corrupt members of public and private security organizations who orchestrate this form of crime apparently recognize the danger of using perpetrators who can be identified by the victim. Consequently, if you are a victim of this cowardly psychological terrorism, you should pay very close attention when perpetrators are used who are not anonymous. If someone whose identity is known to you has clearly been recruited to harass you (for example, if acts and comments by a neighbor, co-worker, landlord, local merchant, etc. are clearly intended to harass you), you should exploit that fact by making it very clear to that person - in a way that does not constitute an illegal threat - that you know he or she is perpetrating crimes against you. Even if that particular individual's participation in the harassment discontinues, you should "stay in touch" with the person, and make clear (subtly) that you remember exactly what he or she did for the Stasi. An easy - and legal - way to do this is by anonymously mailing a flyer about this website to the person. You could even hand a copy of the flyer to him or her, and just mention that you saw it and thought it was interesting. Don't elaborate or discuss it. You won't need to.

That will create problems for both the pawns and their puppet-masters, neither of whom will be comfortable with spreading information about what they are doing.

Terrorism Liaison Officers (TLOs)

TLO

Since 2008, America's "national security" personnel include "Terrorism Liaison Officers." As explained on this website of a regional information-sharing network, TLOs are designated police officers, firefighters, paramedics, utility workers, and others trained to report "suspicious activity" to a national government database - the network of data fusion centers.

As the Denver Post reported, the “suspicious activity” could be simply taking photos or expressing “extremist beliefs.” One of the concerns about this policy was expressed by the director of the Electronic Privacy Information Center, John Verdi:

“The problem is, you’re drafting individuals whose job isn’t law enforcement to spy on ordinary Americans and report their activities to the government.”

Be discrete if you are ever taking notes. Apparently, that is also one of the forms of “suspicious activity.”

Whether some TLOs might also be directly involved - officially or unofficially - in counterintelligence harassment, is impossible to say. It is not hard to imagine such involvement though for the kind of person who would volunteer to be the designated reporter of “suspicious” citizens to Big Brother.

Police Officers

cop (cropped)

Participation of local police officers in extra-judicial enforcement activities has a long and well-documented history in the U.S. As previously discussed, counterintelligence units within urban police departments - called “Red Squads” - date back to the 1800s.

Historically, many of the spying and subversion operations of Red Squads targets political dissidents rather than organized crime groups. Such activities by local police departments continues today - although the police squads are now more commonly referred to as “Law Enforcement Intelligence Units (LEIUs).”

Not surprisingly, large cities such as Los Angeles and New York have the most extensive intelligence operations, although even small police departments are increasingly involved in the "national security" infrastructure because of federal grants from the Department of Homeland Security (DHS).

Money from the DHS creates a massive pig trough - excuse the pun - for local law enforcement agencies, and has greatly contributed to the militarization of police departments. DHS funding enables towns such as Keene, New Hampshire - population 23,000 - to purchase armored personnel carriers, for example.

Having police departments arm themselves with military weapons is disturbing, but the far more dangerous trend is the expansion of spying on citizens by local police, which is being encouraged at the federal level.

Local police departments participate in organized stalking of targeted individuals. In some cases they perpetrate stalking operations purely for local personal agendas - instead of as part of an unconstitutional, but ostensibly security-related program. The clearest example of this was the previously-mentioned 2011 case in Stockton, California, which was covered in local TV and newspaper reports. Cops stalked the city manager to punish him for not granting them a sufficiently generous compensation package.

That the local police officers resorted to creepy psychological operations tactics is significant; it did not happen randomly. The cops in Stockton were apparently familiar with psyops tactics, and they were used to getting away with such behavior.

Here is the TV news report about gang stalking by the Stockton police:

Sometimes the role of local police in gang stalking operations is to simply look the other way while others (federal agents or their private intelligence contractors) perpetrate their crimes.

This was apparently the case when the feds were terrorizing Jacob Appelbaum and his girlfriend in June 2011.

Appelbaum is a prominent activist associated with WikiLeaks and with Tor (the anonymous web-browsing network). Not surprisingly, the U.S. intelligence community is not fond of him since he is in the business of exposing their crimes. After a botched home invasion of the residence of Appelbaum's girlfriend by federal agents in Seattle (while she was at home), Appelbaum tried to file a police report about the crime. The cops initially refused to even take a report about the incident, let alone investigate it. After several attempts, Appelbaum was able to force them to take a report, but only after the ACLU got involved on his behalf.

Although I cannot prove it, I personally experienced several unmistakable instances of local uniformed police officers in California overtly stalking me. This occurred in multiple jurisdictions. I often receive reports of similar crimes by police from readers of this website. I can imagine that the ACLU must receive similar reports, although they refuse to publicly discuss the issue. It should be remembered that the ACLU - although extremely helpful on a range of civil rights issues - played no role in the exposure of the first version of Cointelpro.

Anyone who might be skeptical about the willingness of cops to perpetrate crimes against their fellow citizens as part of counterintelligence operations should read about the assassinations of black political organizers Fred Hampton and Mark Clark in 1969. As part of the FBI's Cointelpro activities, 14 Chicago police officers raided the apartment in which the two men were sleeping, and shot them to death.

Furthermore, anyone who is skeptical that widespread gang stalking could occur without America's vigilant news media calling attention to it - and the public becoming outraged - should also consider that those assassinations were barely noticed by the public.

For a complete explanation of counterintelligence crimes perpetrated by police officers, see the section earlier in this overview about Red squads (Law Enforcement Intelligence Units).

Firefighters (cropped)

As noted above, firefighters sometimes participate in intelligence sharing as Terrorism Liaison Officers. Some accounts by victims of organized harassment (including one linked below which was reported on the ABC News TV program 20/20) suggest that firefighters also sometimes participate in the systematic harassment of targeted individuals.

In the case of police officers, I have first-hand knowledge that some participate in organized stalking. Moreover, you don't need to take my word for it since I have included several published news reports on this website which make the same point. In the case of firefighters, the extent of their involvement is less clear, but several facts make it plausible that they sometimes function as gang stalking perps.

For one thing, a pilot program to have firefighters gather and share security intelligence was launched by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) in 2006. Apparently, a complete national framework for "suspicious activity reporting" by first-responders has not been fully worked out, but some fire department officials have taken a great interest in the program.

If you have a traditional (non-police state) view of America, you might have difficulty wrapping your mind around the notion that firefighters, paramedics, and utility workers are spying upon - let alone stalking and harassing - their fellow Americans. For an example of the thinking behind using first-responders as spies - and an overview of the main elements of the national intelligence-gathering infrastructure - you can read the following document.

Below is a Naval Postgraduate School master's thesis written in 2012 by Joshua M. Dennis, a Chicago Fire Department chief. In his thesis, Mr. Dennis seeks to clarify the role of the U.S. Fire Service in the intelligence community.

Incidentally, the Naval Postgraduate School is apparently something of a firefighter spy academy. If you perform a Google search for similar theses, you can find several.

Fire Service Intelligence

Hat-tip to the blog Cryptoscatology for highlighting that document.

An example of the kind of suspicious things for which firefighters are supposed to be looking is given in the May 2010 issue of Homeland Security Affairs:

"Unusual documents for the occupancy type: especially maps, books, blueprints, literature …of critical infrastructures."

So if firefighters visit your apartment building some day - for a periodic safety inspection, or in response to a false fire alarm - don't be surprised if you notice them taking a keen interest in your reading material as they pass through.

Fire departments also participate - presumably both as providers and users of information - in the nation's system of data fusion centers. A May 2014 article in the New York Times describes those fusion centers as follows:

The nation's 78 fusion centers - which have received hundreds of millions of dollars from the Department of Homeland Security and other federal agencies, as well as money from state governments - are run by state and local authorities …..Many centers ….can involve dozens of officials from police and fire departments, federal agencies and private companies ….

[emphasis added]

Another indication of the law enforcement and surveillance role of fire departments in the new Big Brother version of America is that some fire departments apparently have subpoena powers. We know this because, for example, the Fire Department of New York used its subpoena powers to spy on the cell phone records of a whistle-blower in what appears to have been an effort at retaliation.

ABC News TV Report: Corrupt Firefighters Harassing Ohio Couple

This news report broadcast in May 2014 gives a clear example of firefighters participating in organized stalking. As in the previously-mentioned incident involving gang stalking by local police in Stockton, California in 2011, this Ohio case was done for personal vengeance.

In Hubbard, Ohio a couple was systematically tormented for 7 years in a harassment campaign orchestrated by the town's fire chief. Apparently, he was angry at the couple because of a real estate dispute. He enlisted other firefighters, police officers, and local residents to terrorize the couple by having people drive by the victims' home at all hours honking their horns.

The harassment - which the couple thoroughly documented on video - resulted in legal claims which were still pending at the time of the news reports. The couple's website includes the official reports and overwhelmingly-convincing video evidence of their systematic harassment by corrupt firefighters and corrupt police officers.

This 2-minute video perfectly illustrates the relentless harassment:

Public image versus reality

A large gap often exists between the public's perception and reality regarding first-responders (firefighters, police officers, and paramedics). Those professions contain their share of good people - and even heroes, but there is a significant bad element that tends to be underestimated.

When you consider reports such as the one above, and not-infrequent reports of corruption, nepotism, racism, brutality, and an often “tribal” culture among first-responders, you realize: allegations that such people perpetrate organized harassment - both the professional and vigilante varieties - are not at all far-fetched.

InfraGard & DSAC Members

excellent

As mentioned in the introduction of this overview, two corporate associations - InfraGard and DSAC - have partnerships with the FBI and Homeland Security to share intelligence. Apparently, certain trusted individuals in the participating corporations are granted special membership status by the FBI - complete with ID cards - and have privileged access to information and direct communication with the FBI.

As a practical matter, this very likely means that if one of these elite members of the business community decides to have someone targeted for an “investigation” they could simply tell the FBI that they have concerns that the individual represents what counterintelligence agents call “an insider threat” - meaning that an employee is suspected of being likely to steal proprietary information or that he or she is a “disgruntled employee” or has “extremist beliefs” and poses a safety or national security risk.

For a detailed explanation of this unholy alliance, I recommend reading this May 2013 report from the Center for Media and Democracy, which reported that certain corporations apparently exploited this partnership to use the FBI as a weapon against their political adversary, the Occupy Wall Street Movement.

In a 2009 TV program, Jesse Ventura, the former governor of Minnesota, interviewed Matthew Rothschild, senior editor of the Progressive about InfraGard. Ventura also confronted a member of InfraGard regarding the partnership's obvious potential for abuse of power. The relevant section begins 25 minutes into this video clip.

If you suspect that your boss - or former boss - might have arranged to have you blacklisted, you should definitely watch this.

If the video becomes unavailable at the above link, and you want to search for it, this is the information: Conspiracy Theory with Jesse Ventura, Episode #4, "Big Brother" - originally broadcast on December 23, 2009.

Threat Assessment Teams

Witch Trial

An early example of a Threat Assessment Team: peasants at a witch trial in "Monty Python and the Holy Grail"

As mentioned in the section above on selection of targeted individuals, a Threat Assessment Team (TAT) is a small group of designated staff members in an organization (public or private) which attempts to assess whether certain individuals in the organization pose a threat.

As the page about TATs in the FBI's website makes clear, these groups are expected to work with law enforcement agencies to share their suspicions that an individual is likely to commit a crime in the future.

If the members of the TAT are also members of InfraGard or DSAC - or if they have an informal connection to a law enforcement or security agency, it would presumably not be unlikely that the suspicious individual would find his or her way onto a watch list of some sort.

Of course, it's purely speculative how such a process might play out regarding organized stalking, but the U.S. law enforcement business is now so secretive that speculation is often the only option to try to understand it.

Citizen Spies

DHS Poster

Department of Homeland Security Poster

Snitch Programs

Clearly the government also makes extensive use of citizen informants. An obvious example of this was the Department of Homeland Security's public awareness campaign introduced in 2010 encouraging citizens to report anything suspicious: "If you see something, say something"

State and local governments have followed the feds' lead (and used the feds' money) to promote a "snitch" culture - such as this Florida program to encourage residents to spy on their neighbors.

Naturally, such programs could have a corrosive effect on the inclination of Americans trust each other. That general level of trust ought to be a concern for everyone, since it has declined in recent decades. An Associated Press poll published in November 2013 found that the segment of America's population which believes that "most people can be trusted" had fallen from half (in 1972) to one-third.

Public awareness programs designed to encourage people to become snitches are bad enough, but even more disturbing are secret programs in which citizens are paid to function as part-time spies to gather information on their fellow Americans.

Such programs date back to at least the Cointelpro era. Chicago Daily News Columnist Mike Royko reported on one political activist targeted in Chicago in 1970 who obtained information (perhaps through a Freedom of Information Act request) from the FBI about her record. She discovered that she had been spied upon by the "Welcome Wagon" lady who had met her when she moved into a new neighborhood. (Welcome Wagon is a company which promotes local businesses. From the late 1920s until the late 1990s, they sent "hostesses" to visit new homeowners and give them gift baskets with samples and coupons.)

Incidentally, Mike Royko - whose quote appears at the top of the homepage of Fight Gang Stalking - was also a target of government spying. He was apparently being followed by Chicago's Law Enforcement Intelligence Unit (LEIU). Apparently, the FBI did not approve of Royko's columns, which sometimes criticized the agency. Eventually, the FBI had an 86-page file on Mike Royko, who died in 1997 at age 64.

A Brigade of Snitches: The American Protective League

Most Americans are unaware of the U.S. government's history of using its citizens to spy on each other. A prime example of this phenomenon was the American Protective League:

During World War I some 250,000 volunteers joined the units that made up the American Protective League (APL). This private organization, which had nearly 100,000 members in 600 cities by 1917, worked with the Justice Department's Bureau of Investigation to identify war saboteurs and alien spies.

Wearing badges that looked official, the volunteers soon expanded their mission. They conducted surveillance, and harassed, intimidated and “arrested” people whose loyalty was questioned, perhaps because they refused to buy Liberty Bonds. The APL staged raids on factories, union halls, and private homes, and detained more than 40,000 people, including draft dodgers, for the War Department.

Boy Scout Merit Badges for Snitching

Nazi Boy Scout

Volunteer members of the American Protective League (see above) were issued U.S. government ID cards. Another group of volunteer snitches who were issued government ID cards was described in a June 2013 blog entry on The New York Review of Books website:

“In the 1960s in Rochester, New York, the local police department launched Operation SAFE (Scout Awareness for Emergency). It involved twenty thousand boy scouts living in the vicinity of Rochester. They got identification cards marked with their thumb prints. On the cards were the telephone numbers of the local police and the FBI. The scouts participating in the program were given a list of suspicious activities that they were to report.”

Letter from an Anonymous Snitch

Just as the Stasi received intelligence from volunteer snitches in communist East Germany, so did the FBI during J. Edgar Hoover’s reign (and no doubt still do today). Here is an example of that kind of tip. The following letter is included in the FBI file obtained through a Freedom of Information request about Bella Abzug, a progressive activist who was a member of the House of Representatives during the mid-1970s.

The anonymous letter is from a college classmate of Abzug who identifies himself or herself as “Pro-F.B.I.” Apparently, he or she deemed Ms. Abzug to be insufficiently fascistic, and therefore someone on whom the agency should definitely spy.

Click on image to enlarge

Snitch Letter

Hat tip to Matt Stoller, who highlighted this document in his blog in March 2014.

Motivations for becoming a snitch

Based on my own observations and on speculation about what would be a logical (and in some cases necessary) use of resources for a counterintelligence operation, it seems that some of the people who participate - at least in small ways - in the stalking are civilians who are presumably told they are assisting in an investigation or a “neighborhood watch” type program.

No doubt such neighbors of the targeted individual would not think of themselves as “vigilantes” even though they are in fact participating in an illegal conspiracy designed to inflict extra-judicial punishment.

The motivations of a particular stalker are probably often unrelated to the reason the targeted individual was blacklisted in the first place. While the victim may have been targeted simply because he or she crossed someone with connections and money, the perpetrators - including the victim’s neighbors, associates, relatives, etc. - can simply be told various lies about the victim. Those lies can be tailored to fit the particular person or groups of persons being recruited to participate in the harassment.

New snitch programs

In September 2014, the Justice Department announced a new plan to root out all the potential terrorists in America by implementing a program of “community-led interventions.” If that sounds like it might lead to Stasi-type witch hunts, don’t worry; Attorney General Eric Holder assures us that this “innovative and aggressive” program will be guided by “democratic values.”

The Whole Stasi Gang

entire goon squad

The full list of groups who either passively acquiesce or actively participate in “gang stalking” - for money or as volunteers - probably looks something like this:

1) Federal law enforcement & intelligence agencies
. (DOJ, FBI, DHS, CIA, NSA, etc.)

2) Intelligence-security contractors
. (including “Surveillance Role Players”)

3) Military counterintelligence agents

4) Criminal informants

5) InfraGard & DSAC members & Threat Assessment Team members

6) Terrorism Liaison Officers

7) Police officers
. (Law Enforcement Intelligence Units & patrol officers)

8) Firefighters

9) Private investigators

10) Neighbors, landlords, merchants, co-workers, and even relatives of the victim. In some cases, these persons are apparently recruited under the pretense that they are participating in an “investigation” or a neighborhood watch program.

11) Others informally recruited to assist - such as friends, relatives, and business associates of persons in one of the other categories

A person in category 10 or 11 is what East Germany’s Stasi agents referred to as an Inoffizielle Mitarbeiter - an unofficial collaborator.

Gang stalking perpetrators are an assortment of corrupt politicians, corrupt corporate executives, corrupt federal agents, corrupt cops, snitches, brown-nosers, bullies, liars, parasitic security contractors, sociopaths, psychopaths, traitors, and useful idiots. This is exactly what you would expect in a program refined by a communist secret police agency.

“It’s very common for the victims to understand a system better than the people who are holding the stick.”

- Noam Chomsky, Imperial Ambitions

Blue Line

12. Social Conformity & Obedience to Authority
Nazi Soldiers

Nazi soldiers invading Poland

“Blind belief in authority is the greatest enemy of truth.”
- Albert Einstein

People like to believe that the evil and stupid obedience displayed by people such as Hitler’s followers is far-removed from their own nature and culture. History and science suggest that is not the case.

Anyone wishing to understand gang stalking - or even to assess the plausibility of such a conspiracy - should briefly review the interesting (but disturbing) historical and scientific evidence on conformity and obedience.

History is filled with shocking manifestations of group-think - such as the Salem, Massachusetts witch trials. Examples of blind deference to authority include attrocities such as the “Rape of Nanking” in the 1930s, in which Japanese soldiers, sanctioned by their leaders, raped, tortured, and murdered thousand of Chinese civilians. Many infants were killed in front of their mothers in that massacre; sometimes the soldiers gouged-out the children’s eyes before killing them.

Literature is similarly filled with helpful examples of the evil and idiocy associated with group-think and obedience. William Golding’s Lord of the Flies is one iconic example.

Be this guy

The story behind this photograph

Psychology experiments show that it would be easy to recruit people to participate - as paid thugs or as vigilantes - in the organized harassment of targeted individuals. The social dynamics would be effective in a small workplace run by a psychopath manager, or on a large scale in an agency such as the FBI.

In fact, that was the conclusion of a previously-mentioned article in the September 2004 issue of the Sociological Forum. The authors found that agents in the original version of the FBI's Cointelpro operations targeted individuals for surveillance and harassment even when those individuals were not engaged in subversive activities. The targeting was done to please the authority figures higher up in the agency's food chain.

Two famous sets of experiments are of particular relevance here:

(1) Conformity experiments by social psychologist Solomon Asch

In Asch's experiments, students were asked to participate - along with others - in what was ostensibly a "vision test." Actually, the other participants were accomplices of the experimenter, and the study sought to find how the unsuspecting students would be influenced by the behavior of the others.

When asked to assess the relative lengths of lines displayed on cards, unsuspecting students were frequently influenced by the responses of the accomplices around them. In other words, people often changed their beliefs about what they had seen when the group expressed an opinion at variance with their own. In a control group, with no pressure to conform, few of the subjects gave incorrect answers. A majority (75 percent) of the subjects gave an incorrect answer to at least one question when surrounded by others expressing the wrong answer.

Asch Experiments

---

(2) Obedience to authority figures experiments by psychologist Stanley Milgram

In Milgram's experiments, participants were led to believe that they were administering small electrical shocks to a person being tested, and that the voltage was being incrementally increased with each delivery of the shock. The experiment (and other similar subsequent experiments by others) found that most people (61 to 66 percent) will administer a fatal electrical shock to an innocent person purely out of deference to authority.

"The disappearance of a sense of responsibility is the most far-reaching consequence of submission to authority." - Stanley Milgram

Anyone skeptical - despite such findings - about how easy it is to manipulate average citizens to do very bad things to people they don't know should watch this video clip from an ABC TV program on the subject. The video features a private investigator-type person (not unlike the people who manage Cointelpro stalking operations presumably) portraying himself as a law enforcement officer, and easily persuading people to participate in serious crimes against strangers.

The fascist element of the U.S. intelligence community, law enforcement community, and military-industrial complex

As a former member of the U.S. military who also worked as a security contractor, I can say with some authority that many of the people in those professions have both integrity and intelligence.

Unfortunately though, such career fields - and I'm sure this applies to intelligence and law enforcement agencies such as the FBI and CIA as well - have more than their share of the type of folks described here by journalist Chris Hedges. Having spent a couple of decades as a war correspondent, he understands the mentality and character of authoritarian careerists.

Hedges' observations apply not only to military officers, but also to the related professions of law enforcement and domestic spying as well.

“Most institutions have a propensity to promote mediocrities, those whose primary strengths are knowing where power lies, being subservient and obsequious to the centers of power and never letting morality get in the way of one’s career. The military is the worst in this respect. In the military, whether at the Paris Island boot camp or West Point, you are trained not to think but to obey. What amazes me about the military is how stupid and bovine its senior officers are. Those with brains and the willingness to use them seem to be pushed out long before they can rise to the senior-officer ranks. The many Army generals I met over the years not only lacked the most rudimentary creativity and independence of thought but nearly always saw the press, as well as an informed public, as impinging on their love of order, regimentation, unwavering obedience to authority and single-minded use of force to solve complex problems.”

Here is the full article at truthdig.

Authoritarian Personality Type

The Authoritarians (Cropped)

Participants in the original Cointelpro and its current form - gang stalking - have what psychologists sometimes refer to as an “authoritarian personality.”

Robert Altemeyer, an associate professor of psychology at the University of Manitoba, has studied this subject extensively. An October 2004 article in Reason describes his findings about the authoritarian type personality:

“ ….authoritarians are cognitively rigid, aggressive, and intolerant. They are characterized by steadfast conformity to group norms, submission to higher status individuals, and aggression toward out-groups and unconventional group members.”

The article notes that Altemeyer’s views were confirmed by research at the University of California at Berkeley, where they found that such people - who are typically very conservative politically - have common psychological factors described by the article's author as follows:

"fear and aggression, dogmatism and intolerance of ambiguity, uncertainty avoidance, need for cognitive closure, and terror management that causes conservatives to shun and even punish outsiders and those who threaten the status of their cherished world views."

Dr. Altemeyer wrote a book on this subject called The Authoritarians (2006). In his book, he makes clear that his references to "right-wing" authoritarian followers is a psychological - not ideological - category. Citizens in communist East Germany who served as informants for the Stasi (state police) were "authoritarians" just like far-right kooks in America today who participate in organized stalking. Because they are subservient to authority figures, such people are easily manipulated by those in power.

Professor Altemeyer generously made his book available to the public as a free pdf document: The Authoritarians

Authoritarian Tribalism Versus Respect for Legitimate Authority

A fundamental distinction deserves to be made here explicitly. The perspective of "authoritarian" perpetrators of organized stalking has nothing to do with respect for legitimate authority. Corrupt members of U.S. intelligence agencies, law enforcement agencies, and their security contractor associates are not motivated by concerns about public safety or national security - let alone respect for the law. They mostly value the paychecks they receive for "work" that involves minimal effort or risk. To the extent that they have any loyalty, it is not to their country, but to their fellow corrupt pigs. It probably is true that a fair number of the perpetrators do have right-wing political views which could be vaguely characterized as "authoritarian," but it would be giving them too much intellectual credit to ascribe their bullying to some philosophical vision - even a fascistic un-American one. Perpetrators of COINTELPRO/MK Ultra-type harassment are just criminals with badges; they're drunk with power and they serve their own interests.

Personality & Character Traits of Counterintelligence Stalkers

Authoritarian personality-type folks are exactly whom you would expect to find in the ranks of a counterintelligence agency (and its contractor firms). Based partly on inference and partly on first-hand observation, here are some of their key traits:

Subservience

As Stanley Milgram's experiment found, people who can be induced by authority figures to commit acts of unwarranted cruelty are as common as manure at a cattle ranch. People who seek employment in a counterintelligence agency such as the FBI or DHS (or one of their security contractor firms) are especially likely to fit this profile. The previously-mentioned Sociological Forum article regarding the original Cointelpro program seemed to confirm this.

Cowardice

A person would not necessarily have to be a coward to participate in the kind of harassment associated with the current version of Cointelpro ("gang stalking"); however, he or she would also not need to be courageous. A cowardly sociopath would be a perfect fit. The "work" is neither physically dangerous nor legally risky. Author Douglas Valentine perfectly described the type of person often drawn to U.S. intelligence agencies - namely, someone who is excited by the prospect of engaging in lawless behavior without the legal jeopardy that usually entails: "a sociopath without the guts to go it alone in the underworld."

Counterintelligence agents such as "Surveillance Role Players" who perpetrate gang stalking are bullies, but they like to play close to mommy's apron where it's safe.

Stupidity

Having worked for years in the corporate security industry (often with current and former law enforcement officers), I can tell you that a lot of people in such professions have the imagination, sense of humor, deep thinking capacity, and empathy of a cinder block. Having such a personality is not a sin of course, but it has consequences. People who are unable or unwilling to question what they are told by higher ranking authority figures are dangerous when serving in a corrupt power structure. The difference between constitutionally legitimate law enforcement and being a thug is too subtle for some people to grasp.

Sadism

"The connection between stupidity and cruelty is a close one."

- Christopher Hitchens

I don't have much to add to Hitchens' observation. The tactics of organized stalking are intended as psychological torture, and the perpetrators are often just as stupid as you would expect such people to be.

Dishonesty

Deception can be an ethically legitimate element of a counterintelligence operation (or an undercover law enforcement operation); however, counterintelligence programs in the U.S. - in the past (Cointelpro), and currently ("gang stalking"), are frequently both immoral and illegal. The FBI's campaign to destroy the actress Jean Seberg by slandering her (for supporting the black civil rights movement) was a case in point. A rogue agency's classified internal memo that purports to sanction something that clearly violates the U.S. Constitution - and morality - does not make the activity legal. Lying as part of such an operation is just corruption. People who engage in such deception and get paid for it are just criminals.

Laziness

Counterintelligence stalking does not require technically complex operations. America's current version of Cointelpro mainly involves harassing individuals who lack the kind of resources and connections that would make them challenging or dangerous targets. Also, there are essentially no objective goals for security contractors who perform this kind of work; the firms which engage in this sleazy business are not expected to produce anything tangible. They receive their cash flow from the national security budget pig trough regardless of whether they do anything productive. Boondoggles are common in the military-industrial complex of course, but most contractors have to at least produce something, such as a tank or an airplane. Intelligence-security contractors sometimes only have to pretend that they are monitoring and countering actual threats.

Greed & Lust for Power

This is the core of organized stalking. Probably only the stupidest perpetrators of gang stalking are under any illusion that they are doing anything useful and legitimate; they're just thugs for a government which opinion polls show is regarded as corrupt by most Americans. "Surveillance Role Players" and their bosses have security clearances, so perhaps some of them convince themselves that they are special, but they are not an elite group; in 2013, over 5.1 million Americans had security clearances. Gang stalking perps are among the many parasites feeding at the massive "homeland security" pig trough.

"Except for an extraordinary diligence in looking out for his personal advancement, he had no motives at all."

- Hannah Arendt on Adolf Eichmann (one of the major organizers of the Holocaust)

In summary, the kind of people who participate in gang stalking are generally subservient, easily influenced by peer pressure, cowardly, stupid, sadistic, dishonest, lazy, and greedy. Apart from those traits though, they are probably fine people.

Blue Line

13. The U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) . and Gang Stalking

DOJ Fish

The moral character of the DOJ

A fish rots from the head - whether it's the Vatican covering up decades of child sex abuse by priests or the U.S. Justice Department sanctioning secret operations which violate the U.S. Constitution. The DOJ - one of America's 17 intelligence agencies - administers the Federal Bureau of Investigations (FBI) - which the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) says "has a long history of abusing its national security surveillance powers." Whatever the exact organizational structure of the current illegal counterintelligence surveillance and harassment operations that are sometimes called "gang stalking," such operations would not be happening without the knowledge and approval of the DOJ.

In recent years, the DOJ has been justly criticized for its aggressive prosecution and intimidation of whistle-blowers and journalists who expose abuses of power by U.S. intelligence agencies. In 2012, for example, the Justice Department secretly seized two months of telephone records of reporters and editors of the Associated Press. James Goodale, a First Amendment lawyer who played a key role in the publication of the Pentagon Papers by The New York Times, made the case that the DOJ was essentially treating reporters as criminals.

As the ACLU points out though, such behavior is consistent with a long-established history. When Robert F. Kennedy was the U.S. Attorney General (i.e., head of the DOJ) in the 1960s, he authorized some of the original COINTELPRO operations, such as wiretaps on the home of Martin Luther King, Jr.

Corruption at the U.S. Department of Justice is a bipartisan phenomenon. In 1971, when civilian activists leaked secret FBI documents to the Washington Post which revealed crimes committed against Americans by the FBI during the COINTELPRO operations, U.S. Attorney General John Mitchell (who later served prison time for his role in the Watergate scandal) tried unsuccessfully to persuade the Post's executive editor Ben Bradlee not to disclose the documents.

Assessing the plausibility of the claim that the DOJ countenances a modern version of COINTELPRO ("gang stalking") requires looking at various examples of the moral character of the agency. Eric Holder, U.S. Attorney General from 2009 to 2015, is a good example of the kind of people who work at the DOJ, and - more generally - the kind of people who often infest the highest echelons of America's power structures. The approval of unconstitutional secret counterintelligence operations would not be out of character for someone like Holder. When he was President Clinton's Deputy Attorney General (1997 to 2001), he approved the pardon of Marc Rich - a wealthy investor who was indicted on 63 counts of tax evasion and other charges and fled to Switzerland to avoid prosecution. By all serious accounts, the only reason Clinton granted the pardon was that Rich's wife was a big donor to the Democratic Party. Even the opinion writers for The Washington Post - an establishment newspaper which is generally sympathetic to the Democrats - said the pardon should have precluded Holder from becoming President Obama's Attorney General. Richard Cohen wrote of the pardon:

"It suggests that Holder, whatever his other qualifications, could not say no to power. The Rich pardon request had power written all over it - the patronage of important Democratic fundraisers, for instance."

Sweeping the Dirt Under the Rug

Even the Justice Department's own internal affairs office - the Office of Professional Responsibility (OPR) - reports that hundreds of federal prosecutors and other DOJ employees violated laws, rules, and ethical principles over the decade from 2002 through 2013.

More than 400 of the instances they cited involved serious transgressions: recklessness or intentional misconduct. These included things such as failure to provide exculpatory evidence information to defendants, violation of Constitutional rights, and abuse of investigative authority.

In its review of the DOJ's findings, the Project on Government Oversight (POGO) made clear that the Justice Department also conceals some of its bad behavior from the public.

"As a general practice, the Justice Department does not make public the names of attorneys who acted improperly or the defendants whose cases were affected. The result: the Department, its lawyers, and the internal watchdog office itself are insulated from meaningful public scrutiny and accountability."

The report from POGO also quoted from a January 1993 Washington Post article, in which a government auditor described the secretive and dysfunctional nature of the DOJ's internal affairs office this way:

"The system they have in place could not be better for sweeping things under the rug."

Federal Judges Report Frequent Lying by DOJ Prosecutors

Most Americans give little thought to their nation's Department of Justice, except perhaps for high-profile cases with partisan political implications. Evidence of the DOJ's lack of integrity does not usually show up on the public's radar.

Federal judges however, often see examples of the moral rot at the DOJ, and have warned for decades that frequent misconduct by prosecutors undermines Constitutional protections of individuals' rights. A September 2010 article in USA Today reported on the effectiveness of a law enacted by Congress in 1997 intended to curb illegal conduct by prosecutors, such as lying and deliberately concealing evidence:

" …USA TODAY documented 201 criminal cases in the years that followed in which judges determined that Justice Department prosecutors - the nation's most elite and powerful law enforcement officials - themselves violated laws or ethics rules.

In case after case during that time, judges blasted prosecutors for "flagrant" or "outrageous" misconduct. They caught some prosecutors hiding evidence, found others lying to judges and juries, and said others had broken plea bargains."

Why would federal prosecutors engage in misconduct? Part of the explanation is that when they get caught, they are unlikely to be fired - as noted in another article by USA Today, which also found that "the Justice Department consistently conceals its own investigations of misconduct from the public."

Lying by the FBI

Since the DOJ oversees the FBI, it is not surprising that the latter also takes a very elastic view of its obligation to abide by the U.S. Constitution. One way they do this is to assert, when caught lying, that the deception is being done in the name of "national security."

When various American Islamic organizations and individuals filed a FOIA (Freedom of Information Act) request in 2006 to determine if the FBI had engaged in illegal surveillance of them, the FBI concealed the existence of much of the material requested. In a lawsuit which followed, the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals found that the FBI lied to the plaintiffs and to the court about the existence of the documents sought.

When confronted with their deception, the FBI argued, in effect, that the agency should not be required to tell the truth in court if they feel that doing so could compromise national security interests. The court rejected that claim.

Anyone wondering about the plausibility of claims that federal law enforcement agencies acquiesce in gang stalking should consider the fact that such agencies sometimes explicitly assert that they are above the law.

DOJ's Complicity in Spying and Lying by Private Intelligence Firms

Members of the Anonymous movement hacked into the emails of the cybersecurity firm HB Gary Federal In February 2011 after an executive at that firm boasted in the Financial Times that his company had infiltrated Anonymous and started to expose them.

One of the reports contained in the emails was a plan for HB Gary to work with several other security firms to destroy the whistle-blower organization WikiLeaks. News reports had indicated that Wikileaks was planning to publish documents showing possible corruption and fraud at Bank of America, so the bank funded a "counterespionage" campaign against Wikileaks, which included hiring the large intelligence contractor firm Booz Allen, whose staff includes many former top officials from the intelligence community and the defense department.

One of the proposals was to create and plant fake documents to discredit Wikileaks. The plans also included hacking into Wikileaks' computer systems. Another proposal was to "attack" and "disrupt" the career of journalist Glenn Greenwald to pressure him into abandoning his public support of Wikileaks.

Bank of America had hired the law firm Hunton & Williams - among the most well-connected law firms in the nation's capital - to coordinate the bank's war against Wikileaks at the recommendation of the DOJ.

Glenn Greenwald explained the serious implications of this network of government and corporate players in the private espionage business in a February 2011 article for Salon.com:

"What is set forth in these proposals for Bank of America quite possibly constitutes serious crimes. Manufacturing and submitting fake documents with the intent they be published likely constitutes forgery and fraud. Threatening the careers of journalists and activists in order to force them to be silent is possibly extortion and, depending on the specific means to be used, constitutes other crimes as well. Attacking WikiLeaks' computer infrastructure in an attempt to compromise their sources undoubtedly violates numerous cyber laws.

Yet these firms had no compunction about proposing such measures to Bank of America and Hunton & Williams, and even writing them down. What accounts for that brazen disregard of risk? In this world, law does not exist as a constraint. It's impossible to imagine the DOJ ever, ever prosecuting a huge entity like Bank of America for doing something like waging war against WikiLeaks and its supporters. These massive corporations and the firms that serve them have no fear of law or government because they control each."

As Greenwald notes, a clear example of the extent to which the DOJ serves corporate interests rather than the interests of justice and the American public is the department's very different reactions to the cyber attacks on corporations versus an attack on Wikileaks:

"After Anonymous imposed some very minimal cyber disruptions on Paypal, Master Card and Amazon, the DOJ flamboyantly vowed to arrest the culprits, and several individuals were just arrested as part of those attacks. But weeks earlier, a far more damaging and serious cyber-attack was launched at WikiLeaks, knocking them offline. Those attacks were sophisticated and dangerous. Whoever did that was quite likely part of either a government agency or a large private entity acting at its behest. Yet the DOJ has never announced any investigation into those attacks or vowed to apprehend the culprits, and it's impossible to imagine that ever happening.

Why? Because crimes carried out that serve the Government's agenda and target its opponents are permitted and even encouraged; cyber-attacks are "crimes" only when undertaken by those whom the Government dislikes, but are perfectly permissible when the Government itself or those with a sympathetic agenda unleash them."

A November 2013 news report from Democracy Now! also asserted that private intelligence-security contractor firms are pretty much free to perpetrate crimes on behalf of their corporate clients without fear of legal punishment. A report by Gary Ruskin, director of the Center for Corporate Policy, a project of Essential Information, was the main subject of the segment.

" …these corporations employ former CIA, National Security Agency and FBI agents to engage in private surveillance work, which is often illegal in nature but rarely - if ever - prosecuted."

- Journalist Amy Goodman

The report explained that major U.S. corporations use spies to conduct surveillance (sometimes illegally) of non-profit organizations engaged in advocacy for causes such as anti-war policy, consumer rights, environmentalism, animal rights, and arms control.

Corporations engaging in this kind of espionage reportedly include Wal-Mart, Monsanto, Bank of America, Dow Chemical, Kraft, Coca-Cola, Chevron, Burger King, McDonald's, Shell, BP, and others - as well as the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

America's Post-Constitutional Law Enforcement Paradigm

constitution on fire

A confluence of developments over the past couple of decades has led to a more militarized and secretive form of law enforcement in America. A counterintelligence subversion strategy of organized stalking is among the most extreme manifestations of the new paradigm.

The government's natural tendency to expand its size and power has been accelerated by the politics, profits, and career opportunities associated with the "War on Drugs" and the "War on Terrorism." At the same time, advances in technology have made possible highly invasive surveillance tools which create a constant temptation for abuse by people in the intelligence, law enforcement, and security industries.

Another development has been an erosion of traditional jurisdictional boundaries in law enforcement. By design, numerous federal and local law enforcement and intelligence agencies now work more closely with each other, and with the private contractors who provide much of the infrastructure, such as defense industry firms and private security firms.

U.S. law enforcement agencies rely heavily upon criminal informants - despite the obvious conflicts of interest that involves. Budgets and audits cited in the New York Times for example, showed that the FBI was using more than 15,000 secret informants in 2008, and the DEA (Drug Enforcement Adminstration) had about 4,000 criminal informants on its payroll in 2005.

By my own observations, and by anecdotal reports of others, gang stalking apparently makes extensive use of criminal informants. But those snitches are not being used by the FBI just to spy and inform; they are perpetrating acts of criminal harassment for the purposes of counterintelligence subversion.

Rather than working to ensure the protection of Americans' rights in this new Big Brother surveillance environment, the U.S. Department of Justice has done everything possible to enable the executive branch to increase its secrecy and power at the expense of Americans' civil liberties.

A variety of Orwellian legal weapons have emerged - always based on claims of national security. "Suspicious Activity Reports" are now filed by "Terrorism Liaison Officers" and sent to a network of regional "Data Fusion Centers" and reviewed by agents at the "Homeland Security Department."

Old-fashioned concepts in the Bill of Rights - like obtaining search warrants from judges - have been tossed aside. Now the FBI can just issue a "National Security Letter." Instead of launching an investigation based on probable cause, the FBI can now just target an individual for surveillance and investigation by calling it an "assessment."

Concerning other elements of the now-massive U.S. spy network, the public can only speculate. For example, no one has yet said publicly what is being done by the numerous "surveillance role players" (discussed elsewhere in this website) with secret clearances and counterintelligence training who are employed by intelligence-security contractors.

If anyone challenges the Constitutional legitimacy of any of these suspicious policies (or if members of the government question other secret policies whose existence is unknown to the public), the matter is referred to the U.S. government's "Star Chamber" - the secret FISA Court, which in nearly all cases simply rubber-stamps the policy to maintain the façade of legitimacy.

"Suspicious Activity Reports" and "Data Fusion Centers"

Minority Report

In the science fiction film Minority Report (2002) a special police unit arrests murderers before they commit their crimes

In theory, America's justice system is based on ideals such as protecting rights and punishing people who have been convicted in fair trials. Sometimes those principles are operative. Often however, the U.S. justice system is driven by political agendas, careerism, greed, laziness, prejudice, bureaucracy, technological opportunism, corporate interests, the arrogance of people in power and - as in the case of organized stalking - criminal behavior by the very people associated with the system.

In some quarters, the notion that criminal suspects should be given a trial is seen as quaint. One example of this new attitude is "predictive policing" - also called "proactive policing" - in which law enforcement agencies aggressively gather and analyze data to try to anticipate threats before they emerge.

Among the manifestations of that law enforcement philosophy is the "Suspicious Activity Reporting" (SAR) system and data "Fusion Centers."

Apologists for this form of policing characterize the strategy as just a modernized approach to the assessment of information and allocation of resources, but there is also a creepy Orwellian aspect to it, and it seems very unlikely that it does not play some role in the subversion by overt stalking of those secretly declared as “suspicious.”

Suspicious Activity Reports (SARs) are initiated from a variety of sources: law enforcement agencies, private sector partnerships (such as InfraGard and DSAC), and tips from citizens (the “If you see something, say something” program).

SARs - and other intelligence - are managed by a network of 78 data fusion centers across the nation, where the information is shared by local and federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies.

Among the disturbing and un-American aspects of SARs is that they can be used to initiate investigations - as a way around the old-fashioned Constitutional requirement of reasonable suspicion or probable cause.

The May 2015 issue of Harper’s Magazine featured an article, “Beyond the Broken Window,” about spying on Americans by the Los Angeles Police Department. The article explores modern Orwellian police state programs, including Suspicious Activity Reports:

Under [Police Chief] Bratton’s watch, Los Angeles became the first city to implement the Nationwide Suspicious Activity Reporting Initiative, a federal-local partnership program led by Homeland Security and the FBI. Suspicious Activity Reports, or SARs, have since been adopted by cities across the country and are now the primary means for documenting citizen behavior that might be construed as “preoperational planning related to terrorism or other criminal activity.” This vague standard means that behavior that is both protected by the First Amendment and entirely benign can be labeled as suspicious.

Lack of Oversight and Accountability for Fusion Centers

This Big Brother system of Fusion Centers and Suspicious Activity Reports takes place in a shadowy structure which has been the subject of much criticism by civil rights advocates. In its description of the multi-agency bureaucracy responsible for oversight of the system, the Electronic Frontier Foundation (EFF) had this to say:

"If this all sounds confusing, that's because it is: the entire intelligence community is a plethora of duplicative agencies with overlapping areas of responsibility."

Anyone familiar with the ethics and tactics historically associated with the U.S. intelligence business knows that deception of the public, undetected criminality, and creative abuses of power are often merely viewed as examples of professional competence. In that context, it is reasonable to suspect that a policy framework which inherently dodges accountability did not arise by accident. The folks at EFF hint at this also:

"Because they are collaborative, legal authority over fusion centers is blurred, perhaps purposefully."

Contempt for the opinions and rights of American citizens is pervasive in the law enforcement and intelligence community. Arguably the tone is set by the Department of Justice, but other agencies - federal, state, and local - are just as bad. The Department of Homeland Security, for example, resists efforts by Congress to conduct oversight of the data fusion centers. Senator Tom Coburn (R-Oklahoma) had this to say about issue:

"DHS has resisted oversight of these centers. The Department opted not to inform Congress or the public of serious problems plaguing its fusion center and broader intelligence efforts. When this Subcommittee requested documents that would help it identify these issues, the Department initially resisted turning them over, arguing that they were protected by privilege, too sensitive to share, were protected by confidentiality agreements, or did not exist at all. The American people deserve better."

Compromising Freedoms for Zero Benefits

While many people would consider the system of Suspicious Activity Reporting and Data Fusion Centers to be a creepy Orwellian program, some might still defend it on the grounds that it is identifying terrorist threats - except that it isn't.

This October 2012 Senate report found that the system was not yielding any information about terrorism (page 2):

"Despite reviewing 13 months' worth of reporting originating from fusion centers from April 1, 2009 to April 30, 2010, the Subcommittee investigation could identify no reporting which uncovered a terrorist threat, nor could it identify a contribution such fusion center reporting made to disrupt an active terrorist plot."

A Quick History of the U.S. Intelligence & Law Enforcement Community

Although it is officially part of the executive branch of the federal government, America's supremely powerful and secretive intelligence community has been described - without exaggeration - as the "fourth branch" of government. It's the branch that is not mentioned anywhere in the U.S. Constitution, and it's the branch that has the least respect for the rules established in that document.

Arguably, its genesis occurred in 1908 when the DOJ created the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). In essence, the executive branch of the U.S. government decided to expand its own powers, despite well-founded concerns expressed by members of Congress, such as this statement by New York Congressman George Waldo:

“The only question here before the House is whether we believe in a central secret-service bureau, such as there is in Russia today ….I believe that it would be a great blow to freedom and to free institutions if there should arise in this country any such …bureau …”

Tony G. Poveda, in The FBI: A Comprehensive Reference Guide (1999), described the fears which Congress members had when the FBI was first proposed (page 168):

“Members of Congress expressed concern that a Justice Department investigative force might become a secret political police that could be used to spy on citizens, including members of Congress, and that it could ultimately subvert the democratic principles of government.”

Despite such opposition, one month after Congress adjourned, the DOJ created its own permanent detective force, which in 1935 was given the name Federal Bureau of Investigation. Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist Chris Hedges described the essential nature of the agency (at 19:56) in this speech titled “Wages of Rebellion:”

“Let’s not forget why the FBI was formed. The FBI was basically a goon squad that was formed to break radical movements.”

The next major development in the growth of the now-massive U.S. intelligence community occurred in 1947, when the National Security Act established the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). Five years later, the National Security Agency (NSA) was formed. Primary security concerns at that time, of course, revolved around the Cold War with the Soviet Union.

A decade or so later, a similar expansion of the law enforcement intelligence community began. In 1956, two things happened which are related to America’s current “gang stalking” (i.e., counterintelligence stalking) phenomenon.

One of those developments was that police department intelligence units - “red squads” - formed a national association called LEIU (the Association of Law Enforcement Intelligence Units). The other development that year was that the FBI began its secret counter-intelligence program (COINTELPRO). Counterintelligence crimes perpetrated against Americans by red squads and the FBI over the next 15 years or so primarily targeted supporters of communism, supporters of the civil rights movement, and critics of the Vietnam War.

In theory, COINTELPRO ended in the 1970s after it was exposed by activists and investigated by Congress. Many critics of the FBI allege that the unconstitutional practices of the agency never ceased - or were only briefly suspended.

Just a few years earlier, the first signs of the militarization of local police departments also began. In the 1960s, the first police SWAT (Special Weapons and Tactics) teams emerged. A parallel development was the expansion of the size and power of the executive branch of the federal government. These two trends became closely connected in 1971 when President Nixon declared the beginning of the perpetual “War on Drugs.”

Although the corrupting influence on police departments and the erosion of Americans’ civil rights associated with the drug war have relevance to modern Cointelpro stalking, the subject is generally beyond the scope of this website. Suffice to say, the constant examples of extreme abuses of power by America’s law enforcement industry associated with the drug war tend to lend support to claims that other civil rights abuses could be taking place without objection from the Justice Department. Currently, America is a country in which possession of two dollars’ worth of marijuana can result in police officers shooting you to death inside your own home.

Although the drug war rages on, the Cold War, of course, has ended. Fortunately for those who are happy about America’s trajectory toward a quasi-police state government, the

September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks launched a new war to justify unlimited power and money and secrecy for the intelligence and law enforcement industry - the perpetual global "war on terrorism."

The Counter-Terrorism Charade

In reality, the threat from terrorism is wildly exaggerated by those whose careers benefit from scaring the public about the issue. This New York Times column notes that we should be twice as concerned about bee and wasp stings.

"More Americans die of falling televisions and other appliances than from terrorism. Twice as many Americans die of bee or wasp stings annually. And 15 times as many die by falling off ladders."

For agencies such as the DOJ and the FBI however, the war on terrorism has been an opportunity for a massive power grab at the expense of Americans' freedoms - and an opportunity for big profits for defense/security contractors. To rationalize the extraordinary secrecy and power wielded by the FBI, the agency needs to create the illusion that it is protecting Americans from constant peril.

Toward that end, the FBI has essentially been creating its own terrorists to compensate for the shortage of actual terrorists. That the agency concocts and funds fake terrorism plots to entrap hapless stooges in sting operations has become an open secret, as documented, among other places, in a widely-reported July 2014 report by Human Rights Watch.

For its part, the Justice Department is happy to play along with this charade. This is the point for anyone concerned about allegations of ongoing counterintelligence stalking operations: the DOJ is one of the U.S. intelligence agencies, and as such, it is not about to make trouble for any of the other intelligence agencies, such as the FBI.

Another example of this is the DOJ's relationship with the CIA. When that agency apparently tortured people in the process of its interrogations, and destroyed evidence of the torture, and then lied to Congress about what happened, the DOJ closed its inquiry into the matter in 2012 without bringing any charges. Then, while the U.S. Senate Intelligence Committee was investigating the torture, the CIA apparently spied on the senate committee. In July 2014, the DOJ announced that it would not be conducting a criminal investigation of that spying either.

State Databases

To supplement their access to federal systems for monitoring citizens - such as the data fusion centers - states also create their own watch-lists and databases. Since agencies at the federal level set the tone for state and local elements of the police state, some of these state level programs are also of an Orwellian nature.

Louisiana's system for monitoring its residents is a case in point. In April 2014 it was reported that the state was building a database which will contain a "Comprehensive Person Profile" on each resident.

In this 3-minute video clip, you can watch a state legislator explain the virtues of this program - which include predicting who is likely to become "a risk to the state" so that the state can preemptively "intervene in that person's life."

Note a couple of aspects of this program which are typical of the surveillance trend. One is that the system was originally designed to detect fraud, but now through a sort of "mission creep" phenomenon, it is being expanded to track data for a range of purposes.

The other common factor is that a corporate parasite is cashing in. Technology for the database was developed by the software company SAS, which profits from the destruction of Americans' privacy.

Future Attribute Screening Technology (FAST)

FAST System

A blurred image of the FAST system displayed on a computer monitor

Some defenders of "predictive policing" have claimed that civil rights concerns about the philosophy are unwarranted because it mostly involves directing resources to areas with higher statistical probability of crimes - rather than attempting to predict behavior of particular individuals.

The development and implementation of technologies such as Future Attribute Screening Technology (FAST) tends to undermine such assurances.

FAST is a program created by the Homeland Security department for the purpose of detecting malicious intent by screening individuals through electronic monitoring of such things as pulse rate, skin temperature, breathing, and facial expression.

I am not suggesting that FAST has a connection to organized stalking - or even that such systems would necessarily be inappropriate in certain high-security facilities. I merely cite it as an example of the general direction of law enforcement and the fact that opportunities to use such surveillance technologies will be aggressively exploited - especially given the profit motive for contractors to lobby the U.S. government to purchase such systems.

FBI's Face Recognition Database

In April 2014 the Electronic Frontier Foundation (EFF) reported that information they obtained via a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request showed that the FBI expects to have 52 million photographs in its face recognition database by 2015.

The Next Generation Identification (NGI) database will incorporate the FBI's existing fingerprint database - which contains over a 100 million records - and other forms of biometric data such as iris scans and facial dimensions. This database will be shared with other federal, state, and local agencies, and will be capable of performing tens of thousands of searches per day.

EFF points out that this database will include both criminals and non-criminals - for example, people whose employers require them to have a "mug shot" photo taken as a condition of employment. In theory, this could mean that innocent people might sometimes be investigated if their photo has facial characteristics similar to those of a criminal suspect.

This June 2015 article about facial recognition technology by The Intercept explains that Americans' privacy is threatened not just by careerist authoritarians in the government, but also by greedy lobbyists for technology firms.

The DOJ's views on the government's right to track you via GPS

GPS IIF

Most Americans who only casually follow civil rights issues probably assume that the U.S. Department of Justice exists to promote justice - after all, it's right there in its name and everything.

The DOJ does some of that, but it takes more seriously its role as a protector of the interests of those in power. Part of that role is slapping-down annoying attempts by the American public to find out what its officials are doing.

For example, if you want to challenge the U.S. government's use of GPS tracking to monitor your location, the DOJ will apparently be fighting you on the basis of arguments outlined in some DOJ memos. As an American, you might be curious about what is in those memos. Too bad. The DOJ decided that those memos are a secret, and in March 2014 a federal court agreed to let the DOJ keep it that way.

The DOJ's views on the government's right to detain you forever

Prison

In April 2014, the DOJ successfully persuaded the U.S. Supreme Court to dismiss a lawsuit - Hedges v. Obama - challenging the constitutionality of a provision in the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA). The section that was at issue - 1021(b)(2) - essentially authorizes the federal government to indefinitely detain someone if that person is suspected of having supported hostilities against the U.S. or its allies.

Because the U.S. "war on terror" is indefinite, so is the potential period of detention for anyone - including a U.S. citizen - who is detained under the law. Such a person can now be legally deprived of the right to an attorney and the right to a trial for as long as the "war on terror" lasts.

In May 2012 a U.S. District Court judge ruled that this was not kosher, but the DOJ challenged the ruling and it was overturned by an appellate court. When the case was then taken to the U.S. Supreme Court, the DOJ asked that the case be dismissed. The court obliged.

Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist Chris Hedges - the lead plaintiff in the case - published a column denouncing the Supreme Court's refusal to hear the case. He cited the response by Carl Mayer, one of the plaintiffs' attorneys in the case:

" …the Supreme Court has turned its back on precedent dating back to the Civil War era that holds that the military cannot police the streets of America"

That the U.S. military now has jurisdiction over civilians is no small concern. As a practical matter, the executive branch has few limits anymore on what it can do simply by invoking the magical phrase "national security."

As always, Hedges did an excellent job of providing the larger political context of such developments:

" ….if we do not rapidly build militant mass movements to overthrow corporate tyranny, including breaking the back of the two-party duopoly that is the mask of corporate power, we will lose our liberty."

" ….The fusion of corporate and state power means that government is broken. It is little more than a protection racket for Wall Street. And it is our job to wrest government back. This will come only through the building of mass movements."

The DOJ's views on the government's right to assassinate you

Drone Strike

In September 2011 an American citizen - Anwar al-Awlaki - was assassinated by a U.S. drone strike. Although dozens of Americans are executed each year, traditionally they are given trials first, and are only killed after having been convicted.

Many people questioned the legality of the assassination and inquired about the legal reasoning of the U.S. Department of Justice. However, the DOJ declined to share its secret legal justification for the policy of targeted killings. The DOJ's position, in essence, was that the federal government not only has the legal right to kill American citizens without first giving them a trial, it also does not have to explain to the public why it believes such legal authority exists.

In April 2014, a federal appellate court ruled that the DOJ must release its classified memo on the policy. A redacted version of the 2010 memo was released in June 2014.

Fake Secret Laws Created by Federal Agencies

In a previous section of this webpage - regarding the selection of targeted individuals - I mentioned the ordeal of Rahinah Ibrahim, a woman whose name had been placed on the federal no-fly list by mistake. Ms. Ibrahim had to spend 9 years battling to have her name removed from that watch-list before a federal judge finally ruled in her favor in February 2014. During that process, Ibrahim had to litigate without knowing the information in the U.S. government's case against her.

In his excellent analysis of that case, Peter Van Buren, a former U.S. State Department Foreign Service Officer, explained how "the DOJ employed an arsenal of dodges and post-9/11 tricks to impede her lawsuit."

One of the DOJ's legal weapons used against Ms. Ibrahim was invoking the "state secrets doctrine." As Van Buren explains, that is not a U.S. law created by Congress:

….it is instead a kind of assumed privilege and the courts accept it as such. Based on it, the president can refuse to produce evidence in a court case on the grounds that its public disclosure might harm national security. The government has, in the past,successfully employed this “privilege” to withhold information and dead-end legal challenges. Once “state secrets” is in play, there is literally nothing left to talk about in court.

Another similar weapon used by the DOJ against Ibrahim and others involves the use of secret classifications which have been created by federal agencies - rather than by Congress:

A related DOJ dodge was also brought to bear in an attempt to derail Ibrahim’s case: the use of made-up classification categories that dispatch even routine information into the black world of national security. Much of the information concerning her placement on the no-fly list, for instance, was labeled Security Sensitive Information (SSI) and so was unavailable to her. SSI is among hundreds of post-9/11 security categories created via memo by various federal agencies. These categories, too, have no true legal basis. Congress never passed a law establishing anything called SSI, nor is there any law prohibiting the disclosure of SSI information.

The DOJ’s Index of Crimes

As mentioned in the introduction to this overview, claims about the widespread existence of gang stalking are supported by the DOJ’s own crime survey statistics which showed that in 2006 an estimated 445,220 individuals reported being stalked by three or more perpetrators. (Page 12 of the report has the relevant numbers: 13.1 percent of 3,398,630 victims reported such group stalking.)

DOJ Stalking Survey 2006

Claims about gang stalking are also supported by the fact that the National Center for Victims of Crime - which is funded by the DOJ - apparently receives “thousands of calls per month” about such crimes. Yet organized stalking is conspicuously absent from the DOJ’s Index of Crimes.

As previously mentioned, Robert L. Snow, a retired police captain from the Indianapolis P.D., wrote a book called Stopping a Stalker, in which he devoted a chapter to the subject of organized stalking by multiple perpetrators associated with causes (“cause stalking”) - such as stalking by extreme anti-abortion activists.

However, the entire subject of organized stalking (or “group stalking,” “vigilante stalking,” etc.) does not appear in the DOJ’s website - even though the site includes a comprehensive index of types of crimes and legal issues, including some that are relatively obscure.

The DOJ’s “Weed and Seed” Program

The most interesting section of the DOJ website’s crime index - in relation to the government’s apparent acquiescence in gang stalking - is a reference to a program called “Weed and Seed.” The program name was still in the index the last time I checked, but the information for that section - which was part of something called the “Community Capacity Development Office” (CCDO) no longer existed. Elsewhere in the website was a statement explaining that the CCDO was closed due to lack of funding:

“As of June 5, 2011, the Community Capacity Development Office (CCDO) closed due to a lack of federal funding for the office. For Fiscal Year 2012 Weed and Seed grants, the Bureau of Justice Assistance will manage these grants until the end of the grant award period.”

I copied the Weed and Seed program’s description (shown below) while it was still on the DOJ's website in February 2012. It describes a community policing strategy. If you read it without the context of first-hand experience or an awareness of the historical background, it might seem innocuous. If you are familiar with the FBI's Cointelpro operations (past and present), and the Stasi's system of targeting individuals to be "weeded out" of society, it takes on a much darker character.

Operation Weed and Seed

A strategy within the U.S. Department of Justice's Office of Justice Programs that incorporates community-based initiatives. It is an innovative and comprehensive multi-agency approach to law enforcement, crime prevention, and community revitalization.

The Weed and Seed Strategy

Operation Weed and Seed is foremost a strategy-rather than a grant program- which aims to prevent, control, and reduce violent crime, drug abuse, and gang activity in targeted high-crime neighborhoods across the country. Weed and Seed sites range in size from several neighborhood blocks to 15 square miles.

The strategy involves a two-pronged approach: law enforcement agencies and prosecutors cooperate in "weeding out" criminals who participate in violent crime and drug abuse, attempting to prevent their return to the targeted area; and "seeding" brings human services to the area, encompassing prevention, intervention, treatment, and neighborhood revitalization.

A community-orientated policing component bridges weeding and seeding strategies. Officers obtain helpful information from area residents for weeding efforts while they aid residents in obtaining information about community revitalization and seeding resources.

Note that this law enforcement model can be exploited not just by government agencies, but also by private groups and individuals for their own agendas. I would suggest that is exactly what is happening. Private organizations and individuals who have the relevant skill sets, connections to law enforcement and intelligence agencies, and assets to hire private investigators, can either create illicit “neighborhood watch” programs to monitor and harass their targets, or they can exploit existing programs by feeding information (whether true or false) about their targets to law enforcement personnel to have the victims become subjects of investigation and surveillance.

The “Weed and Seed” program is the most explicit official statement of the institutional philosophy behind gang stalking - namely, that the victims are deserving of persecution because they are potential criminals, socially marginal dissidents, drug-users, whistle-blowers, trouble-makers, etc. Essentially, the targeted individuals are the “weeds” that need to be removed (or at least isolated and suppressed).

Blue Line

14. Disinformation truth

“All governments are run by liars.”
- I.F. Stone

The role of disinformation in counterintelligence stalking

According to the U.S. Office of the National Counterintelligence Executive, disinformation is defined as follows:

Carefully contrived misinformation prepared by an intelligence or CI service for the purpose of misleading, deluding, disrupting, or undermining confidence in individuals, organizations, or governments.

In a national program of counterintelligence subversion such as America's version of the communist Stasi network, some public exposure is inevitable. Disinformation is used to mitigate the effects of that exposure.

Often the effectiveness of disinformation derives from the fact that most people - unlike, say, con artists, intelligence agents, and detectives - don't usually even consider that the information they're encountering might be a batch of deliberate lies. Partly because of most Americans' ignorance of history and politics, lying to them about security issues is about as challenging as performing a magic trick for a toddler.

Operation Mockingbird

Sadly, most Americans are unaware of the history of disinformation campaigns by the U.S. government. One of the most well-documented programs in which the U.S. intelligence community systematically lied to the American public occurred in the 1950s. Here is a portion of a Wikipedia entry about it. The facts of the program are not in dispute.

Operation Mockingbird was a secret Central Intelligence Agency campaign to influence media beginning in the 1950s. Organized by Cord Meyer and Allen W. Dulles in the 1950s, it was later led by Frank Wisner after Dulles became head of CIA. The organization recruited leading American journalists into a network to help present the CIA's views, and funded some student and cultural organizations, and magazines as fronts. As it developed, it also worked to influence foreign media and political campaigns, in addition to activities by other operating units of the CIA.

By the early 1950s, Wisner 'owned' respected members of The

New York Times, Newsweek, CBS and other communications vehicles.

The usual methodology was placing reports developed from intelligence provided by the CIA to witting or unwitting reporters. Those reports would then be repeated or cited by the preceding reporters which in turn would then be cited throughout the media wire services. These networks were run by people with well-known liberal but pro-American big business and anti-Soviet views such as William Paley (CBS), Henry Luce (Time and Life Magazine), Arthur Hays Sulzberger (New York Times), Alfred Friendly (managing editor of the Washington Post), Jerry O'Leary(Washington Star), Hal Hendrix (Miami News), Barry Bingham, Sr. (Louisville Courier-Journal), James Copley (Copley News Services) and Joseph Harrison (Christian Science Monitor).

The Office of Policy Coordination (OPC) was funded by siphoning of funds intended for the Marshall Plan. Some of this money was used to bribe journalists and publishers.

According to Alex Constantine (Mockingbird: The Subversion Of The Free Press By The CIA), in the 1950s, "some 3,000 salaried and contract CIA employees were eventually engaged in propaganda efforts". Wisner was able to constrain newspapers from reporting about certain events, including the CIA plots to overthrow the governments of Iran.

Carl Bernstein's reporting on Operation Mockingbird

For additional information about Operation Mockingbird, you should read this excellent article on the subject by Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist, Carl Bernstein.

Here is an excerpt from that article about how the New York Times essentially served as a propaganda tool for the CIA:

The Agency's relationship with the Times was by far its most valuable among newspapers, according to CIA officials. From 1950 to 1966, about ten CIA employees were provided Times cover under arrangements approved by the newspaper's late publisher, Arthur Hays Sulzberger. The cover arrangements were part of a general Times policy-set by Sulzberger-to provide assistance to the CIA whenever possible.

Sulzberger was especially close to Allen Dulles. "At that level of contact it was the mighty talking to the mighty," said a high-level CIA official who was present at some of the discussions. "There was an agreement in principle that, yes indeed, we would help each other. The question of cover came up on several occasions. It was agreed that the actual arrangements would be handled by subordinates …. The mighty didn't want to know the specifics; they wanted plausible deniability.

News Media Whores in the Operation Mockingbird Era

Probably few readers of this website need to have their cynicism about the corporate news media - past and present - reinforced, but this document is worth a look anyway.

One of the most prominent reporters on American politics in the 1960s was Theodore H. White, a Pulitzer prize-winning journalist whose book The Making of the President sold four million copies. Scott Porch at Politico profiled him in April 2015, and Jon Schwarz at The Intercept posted this summary of the essential point. In his published writings, White lavished praise upon members of the political class and the press. Privately, however, he admitted that they were all liars. Here is one of the excerpts from a previously-unreleased letter White sent to a close friend in 1960:

" …it is all fraudulent, all of it, everywhere, up and down, East and West. The movies, radio and state and books and TV - all of them are fraudulent; and the foundations and universities and scholars, they are all fraudulent too; and the executives and the financiers … and the Commissars and the Krushchevs and the Mao Tze-tungs, they are fraudulent equally; it is all a great game; and there are two dangers in this great game: first, the fraudulent people come to believe their own lies, they come to have faith in their fraud; and second, underneath it all, because people are fundamentally good, they come to realize that we live in lies and the people get angrier and angrier and they may explode."

One of the reasons that the U.S. surveillance state - the FBI, NSA, CIA, DHS, and their army of private contractors and useful-idiot minions - keeps a close eye on Americans is to keep a lid on such anger.

Today's News Media Whores

Operation Mockingbird was an example of systematic disinformation.
An equally serious threat to the American public is the informal disinformation that comes from biased news reporting. Distortion and deception occur routinely in the mainstream press on intelligence issues because of ideological bias and careerist motivations.

Defending the political establishment when it is lying about intelligence matters serves the political agenda of right-wing reporters, and it creates opportunities for such reporters to get access to senior officials for interviews. One example of someone who carries water for the government - rather than serving as a professionally skeptical journalist - is National Public Radio (NPR) reporter Dina Temple-Raston.

An August 2014 article by Glenn Greenwald helpfully deconstructed a piece of dishonest reporting by Temple-Raston about NSA whistle-blower Edward Snowden. In the wake of Snowden's revelations that the NSA was spying on Americans in violation of the Fourth Amendment, various apologists for the U.S. intelligence community asserted that the revelations had damaged U.S. national security. It was claimed that surveillance methods were revealed in a way that enabled terrorists to more effectively conduct their business undetected.

The claim was rubbish, but to the extent that people believed it, it served the political interests of those who support Big Brother-type domestic spying on Americans by their government. With the apparent goal of giving the claim plausibility, NPR broadcast a report on August 1, 2014 that a data firm called Recorded Future had produced "tangible evidence" which proved the government's accusations.

While the report itself was not convincing - for reasons outlined in Greenwald's article, NPR also failed to disclose that Recorded Future receives significant funding from the CIA. Instead, the corporation was portrayed as an independent source. That kind of lying is common, and it creates an environment in which intelligence agencies can get away with serious abuses of power.

To fully appreciate the feud between real journalists like Greenwald and government propagandists like Temple-Raston, you should watch the first 7 minutes of this video clip, in which those two reporters debate whether it is appropriate for the U.S. government to execute Americans without due process:

Current U.S. Government Policies on Lying

Pinocchio

The values associated with Operation Mockingbird are alive and well in America's federal government today - with its penchant for secrecy and for spying on Americans - and its casual attitude about the Constitution and honesty.

An article by journalist Glenn Greenwald in January 2010 in Salon.com called attention to the shockingly Orwellian view of news and propaganda in both the George W. Bush and Barack Obama administrations. In particular, Greenwald focused on a member of the Obama administration.

Cass Sunstein - a close confidant of President Obama - who served as Administrator of the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs from September 2009 to 2012 - has an interesting view on lying by the federal government: he favors it.

"In 2008, while at Harvard Law School, Sunstein co-wrote a truly pernicious paper proposing that the U.S. Government employ teams of covert agents and pseudo-"independent" advocates to "cognitively infiltrate" online groups and websites - as well as other activist groups - which advocate views that Sunstein deems "false conspiracy theories" about the Government. This would be designed to increase citizens' faith in government officials and undermine the credibility of conspiracists.

….Sunstein advocates that the Government's stealth infiltration should be accomplished by sending covert agents into "chat rooms, online social networks, or even real-space groups." He also proposes that the Government make secret payments to so-called "independent" credible voices to bolster the Government's messaging (on the ground that those who don't believe government sources will be more inclined to listen to those who appear independent while secretly acting on behalf of the Government). This program would target those advocating false "conspiracy theories," which they define to mean: "an attempt to explain an event or practice by reference to the machinations of powerful people, who have also managed to conceal their role."

Glenn Greenwald's article about Cass Sunstein
Cass Sunstein's Harvard Law School paper

Cass Sunstein

Samantha Power, President Barack Obama, and Cass Sunstein in a New York Times photo - May 2010. Samantha Power, a member of Obama's National Security Council, is Sunstein's wife.

Conspiracy Theories

Not surprisingly, Sunstein seems to be uncomfortable when confronted with his record of explicitly condoning government deception. He has not, however, disavowed his views. In fact, he has written articles purporting to reveal what he sees as a threat posed by "paranoid" conspiracy theories.

As far as I know, Sunstein has never discussed whether it might contribute to the public's "paranoid" distrust of government officials to have the head of the Office of Information write a paper advocating that the government should sometimes lie to the citizens.

That someone with Sunstein's high profile would have no reservations about (a) publicly advocating systematic lying to the public by the U.S. government, and (b) ridiculing people who do not blindly trust government officials, speaks volumes about the arrogance and moral corruption of America's political class.

One of the main counterintelligence disinformation strategies to keep organized stalking from being closely investigated by the mainstream press is to simply dismiss it as a "conspiracy theory." For many people, simply invoking that term will short-circuit any critical thinking about an allegation. They are encouraged in that view by mainstream media institutions which routinely embrace intellectual conformity masquerading as skepticism.

An April 1977 article in Reason by economist and historian Murray N. Rothbard offers a clear explanation of the political establishment's relentless dismissal of analyses which take into account the self-interests of those in power.

"It is no wonder that usually these realistic analyses are spelled out by various "extremists" who are outside the Establishment consensus. For it is vital to the continued rule of the State apparatus that it have legitimacy and even sanctity in the eyes of the public, and it is vital to that sanctity that our politicians and bureaucrats be deemed to be disembodied spirits solely devoted to the "public good." Once let the cat out of the bag that these spirits are all too often grounded in the solid earth of advancing a set of economic interests through use of the State, and the basic mystique of government begins to collapse."

Another person with well-informed insights on the issue of conspiracy theories is Russ Baker - an investigative journalist whose articles have been published in The New Yorker, Vanity Fair, the Nation, The New York Times, the Washington Post, The Village Voice, Esquire and other major publications.

In this article, Baker deconstructs a piece of rubbish featured in The New York Times which advocates, essentially, that you should always believe what the government says.

In contrast to the Times reporter's apparent view that virtually all conspiracies are fictional and attributable to psychological explanations, Baker makes this observation about the potential for conspiratorial government crimes in America:

"Her assumption is that, in a country perennially employing tens of thousands of top-secret covert operatives, homicide-trained assassins and “special forces” enthusiasts, no one has any reason to suspect that any event involving some kind of death or mayhem was ever engineered on an organized basis.”

Blatant Lying by Senior U.S. Intelligence Officials

When Cointelpro stalkers slander targeted individuals and tell other lies that enable them to perpetrate counterintelligence subversion against Americans, they are following the same ethical standards set by those at the very top of their industry. Again, the fish rots from the head down.

The long history of lying associated with the U.S. intelligence and law enforcement agencies is too extensive to chronicle here, but you can get a sense of the culture by considering just a few of the recent scandals.

In 2013 and 2014, three of the most senior intelligence officials were caught lying, and none of them suffered any consequences. An article in Reason in August 2014 reviewed some of the biggest lies.

CIA Director John Brennan denied that his agency was spying on the U.S. Senate while it was investigating the agency’s use of torture, and then the agency’s inspector general revealed that the spying did in fact happen. In response, President Barack Obama harshly criticized the CIA Director of course, saying “I have full confidence in John Brennan.”

Director of National Intelligence James Clapper not only lied, he did so under oath while testifying in a Senate hearing about the mass surveillance of Americans by the NSA. Subsequent revelations by the whistle-blower Edward Snowden showed that the mass surveillance which Clapper denied was happening was in fact taking place. Although Clapper was not prosecuted for committing perjury, he did have to read about the harsh criticism later expressed by President Obama in an interview on

CNN. Obama said that Clapper “should have been more careful about how he responded.”

NSA Director Keith Alexander lied about the mass surveillance of Americans by the NSA twice. He denied that the data was being collected, then after it was revealed, he claimed that the program had uncovered 54 terrorist plots. When challenged by Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman, Patrick Leahy, he admitted that the number was an exaggeration. Later the President’s Review Board reported that the actual number of terrorist threats revealed was zero. Naturally, Alexander was immediately fired. Just kidding - actually he kept his job until March 2014 and then retired to take a job in the financial industry which paid $600,000 per month.

“Parallel Construction”

To appreciate the extent of the moral corruption and casual attitude toward the U.S. Constitution - and toward honesty - within America’s law enforcement and intelligence community, it is important to note that the government’s enforcers do not merely lie on occasion; they lie as a matter of official policy.

A clear example of this was reported by Reuters in August 2013. A secretive unit within the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) called the Special Operations Division (SOD) gathers information - for example, through foreign and domestic wiretaps - and forwards that information to various agencies. The SOD also helps coordinate multi-agency investigations.

So far, so good (apart from the strategic idiocy and civil rights violations inherent in drug prohibition). However, documents obtained by Reuters showed that agents who receive those tips from the SOD are instructed to lie about the origins of their investigations by keeping the SOD’s involvement a secret from defense lawyers, prosecutors, and judges.

That policy - called “parallel construction” - involves “re-creating” the investigation record to make it appear that the initial step in the investigation was something other than a tip from the SOD.

For example, an agent might be told to stop and search a particular vehicle based on a tip. If that search results in an arrest, the agent will then lie - in accordance with official policy - and say that the search was the result of a routine traffic stop.

Presumably “parallel construction” exploits a moral version of a parallel universe - one in which lying is ethically sound. We can only speculate about the legal theory upon which the concept is based because, as Reuters reported: “ A spokesman with the Department of Justice, which oversees the DEA, declined to comment.”

Slandering Critics of Corporations

U.S. government agencies and corporations sometimes use intelligence-security contractors to do their dirty work, such as spying on and slandering critics. A prime example of this was reported in a June 18, 2013 article published in The Nation titled “The Strange Case of Barrett Brown.”

Intelligence contractors planned an operation to discredit a group critical of the Chamber of Commerce, and to discredit others, such as reporter Glenn Greenwald:

Its main objective was to discredit critics of the Chamber of Commerce, like Chamber Watch, using such tactics as creating a “false document, perhaps highlighting periodical financial information,” giving it to a progressive group opposing the Chamber, and then subsequently exposing the document as a fake to “prove that US Chamber Watch cannot be trusted with information and/or tell the truth.” In addition, the group proposed creating a “fake insider persona” to infiltrate Chamber Watch. They would “create two fake insider personas, using one as leverage to discredit the other while confirming the legitimacy of the second." The leaked e-mails showed that similar disinformation campaigns were being planned against WikiLeaks and Glenn Greenwald.

If operations such as that one were not proven by the documents obtained by hackers, many people would dismiss allegations of such activities as tin-foil hat conspiracy theories.

Another example (among many) happened in 2012. When a reporter and editor at USA Today investigated one of the Pentagon contractors being paid to spread propaganda, that contractor began a secret smear campaign against them.

"Fake Twitter and Facebook accounts were created in their names, along with a Wikipedia entry and dozens of message board postings and blog comments. Websites were registered in their names …"

A proxy service was used to hide the identity of the owner of the websites, and another website was registered to a non-existent address. Here is an article about it.

The four major disinformation tactics used by America's Stasi

Four main tactics are used by the U.S. intelligence-law enforcement industry to conceal its counterintelligence operations against U.S. citizens. Each tactic is a variation on the same general strategy - namely, to discredit organized stalking targets by casting doubts on their sanity and intelligence.

1) Government Front Groups

One tactic is to create faux support groups for gang stalking victims. Freedom From Covert Harassment and Surveillance (FFCHS) and Organized Stalking Informers (OSI), to which I dedicate a page of this website, are the main examples.

These groups serve two purposes. First, they exist so that victims will turn to them - rather than forming their own legitimate advocacy groups to lobby Congress and the media to investigate gang stalking.

Secondly, everything about the groups is designed to convey the impression that people claiming to be gang stalking victims should not be taken seriously. For example, the written materials associated with those two groups - such as their websites and petitions - appear very badly written and poorly edited. The websites and documents contain almost no specific information about the perpetrators of organized stalking, and very rarely refer to the published mainstream news reports about gang stalking and counterintelligence activities.

Another type of front group deception used in counterintelligence operations occurs when agents persuade a legitimate organization to let itself be used to stage activities which are actually orchestrated by a counterintelligence agency.

An example of that apparently occurred in 2013, when a U.K-based film company called Firecracker Films was apparently used as a front under the pretense that it was considering the production of a documentary about gang stalking.

Representatives of the company began to solicit the participation of targeted individuals of organized stalking in what was apparently a fake project by asking the individuals to consent to video chat interviews about their experiences - ostensibly for the purposes of gathering material for determining whether to go ahead with the production of the documentary.

In reality - presumably - the videos would be used to gather information about the victims' perceptions of being illegally stalked by the feds.

Online searches of Internet forums about organized stalking revealed that agents purporting to be representatives of Firecracker Films had used the same ploy previously. They had posted messages encouraging individuals to contact them. In both instances the “project” was quietly abandoned or postponed.

You can read more about my account of the incident - including the email I sent to everyone at Firecracker Films in my November 17, 2013 post on the Cointelpro News (2013) page of this website.

2) Disinformation Websites

A second tactic is the creation of numerous websites about gang stalking that are filled with badly-written stupid assertions and extraneous information. Again, the objective is to discredit all self-proclaimed organized stalking victims by making it appear that they are paranoid idiots.

On the “Recommended Websites” page of Fight Gang Stalking, I posted links to legitimate sites about organized stalking, and also links to some of the dozens of websites designed to spread disinformation.

Anyone who browses through some of the countless disinformation websites will begin to recognize common themes. For example, many of the sites emphasize mind-control - although they often do so without reference to MK Ultra - since (a) no one disputes the facts about that CIA program, and (b) the U.S. intelligence community would prefer to avoid contributing to the public’s awareness of it.

Images on gang stalking disinformation websites are generally chosen to suggest insanity - either subtly or obviously. Whenever you see an image such as this one, you have almost certainly stumbled upon a disinformation site:

Mind Control

Typical image from a disinformation website

Another common aspect of these websites reflects an interesting personality trait of people in the counterintelligence (CI) business. CI perps - calling them “agents” would be giving them too much credit - seem to fancy themselves as some kind of evil James Bond movie villains. The phenomenon is similar to the embrace of military hardware and tactics by police officers who imagine themselves to be special warfare unit soldiers.

Even lowly web page designers and sock puppets (discussed below) in the counterintelligence business seem to embrace the cultural flavor one sees on the insignia patches of military units. Cyber personas posting comments online adopt names like “Lucifer” or “Nemesis.” Images on their websites reflect what journalist Douglas Valentine calls the “Cult of Death.” CI perps seem to have the same personality type that Valentine attributes to CIA agents - namely, that of a cowardly sociopath:

“ …a sociopath without the guts to go it alone in the underworld. They gravitate to the CIA because they are protected there by the all-powerful Cult of Death.”

You can even see this on display at the aforementioned website of the U.S. Office of the National Counterintelligence Executive. Here, for example, is one of their official posters celebrating the value of thought policing:

CI Poster

Official U.S. Counterintelligence Poster

By the way, if you are really impressed by this kind of thing, you can download the poster-size version of the above image from the U.S. government here.

In the spirit of that obsession with x-rays and brain images, I offer the following:

CI Agent

U.S. Government Counterintelligence Employee

---

3) Cyber Personas (also called "Sock Puppets")

A third form of disinformation is the use of cyber personas to monitor and discredit legitimate websites and social media entities which discuss gang stalking.

The U.S. Office of the National Counterintelligence Executive defines a cyber persona as follows:

An identity used in cyberspace to obtain information or influence others, while dissociating the actor's true identity or affiliation.

Anyone who reads the comments posted online whenever the subject of gang stalking is raised, will note that reports of gang stalking almost invariably attract sarcastic - but ultimately unconvincing - statements by forum trolls, registering their skepticism.

One expects that sort of verbal warfare on Internet forums about politics, but you have to wonder why the relatively obscure topic of gang stalking attracts such a dedicated army of detractors. As Hamlet's mother observed, sometimes people "protest too much."

As this article posted on LiveLeak notes, a former CIA clandestine service trainee and DIA analyst revealed that the FBI and CIA use trolls to monitor social media and interact with users to discredit information disseminated on the web.

Lynnae Williams reports that she became a gang stalking target when she left the CIA. According to her blogs and Twitter messages, Ms. Williams has been stalked and intensely harassed by the FBI - to the point that she eventually felt compelled to leave the U.S.

This is her original blog: http://ciacorrupt.blogspot.com/

Most mainstream news media corporations dutifully avoid investigating and discussing the U.S. government's use of cyber personas to spread disinformation.

Fortunately, some news sources are not on the federal government's leash.

The Guardian newspaper - which published the famous revelations about NSA surveillance leaked by Edward Snowden - reported in July 2013 on the sneaky (and possibly illegal) proposals by a consortium of private intelligence contracting firms, such as Stratfor, to spread lies on the Internet on behalf of their corporate clients, using personas:

"[The intelligence firms were] involved in another scheme to deploy sophisticated software-based fake people across social networks in order to infiltrate and mislead."

As I write this, hacker-activist Jeremy Hammond is serving a ten year prison sentence for his role in exposing how this shadowy industry of professional liars and spies operates on behalf of large U.S. corporations.

Journalist Barrett Brown is in jail in Texas facing charges which could potentially lead to a life sentence for his role in exposing the information yielded by the hacked emails.

Brown founded a group called Project PM to sort through the numerous emails that had been revealed. Here is a fascinating web page by that group which summarizes the disinformation schemes organized by the intelligence-security contractors.

The proof: secret documents leaked by Edward Snowden

Articles by Glenn Greenwald published by NBC News and The Intercept in February 2014 revealed leaked documents from NSA whistle-blower Edward Snowden which show some of the online disinformation tactics being used by the intelligence agency GCHQ (the U.K.'s equivalent of the NSA).

One of the main tactics described in the secret documents is spreading false information online to destroy the reputations of targeted individuals and groups. Another main tactic was to use social science principles to manipulate online discussions and activism.

No one familiar with organized stalking in the U.S. is unaware that western intelligence agencies systematically spread lies on the Internet - in discussion forums, for example. Now there is proof.

Among the tactics revealed by the documents is the use of false flag operations (referred to as such in the documents) in which the spy agency posts material online and makes it appear that it was posted by a targeted individual or group. GCHQ also creates fake blog posts which purport to be those of victims of the people and groups being targeted.

Other tactics include leaking confidential information and emailing colleagues, neighbors and friends of the target.

Greenwald poses this question for citizens and policy-makers on this issue:

"Who would possibly trust a government to exercise these powers at all, let alone do so in secret, with virtually no oversight, and outside of any cognizable legal framework?"

Another fundamental point made by Greenwald - and this applies equally to organized stalking - is that these tactics are not about national security. These are weapons being used in many cases to destroy people who are suspected of crimes but have never been charged or convicted, and people who are engaged in political activism of which the government disapproves.

4) Faux Articles Planted in the News Media

Finally, the fourth disinformation tactic is to plant articles in the news media which create the impression that gang stalking exists only in the minds of delusional individuals.

The prime example of this - arguably a textbook case of the art of disinformation - is a lengthy New York Times article on gang stalking called “Sharing Their Demons on the Web” (November 13, 2008).

Because of its relevance to material in the “Gang Stalking Documents” section of this website, the following information also appears there. Please forgive the redundancy.

FBI whistle-blower Ted Gunderson (former head of the Los Angeles FBI office) was a key figure in exposing gang stalking, yet he goes unmentioned in the Times piece. That should be a giant red warning flag to any reader armed with that information who isn’t retarded.

Even if the “reporter” had determined that Gunderson’s claims arose from the fact that he simply became delusional for some reason after a long high-profile law enforcement career, you would think that finding would be worth mentioning. Not a word.

That lengthy article also failed to include any interviews with the licensed private investigators who have written on the subject of gang stalking, such as David Lawson and John B. Lopes.

Instead, the only “experts” interviewed for the article were four mental health professionals (psychiatrists and psychologists) who discussed mental illness and delusions. The one other person interviewed was someone who supposedly claimed to be a victim of gang stalking, Derrick Robinson, who is identified as a janitor in Cincinnati, and president of FFCHS - the aforementioned support group for gang stalking victims.

Most readers of the Times article would not be familiar with FFCHS, and would have no way of knowing - or even suspecting - that it's a disinformation front group - as I detail in the FFCHS section of this website.

Note that the mental health experts quoted were not asked about their knowledge of crimes (such as stalking) - let alone their views on the plausibility of the existence of a modern version of the FBI's Cointelpro. In fact, remarkably, the article makes no mention of Cointelpro whatsoever.

Also note that the one supposedly self-proclaimed gang stalking victim, Mr. Robinson, is a janitor - and he is the head of the victims support group. The intended takeaway is that the most capable member of the community of self-proclaimed victims of organized stalking - the one with the wherewithal to become head of their national organization - is a janitor.

The reader is left to infer that the rest of the self-proclaimed gang stalking victim community must really be losers if he's their brightest bulb. It simply would not have served the objective of the "reporter" to discuss gang stalking victims who were professionals, such as the aforementioned FBI special agent, Mr. Gunderson, or the attorney, Mr. Labella.

Just to be sure readers got the message though, a psychiatrist quoted in the article mentioned that "These people lead quietly desperate lives." (Read "losers.")

A final point about the article: none of the websites cited are legitimate, credible websites, such as those I have listed in the "Recommended Websites" section of this blog. If the Times readers had been directed to any of the sites which I recommend, they would have encountered discussions of gang stalking very much at odds with what they were reading in the Times. The websites mentioned in the article - such as Gang Stalking World (as distinguished from Gangstalkingworld.wordpress.com) are badly-edited and filled with extraneous garbage. Most likely, they are also examples of deliberate disinformation.

You can read the Times article at the link below if you want to see a textbook case of disinformation planted by the government in the mainstream news media - the sort of thing people like Noam Chomsky get marginalized for warning people about. (Incidentally, for more on the way government apologists in the media tend to dismiss people like Chomsky who deviate from political orthodoxies, see my March 23, 2013 entry in the “Police State Amerika News” section of this website.)

If, despite the historical background of Cointelpro, and despite all the other information provided in this website, you conclude that this article is simply an example of journalistic incompetence at the nation’s “Paper of Record,” then I have a bridge to sell you.

Incidentally, by a remarkable coincidence, an article that was virtually identical to the Times piece was published by ABC News one month later (although it makes no reference to the Times piece that preceded it). By remarkable coincidence, the “reporter” at ABC interviewed the same psychiatrist who was interviewed by the Times, Ken Duckworth. Also by remarkable coincidence, the “reporters” in both cases were third-tier shills no one has heard of - rather than, say, Pulitzer Prize-winning investigative journalists.

Also by coincidence, the ABC article - like the Times article - failed to include any reference to the important high-profile credible whistle-blower key witness who supports the claims of gang stalking victims, Ted Gunderson. The ABC News article which involved such an extraordinary number of coincidences also failed to even mention Cointelpro or MK Ultra - or any other actual relevant non-disputed government conspiracies, and focused exclusively on discussions of delusional thinking. If you want to read this ground-breaking, hard-hitting piece of brave investigative journalism by the intrepid Lauren Cox, here is the link.

There is a down-side for gang stalkers to all these efforts at disinformation: they constitute evidence of a conspiracy when viewed in the context of other information - such as I have provided in this website.

A final observation about the two articles cited above:

It's interesting that those two rare examples of mainstream news media articles about organized stalking both appeared (about the same time) years ago, and then the subject has been off the radar since then.

Since that time, the number of online accounts of gang stalking - such as this website - have only increased, and the number of published articles in the alternative media alleging a re-emergence of Cointelpro (such as those cited in section 4 of this overview) have increased. Yet the New York Times and ABC have not re-visited the issue.

That makes perfect sense as a disinformation strategy. Anyone searching for mainstream news reports on gang stalking will see that - apparently - a couple of major news outlets looked into the phenomenon years ago and found it was all rubbish. Case closed. Further articles - even if they were similarly dismissive - might call attention to the topic in an unhelpful way

15. The Wall of Silence Which Surrounds Gang Stalking

Laurel & Hardy - Shhh

“The first rule of fight club is you do not talk about fight club.”
- from the 1999 film Fight Club

Sometimes people violate the rule and do mention fight club.

A local TV news broadcast in California in January 2011 featured a report about gang stalking in which the reporters used the term and so did Lieutenant Larry Richard of the Santa Cruz Police Department.

Even in that instance, Lt. Richard (a) did not say that the stalking was perpetrated by the government, and (b) he seemed to walk-back his comment in a subsequent letter about the TV broadcast obtained by a Freedom of Information request.

Even such qualified reports are the exception to the rule. Despite its seriousness, gang stalking is rarely discussed publicly by the mainstream news media - let alone by law enforcement officials. (I have listed the most notable exceptions that I am aware of above in the “Published News Reports” section of this web page.)

The Silence of the F.B.I. and the D.O.J.

What mainly accounts for the FBI’s success in keeping its modern counterintelligence operations off of the American public’s radar is the secrecy with which the program is administered and the use of tactics chosen specifically for their lack of incriminating evidence.

Official records from the U.S. Senate’s Church Committee cited previously on this webpage show that many of the same tactics were unquestionably used by the FBI during the first version of Cointelpro. Those operations also remained unknown to the general public until some civilan activists broke into an FBI office and stole the secret documents which proved it.

Based upon reports by gang stalking victims, U.S. intelligence and law enforcement agencies have greatly raised the technological sophistication for domestic counterintelligence - just as was alleged by the late Ted Gunderson, the former FBI official, when he discussed gang stalking. In addition, revelations in 2013 by NSA whistle-blower Edward Snowden proved that the scope of Big Brother's surveillance is now vast.

"Gang stalking" is also more sophisticated than Cointelpro in the realm of law: a legal architecture has been developed which enables counterintelligence operations to be conducted under a paper charade of legal legitimacy within the Department of Justice, despite violating the U.S. Constitution.

By labeling extra-judicial punishment as "surveillance" and "investigation," and by referring to stalkers as "informants," and by citing a "national security" need to keep their operations shrouded in secrecy, the FBI and DOJ can pretty much do whatever they want.

In fact, the Orwellian nature of the legal fictions is even deeper. As explained previously, "investigations" have been replaced in many cases with "assessments" which have lower standards of suspicion. "National Security Letters" based upon "Suspicious Activity Reports" have replaced court-sanctioned subpoenas. As a practical matter, organized stalking can be initiated with no concerns about the Fourth Amendment or the state and federal laws against stalking.

One of the ways silence is maintained - as mentioned previously - is by the FBI's exemption from the Whistleblower Protection Act. Anyone wishing to expose misconduct at the FBI could face severe legal repercussions.

Nothing comparable to Edward Snowden's revelations about the NSA's domestic spying has yet occurred with the FBI. Ted Gunderson did not speak out about gang stalking until after he was retired, and he did not reveal any smoking-gun documents to prove his allegations. Also, Gunderson claimed that his discussion of organized stalking resulted in him being targeted himself - which would tend to discourage other potential whistle-blowers.

People familiar with corruption in the U.S. government have deep suspicions about the kinds of crimes being perpetrated by agencies such as the FBI and the CIA. Writing on that subject in January 2014, former State Department Foreign Service Officer Peter Van Buren put it this way:

" …count on one thing: we undoubtedly don't yet know the worst or most illegal aspects of this era of "intelligence." After all, while Snowden "liberated" up to 1.7 million National Security Agency documents (many of them not yet looked at, analyzed, or written about), there have been no similar twenty-first-century break-ins at the FBI, the CIA, or other parts of the American intelligence community (or for that matter at the Pentagon and the Department of Homeland Security). Massive and shocking as the NSA revelations have been, the curtain has only been pulled back on a corner of the new Washington world that we, the people, continue to fund, even if we aren't considered important enough to know anything about it." [emphasis added]

The Silence of Intelligence-Security Contractors

Just as law enforcement and intelligence agency personnel involved in counterintelligence activities are bound by secrecy oaths, so is the vast industry of private contractors employed by those agencies. For example, job ads posted by security-intelligence contractors for "surveillance role players" (domestic spies) all require an active security clearance in addition to counterintelligence training.

In most cases, the potential legal risk is not a factor anyway; the type of people who seek work as domestic spies like the idea of being informants for Big Brother and they presumably like the income it generates for them.

The Silence of Witnesses

Witnesses to U.S. government criminality often become the targets of very aggressive efforts to intimidate them to remain silent - and to make an example of them so others will remain silent. This 4-minute trailer of a 2013 documentary film gives a good sense of the dangers faced by whistle-blowers, which include blacklisting, surveillance, and legal warfare.

Promotional video for Silenced: The War on Whistleblowers

FBI agents can legally order witnesses to keep their mouths shut regarding anything the feds choose to portray as an investigation.

For example, a National Security Letter (NSL) is an administrative subpoena used by the FBI, and it has a gag order attached which prohibits the recipient from ever saying anything about having been served with the letter. The U.S. government has issued hundreds of thousands of such letters, and they have been upheld in court.

Anyone wondering why landlords, neighbors, co-workers, and others recruited to participate in organized stalking never say anything should consider the possibility that they do not want to end up in prison.

The Silence of U.S. Political Leaders

Jefferson Censored

In your high school civics classes, you probably learned about the three equal branches of the federal government. Presumably, they still teach that. In reality, the U.S. is now dominated by a massively powerful executive branch.

Officially, the White House is at the top of that branch, but the nation's chief executive must share power as a practical matter with the shadowy U.S. intelligence community and its cronies.

On the one hand, the president can appoint - and fire - the heads of the intelligence agencies; on the other hand, the intelligence agencies can tap the president's phones and create files on the president's sex life and shady business dealings which can be used as leverage.

In theory, the U.S. Congress has oversight authority over the intelligence community. Again though, you need to distinguish between what it says in your high school textbook and what takes place in the real world.

During the 1970s Americans learned about the illegal counterintelligence operations (COINTELPRO) being perpetrated by the FBI - and the secret experiments, torture, and assassinations being perpetrated by the CIA (MK Ultra and other programs).

As mentioned previously, the official source of information about those scandalous programs was the U.S. Senate's Church Committee - named after its chairman, Senator Frank Church (D-Idaho). One of the important facts about that chapter in U.S. history is this: by their own admission, the members of Congress had no clue what had been going on before Cointelpro was exposed by civilian activists.

Another important fact for perspective about Congressional oversight is this: the head of the Church Committee himself, Frank Church, was being spied upon by the NSA and never knew about it. Declassified documents released in September 2013 showed that the NSA was monitoring his overseas phone calls and cables.

Although they were familiar with espionage, America's founders certainly could never have envisioned the vast network of rogue U.S. intelligence agencies and corporate intelligence-security contractors who now spy on Americans using advanced technology.

If the founders could have forseen the development of such a monstrous threat to democracy and privacy, they certainly would never have prescribed the current system of oversight.

The House of Representatives and the Senate each has a Select Committee on Intelligence. Between the two committees, there are essentially just three dozen people who are supposed to provide oversight of the U.S. intelligence community.

Even worse, those three dozen or so people are bound by secrecy oaths which legally prevent them from revealing their knowledge of any unconstitutional and immoral behavior that is being perpetrated by the nation's intelligence agencies. Committee members can be prosecuted even for revealing information to other members of Congress.

Congress members' fear of the intelligence community

As I mentioned in the Oversight section of this page, it is very possible that members of Congress actually fear the intelligence community, and avoid trying to control it for that reason.

In March 2014, two members of Congress made comments which strongly implied that such fears exist. Senator Rand Paul (R-Kentucky) said this of his fellow senators:

"I think I perceive fear of an intelligence community drunk with power, unrepentant, and uninclined to relinquish power."

The next day, House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi (D-California) said this about disagreeing with the intelligence community:

"You don't fight it without a price, because they come after you."

Presidents' fear of the intelligence community

More than a few people have been suspicious of President Barack Obama's apparent subservient relationship to the U.S. intelligence community. Despite campaigning for the presidency as a progressive reformer, as president he embraced secrecy, drone strikes, mass surveillance, the attack on Libya, and aggressive prosecutions of whistle-blowers. Of course, it is very possible that Obama was never sincere about his views in the first place. Opportunistic dishonest sociopaths are common in politics. On the other hand, there might be a darker explanation.

One person willing to publicly comment about that is Ray McGovern, a retired CIA analyst-turned-activist. In June 2013, McGovern explained in a radio interview that he believes that President Obama fears the CIA:

"I've come to the conclusion that he's afraid. Number one, he's afraid of what happened to Martin Luther King Jr …..

….Now does he have any reason to fear the CIA? Well he sure as heck does. For those of your listeners who have not read James Douglass's JFK and the Unspeakable, you need to read that, because it's coming up on 50 years. The mystery has not been solved in the mainstream press. After reading James Douglass, who took advantage of all the previous studies, plus all the more recent information released by Congress, I'm convinced that John Kennedy was assassinated largely by Allan Dulles whom he cashiered as the head of the CIA after the Bay of Pigs, and a coterie of joint chiefs of staff, FBI, even some Secret Service folks who thought that JFK was being soft on Communism by back channel communications with Krushchev, that he was playing games with Fidel Castro …to repair the relationship, and worst of all he was giving Southeast Asia to the Communists. Now is there evidence for this? There sure as heck is. John Kennedy signed two executive orders just a month or so before he was killed. One of them said we're pulling out 1000 troops out of South Vietnam by the end of the year, the year being 1963. The other said we're going to pull out the bulk of the troops by 1965, we're finished in Vietnam. That's a matter of record."

Local politicians' fear of the law enforcement community

In their book L.A. Secret Police (2014), Mike Rothmiller and Ivan G. Goldman describe how the Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) operated a lawless spy network for decades without having its crimes exposed. The LAPD used threats and blackmail to intimidate city council members - and the staff of the Los Angeles Times.

Here is an excerpt from the book's description on Amazon regarding the nature of LAPD during the reign of police chief Daryl Gates (1978 to 1992):

"L.A. cops ruined lives and reputations, inflicted mindless brutality, committed murder and engaged in massive cover-ups. In Los Angeles, police corruption was much more than unmarked envelopes stuffed with cash. It was a total corruption of power. For decades LAPD engaged in massive illegal spying and lied about it. Its spying targets included politicians, movie stars, professional athletes, news reporters and anyone wielding power or those of interest to Daryl Gates."

The reluctance of people in power to criticize others in power

A general rule among most people who occupy influential positions is to avoid criticism of others who are similarly situated. This is done for selfish career reasons. Most people who are in a position to expose corruption and incompetence rarely do so because they fear being perceived as a threat to others in power.

In a May 2014 article on the Intercept, journalist Glenn Greenwald called attention to a quote originally published in the New Yorker. The remark was made by Lawrence “Larry” Summers, who served as - among other roles - the president of Harvard University and the Secretary of the Treasury. He was speaking to Elizabeth Warren, a former Harvard law professor and current U.S. Senator.

“Larry Summers took Warren out to dinner in Washington and, she recalls, told her that she had a choice to make. She could be an insider or an outsider, but if she was going to be an insider she needed to understand one unbreakable rule about insiders: “They don’t criticize other insiders.”

The Silence of the Judicial Branch

Justice Gagged

Just like the members of the Congressional intelligence committees, judges on the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (FISA) Court are bound by secrecy oaths which prevent them from revealing anything about the scandalous crimes by members of the spying industry.

A good example of how that plays out in America’s Star Chamber occurred in April 2013. In a rare instance of the secret FISA court not simply rubber-stamping whatever the feds wanted to do, the court ruled that the domestic spying activities at issue involved an unacceptable abuse of the Constitution.

However, the Obama administration decided that Americans should not be allowed to know what the Feds were trying to get away with - because publicly disclosing the nature of the unconstitutional B.S. they were engaged in would allegedly jeopardize Americans’ national security.

The last I heard, the fed's were still trying to keep the whole thing under wraps (whatever it was).

The silence of the ACLU (American Civil Liberties Union)

Cowardly Lion

Picture yourself as an ACLU attorney. You have a job and a family and a safe comfortable life. Do you really want to go to war with some shadowy rogue intelligence agency Stasi bastards who could target you for extra-judicial punishment? Probably not.

It is one thing to be a legal advocate for a position which annoys people in middle America; it is another thing altogether to throw rocks at a hornets' nest by exposing the modern version of Cointelpro.

As an organization, the ACLU is also inclined to err on the side of caution to avoid risking its reputation. They do not wish to be associated with anything that has not already been conclusively proven by smoking-gun official documents published in the mainstream news media.

That is especially true for something like gang stalking, since the tactics render the subject inherently susceptible to being dismissed as a tin-foil hat conspiracy theory.

Keith Forsyth, one of the activists who broke into the FBI office in 1971 and stole the secret documents that exposed the first verion of Cointelpro, said this regarding the need for the break-in:

"When you talked to people outside the movement about what the FBI was doing, nobody wanted to believe it."

Remember: the ACLU did not expose the first version of Cointelpro, and they have shown no interest in exposing its current version. By all indications, the ACLU's national office plans to wait until it is safe before they wade in.

Notably, the ACLU has never made any public statements that are dismissive of the numerous claims of organized stalking. Apparently it is simpler for them to just avoid the topic completely. If you write to staff members at the ACLU to inquire about their views on reports of gang stalking, you will find that they do not respond with skepticism; they just don't respond at all.

As I mention in the "Tactics" page of this website, anyone wishing to gain the attention of the ACLU on the subject of organized stalking should probably meet face-to-face with members of a local ACLU chapter rather than trying to contact the organization's national office.

The Silence of the American News Media

The Silence of the Lambs

Organized stalking goes mostly undiscussed in the mainstream news media. I review the notable exceptions in detail elsewhere in this website, but as a rule, major corporate news agencies avoid discussing matters which the intelligence and law enforcement community do not wish to have discussed.

This silence in the press is largely the result of the kinds of self-censorship documented in sources such as Kristina Borjesson's Into the Buzzsaw, and Noam Chomsky's Manufacturing Consent.

Primarily, the media's silence on gang stalking can be attributed to laziness, incompetence, and cowardice.

Edward R. Murrow

As a general rule, major news agencies ignore conspiracies in the absence of incriminating smoking-gun type official documents. Also, they prefer to have such documents conveniently dropped in their laps by whistle-blowers - as happened with the Pentagon Papers, Cointelpro, and the NSA's domestic spying.

Pulitzer Prize-winning investigative journalist Seymour Hersh - who revealed the My Lai Massacre in the Vietnam War and the abuse of Iraqi prisoners at Abu Ghraib during the Iraq War - discussed the issue of documents when he was interviewed by the Guardian in September 2013. He said this of Edward Snowden's revelations about the NSA:

"Editors love documents. Chicken-shit editors who wouldn't touch stories like that, they love documents, so he changed the whole ball game."

Intimidation of the press by the federal government adds to the problem.

To discourage reporting on issues it would rather not see publicly discussed, the U.S. government has aimed two weapons of intimidation at the American news media in recent years: surveillance of communication and prosecution of whistle-blowers.

In May 2013 it was revealed that two months of phone records of the Associated Press were secretly obtained by the Department of Justice, seeking the identities of confidential informants. Famed Watergate reporter Carl Bernstein said he believed the seizure of records was intended "to intimidate people who talk to reporters."

Such efforts by the feds seem to have had their intended effect.

Following the AP phone records incident, journalists reported that trusted sources were becoming noticably more reluctant to provide information. AP President Gary Pruitt said that sources now “fear that they will be monitored by the government.”

A survey published in November 2013 by PEN American Center - an association of American writers dedicated to protecting free expression - found that many published writers in the U.S. reported that they self-censor on subjects such as military affairs, mass incarceration, drug policies, the Occupy Wall Street movement, and criticism of the U.S. government.

The survey found that 40 percent of the writers polled had either curtailed their social media activities or seriously considered doing so. In addition, 33 percent reported deliberately avoiding certain topics - or at least seriously considered avoiding certain topics - in phone or email conversations.

The survey also revealed that 28 percent had refrained - or seriously considered refraining - “from conducting Internet searches or visiting websites on topics that may be considered controversial or suspicious.”

Doing its best to chill criticism of the federal government, the Obama administration prosecuted more whistle-blowers than all former presidents combined. The Committee to Protect Journalists published an article on this disturbing trend in October 2013 by a former editor of the Washington Post. Some excerpts:

“Six government employees, plus two contractors including Edward Snowden, have been subjects of felony criminal prosecutions since 2009 under the 1917 Espionage Act, accused of leaking classified information to the press - compared with a total of three such prosecutions in all previous U.S. administrations. Still more criminal investigations into leaks are under way."

"Exposing "waste, fraud and abuse" is considered to be whistle-blowing. But exposing questionable government policies and actions, even if they could be illegal or unconstitutional, is often considered to be leaking that must be stopped and punished. This greatly reduces the potential for the press to help hold the government accountable to citizens."

In February 2014, Reporters Without Borders ranked America as the 46th best country for journalist freedoms - in between Romania and Haiti.

For a sense of why many reporters are afraid to investigate criminality by the U.S. intelligence and law enforcement community, I recommend watching this 3-minute video clip in which the Pulitzer prize winning Washington Post journalist Dana Priest describes the backlash she experienced - which included death threats - when she exposed the CIA's use of secret prisons to torture terrorism suspects.

The "Someone would have talked" Fallacy

Telling a secret

Investigative journalist Russ Baker disputes the common response to allegations of criminal conspiracies by covert operatives in the U.S. government - namely, that such claims are not plausible because "someone would have talked."

" …whistleblowers are quickly discredited, suppressed, or worse. From time to time people even come out of the national security establishment to testify to such wrongdoing, but they almost always pay a heavy price -which of course discourages others from bearing witness."

Among the examples cited by Baker is the case of John Kiriakou, a former CIA official and whistle-blower who revealed that the CIA tortured prisoners as part of its official policy. Kiriakou lost his job and was sentenced to 30 months in prison.

"Almost nobody talks. And for good reason. Just ask John Kiriakou."

Daniel Ellsberg, the whistle-blower who famously revealed the Pentagon Papers, makes exactly the same point:

"Since wrong-doing virtually always requires both secrecy and lies, and further secrets and lies to protect the secrets and lies, the wrongful operation-especially in a regime that approaches democracy-is commonly highly vulnerable to a breach of secrecy by any one of the many who share the secret. Yet typically in the national security field (and to a striking degree even in corporate and private associations without a formal apparatus of secrecy) even the "weakest links" do not break. No one tells."

Failure to Connect the Dots

Connecting Dots

Another factor which helps explain the relatively low-profile of organized stalking in the news media is a failure to recognize a common thread between various related news reports. The most important of these articles and broadcasts are listed in the "Published News Reports" section of this webpage.

In 2004 the PBS News show NOW featured an episode about signs of a possible re-emergence of Cointelpro "as a result of the relaxation of guidelines first put into place after the Cointelpro scandal investigation."

Later that year, Newsweek reported that the Pentagon was quietly re-entering the business of domestic spying - "including recruiting citizens as informants."

In 2007 the Washington Post Magazine featured a cover article about gang stalking which portrayed several of the self-proclaimed victims of the crimes as credible, and claims about the types of electronic weapons allegedly being used as plausible.

Several local news reports have documented police officers engaging in organized stalking for personal vendettas. In 2011 police in Stockton, California stalked the city manager after a break-down in contract negotiations. In 2012 a police officer was stalked by numerous fellow officers - from multiple jurisdictions - after issuing a citation to an off-duty police officer for reckless driving.

Both cases suggested that the police were familiar with gang stalking tactics and were unconcerned about any legal consequences.

To their credit, during 2013 at least two magazines - the Nation and CounterPunch - reported on counterintelligence operations (including psychological operations tactics) by the FBI and by private intelligence-security contractors against critics of corporations and asserted that Cointelpro has re-emerged.

Sources such as Democracy Now! have reported the emergence of a shadowy industry of spies employed by major U.S. corporations to conduct secret - and often illegal - counterintelligence operations. Such reports make clear that there is almost no oversight or legal accountability for these private spooks - most of whom are former or present agents of law enforcement and intelligence agencies.

Over the past decade numerous individuals have reported being harassed and spied upon by perpetrators whose tactics were largely identical to those used by the FBI and other intelligence agencies such as East Germany's Stasi. Local newspaper and TV news reports about gang stalking claims have also emerged from across the country in recent years.

Viewed as separate isolated incidents and news reports, such developments are mostly not recognized as examples of a common phenomenon.

The more you delve into the subject of organized stalking, the more you realize that the scope of the crime and its extreme impact upon the victims warrants a very close look by America's journalists.

Refusal to confront truths about deep corruption stop!

Another obstacle to exposing criminality by government and corporate officials is an unwillingness by many people to face the reality that the institutions we count on to protect us are often seriously corrupt.

Journalist Russ Baker touched on this phenomenon when looking back at the 1991 book October Surprise by Gary Sick, the National Security Council liaison to President Carter.

As documented in the book, during the 1980 presidential campaign Ronald Reagan's campaign chief William Casey made a secret promise to give military aid to Hezbollah in return for assurance that the 52 American hostages then being held by Iran would not be released until after the election - thus making President Carter appear weak.

As Baker notes, Casey's deal was essentially an act of treason. Gary Sick explained in his book why this very serious scandal was basically ignored by the press and by the Washington political establishment:

We in Washington are accustomed to the petty scandals of Washington politics. However, there is another category of offenses, described by the French poet Andre Chenier as “les crimes puissants qui font trembler les lois,” crimes so great that they make the laws themselves tremble.

We know what to do with someone caught misappropriating funds. But, when we are confronted with evidence of a systematic attempt to undermine the very political system itself, we recoil in a general failure of imagination and nerve ….

….Most mere observers are, therefore, very much disposed toward misbelief and are, therefore, willing to disregard evidence that is directly presented to them-and even to construct alternative explanations for events that seem just too distasteful to want to believe. This all-too-human propensity provides just the margin of safety that is needed by those who would dare to under take what would otherwise be regarded as just too immensely a risky undertaking to attempt.

Hitler’s Sheep

A final thought on how cowardice and dishonesty keeps U.S. government-sanctioned crimes against Americans hidden from the public …

Holocaust survivor Primo Levi explained how it worked in Nazi Germany. No doubt something similar - although on a much smaller scale - applies today in America when people are enlisted to assist in various ways with “investigations” - or whatever the operations are publicly called. Anyone who encounters a corrupt federal, state, or local agent who waves a badge (and perhaps a National Security Letter) while requesting some Constitutionally-suspect assistance - and silence about the assistance - should consider the following:

“In Hitler’s Germany a particular code was widespread-those who knew did not talk; those who did not know did not ask questions; those who did ask questions received no answers. Shutting his mouth, his eyes, and his ears, the typical German citizen built for himself the illusion of not knowing, hence of not being an accomplice to the things taking place in front of his very door."

- Primo Levi, The New Republic, October 23,

16. Shining a Light on the Cockroaches be-a-light

Gang stalking is conducted in secret because, like its predecessors Cointelpro and MK Ultra, it is illegal and unconstitutional. Stalking - described as such, or as "criminal harassment" or "criminal menace" - is a crime under the laws of every state in America.

In 1990 California became the first state to criminalize stalking. Within three years, all states had done so. Stalking is illegal because the vast majority of Americans deem it morally reprehensible and an assault on the basic rights and freedoms of the victims.

Gang stalkers know that most people - if they understood the crimes gang stalkers perpetrate - would regard them as the human equivalent of cockroaches, so the stalkers skulk around and ply their trade in the shadows.

They don't have to worry about being caught and prosecuted however, because (a) their tactics are inherently difficult to prove legally, and (b) their crimes are supported directly and indirectly by people with power and money and government connections.

Even if you assume that some individuals targeted for gang stalking are in some way deserving of persecution, you should note that gang stalking is very different from “shaming.” The historical practice of shaming individuals had the imprimatur of the society. If gang stalkers had such a sanction, they would not have to conduct their activities in secret.

Instead, gang stalking is largely a game played by people who are wealthy and/or well-connected to the police state infrastructure. For their personal vendettas and agendas, they exclusively wield gang stalking as a weapon that is unavailable to most people.

Exposing what is happening is the challenge for victims of gang stalking - and for anyone who believes that America should be a constitutional free nation instead of a quasi-police state run by plutocrats and neo-fascist members of law enforcement and intelligence agencies.

The balance of power is completely tipped in favor of the perpetrators of organized stalking. Also, cowardice and careerism by politicians and members of the mainstream press make it unlikely that much help will spontaneously emerge from those quarters.

On the other hand, civilian activists managed to derail the FBI’s Cointelpro operations, so there is precedent for eventual victory by the good guys. Mind you, those activists had to break into an FBI office to get the documents which exposed the crimes, so a certain amount of courage is required.

A final point: the Internet is a game-changer; it has the potential to expose gang stalking and ultimately lead to the program’s demise. As I note in my essay “Gang Stalking and America’s Police State Government” on another page in this website, the digital public square is already filled with information and rhetoric which the government would prefer to censor but cannot, posted by Americans fed-up with the secrecy and abuses of power in the upper echelons of government and corporations.

Please do whatever you can to help expose the rot.

If you can help expose illegal spying and harassment of Americans by intelligence agencies, law enforcement agencies, and private security contractors, please do so. America needs more patriots like Daniel Ellsberg, Edward Snowden, Jeremy Hammond, Barrett Brown, Russell Tice, William Binney, Ray McGovern, Thomas Drake, Frank Serpico, Thomas Tamm, Hugh Thompson, Jr., William C. Davidon, John Raines, Bonnie Raines, Keith Forsyth, Judi Feingold, and Bob Williamson.

CIA and NSA whistlblowers like Johh Stockwell and others he names outing Oliver North, the MSM, and the Octobor Suprise along with Latin American operations the the CIA Mafia role, George H.W. Bush role, LBJ CIA role in assasinating JFK

Recommended Reading

Aaronson, T., 2013, The Terror Factory, Inside the FBI's Manufactured War on Terrorism, lg Publishing, 280 pp.

Altemeyer, B., 2006, The Authoritarians, paperback and CD.

Balko, R., 2013, Rise of the Warrior Cop: The Militarization of America's Police Forces, PublicAffairs, 400 pp.

Behnke, K., and Fuchs, J., 1995, Zersetzung der Selle, "Decomposition of the Soul:" Psychology and Psychiatry in the Service of the Stasi

Borjesson, K., Ed., 2002, Into the Buzzsaw, Leading Journalists Expose the Myth of a Free Press, Prometheus Books, 462 pp.

Bowart, W., 1978, Operation Mind Control, The CIA's Plot Against America, Dell Publishing, 317 pp.

Chomsky, N., 2002, Understanding Power, The Indispensable Chomsky, The New Press, 416 pp.

Donner, F., 1990, Protectors of Privilege; Red Squads and Police Represstion in Urban America, University of California Press, 496 pp.

Douglass, J.A., 2008, JFK and the Unspeakable; Why He Died and Why It Matters, Touchstone, 560 pp.

Guck, B., 1989, War at Home; Covert Action Against U.S. Activists and What We Can Do About It, South End Press Pamphlet Series, 90 pp.

Harris, S., 2010, The Watchers, The Rise of America's Surveillance State, Penguin Books, 432 pp.

Hayes, C., 2012, Twilight of the Elites, America After Meritocracy, Broadway Books, 304 pp.

Herman, E.S., and Chomsky, N., 1988, Manufacturing Consent; The Political Economy of the Mass Media, Pantheon, 480 pp.

Lockshin, A., and Lockshin, L., 1988, Silent Terror, One Family's History of Political Persecution in the United States, Novosti Press Agency.

Marks, John, 1979, The Search For the Manchurian Candidate, The CIA and Mind Control; the Secret History of the Behavioral Sciences, W.W. Norton & Company, 288 pp.

Naylor, G., 2005, 1996, Third World Press, 175 pp.

O'Toole, G., 1978, The Private Sector, Rent-a-cops, private spies and the police-industrial complex, W.W. Norton & Co., 250 pp.

Orwell, G., 1945, Animal Farm, Rupa, (2013), 124 pp.

___, 1948, 1984, Signet Classics, 328 pp.

Priest, D., and Arkin, 2011, W. M., Top Secret America; The Rise of the New American Security State, Back Bay Books, 368 pp.

Redden, J., 2000, Snitch Culture; How Citizens are Turned Into the Eyes and Ears of the State, Feral House, 320 pp.

Rothmiller, M., and Goldman, I.G., 1992, L.A. Secret Police In the LAPD Elite Spy Network, 226 pp.

Scahill, J., 2007, Blackwater; The Rise of the World's Most Powerful Mercenary Army, Nation Books, 560 pp.

Shorrock, T., 2008, Spies For Hire; The Secret World of Intelligence Outsourcing, Simon & Shuster, 464 pp.

Turse, N., 2013; Kill Anything That Moves: The Real American War in Vietnam, Picador, 416 pp.

Whitehead, J.A., 2013, A Government of Wolves, The Emerging American Police State, SelectBooks, 288 pp.

Important youtube videos

Targeted Individuals (TIs) #31 https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=si1bHa45u18

Targeted Individuals (TI's) #32 tube.com/watch?v=PJqMcafwFJ8

www.FightGangStalking.com

II. What is Gang Stalking? (from https://gangstalking.wordpress.com/faq/) A Simple Definition

Under Occupational Health and Safety laws, individuals are being flagged and placed on community notification lists. This is happening without the targets knowledge. In many countries these community notifications are being used by companies and others to target innocent individuals such as whistle-blowers, the outspoken, etc. In conjunction with these notifications, companies and others are in some cases using a practice that was used in the former soviet union called the psychiatric reprisal. This is used as a means of retaliation, blacklisting, silencing, or controlling members of society. Once on the notification system, warnings about the targets are sent out to every individual the target comes in contact with, thus poisoning their associations, and socially annexing the targeted individual.

Full Definition

Gang Stalking is a systemic form of control, which seeks to destroy every aspect of a Targeted Individuals life. Once a target is flagged a notification is sent out to the community at large, and the target is followed around 24/7 by the various communities that they are in.

The community notifications will go out to various places. Apartment rentals, future employers, stores and communities where the target visits, will be notified. Doctors offices, fire departments, police, etc. A covert investigation might also be opened, and electronic, means used by the civilian spies/snitches as part of the overt and covert monitoring and surveillance process.

Individuals can be flagged designating them as having a history of aggressive or inappropriate behavior. This notification system will follow the target if they move, change jobs, visit other areas. It let's the community believe that the target is a person who needs to be watched or monitored.

Community health and safety

Click to access wcb_wpviolence.pdf

"In the service sector this may require identifying to employees persons who have a history of aggressive or inappropriate behavior in the store, bar, mall or taxi.

The identity of the person and the nature of the risk must be given to staff likely to come into contact with that person. While workers have the right to know the risks, it is important to remember that this information cannot be indiscriminately distributed.

A woman named Jane Clift in the U.K. went through a very similar type of flagging system. A warning marker was placed against her name designating her as potentially violent.

Violent Persons Registry

http://gangstalkingworld.com/Media/2007/09/2009/10/defamation-and-anti-social-behaviour/

She sensed that, everywhere she went, there was "whispering, collaboration, people scurrying about". "Everywhere I went - hospitals, GPs, libraries - anywhere at all, even if I phoned the fire service, as soon as my name went on to that system, it flagged up 'violent person marker, only to be seen in twos, medium risk'."

http://gangstalkingworld.com/Media/2009/10/defamation-and-anti-social-behaviour/

http://www.24dash.com/news/Local_Government/2009-06-24-Good-citizen-wins-12-000-damages-from-council-who-labelled-her-potentially-violent

Jane Clift was targeted this way and spent four year clearing her name.

Individuals are being flagged without their knowledge. In many countries these community notifications might fall under community safety and health laws. It seems that employers, educational facilities, and community centers are in some cases flagging innocent individuals as a means of retaliation, silencing, or controlling members of society.

Retaliation

http://www.harassment101.com/Article5.html

Maria Buffa, a former salaried employee in the personnel department at Ford World Headquarters in Dearborn, Michigan, said she, too, was sent to a psychiatrist after she filed a sexual harassment complaint in February 1999 against a woman co-worker. “You think, maybe I am the problem, else why would they be sending me to a psychiatrist,” she said. The psychiatrist Ford selected, Dr. Edward Dorsey of Midwest Health Center, made a report that said the only psychiatric symptom Buffa displayed was anxiety. Dorsey’s report said that the referral came from Ford’s medical department and was at least in part due to her complaints of sexual harassment. He also noted that the Ford doctor who referred Buffa cited a couple of “incidents”: She was seen yelling at someone, and she had shown up at a fitness center “wearing less than the usual amount of clothing for that physical activity.”

In April 1999, Buffa’s boss fired her “for the good of the company,” she recalled being told.

Psychiatric Reprisal

The individual is then placed under overt and covert forms of surveillance. Everywhere the Targeted Individual goes, their name is flagged. In a big city this could mean that thousands upon thousands of people are getting a notification about the target. The person is followed around 24/7. Foot patrols and vehicle patrols are used to follow the Individual around, as part of the monitoring process. During these patrols a one handed sign language is used to assist the citizen informants with communicating to each other. They will use this to silently communicate to any business the target enters, or other areas.

http://gangstalkingworld.com/Media/2010/02/informant-signals

Gang Stalking is experienced by the Targeted Individual as psychological attack, that is capable of immobilizing and destroying them over time. The covert methods used to harass, persecute, and falsely defame the targets often leave no evidence to incriminate the civilian spies.

It's similar to workplace mobbing, but takes place outside in the community. It called Gang Stalking, because groups of organized community members stalk and monitor the targets 24/7.

Many Targeted Individuals are flagged, harassed and placed under surveillance in this way for months or even years before they realize that they are being targeted by an organized protocol of harassment.

What happens during this monitoring and surveillance is very similar to what happened to many innocent individuals in the former East Germany or Activists and Dissidents in Russia. Many innocent people in the former East Germany would be targeted by the state, and then their friends, family, and the community at large would be used to monitor, prosecute, and harass them. The same persecutions and harassment's are now happening in democratic countries.

Once a person is flagged or has a warning marker placed on their file, the community becomes hypervigilant, and within this structure there is a targeted and illegal protocol of harassment that happens. Electronic means are used to monitor, harass and torture the target. When the target tries to describe what is happening to them, it sounds as if they have had a mental breakdown. The reality is electronic means are being used to make it appear as if the target has had a breakdown.

Electronic Harassment

http://www.targetedindividuals.com/Forum/showthread.php?tid=153

This System is the "MOSQUITO" that is used in the UK to break up groups of unruly people. Creates A Protective Shield Of High Pressure Complex Ultrasonic Shock Waves.

The Mosquito device is being considered for banning by the European Union, cause it infringes on the human rights of children.

Produces a power field of ultrasonic shock wave energy. The frequency range is adjustable from 7kHz to 25kHz, with the PCC30 putting out 140db of sound (135db for the PPF40) measured at 30cm. Intended for mounting to vehicles for potential crowd control applications. Also excellent for keeping out pests from gardens, etc. Hearing protection recommended when in use.

Many of these devices are easy to access, and almost impossible for an unaware target to describe in a credible manner, without sounding as if they have had a mental breakdown.

Unauthorized intruders are exposed to a feeling of intense paranoia, discomfort, disorientation, nausea and other undesirable effects. Government research is currently investigating the weapons potential and may soon classify these devices!

http://www.amazing1.com/ultra.htm

In Russia similar means were used by the state to declare activist, dissidents or anyone they thought to be an enemy of the state as mentally unfit and many were institutionalized using this form of systemic control.

The closest thing to Gang Stalking that democratic countries have seen before this is McCarthyism, Cointelpro, and RED SQUAD programs. Red Squad programs were used for monitoring, and harassment of various groups. They have been in place for over a hundred years, and they also employed Informants.

Civilian Spies, who can also be termed “Covert Human Intelligence Sources” come from every level and sector of society. Remember anyone the Targeted Individual comes into contact with gets a warning about the target.

Just like with Cointelpro investigations, everyone in the targets life is contacted, advised as to why the individual has been flagged, advised not to discuss the notification and asked to be a part of the ongoing, never ending monitoring (systemic psychological harassment and manipulation of the target) process. This process is covertly designed to control the targets, keep them in line, or destroy the target over time, leaving them with no form of support.

These actions are specifically designed to mimic a psychological operation. This psychological harassment of the target is designed to destroy them over years, making them look crazy and leave them with no form of support. The individuals around the target carry out actions and tasks as they are instructed, without realizing that the structure is psychologically designed to break the target down.

Worldwide programs of control and conformity have been used with equal success and lethality. What we are seeing now is a co-ordinated and organized effort of control and conformity. Many countries around the world are currently using a model of policing called: Community Oriented Policing. It's described as a systemic approach to policing. It focuses on instilling a sense of community within a geographically located neighborhood. Communities come together and discuss what values they would like to have in their community, community development, and it's also a time to discuss any problems that might be happening in a specific area. If a problem is identified an investigation might be opened. These local programs in many countries have been forming partnerships with other government run programs at, provincial, state and federal levels. A process called Deconfliction allows them to share information. Reports of Gang Stalking are not only coming in from democratic countries, but they are coming in from many other countries as well.

http://news.cnet.com/8301-13578_3-20000550-38.html

Click to access 20100303_crim_socialnetworking.pdf

The modern day systemic form of control could only be funded at governmental levels, just like it has in other societies where these similar types of harassment programs have been implemented. It's all part of a system of control and conformity that has been in place for many years. A system of control with many local groups and appendages taking part. Many targets report that their information is passed and shared between country boarders, and that the surveillance continues even when they travel.

What are the goals of Gang Stalking?

The official goal is listed as a notification for the community, to alert them of individuals who have been flagged, or have had a warning marker placed on their file. It's officially used as a means of investigating or monitoring individuals who have displayed inappropriate, or violent behaviours. The real goal in some cases however seems to be to isolate the target from all forms of support, so that the target can be set up in the future for arrest, institutionalization, or forced suicide. Other goals of this harassment is to destroy the targets reputation and credibility. Make the target look crazy or unstable.

Other goals involve sensitizing the target to everyday stimuli's as a form of control, which is used to control targets when they get out of line. Once the target is sensitized, the Citizen Informants have an easier time identifying the Targeted Individual in public. The targets sensitivity is most likely added to their file as a warning marker and sign to watch for future reactions to.

The structure of this type of notification makes the targets vulnerable. Once a community goes into monitoring mode, they unofficially work towards driving the target from the community. This can be done by making the target destitute. Secondary goals include making the target homeless, jobless, giving them a breakdown, and the primary goals seems to be to drive the target to forced suicide. This is the same thing that was done to targets of the Stasi and Cointelpro investigations. It's a useful way of eliminating perceived enemies of the state.

What are other Names for Gang Stalking?

There are many names for this form of systemic control and harassment. Under the Gang Stalking label you will also find such terms as Community Mobbing, Community Stalking, Stalking by Proxy, Organized Stalking, Cause Stalking, Multi-Stalking, but it's all part of the same community notification harassment protocol. What many people do not realize is that Gang Stalking is just one appendage of this systemic form of control. There are other forms of control used to repress, and keep individuals in line. Other forms or appendages include, but are not limited to: Mobbing, Cointelpro, The Buzzsaw, Covert War, Electronic Harassment, etc. These are the just some of the names being given to a very old game, that is once again being played by governments on their unsuspecting citizens.

How are targets chosen?

Officially targets can be flagged and investigated for suspected, or reported behaviours. Unofficially the Targets can be chosen because of many other reasons. They can be chosen for political views. They can be chosen for whistle-blowing. They can be chosen because they belong to a dissident movement. They can be chosen because they asserted their rights at work, or filed a complaint. They can be chosen because they made the wrong enemy. Were considered to be too outspoken, unwittingly investigated something that the state did not want investigated, signed a petition, wrote a letter. They were deemed as suspicious by a civilian spy/snitch and their names were handed over.

It's becoming apparent that targets might be chosen for this systemic form of control, if they are not already in some way a part of this controlled system. Eg. Many Targeted Individuals seem to be unaware of this community notification, flagging and monitoring system. Some targets also seem to be unaware that large chunks of our society are now being used as Citizen Informants.

Who gets targeted?

Targeting can happen to anyone in society. In the past primary targets of programs such as Cointelpro have been minorities. Targeting however can happen to anyone. Individuals are often targeted for being outspoken, whistle blowers, dissidents, people who go up against wealthy corporations, woman's groups, (single) women, minorities, extremists, conspiracy theorists, anti-war proponents, individuals identified or targeted as problems at these community meetings, and other innocent individuals. The majority of the targets are often not aware that they are being targeted in this way. When a target moves, changes jobs, the harassment still continues, because they are still flagged, and a notification is still going out to everyone they come in contact with. Every time the target moves, the same information, lies, and slander will be spread out into the new community and the systemic monitoring and harassment will continue. Traits of those targeted

http://gangstalkingworld.com/Forum/YaBB.pl?num=1205738832/0

Who takes part?

People from all walks of life are a part of this system, because once a target is flagged, their information is distributed to a wide range of people, organizations, and communities. People from all races, ages, genders. Every sector of society that you can think of is a part of this. Civilian Spies/Snitches include, but are not limited to: General laborers, the wealthy, bikers, drug dealers, drug users, street people, punks, hip hop culture, KKK, black activists, church groups, youth groups, Fire Fighters, police officers, lawyers, health care workers, store keepers, maids, janitors, cable installers, phone repair persons, mail carriers, locksmiths, electricians, etc. There really is no minimum or maximum age range. An article came out recently in the UK, saying they were recruiting children as young as eight years old to be Covert Human Intelligence Sources.

http://www.telegraph.co.uk/news/uknews/2689996/Children-aged-eight-enlisted-as-c%20ouncil-snoopers.html

Public individuals that the Targeted Individual comes in contact with are given this warning. These community notifications started with good intentions. Workers and the community at large do have a right to be notified if they are going to encounter persons who have violent, inappropriate histories. Citizens want to be able to protect themselves and their communities, however what is happening is that this program is also being used to falsely target innocent people.

Many do not understand or care that the end consequence of this flagging, this harassment protocol is to destroy a person. Many people in today's society are scared, they are willing to give up personal freedoms, for a false sense of security, and if that means taking away the rights of another individual to accomplish this, they have no problem doing this.

Why people participate in Gang Stalking?

There are many reasons that someone takes part in this.

1. Some do it for the sense of power that it gives them. They feel in control. Many wholeheartedly believe that this let's them know who is bad and who they need to protect themselves and their communities from.

2. Others do this as a way to make friends and keep friends. It's something social and fun for them to do. They love that special feeling of monitoring and protecting their community. Many in society use the one handed sign language to communicate and it's very effective in breaking down race, gender, age, social barriers. Many believe that it also let's them know who is on their side, vs who could be the potential target.

3. Others are forced or blackmailed by the State or the police into taking part. I have seen a few people pressured into taking part.

4. They are told that they are part of homeland or national security. They are told that they are being used to help keep and eye on dangerous or emotionally disturbed individuals. They see themselves as heroic spies for the state.

5. Others are just local thugs or Informants who are already being used for other activities, and their energies are just diverted over into these community health and safety programs. Eg. Some may be given the choice of monitoring a Targeted Individual for the community or the police vs going to jail.

6. Others are told outright lies and slander about the target to get them to go along with ruining the targets life. Eg. Many caring families are told that the individuals has displayed mental health issues, or other socially unacceptable behaviours and might be a danger to themselves or the community at large, and that the notification is necessary for keeping the community safe. They are asked not to disclose this.

7. Many are however just average citizens who in the course of going about their day to day jobs, are being used to keep an eye out, and if a flagged target does come into their vicinity, they are asked to watch, monitor and observe the target. It's the way the society is.

What are some techniques used against targets?

A few of the most common techniques are listed below.

a) Classical conditioning.

Getting a Targeted Individual sensitized to an everyday stimuli. The targeted individual over a period of months, or even years is negatively sensitized to an everyday stimuli, which is then used to harass them. It's used out in public to let them know they are constantly being harassed and monitored. Some examples of everyday stimulus that might be used include: sounds, colors, patterns, actions. Eg. Red, white, yellow, strips, pens clicking, key jangling, loud coughing, loud whistling, loud smacking of clapping of hands together, cell phones, laptops, etc.

b) 24/7 Surveillance

This will involve flagging and following the target everywhere they go. Learning about the target. Where they shop, work, play, who their friends and family are. Getting close to the target, moving into the community or apartment where they live, across the street. Monitoring the targets phone, house, and computer activity. Surveillance Policy.

Click to access n_039963.pdf

c) Isolation of said target.

This is done via reports. The flagging is meant to warn the community, but they act as little more than slander campaigns. They present a one sided assessment of the targets behavior and activity. The target is never allowed to tell their side of the story or to clear their name. This one sided assessment can include false reports, lies, and legitimate incidents where the target was set up. Eg. People in the targets community are told that the target is crazy, dangerous, a thief, into drugs, a prostitute, pedophile, in trouble for something, needs to be watched. This very flagging in and of itself is capable of creating paranoia, and false interpretation of everyday incidents.

Files will even be produced on the target.

It's been shown that community notifications of any kind can and do create a sense of paranoia within a community.

Community Notification

Click to access C20.pdf

Some people might argue that they would feel more secure if they were aware of the identities of dangerous offenders in their neighborhoods, but widespread community notification actually serves to heighten fear of victimization. In a large metropolitan area, hundreds of thousands of people are notified of a dangerous offender's release, while only hundreds will come into contact with him in the community. This blanket notification propagates the belief that there are more "predators" in the community than ever before, and fearful attitudes among members of the public are reinforced. A vicious cycle results: widespread notification leads to an increase in the community's fear of crime which, in turn, leads to more calls for notification. We would also argue that the use of inflammatory language such as "predator" by politicians and officials also works to heighten fear and increase calls for more punitive action.

d) Noise and mimicking campaigns.

Disrupting the targets life, sleep with loud power tools, construction, stereos, doors slamming, etc. Talking in public about private things in the targets life. Mimicking actions of the target. Basically letting the target know that they are in the targets life. Daily interferences, nothing that would be too overt to the untrained eye, but psychologically degrading and damaging to the target over time.

e) Everyday life breaks and street theatre.

Flat tires, sleep deprivation, drugging food, putting dirt on targets property. Mass strangers doing things in public to annoy targets. These strangers might get text messaged to be at a specific time and place, and perform a specific action.

f) Electronic Harassment.

Electronic means can be used to create the illusion that the target is having a mental breakdown, when in fact they are being targeted and harassed by a community that is trying to get them to move, because they believe that the person is a danger, or an undesirable. This flagging system allows the community to treat the target as less than, someone they are allowed to harass, and victimize. It gives them a license to do unspeakable things to innocent targets, and their families.

Hightech Harassment

http://www.amazon.com/High-Tech-Harassment-Scott-French/dp/0873646169

This is not just another revenge book. This is the ultimate revenge book-high tech recipes for madness concocted by the author in collaboration with the experts. Scott French interviewed engineers, bank tellers, phone operators, computer technicians, radio and TV managers, and asked them point black, “How would you get even with somebody?” What he came up with is a collection of electronics, chemicals, and common sense designed to push anybody over the edge. Discover how to induce insanity with lasers, shockers, breakers, and blowers; clear beaches with “silent sound”; zap computer disks from a distance, bypas computer passwords, blast boomboxes and bother banks. In short learn to harass the forces of science and technology and excercise your God-given right to get even with anybody, anytime.

These actions might seem harmless to these Citizen Informants, but in reality the actions could be causing great psychological trauma for the target. Eg. Blocking targets path, getting ahead of them in line, cutting or boxing them in on the road, saying or doing things to elicit a response from targets. Etc. It's like the death of a thousand paper cuts. One or two minor incidents will not cause any harm to the target, but over time the target is slowly worn down.

http://www.telegraph.co.uk/news/uknews/4612951/Man-jailed-for-whistling-Addams-Family-theme-tune-at-neighbours.html

Where does the support or funding for this come from?

Though the systemic harassment that Targeted Individuals refer to as Gang Stalking is immoral and unethical in nature, programs such as this in democratic countries, and none democratic countries have always been funded by the Government. They are the only ones with enough money, coordination, and power to keep such a system in place. These Co-ordinated efforts then join hands with others for this systemic form of control and harassment.

Ruling the community

http://www.albionmonitor.com/9711b/policing.html

"Ruling the community with an iron fist. "Savvy law enforcement types realized that under the community policing rubric, cops, community groups, local companies, private foundations, citizen informants and federal agencies could form alliances without causing public outcry." Covert Action Quarterly, summer 1997."

ACLU Blog

http://www.gangstalkingworld.com/
blog.aclu.org/2009/04/30/mass-con-fusion/#more-5320

"You mean to tell me that it is legal for corporations from the private sector to team up with local law enforcement officials in efforts to spy on innocent members of our society? You also mean to tell me that the synthesis of law enforcement authority and the drive of for-profit companies operate under little to no guidelines or restrictions and it is unclear to whom they are responsible to?"

What can you do to help?

1. If you know someone who is being targeted in this way please don't go along with it. Don't assume that the person is guilty or a bad person. Many innocent people are currently being targeted, and people are being told lies. This form of harassment is systemic and it's about state control and conformity. The express goal of this harassment is to destroy the individual over time.

2. If you are aware of someone being harassed in this way, subtly direct them to websites that deal with Gang Stalking, or sites for Targeted Individuals. Knowledge is power.

3. You can subtly suggest that your local newspapers or community papers print articles about Targeted Individuals or even an write an objective piece about Gang Stalking.

4. If you are a law maker, you can petition for changing the laws. Ensure targets who are flagged in this way have proper notification letting them know that they are flagged. Convicted criminals have this right, why not targets? Many of whom are innocent members of the public.
Petition for better oversight of these programs. As it stands Communities are getting away with serious human rights abuses, and complaints are not being heard. Authority figures such as the police in many cases are not taking the reports seriously due to the type of warning markers attached to a targets file.

5. If you are a lawyer our community needs lawyers who are skilled in helping targets access Freedom Of Information files. Lawyers who can help targets get their files reviewed, or corrected. Lawyers who can work with the existing privacy laws to limit who and where the targets information is disseminated to. We need human rights lawyers who can address the complaints of abuses that are happening to people listed or flagged in this manner. Illegal surveillance, illegal access of mail and electronic communications, and torture via electronic monitoring.

6. Mental health professionals can recognize that there is illegal harassment happening to individuals who are flagged, listed or have warning markers placed against their names. Community notifications can and do create paranoia within communities. This notification makes targets prime for harassment, and community mobbing.
They can objectively investigate the complaints, and become familiar with the Electronic means of monitoring and harassment that are being used. Laws are just starting to catch up to the technology. Eg. Europe is considering a ban on the mosquito device, because it infringes on the human rights of children.

7. You can subtly offer your support to someone who is being unfairly treated, in very small little ways.

8. You can bring up the subject of Gang Stalking or Targeted Individuals.

How do participants communicate?

Communication happens in a number of ways. When on the street or in cars patrolling, they use a one handed sign language. Citizen Informants also seem to get ques via cellphone and some via earphones.

http://gangstalkingworld.com/Media/2010/02/informant-signals/

Their one handed sign language include things like tapping the side of the nose, corner of the eye, brushing back the hair 3 times, the infamous double blink, etc.

Here is a list of signals that the former East German Secret Police the Stasi used. These signals below are not gang stalking signals, they were used in the former East Germany. http://www.nthposition.com/stasiland.php

SIGNALS FOR OBSERVATION

1. Watch out! Subject is coming - touch nose with hand or handkerchief

2. Subject is moving on, going further, or overtaking - stroke hair with hand, or raise hat briefly

3. Subject standing still - lay one hand against back, or on stomach

4. Observing Agent wishes to terminate observation because cover threatened - bend and retie shoelaces

5. Subject returning - both hands against back, or on stomach

6. Observing Agent wishes to speak with Team Leader or other Observing Agents - take out briefcase or equivalent and examine contents.

Books:

1. GmB Bailey, “Bridging The Gap.”

2. Gloria Naylor. “1996″

3. Kristina Borjesson “Into the Buzzsaw”

4. Jim Redden “Snitch Culture”

5. Noa Davenport “Mobbing: Emotional Abuse in the American WorkPlace”

6. Ward Churchill, Jim Vander Wall “Cointelpro Papers”

7. Anna Funder “Stasiland”

8. Protectors of Privilege: Red Squads and Police Repression in Urban America

9. Victor Santoro “GASLIGHTING How To Drive Your Enemies Crazy “

10. Anthony Brina “Suburban Spies”

11. Stephen Knight “The Brotherhood”

12. Alex Constantine “The Covert War Against Rock”

13. Frank Donner “The Age of surveillance”

14. Niki F. Raapana “2020”

15. Dr. Andrew M. Lobaczewski. Political Ponerology: The science on the Nature of Evil.

16. Community Oriented Policing. A Systemic approach.

Movies:

1. The lives of others. http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0405094/ (A movie about covert investigations in the former East Germany)

2. The Matrix. (Sci-fi Movie.) Neo a target wakes up and realizes not only is he being watched without knowing why, but that the world is a lie, that has been created to pull the truth over people's eyes.

Source: Gangstalkingworld Share this:

Community health and safety

Click to access wcb_wpviolence.pdf

"In the service sector this may require identifying to employees persons who have a history of aggressive or inappropriate behavior in the store, bar, mall or taxi.

The identity of the person and the nature of the risk must be given to staff likely to come into contact with that person. While workers have the right to know the risks, it is important to remember that this information cannot be indiscriminately distributed.

A woman named Jane Clift in the U.K. went through a very similar type of flagging system. A warning marker was placed against her name designating her as potentially violent.

Violent Persons Registry

http://gangstalkingworld.com/Media/2007/09/2009/10/defamation-and-anti-social-behaviour/

She sensed that, everywhere she went, there was "whispering, collaboration, people scurrying about". "Everywhere I went - hospitals, GPs, libraries - anywhere at all, even if I phoned the fire service, as soon as my name went on to that system, it flagged up ‘violent person marker, only to be seen in twos, medium risk’.”

http://gangstalkingworld.com/Media/2009/10/defamation-and-anti-social-behaviour/

http://www.24dash.com/news/Local_Government/2009-06-24-Good-citizen-wins-12-000-damages-from-council-who-labelled-her-potentially-violent

ane Clift was targeted this way and spent four year clearing her name.

Individuals are being flagged without their knowledge. In many countries these community notifications might fall under community safety and health laws. It seems that employers, educational facilities, and community centers are in some cases flagging innocent individuals as a means of retaliation, silencing, or controlling members of society.

Retaliation

Maria Buffa, a former salaried employee in the personnel department at Ford World Headquarters in Dearborn, Michigan, said she, too, was sent to a psychiatrist after she filed a sexual harassment complaint in February 1999 against a woman co-worker. “You think, maybe I am the problem, else why would they be sending me to a psychiatrist,” she said. The psychiatrist Ford selected, Dr. Edward Dorsey of Midwest Health Center, made a report that said the only psychiatric symptom Buffa displayed was anxiety. Dorsey’s report said that the referral came from Ford’s medical department and was at least in part due to her complaints of sexual harassment. He also noted that the Ford doctor who referred Buffa cited a couple of “incidents”: She was seen yelling at someone, and she had shown up at a fitness center “wearing less than the usual amount of clothing for that physical activity."

In April 1999, Buffa's boss fired her "for the good of the company," she recalled being told.

Psychiatric Reprisal

The individual is then placed under overt and covert forms of surveillance. Everywhere the Targeted Individual goes, their name is flagged. In a big city this could mean that thousands upon thousands of people are getting a notification about the target. The person is followed around 24/7. Foot patrols and vehicle patrols are used to follow the Individual around, as part of the monitoring process. During these patrols a one handed sign language is used to assist the citizen informants with communicating to each other. They will use this to silently communicate to any business the target enters, or other areas.

http://gangstalkingworld.com/Media/2010/02/informant-signals

Gang Stalking is experienced by the Targeted Individual as psychological attack, that is capable of immobilizing and destroying them over time. The covert methods used to harass, persecute, and falsely defame the targets often leave no evidence to incriminate the civilian spies.

It's similar to workplace mobbing, but takes place outside in the community. It called Gang Stalking, because groups of organized community members stalk and monitor the targets 24/7.

Many Targeted Individuals are flagged, harassed and placed under surveillance in this way for months or even years before they realize that they are being targeted by an organized protocol of harassment.

What happens during this monitoring and surveillance is very similar to what happened to many innocent individuals in the former East Germany or Activists and Dissidents in Russia. Many innocent people in the former East Germany would be targeted by the state, and then their friends, family, and the community at large would be used to monitor, prosecute, and harass them. The same persecutions and harassment's are now happening in democratic countries.

Once a person is flagged or has a warning marker placed on their file, the community becomes hypervigilant, and within this structure there is a targeted and illegal protocol of harassment that happens. Electronic means are used to monitor, harass and torture the target. When the target tries to describe what is happening to them, it sounds as if they have had a mental breakdown. The reality is electronic means are being used to make it appear as if the target has had a breakdown.

Electronic Harassment

http://www.targetedindividuals.com/Forum/showthread.php?tid=153

This System is the "MOSQUITO" that is used in the UK to break up groups of unruly people. Creates A Protective Shield Of High Pressure Complex Ultrasonic Shock Waves.

The Mosquito device is being considered for banning by the European Union, cause it infringes on the human rights of children.

Produces a power field of ultrasonic shock wave energy. The frequency range is adjustable from 7kHz to 25kHz, with the PCC30 putting out 140db of sound (135db for the PPF40) measured at 30cm. Intended for mounting to vehicles for potential crowd control applications. Also excellent for keeping out pests from gardens, etc. Hearing protection recommended when in use.

Many of these devices are easy to access, and almost impossible for an unaware target to describe in a credible manner, without sounding as if they have had a mental breakdown.

Unauthorized intruders are exposed to a feeling of intense paranoia, discomfort, disorientation, nausea and other undesirable effects. Government research is currently investigating the weapons potential and may soon classify these devices!

http://www.amazing1.com/ultra.htm

In Russia similar means were used by the state to declare activist, dissidents or anyone they thought to be an enemy of the state as mentally unfit and many were institutionalized using this form of systemic control.

The closest thing to Gang Stalking that democratic countries have seen before this is McCarthyism, Cointelpro, and RED SQUAD programs. Red Squad programs were used for monitoring, and harassment of various groups. They have been in place for over a hundred years, and they also employed Informants.

Civilian Spies, who can also be termed “Covert Human Intelligence Sources” come from every level and sector of society. Remember anyone the Targeted Individual comes into contact with gets a warning about the target.

Just like with Cointelpro investigations, everyone in the targets life is contacted, advised as to why the individual has been flagged, advised not to discuss the notification and asked to be a part of the ongoing, never ending monitoring (systemic psychological harassment and manipulation of the target) process. This process is covertly designed to control the targets, keep them in line, or destroy the target over time, leaving them with no form of support.

These actions are specifically designed to mimic a psychological operation. This psychological harassment of the target is designed to destroy them over years, making them look crazy and leave them with no form of support. The individuals around the target carry out actions and tasks as they are instructed, without realizing that the structure is psychologically designed to break the target down.

Worldwide programs of control and conformity have been used with equal success and lethality. What we are seeing now is a co-ordinated and organized effort of control and conformity. Many countries around the world are currently using a model of policing called: Community Oriented Policing. It's described as a systemic approach to policing. It focuses on instilling a sense of community within a geographically located neighborhood. Communities come together and discuss what values they would like to have in their community, community development, and it's also a time to discuss any problems that might be happening in a specific area. If a problem is identified an investigation might be opened. These local programs in many countries have been forming partnerships with other government run programs at, provincial, state and federal levels. A process called Deconfliction allows them to share information. Reports of Gang Stalking are not only coming in from democratic countries, but they are coming in from many other countries as well.

http://news.cnet.com/8301-13578_3-20000550-38.html

Click to access 20100303_crim_socialnetworking.pdf

The modern day systemic form of control could only be funded at governmental levels, just like it has in other societies where these similar types of harassment programs have been implemented. It's all part of a system of control and conformity that has been in place for many years. A system of control with many local groups and appendages taking part. Many targets report that their information is passed and shared between country boarders, and that the surveillance continues even when they travel.

What are the goals of Gang Stalking?

he official goal is listed as a notification for the community, to alert them of individuals who have been flagged, or have had a warning marker placed on their file. It's officially used as a means of investigating or monitoring individuals who have displayed inappropriate, or violent behaviours. The real goal in some cases however seems to be to isolate the target from all forms of support, so that the target can be set up in the future for arrest, institutionalization, or forced suicide. Other goals of this harassment is to destroy the targets reputation and credibility. Make the target look crazy or unstable.

Other goals involve sensitizing the target to everyday stimuli's as a form of control, which is used to control targets when they get out of line. Once the target is sensitized, the Citizen Informants have an easier time identifying the Targeted Individual in public. The targets sensitivity is most likely added to their file as a warning marker and sign to watch for future reactions to.

The structure of this type of notification makes the targets vulnerable. Once a community goes into monitoring mode, they unofficially work towards driving the target from the community. This can be done by making the target destitute. Secondary goals include making the target homeless, jobless, giving them a breakdown, and the primary goals seems to be to drive the target to forced suicide. This is the same thing that was done to targets of the Stasi and Cointelpro investigations. It's a useful way of eliminating perceived enemies of the state.

What are other Names for Gang Stalking?

There are many names for this form of systemic control and harassment. Under the Gang Stalking label you will also find such terms as Community Mobbing, Community Stalking, Stalking by Proxy, Organized Stalking, Cause Stalking, Multi-Stalking, but it's all part of the same community notification harassment protocol. What many people do not realize is that Gang Stalking is just one appendage of this systemic form of control. There are other forms of control used to repress, and keep individuals in line. Other forms or appendages include, but are not limited to: Mobbing, Cointelpro, The Buzzsaw, Covert War, Electronic Harassment, etc. These are the just some of the names being given to a very old game, that is once again being played by governments on their unsuspecting citizens.

How are targets chosen?

Officially targets can be flagged and investigated for suspected, or reported behaviours. Unofficially the Targets can be chosen because of many other reasons. They can be chosen for political views. They can be chosen for whistle-blowing. They can be chosen because they belong to a dissident movement. They can be chosen because they asserted their rights at work, or filed a complaint. They can be chosen because they made the wrong enemy. Were considered to be too outspoken, unwittingly investigated something that the state did not want investigated, signed a petition, wrote a letter. They were deemed as suspicious by a civilian spy/snitch and their names were handed over.

It's becoming apparent that targets might be chosen for this systemic form of control, if they are not already in some way a part of this controlled system. Eg. Many Targeted Individuals seem to be unaware of this community notification, flagging and monitoring system. Some targets also seem to be unaware that large chunks of our society are now being used as Citizen Informants.

Who gets targeted?

Targeting can happen to anyone in society. In the past primary targets of programs such as Cointelpro have been minorities. Targeting however can happen to anyone. Individuals are often targeted for being outspoken, whistle blowers, dissidents, people who go up against wealthy corporations, woman's groups, (single) women, minorities, extremists, conspiracy theorists, anti-war proponents, individuals identified or targeted as problems at these community meetings, and other innocent individuals. The majority of the targets are often not aware that they are being targeted in this way. When a target moves, changes jobs, the harassment still continues, because they are still flagged, and a notification is still going out to everyone they come in contact with. Every time the target moves, the same information, lies, and slander will be spread out into the new community and the systemic monitoring and harassment will continue. Traits of those targeted

http://gangstalkingworld.com/Forum/YaBB.pl?num=1205738832/0

Who takes part?

People from all walks of life are a part of this system, because once a target is flagged, their information is distributed to a wide range of people, organizations, and communities. People from all races, ages, genders. Every sector of society that you can think of is a part of this. Civilian Spies/Snitches include, but are not limited to: General laborers, the wealthy, bikers, drug dealers, drug users, street people, punks, hip hop culture, KKK, black activists, church groups, youth groups, Fire Fighters, police officers, lawyers, health care workers, store keepers, maids, janitors, cable installers, phone repair persons, mail carriers, locksmiths, electricians, etc. There really is no minimum or maximum age range. An article came out recently in the UK, saying they were recruiting children as young as eight years old to be Covert Human Intelligence Sources.

http://www.telegraph.co.uk/news/uknews/2689996/Children-aged-eight-enlisted-as-c%20ouncil-snoopers.html

Public individuals that the Targeted Individual comes in contact with are given this warning. These community notifications started with good intentions. Workers and the community at large do have a right to be notified if they are going to encounter persons who have violent, inappropriate histories. Citizens want to be able to protect themselves and their communities, however what is happening is that this program is also being used to falsely target innocent people.

Many do not understand or care that the end consequence of this flagging, this harassment protocol is to destroy a person. Many people in today's society are scared, they are willing to give up personal freedoms, for a false sense of security, and if that means taking away the rights of another individual to accomplish this, they have no problem doing this.

Why people participate in Gang Stalking?

here are many reasons that someone takes part in this.

1. Some do it for the sense of power that it gives them. They feel in control. Many wholeheartedly believe that this let's them know who is bad and who they need to protect themselves and their communities from.

. Others do this as a way to make friends and keep friends. It's something social and fun for them to do. They love that special feeling of monitoring and protecting their community. Many in society use the one handed sign language to communicate and it's very effective in breaking down race, gender, age, social barriers. Many believe that it also let's them know who is on their side, vs who could be the potential target.

3. Others are forced or blackmailed by the State or the police into taking part. I have seen a few people pressured into taking part.

4. They are told that they are part of homeland or national security. They are told that they are being used to help keep and eye on dangerous or emotionally disturbed individuals. They see themselves as heroic spies for the state.

5. Others are just local thugs or Informants who are already being used for other activities, and their energies are just diverted over into these community health and safety programs. Eg. Some may be given the choice of monitoring a Targeted Individual for the community or the police vs going to jail.

6. Others are told outright lies and slander about the target to get them to go along with ruining the targets life. Eg. Many caring families are told that the individuals has displayed mental health issues, or other socially unacceptable behaviours and might be a danger to themselves or the community at large, and that the notification is necessary for keeping the community safe. They are asked not to disclose this.

7. Many are however just average citizens who in the course of going about their day to day jobs, are being used to keep an eye out, and if a flagged target does come into their vicinity, they are asked to watch, monitor and observe the target. It's the way the society is.

What are some techniques used against targets?

A few of the most common techniques are listed below.

a) Classical conditioning.

Getting a Targeted Individual sensitized to an everyday stimuli. The targeted individual over a period of months, or even years is negatively sensitized to an everyday stimuli, which is then used to harass them. It's used out in public to let them know they are constantly being harassed and monitored. Some examples of everyday stimulus that might be used include: sounds, colors, patterns, actions. Eg. Red, white, yellow, strips, pens clicking, key jangling, loud coughing, loud whistling, loud smacking of clapping of hands together, cell phones, laptops, etc.

b) 24/7 Surveillance

This will involve flagging and following the target everywhere they go. Learning about the target. Where they shop, work, play, who their friends and family are. Getting close to the target, moving into the community or apartment where they live, across the street. Monitoring the targets phone, house, and computer activity. Surveillance Policy.

Click to access n_039963.pdf

Isolation of said target.

This is done via reports. The flagging is meant to warn the community, but they act as little more than slander campaigns. They present a one sided assessment of the targets behavior and activity. The target is never allowed to tell their side of the story or to clear their name. This one sided assessment can include false reports, lies, and legitimate incidents where the target was set up. Eg. People in the targets community are told that the target is crazy, dangerous, a thief, into drugs, a prostitute, pedophile, in trouble for something, needs to be watched. This very flagging in and of itself is capable of creating paranoia, and false interpretation of everyday incidents.

Files will even be produced on the target.

It’s been shown that community notifications of any kind can and do create a sense of paranoia within a community.

Community Notification

Click to access C20.pdf

Some people might argue that they would feel more secure if they were aware of the identities of dangerous offenders in their neighborhoods, but widespread community notification actually serves to heighten fear of victimization. In a large metropolitan area, hundreds of thousands of people are notified of a dangerous offender’s release, while only hundreds will come into contact with him in the community. This blanket notification propagates the belief that there are more “predators” in the community than ever before, and fearful attitudes among members of the public are reinforced. A vicious cycle results: widespread notification leads to an increase in the community’s fear of crime which, in turn, leads to more calls for notification. We would also argue that the use of inflammatory language such as “predator” by politicians and officials also works to heighten fear and increase calls for more punitive action.

d) Noise and mimicking campaigns.

Disrupting the targets life, sleep with loud power tools, construction, stereos, doors slamming, etc. Talking in public about private things in the targets life. Mimicking actions of the target. Basically letting the target know that they are in the targets life. Daily interferences, nothing that would be too overt to the untrained eye, but psychologically degrading and damaging to the target over time.

e) Everyday life breaks and street theatre.

Flat tires, sleep deprivation, drugging food, putting dirt on targets property. Mass strangers doing things in public to annoy targets. These strangers might get text messaged to be at a specific time and place, and perform a specific action.

f) Electronic Harassment.

Electronic means can be used to create the illusion that the target is having a mental breakdown, when in fact they are being targeted and harassed by a community that is trying to get them to move, because they believe that the person is a danger, or an undesirable. This flagging system allows the community to treat the target as less than, someone they are allowed to harass, and victimize. It gives them a license to do unspeakable things to innocent targets, and their families.

Hightech Harassment

ttp://www.amazon.com/High-Tech-Harassment-Scott-French/dp/0873646169

This is not just another revenge book. This is the ultimate revenge book-high tech recipes for madness concocted by the author in collaboration with the experts. Scott French interviewed engineers, bank tellers, phone operators, computer technicians, radio and TV managers, and asked them point black, “How would you get even with somebody?” What he came up with is a collection of electronics, chemicals, and common sense designed to push anybody over the edge. Discover how to induce insanity with lasers, shockers, breakers, and blowers; clear beaches with “silent sound”; zap computer disks from a distance, bypas computer passwords, blast boomboxes and bother banks. In short learn to harass the forces of science and technology and excercise your God-given right to get even with anybody, anytime.

These actions might seem harmless to these Citizen Informants, but in reality the actions could be causing great psychological trauma for the target. Eg. Blocking targets path, getting ahead of them in line, cutting or boxing them in on the road, saying or doing things to elicit a response from targets. Etc. It's like the death of a thousand paper cuts. One or two minor incidents will not cause any harm to the target, but over time the target is slowly worn down.

http://www.telegraph.co.uk/news/uknews/4612951/Man-jailed-for-whistling-Addams-Family-theme-tune-at-neighbours.html

Where does the support or funding for this come from?

Though the systemic harassment that Targeted Individuals refer to as Gang Stalking is immoral and unethical in nature, programs such as this in democratic countries, and none democratic countries have always been funded by the Government. They are the only ones with enough money, coordination, and power to keep such a system in place. These Co-ordinated efforts then join hands with others for this systemic form of control and harassment.

Ruling the community

http://www.albionmonitor.com/9711b/policing.html

Ruling the community with an iron fist. "Savvy law enforcement types realized that under the community policing rubric, cops, community groups, local companies, private foundations, citizen informants and federal agencies could form alliances without causing public outcry." Covert Action Quarterly, summer 1997."

ACLU Blog

http://www.gangstalkingworld.com/
blog.aclu.org/2009/04/30/mass-con-fusion/#more-5320

"You mean to tell me that it is legal for corporations from the private sector to team up with local law enforcement officials in efforts to spy on innocent members of our society? You also mean to tell me that the synthesis of law enforcement authority and the drive of for-profit companies operate under little to no guidelines or restrictions and it is unclear to whom they are responsible to?"

What can you do to help?

1. If you know someone who is being targeted in this way please don't go along with it. Don't assume that the person is guilty or a bad person. Many innocent people are currently being targeted, and people are being told lies. This form of harassment is systemic and it's about state control and conformity. The express goal of this harassment is to destroy the individual over time.

2. If you are aware of someone being harassed in this way, subtly direct them to websites that deal with Gang Stalking, or sites for Targeted Individuals. Knowledge is power.

3. You can subtly suggest that your local newspapers or community papers print articles about Targeted Individuals or even an write an objective piece about

Gang Stalking.

4. If you are a law maker, you can petition for changing the laws. Ensure targets who are flagged in this way have proper notification letting them know that they are flagged. Convicted criminals have this right, why not targets? Many of whom are innocent members of the public.

   Petition for better oversight of these programs. As it stands Communities are getting away with serious human rights abuses, and complaints are not being heard. Authority figures such as the police in many cases are not taking the reports seriously due to the type of warning markers attached to a targets file.

5. If you are a lawyer our community needs lawyers who are skilled in helping targets access Freedom Of Information files. Lawyers who can help targets get their files reviewed, or corrected. Lawyers who can work with the existing privacy laws to limit who and where the targets information is disseminated to. We need human rights lawyers who can address the complaints of abuses that are happening to people listed or flagged in this manner. Illegal surveillance, illegal access of mail and electronic communications, and torture via electronic monitoring.

6. Mental health professionals can recognize that there is illegal harassment happening to individuals who are flagged, listed or have warning markers placed against their names. Community notifications can and do create paranoia within communities. This notification makes targets prime for harassment, and community mobbing.

They can objectively investigate the complaints, and become familiar with the Electronic means of monitoring and harassment that are being used. Laws are just starting to catch up to the technology. Eg. Europe is considering a ban on the mosquito device, because it infringes on the human rights of children.

7. You can subtly offer your support to someone who is being unfairly treated, in very small little ways.

8. You can bring up the subject of Gang Stalking or Targeted Individuals.

How do participants communicate?

Communication happens in a number of ways. When on the street or in cars patrolling, they use a one handed sign language. Citizen Informants also seem to get ques via cellphone and some via earphones.

http://gangstalkingworld.com/Media/2010/02/informant-signals/

heir one handed sign language include things like tapping the side of the nose, corner of the eye, brushing back the hair 3 times, the infamous double blink, etc.

Here is a list of signals that the former East German Secret Police the Stasi used. These signals below are not gang stalking signals, they were used in the former East Germany. http://

SIGNALS FOR OBSERVATION

1. Watch out! Subject is coming - touch nose with hand or handkerchief

2. Subject is moving on, going further, or overtaking - stroke hair with hand, or raise hat briefly

3. Subject standing still - lay one hand against back, or on stomach

4. Observing Agent wishes to terminate observation because cover threatened - bend and retie shoelaces

5. Subject returning - both hands against back, or on stomach

6. Observing Agent wishes to speak with Team Leader or other Observing Agents - take out briefcase or equivalent and examine contents.

Books:

1. GmB Bailey, “Bridging The Gap.”

2. Gloria Naylor. “1996″

3. Kristina Borjesson “Into the Buzzsaw”

4. Jim Redden “Snitch Culture”

5. Noa Davenport “Mobbing: Emotional Abuse in the American WorkPlace”

6. Ward Churchill, Jim Vander Wall “Cointelpro Papers”

7. Anna Funder “Stasiland”

8. Protectors of Privilege: Red Squads and Police Repression in Urban America

9. Victor Santoro “GASLIGHTING How To Drive Your Enemies Crazy “

10. Anthony Brina “Suburban Spies”

11. Stephen Knight “The Brotherhood”

12. Alex Constantine “The Covert War Against Rock”

13. Frank Donner “The Age of surveillance”

14. Niki F. Raapana “2020″

15. Dr. Andrew M. Lobaczewski. Political Ponerology: The science on the Nature of Evil.

16. Community Oriented Policing. A Systemic approach.

Movies:

1. The lives of others. http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0405094/ (A movie about covert investigations in the former East Germany)

2. The Matrix. (Sci-fi Movie.) Neo a target wakes up and realizes not only is he being watched without knowing why, but that the world is a lie, that has been created to pull the truth over people's eyes.

Comment by gangstalking | April 8, 2013 | Reply

[…] More info at https://gangstalking.wordpress.com/faq/ […]

Pingback by justanotherday777 | February 28, 2013 | Reply

I used to think I was TI, before I started to read about synchronicities, parapsychology, and other stuff which indicated the existence of extremely sophisticated mind control throughout history that the controlled persons would not even ordinarily notice.

I also think a lot of you people put a bit too much faith in your five senses. Hallucinations can be as convincing as it gets. A lot of your experiences could be explained by hallucinations, paranoia, and synchronicity. The rest could be explained by sophisticated mind control. I don't believe anyone is really "involved". I think people are being manipulated like puppets to give the illusion of involvement or human conspiracy.

Does that sound far-fetched to you? I can quarantee you it's not as far fetched as thinking hundreds of ordinary people are consciously involved in a purposeless conspiracy against another ordinary person, including his parents and friends. And that there are thousands of such cases all over the world, and have been at least since the 19th century. That's what would be far-fetched. Your own theory is so far-fetched that people will believe in God and other nonsense but they won't believe what you believe.

That's partly why your crusade is futile as long as you keep employing the tactics you do. No one will believe your story, because it's unbelievable AND about things they are familiar with. If you want to make something unbelievable seem believable, you have to talk about things that are outside everyday reality. People know everyday reality. They know your everyday interpretation is nonsense because you are trying to talk about something they know from personal experience and that something is completely unambiguous to them.

People are being mind controlled and they haven't got a clue what you are talking about because they're all victims, you're just the person who is supposed to notice something is a bit off about all this.

I don't think the entity that does this controlling is super interested in what you believe so much as it may be toying with you or testing you, so you might want to try reading my blog post at my blog and acquiring a competing viewpoint. See which one makes more sense, your or mine. (My handle links to my blog.)

Comment by mctps | March 2, 2013 | Reply

I like your post it's bright and intellegent, what's so conspiracy ridden about an out of control informant system, corrupt cops, local monitoring units that have no standards what so ever, and threat assessment teams that do enable such monitoring? The research is there, you are bright enough to figure it out. Would you call the Jane Clift case a conspiracy, being followed, her details shared, and having to move, cause every place she went her details were coming up, medium risk, only to be seen in pairs?

Comment by gangstalking | April 8, 2013 | Reply

After reading your detailed and lengthy side of the issue, let me pose some comments. You do not need to respond. I already have the answers to these questions. These are for your benefit and others: Look around you, and I mean look REALLY hard, past the media hype, the government lies, and you will see the FACTS of what these criminals do, and what they are capable of. They follow the conspiracy of evil, and they don't even hide it most of the time. It is never ridiculous to believe in God being the creator and our Savior, whom is love and truth. It is more ludicrous to believe we all came from monkeys and amoeba since they all exist apart from us as humans to begin with. That alone disproves evolution easily. My other comment is have you ever been inside or involved in a secret society or cult? You either have and side with them, which is where the misinformation can come in to posts like this you write, or you simply have no idea about any of it, and thus need to really see what is going on here. These people are much more than victims. They are human beings with lives and feelings who have been severely used, harassed and had their minds and lives practically altered and destroyed. And this is why the deprogramming techniques and tons of Christian faith and love are the only things that will ever truly free them I can tell you that as a matter of fact. Psychology has caused a lot of problems, which is why many kill themselves on those pharma drugs!!! So please do not come in here and act like you know what you are talking about, because believe me, you clearly do not. Your words were not only insensitive, but unwarranted and uneducated. And you have not been through half of what these people have, or you would not have written this post. The facts are these people have been victims of cult stalking and mind control harassment, some even murdered, so please be more careful what you say. In fact I think it is best you just do not post here anymore, because you will not be respected at all. We are here to help, not to make ignorant and insensitive judgments. There is PLENTY of evidence besides the people themselves supporting all of this does happen to them. I personally think the moderator should not allow these comments at all because they do not serve the purpose here, and they have no bearing on what is going on here with all of the people involved and the victims they hurt and harass.

Comment by Ernie | April 8, 2013 | Reply

Dear site creator:

Hello, I am a targeted individual. I am harassed everywhere I go. I have lost all of my friends because of being gangstalked. They labeled me as some sort of sexual predator. Even my own family is in on it and believes the lies. You don't know how devastating that is. Can you please contact me at the e-mail address provided. I have no one to turn to …

Thank you.

Comment by Steven | August 12, 2013 | Reply

Please read the articles on informants, lawsuits, Freedom of information, and Threat Assessment Team files. Lawsuits for conspiracy and indictment, might not have been the worst situation.

Comment by gangstalking | August 13, 2013 | Reply

Almost 4 years. just shoot me u cowards. i curse ur bloodline to paranoia n misery. fuck ur life!

Comment by kevin smith | November 28, 2013 | Reply

Steven, What you are saying is not uncommon, and I want you to know you are not alone. Sexual character assassination and defamation of character is what they do more than you realize. They take away your dignity and make it almost impossible to have any kind of normal life. Believe me, I know exactly what you are talking about.

Comment by erniemink | December 11, 2013 | Reply

Thank you, these situations are interesting, if that makes sense.

Comment by gangstalking | December 11, 2013 | Reply

I would say interesting is not the world, for that makes it sound positive. The subject is far from positive. The more this gets exposed the more it will be harder to bring it all out. The people involved are well aware of those that want to bring expose to them, trust me on that.

Comment by erniemink | December 11, 2013 | Reply

How can on gather evidence if he/she is gangstalked and if people are spreading rumours and slandering the person. I think I am being gangstalked by an mnc bank and theres are some people who are spreading lies about me.

Comment by A D | March 1, 2014 | Reply

Fill out a reporting form, that is what a lot of people are doing, then following it up. Spiritual Based Reporting Forms, just open them up remotely. To begin, just say outloud, HelP Me Yes, Help Me Yes, I want to file a report.

Comment by gangstalking | March 13, 2014 | Reply

[…] website, “Gang Stalking World,” describes people’s “adventures with gang stalking,” with the bloggers adding, “I really […]

Pingback by MK ULTRA PROJECT /// VİDEO : ‘Gang-Stalking’ And Electronic Mind Control Community Spreads Online | Stratejik İstihbarat | May 21, 2014 | Reply

---

PREDATORY GANGSTALKING

from http://www.whale.to/c/predatory_gangstalking.html

“Predatory Gangstalking is a criminal phenomenon referring to a group of loosely affiliated people who, in an organized and systematic manner, relentlessly invade all areas of an individual's life on a continuing basis, as part of their lifestyle. While each individual gangstalker does his or her small part, what defines Predatory Gangstalking is the collective intent to do harm." R.B.Ross c 2005

Tactics of Predatory Gangstalking include highly coordinated surveillance (hidden cameras, conversation bugging in private aswell as public), harassment, and psychological, psychosocial, financial, and sometimes physical assaults on an individual by a large group of people who are often strangers to the targeted individual.

A Predatory Gangstalking group is a well-run organization comprised of members who are unidentified as gangstalkers to the outside world. Until a group of gangstalkers turn their face towards someone selected to be one of their targets, members of society do not realize there is such an invisible group. The practitioners of predatory gangstalking are people who, for the most part, go about their business of daily life appearing like everyone else, except for their activities involved with Predatory Gangstalking. Predatory gangstalking activities take priority over everything else in the lives of Predatory Gangstalkers. Predatory gangstalking is actually a lifestyle for those who participate in it.

Predatory Gangstalking is also called "terror stalking", "gangstalking", "flash mobbing", "cause stalking," "hate stalking," "multi-stalking, "happy slapping," "workplace bullying, and "covert war."

. "Flash mobbing" is an event occurring when a targeted individual is spotted in society. Their photo and location is immediately and simultaneously sent out by cell phone text messages and Internet email to all gangstalkers within a certain radius. All gangstalkers then suddenly descend upon the target as a mob.

. "Cause stalking" refers to gangstalking by single-issue radicals.

They stalk a targeted person related to that specific agenda. “Cause stalking” has been reported to have been carried out by radical Christians who believe in “dominion theology.”

Dominion Theology is a religious interpretation of the Bible which these groups believe requires them to “take dominion over the earth” which they believe is the precursor to the return of Jesus to earth. “Cause stalkers” in general believe that they are bringing about social change through gangstalking activities. “Cause stalking” can be carried out by White Supremacist as a form of “Hate Stalking (Scientology groups are another eg.).” This type of predatory gangstalking is primarily for the purpose of intimidation and often is a precursor to or an adjunct to violence.

. “Happy slapping” refers to group harassment of one youth by other youths carried live over cell phones equipped to handle video to peers youths. The young gangstalkers slap around the targeted youth while laughing at him or her while several other youths broadcast the incident live to as many peers as possible.

. “Ritual Gangstalking” is reportedly performed by cults and secret organizations such as Satanists, secret orders of free masons, some voodoo /obeah practitioners and Scientologists as a means of control or for punishment. “Ritual abuse” is incorporated into “ritual gangstalking” patterns in this case.

N.B. Obeah is considered one of the darkest forms of black magic known. Blood sacrifice is always used and the intent is to harm, even to death, another person.

. “Workplace bullying” involves gangstalking activities tailored to the workplace which are carried out by a group of employees against another individual employee.

* “Cybergangstalking” is a situation where an individual is identified to be a target through Internet participation and their personal identity is determined. Cybergangstalkers pierce the electronic veil and are able to enter into the real life of a person, creating all forms of harassment, theft, psychological operations including slander and libel, and able to commit crimes against the targeted individual.

* “Vigilante Stalking, Terror Stalking” is the same as Predatory Stalking.

Let it be said that we really do live in amazing times. The world itself has seen much change and turmoil even in the last century, and with the increase of technology, the desire in those who choose to live out of balance with life and try to live in dominance and control of the masses have opted for this horrendous path of ‘stolen power’. This may sound quite vague, and it is, only because the other face of ganstalking or rather the precise reason for its use deals with a more incredible phenomena than hasn’t been touched up yet. In the first instance, we mustn’t be so naïve as to assume that our governments and all those that have been granted the power and authority to run our world are acting from a selfless perspective. They simply are not. The secrets of the universe, God and true power have always been the Holy Grail of man, and the desperate desire to achieve and own them by some.

To this effect the studies and research that has been conducted since time immemorial have been immense, with the one of the holiest of holiest being the understanding of the human mind, soul and will and how these can be controlled and used far more readily than man has been able to achieve so far. And it is for these reasons that extensive and more covert experimentation has been undertaken on people targeted for this work. These people are the targetted individuals of gangstalking.

Our minds are complex structures, our memories (long and short term), our thought processes, our fears and so on. If it is true that we do indeed manifest what we think as countless experts have us believe and that spiritually we are indeed one soul fragmented but unequivocally connected in a unified field, then it stands to reason that if one or a few souls and minds can be controlled then this will lead to the occupation of ALL. This of course sounds like insane rantings but assuredly this is the reality humanity faces today. There is a dark agenda to control all minds by controlling the energetic fields of existence, our physical bodies, dna, etheric fields, mental and emotional fields and so on.

Next, imagine for a moment if a 'Lucifer' were also created from one of the targeted individuals, more than just the social pariah they started as, what if society is lead to believe that they are actually a satanic entity or individual. In doing so, a common enemy is created with which to blame all eventual chaos upon. This is another portion of the agenda.

It is in the end the stuff of nightmares and what has been called dark prophecy or conspiracy theory is actually ancient agenda in it's final stages of being played out.

On a personal level, participating in any form of gangstalking is not only insane but utterly immoral, and spiritually and criminally corrupt. If you care, choose never to participate, inform the target (carefully/secretly), make a united stand with friends and neighbors not participate and log all the evidence you can - take down all information you can. Be smart, technology and the capability of those that have orchestrated these world terrors are immense.

But most of all remember that the 'fear matrix' within the collective consciousness of humanity is an overall target. If people are afraid they can be controlled. Stand firm in a belief of your divinity and eternal being (whether you believe in a God or not) you are still part Omnipotent Grace experiencing on earth.

Peace be with us all.

His web site

Peace be with us all.

This book

Fliers Police Abuse Victims Create and Utilize

William Binney and John R. Stockwell, Geral Sosbee and others are Revealors

"The F.B.I and C.I.A are Terrorists - Geral Sosbee 1970s era F.B.I Special Agent

"FBI and CIA kill and torture innocent civilians worldwide"

"FBI and CIA routinely torture, kill, falsely imprison, or force suicide upon targeted individuals using electromagnetic weapons for mind control and nervous system manipulation. I witnessed that the FBI and C/A inhumanely and regularly torture the targeted person and also force him/her to live under horrific conditions that could reasonably be expected to lead to suicide. " - Former Special Agent Sosbee

No Ordinary Stalking

Organized stalking is carried out by an enthusiastic and structured group that has cruel intentions: stalk, harass, injure, financially ruin, and mentally crumple human prey until incapacitation occurs. What sets this crime apart is that innocents are picked off the street. There is no getting away from the stalkers and no getting away from the unusual technology that is used to take over someone's life.

"For the first couple of months," says June, "I thought it was a sick game. Now that I've been tormented for years, well, it's clear that organized stalking is a sophisticated crime that follows a step-by-step process to leave the victim as bare and isolated as the dead tree on the cover. He or she may still be standing, but that's about it.

"I'll sum it up this way. Veiled intimidation ensures that targeted individuals are viewed by the public as free people, which they are not. They are playthings to their controllers. Hostages in plain sight. Victims are quite literally owned yet have limited chance of rescue because their desperate circumstances are misunderstood.

Some die from the violence. Some die from suicide. And the rest merely exist."

Organized Stalking is worldwide and is called gang stalking in some areas. The electronic harassment that accompanies organized stalking is also known as covert harassment.

As Sosbee has previously reported, FBI agents, operatives and thugs stalk and harass him (see My Story in Detail at http://www.sosbeevfbi.com/mystory.html and updates at http://www.newciv.org/nl/newslog.php/_v194/) 24 hours a day 7 days a week without end. This monitoring of Sosbee's every move is accomplished by a tracking device (or other shielding experiments) implanted in Sosbee and monitored by the thugs. (also see Ted Gunderon, Ed Donegan, others report being assaulted by police and community organizations backed thugs)

…

On 4-23-02 (3-4 pm) the following described individuals, operating a late model, white vehicle (possibly a Toyota), California License Plate # 4VDD501, followed Sosbee all day:

Suspect #1: White male, 5' 10" 140 lbs., 25 years, goatee, brown hair, brown eyes.

Suspect #2: Hispanic male, 5' 8" 160 lbs, 27 years, black hair, brown eyes.

The two thugs parked their undercover vehicle at the parking lot adjacent to 3807 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, Ca., followed Sosbee into the "New York, New York" Cafe and assaulted Sosbee who was seated at a table.

The Los Angeles Police Department and the California Department of Motor Vehicles unofficially confirm that the license number 4VDD501 cannot be traced because it is an unregistered plate vehicle.

Los Angeles: June-July 1999, individuals with the following vehicle plates stalking Sosbee: California 3SHV090, LOCAVD. Dallas Texas (1998) individuals (fbi operatives) stalked Sosbee in a vehicle with plate: Texas NKZ621 (non traceable). IMHO.

From Brownsville, Texas

SPECIAL NOTATION:

Every state in the country provides the fbi and other secret police agencies with non-traceable license plates so that the identities of the thugs and assassins cannot be easily determined.

Over the past four years (as of October, 2002) Sosbee is targeted non stop for similar assaults every where he goes, as a part of the fbi's "Non-consensual Cover Research" program to neutralize him. The life that Sosbee is leading is however, infinitely more enriching and fulfilling than the lives of the tormentors; while this gives Sosbee no joy or consolation, the thugs and assassins are on notice that they offer nothing constructive to the world and that their life's work will someday be an embarrassment to humanity.

First of all what is an Organized Stalk undercover police operation on a large scale?

> The Globe and Mail, a national newspaper in Canada, reported in May 2006 that the Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS) and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) used organized stalking techniques (referred to as “Diffuse and Disrupt” tactics) against terrorism suspects for whom they lacked sufficient evidence to prosecute.
>
> A cover article in The Washington Post Magazine in January 2007 by a journalist familiar with military policies and weapon systems portrayed self-proclaimed victims of gang stalking as intelligent and credible, and suggested that claims about exotic non-lethal weapons being used by the U.S. government to harass targeted individuals were plausible.
>
> Former CIA division chief Melvin Goodman was quoted in a June 2008 article by Jeremy Scahill in The Nation (America's oldest continuously-published weekly magazine) on the vast private contractor element of the intelligence-security community:

"My major concern is the lack of accountability, the lack of responsibility. The entire industry is essentially out of control. It's outrageous."

Gang stalking apparently targets American citizens deemed to be dissidents or whistle-blowers (and perhaps potential dissidents and whistle-blowers), although others might be targeted for other reasons - such as for experimental or training purposes. For perspective, it should be remembered that for two decades the CIA performed secret illegal experiments on U.S. and Canadian citizens (the infamous MK Ultra program). Those experiments included physical and psychological torture.

A newspaper article in the Verona-Cedar Grove Times in March 2009 titled "Stalker Claims Unsettle Police" described how a self-proclaimed target of gang stalking had been distributing fliers in his former neighborhood in Verona, New Jersey, warning about organized stalking of targeted individuals. The fliers stated: "Their intention is to murder their target without getting their hands dirty. It's the perfect hate crime."

In November 2013, a TV and radio broadcast of Democracy Now! featured an interview with the director of the Center for Corporate Policy in which he discussed the shadowy industry of spies employed by major U.S. corporations to conduct secret - and often illegal - counterintelligence operations against critics of those corporations.

Articles published by CBS, the Daily Mail, RT, Tech Dirt, and Courthouse News Service in December 2013

reported that a U.S. government contractor filed a lawsuit against multiple federal agencies for gang stalking him (the complaint refers to gang stalking as such). The plaintiff claims he was subjected to constant surveillance - including inside his residence and his vehicle - and constant psychological harassment from co-workers and strangers.

WARNING FEDERAL CRIME RINGS OPERATE IN THIS NEIGHBORHOOD. USE EXTREME CAUTION!

- TARGETED PERSON

  An individual who has been placed into a program of psychological and often physical warfare tactics which are orchestrated by criminal organizations, corrupt politicians, government agencies, security companies, law enforcement personnel, colleges, doctors, scientists, and corporations.

- COVERT HARASSMENT

  Also known as gang-stalking or organized stalking, is a highly criminal campaign directed at a targeted individual that aims to destroy an innocent person's life through slander and carefully executed psychological and physical assaults and or other crimes often in conjunction with preset alibis and covert police support for the operation(s).

- SLANDER CAMPAIGN (KOMPROMAT, FORGERIES, STORY TELLING, GOSSIP, ABUSIVE SUGGESTIVENESS, AND RUMOR MONGERING)

  An intentional, premeditated effort to undermine an individual's reputation, credibility, and character usually conducted in cowardly ways coy enough to avert direct or clear confrontation on the assertions.

- DARPA CIA TSS ADVANCED WEAPONS AND POISONS

  Voice To Skull, Also called V2K, V2S, or Voice of God Weapon, is a weapon used for transmitting voices with low frequencies and can be used to induce or manipulate dreams or deprive the target of sleep.

  Biological and Radiological poisoning capabilities, D-E-W assaults, improper or impeded medical or legal or correct health care.

www.surveillancesurvivors.info

Surveillance and Harassment Survivors Alliance

ATTENTION LAW ENFORCEMENT

The "Suspicious Person" you are ordered to

- spread rumors about,
- keep an eye on,
- overtly harass,
- deny equal protection under the law as they go about their daily lives or jobs or works, or religious activities
- treat as If they were "crazy" or build a reputation or image that the person you have targeted is "crazy"
- Falsify charges against "for the good of the community"
- Is NOT NOT NOT a

  > pedophile,

traitor,

terrorist,

criminal,

crazy person,

prostitute, etc.

They are a RANDOMLY CHOSEN SCAPE GOAT to FALSELY present as a threat, in order for useful idiots to harass and vilify filling the arbitrary needs of politicians in Fusion Centers , YOUR SUPERIORS who with Due Process of raking Due Process use badges to smear law abiding citizens most likely in purely politically motivated acts. This POLICE STATE at the expense of INNOCENT PEOPLE and YOUR COUNTRY /LAND OF THE (not so) FREE, and when launched against Journalists or whistle-blowers or others illegal impeachment of witnesses to government of public figure or protected elite misconduct.

You ARE BEING PLAYED FOR by corrupt, greedy enemies of America, hell bent on subverting freedom and justice and doing so by destroying thousands of innocent lives, so THEY can run America like a dictatorship.

Is THAT why YOU joined the police force? To be a Nazi?

WISE UP. REPLACE CORRUPT SUPERIORS.

COMMUNITY HARASSMENT

(a.k.a "organized harassment, "community policing," "cause stalking," "proxy stalking," "vengence stalking," "gang stalking")

is a FELONEY in all 50 states.

975 of the names in the TSDB (terrorist screening database) belong to citizens who have no ties to terrorism.

Criminal elements in pour federal agencies have been throwing INNOCENTS onto the terrorist watch-list in order to generate funding for the Department of Homeland Security and other F.B.I's 80 + fusion centers.

In the case of Edward Donegan the Semantic Artificial Intelligence system he (I) was developing was being copied by such malignant street criminals using it stepping stones for their career advancement hopes I found it a created a national security risk to offer ideas on those subject that I had been trained in.

These behemoths of "law enforcement Fusion Centers"

have stopped ZERO acts of terrorism. Over the last several decade, they have spread domestic terrorism in an informant-based, police-controlled society.

Targets in the TSDB are treated as criminals

McCarthyism has returned to the U.S.A. People in the community are lied to. They are told that the targets are dug dealers, pedophiles, thieves, vandals, prostitutes, crazies, and of course, terrorists.

Everyday citizens are then employed ot harass, stalk, and intimidate the targets on the watch-list.

Law enforcement officers sit back and allow members of the community to perform CRIMES on their behalf.

Anyone can become a target.

The simple nomination process for putting someone you don't like on the list, and likewise, ,anyone can you (or your loved ones) on the list. Once in the database, you become a non-consenting guinea pig for PsyOPS training and the testing of military-grade technology (research "Havana Syndrome).

This drags the U.S.A. back to the days of MK-ULTRA and COINTELPRO.

And the years or decades of being tortured, targeted citizens are more inclined to act violently if the program of picking then covertly initiating State desired fights succeeds. Are you fed-up with mass shootings in this country or perhaps the F.B.I goading the Tsarnevs into attacking Boston?)

Clandestinely provoked violence those the government paints as radicals allows law enforcement to say, "See? We told you he/she/they were crazy."

Many Targeted Individuals are treated both violently and criminally, face death threats, physical attacks, break-ins to their homes, many claimed food or other poisoning, or being targeted by criminal enterprises that have law enforcement backing.

They next ask for more funding and that "pre-crime" be made law.

Do Not participate in vigilantism! You will be an accessory to torture and murder, and you will be dooming your children and grandchildren to "life" in a police state. Do your research. Our Department of Homeland Security was designed by ex-STASI leader Marcus Wolf and ex-KGB leader General Yevgeny Primkov. Are you okay with that?

…

Visit www.targetedjustice.com to read their lawsuit. Support Jim Jordan's investigation of ABC Agencies. Google "NSA Whistle-blower Karen Stewart Exposes Biggest False Flag Operation in History. FBI/ Fusion Centers." Once a Targeted Individual is framed by surrounding actors staging seeming events the KOMPROMAT is then talked up in various circles of people to incite vigilantism towards the person who was the victim of a frame job. Even a magistrate or grand jury may receive "evidence" that had been staged by the FBI rather than found by investigator.

Using Environmental Stress to induce conflict or self harm, no touch stress infliction - Espionage agencies discredit those who have information compromising to high levels of authority rouge units

Neuropsychological & Electronic No-Touch Torture Report by Dr. Robert Duncan (used on targeted citizens here in the U.S.) SERE training (Survival, Evasion, Resistance and Escape) MAR 30 2015

The Executive Summary: Neuropsychological and Electronic No-Touch Torture Report Based on “The Torture Memos” and the Senate Intelligence Committee’s Declassified “Torture Report”

Perspectives on Enhanced Interrogation Techniques Project Proposals for Google Summer of Code 2015 By Robert Duncan, A.B., S.M., M.B.A., Ph.D.

“The United States is number one in torture since they are currently the world’s only superpower.” 04/2015

Torture is a horrific topic and most minds will turn away from it because it can’t be comprehended that humans can be motivated, or computer programs can be run to do this to other sentient beings. Just when we believed we were becoming more civilized as a culture, the technology for torture has advanced more than a hundred fold in recent decades.

This summary will get into ‘the minds of the dishonorable monsters’ of the psychology of torture. Those like Dick Cheney who helped authorize it under certain administrations and regimes of the U.S. government which have been proven to be criminal under U.S. law, treaties, and the International Criminal Court. There are many people involved in the conspiracy and cover-up including General Hayden.

The full report discloses the spectrum of techniques of interrogation and torture used by the U.S. and its allies. The United States government will officially deny the claims of this “no-touch torture report” but in time it will stand firm.

The technologies used are still classified as state secrets and will not be discussed in this summary. The torture methods have been leaked through thousands of American citizens who have survived the no-touch torture programs. The research and testimony has been accumulated since 2002 and merely used as examples but the names of the victims are withheld.

This report will not use skewed, misleading language such as “enhanced interrogation” to describe the torture techniques. Why torture? The CIA claims it works. The assumption is that it works to gain actionable intelligence. Torture is often used for revenge, punishment, interrogation, and behavior modification. In other terms torture is used to remove the continuity of thought to confuse the target to reveal information, erase brain patterns such as values and beliefs, or to break down the human spirit to make them submit and obey their handlers. The downside of torture is that the countries that do it lose “moral soft power” in world politics. Without due process, over 25% of those reported in the Senate Torture Report were declared innocent. Blowback is always a repercussion of torture. Torture often takes a long time to affect the target from months to years. Torture has shown to be unreliable except for getting false confessions and bad information but the U.S. and its allies are improving on their tactics and techniques.

The purpose of this report is to draw the parallels between physical torture techniques and no-touch torture methods used in secret by governments who possess the technologies that still go on today. This is a brief summary of offensive psychological and information warfare methods using traditional methods and modern cybernetic techniques while exploring hyper-game theory to walk the target to the desired path: leak intelligence, commit assassinations, or change beliefs.

Numerated Torture Methods for Interrogation and Behavior Modification (A comparison between physical and no-touch torture tactics)

1. Induction of Depressive/Manic states

The idea is to shake up the emotional states of the target because different information can be accessed at each state. Making the target feel despair and helplessness is the objective. This cycle of hope building and then breaking is done in many ways. The techniques between the physical methods and the no-touch technological methods are similar. Speech is very important during this process of emotional manipulation. Such examples are, “We have imprisoned you without due processes or hope of it. You are indefinitely detained.” Hope building examples include, “Sorry. We have mistaken you for someone else. You will be compensated for false imprisonment and torture.” The main difference between the cybernetic technology and physical is that emotional state clusters can be entrained into the target mind which speeds up the process. The communication is done differently but perceived as human speech. In the no-touch torture methods it is helpful if the target is labeled with mental illness that is being created for discrediting purposes so as not to draw human rights groups' attention.

2. Memory Erasure

The military and CIA have been researching memory erasing drugs for half a century. The focus of this summary report is on interrogation. Memory erasure is an important technique during interrogation. It is used in combination with sleep deprivation. There are many drugs that have been developed for physical memory erasure. One such interrogation method requires acquiring information from the target while on these drugs and recording the subject. After a sleeping cycle, the interrogator claims that the target has confessed. Of course the target remembers nothing of their conversation. The interrogator will play samples of the subject's conversation back to them making the subject believe that the interrogator knows more than they do. Similar techniques are used in the wireless, no-touch torture and interrogation programs. The cybernetic methods of memory erasure have additional purposes. The memory erasure can be used on the cybernetic target to make the target believe people have broken in and moved their belongings. While physical black bag jobs do occur, it is a way to make the target more paranoid.

3. Electricity and Shocks

Pain and fear of death are common tactics during interrogation. Shocking by electricity is a traditional method of torture and exposed in the CIA's secret prisons. Shocking the testicles and nipples are the most common due to their sensitivity. Interestingly, the thousand of interviews of no-touch torture involves "stings" and "shocks" to various parts of their bodies over long durations.

4. Fear and Terror

There are many techniques to induce extreme fear in the target. In physical renditions dogs, power drills, guns, insects, mutilation, blow torches, water boarding, suffocation, mock burials, and mock executions are just a few the United States government have used. Remember that many targets of torture die from the physical effects. It is torture to death.

Let us compare the no-touch torture methods used to inflict the same terror and mental anguish. In several of these techniques the target needs to hear their handler's voice. This report does not describe the technologies used to broadcast voices to the target at a distance. While the subject can be broadcast mental images to their mind using hypnosis and other suggestions as well as visual entrainments, the more invasive controls of the brain manipulation technologies can be used to entrained the brain's autonomic nervous systems such as not breathing causing the target to not be able to sleep from fear of suffocation equivalent to water boarding. The neural linguistic programming can add fears such as heart attack, stroke, and cancer threats. Even motor cortex mapping can cause twitches in any part of the body. One example used a swift neck movement with a voice transmission, “We are trying to break your neck.” Directed energy effects such as Active Denial System can make the target feel that they are on fire indefinitely without the target dying from burns. Maximum pain and torture weapons have been evolving. Every drug effect can be artificially induced into the target mind including those of poisons.

5. Imprisonment and Isolation

Isolation is commonly used as punishment in prisons. Many whistleblowers like Bradley Manning suffer this condition. In soft interrogation it is used to get the target to talk to their interrogator since humans have the need for companionship. In no-touch torture the target is driven from their friends and family using different techniques in order to isolate them so that the electronic mind control has more effect on their psyche. Like in Guantanamo, the target becomes isolated losing their job and medical care. Part of the method involves slander in their community. They end up on the most part in poverty and paranoid about doctors and other people from false correlations that are purposefully induced into their lives. Isolation is also a form of sensory deprivation which will be discussed later. Days and weeks lose their meaning.

6. Sexually Disturbing Tailored Pornography

The Summary of the Senate Torture Report disclosed the disgusting revelations that in the secret torture prisons the targets were forced to perform homosexual acts on each other against their will and religion in order not to be beaten or killed. This is a common break down tactic of belief systems and the human will. In no-touch torture the techniques are more psychologically specialized for each target. Most common examples include homosexual targets that are forced with voices that are derogatory to their lifestyle and similar mental images. Almost all targets are forced to view child pornography in their minds. And vice versa is true, that heterosexual targets are forced to view homosexual sexual acts like in the secret U.S. torture prisons.

7. Mutilation

Also mentioned in the declassified report on torture was mutilation of the human. Cutting the naked target's penis and scrotum, pulling nails or teeth is common. In no-touch torture mutilation is done by trickery. Let us look at a couple examples. There have been several targets who believed that the microwave hearing effect and other voice induction methods were done by microchips implanted in their teeth or ears. They had all their teeth pulled because they believed it was a technology called bone conductance. Others have poked out their ear drums in the belief they had micro implants in their ears. There are many more examples of trickery used to make the targets mutilate themselves.

8. Personal and Spiritual Defamation

In physical torture the CIA and other groups use propaganda and defamation of character for those they oppose. For detainees they try to disenfranchise the target from their religion. They will defecate on their Bible or Koran for example. They might say, “Why is your God not saving you?” In no touch torture and behavior modification they might try to make an atheist believe in god. It is just a mechanism to alter belief systems for control and experimentation. Perhaps the target may wish to confess their secrets to a “voice of god weapon”. Information warfare covers the gamut of electronic communication as well. The government training exercise uses language like “befriend”, “infiltrate”, “mask/ mimic”, “ruse”, “set-up”, “disrupt”, “create cognitive stress”, “use deception”, “ruin business relationships”, and “post negative information on appropriate forums” - in a malicious effort to target bloggers, activists, journalists, social event organizers and anyone else deemed to be a ‘emerging leader’ or voice in the public sphere. 9. Psychological Intimidation

This is a topic for a target at the beginning of the trials and programs. Physical break-ins are common even if the target has an alarm system. The NSA has used stalking of foreign officials in the past for economic gain. The FBI does black bag jobs to invade a home without a warrant. The point is to let the target know they are being watched and to increase their paranoia. The NSA easily hacks all computer systems and causes harm to the victim’s intellectual property and their relationships from that endpoint. In the no touch torture false correlations between pain and a neighbor coming home can be induced.

9. Rape

Rape is a common practice in torture. It causes much psychological trauma. In the United States methods of rape in their military and CIA secret prisons it is often relabeled. It is commonly done by prods but “rectal rehydration” is the more common misnomer. Often they call it forced feeding through the rectum but it is meant to induce psychological scaring and trauma. Several have died from the technique due to rectal bleeding. In no-touch torture the psychological trauma of simulated rape takes on different forms. Using technique often called EEG-heterodyning the targets will receive molestation effects of their genitals. In men this can be the anus and genitals. Similarly women can be wirelessly raped by the analogous function of perception.

10. Dietary Manipulation, Forced Weakness and Sickness

The idea behind dietary manipulation is to weaken the target. This is easily done in a physical setting but in no-touch the hunger trigger needs to be suppressed. Sometimes a false correlation between eating food and sickness is induced to make the target believe they are being poisoned. However, poisoning is common in physical renditions too.

11. Repetition

Verbal breakdown is most important during interrogations and torture. Obviously speaking the language of the target is necessary. This is why there are interrogators in all languages. Repetition is an important neural linguistic programming interrogation tactic to influence the target mind. During the breakdown process, threats to kill and to torture the target's family or friends are common. Repetitious questioning and breakdown phrases are automated in both the physical and no-touch versions of torture. An interesting technology that is used for no-touch torture is called chatter bots. Chatter bots, an artificial intelligence program, automate much of the repetition so that the interrogators don't drive themselves crazy during the neural linguistic torture and programming phases. Let us not forget the Chinese Water Torture, a single drop of water on the forehead of the detainee for months. Repetition is a form of torture.

12. Sensitization of Pain Impulses

While the reverse can be obtained, optimizing perceived pain and misery is the objective in torture. Each trauma adds to the overall misery throughout life. Optimization of pain has been studied by the military and intelligence agencies. In the past the CIA has used drugs such as LSD to enhance fear and terror in the subject. Other methods such as hypnosis can increase perceived pain and the power of suggestion such as telling the subject his pinky finger is going to be cut off before it is done. In no-touch torture the same psychological manipulations are exerted. Subliminal and overt suggested are often told to the subject before the directed energy or EEG heterodyning pain inductions in order to maximize their effectiveness.

13. Sensory Overload and Deprivation

Again, this technique of overloading or depriving the human of sensory stimulus is ubiquitous in torture around the world not just in U.S. secret prisons. Torture subjects in the United States have reported the use of repetitive bad music and noise campaigns. An unusual torture technique used in the U.S. secret prisons was of a use of a plastic suit filled with ice while they beat the target. Ultra bright lights for days on end in the prison and hot/cold temperature changes in the environment are frequent. In no-touch torture, the target's brain is forced to release dopamine which causes pupil dilatation. This acts as a sensory overload. For example the non-lethal microwave weapons research done by a professor in University of Nevada has shown this capability. Body metabolism can be altered with these weapons causing cold and hot flashes. Targets of no-touch torture often hear endless tinnitus.

14. Sexual Humiliation and Lack of Privacy

Often used in common prisons is a lack of privacy. It is both necessity for security and a form of sexual humiliation. Also in prison many people are raped. No-touch torture offers the same sexual humiliation and lack of privacy by using through wall radar, cameras, and EEG visual cloning to let the target know they are being watched. Degrading comments are often used on the no-touch torture subjects while they are naked or in the bathroom.

15. Maximum Sensory Pain Techniques

Basic torture involves brutalization, i.e. physical strikes, kicks in the groin, pepper spray or tear gas, etc. Anything that involves maximum pain is the objective. Amazingly, these same basic tortures can be done wirelessly into the human mind. All forms of sickness have been reported without any real illness behind the suffering. All suffering can be entrained into the minds of no-touch torture subjects.

16. Sleep Deprivation

This is the number one torture method along with the popularity in the press of water boarding. This is done in every country that uses torture. The United States is number one in torture since they are currently the world's only superpower. A repetitive sleep deprivation cycle is generally done 180 hrs/7.5 days at a time in the physical renditions, or in no-touch torture five days awake and two days of sleep. Sleep deprivation accomplishes the objective of memory loss during interrogation and induces hallucinations which help with the interrogation process. In behavior modification and programming it is necessary too.

17. Stress Positions

Keeping detainees handcuffed above their head and to walls so that they must stand for days is a common ploy in torture. These types of poses are called stress positions. They can be mimicked in no-touch torture. An example of one such trick requires the target to believe they can deflect radar energy using pots or pans and that it is directional. The target is being given an ample amount of pain until their hands and arms are spread apart holding the pans trying to block the signals. They must maintain that position in order to get any relief from the torture signals. However the stress position itself is physical torture. Often accompanying this technique are voices saying to the target, “You are doing it to yourself.”

We will finish off this summary of U.S. and its allies’ torture, interrogation, and behavior modification experimentation with ideas of why they are done to the general public and falsely accused detainees. Anyone can be put into these programs. Justice and rule of law does not exist at the highest levels of government. Treaties are worthless because the #1 agreement in the rules of war, a ban against torture, is not obeyed. This creates a more brutal and barbaric society lead by example.

No-touch torture uses the same interrogation tactics as physical interrogations but with some new twists. Techniques such as “Jeff and Mutt” a.k.a. “Good Cop Bad Cop” are used. The bad cop tortures the target and the good cop tries to gain their trust. In mind control, trust games are commonly employed to manipulate the beliefs of the target. Creating hatred of groups through false correlations and deception is a common CIA method of trickery.

In the CIA programs, the target is put through these phases as written in the documentation, “Disorient and confuse the target. Use them for our purposes, and then dispose of them in any way possible.” We can only surmise by our sample set of a thousand people what “dispose” means: prison, suicide, or perhaps a mental hospital. Coercing and torturing people to suicide is very common. Both tactics in physical or no-touch torture involves plausible deniability.

TED L. GUNDERSON & ASSOCIATES

6230-A Wilshire Blvd., Suite 6
Los Angeles, California 90048
Phone: (337) 344-8876

I, Ted L. Gunderson, hereby swear under the pains and penalties of jury that the following statements are true and correct:

…

1. My name is Ted L.. Gunderson. I am the owner and operator of Ted L. Gunderson & Associates, an international security and consulting firm based out of Santa Monica, California. I am currently a licensed private investigator in the state of California. I have performed private Investigation and security work for numerous individuals, companies, and governments worldwide since founding my firm in 1979.

   I have worked for, amongst others, F. Lee Bailey, Esq., The California Narcotics Authority by appointment of Governor Jerry Brown, The 1984 Los Angeles Olympic Committee, and The 1979 Pan American Games in San Juan, Puerto Rico by appointment of then U.S, Attorney General Griffin Bell.

   [Ted Gunderson narrowly was passed over to be FBI director as in inbound Reagan Bush team preferred Griffin Bell but the respect between the candidates for the top job was mutual.]

2. Previous to my [Ted Gunderson's] work as a private investigator I spent nearly three decades in the F.B.I. Between 1951 and 1960 I was an F.B.I. Special Agent. In 1960 I was promoted as a supervisor at F.B.I. Headquarters in Washington, D.C., where I was in charge of Organized Crime and Racketeering investigations covering 26 F.B.I Field Offices nationwide.

   [The Anti-Racketeering Anti Hoffa Robert F. Kennedy as Attorney General of the United States of America chose Ted Gunderson to be his right hand man in fighting the mafia. As Bobby Kennedy took the call his brother was assassinated and deceased it was Ted Gunderson in the meeting on the Mafia in his office with him.]

Following the assassination of President John F. Kennedy I was re-assigned to Special [JFK] Inquiry White House Matters at F.B.I. Headquarters. In 1965 I was promoted again to Assistant Special Agent-In-Charge of Internal Security and Anti-Terrorism of the F.B.I. New Haven, Connecticut Field Office.

In 1970 I was promoted to Assistant Special Agent- In-Charge of the F.B.I. Philadelphia, Pennsylvania Field Office.

On July 12, 1972 I successfully negotiated with two terrorist hijackers of National Airlines Flight 496 for the release of 119 passengers at Philadelphia International Airport: In 1973 I was promoted to Chief Inspector at F.B.I. Headquarters[appears to be just below Director of the FBI]. Also served as Special Agent-In-Charge of the F.B.I. Memphis and Dallas Field Offices[and continued ever increasing JFK Dealy Plaza material as Warren Commission, etc, unfolded]. I retired from the F.B.I, as Senior Special Agent-In-Charge of the Los Angeles Field Office of the F.B.I. with over 700 F.B.I. employees and a budget of over 22 million dollars in 1979, [perhaps a few cases to supervise].

3. I have read the Complaint in the current action of Mr. Keith Labella against F.B.I. and D.O.J., It is my professional opinion, based on information, knowledge and belief that the information sought by Mr. Labella in this F.O.I.A suit regarding “gang stalking”, “gang stalking groups” and “gang stalking methods” reasonably describes an ongoing, active, covert nationwide program that is in effect today, and, based on my investigations and experience, has been operational since at least the early 1980’s. Since the 1980°s gang stalking has increased in scope, intensity and sophistication by adapting to new communications and surveillance technology. These programs are using the codenames Echelon Program, Carnivore System, and Tempest Systems.

The Echelon Program is administered by the N.S.A. out of Fort Meade, Maryland, and monitors all email and phone calls in the world. Carnivore System is administered by the N.S.A. out of Fort Meade, Maryland, and can download any computer system without being traced or otherwise known to the owner. Tempest Systems can decipher what is on any computer screen up to a quarter of a mile away.

These programs are negatively impacting thousands of Americans and severely abusing their civil rights on a daily basis.

4. Based on my investigative work, which includes intelligence from sources such as active and former members of the Intelligence Services (including the FBI, the C.I.A, the N.S.A and Military Intelligence), information from informants active in criminal enterprises, and, victim testimonies, I have come to the conclusion that thousands of victims have been targeted by an illegal government rogue criminal enterprise that is active 24 hours a day within the U.S. This conspiracy is far too active to be controlled or operated by private enterprise whose goals are achieving financial gain.

These operations require extensive financing with no return on the investment. This program's operations are financed by illegal black operations, i.e., narcotics, prostitution, child kidnapping (children sell at covert auctions for up to $50,000 per child), human trafficking, gambling and other rackets.)

5. I have documentation and know that throughout the U.S., operating 24 hours-a-day and 7 days-a-week, there is a Central Command, located within the U.S., with multiple satellite offices, whose administrators can instantly initiate surveillance, phone taps and harassment against any individual in the country.

They have the technology, financing and manpower to dispense illegal surveillance and harassment against anyone at any time, day or might. I have files on numerous cases of active, programmatic, illegal government harassment currently being conducted against thousands of Americans. This makes the F.B.I.'s former COINTELPRO program, which I worked on, including in a supervisory capacity, look like a Sunday school program by comparison.

6. I firmly believe that most individuals working in the F.B I, other intelligence agencies, and the government overall are honest, law-abiding public servants. However, a sophisticated network of rogue operatives has secretly infiltrated the F.B.I,, other intelligence agencies including the C.I.A, and other key government positions.

This rogue element seeks personal power and wealth and considers themselves above the law and the Constitution. They are carrying out the aforementioned surveillance and harassment activities in conjunction with organized crime, the cult movement in America including Satanic cults, other commercial and political interests, and even misguided civic organizations and neighborhood groups.

This illegal surveillance and harassment program is being called gang stalking and organized stalking by the victims targeted by it.

The victims are targeted for a variety of reasons including government and corporate whistle-blowers, parties to financial and employment disputes, parties to marital disputes (usually divorced women), and even jilted paramours. Journalists covering controversial issues, and, even attorneys and private investigators representing unpopular clients or interests, have been targeted by this program.

7. Individuals targeted by this program have been subjected to illegal and unconstitutional phone taps, illegal re-routing of business and private phone calls for purposes of harassment, illegal audio “bugging”, surreptitious entry into home, office, and vehicle, visual surveillance in the home conducted by illegal placement of miniature remote, wireless cameras (often accessible via internet), illegal internet spyware, illegal GPS tracking (often through their own mobile phones), regular fixed and mobile surveillance, mail misdirection, mail theft and tampering, financial and employment sabotage, slander campaigns and community ostracizing , internet disinformation and smear campaigns, poisoning, assaults and murder, illegal set-ups on ding charges and other felony charges, amongst many other civil rights abuses.

8. In addition to high-ranking members of the F.B.I., other intelligence services, and the government overall, wealthy, powerful members of criminal syndicates, multi-millionaires and the corporate elite are using the government gang stalking program to harass enemies.

They can get a targeted individual harassed for the rest of that individual's life (individual cases of gang stalking lasting for over a decade are common).

The higher status members of the gang stalking conspiracy initiate the gang stalking and coordinate logistics and funding. Lower echelon government rogue operatives, lower ranking members of the military (in violation of Posse Comitatus), petty criminals and street thugs perform the actual grunt work of daily monitoring and harassment of individuals targeted by the program.

9. Based on my professional experience, extensive intelligence information and belief, it is my professional opinion that the F.B.I is involved in and has investigative files on the subject of gang stalking, related gang stalking methods, and gang stalking groups in the F.B.I's vast intelligence files, that are responsive to Mr. Labella's F.O.ILA. Complaint. Furthermore, I have personally referred numerous victims of gang stalking to the appropriate agents at the F.B.I. for investigation of their cases. I have also furnished the F.B.I. with documentation of an active, international child kidnapping ring probably operated by rogue C.I.A. agents.

The F.B.I has ignored my requests to investigate even though it is their responsibility to investigate kidnappings. I have a contact in Germany who advises me that the C.I.A. has set up secret operations on U.S. military bases for the kidnapping, sale and trafficking of children worldwide. The FBI may be using a unique codename and nomenclature for the gang stalking phenomenon in its records. However, this is a semantic difference, and, in no way changes my professional opinion that the F.B.I. has investigative files on the nationwide phenomenon of gang stalking described in reasonable and specific detail in Mr. Labella's F.O.L A. Complaint.

These F.B.I. files contain information responsive to Mr. Labella's F.O.L.A. Complaint regarding the subject of gang stalking. The F.B.I. and other intelligence agencies are administering and covering up the rogue, covert, government criminal enterprise of gang stalking. The gang stalking phenomenon appears in the records of both the F.B.I. and the N.5.A. in their records pertaining to the Echelon Program, Carnivore System, and Tempest Systems.

In addition, the gang stalking phenomenon appears in the records of both the F.B.I. and the N.S.A. in their records pertaining to information collected by Narus systems. Narus is a wholly owned subsidiary of defense contractor Boeing that produces sophisticated, mass surveillance computer systems currently being used by both the F.B.I. and the N.S.A.

…

Dated this Al day of ©nscl. 2011.

Los Angeles, California

Jet A Sonidiosson.

Ted L. Gunderson

NOTARY

OS/EH ORGANIZED STALKING AND ELECTRONIC HARASSMENT

SYNONYMS. GROUP STALKING. GANG STALKING,CAUSE STALKING, ELECTRONIC ASSAULT, "MIND CONTROL"

ORGANIZED STALKING

VICIOUS RUMOUR CAMPAIGNS, ON FOOT FOLLOWING, FOLLOWING BY CAR, NOISE CAMPAIGNS, SABOTAGE OF HOME/WORWCAR THEFT HOME/WORK/CAR, TERRORIZE/BLIND/IKILL PET, HARASS CHILD, STAGED CAR ACCIDENT, ATTEMPTS TO RUN OVER, FREQUENT WRONG NUMBER CALLS, STREET/MALL/IN-STORE "SKITS", SLOPPY/EXPENSIVE/LATE WORK, TRADES BREAKs OTHER THINGS, POLICE REFUSE CRIME REPORTS, ON THE JOB HARASSMENT, HARASSMENT ON TRANSIT VEHICLES, HARASSMENT ON AIRCRAFT, LIES TO POTENTIAL EMPLOYERS

Noise Campaigns: Fog thiking with imposed noxiousness competing for the forefront of thoughts. Disrupt attention, cognitive acvitities with threating, abusive, unsettling, terryfing or angering stimuly strong enough to become forefront in cognition. Clear enough in meaning to cause fear, anger, embitterment, annoyance, distraction.

ELECTRONIC SOCIAL MEDIA, TELEPHONE, HORNS, FIREALARMS, CONSTRUCTION WORK, CHILDREN, TORTUREED ANIMAL SOUNDSHARASSMENT

OTHER ELECTRONIC MEDICAL EQUIPMENT ASSAULTS

SLEEP PREVENTION, BODILY PAIN, POWERFUL ITCHING.(Scabies and Parasitosis), REMOTE LIMB JERKING,, BURNS ON SKIN, "BEE STINGS"/NEEDLES, INVOLUNTARY SPEECH, FATIGUE ATTACKS, THROUGH WALL RADAR, HIGH BODY HEAT, VERY FAST HEARTBEAT, BLURRED VISION, MICROWAVE VOICE TO SKULL. (PROJECTION OF ODD SOUNDS AND VOICE ELECTRONICALLY)

REMOTELY INDUCED MIND CONTROL

DREAM MANIPULATION, MOOD ALTERATION, URGE INDUCTION , MEMORY FOGGING

Rudy2's Multilingual Blog

https://rudy2.wordpress.com/

GANG STALKING VIGILANTISM RUN BY U.S. GOVERNMENT, SAYS EX-FBI OFFICIAL reads the post title on Rudy2s blog.

The ex-FBI official is Ted Gunderson mentioned earlier in this page and let's first look at Ted Gunderson's death.

In his 80s he said the United States Military was in an NWO overthrow plot and using Directed Energy Weapons on citizens, government officials, conducting poisonings, and other targeted killings on behalf of the NWO and he continued these assertions and writings until his death from Cancer, perhaps Cancer Type CIA-Havana Syndrome.

Rudy2: Former FBI official Ted Gunderson died of cancer on July 31, 2011. Was his illness induced by silent electromagnetic assault or by other nefarious means? We will never know - and that's just the way certain entities want it.

A former senior official of the Federal Bureau of Investigation says "rogue" military intelligence and law enforcement units of the federal government oversee a nationwide network of community-based "gang stalking" harassment, intimidation and domestic terrorism directed at thousands of U.S. citizens who have been extrajudicially targeted as "dissidents" or undesirables.

Ted Gunderson, 82, who has served as the *Special Agent in Charge*of the FBI's Los Angeles, Memphis and Dallas FBI Field Offices, has stated in a series of public speaking appearances that he is now targeted by these same elements, and fears for his life and for the safety of his family. He reports that the windows of his home have been shot out, and he believes he has been poisoned and physically sickened by those seeking to silence him.

"Based on my thirty years' experience and research, I have determined there are thousands of victims who have been targeted by an illegal U.S. government rogue criminal enterprise - military intelligence, probably, tied into CIA and FBI and so forth - that is active 24 hours a day throughout the United States," Gunderson stated in an October 2008 speech posted last fall on YouTube, three years before cancer consumed him.

Newton's Cradle

Desk Newtons Cradle by Nantico

Newton's cradle retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The Newton's cradle is a device that demonstrates the conservation of momentum and the conservation of energy with swinging spheres. When one sphere at the end is lifted and released, it strikes the stationary spheres, transmitting a force through the stationary spheres that pushes the last sphere upward. The last sphere swings back and strikes the nearly stationary spheres, repeating the effect in the opposite direction. The device is named after 17th-century English scientist Sir Isaac Newton and designed by French scientist Edme Mariotte. It is also known as Newton's pendulum, Newton's balls, Newton's rocker or executive ball clicker (since the device makes a click each time the balls collide, which they do repeatedly in a steady rhythm).

The goal of Targeted Individuals hit by smear and other abuse tactics should be to with means available for justice seeking to hit back into the system with treble civil force and add to that criminal prosecution of those who have criminal liabilities in the assaults on Targeteds.

In United States law, treble damages is a term that indicates that a statute permits a court to triple the amount of the actual/ compensatory damages to be awarded to a prevailing plaintiff. Treble damages are a multiple of, and not an addition to, actual damages in some instances. On occasion, however, as in CAL. CIV. - Wikipedia

A smear campaign begins with deceptive, forged, or altered appearances elsewhere and then incites others to politically blackball a person anonymously and on excuses, the victim of the smear campaign out of favor.

FBI records show COINTELPRO resources targeted groups and individuals the FBI deemed subversive, including feminist organizations, the Communist Party USA anti-Vietnam War organizers, activists of the civil rights movement and Black Power movement (e.g. Martin Luther King Jr., the Nation of Islam, and the Black Panther Party), environmentalist and also animal rights organizations, the American Indian Movement (AIM), independence movements (including Puerto Rican independence groups such as the Young Lords and the Puerto Rican Socialist Party), a variety of organizations that were part of the broader New Left, and far-right groups such as the Ku Klux Klan and the National States' Rights Party.

Smear Campaign Tactics and other tactics

- Black Bag Jobs : Break-ins to plant evidence or steal files, destroy computers, or even comit murders staged as suicides

- Double Entenderes Fraud depends on double meanings. They can be provided by "Double Entenderesa word or phrase open to two interpretations, one of which is usually risqué or indecent. 'he was unable to get through two consecutive sentences without a smutty double entendre'"

    - Dubious Constructions Person "A" says thank you to Perons "B". It is doubtful at best as what person "B" is being thanked for, something being implicitly referred to, or if person "B" has done anything at all for Person "A" based on the statement

    - Double Constructions As I Edward Paul Donegan walked along the Seawall in Corpus Christi a black male about 20 years old, maybe 18, said to a dog with him "You don't belong here because you are white" Although the statement was explicit who it was being said to (a person on the phone, a third party, the dog) is still implicit. At the Seawall I pointed out his dog was not white so why wuld he sat that and he smirked but did not resound.

- Void for Vagueness Ambiguous statements, embellishing intonations, actions including expressive psychical conduct and pantomimes, accounting, or bullying consistent with and promoting a Rumor or Legend but lacking debatable specifics and confusable or overlaying with non implicating acts.

    - Monologues : Statements to a COINTELPRO victim asserting Smear facts but made to appear dialogue with the smear victim

    - Bullying and Cyberbullyng Cheap shots, vague and carefully crafted, try to sell the smear but are not specific and no actual accusation is exposed to scrutiny. Often a Bully working withe a Dopple will assert an offensive act has been comitted in an obnoxious way while not asserting an allegation who comitted the offensive act, the Mimic or the Smeared person.

    - Bragadicio activities implying a self importance and pecking order but bolstered only by fraud causally not scrutinized because of physical threats obviously posed by the braggart.

- Maladministration Maladministration is the actions of a government body (or infiltrated private body) which can be seen as causing an injustice. The law in the United Kingdom says Ombudsmen must investigate maladministration. - Wikipedia. Such injustices can include representing the interests of Espionage or political operatives or self interests rather than the correct administration obligations of the infiltrated entity

- Altered Outcomes :Forced into homeless shelters, vagrancy jails, or mental hospitals and victim shamed

- Denial of Right To Clear Name: Use of behind the smear victim's back tactics

- Snitchjacking : Dishonest snitch conduct achieve corrupt police goals

- Mafiajacking In extreme cases the name of a potential victim may be offered to Racketeering Influenced Criminal Organizations or purely criminal organizations for tacitly backed State crimes to be committed against Targeted Individuals with the State turning a blind eye or assisting in the attack.

- Strewn Evidence : Leaving of incriminating items in the vicinity of the Smear victim

- Cyber Strewn Items : Poison in feeds of adult content with content of minors, etc., Similarly minors in exploitable conditions placed in vicinity of Smear victim later associated with planted victim.

- Shills : Shills appear normal members of public but are participating in fraud as COINTELPRO planted operatives

- Long Con Sets Mock-ups, Dopple locations, or real person's home wherein by description events may be confused with occurring in Smear victim's home or in someway allegedly connected to Smear victims home.

- Fabrication Evidence or Records or Chains of Events Taking something that may be truthful such as an application for a Driver's License or REAL ID but interfering with the process such that the resultant record or chain of event has fraudulent completion or is mixed with some other form of fraud or purely forged evidence lacking any truthful elements

- Corruption and Depletion of Targeted Person's allies or resources Causing others including those with obligations to assist or perform contractual obligations to the Targeted Individual by enlisting them in Cartels including Racketeering Influenced Criminal Organizations.

- SECRET ATTACKS Raw Source Radiation, Poisons, etc., damage to vehicles, Drivers Licenses, Real IDs, eyewear and medical sabotaged, etc.,

Three Witnesses

Tom Dunham Ed Donegan and Jen Moore assert a fake teen call girl ring is operating but only to frame us. Jen Moore asserts the operations pays fake allegations made against Ed Donegan Glorian Donegan when a Gullible confesses (in the identity of Ed Donegan) to harming minors, then, after law enforcement confrontation, the adult sex worker gives lessons in adult sexual anatomy. A smear campaign in offices and elsewhere uses Tom Dunham and my own identity as the perp.

> Around the time a woman was breaking into my apartment, various allusions to this event were made at SelectQuote Insurance.

The method of entry suggests theatrics were planned from the get go. The keys left hanging on my window didn't open anything, but were probably there to suggest that they opened my door. The woman probably had a master key, but conceivably could have picked the lock while pretending to use the keys as well.

I was given a fake rock for hiding keys while on the job at SelectQuote around this time. Just out of the blue. I was also warned to change my locks before my then estranged wife got back into town. Which was exactly when the break-in took place.

From SelectQuote to my Neighborhood - SelectQuote Review

Note that someone Tom Dunham is around makes a statement to Tom Dunham implicating Tom Dunham in the fake set of keys likely for a young call girl. At BAL statements are made to and around me trying to implicate me yet I am trying to document all this and report it. Tom Dunham and I are being framed by the police. Note also possible land-lord involvement.

The fake keys drop outside Anonymous Unit 2 of Casa Linda in a blue paint paint can in a building far away from mine but a person says to me are the keys ready for me as if I had anything to do with it, I did not..

The Gullible a retarded person needing retardation services is chased to an ampartment not mine and he is not me but confronted as a pedophile he pays up, avoids arrest that way and is provided adult sex workers.

Mistress Isys @MistressIsys · Jun 22

Someone's really lucky to have Me over tonight. You're dying, wishing it was you worm.

#femdom #latex #fishnet #corset #worship #obey #montreal

4 4 24

Consider these with the Austin Motel 6 and Studio 6 break-ins

T-Mobile 4G 92% 12:51

Mistress Isys 💋
2,703 Tweets

Tweets | Tweets & replies | Media | Likes

1 22 80

Mistress Isys 💋 @Mistr... · 47m
Just cause ;)

1 7

Mistress Isys 💋 @Mistres... · 1h
Bikini and pool day.
#kneel and #worship

Mistress Isys @MistressIsys · Jun 28
Just cause :)
2
4
23

Mistress Isys
Ta faiblesse est encore plus palpable lorsque de Ma hauteur Je te contrôle.
#femdom #latex #fishnets #smokingfetish #longlegs #dominatrix #montreal #obey
Translate Tweet

In Bay Area Laundry and at other places drugs and prostitutes are being alleged but uniformed law enforcement and social workers are staging these as sanctioned state acts.

Note that Tom Dunham and Ed Donegan are from the San Francisco Bay Area and some of the drug paraphenalia left behind were from City of Oakland social worker Lori Cox, her hotel reciept in the strewn rubble.

Black Money Black Budgets Black Operations

Ted Gunderson * uses Pawns in the GameBook by William Guy Carr. https://www.audible.com/pd/Red-Pill-Radio-Ted-Gundersons-Magnum-Opus-Podcast/B08PY1GVKY

Illuminati, 2,000 highly placed great social leaders Use monetary and sex bribery in social control adhesion of movement because once entrapped patsys are slaves at risk of being exposed by the Illuminati and thus are blackmail slaves of Illuminati.

In Edward Donegan's case (my own) the Targeting of me (harrassment) is based on what the architects of sham investigations targeting me know to be false. That I am a Neo Nazi (rather than Bell Curve based IQ theory) and that I am retarded myself and that I wish to harm or am a threat to children and that I have not seen women naked before and need modeles hired in tight fitting gym clothes so that I might get a look. Further the architects of this scheme have delusions that if I see a female in "revealing" attire that will bring about pregnacny. "Money is created" that I will make that woman pregnant with my money shot or she can use a money shot for others since I saw her in tight or loose clothing.

IT is a so called Black Budget slush fund that impersonators having my identity will offer money for such parades that were given to Ed Donegan (actual Ed Donegan) that are nothing more than labeling Ed Donegan with bizzare antics of smearing me as though I were pursuing them rather than vice versa. The plan is to toxify the very existance of my sexuality suggesting ejaculatory indebtedness is created by how those around me dress.

The core payout is in two forms. The first lables me in a very abusive way as a predator and some admit that is for political rather than trutfhull reasons. The second is the parties that are launched and the sex markets run in the illegal operaations.

One obviouse question is why do people claim my sight of them creates a right for them to become pregnant?

Racketeering Operations In Biology and Reproductivity

1. Petite Cycle: Shills will offensively alter the context of my acts and thus alter the appearance of my actions such as removing adults and placing minors there who could falsely be descried as my viticms but are photo-bombs.

    A. Misrepresentation of me and my property and rights is put in place who will assist in protecting operations from my scrutiny or the defense of my own interest

B. Offensive narrative and one threatening to me is acted out in my vicinity

The offensive Narrative skitted out in the street theater or Panta Mime acted out Mimes created an appearance of something not there, the Legend of something is built by the actions of actors

C. The ambiguity from sub-textual acts and falsified appearances utilizing manipulation of optics ofa situation is perpetuated by additional or the same Shills to dupe others as to what really occurred during faked appearances while at the original scene

D. The Legend, the manufactured acted out appearance of something is treated as real elsewhere and appears real and will dupe those not at the original scene to test the validity of the appearances

E. Some Reward or Bounty will remunerate some injustice that the Legend mimed out tells of thus encouraging by Bounty or Bird-Dogging fee the activities of Mimes.

F. The Legend of events surrounding the person the Legend is about will defame the person the Mimes surrounded and may be a pretext in Abuse of Process to harm the person who was surround by Mimes or encourage disdain for the person who was surrounded by Mimes.

2. Grand Cycle : Shills will offensively alter the context of my acts and thus alter the appearance of my actions such as removing adults and placing minors there who could falsely be descried as my victims but are photo-bombs. Because the scenario is a threat and offensive and even emotionally provocative the person surrounded by Mimes may attack them to end the manufacture of the Legend or call police on the Mimes

A. Misrepresentation of my and my property and rights is put in place who will assist in protecting operations from my scrutiny or the defense of my own interest

B. Offensive narrative and one threatening to me is acted out in my vicinity

C. The person surrounded by Mimes may call police about the mimes or attack the mimes to prevent the Legend from sticking to the person targeted by the Mimes. In such cases the Mime will deny the sub-textual acts were in furtherance of fraud and in counter-claim assert the police were called by a person making paranoid of schizophrenic statements. The result can be institutionalizing under color of mental defects treatments asserting there is a “mental health component” in the statements ts of the victim who called police.

D. The ambiguity from sub-textual acts and falsified appearances utilizing manipulation of optics ofa situation is perpetuated by additional or the same Shills to dupe others as to what really occurred during faked appearances while at the original scene

E. The Legend, the manufactured acted out appearance of something is treated as real elsewhere and appears real and will dupe those not at the original scene to test the validity of the appearances

F. Some Reward or Bounty will remunerate some injustice that the Legend mimed out tells of thus encouraging by Bounty or Bird-Dogging fee the activities of Mimes.

G. The Legend of events surrounding the person the Legend is about will defame the person the Mimes surrounded and may be a pretext in Abuse of Process to harm the person who was surround by Mimes or encourage disdain for the person who was surrounded by Mimes while the victim of Mimes languishes in custody whilst Due Process is short circuited.

- Deconstruct:Shills as Agents of Influence acting out false events including by intrusion or trespass into the context of a person manufacture Legend an Espionage director or agency need to be true

- Shills: People who appear a normal presence in community but are placed their to assist deceitful actions and ideas being adopted by the communities they have infiltrated for the purpose of exerting influence. Subtext appearances allow ambiguity to be created as the conduct of fraud since elsewhere the ambiguity will as planned be exploited adversely.

- Mock-up Contexts or Altered Contexts a mockup, or mock-up, is a scale or full-size model of a design or device, used for teaching, demonstration, design evaluation, promotion, and other purposes. A set used in Long Cons avoids the real context environmental variables such as the real home owner present who would object to activities potraying falsity in his own home.

- Plants another way sub textual frauds are utilized to build a fake narrative. Plants. Items sown about, strewn about, seeds a dis-truth will emerge from as Narrative fuels the growth of the clue to a Legend about a person.

- Legend: for an operation to avoid public or watchdog detection it has to appear to be something it is not or perceptions must be created in a public way that something that is not true does appear to be true as witnessed by the public and talked about by the public

  - Global Legend Elements: CIA Stagecraft protects operation by accusing observers of being schizophrenic or mentally ill. Using names or appearances for themselves a schizophrenic my use allows accusers of CIA or military operations to be dismissed as mentally ill. Complicit actors in Behavioral Health acting on manufactured data presented Ex-Parte may be duped into wrongful diagnosis or Agents in Place (Shill health care workers) may be willing to assert unfounded or questionable diagnosis

  - Targeted Legend Elements The CIA or others may have a particular Legend they need to be perceived to be true about an individual and will tail Legend building altered facts as needed to the Legend to be perceived as true.

- Reconstruct:Espionage Agencies have the superpower to make facts fit their needs and that power allows them to covertly hide or cover-up their own mistakes by illegal black operations

  Frequently the Legend manufactured regarding a victim of Espionage is both a danger or harmful to a person and also a threat and the Legend being created my in brinkmanship for the Targeted person into a losing fight with a police backed shill.

This book asserts a Matrix of illegal operations fabricate desperate solution to Aristocracies greatest vulnerabilities, errors, and liabilities by Abuse of Power including self-funding black money operations where no legitimate funding could be used and where much of the funding are private corporate and wealthy political figures financially and in other ways participate ind plausibly denied Deep State or fixers, mafia, and COINTELPRO under failed ethical justifications.

Matrix (logic), part of a formula in prenex normal form. A formula of the predicate calculus is in prenex[1] normal form (PNF) if it is rewritten as a string of quantifiers and bound variables, called the prefix, followed by a quantifier-free part, called the matrix.

The “rules” written into the Matrix largely revolve around denying “Conspiracy Theories” (mocking them and ethically banning them) while pursuing world objectives which if completed create outcomes in which the end-state reached protects the Deep State from being revealed.

This program includes a WETDIVISION targeting journalists and witnesses to (or victims of) long running MKULTRA.

The Donegan family is one such long term victim of MKULTRA and has a secret genomic history which is being used for the matrix outcome desired including destructive unjust attacks on Edward Paul Donegan funded and the value and truth of his family history slandered and denied.

Both monetizing Donegan family value INTO the mafia as the mafia destroys and erodes my life are several facets of the Mafia operation.

Because as a profit matter people benefit from this it has been unstoppable thus I have had to search deeper and find out why my genome is being used on the black market in State backed illegal operations unjustly attacking me.

I believe the oil business wanted to groom future leaders out of test fertilizations study out of wedlock celebrity DNA and an even deeper more secret reason the DNA was being studied is the reason the genome history is secret is it contains a minor, a minimal, brain defect which runs it if families of origins, the Kutscheras and Windsors. And Kennedy's, and many more families.

Blatantly illegal attacks on me are feeding a mafia operation at my own assets and reputation’s expense.

The Mafia techniques are State sanctioned, use under-cover State actors and State misconduct.

The milieu of actors including the politically powerful who ask for and gain press cooperation in denials of the milieu.

Obstruction of Justice retrieved from FindLaw Staff | Reviewed by Evan Fisher, Esq. | Last updated December 29, 2021 and copied or modified to here

Obstruction of Justice

Obstruction of justice is considered a crime against justice itself. By obstructing justice, one is seeking to thwart the process of justice and the operation of the justice system. From presidents to street criminals, those facing obstruction of justice charges could suffer major consequences. Prosecutions can commence at either the federal or state level.

This article describes obstruction of justice, some examples of obstruction, and the types of penalties one could face.

Presidential Examples of Obstruction of Justice

In the midst of President Richard Nixon's bid for re-election in 1972, associates of his campaign team broke into the Democratic National Committee headquarters in Washington, D.C. They planted listening devices and gathered sensitive information. Nixon denied any involvement in what appeared to be a cover-up attempt but subpoenaed White House recordings proved otherwise. After articles of impeachment were brought to the House floor, which alleged obstruction of justice, among other crimes, Nixon resigned.

Twenty-four years later, President Bill Clinton also faced charges for obstruction of justice and perjury for lying about a sexual encounter he had with a White House intern. Those charges formed the basis of impeachment proceedings. He was ultimately acquitted by the Senate and served the remainder of his term.

The code section made infamous by Presidents Nixon and Clinton “Obstruction of proceedings before departments, agencies, and committees” (18 U.S.C. section 1505), is punishable by a fine and imprisonment of up to five years. Neither president ever faced the possibility of criminal penalties, however.

Elements of an Obstruction of Justice Charge

The elements required for a conviction on an obstruction of justice charge differ by code section. For a person to be convicted of obstruction of justice, they must have acted with the specific intent to create an obstruction. The statute criminalizes “endeavors to influence, intimidate, or impede” the legal process, even if those endeavors were unsuccessful. Seemingly innocuous acts could become criminal activity if they have the intended effect of impeding justice.

Subornation of perjury

In American federal law, Title 18 U.S.C. § 1622 provides:

> Whoever procures another to commit any perjury is guilty of subornation of perjury, and shall be fined under this title or > imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

In American law, Scots law, and under the laws of some English-speaking Commonwealth nations, subornation of perjury is the crime of persuading or permitting a person to commit perjury, which is the swearing of a false oath to tell the truth in a legal proceeding, whether spoken or written.

The term subornation of perjury further describes the circumstance wherein an attorney at law causes a client to lie under oath or, allows another party to lie under oath.

In California law, per the state bar code, the subornation of perjury constitutes an act of “moral turpitude” on the part of the attorney, and thus, is cause for their disbarment, or for the suspension of their license to practice law.

As a crime, it has been defined as “persuading another to commit perjury.”

But “suborn” is more broadly defined. Amongst three definitions: to induce a person to commit a wrongful act … esp. in a secret or underhanded manner; to induce a person to commit perjury; and to obtain perjured testimony from another.

In legal practice, the condition of suborning perjury applies to an attorney who presents either testimony or an affidavit, or both, either to a judge or to a jury, which the attorney knows to be materially false, and not factual. In civil law and in criminal law, the attorney’s knowledge that the testimony is materially false must rise above mere suspicion to what an attorney would reasonably have believed in the circumstances of the matter discussed in the testimony. Hence, the attorney cannot be wilfully blind to the fact that their witness is giving false, perjurious testimony.

An attorney who encourages a witness to give false testimony is suborning perjury, a crime punished either with formal disciplinary action, disbarment, jail, or a combination thereof. A false statement by an attorney in court also is a crime similar to subornation of perjury and is punished accordingly. In the professional conduct of an attorney at law, there is a fine delineation between assisting a witness to recall events and encouraging the witness to give materially false testimony. The practice of "horse shedding the witness" (rehearsing testimony) (also known as woodshedding), is an example of such perjurious criminal conduct by an attorney, which is depicted in the true-crime novel Anatomy of a Murder (1958), by Robert Traver - John D. Voelker, a justice of the Michigan Supreme Court - and in the eponymous film (Otto Preminger, 1959), about a rape-and-murder case wherein are explored the ethical and legal problems inherent to the subornation of perjury.

Jury tampering

Jury tampering is the crime of unduly attempting to influence the composition and/or decisions of a jury during the course of a trial. The means by which this crime could be perpetrated can include attempting to discredit potential jurors to ensure they will not be selected for duty. Once selected, jurors could be bribed or intimidated to act in a certain manner on duty. It could also involve making unauthorized contact with them for the purpose of introducing prohibited outside information and then arguing for a mistrial. In the United States, people have also been charged with jury tampering for handing out pamphlets and flyers indicating that jurors have certain rights and obligations, including an obligation to vote their conscience notwithstanding the instructions they are given by the judge.

California Penal Code 134 PC - Preparing False Evidence

https://www.shouselaw.com/ca/defense/penal-code/134/

California Penal Code 134 PC makes it a crime for a person to prepare false evidence with the intent to use it fraudulently in a legal proceeding. A conviction is a felony that carries a penalty of up to 3 years in jail or state prison.

This is considered to be an Obstruction of Justice crime in California.

The language of 134 PC states that "every person guilty of preparing any false or ante-dated book, paper, record, instrument in writing, or other matter or thing, with intent to produce it, or allow it to be produced for any fraudulent or deceitful purpose, as genuine or true, upon any trial, proceeding, or inquiry whatever, authorized by law, is guilty of felony."

Examples

- making a false receipt with the idea to introduce it at a personal injury trial.
- creating an inaccurate picture of an intersection to give to police investigating a hit and run case.

- altering a will with the intent to use it in probate court.

Defenses

An accused can beat a preparing false evidence charge with a legal defense. Common defenses include:

- no intent to produce [false or misleading evidence],
- no intent to deceive, and/or
- entrapment.

Penalties

A violation of this statute is charged as a felony. This is opposed to a misdemeanor or an infraction.

The crime is punishable by:

- imprisonment in the state prison for up to three years, or

- felony (or formal) probation.

Our Shouse law California criminal defense attorneys includes practice these areas.

What Are The Differences Between Burglary, Theft, And Vandalism? retrieved from Voss Law and copied or modified to here

Someone has broken into your business and caused damage. You may be confused by which crime was technically committed on your property and whether the damage is covered by your commercial insurance policy. In order to better understand how your business was damaged, it is important to know the differences between burglary, theft, and vandalism. Let's take a look at their basic definitions:

The Differences Between Burglary, Theft, And Vandalism

- Burglary: Burglary is the act of entering a property illegally with the intent of breaking a law. Elements of burglary include trespassing, breaking, and entering. Someone who commits burglary could do so in order to steal from the property, to illegally dwell there, or to vandalize property.

- Theft: Theft or robbery is a criminal act in which a person takes someone else's property without permission. While burglary often goes hand-in-hand with theft, theft can occur without burglary and vice versa.

- Vandalism:Vandalism is the purposeful and malicious destruction of property by someone who does not own the property. It is sometimes referred to as malicious mischief or malicious trespassing. It is common for those who commit vandalism to first commit burglary, though not everyone who commits burglary is guilty of vandalism.

When your business or commercial property has been damaged by burglars, thieves, or vandals, the damage can be significant and expensive. It is important to understand exactly how your property was damaged and exactly what your policy covers when you make an insurance claim. The commercial insurance claim attorneys at the Voss Law Firm can help. Call today to speak with one of our experienced lawyers: 888-614-7730.

The Voss Law Firm, P.C. is headquartered in The Woodlands, Texas, with satellite offices in Dallas and Austin. The attorneys at The Voss Law Firm, P.C. aggressively serve their clients with passion and integrity. Mr. Voss, the firm's founding member, has been recognized in national and local publications such as Forbes, Inc. 500, H Texas, The Legal News, Houston Press and Texas Monthly. He has also been recognized as a Texas Super Lawyer by his peers. The Voss Law Firm, P.C. team travels on a national and international basis to litigate many different types of cases.

Using currency not tracked by the Treasure Department by large sums of cash or by assets of value as barter or by an specially created currency are how Black Markets often survive since the assets used escape or avoid banking notice.

Findlaw.com retrieved from FindLaw Staff | Reviewed by Evan Fisher, Esq. | Last updated December 29, 2021 and copied or modified to here

Obstruction of Justice in State and Federal Jurisdictions

Obstruction of Justice Under Federal Jurisdiction

Obstruction of justice is defined by federal statute as an act that:

> " …corruptly or by threats or force, or by any threatening letter or communication, influences, obstructs, or impedes, or endeavors to influence, obstruct, or impede, the due administration of justice."

There are basically three categories of obstructing justice.

1. Interference with judicial processes and court proceedings by:

- Obstructing, resisting, opposing, assaulting , or exposing process servers (18 U.S.C. section 1501) and extradition agents in the execution of their duties (18 U.S.C. section 1502).

- Attempting to influence, threaten, intimidate, or impede a juror, grand jury, court officer, judge, or magistrate (18 U.S.C. section 1503)

- Retaliating against a federal judge or federal law enforcement officer by making false claims against or slandering them (18 U.S.C. section 1521)

- Trying to influence a juror through written communication (18 U.S.C. section 1504) or by picketing or parading outside a courtroom (18 U.S.C. section 1507)

- Recording the deliberations or voting of a jury, or observing or listening in on a jury one is not part of (18 U.S.C. section 1508)

- Stealing, falsifying, or in other ways tampering with the proceedings of any court in the U.S. so that a judgment is reversed, made void, or fails to take effect (18 U.S.C. section 1505), or effects a false release or bail (18 U.S.C. section 1506)

- Tampering with (18 U.S.C. section 1512) or retaliating against a witness, victim, or an informant in a trial or legal proceeding (18 U.S.C. section 1513), including killing or attempting to kill in order to prevent evidence from being shared. (To prevent witness tampering, the courts can issue a restraining order [18 U.S.C. section 1514].)

- Using threats or force to prevent, or obstruct, or interfere with the performance of a court order (18 U.S.C. section 1509)

10. Interference with law enforcement and investigation of a crime by:

- Obstructing a pending investigation by Congress, a committee of either House, a federal administrative agency, or a federal department (18 U.S.C. section 1505), or the Armed Forces

(18 U.S.C. section 1518)

- Obstructing a criminal investigation by bribery, or for a financial institution officer to notify a customer of the contents of a subpoena (18 U.S.C. section 1510)

- Obstructing pending investigations involving:

    - The insurance industry (18 U.S.C. section 1515)

    - Federal audits (18 U.S.C. section 1516)

    - Financial institutions (18 U.S.C. section 1517)

    - Health care offenses (18 U.S.C. section 1518)

- Conspiring to obstruct law enforcement in order to facilitate illegal gambling (18 U.S.C. section 1511)

19. Destruction or concealment of evidence through:

- Falsifying records in federal investigations and in bankruptcy cases (18 U.S.C. section 1519) or destroying corporate audit records (18 U.S.C. section 1520)

- Bribery
- Threats, physical force, or assault
- Tampering with evidence: concealing, destroying, altering, or falsifying documents and written and oral testimony.
- False statements meant to mislead investigators by intentionally omitting relevant information, concealing material facts, creating a false impression, knowingly submitting or inviting reliance on physical evidence that is false, forged, or altered
- Abuse of power to prevent or obstruct compliance by others with an investigator or judicial proceeding

Elements of an Obstruction of Justice Charge

The elements required for a conviction on an obstruction of justice charge differ by code section. For a person to be convicted of obstruction of justice, they must have acted with the specific intent to create an obstruction. The statute criminalizes “endeavors to influence, intimidate, or impede” the legal process, even if those endeavors were unsuccessful. Seemingly innocuous acts could become criminal activity if they have the intended effect of impeding justice.

Obstruction of Justice Under State Laws

All states address obstruction of justice in some form. State codes tend to focus more on acts that interfere with the day-to-day work of the police. Some state laws, such as Florida’s, define several specific acts, while others are more broadly written.

For example, one section of Florida’s obstruction of justice code prohibits the unlawful possession of a concealed handcuff key.

California law makes it a crime to willfully “resist, delay or obstruct” a police officer or emergency personnel while performing their job duties. The statute includes the specific acts of interfering with radio communications over a public safety radio frequency. The law makes it clear that simply photographing or video recording police is not a violation.

Penalties and Sentencing

The federal obstruction of justice code sets different sentences for different parts of the code:

- Threatening or attempting to intimidate a juror is punishable by a fine and up to ten years in prison. But if the crime also involves an attempted murder or the commission of a class A or B felony against a juror, the defendant may be sentenced to up to twenty years in prison.

- Attempting to influence a juror through (non-threatening) written communication is punishable by a fine and up to six months in prison.

State laws usually classify obstruction of justice offenses as felonies, although they differ widely on how they define the crime.

- The Illinois law that prohibits the destruction of evidence classifies it as a Class 4 felony punishable by one to three years in prison.

- The crime of “obstructing a law enforcement officer” in Washington State is a gross misdemeanor and punishable by a fine and up to 364 days in county jail.

Elements of an Obstruction of Justice Charge

The elements required for a conviction on an obstruction of justice charge differ by code section. For a person to be convicted of obstruction of justice, they must have acted with the specific intent to create an obstruction. The statute criminalizes “endeavors to influence, intimidate, or impede" the legal process, even if those endeavors were unsuccessful. Seemingly innocuous acts could become criminal activity if they have the intended effect of impeding justice.

Obstruction of Justice Under State Laws

All states address obstruction of justice in some form. State codes tend to focus more on acts that interfere with the day-to-day work of the police. Some state laws, such as Florida's, define several specific acts, while others are more broadly written.

For example, one section of Florida's obstruction of justice code prohibits the unlawful possession of a concealed handcuff key.

California law makes it a crime to willfully "resist, delay or obstruct" a police officer or emergency personnel while performing their job duties. The statute includes the specific acts of interfering with radio communications over a public safety radio frequency. The law makes it clear that simply photographing or video recording police is not a violation.

Penalties and Sentencing

The federal obstruction of justice code sets different sentences for different parts of the code:

Threatening or attempting to intimidate a juror is punishable by a fine and up to ten years in prison. But if the crime also involves an attempted murder or the commission of a class A or B felony against a juror, the defendant may be sentenced to up to twenty years in prison.

Attempting to influence a juror through (non-threatening) written communication is punishable by a fine and up to six months in prison.

State laws usually classify obstruction of justice offenses as felonies, although they differ widely on how they define the crime.

The Illinois law that prohibits the destruction of evidence classifies it as a Class 4 felony punishable by one to three years in prison.

The crime of “obstructing a law enforcement officer” in Washington State is a gross misdemeanor and punishable by a fine and up to 364 days in county jail.

Counterfeiting Forgeries Money Laundering

Receiving Stolen Property retrieved from Houston Law Office of Ned Barnett and copied or modified to here advice©nedbarnett.com (713) 222-6767

Home » Practice Areas » Houston Theft & Fraud Lawyer » Receiving Stolen Property

As it is traditionally portrayed, theft often involves an item being stolen outright. A television show might display a robber grabbing a woman’s handbag, or someone shoplifting from a convenience store. However, theft comes in many forms, and it is possible to be arrested for simply receiving stolen property. If you have been charged with this crime, you may feel very confused and frightened. You may also be worried about the consequences of a conviction, which can include fines and jail time.

Houston theft lawyer Ned Barnett knows that people are often falsely accused of receiving stolen property. Perhaps you were not aware that the item was stolen when you bought it, or maybe you had no idea that the property was in your possession. With over 30 years of experience in the courtroom, attorney Barnett will meticulously review your case and can help you craft a defense.

To find out how you can avoid a criminal record, call (713) 222-6767 today.

Understanding Theft

In Texas, theft, in its most basic form, is defined as taking another person's property without their consent. The intention to deprive the owner of the property is also a key element of this crime. However, according to section 31.02 of the Texas Criminal Code, receiving stolen property is also considered theft. There are many situations in which this crime might take place.

Those who own pawn shops and second-hand stores often fall victim to accusations of receiving stolen property. In fact, state law specifically notes that these businesses can be guilty in engaging in this type of illicit activity. You can also be charged with theft if you purchase stolen items as a consumer. While this type of thievery causes serious problems, it is hard to know when it has been committed. If you purchase an item that was previously stolen, you may not know that it was obtained illegally.

Actual and Constructive Knowledge

In a criminal case involving the receipt of stolen property, the key to reaching a conviction is proving that the individual knew the item was stolen. Instead of relying on the fact that the property was in your possession, the prosecution must prove that you were aware of the item's origins when you purchased it; it must be shown that you had actual or constructive knowledge of the item being stolen. You might have actual knowledge that an item was stolen when you hear a story on the news, or if the person who sells you the item tells you that they snatched in from another person's house.

On the other hand, constructive knowledge is the idea that you should have known that the item was stolen. If for example, you purchase a gaming console from a pawn shop that is notorious for selling stolen goods, the court may decide that you are guilty of theft; they may decide that you should have known about the item's origin. You might also be accused of possessing constructive knowledge if you purchase an item off the black market, or from a shady character on a street corner.

If you are in the business of buying and selling used goods, the criteria for proving that you had knowledge of a theft are more clearly outlined. It is assumed that you are aware that an item is stolen when they pay more than $25 for the property and engage in one of the following activities:

- Failing to record the seller's identifying information, such as their name, driver's license number, address, and physical description

- Entering a description of the property that is incomplete or non-existent

- Failing to obtain proof of ownership, such as a warranty that lists the seller as the rightful owner

Criminal and Collateral Consequences

In most cases, receiving stolen property is treated just as harshly as typical theft. Texas law punishes this crime according to the value of the stolen property. For example, stealing an item that is worth less than $100 would be charged as a Class C misdemeanor, whereas taking an item that is valued between $750 and $2,500 would be labeled as a Class A misdemeanor. Theft penalties include, but are not limited to:

- Less than $100 (Class C Misdemeanor): A fine of up to $500.

- Between $100 and $750 (Class B Misdemeanor): A fine of up to $2,000 and up to 180 days in jail.

- Between $750 and $2,500 (Class A Misdemeanor): A fine of up to $4,000 and up to one year in jail.

- Between $2,500 and $30,000 (State Jail Felony): A fine of up to $10,000 and between 180 days and two years in state jail.

- Between $30,000 and $150,000 (Third Degree Felony): A fine of up to $10,000 and between two and 10 years of imprisonment.

- Between $150,000 and $300.000 (Second Degree Felony): A fine of up to $10,000 and between two and 20 years in prison.

- $300,000 or more (First Degree Felony): A fine of up to $10,000 and between five and 99 years or life in prison.

If you are found guilty of receiving stolen property, you may have to face a number of unexpected obstacles. Once you have a criminal record, for example, it may be all but impossible to find a decent job. Most employers see a theft conviction as a giant red flag. If you decide that you want to switch career paths, it may be very difficult to obtain training through college or vocational school. This is because many institutions of higher learning thoroughly vet applicants before they are admitted.

Defending Your Rights in Court

One of the most effective defense strategies in a receiving stolen property case is proving that you did not have actual or constructive knowledge of the theft in question. It might be the case that you purchased the item from a reputable online dealer, one who is respected within the business community. If this is the case, it may be possible to prove that you had no involvement in stealing the item. Proving that you were unaware that the item was in your possession is another option for protecting your freedom. Perhaps it was dumped on your property without your knowledge, or maybe it was planted on your person during an outing or family event.

Contact the Law Offices of Ned Barnett

Houston criminal defense attorney Ned Barnett has over two decades of experience in helping people fight their criminal charges. Whether you are being accused of a misdemeanor or a felony, he can use his knowledge and skill to fight for your interests in court. He can make sure that your side of the story is cast in a positive light.

If you would like to take action and fight your charges, call (713) 222-6767 for a free consultation.

Black Money and Crypto Currency

- Base-2 Binary: Consists of 0 or 1

- Base-4 (Quarternary) Numbers : base-4 number system consists of 4 digits: 0, 1, 2 and 3. or in genetics A,G, C, and T. adenine (A), cytosine (C), guanine (G), and thymine (T). A DNA molecule consists of two strands wound around each other, with each strand held together by bonds between the bases. Two times Binary gives Qquarernatry.

- Base-8 (Octal) Numbers: he base-8 number system consists of 8 digits: 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7.

- Base-16 (Hexadecimal) Numbers:

A “Black Currency” made out of rerpoducable “Genetic Codes” as unlimited value.

The real value of it is the secret history and desirability of the genome. No one other than Edward Paul Donegan who IS qualified to represent himself is entitled to that genome.

Congress authorized the issuance of postage stamps as a temporary “Fractional Currency.” From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia. This small unit of currency was more affixable to letters of post than metal coins. The denominationss were not intended for utility in most commerce but would be useful for postage payments.

Capitalized value of Crypto Currency

> What is market cap?
>
> Market capitalization (or market cap) is the total dollar value of all the shares of a company’s stock - or, in the case of Bitcoin or another cryptocurrency, of all the coins that have been mined. In crypto, market cap is calculated by multiplying the total number of coins that have been mined by the price of a single coin at any given time. *
>
> You might see references to “circulating supply”

> market cap or “fully diluted supply” market cap. With Bitcoin, those two numbers are the 18.5 million that have been mined (“circulating supply”) or you can use the 21 million that will eventually be mined (“fully diluted supply). Depending on their methodology, some observers will measure market cap using the currently circulating supply, while others will use the fully diluted number.

In the two screen captures from her YouTube Channel I show Jen Moore Task Force out the CIA for using stolen rights to DNA of Glorian Donegan as black budget money for illegal and secret and even prurient operations and criminal gains

There are no limits to the amount of false allegations against Edwwr Paul Donegan and each “mined” coin, right to genome, can be created and arguably not devalue or dilute the total value of the Genome. This book speculates Malcolm X objected to so many MKLUTRA experimental births because it undermined the uniqueness of his own child, one such experimental birth.

A racial hate crime COIINTELPRO operations has been organized against me which is supposed to define me and defeat me and this is likely because my genome has been used in blacks and whites who do not wish be associated with the Kutscheras by attributes but do wish me defined by Kutschera attributes and defeated and disavowed.

The primary system has been subjected me to intense racial assault including black adults planting white minor children near me or my home as a black nationalist statement about me, and vows from those same black males to use my genome on their white female partners.

This should be easy to defeat by elites all through society black and white go far back in generations of underground railroads the destruction of my atomic veteran genome which was from lawful marriage and lawful family life achieves a benefit to the genome co-opting criminals and organizations.

Those high power well placed elites use their influence to get necessary programs in place to destroy or co-opt assets already my own and roadblock all property and achievement I attempt which is rooted in my law abiding Atheist family.

This is called “road blocking” or also Surveillance Ambushes where Espionage can intercept and co-opt my positive activities of health and community activities of normal life and opportunity.

Many of the now defunct websites pointed out hundreds if not thousands of deaths tied to Middle East North Africa Standard Oil Rockefeller Oil Plains States (Texas Arkansas, the Dakotas, etc.,) and deaths like Don Ives.

Here is a look at the Deep State, how it buys its cars, ovoids oversight, et.,

- Quackery : Bad policing can allow the criminal to proceed if the crimes are not solved and bad medical services can fake medical needs for involvement in a said to be patient and even conduct physical batter of a person by creating hostile context or treatments of the person or subject a person via medical management to criminal environments. Quackery can diagnose a legitimate police report into the rantings of an unbalanced mind that should be ignored.

- Maladministration: Maladministration is the actions of a government body which can be seen as causing an injustice. The law in the United Kingdom says Ombudsmen must investigate maladministration.

  The definition of maladministration is wide and can include: Delay, Incorrect action or failure to take any action, Failure to follow procedures or the law, Failure to provide information, Inadequate record-keeping, Failure to investigate Failure to reply, Misleading or inaccurate statements Inadequate liaison, Inadequate consultation, Broken promises

- Criminal Act: Breaking and Entering, murder of journalists, planting of child porn, theft of journalists works (like the work product of Dorothy Killagalen) vandalism to create physical evidence narrative such as creating peepholes in someone else s home which will imply the home owner has peeped outside of his or her home

- Fencing stolen goods: Use of outlets to created a market the stolen goods can be used at. An available though false lawsuit is a liquid asset such as a penny stock or option to buy a stock and can be re-marketed or transferred

- Money Laundering and Racketeering Influenced Criminal Organizations: Entities such as property managers, police and fire, county prosecutors, State gov or FBI DOJ, or other businesses which allow for activities of the Racket to proceed. Wire fraud, welfare fraud, physical assault, sexual assault by planted operatives who have access to common property of sole possession property. Welfare and other fraud.

- Fraud: The machinery is built to use pretexts that are manufactured acts of fraud to gain rights to assets to which the parties acting fraudulently are not entitled.

- Homicide: Assassination of Whistle-blowers like Jen Moore. The Mafia likes to stay in business and has partnership in a mob assisted State goal of Espionage ambitions for the NWO. Silencing Micheal Hastings and others keeps the Mafia unchallenged by the disinfecting Sunlight.

- Predatory Journals: A “Legend” may be created in government records of the Press which will convince people of theories which allow the crime to proceed under, such as it is a military exercise sharing property with a society but not impacting the society

- Conspiracy Against Rights by Inciting to Violence: The Racket and its Quakery based layers of money laundering, fraud, and fencing operations will assert a series of events were true, the staged and faked events will be used to incite or influence the population as the Conspirators desire

Racketeering retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

A racket is a service that is fraudulently offered to solve a problem, such as for a problem that does not actually exist, that will not be put into effect, or that would not otherwise exist if the racket did not exist. Conducting a racket is racketeering. Particularly, the potential problem may be caused by the same party that offers to solve it, although that fact may be concealed, with the specific intent to engender continual patronage for this party.

An archetype is the protection racket, wherein a person or group (e.g., a criminal gang) indicates to a store owner that they could protect her/his store from potential damage, damage that the same person or group would otherwise inflict, while the correlation of threat and protection may be more or less deniable veiled, distinguishing it from the more direct act of extortion. Racketeering is often associated with organized crime, and the term was coined by the Employers' Association of Chicago in June 1927 in a statement about the influence of organized crime in the Teamsters union.

Hostile and self enriching Conservators can entangle, forced-team with me and assets belonging to me or my trust fund if I appear to need an asset manager.

If a manager of assets can insert itself as a conservator in layer of finances to become co-mingled with me and my asset by forced team they can assert they are required by law to continue to entangle, forced-team, with me and my assets though actually predatory and exploitative.

What Constitutes Child Abandonment?

The term "child abandonment" is broadly categorized and used to describe a variety of behaviors. Specific examples of abandonment vary, but common actions that may lead to charges include:

- Leaving a child with another person without provision for the child's support and without meaningful communication with the child for a period of three months;
- Making only minimal efforts to support and communicate with a child;
- Failing for a period of at least six months to maintain regular visitation with a child;

- Failing to participate in a suitable plan or program designed to reunite the parent or guardian with a child;

- Leaving an infant on a doorstep, in trash cans and dumpsters, and on the side of the road;

- Being absent from the home for a period of time that created a substantial risk of serious harm to a child left in the home;

- Failing to respond to notice of child protective proceedings; or

- Being unwilling to provide care, support, or supervision for the child.

Abusive Gaurdianship after sabotage of finances

This book asserts criminal breaking and entering of my home to create false but actionable legal claims against me or rather my trust fund, that those claims are fenced via a Sting operation run at a child porn peeping house where deals made with my trust fund satisfy false claims against it , the false claims brought to that tree house of child porn which is not my home but a fencing operation location.

This book asserts criminal breaking and entering of my home to create false but actionable legal claims against me or rather my trust fund, that those claims are fenced via a Sting operation run at a child porn peeping house where deals made with my trust fund satisfy false claims against it , the false claims brought to that tree house of child porn which is not my home but a fencing operation location.

The incitation to violence is people believe the claim against me was real and settled an a manner agreed to me or agreed to by an representative acting in my interest.

Insider knowledge on Brain Genes and awaiting markets through sham moves.

Black Markets often, usually, traffic items (repugnant markets) not legal to traffic in but are of value to those who desire them. Note that Jerome Adams *, Surgeon General, Dept Of Defense Non Combatant Military Dept of Defense Service Public Health Service * (Uniformed) is likely in the Brain program as director and can get brain genes, like clean needles and other AIDS HIV type programs underway, of value to the Gay communities, such as designer baby markets for gay couples with IVF Three Parents needs,, etc., and knows which genes to seize for “victim’ couples or couplse due some “bounty fee” paid to finding a sex perv bounty hunters for the county of jail jumper finders.

A gay or retarded person “finding the tree-house” as part of Neighborhood Watch might due a “fee” if the peeper owed the bounty hunter or the victim his DNA. Thus the impersonator of me is gettign caught in a tree-house as an exploiter, which I am not but the dopple is.

An Espionage ring using a Gangstalk creates a protection racket wherein covert operators trade in my DNA by paying of for misconduct falsely attributed to me, the antisocial conduct cover ops frame job moving rights to me DNA into CIA money laundering for the value of the genes, economic, and bedroom value of the genes used to pay false debts alleged to me, paid by Secret Service /CIA front companies money laundering genomic rights.

The book title refers to this is long term activity of the Vatican/CIA/Illuminati and continuing activity is trying to hide previous activity by creating consistent in the total world genome picture, and acts of world terror and assassination also are part of the global cover-up conspiracy of 1961.

This is about the history still flowing out of MKULTRA and the end of WWII, the continuing story of understanding and modifying world evolution, and continuing understanding of the Camelot Thomas C. Wales murders and MKULTRA Birtherism. I also think Epstein Brain Foundation connected in the course of blackmailed DNA rights.

Murder, Squatting, Arson, Racketeering: Money Laundering by making it seem my Trust Fund owes people, achieved by staged events, not real ones

People's Park Berkeley retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

> While legally the land is the property of the University of California, People's Park has operated since the early 1970s as a free public park. The City of Berkeley declared it a historical and cultural landmark in 1984.[7] Although open to all, it is often viewed as a sanctuary for Berkeley's low income and large homeless population who, along with others, receive meals from East Bay Food Not Bombs regularly. Many homeless outreach organizations, like the Suitcase Clinic, also visit the park regularly.

Squatters have surrounded my private property and trespassed as though we have common assets, are a community, etc., none of which is true.

Squatting is the action of occupying an abandoned or unoccupied area of land or a building, usually residential, that the squatter does not own, rent or otherwise have lawful permission to use. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Work goes into destroying any property I lease.

Racketeering Influenced Criminal Organizations can conceal misconduct (with a sufficiently created cartel of people operation in collusion) to act fraudulently but conceal acts of fraud with a cover layer of respectable business.

Usually one party in an illegal act is fairly easy to catch but a few people colluding is harder to catch and constitute organized crime.

An interest in my genome tying into CIA history, DARPA, and a long line of illegal usage of my DNA has created in interest in hiding previous acts in the same manner as the original illegal DNA science will continuing rather than abandoning the original goals of the illegal acts.

The Central Intelligence Agency, FBI, Department of Defense and others have so long been criminally involved in secret family lines study and exppoitation black operations are of CIA FBI Behavioral and DNA research continue as illegal abuses involving my family line and genome and the facts of the history of the Donegan genome are of more interest to the CIA and FBI assassinations program than they will admit thus those agencies will not abandon the illegal operations and affects on me.

Google Mirina Webster and Vocabulary.com retrieved from link and copied or modified to here > fleece

>
> Noun
>
> 1. the woolly covering of a sheep or goat.

"as the sheep came on board, we grabbed their long shaggy fleeces"

2. a soft warm fabric with a texture similar to sheep's wool, used as a lining material. "a reversible fleece jacket"

Verb

1. INFORMAL obtain a great deal of money from (someone), typically by overcharging or swindling them. "money that authorities say he fleeced from well-to-do acquaintances"

2. LITERARY cover as if with a fleece. "the sky was half blue, half fleeced with white clouds"

A fleece is a sheep's coat. Or a goat's. Or a yak's. A person's coat can be called a fleece, too, if it comes from a sheep or goat or a yak or even if it just looks like it did.

You can also use fleece in an informal way to mean cheating someone. Remember how Mary had a little lamb whose fleece was white as snow? Well, it was such a nice, clean fleece that Mary tricked the lamb into trusting her, then robbed him of his fleece and turned it into a bomber jacket and a pair of boots. She totally fleeced him!

Most text or information drawn from Wikipedia Black Markets page

NIA Framework of Black Market economies including in Repugnant Markets (designer babies, organ harvesting)

Root Element: Black Market Economy, illegal trade economy in goods or services Black Market the goods or services traded in Black Money:

The currency of the market, of legal or illegal issue Black Budgets: Black Profits derived from black market capitalization, operations, or profits or losses and Black Operations funded by Black Profits

Markets:

Goods or services traded including sex trafficking, drugs, arms stolen organs, etc., Crazy things go under the designation Repugnant Markets and also includes Rome Statute controlled activities such as genocide (racial, religious, national, or ethic interference with or transfers of children.)

A Black Market system has been designed in which “Black Money” rights to my DNA is used in the adult entertainer industry.

The Money is Counterfeit

Not authorized value being traded, not properly rooted in valuation by the actual value owner.

Others, non-whites and gay peep at white women, masturbating to women and preferring that over sleeping with women, then “pay” my genome not theirs, the peeped at women, when caught, with actual Ed Donegan’s DNA rights.

Layered

Architecture of Racketeering influence Criminal Organization introduces “railway” crossing point in which the cross out of accounts can occur cicrumventing in that extra step direct accounting of the asset owner

Recall from the Department of Treasury description and how this layering of an extra layer can provide the money laundering cross point.

> “History of Anti-Money Laundering Laws”. United States Department of the Treasury. 30 June 2015. Retrieved 30 June 2015
>
> Typically, Money Laundering involves three steps: placement, layering, and integration and introducing money not accounted for into a financial racket

The scheme is illegal as a Racket in Racketeering Influenced Organizations

The scheme permits others not me to benefit from DNA through money laundering Designer Babies

Money. value, property value, items of value fraudulent transfer concealed by laundering retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

> Money Laundering is the process of making illegally-gained proceeds (i.e., “dirty money”) appear legal (i.e., “clean”).
>
> Typically, Money Laundering involves three steps: placement, layering, and integration and introducing money not accounted for into a financial racket
>
> - the illegitimate funds are furtively introduced into the legitimate financial system. (ARC Northern Virginia denied any starting accounting or geno assets accounting in setting up trust fund. I was told I would not a staring or opening accounting only a firs quarter statement after the first quarter passed. Similarly Integrity Payee denied principle statements and reported back to me some disbursements I requested but no whole ledger accounting)
> - Then, the money (stolen items or worth as black currency liquid assets transitions) is moved around to create confusion, sometimes by wiring or transferring through numerous accounts (Doppelgangers, fake Ed Donegan, fake Ed Donegans at locations contused for Ed Donegan's locations)

- Finally, it is integrated into the financial system through additional transactions until the "dirty money" appears "clean" after the Dopple of Edward Donegan agrees to real Ed Donegan assets being seized upon the Dopple of Ed Donegan harming others in real Ed Donegan's community thus Dopple Ed Donegan creates a liability of real Ed Donegan

> Note that in Assets and Liabilities balance sheets the assets and liabilities must match, thus for an asset to be paid from the trust fund a liability must exist, which is children being exploited as child porn as the liability to be balanced with an asset disbursement.

Black Money as assets seized from a dopple of Ed not authorized to agree to asset seizure using improper accounting for the assets taken in by an institution and not reported to the person with rights to the assets.

Achieving Concealment of Ed Donegan assets from proper reporting and accounting.

Concealment of Ed Donegan cognitive assets by denial they exist and thus making the trade in them unlikely if not preposterous. Creating the appearance of a mentally challenged Ed Donegan not only creates an unlikelihood a retardation service would trade his genes it also puts that retardation services advocacy group as mice guarding the cheese.

“Stripper Bucks” and spending assets not properly reported to, black money, not accounted to Ed Donegan

With unreported assets in a financial system and “cut out” accounts, accounts similar to be distinct from the real accounts to do illicit unreported transactions under spending assets can occur

- Genomic assets of interest to those seeking designer babies, etc., may be offered during erotic services as “Payment” by a person pretending to be Edward Donegan. Those “stripper bucks” title or form of deed to pay for adult entertainers are “black money”

- The Adult Entertainer Stripper and the Dopple of Edward Donegan may work an agreement he idolizes little “non white princesses” and their beauty, and by photographing them (which Real Ed Donegan did not) the genomic assets of the “fake” white supremacist Ed Donegan should go to those he thinks superior, little hottie non white totties

Thus under a RICO financial operation (engaging in advocacy for the underprivileged) a fake Ed Donegan, like for instance a social services beneficiary, could hire a stripper, pay for the stripper with Ed Donegan assets, and then also agree Ed Donegan really thinks minorities are his dream, how owes them, Ed Donean is a through a Dopple's acts seems fake white supremacist who believes in The 14 Words.

Fence (criminal) from Wikipedia

A fence, also known as a receiver, mover, or moving man, is an individual who knowingly buys stolen goods in order to later resell them for profit. The fence acts as a middleman between thieves and the eventual buyers of stolen goods who may not be aware that the goods are stolen.

As a verb (e.g. "to fence stolen goods"), the word describes the behaviour of the thief in the transaction with the fence.

Fencing Operation in the RICO Architecture

1. Fencing has Racketeering Influence Criminal Organizations or Racketeering Influenced Racketeering Operatives as criminal assets in the Long Con.

2. One the financial infrastructure is in place and it commits its first money launder operation at least the Second Criminal Act (and count) of Criminal Racketeering has occurred. Agreement and placement of RICO organizational was the first.

3. As if a drug manufacture operation in abandoned aircraft hanger multiple felonious steps are need in furtherance of the Racket fraud.

A. Identity Theft must be conducted to financially switch as asset holder or a liability holder such that the switching between accounts can create a debit added to an account which is not in debt and credit to an account which is not due any credit, but falsifications of identities in the financial management layer enable the confusion of assets and liabilities.

B. Manufacture of fraudulent liabilities such as creating child porn the liability of which will be compensated by restitution.

C. Transfer of assets in the above created framework to parties not entitled to benefit from fraud and not entitled to the source of assets which will be used for the fraudulent pay out.

As is the case with the word fence and its derivatives when used in its other common meanings (i.e. as a type of barrier or enclosure, and also as a sport), the word in this context is derived from the word defence. Among criminals, the fence originated in thieves' slang tracing from the notion of such transactions providing a "defence" against being caught.

This process often relies on a [otherwise] legal business (such as a pawnshop, flea market, or street vendor) [under Racketeering Influences) in order to "launder" the stolen goods by intermixing them with legally-obtained items of the same type.[2] The fence is able to make a profit with stolen merchandise because he is able to secretly pay thieves a very low price for "hot" goods that cannot be easily sold on the open markets. Fencing is illegal in all countries, but legally proving a violation of anti-fencing laws can be difficult.

In the case of Assets belonging to Edward Paul Donegan the Defense of the act of fensing is to conduct the asset transfer at what I call Elements B and even C, B is a location I am not at, do not have scrutiny of where a forger of me will sign over my assets, and C is a organziation forging my permission or agreement which I do not and would not give for the asset transfer.

Element D which is the reputation damage of what occurred when C pleaded me guilty to an offense I did not commit, then paid restitution I would not have agreed to, may be the final goal of the chain of events, harming my reputation in a way bringing about damage to my life.

Trespass and Breaking and Entering

In violation of law including use of fraud such as using keys to an apartment for access not permissible under the lease is trespass. If the trespass is the basis for a criminal act on the accessed property the property had undergone Breaking and Entering, its sanctity as a property broken, even if not by force.

Horizontal and Vertical Layers used in Money Laundering to create legitimate appearances

- Moles and Inside Jobs through buyout of leasing companies or apartment complexes and

- setting up lateral “accounts” such as apartment numbers to be confused with the tenant whose assets are being money laundered.

- Use of intermediate devices such as inserting an FBI Fake Cell Tower (Stingray) which will switch and cross switch between phone SIMM Chips for switching out who is on the phone and what is being said.

- Exploiting that smart phones have multiple functions such as Google Books reading, gym music, and cameras, and altering the perception of what lateral separate functions of the phone are in use in a gym, etc.,

- Person lateral to each other sharing similar clothes, motorcycles, etc.,

The scheme is be design hostile to who the REAL ME is and is meant to defame and incite hostility and vigilantism toward me.

Finally, the NOMINAL and ACTUAL goals differ and in fact the scheme harms the NOMINAL goal in achieving the ACTUAL goal.

The medical techniques should be publicly and freely available, not a secret underground sex trade economy.

Long Con Terminology retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

> Protection Racket (and one run through Social Services)
>
> An unneeded mental retardation advocacy of me creating by my mother's will creators enables this loot of my DNA rights by sabotaging my normal life circumstances such as metropolitan apartments and keeps me either homeless, institutionalized, or in deep slum non-white conditions of hostile environments devoid of my intellectual, sexual, religious, or their interests.
>
> Example: Fagin is a fictional character and a main antagonist in Charles Dickens' 1838 novel Oliver Twist. In the preface to the novel, he is described as a "receiver of stolen goods". He is the leader of a group of children (the Artful Dodger and Charley Bates among them) whom he teaches to make their livings by pickpocketing and other criminal activities, in exchange for shelter.
>
> Oliver Twist contains an unromantic portrayal of criminals and their sordid lives, as well as for exposing the cruel treatment of the many orphans in London in the mid-19th century.[2] The alternative title, The Parish Boy's Progress, alludes to Bunyan's The Pilgrim's Progress, as well as the 18th-century caricature series by William Hogarth, A Rake's Progress and A Harlot's Progress.[3]

In this early example of the social novel, Dickens satirises the hypocrisies of his time, including child labour, domestic violence, the recruitment of children as criminals, and the presence of street children.

Somebody illegally set themselves up as Fagaon and broke my apartment leases in non skid row environments then used Texas Nueces County skid row to surround me in housing, plant evidence, and run scams to loot Donegan family assets. I reported this to the Social Security Administation to no avail.

Shills

Shills are fronts for secret motives and operations who conceal their real objectives and appear to be neutral, uncorrupted, or motivated as chartered but operate on behalf of secret agendas instead.

Shill planted victims who claim ti be victimize but in fact victimize themselves such as children sexualizing themselves in my vicinity and claiming they are "my visual pornography." I am their victim for false claims, not vice versa.

Shill planted victims who claim ti be victimize but in fact victimize themselves such as children sexualizing themselves in my vicinity and claiming they are "my visual pornography." I am their victim for false claims, not vice versa.

Gulls (A con artist term for a “Gullible” or “grape” which can be plucked

A special kid of Shill (con artist team member) is a Gull who is a gullible person who can be caught in a compromising situation or lead into a bad deal.

I am not such a person so an impersonator me (I call Tx the transmitter of false information seeming from me) is created and that Gullible both needs a trust fund and is frequently caught in traps and needs the Trust FUnd to bail him out.

That person, ann Information Doppelgangers and will forge a confession of me that will be used as a pretext for legal claims against me, It is the Gull who actual photographed or committed the peeping whilst standing next to me in public at the same time the shill victim was planted in front of us.

Racketeeriing Influenced Criminal Organization

A Racket is a service which is not need but imposed or operates in such a way as to use illegal means to create a profit which would otherwise not exist.

While a Protection Racket creates a danger and then charges to protect against it a Money Laundering RICO uses its position of operating multiple accounts to switch unlawfully between them so that in the accounting shell game slight of hands the accounts appear to be correct.

Mark

Vocabulary.com retrieved from kite and copied or

n. kite

plaything consisting of a light frame covered with tissue paper; flown in wind at end of a string

v. kite

“The pilot kited for a long time over the mountains”

n. kite

a bank check that has been fraudulently altered to increase its face value

n. kite

a bank check drawn on insufficient funds at another bank in order to take advantage of the float

v. kite

get credit or money by using a bad check

. kite

any of several small graceful hawks of the family Accipitridae having long pointed wings and feeding on insects and small animals

This book

kite and private trust fund and assets of Edward Donegan

To soar away with value or rights which do not belong to the person who is kiting them from the launch area

The State of Texas as a State act is illegaly using Donegan Genome tied to the corruption of State officials to acheive more coverup violating my and my family of origins rights. Abbot judgement impaired, religious and in wheelchair.

n. Kite (methodology)

Kleptocratic Intrusive Trespassing Entanglement

Religions and the State have through shams and Trespasses entangle themselves into that which is not theirs including by proximity of being close enough to get way with confusion about who holds any asset belonging to one person or close enough to create confusion as to which person is which > and violating the boundary separating the property owner and the property thief.

A Mark is some person or asset who is the “bullseye” of the operation, the person or asset targeted to be defrauded. In my cast the trust fund of Glorian Donegan and her biology, with the indirect means of pretending to be my victim them seeking Trust Fund compensation.

Some me as having judgementalism and wish my trust fund was for the underprivileged instead and in that case my contempt for underbelly of society life is bypassed and even retaliated against with fake claims to the trust fund of the family I came from adn in that way my snear at riff raff is the mark, and the riff raff are trying to get even with me.

Stages of the con (Confindence Trick including Long Con using sets and actors)

In Confessions of a Confidence Man, Edward H. Smith lists the “six definite steps or stages of growth” of a confidence game.[7] He notes that some steps may be omitted.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Confidence_trick

> Foundation Work

Preparations are made in advance of the game, including the hiring of any assistants required. Co-operation of a population area of organization may be gained covertly

Approach

The victim is contacted in some way by proximity at least if not actual communication. The assault part of Assault and Battery in some cases

Build-up

The victim (who had been law abiding) is entrapped and is given an opportunity to profit from a scheme. The victim's greed is encouraged, such that their rational judgment of the situation might be impaired. The are now sued as Shill in a long con perhaps

Pay-off or Convincer

People are told if they join the Con they can gain from it and some proof is shown. The enlistee receives a small payout as a demonstration of the scheme's effectiveness. This may be a real amount of money, or faked in some way. In a gambling con, the victim is allowed to win several small bets. In a stock market con, the victim is given fake dividends.

The Hurrah

A sudden crisis or change of events forces the victim to act immediately. This is the point at which the con succeeds or fails. I think in PsyOps the murder of a patsy to silence him or her or an excuse to prevent people from talking to each other stops Rational Analysis which would expose the con

The In-and-In

A conspirator (in on the con, but assumes the role of an interested bystander) puts an amount of money into the same scheme as the victim, to add an appearance of legitimacy. This can reassure the victim, and give the con man greater control when the deal has been completed. In Free Masonry systems the Office Mob, random people who create a wave of opinion which overpowers or nudges existing crow sentiment or information of events.

A shill

also called a plant or a stooge, is a person who publicly helps or gives credibility to a person or organization without disclosing that they have a close relationship with the person or organization. Shills can carry out their operations in the areas of media, journalism, marketing, politics, confidence games, or other business areas. A shill may also act to discredit opponents or critics of the person or organization in which they have a vested interest through character assassination or other means.

A conspirator

(in on the con, but assumes the role of an interested bystander) puts an amount of money into the same scheme as the victim, to add an appearance of legitimacy to the scheme. This can reassure the victim, and give the con man greater control when the deal has been completed.

In addition, some games require a "corroboration" step, particularly those involving a "rare item"[flim flam quackery claim of savant, etc.,]. This usually includes the use of an accomplice who plays the part of an uninvolved (initially skeptical) third party, who later confirms the claims made by the con[man.

Character assassination

(CA) is a deliberate and sustained effort to damage the reputation or credibility of an individual[1] The term could also be selectively applied to social groups and institutions. Agents of character assassinations employ a mix of open and covert methods to achieve their goals, such as raising false accusations, planting and fostering rumors, and manipulating information.

In a totalitarian regime The effect of a character assassination driven by an individual is not equal to that of a state-driven campaign. The state-sponsored destruction of reputations, fostered by political propaganda and cultural mechanisms, can have more far-reaching consequences. One of the earliest signs of a society's compliance to loosening the reins on the perpetration of crimes (and even massacres) with total impunity is when a government favors or directly encourages a campaign aimed at destroying the dignity and reputation of its adversaries, and the public accepts its allegations without question. The mobilisation toward ruining the reputation of adversaries is the prelude to the mobilisation of violence in order to annihilate them. Generally, official dehumanisation has preceded the physical assault of the victims.[10]

CA may involve exaggeration, misleading half-truths, or manipulation of facts to present an untrue picture of the targeted person. It is a form of defamation and can be a form of ad hominem argument.

The "Money-Box Scheme"

Victor Lustig, a German con artist, designed and sold a "money box" which he claimed could print $100 bills using blank sheets of paper.[1][self-published source] A victim, sensing huge profits and untroubled by ethical implications, would buy the machine for a high price, from $25,000 to $102,000.

Boiler Room

In business, the term boiler room refers to an outbound call center selling questionable investments by telephone

Jam Auction

In this scam, the confidence artist poses as a retail sales promoter, representing a manufacturer, distributor, or set of stores. The scam requires assistants to manage the purchases and money exchanges while the pitchman keeps the energy level up

Predatory Journals (Fox News and other Propoganda PsyOps

In some cases, predatory journals will use fictional editorial boards or use respected academics' names without permission to lend a veneer of credibility to the journal. A curated database of predatory journals can be found at "Scholarly Open Access" refers to the brandjacking of a legitimate academic journal by malicious third party. Typically the imposter journal sets up a fraud website for the purpose of offering scholars the opportunity to rapidly publish their research online for a fee.[1][2][3] The term hijacked journal may refer to either the fraud[4] or the legitimate journal.[5] Similar hijacking can occur with academic conferences as well.[2][6]

Journal hijacking

Social engineering

in the context of information security, refers to psychological manipulation of people into performing actions or divulging confidential information

A type of confidence trick for the purpose of information gathering, fraud, or system access, it differs from a traditional "con" in that it is often one of many steps in a more complex fraud scheme.

Pretexting

is the act of creating and using an invented scenario (the pretext) to engage a targeted victim in a manner that increases the chance the victim will divulge information or perform actions that would be unlikely in ordinary circumstances.[8] An elaborate lie, it most often involves some prior research or setup and the use of this information for impersonation (e.g., date of birth, Social Security number, last bill amount) to establish legitimacy in the mind of the target.[9]

Gull

A confidence trick is also known as a con game, a con, a scam, a grift, a hustle, a bunko (or bunco), a swindle, a flimflam, a gaffle, or a bamboozle. The intended victims are known as marks, suckers, stooges, mugus, rubes, or gulls (from the word gullible). When accomplices are employed, they are known as shills.

> "Cons succeed for inducing judgment errors , chiefly, errors arising from imperfect information and cognitive biases"

Inflammatory appearances about me (Edward Paul Donegan) are manufactured in furtherance of cons such as placing shills (exploitable females in vulnerable positions) as though, as if, they were of sexual interests to me, as though I had an interest in photographing or exploiting them, when I wish none that.

The basic elements of the scheme is plant females of no interest to me stalk me and people would blame an older white male, me, for being near a woman or child appearing to be exploitively stalked.

The Quackery will involved "in and ins" in the area "Are you OK? Are you OK?" as though I need behavioral services for my sexual deeds (manufactured) and alleged victim, the shill, will create the basis for a claim against me.

CONS

Quackery sets up the need for a Conservator who rob rather than protect assets

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Quackery, often synonymous with health fraud, is the promotion[1] of fraudulent or ignorant medical practices. A quack is a "fraudulent or ignorant pretender to medical skill" or "a person who pretends, professionally or publicly, to have skill, knowledge, qualification or credentials they do not possess; a charlatan or snake oil salesman".[2] The term quack is a clipped form of the archaic term quacksalver, from Dutch: kwakzalver a "hawker of salve".[3] In the Middle Ages the term quack meant "shouting". The quacksalvers sold their wares on the market shouting in a loud voice.[4]

Common elements of general quackery include questionable diagnoses using questionable diagnostic tests, as well as untested or refuted treatments, especially for serious diseases such as cancer. Quackery is often described as "health fraud" with the salient characteristic of aggressive promotion.

And in relations to Quackery (Abuse of Psychiatry for false conservancy and false claims against an alleged patient having alleged symptoms)

Alleged conservancy acing in "Grandparents Grift"

Grandparent scam

A grandparent gets a call or e-mail from someone claiming to be their grandchild, saying that they are in trouble. For example, the scammer may claim to have been arrested and require money wired, or gift cards purchased for bail, and asks the victim not to tell the grandchild's parents, as they would "only get upset." The call is fraudulent impersonation, the name of the grandchild typically obtained from social media postings as well as obituaries listed either in newspapers or from a funeral home's website. Any money wired out of the country is gone forever.

For Grandparent operation of Insurance fraud

Insurance fraud includes a wide variety of schemes in which insureds attempt to defraud their own insurance carriers, but when the victim is a private individual, the con artist tricks the mark into damaging, for example, the con artist's car, or injuring the con artist, in a manner that the con artist can later exaggerate. One relatively common scheme involves two cars, one for the con artist, and the other for the shill. The con artist will pull in front of the victim, and the shill will pull in front of the con artist before slowing down. The con artist will then slam on his brakes to "avoid" the shill, causing the victim to rear-end the con artist. The shill will accelerate away, leaving the scene. The con artist will then claim various exaggerated injuries in an attempt to collect from the victim's insurance carrier despite having intentionally caused the accident. Insurance carriers, who must spend money to fight even those claims they believe are fraudulent, frequently pay out thousands of dollar, a tiny amount to the carrier despite being a significant amount to an individua, to settle these claims instead of going to court.

Insurance Billed Against Trust Fund Embezzled Assets Estate, Trust, and Probate Issues

There are several common techniques that executors and trustees use to defraud trusts, estates or probate situations

- Failing to include certain assets on the inventory of the estate or trust and the trust ,manufacturing and settling false claims against the undisclosed (genomic) values

And

- up or be arrested scam[edit] (THE GULL WEARING THE SAME CLOTHES AS ME, ETC., GETS CAUGHT)

This scam is perpetrated through the phone where the caller threatens the victim with a fictitious arrest warrant. To make this threat seem real, the caller IDidentifies the caller as that of the local sheriff. Victims are told they must pay a fine to avoid arrest. Fines are in the hundreds, sometimes thousands, of dollars.

To be settled by the fake law firm fake conservancy money laundering system.

I was hospitalized in 2009 when I said I was exposed to radiation and had radiation burns. It was called eczema.

Little was known or discussed about radiation weaponry on citizens of the USA including those tied to national security and I was not believed.

At that time Ted Gunderson a high ranking FBI agent with strong beliefs about the murder of JFK and others and JFK and attorney General anti mafia right hand man to the FBI DOJ anti mafia team was alleging he was being poisoned, while in his 80s, by a violent capabilities internal espionage shadow government operating.

I remain under constant threat today, surviving, but with serious harassment including break-ins and theft of my computers, records, even cars by clear Government assets and sometimes using FBI, CIA, Secret Service or other agency identifications of themselves.

My father was in the Manhattan Project / Los Alamos war effort and part of the delivery of the atomic bomb and atomic bomb testing and the illegal activities back then I think tie not only the murder of JFK by an international mafia that same mafia is after me by infiltrators who under Dulles, Hunt, J. Edgar Hoover, James Angleton, and others including George H.W. Bush and his CIA cronies formed a criminal network. The needs of that network is a string of CIA murders to protect if those elements wish to keep their criminality secret and hidden from history.

The press generally backs the policy goals of the Cabal and the US Espionage agencies request for secrecy and the press is of no use so far outing the conspirators that are now in firm grip of government.

The National Security Agency, CIA, FBI, and others including the Press and Rockefeller Republican and Neo Con Cabal are promoting a growing New World Order of liberalized post racial Commonwealth largely led by England and Feudal European Masons in which Indirect Rule of liberalized post racial society accept Western Europe backed groomed sleeper leaders who under Free Mason theory as secret family of marriages (Mary Von Tek plan) wars will be eliminated.

That is known in most encyclopedias and libraries of historical information.

What I can add to that as a victim of the plan is the the FOXP2 gene runs in European family lines and as ruling elites select themselves in black-registry (not visible to the public) known Registry families silence those who either express the FOXP2 gene while being unwilling to remain silent OR government officials or reporters aware of the program are silenced.

The Donegan family and Kennedy family are on the outs and Bush, Schwarzenegger, Obama Jr, Harris and Biden, and other families are “in’ and share the Neocon goal of global post racial and post liberalism Feudal backed commonwealth.

I do not now and never had a child porn interest but things like pop up ads, still frames, etc., can be used to create the appearance of that in me which incites violence against me and silences my voice and acceptance, an FBI technique which I am being subjected to J. Edgar Hoover Robert Swan Mueller Christopher Wray Donald Washington style, which is Targeting of US citizens with COINTELPRO.

Richard Belzer has a book Hit List Further Reading I have heard him describe detailing 50 murders or unusual deaths of witnesses tied to the assassination of JFK and I believe a WETDIVISION of Mafia activities has tarted me to create a justification for retaliation against me for harms I did not commit but local mafia supported by the police did commit.

My father and mother were sure they could make me and prepare me for life they did not expect the US Government to make attempts on my life, the last living child of James and Glorian.

While Tom Donegan my brother and would be other witness to events of our family (like all other family members) is deceased of a suspiciously arising cancer case early in his life, I remain alive but under intense harassment.

Every time you see Genereal Patreus on US Media networks and no reporting of the available answers to who killed Micheal Hastings or why he was killed or you hear shrill ranting about Russian planted conspiracy theories about West European aggression against Russia including blaming Russia for internal acts of terror inside the US you see the Cabal in operation.

Among those who could have told this story were Tom Donegan and Jen Moore who were connected to my mother and the 850 N. Randolph Arlington Virginia home we lived in, two of the three of us are now dead, just in the last 3 years, and I believe and Espionage interest of the Deep State exists that I be silenced too and it seem a normal result of my life, not sabotage of my life.

Distant right, 850 N. Randolph st building of Glorian Donegan. Almost across 7th street was Emeritus Gloria died at. This shot from 7th street North Clarendon courts apartment Arlington Virginia.

This is from my bedroom window at 7th Street North Clarendon Courts. Suspicious activities were all around. i was ask a cab pick me up at 7th Street North and it would be said back to me “Ok we will meet you at 7th Street South.” I would correct that and back and froth my correct address was modified to a false address in the read back to me. Always, never anything else. Twice I went to incarceration and psych ward commitments, almost to state penitentiary for effectively life in prison over my confronting a call girl bordello operation not me but intoned to be me. Believing it was run by Tom Donegan and Arlington County Services, and evicted for fighting with neighbors about it, I arrive in Texas homeless trying to get way from Arlington Services.

Should They All
Be Indicted?
Steele dossier
The American Coup D'etat

Benjamin J. Rhodes (born NOVEMBER 14, 1977) is an American writer, political commentator and former Deputy National Security Advisor for Strategic Communications and Speechwriting under President Barack Obama. With Jake Sullivan, he is the co-chair of National Security Action, a political NGO.[1] He contributes to NBC News and MSNBC regularly as a political commentator.[2] He is also a Crooked Media contributor, and co-host of the foreign policy podcast Pod Save the World.

Rhodes was born on November 14, 1977, in the Upper East Side neighborhood of Manhattan. He is the son of an Episcopal father from Texas and a Jewish mother from New York. He attended the Collegiate School, graduating in 1996. Rhodes then attended Rice University, graduating Phi Beta Kappa in 2000 with majors in English and political science.[5] He then moved back to New York, attending New York University and graduating in 2002 with an MFA in creative writing.[8] His brother, David Rhodes, is a former President of CBS News.

David Rhodes (born December ? 1973) is an American media executive. In July 2021, he was hired to lead international business development at Sky, a subsidiary of US cable company Comcast Corp. He served as the president of CBS News from 2011 until 2019. He was the youngest network news president in the history of American television.

Related? Name: David Rhodes Birth Date: December 13, 1951 Rank: Professor Academic Record: Degrees received Institution Date B.Sc. (1st class Hons.; Botany) University of Manchester (U.K.) 1973 Ph.D. (Plant Physiology)

I believe Glorian's Genome is a part o this.

Crossfire Hurrican and the GangStalk of Ed Donegan by the FBI asserting I was under Russian influences.

Blocks of text used from From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Crossfire Hurricane was the code name for the counterintelligence investigation undertaken by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) from July 31, 2016, to May 17, 2017, into links between Russian officials and associates of Donald Trump and "whether individuals associated with [his] presidential campaign were coordinating, wittingly or unwittingly, with the Russian government's efforts to interfere in the 2016 U.S. presidential election". Trump was not personally under investigation until May 2017, when his firing of FBI director James Comey raised suspicions of obstruction of justice, which triggered the Mueller investigation.

In 2014 or so I was informed while a mental health inmate by a black inmate that Barrack OBama Jr was running an operation out of the US military since as he prepared to leave the US Presidency he wanted to create his policies deep into the United State military as permanent policy that could not be interrupted as a result in change of presidency.

I have long loved the history of Russia and been under Gang

Stalk. I believe the investigation both planted incriminating information on me who has legal viewpoints but liked Goth music and also “observed” me in incriminating circumstances since I was an eye in hurricane of illegal acts which surrounded me, paid actors staging events I am not a part of.

I believe the policy basis is to use appearances generated by paid actors run by the British and use that information to shake down my trust fund in what appears just compensation for perceived wrongdoing of me, but is staged wrongdoing.

The manufacture of records of my being pled guilty to staged acts by unwanted conservators of my assets allows great political damage to me and allowed hostile conservatorship to defame my reputation and incite against me.

The GangStalk system is based on several architectural foundations including making sure Due Process IS short-circuited or circumvented in some way and with rights of the stalked person (me) cripple in mechanisms to assert my right abuse of my rights.

Harassment of living conditions forces me into among other things that which counts as organ damage. The use of Rough Noise as infliction of distress of thinking causes short term cognitive injury to the brain and that can cause additional injury of poor acts and also long term trauma can and does result from inflictions of distress.

The Defense Intelligence Agency like system of recognizing what might cause me distress and subjecting me to that stimuli is used to cripple efforts of my writing my book, etc.,

In fact often the acts of Stalkers are genuinely believable use of death threats and other acts that are denied by but backed by the State through State confidential informants working for the State.

After working on the Ben Carson campaign as a foreign policy adviser, in early February 2016 George Papadopoulos, codenamed “Crossfire Typhoon” by the FBI,left the Carson campaign. Also in early February, he moved to London to begin working for the London Centre of International Law Practice (LCILP), with which he was associated for several months. On March 6, Papadopoulos accepted an offer to work with the Trump campaign. As part of his duties with the LCILP, on March 12 he traveled to the Link Campus University in Rome to meet officials with the university. While on this trip, on March 14 he met Maltese professor Joseph Mifsud and informed the professor about his joining the Trump campaign. On March 21, the Trump campaign told the Washington Post that Papadopoulos was one of five foreign policy advisers for the Trump campaign. Mifsud took more interest in Papadopoulos, and met him in London on March 24 with a Russian woman posing as “Putin’s niece.”

Mifsud traveled to Moscow in April 2016, and upon his return he told Papadopoulos that Russian government officials were in possession of “thousands of emails” that could be politically damaging to Hillary Clinton.[19][20] According to reporting by Malta Today about FBI records, Mifsud told the FBI in his February 2017 interviews that he had no advanced knowledge of Russia having emails from the Democratic National Committee, and did not make any offers to Papadopolous.[21] On May 6, Papadopoulos met Alexander Downer, the Australian High Commissioner to Britain in a London bar, and told him about the Clinton emails over drinks. After WikiLeaks released hacked Democratic National Committee (DNC) emails on July 22, the Australian government on July 26 advised American authorities of the encounter between Downer and Papadopoulos. Receipt of this information spurred the FBI’s launch of the Crossfire Hurricane investigation on July 31.

In late July 2016, according to his May 2017 testimony to the House Intelligence Committee, CIA director John Brennan convened a group of officials from the CIA, NSA and FBI to investigate Russian interference.[24][25] In a July 2017 interview, Brennan described this group effort as a “fusion cell”.[26] According to his later testimony, Brennan gave the FBI leads involving “contacts and interactions between Russian officials and U.S. persons involved in the Trump campaign” that were beyond the CIA’s mandate to pursue. He said this information “served as the basis for the FBI investigation to determine whether such collusion [or] cooperation occurred”.

Black Budget Operations are running a Dopple of me who confesses to Call Girls that he (as me) is a threat to women and the community. In fact he (as me) is a peeping tom caught in the act and is willing to pay-up or be arrested, and likely agree he should not be around women.

An example of a Black Budget funding Black Opps

George H. W. Bush influenced mistakes made during Reagan administration Reagan later regretted.

Oliver North #Pegasus team 1) Sold arms to #Iran during embargo. Freed hostages for #OctoberSuprise embarrassing #Carter. Then profits into #RightWingDeathSquads in #LatinAmerica illegally funded, violates #MonroeDoctrine

Other sources of funding for goals based operations is asset siezures used for things like minority causes when a corporation loses a class action suit to the DOJ and yet another source of funding, this one illegal, is when a private business may fund the activities or family members of politicians who are in State offices.

The Oil and Banking interests have closely connected political families and run private funding illegal operations which are under the same hat as people like President, VIce President, DOJ FBI, or Congresional or Courts office holders. Such is Operation40, Blackwater, and many other companines based on East India Tea Company.

Cui Bono (the elites, top OSS figures like Bush,

Cheney, Donald Barr William Barr, every POTUS of the USA since Lyndon Johnson

It can also be rendered as cui prodest? ("whom does it profit?") and ad cuius bonum? ("for whose good?"). *

Bono Reas

Generally the Criminal Syndicate which is operating the Black Opps has some poltical, ethnic, or religious goal in mind.

In the case of Oil money often the oil company or defense contractor owners have their profits and global business in minds while also working in Government and abusing government powers, even assasinationg government officials to keep their global business goals underway.

Most of the crimes against me and the trust fund of mother were unneccessary except for the harm done to me which was the real effect desired by the high power criminals.

Crime
Criminal Act	Adverse Impact on Victim	Benefit for the criminal
Impact	the level of impact is part of the agregion of the crime	The type of gain the criminal is seeking also counts in the egregiousness of the crime

The Secret Society or alternatively Secret Team are high power genetics eugenics grooming lines corssing world history and now covering up the global scale of grommed planted leaders by Scotish Rites and others.

Confirmed about that book. LBJ an Hill Counrty Texas did it. Killed JFK. *

Politicians have created a slush fund running far against the will of Tom Donegan, Glorian, Jim, or myself, which in sham moves is merely funding grotesque attacks upon me and perhaps covertly cover attacks on Tom Donegan as well.

History *

"Laws against money laundering were created to use against organized crime during the period of Prohibition (of alcohol trafficking) in the United States during the 1930s. Organized crime received a major boost from Prohibition and a large source of new funds that were obtained from illegal sales of alcohol. The successful prosecution of Al Capone on tax evasion brought in a new emphasis by the state and law enforcement agencies to track and confiscate money, but existing laws against tax evasion could not be used once gangsters started paying their taxes." From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Paper Moon (film) retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

[image]

The film, shot in black-and-white, is set in Kansas and Missouri during the Great Depression. It stars the real-life father and daughter pairing of Ryan and Tatum O'Neal as protagonists Moze and Addie.

In a state of poverty and needing car repairs, Moses visits recently widowed women often driving to funerals in the old car, pretending to have previously sold expensive, personalized Bibles to their deceased husbands, and the widows pay him for the Bibles inscribed with their names. Addie joins the scam, pretending she is his daughter, and exhibits a talent for confidence tricks, such as selling Bibles and the quick change scam. As time passes, Moses and Addie become a formidable team

---

This is a short con, run quickly, on sequential Gulls (Gullibles) who are grieving widows, emotional, at their husbands funeral, as the Bibble saleman shows up with a Bibble tied to the last purchase of their departed husband, which for a fee, the widow can buy and finish the sale.

It features many Confidence Tricks elements such as selecting Gulls in advance for a particular type of scam which has been rehearsed again and again, using Gulls who are in emotional and quick decisions states, and a team of Shills rather than just one con artist.

A Long Con focuses on a single Mark, such as my trust fund and Glorian Donegan, shaking it down in with long term preperation, resources, and complex sustaining efforts to keep the Con running.

Guerrilla Warfare

> guerrilla warfare, also spelled guerilla warfare, type of warfare fought by irregulars in fast-moving, small-scale actions against orthodox military and police forces and, on occasion, against rival insurgent forces, either independently or in conjunction with a larger political-military strategy. Brittanica

Guerrilla warfare

Guerrilla warfare is a form of irregular warfare in which small groups of combatants, such as paramilitary personnel, armed civilians, or irregulars, use military tactics including ambushes, sabotage, raids, petty warfare, hit-and-run tactics, and mobility, to fight a larger and less-mobile traditional military. Wikipedia

Harass

Impede such as cutting telephone lines, planting evidence in a frame job, using rumor mongering, break ins and document thefts, etc.,

Shill lawyers and judges such as B Janice Ellington or Paula Xinis or others who are connected to deep state genetics programs.

Paranoid American

The Kennedy Curse *

The Kennedy curse refers to a series of deaths, accidents, and other calamities involving members of the American Kennedy family.

The alleged curse has primarily struck the children and descendants of businessman Joseph P. Kennedy Sr., but it has also impacted family friends, associates, and other relatives. Political assassinations and plane crashes have been the most common manifestations of the curse.

In 1905 the British decided to retake America mostly be cultivating lost British colonies and in 1925 formalized a long term plan at Wembley Stadiumpartly overshadowed by a speec defect of the Prince of York younger brother to Prince oF Wales, Edward. (Robert F. Kennedy Jr son of Joseph Kennedy was born November 20 1925)

Edward (it appears to be the grandfather of mine abdicated king I was named after, later an aristocrat Duke of some type) was fairly close to the Von Trapps, the Whiteheads, the Whitehead torpedo, and Austrian navy and had premarital involvement, perhaps planed, with Maria Kustchera, likely Marilyn Monroe and Glorian Donegan included, 1926 births.

Prescott Bush and many others were part of Vienes psychiatry and research of offspring and Eugenics.

That done WITH the Kutscheras in the 1925 through 1935 years took a wrong turn for Edward Prince of Wales in the 1936 Olympics and the visual spectacle of Nazsim before the world, and Eugenics becoming hostile to Jews and blacks.

The Irish of Cape Cod had little love for the British WASPS and the feeling was mutual in Boston and the Troubles between ENgland and Ireland in the 1960s.

Big name OSS CIA and other politicians re-victiming Sidney Gottlieb victims Donald Barr William Barr Jefery Epstein Columbia University victims

Vocabulary.com retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

recite

You are showing off your ability to recite, or repeat aloud from memory, when you say the entire text of “The Gettysburg Address” or name all the past winners of your town’s asparagus eating contest.

Recite entered the English language as a legal term but is now more often used in the realms of education, literature, and religion. Children in school may be assigned a famous poem to recite in front of the class or be tested on how well they can recite their multiplication tables. In many religious traditions, being able to recite passages of sacred texts is an important part of practicing the religion.

The USA and Illuminati know what the history of the Manhattan Project is, my father’s role, the illegal DNA usage for sleeper agents, and that it came his military service, exposing himself to atomic testing

Invite

When you invite a friend to do something, you request her company, or encourage her to come with you. You might invite a group of neighbors to help you throw a block party.

People like landlords are encouraged to create slanderous character assassinating allegations against me, those in power who have a need to sabotage me.

incite

To incite is to cause to act or occur. Violent words can incite violent actions which, in turn, might incite public outcry against violence.

Once having fosters offensive false allegations designed to be sexually humiliating, ostracizing, fight provoking, etc., the smear campaign the allegations were cultivated for are used in further sabotage as Guerilla Warfare public subversion of the basics in life such as housing, and the smear campaign includes using street thugs to attack the law abiding the street thugs Confidential Informants plausibly deniably working for Guerillas Warfare espionage unit.

This book

Donald Barr CIA of BBRDW and William Barr CIA of BCCI

as Obama Jr. is being created we have this. The purported father will be Obama Sr. of Kenya. Some believe the biological father was Malcolm X.

The CIA had an operation allegedly to manufacture Barrack Obama Jr for Indonesia and an Indonesian record on Barrack Obama Jr pointed to his birth in Mombasa Kenya, country of Obama Sr, where a false birth certificate was Barrack Obama Jr was found.

That Mombassa Kenya birth certificate was tied to the Anglican Church of England. Obama Sr had been a convert from the Muslim faith as he lived in British backed Kenya area.

The CIA had many operations underway and the various roles and funding inside and outside the USA that will lead to Donald Barr Sr. holding an experimental monkey in the White House went through Madelyn Lee Paynes BBRDW Bank, and she also did probate work as part of her banking duties while in Hawaii working for the CIA.

Protection rackets, gun dealing, street thugs, cocaine, meth, housing deed flips in New York and elsewhere, international trafficking.

The Secret Service and CIA and FBI plan is to use allegations (paid off through the trust fund) will create a smear campaign of Ed and his mother and fathers wishes, the Trust Fund a hostile “partner” to the Donegan who attack the one remaining Donegan (Ed Donegan) from “inside the family.”

Glorian and Ed Donegan home 850 N. Randolph used for mafia activities

Donald Barr holds an experimental monkey in JFKs

whitehouse. The two males on the photo are Barr and Obama Jr.

Donald Barr's far flung world plans funded by nations even farther and was through a long series of banking criminal organizations and I assert ARC of NOVA pooled trust is now among them.

Vilage Voice Attorney General Barr is best reason to vote for Clinton [in 1992]

Attorney General William Barr Is the Best Reason to Vote for Clinton

A federal judge accuses the Justice Department of trying to "shape" a case involving illegal loans to Iraq. The House Judiciary Committee blasts federal attorneys for compromising their reputation for impartiality in the investigation of a computer-software theft. CIA officials charge a deputy attorney general with advocating the suppression of evidence in a sensitive sentencing hearing.

To even the most avid scandalmonger, these may sound like the ravings of a fevered Orwellian imagination. But in fact they are all part of a litany of wrongdoing leveled at George Bush's Justice Department in the past two months alone. And at the center of the criticism is the chief articulator of Bush's imperial presidency, the man who wrote the legal rationale for the Gulf War, the Panama invasion, and the officially sanctioned kidnapping of, foreign nationals abroad - Attorney General William P. Barr.

So fast has Barr's star dimmed in recent months that even conservative pundits like The New York Times's William Safire have taken to calling him the "Cover-Up General." But so poorly understood are Barr's ties to the president himself that the fires now threatening the Justice Department have barely singed the Oval Office.

To some Washington insiders, that comes as a surprise, for Barr is surely the closest thing this administration has to a court philosopher. Through the policy decisions he has authored, first as assistant attorney general and finally as the chief himself, he has fashioned a coherent, radical ideology for a White House that is only ostensibly middle-of-the-road.

While the president, for example, hails a "new world order" based on the rules of law, Barr's briefs give us broken international covenants. Though conservative purists pretend that the Justice Department remains reactive, the attorney general, bolstered by an activist Supreme Court, sets aggressively conservative social agendas on everything from abortion to immigration - while stalling off inquiries into a myriad of scandals. Indeed, nothing better sums up the political gospel and failings of George Bush's reign on the eve of this election than the handiwork of his chief lawyer.

SON OF THE CIA

It was 21 years ago, in 1971, that I first encountered William

Barr. Both of us were working for the CIA at the time, he as a novice China analyst, I as a member of the agency's Vietnam task force. Jovial and unassuming, he took his cues easily from an overly politicized office chief. It was a token of things to come.

Three years before, we had brushed shoulders unknowingly on Columbia University's roiling campus. Both of us were on the other side of the barricades as antiwar demonstrations there blasted our generation into a decade of rage. Barr, a conservative student spokesman, preached toughness to the university administration, of which his father, then dean of the engineering faculty, was a leading light. Years later, this same damn-the-torpedoes zeal would commend Barr to his ultimate father figure, George Bush. When Cuban refugees penned up at an Alabama prison rioted and took hostages in the summer of 1991, deputy attorney general Barr ordered the place stormed. Soon afterward, Bush tapped him for the attorney general slot itself.

Barr first met Bush in the CIA. In 1976, having shifted to the agency's legislative office, he helped write the pap sheets that director Bush used to fend off the Pike and Church committees, the first real embodiments of Congressional oversight of the CIA. Intimates say the experience was formative for Barr, turning him into an implacable enemy of congressional intrusions on executive prerogative.

"The most radical period I had probably was when I was sort of a moderate Republican," he later acknowledged. Sure enough, Barr stayed safe within conservative clutches even after leaving the agency in 1977. Armed with a night-school law diploma, he asked for - and got - Bush's backing for a clerkship appointment to Malcolm Wilkey of the Court of Appeals in Washington, D.C. Years later, as attorney general, Barr would name Wilkey to investigate the House Banking scandal. Wilkey repayed the favor with a wrenchingly partisan inquiry. Feeding the press overheated charges of wrongdoing, he scored points off the Democratic Congress just as the administration itself was being pilloried for its failed economics.

THE EDMUND BURKE CLONE ASCENDENT

During the 1980s Barr bounced between government service and a prestigious Washington law firm that would later represent one of the key defendants in the BCCI affair. Barr assured Congress in 1991 that he was long gone from Shaw, Pittman, Potts & Trowbridge by the time it took on its dubious BCCI client. Still, the appearance of compromised interests would dog Barr at Justice, particularly as its own investigation of BCCI stalled.

"Like your typical Wall Street lawyer … not a table pounder" was how one of Barr's legal sparring partners remembered him during his days at Shaw, Pittman. Indeed, "corporate" was written all over him. Though he never tried a case in court, he took on the causes of some of the firm's starchiest clients, including a nuclear utility in a whistleblower case.

Justice officials have pigeonholed until after the election two long-promised, potentially explosive studies of 15,000 police brutality complaints from across the-country.

Briefly, in 1982, Barr left the firm for a stint in the White House's Office of Policy Development. Congress took no action on his two main portfolios, abortion and tuition tax credits for low-income parents of private school students. But he did strike up a useful friendship with White House Counsel C. Boyden Gray. This relationship would later help propel Barr to the top spot at Justice and nurture speculation among critics that he was a White House toady.

In 1983 Barr returned to law practice and laid low for the next five years, thus avoiding the Iran-contra tar baby. But as Bush launched his presidential bid in 1988, Barr joined the campaign team and, among other things, helped fend off attacks on Dan Quayle's character. His loyalty was quickly repaid. In late 1988, Barr became the first assistant attorney general to be installed in the wake of the election.

He also began flexing his ideology in public. During a congressional hearing at the time he boldly acknowledged having "doubts" about the constitutionality of the independent counsel statutes because of what he saw as their limiting effect on presidential power.

For the next two years, as chief of the Justice Department's Office of Legal Counsel, Barr played a key role in shaping Richard Thornburgh's stormy tenure as attorney general. In a job that was essentially political, he helped maintain the administration's ideological purity by screening out judicial candidates who weren't conservative enough. He also drafted two key documents rationalizing the U.S. invasion of Panama and the seizure of General Manuel Noriega.

If Barr had made no other contribution to the imperial pretensions of George Bush, these documents would nevertheless qualify him for hero status in the Republican pantheon. The first "opinion," written in June 1989, recognized the president's right to dispatch FBI agents abroad to arrest foreigners even in violation of international treaties. The second document, issued the following December as American forces geared up to invade Panama, gave a patina of legality to the president's desire to use the military in similar takedown operations. Together, the two memos enshrine what has come to be known as the president's "snatch authority."

In an inevitable seignorial flourish, the administration refused to release the complete contents of these documents, even to Congress. But over the years, enough of their flavor has seeped into the press to take one's breath away. Writing in the June memo, Barr argued that both the president and, through him, the attorney general have an “inherent constitutional power” to authorize certain overseas operations, including abductions, to fend off “serious threats” to U.S. domestic “security” from “international terrorist groups and narcotics traffickers.” Such actions, he said, are mandated by the Constitution and domestic law and can be undertaken even in the face of objections from a foreign government or provisions of the UN Charter barring the use of force against member nations.

When Congress first got wind of these astonishing theories, in November 1989, Barr insisted that they represented no policy change. But weeks later, the Panama invasion kicked off, and the following spring federal agents infuriated the Mexican government by arranging to have a Mexican doctor, who had helped torture and murder a DEA agent, abducted and spirited to the U.S. Three years later, the U.S. Supreme Court took up the legality of that action. Though the conservative majority approved it on the grounds that our extradition treaty with Mexico did not specifically bar kidnapping as a law enforcement tool, Justice John Paul Stevens, in dissent, seemed to be speaking for many Americans when he decried the ruling as “monstrous.”

“It is shocking” he wrote, “that a party to an extradition treaty might believe it has secretly reserved the right to make seizures of citizens in the other party’s territory.”

IN THE RIGHT PLACE AT THE RIGHT TIME

From the moment the “snatch” memos became news, nobody on Capitol Hill seemed in doubt about their authorship. But surprisingly, the rancor didn’t rub off. Somehow Barr kept even his critics convinced that he was a conciliator, the type of moderate conservative you wouldn’t mind having to dinner. Journalists tell the story of how on the eve of the Panama operation he charmed the guests at a Thornburgh Christmas party by showing up in kilts with bagpipes under his arm to play for hours. Where Thornburgh rankled, Barr soothed. For an administration increasingly beset by scandal and economic malaise, this capacity for the light touch proved a valued asset.

In mid 1990, as Thornburgh's own problems with Congress deepened, Barr was tapped to run interference, and was named deputy attorney general. The appointment came just in time for him to draft another landmark tract for the administration, the legal pretext for the undeclared war against Iraq. It would have made any Nixonite proud. Explaining it later to Congress, Barr said he believed there was a "gray zone" between a declared offensive war and an emergency defensive action where "there is latitude for the president, if he believes that the vital interests of the United States are threatened by foreign military attack, there is room for him to respond."

On other fronts, displays of partisan excess under Barr's stewardship are becoming bolder, more transparent. Last summer, in deference to the administration's anti-regulation agenda, the attorney general himself overruled the EPA and his own staff and wrote an interpretation of the Clean Air Act that dismantled its most important pollution regulation.

Barr did not make clear how the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait equaled an attack on vital American interests, but to his credit, at the moment of decision itself, he did counsel the president to soften the impact of his unilateral rush to war by seeking a declaration of congressional support. That piece of advice, much akin to Johnson's leveraging of the Tonkin Gulf resolution, helped to keep the naysayers at bay.

Barr's service to the administration, however, wasn't limited simply to such flashes of political savvy. In 1991 he became active in stone-walling the Iraqgate and the BCCI investigations and further gratified conservatives by keeping up the tattoo on their favorite hot-button issues. Embracing immigration policy as his own, he helped craft an exception rule that automatically barred HIV-positive sufferers from entering the country. Civil libertarians charged illegal discrimination and even racism, since many of those excluded were black Haitians. Barr assured Congress that the policy was meant only to keep out people who might be thrown back on public welfare.

Flogging another conservative hobbyhorse, Barr fought hard as deputy AG to keep federal courts from expanding their right to review state criminal convictions on writs of habeas corpus. As a devout Catholic, he also pandered to the antiabortion crowd, even "torquing" the law in August 1991 to advance their crusade. The challenge came when a federal judge in Wichita issued an order barring anti-abortion demonstrators from blocking access to a clinic. The Justice Department intervened to try to force a lifting of the ban. Later asked about this by Congress, Barr gave an exquisitely technical rationale, asserting that though the demonstrators were "lawbreakers … treading on other people's rights," they "should be dealt with" in state court, not federal court - thus the federal judge's order was unenforceable.

It was vintage Barr, a neat fileting of the law for a political end. Democratic predecessors had done the same. But what made Barr an irritant to critics was his adeptness at it.

ATTORNEY GENERAL AT LAST

If any single event assured Barr's final ascendancy, it was the Anita Hill-Clarence Thomas confrontation. At his confirmation hearings in November 1991 Barr admitted that Justice's Office of Legal Counsel had gathered evidence against Hill and communicated with her congressional critics, but he denied any impropriety. "It is my understanding," he testified, "that OLC lawyers did not go proactively to investigate Anita Hill … [but] performed the traditional role of lawyers, which was to take the information coming in, transcripts, statements, and so forth and analyze them."

Democratic senators were not convinced, but because the Hill-Thomas fight had been so bitter - and because no one wanted a replay of the fractious hearings that had greeted Robert Gates's bid to become CIA director - Congress cleared Barr's nomination with barely a protest.

When Barr finally moved into the AG's chair in late 1991, he talked tough about combatting drugs and crime and immediately shifted 300 FBI agents from counter-intelligence work to antigang and violent-crime squads. In addition, an inner-city program that he dubbed "Weed and Seed," aimed at weeding out violent criminals and revitalizing neighborhoods, was soon elevated to administration policy.

For all the fanfare, however, critics sensed little more than smoke and mirrors. The Noriega conviction, which Barr touted as a major blow to narcotrafficking, produced no slackening of the drug flow through Panama. Moreover, the Rodney King affair and the subsequent L.A. riots exposed a glaring contradiction in the department's get-tough policy on crime.

Responding to the acquittal of King's police attackers, Barr empaneled a federal grand jury to investigate. But, lest he offend Bush's law-and-order constituency, he continued to stall off other initiatives. Over a year ago, Representative Don Edwards introduced a bill making it a federal crime for a police officer to engage in a "pattern" of excessive force and empowering victims to sue to stop such abuses. But under the hammering of Justice and some friendly senators, the still-pending bill lost its teeth, degenerating into a simple authorization that would permit the attorney general himself to sue offending police departments.

On top of this, Justice officials have pigeonholed until after the election two long-promised, potentially explosive studies of 15,000 police brutality complaints from across the-country. The delay outrages black leaders, who fear further frustration and violence. “The department’s response to this issue has been totally inadequate,” the NAACP’s Washington director Wade Henderson recently told the Legal Times.

On other fronts, displays of partisan excess under Barr’s stewardship are becoming bolder, more transparent. Last summer, in deference to the administration’s anti-regulation agenda, the attorney general himself overruled the EPA and his own staff and wrote an interpretation of the Clean Air Act that dismantled its most important pollution regulation. He also took another imperious swipe at the immigration issue by helping devise a new policy that authorizes the Coast Guard to intercept Haitian refugees on the high seas and return them to their island. The initiative was a response to the flood of refugees unleashed by the military coup in Haiti last fall. But human rights organizations have gone to court to challenge its legality, declaring that it violates UN protocols that forbid the repatriation of those who face political persecution at home. “It is another example,” says human rights lawyer Michael Ratner, “of the Barr regime flouting the law for political ends.”

The truest measure of Barr’s extremism, however, lies in the coils of three unfolding national scandals. The central question they pose is: How far will he go to protect his master? The answer, some feel, already exposes Barr to the risk of a grand jury investigation and maybe worse.

BCCI

Nobody knows how much the American taxpayer has lost in the BCCI affair, but after years of start-stop investigations it is apparent that federal authorities knew as early as 1983 that the London-based Bank of Credit & Commerce International was trying to buy into the American banking system illegally, even as it engaged in a variety of crimes abroad.

Why the Justice Department was so slow to step in has never been adequately explained. Some accuse Thornburgh and Barr of trying to cover up BCCI links to Irancontra and the CIA, which has admitted using the bank's facilities abroad in covert operations. No substantiation has been found for this charge, but few doubt that a stall-off did occur at Justice.

The initial culprit appears to have been the CIA, which, though aware early on of BCCI's inroads into American banking, chose not to inform the attorney general. Even so, by 1988 the violations were so blatant that Senator John Kerry stumbled on them while heading up a subcommittee on drug trafficking. He alerted the Justice Department - to no avail. Later, a Customs bust prompted indictment of some BCCI officials in Tampa, but inexplicably the Justice Department pursued only low-level prosecutions, while leaving top BCCI officials untouched.

Finally, in July 1991, banking authorities worldwide moved to shut BCCI down. Deputy Attorney General Barr admitted to Congress at the time that there had been "coordination" problems in the investigation and promised to remedy them. But a top federal prosecutor in Miami later accused Barr and other Justice officials of repeatedly thwarting his own efforts in 1991 to indict the bank of fraud charges.

What broke the logjam was Senator Kerry's own impatience. Frustrated with Justice's inaction, he eventually had one of his investigators, Jack Blum, turn some dirt on BCCI over to New York state district attorney Robert Morgenthau, who promised an investigation of his own. That did it. In December 1991, the Justice Department joined Morgenthau in announcing a plea arrangement with BCCI that nailed the bank for various criminal violations and obligated it to fork over $550 million, the largest criminal forfeiture ever obtained by the government. Last July, Morgenthau and federal attorneys in New York dropped the other shoe, announcing the indictments of Democratic Party patriarch Clark Clifford and his law partner on charges of lying to banking regulators, bribe-taking, and falsification of records - all in service of their onetime client, BCCI. Both men pleaded not guilty.

The Justice Department stands accused by the nation's premier intelligence agency of having abetted the cover-up of a possible crime, even to the point of shaving evidence.

Barr gloated, declaring after the initial plea agreement that this "resolves all United States charges against BCCI as an institution." But Senator Kerry's own analysis of the scandal, released only a few weeks ago, makes clear that the Justice Department's investigation of BCCI was often too little, too late.

Says Blum, whose approach to Morgenthau levered Barr into action: "Justice's handling of BCCI gives the lie to the adminstration's claim to being hard-line on crime."

INSLAW

Barr has long been a critic of the independent counsel law and has argued that Justice officials are professional enough to investigate themselves and their own masters. But a report on the Inslaw affair, released in September by Representative Jack Brooks's Judiciary Committee, obliterates that claim.

At issue is whether the Justice Department itself stole valuable computer software from the Washington-based Inslaw company in the early 1980s. Four years ago, a lawyer for Inslaw called for the appointment of an independent counsel to investigate, but Thornburgh resisted, and at his own confirmation hearings in November 1991 Barr announced that he was naming an in-house counsel under his own control to handle the inquiry. According to the recently released Brooks report, that investigation has yet to bear fruit in part because Barr delayed granting his appointee subpoena power.

Even worse, says the report, Justice officials stonewalled the committee's own efforts to get at the facts, by blocking access to witnesses, and by denying and even "losing" relevant documents. The report blames this "lack of cooperation" for the tenativeness of its own conclusions, but leaves little doubt where the committee's sympathies lie. Pointing out that Justice officials concluded as early as 1986 that Inslaw's claim to the disputed software was "legitimate," the report says the department nonetheless spent $1 million fighting the issue in court, thus raising the "spectre" of "an abuse of power of shameful proportions."

"The Department of Justice is this nation's most visible guarantor of the notion that wrongdoing will be sought out and punished irrespective of the identity of the actors involved," the report concludes. "The Department's handling of the INSLAW case has seriously undermined its credibility and reputation in playing such a role."

IRAQGATE

Last week the chair of the Senate Intelligence Committee lent his voice to a chorus already calling for an independent counsel to investigate how the Justice Department, CIA, and FBI bungled a case in Atlanta involving $5 billion in illegal loans to Iraq. Over a month ago, William Barr rebuffed a similar congressional request and bridled at suggestions that his department couldn't handle the inquiry itself. But since then, the CIA has accused one of Barr's subordinates of having "strongly advised" that relevant intelligence be withheld from the federal judge in Atlanta who until recently was handling the case. In response, Barr has just announced that he's appointing a special prosecutor - a Republican judge - to investigate under Justice Department supervision. It's precisely the kind of stall tactic Barr used so effectively in the INSLAW affair.

In basic terms, the controversy is over the classic cover-up question of who knew what when - and bears critically on the most sensitive foreign policy issue of the Bush presidency, the coddling of Saddam Hussein prior to the Gulf War.

To be up to speed, you have to understand a few arcane facts. First, the administration is accused of having allowed U.S. agricultural loan guarantees to be used to underwrite military purchases by Iraq during the late 1980s when the official policy was: moderate through conciliation. Second, the Atlanta branch of the Italian bank Banca Nazionale del Lavoro is said to have floated $5 billion in illegal loans to Iraq during the same period. Third, the Justice Department is suspected of having deliberately singled out BNL's Atlanta branch manager for prosecution, saying he acted alone, so as to avoid embarrassing his higher-ups in Rome and opening a can of worms that could reveal deeper administration complicity in the funding of Iraq's military buildup.

Along the way, evidence has surfaced that the Commerce Department altered documents that pointed to the dual use (read: military) applicability of certain items the Iraqis had purchased with U.S. aid.

Still awake? Please, there's more. In February 1991, the Justice Department struck a plea agreement with the BNL manager in Atlanta that pledged him to clam up, making no statement in court, in exchange for having the charges against him lessened. Members of the Senate Judiciary wondered: what gives? So did the Atlanta federal judge, Marvin Shoob, who late last summer was about to sentence this apparent fall guy. Shoob called for an independent counsel to sort out the mess.

That's when the bureaucrats began quick-stepping. On September 4, the CIA sent the Justice Department a classified letter that glossed over early intelligence reports indicating top-level knowledge within BNL Rome of the Atlanta branch's illicit Iraqi loans. Ten days later, House Banking committee chair Henry Gonzalez, who'd previously goaded the CIA into giving him the facts, spilled them in a speech on the floor of the House. Inevitable conclusion: the U.S. intelligence community knew, by late 1989, that BNL from top to bottom had played fast and loose with American banking regulations. Why, then, such a delay in prosecution?

The CIA continued to duck and weave, claiming in a letter to Shoob on September 17 that nobody knew nothin' about the early intelligence reports implicating BNL-Rome in the scandal.

As the heat intensified, however, so did the weakness in bureaucratic knees. On October 8 CIA lawyers, testifying to the Senate Intelligence Committee, declared that a devil at Justice had made them do it - that one of Barr's subordinates had encouraged them to skimp the truth in the letter to Shoob. Justice officials struck back by playing victim. How do you suborn the CIA? they demanded publicly. The CIA again parried by claiming that the early tell-all intelligence reports fingering BNL-Rome had been known to FBI and thus Justice officials since late 1989. Barr in turn ordered FBI chief William Sessions investigated on unrelated ethics charges - a probe that some see as an attempt to buffalo the Bureau at the very moment it might be tempted to investigate Iraqgate on its own.

You can't be awake. But what's important is this: The Justice Department stands accused by the nation's premier intelligence agency of having abetted the cover-up of a possible crime, even to the point of shaving evidence. Maybe this simplifies it, but the allegation itself should give pause even to the most devout law-and-order conservative. And no, this ain't a mugging, baby. The lawlessness espoused in Barr's snatch memos inevitably breeds offspring.

There is, too, the more basic issue of equity: Imagine you're the manager of Atlanta's BNL branch who's wound up in Barr's cross hairs because the Justice Department and everybody else in the Bush administration needed a scapegoat for their own policy errors. On October 1 he did get a reprieve of sorts: The Justice Department decided to try him rather than embarrass itself further by sticking with the plea agreement that so artfully found him guilty without giving him a chance to speak. Even so, if you're in his shoes, do you place any stock in American justice? Or, as one critic said of the snatch memos, do we have here a regime of law that says: when the president declares it's illegal, it is? ■

This article from the Village Voice Archive was posted on January 27, 2023.

The Story of Obama: All in The Company (Part I)

by Wayne Madsen

In 1967, Obama and his mother joined her husband in Jakarta. In 1965, Lolo Soetoro had been called back from Hawaii by General Suharto to serve as an officer in the Indonesian military to help launch a bloody CIA-backed genocide of Indonesian Communists and Indonesian Chinese throughout the expansive country. Suharto consolidated his power in 1966, the same year that Barack Obama, Sr.'s friend, Mboya, had helped to rally pro-U.S. pan-African support for the CIA's overthrow of Nkrumah in Ghana in 1966.

President Obama's own work in 1983 for Business International Corporation, a CIA front that conducted seminars with the world's most powerful leaders and used journalists as agents abroad, dovetails with CIA espionage activities conducted by his mother, Stanley Ann Dunham in 1960s post-coup Indonesia on behalf of a number of CIA front operations, including the East-West Center at the University of Hawaii, the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID), and the Ford Foundation. Dunham met and married Lolo Soetoro, Obama's stepfather, at the East-West Center in 1965. Soetoro was recalled to Indonesia in 1965 to serve as a senior army officer and assist General Suharto and the CIA in the bloody overthrow of President Sukarno.

Barack Obama, Sr., who met Dunham in 1959 in a Russian language class at the University of Hawaii, had been part of what was described as an airlift of 280 East African students to the United States to attend various colleges - merely "aided" by a grant from the Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation, according to a September 12, 1960, Reuters report from London. The airlift was a CIA operation to train and indoctrinate future agents of influence in Africa, which was becoming a battleground between the United States and the Soviet Union and China for influence among newly-independent and soon-to-be independent countries on the continent.

The airlift was condemned by the deputy leader of the opposition Kenyan African Democratic Union (KADU) as favoring certain tribes - the majority Kikuyus and minority Luos - over other tribes to favor the Kenyan African National Union (KANU), whose leader was Tom Mboya, the Kenyan nationalist and labor leader who selected Obama, Sr. for a scholarship at the University of Hawaii. Obama, Sr., who was already married with an infant son and pregnant wife in Kenya, married Dunham on Maui on February 2, 1961 and was also the university's first African student. Dunham was three month's pregnant with Barack Obama, Jr. at the time of her marriage to Obama, Sr.

KADU deputy leader Masinda Muliro, according to Reuters, said KADU would send a delegation to the United States to investigate Kenyan students who received "gifts" from the Americans and "ensure that further gifts to Kenyan students are administered by people genuinely interested in Kenya's development.'"

The CIA allegedly recruited Tom M'Boya in a heavily funded "selective liberation" programme to isolate Kenya's founding President Jomo Kenyatta, whom the American spy agency labelled as "unsafe." Mboya received a $100,000 grant for the airlift from the Kennedy Foundation after he turned down the same offer from the U.S. State Department, obviously concerned that direct U.S. assistance would look suspicious to pro-Communist Kenyan politicians who suspected Mboya of having CIA ties. The Airlift Africa project was underwritten by the Kennedy Foundation and the African-American Students Foundation. Obama, Sr. was not on the first airlift but a subsequent one. The airlift, organized by Mboya in 1959, included students from Kenya, Uganda, Tanganyika, Zanzibar, Northern Rhodesia, Southern Rhodesia, and Nyasaland.

Reuters also reported that Muliro charged that Africans were "disturbed and embittered" by the airlift of the selected students. Muliro "stated that "preferences were shown to two major tribes [Kikuyu and Luo] and many U.S.-bound students had failed preliminary and common entrance examinations, while some of those left behind held first-class certificates."

CIA-airlifted to Hawaii, Barack Obama Sr., with leis, stands with Stanley Dunham, President Obama's grandfather, on his right. Obama, Sr. was a friend of Mboya and a fellow Luo. After Mboya was assassinated in 1969, Obama, Sr. testified at the trial of his alleged assassin. Obama, Sr. claimed he was the target of a hit-and-run assassination attempt after his testimony.

Obama, Sr., who left Hawaii for Harvard in 1962, divorced Dunham in 1964. Obama, Sr. married a fellow Harvard student, Ruth Niedesand, a Jewish-American woman, who moved with him to Kenya and had two sons. They were later divorced. Obama, Sr. worked for the Kenyan Finance and Transport ministries as well as an oil firm. Obama, Sr. died in a 1982 car crash and his funeral was attended by leading Kenyan politicians, including future Foreign Minister Robert Ouko, who was murdered in 1990.

CIA files indicate that Mboya was an important agent-of-influence for the CIA, not only in Kenya but in all of Africa. A formerly Secret CIA Current Intelligence Weekly Summary, dated November 19, 1959, states that Mboya served as a check on extremists at the second All-African People's Conference (AAPC) in Tunis. The report states that "serious friction developed between Ghana's Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah and Kenyan nationalist Tom Mboya who cooperated effectively last December to check extremists at the AAPC's first meeting in Accra." The term "cooperated effectively" appears to indicate that Mboya was cooperating with the CIA, which filed the report from field operatives in Accra and Tunis. While "cooperating" with the CIA in Accra and Tunis, Mboya selected the father of the president of the United States to receive a scholarship and be airlifted to the University of Hawaii where he met and married President Obama's mother.

An earlier CIA Current Intelligence Weekly Summary, secret, and dated April 3, 1958, states that Mboya "still appears to be the most promising of the African leaders." Another CIA weekly summary, secret and dated December 18, 1958, calls Mboya the Kenyan nationalist an "able and dynamic young chairman" of the People's Convention party who was viewed as an opponent of "extremists" like Nkrumah, supported by "Sino-Soviet representatives."

In a formerly Secret CIA report on the All-Africa Peoples Conference in 1961, dated November 1, 1961, Mboya's conservatism, along with that of Taleb Slim of Tunisia, are contrasted to the leftist policies of Nkrumah and others. Pro-communists who were elected to the AAPC's steering committee at the March 1961 Cairo conference, attended by Mboya, are identified in the report as Abdoulaye Diallo, AAPC Secretary General, of Senegal; Ahmed Bourmendjel of Algeria; Mario de Andrade of Angola; Ntau Mokhele of Basutoland; Kingue Abel of Cameroun; Antoine Kiwewa of Congo (Leopoldville); Kojo Botsio of Ghana; Ismail Toure of Guinea; T. O. Dosomu Johnson of Liberia; Modibo Diallo of Mali; Mahjoub Ben Seddik of Morocco; Djibo Bakari of Niger; Tunji Otegbeya of Nigeria; Kanyama Chiume of Nyasaland; Ali Abdullahi of Somalia; Tennyson Makiwane of South Africa, and Mohamed Fouad Galal of the United Arab Republic.

Is Obama the secret son of Malcolm X?

Isreali Insider

"There are said to be photos of Ann Dunham on Waikiki Beach taken in or about July 1961, when she is supposed to have been in her third trimester, in a bikini, taken by a fellow female student. AD is clearly not pregnant. Media have not yet talked to fellow students, but it can't be long. There are bound to be other photos of AD in existence taken during the alleged 2nd and 3rd trimesters. Obama campaign are terrified some one will press for her medical records, which have been accessed by CIA."

"Moving to Indonesia the Obama campaign are also suppressing the Indonesian immigration and passport records, which I believe show him as a Kenyan citizen, and the naturalisation records. They have not denied Internet claims he was naturalised in Indonesia. If he was a US citizen there should be a visa record to back that up."

"Obama Senior was murdered in Kenya in 1982 to silence him. Interesting story re his sister Auma as well - she appears to be a full sister, not a halfsister as he is claiming, i.e. they share the same mother. She was ordered back to Kenya in 2007 to prevent DNA testing …. CIA did a DNA test on the grandparents, using saliva from glasses, which conclusively rules out any relationship between Obama and the Dunhams."

"The source said that the Dunham family became involved because Stanley Dunham, Sr. was suspected of espionage. Boeing, he said, has "a 1944 security file on Stanley Dunham in connection with suspected sabotage of B17G aircraft at their Wichita Kansas plant and the theft of B-29 blueprints, afull set of which were passed to the German Abwehr via Lisbon by June 1944. Ann Dunham appears to have been chosen as the surrogate mother in 1963 because of the family connection to German Intelligence.

German assets in the US, including Rezko, who is connected to the Syrian Mukhabarat and the German DVD, sponsored his career.

Well, this is a lot to take in, and on first reading it struck me that the source had been reading too many Le Carre novels or Bond movies. I mean, really: "The Manchurian Candidate" meets "The Boy from Mombassa Kenya"?

It seemed completely preposterous, and indeed I initially dismissed it as preposterous. Obama a "German sleeper agent"? Of course, in those days the East Germans were a Soviet satellite, and the DDR was perhaps the most feared and ideological of the communist states, with more than a sprinkling of rehabilitated Nazis uncured of their genetic fantasies andexperiments. 1961-1963 were the peak years of the Cold War, with Berlin playing a central role in East-West hostilities.

Ukraine 1952 and Ongoing CIA Overthrow per the USA's own CIA files an example of MKULTRA V.P. Nixon wasn't quahsed by JFK or RFK

While there is a specific characteristic of the Ukraine having corrupt independence government that Jen Moore calls out nearly the day of her death (Hunter Biden she mentions by name 5 days before she dies in connection to Ukraine and the CIA's oil deals) you can see then larger picture to of a counterforce to the Iron Curtain flipping countries if you will use Red chess squares as Communist and Green chess squares as capitalist, and the Dulles Brothers and CIA controlling the chess board for as many squares as possible. (Devi's Chessboard, assassination, regime change, and Mafia backed by the USA globally.)

When the CIA finished overthrowing the Ukraine initially to get closer to the USSR behind the Iron Curtain moving it back the USSR had already dissolved letting other areas secede as well and becoming a more focused Russia under a new non communist government.

Numerous money laundering and black-budget sites of oligarchs were part of buying of government and prosecutors so the CIA operated insurgency could rise to power with the CIA backing. The corruption leftin place as the US Grip on the secessionist government has created a wild wild west were third party parenting is open and legal and hopeful parents can take part in illegal trafficking of designer or other forms of child health care in international trafficking.

World War II

Following the Invasion of Poland in September 1939, German and Soviet troops divided the territory of Poland. Thus, Eastern Galicia and Volhynia with their Ukrainian population became part of Ukraine. For the first time in history, the nation was united.[94][95] Further territorial gains were secured in 1940, when the Ukrainian SSR incorporated the northern and southern districts of Bessarabia, Northern Bukovina, and the Hertsa region from the territories the USSR forced Romania to cede, though it handed over the western part of the Moldavian Autonomous Soviet Socialist Republic to the newly created Moldavian SSR. These territorial gains of the USSR were internationally recognized by the Paris peace treaties of 1947.

German armies invaded the Soviet Union on 22 June 1941, initiating nearly four years of total war. The Axis initially advanced against desperate but unsuccessful efforts of the Red Army. In the battle of Kyiv, the city was acclaimed as a “Hero City”, because of its fierce resistance. More than 600,000 Soviet soldiers (or one-quarter of the Soviet Western Front) were killed or taken captive there, with many suffering severe mistreatment.[97][98] After its conquest, most of the Ukrainian SSR was organised within the Reichskommissariat Ukraine, with the intention of exploiting its resources and eventual German settlement. Some western Ukrainians, who had only joined the Soviet Union in 1939, hailed the Germans as liberators, but that did not last long as the Nazis made little attempt to exploit dissatisfaction with Stalinist policies.[99] Instead, the Nazis preserved the collective-farm system, carried out genocidal policies against Jews, deported millions of people to work in Germany, and began a depopulation program to prepare for German colonisation.[99] They blockaded the transport of food on the Dnieper River.

Although the majority of Ukrainians fought in or alongside the Red Army and Soviet resistance,[101] in Western Ukraine an independent Ukrainian Insurgent Army movement arose (UPA, 1942). It was created as the armed forces of the underground Organization of Ukrainian Nationalists (OUN).

Mikhail Gorbachev pursued a policy of limited liberalization of public life, known as perestroika, and attempted to reform a stagnating economy. The latter failed, but the democratization of the Soviet Union fuelled nationalist and separatist tendencies among the ethnic minorities, including Ukrainians.[134] As part of the so-called parade of sovereignties, on 16 July 1990, the newly elected Supreme Soviet of the Ukrainian Soviet Socialist Republic adopted the Declaration of State Sovereignty of Ukraine;[135] after a putsch of some Communist leaders in Moscow failed to depose Gorbachov, outright independence was proclaimed on 24 August 1991 and approved by 92% of the Ukrainian electorate in a referendum on 1 December.[137] Ukraine's new President, Leonid Kravchuk, went on to sign the Belavezha Accords and made Ukraine a founding member of the much looser Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS),[138] though Ukraine never became a full member of the latter as it did not ratify the agreement founding CIS.[139] These documents sealed the fate of the Soviet Union, which formally voted itself out of existence on 26 December.[140]

In the USA President George H.W. Bush was completing his on term of being elected from Vice President under Ronald Reagan (1980-88) for George H.W. Bush one and he's done four years and Bill Clinton and Al Gore from 1992 to 2000. NO NEW TAXES MORON.

Video 6: Ukraine, Manafort, Clinton Foundation & Child Trafficking Task Force: Whistleblowers Journey:Live in DC

I'll attach it here as well the same names are in there that we've been talking about for a long time for Tash nhadra Bank same same kind of stuff and what a lot of people don't realize is the Ukrainian coup that occurred under Hillary Clinton in the State Department.

you know there are a lot of deals that were made once they put their their puppet in charge including oil rights and things like that that there's a lot of senators that got some deals and got put on some boards of some companies that you know pocketed a lot of money and maybe some friends and families or Sons and things like that that we'll get into later that pocketed a lot of money so you know this is turning out to be really really interesting because this plays out … I'm telling you because it's gonna be a quite a show to watch so you know I wanted to just check in on that and say I did make it back to DC and also include the part that there there is a direct connections with the drugs for weapons in the child trafficking not only because of blackmail but just the trafficking in general there's direct connections between all of these players Ukraine is a hotbed of trafficking and especially since the coup since you know 2011 and hrc daughter our little hands in there to mix things up in George Soros as well it has become a hotbed and now you can look look up online and I've shared this before there there is these major neonatal intensive care units there in Ukraine that were developed and the Clinton Foundation is a part of that and I believe they're called cradles of hope or something to that effect there are pictures out there actually have Chelsea Clinton's standing there in Ukraine next to these neonatal units with these little tiny babies and so the question you know that has been asked is why in a country like Ukraine after this coup or whatever it was happened in the the skirmish and the the fighting that's going on why Alice said do all these neonatal clinics pop up for print preemie babies what's going on with that why all of a sudden our babies in Ukraine being way too early what's going on with that what's happening to to all the adoptions at a Ukraine what's happening to the surrogacy rules in Ukraine and you guys can research all this what are the rules a surrogacy who is adopting children out of Ukraine who could be making money out of that who are the surrogates that are carrying these children are these poor Ukrainian women that need money because their country has been you know we've gone into war and some in some aspects at least in some parts so why is the Clinton Foundation there why is Victor I think it's the chinco I believe his name why is he involved what is his foundation about what does it have to do with children so the Ukraine situation the weapons the drugs the Paul Manafort he was a lobbyist for pro-russian government officials for Ukraine so is Tony Podesta he was a lobbyist part of a Russian bank why isn't he being charged where is all of the money that he made off of this Ukrainian disaster so I think those are a lot of the questions that you know everyone's looking at and it's all going to be tied together and the child trafficking and the organ harvesting the drugs the weapons the oil deals the money missing out of the bank the nhadra program which actually became a program in Pakistan it's their surveillance state program where they literally have a surveillance state are trying to implement that and it's called nhadra and natalia silva who is what we're told a beadalon or Omar Juan's wife is directly connected to NADRA bank out of Ukraine so you can see kind of spiderwebs all coming together and there is a connection I know it's hard to follow some of it so I'm just giving short information but for those of you that like to research

https://www.voltairenet.org/article189895.html

More NSC 5412 activity under Vice President Nixon, Prouty, The Dulles Brothers, Angleton, Rockefeller's, and others

CIA: Undermining and Nazifying Ukraine Since 1953

by Wayne Madsen

The recent declassification of over 3800 documents by the Central Intelligence Agency provides detailed proof that since 1953 the CIA operated two major programs intent on not only destabilizing Ukraine but Nazifying it with followers of the World War II Ukrainian Nazi leader Stepan Bandera.

The CIA programs spanned some four decades. Starting as a paramilitary operation that provided funding and equipment for such anti-Soviet Ukrainian resistance groups as the Ukrainian Supreme Liberation Council (UHVR); its affiliates, the Organization of Ukrainian Nationalists (OUN) and Ukrainian Insurgent Army (UPA), all Nazi Banderists. The CIA also provided support to a relatively anti-Bandera faction of the UHVR, the ZP-UHVR, a foreign-based virtual branch of the CIA and British MI-6 intelligence services. The early CIA operation to destabilize Ukraine, using exile Ukrainian agents in the West who were infiltrated into Soviet Ukraine, was codenamed Project AERODYNAMIC.

A formerly TOP SECRET CIA document dated July 13, 1953, provides a description of AERODYNAMIC: «The purpose of Project AERODYNAMIC is to provide for the exploitation and expansion of the anti-Soviet Ukrainian resistance for cold war and hot war purposes. Such groups as the Ukrainian Supreme Council of Liberation (UHVR) and its Ukrainian Insurgent Army (OUN), the Foreign Representation of the Ukrainian Supreme Council of Liberation (ZPUHVR) in Western Europe and the United States, and other organizations such as the OUN/B will be utilized». The CIA admitted in a 1970 formerly SECRET document that it had been in contact with the ZPUHVR since 1950.

The OUN-B was the Bandera faction of the OUN and its neo-Nazi sympathizers are today found embedded in the Ukrainian national government in Kiev and in regional and municipal governments throughout the country.

AERODYNAMIC placed field agents inside Soviet Ukraine who, in turn, established contact with Ukrainian Resistance Movement, particularly SB (intelligence service) agents of the OUN who were already operating inside Ukraine. The CIA arranged for airdrops of communications equipment and other supplies, presumably including arms and ammunition, to the «secret» CIA army in Ukraine. Most of the CIA's Ukrainian agents received training in West Germany from the US Army's Foreign Intelligence Political and Psychological (FI-PP) branch. Communications between the CIA agents in Ukraine and their Western handlers were conducted by two-way walkie-talkie (WT), shortwave via international postal channels, and clandestine airborne and overland couriers.

Agents airdropped into Ukraine carried a kit that contained, among other items, a pen gun with tear gas, an arctic sleeping bag, a camp axe, a trenching tool, a pocket knife, a chocolate wafer, a Minox camera and a 35 mm Leica camera, film, a Soviet toiletry kit, a Soviet cap and jacket, a .22 caliber pistol and bullets, and rubber «contraceptives» for 'waterproofing film'. Other agents were issued radio sets, hand generators, nickel-cadmium batteries, and homing beacons.

An affiliated project under AERODYNAMIC was codenamed CAPACHO.

CIA documents show that AERODYNAMIC continued in operation through the Richard Nixon administration into 1970.

The program took on more of a psychological warfare operation veneer than a real-life facsimile of a John Le Carré «behind the Iron Curtain» spy novel. The CIA set up a propaganda company in Manhattan that catered to printing and publishing anti-Soviet ZPUHVR literature that would be smuggled into Ukraine. The new battleground would not be swampy retreats near Odessa and cold deserted warehouses in Kiev but at the center of the world of publishing and the broadcast media.

The CIA front company was Prolog Research and Publishing Associates, Inc., which later became known simply as Prolog. The CIA codename for Prolog was AETENURE. The group published the Ukrainian language «Prolog» magazine. The CIA referred to Prolog as a «non-profit, tax exempt cover company for the ZP/UHVR's activities». The «legal entity» used by the CIA to fund Prolog remains classified information. However, the SECRET CIA document does state that the funds for Prolog were passed to the New York office «via Denver and Los Angeles and receipts are furnished Prolog showing fund origin to backstop questioning by New York fiscal authorities».

As for the Munich office of Prolog, the CIA document states that funding for it comes from an account separate from that of Prolog in New York from a cooperating bank, which also remains classified. In 1967, the CIA merged the activities of Prolog Munich and the Munich office of the Ukrainian exiled nationalist «Suchasnist» journal. The Munich office also supported the «Ukrainische Gesellschaft fur Auslandstudien». The CIA documents also indicate that US Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) agents may have interfered with AERODYNAMIC agents in New York. A 1967 CIA directive advised all ZPUHVR agents in the United States to either report their contacts with United Nations mission diplomats and UN employees from the USSR and the Ukrainian SSR to the FBI or their own CIA project case officer. CIA agents in charge of AERODYNAMIC in New York and Munich were codenamed AECASSOWARY agents. Apparently not all that taken with the brevity of MI-6's famed agent «007», one CIA agent in Munich was codenamed AECASSOWARY/6 and the senior agent in New York was AECASSOWARY/2.

AECASSOWARY agents took part in and ran other AERODYNAMIC teams that infiltrated the Vienna World Youth Conference in 1959. The Vienna infiltration operation, where contact with made with young Ukrainians, was codenamed LCOUTBOUND by the CIA.

In 1968, the CIA ordered Prolog Research and Publishing Associates, Inc. terminated and replaced by Prolog Research Corporation, «a profit-making, commercial enterprise ostensibly serving contracts for unspecified users as private individuals and institutions».

The shakeup of Prolog was reported by the CIA to have arisen from operation MHDOWEL. There is not much known about MHDOWEL other than it involved the blowing of the CIA cover of a non-profit foundation. The following is from a memo to file, dated January 31, 1969, from CIA assistant general counsel John Greany, «Concerns a meeting of Greaney, counsel Lawrence Houston and Rocca about a 'confrontation' with NY FBI office on January 17, 1969. They discussed two individuals whose names were redacted. One was said to be a staff agent of the CIA since 8/28/61 who had been assigned in 1964 to write a monograph, which had been funded by a grant from a foundation whose cover was blown in MHDOWEL (I suspect that is code for US Press). One of the individuals [name redacted] had been requested for use with Project DTPILLAR in November 1953 to Feb. 1955 and later in March 1964 for WUBRINY. When the Domestic Operations Division advised Security that this person would not be used in WUBRINY, Rocca commented that 'there are some rather ominous allegations against members of the firm of [redacted],' indicating one member of that firm was a 'card-carrying member of the Communist Party.' The memo went on to say that Rocca was investigating the use of the individual in Project DTPILLAR concerning whether that person had mentioned activities in Geneva in March 1966 in connection with Herbert Itkin». Raymond Rocca was the deputy chief of the CIA's Counterintelligence Division. Itkin was an undercover agent for the FBI and CIA who allegedly infiltrated the Mafia and was given a new identity in California as «Herbert Atkin» in 1972.

In 1969, AERODYNAMIC began advancing the cause of the Crimean Tatars. In 1959, owing to Canada's large Ukrainian population, Canada's intelligence service began a program similar to AERODYNAMIC codenamed «REDSKIN».

As international air travel increased, so did the number of visitors to the West from Soviet Ukraine. These travelers were of primary interest to AERODYNAMIC. Travelers were asked by CIA agents to clandestinely carry Prolog materials, all censored by the Soviet government, back to Ukraine for distribution. Later, AERODYNAMIC agents began approaching Ukrainian visitors to eastern European countries, particularly Soviet Ukrainian visitors to Czechoslovakia during the «Prague Spring» of 1968. The Ukrainian CIA agents had the same request to carry back subversive literature to Ukraine.

AERODYNAMIC continued into the 1980s as operation QRDYNAMIC, which was assigned to the CIA's Political and Psychological Staff's Soviet East Europe Covert Action Program. Prolog saw its operations expanded from New York and Munich to London, Paris, and Tokyo. QRDYNAMIC began linking up with operations financed by hedge fund tycoon George Soros, particularly the Helsinki Watch Group's operatives in Kiev and Moscow. Distribution of underground material expanded from journals and pamphlets to audio cassette tapes, self-inking stamps with anti-Soviet messages, stickers, and T-shirts.

QRDYNAMIC expanded its operations into China, obviously from the Tokyo office, and Czechoslovakia, Poland, Estonia, Lithuania, Latvia, Yugoslavia, Afghanistan, Soviet Central Asia, the Soviet Pacific Maritime region, and among Ukrainian-Canadians. QRDYNAMIC also paid journalist agents-of-influence for their articles. These journalists were located in Sweden, Switzerland, Australia, Israel, and Austria.

But at the outset of glasnost and perestroika in the mid-1980s, things began to look bleak for QRDYNAMIC. The high cost of rent in Manhattan had it looking for cheaper quarters in New Jersey.

Assistant Secretary of State for European/Eurasian Affairs Victoria Nuland, the baked goods-bearing «Maiden of Maidan,» told the US Congress that the United States spent $5 billion to wrest control of Ukraine from the Russian sphere since the collapse of the Soviet Union. With the recent disclosures from the CIA it appears that the price tag to the American tax payers of such foreign shenanigans was much higher.

Was Rumor Has it a similar story line

Source: Musixmatch Songwriters: Paul Simon

Bridge Over Troubled Water lyrics © Paul Simon Music. Notice the hippies got the rhyming correct.

Bridge Over Troubled Water retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

When you're weary Feeling small When tears are in your eyes I'll dry them all I'm on your side Oh, when times get rough And friends just can't be found

Like a bridge over troubled water I will lay me down Like a bridge over troubled water I will lay me down

When you're down and out When you're on the street When evening falls so hard I will comfort you I'll take your part Oh, when darkness comes And pain is all around

Like a bridge over troubled water I will lay me down Like a bridge over troubled water I will lay me down

Sail on silver girl Sail on by Your time has come to shine All your dreams are on their way See how they shine Oh, if you need a friend I'm sailing right behind

Like a bridge over troubled water I will ease your mind Like a bridge over troubled water I will ease your mind

The Trust Fund she left should defend me from false allegations that create a position of power over me but is backing them. The Trust Fund was to get me over troubled waters, not to create them.

When my father picked out Moraga California I think he had seen much of the area before. Nuclear triggers, Chris Field, so much to the atom smashing history. In Peacemaker Nicole Kidman plays a nuclear trigger expert from Lawrence Livermore assigned to the white house. I did small pc work at Concord Naval Weapons station. The nuke and biotech industries are big as are high tech.

Boston Cape Cod and my growing up with the influences on the Donegans we spoke about

The Kennedy's Donegans, and many others in Boston from the Black Plauge of 1847 Ireland knew of British oppression including England impressing New England colonials into the English Navy.

This was part of Rights Of Man Boston Constitution and Kentucky and Virigina resolutions as Massacussetes rebelled agaisnt England under Natural Rights theory.

Billy Budd has a stutter retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Herman Melville Biography Mellvile lived in Cape Cod Boston and New Bedford as my father's mother did. Melville noted the British traditions of cruelty towards impressed sailors to maintain discipline and command.

Billy Budd is a seaman impressed into service aboard HMS Bellipotent in the year 1797, when the Royal Navy was reeling from two major mutinies and was threatened by the Revolutionary French Republic's military ambitions. He is impressed to this large warship from another, smaller, merchant ship, The Rights of Man (named after the book by Thomas Paine). As his former ship moves off, Budd shouts, "And good-bye to you too, old Rights-of-Man."

The British impressing Colonials into their navy., capturing US fishermen, and other acts of war by the British on Colonials was a very intensive emotional matter for James Paul Donegan as was resistance such as the Bostonians refusing to convict US citizens or colonials in British Courts by use of Jury Nullification, the Jury nullifies the entire proceeding as a mechanism of oppression and refuses to convict the defendent as the prosecution seeks.

These tales about the British and England's history towards the Irish among others would last into the 1980s Moraga California commuting to Head Royce drives and beyond as law, philosophy, and Irish and US history were a family topic.

[image]

Billy Budd is a seaman impressed into service aboard HMS Bellipotent in the year 1797, when the Royal Navy was reeling from two major mutinies and was threatened by the Revolutionary French Republic's military ambitions. He is impressed to this large warship from another, smaller, merchant ship, The Rights of Man (named after the book by Thomas Paine). As his former ship moves off, Budd shouts, "And good-bye to you too, old Rights-of-Man."

Billy, a foundling from Bristol, has an innocence, good looks and a natural charisma that make him popular with the crew. He has a stutter, which becomes more noticeable when under intense emotion. He arouses the antagonism of the ship's master-at-arms, John Claggart. Claggart, while not unattractive, seems somehow "defective or abnormal in the constitution", possessing a "natural depravity." Envy is Claggart's explicitly stated emotion toward Budd, foremost because of his "significant personal beauty," and also for his innocence and general popularity. (Melville further opines that envy is "universally felt to be more shameful than even felonious crime.") This leads Claggart to falsely charge Billy with conspiracy to mutiny. When the captain, Edward Fairfax "Starry" Vere, is presented with Claggart's charges, he summons Claggart and Billy to his cabin for a private meeting. Claggart makes his case and Billy, astounded, is unable to respond, due to his stutter. In his extreme frustration he strikes out at Claggart, killing him instantly.

Vere convenes a drumhead court-martial. He acts as convening authority, prosecutor, defense counsel and sole witness (except for Billy). He intervenes in the deliberations of the court-martial panel to persuade them to convict Billy, despite their and his beliefs in Billy's moral innocence. (Vere says in the moments following Claggart's death, "Struck dead by an angel of God! Yet the angel must hang!") Vere claims to be following the letter of the Mutiny Act and the Articles of War.

Although Vere and the other officers do not believe Claggart's charge of conspiracy and think Billy justified in his response, they find that their own opinions matter little. The martial law in effect states that during wartime the blow itself, fatal or not, is a capital crime. The court-martial convicts Billy following Vere's argument that any appearance of weakness in the officers and failure to enforce discipline could stir more mutiny throughout the British fleet. Condemned to be hanged the morning after his attack on Claggart, Billy before his execution says, "God bless Captain Vere!" His words were repeated by the gathered crew in a "resonant and sympathetic echo."

Melville began work on the novella in November 1886, revising and expanding it from time to time, but he left the manuscript in disarray. Melville's widow Elizabeth began to edit the manuscript for publication, but was not able to discern her husband's intentions at key points, even as to the book's title. Raymond M. Weaver, Melville's first biographer, was given the manuscript and published the 1924 version, which was marred by misinterpretation of Elizabeth's queries, misreadings of Melville's difficult handwriting, and even inclusion of a preface Melville had cut. Melville scholars Harrison Hayford and Merton M. Sealts Jr. published what is considered the best transcription and critical reading text in 1962.[1] In 2017, Northwestern University Press published a "new reading text" based on a "corrected version" of Hayford and Sealts' genetic text prepared by G. Thomas Tanselle.

[image]

Herman Melville was an American novelist, short story writer, and poet of the American Renaissance period. Among The strange stutter and Mysterious handwriting of Herman Melville going into 1901, 1925, and 1962. Think Billy Budd

EPDIII Monkey Statue

This was in the house of James and GLorian Donegan 52 Lambeth Square. It was in JFKs white house as Donald Barr CIA Atomic Energy was posing with it and an experimental monkey as I was born to James and GLorian Donegan. Schrivers, Lawfords, Arnold Shwatzenegger, and Barrack Obama Jr, my myself, and my brother Tom Donegan and Time Kaine. Chris Lloyd, friend, Athena, adult entertainer, Honey Binning (Status unknown) knew of EPD III a Edward Paul Donegan son of an abdicated King Edward.

It is about a secret meeting between Govern Tim Kaine of Virginia meeting with my brother in my brother (Tom Donegan's house) going into the dirty bombing of me in that federal facility and him but put on the Shadow Government path until he became too big a risk about the house and Trust fund issue, and the EPD III issue, and Michelle Obama Jr issue.

The JFK assassination likely by Lyndon B Johnson and Southern Baptists Nancy Donegan (Nancy Detweiler possible) and the Vatican role of Wild Bill Donavan Free Mason underground railroad of the Vatican rescue of the Von Trapss, and Kutschera Windsor relatives, perhaps 1961 Alma Powell tied to and Colin Powell too, the Prescott, George H.W., George W. and Neil Bush ties to it reportedly by leaders tied to the wet division shadow government cartel, radiological hits, and a VIA cover up driving world events from illegal White House based espionage operations in Eugenics and Twins studies in collusion with foreign governments including Saudi Arabia which along with oil profits funded the NGO operation inside the USA.

It is about the Watergate Break-in and the impeachment of Nixon as E Howard Hunt and other CIA actors including George H.W. Bush later CIA director tried to conceal their roles in the JFK assassination and his and his son becoming president, dirty bombing me during it, helping Obama in, and continuing down the Shadow Government path irreversibly and the US Media ignoring obvious proof of it all including from first hand witness like me.

Lawrence Francis O'Brien was born July 7, 1917 in Springfield, Mass., the son of Irish immigrants. His father introduced him to politics at an early age. At 11, he volunteered for Al Smith's campaign for president. In 1952, Kennedy appointed him to run his Senate campaign, along with Dave Powers of Boston and Kenny O'Donnell of Worcester.

Larry O'Brien belonged to John F. Kennedy's Irish Mafia, but later - and inadvertently - helped end Richard Nixon's presidency.

Larry O'Brien of the Irish Mafia, 1961 Time magazine cover

Lawrence Francis O'Brien was born July 7, 1917 in Springfield, Mass., the son of Irish immigrants. His father introduced him to politics at an early age. At 11, he volunteered for Al Smith's campaign for president. In 1952, Kennedy appointed him to run his Senate campaign, along with Dave Powers of Boston and Kenny O'Donnell of Worcester.

O'Brien directed Kennedy's reelection campaign and then his presidential campaign. In 1964 he directed Lyndon Johnson's presidential campaign. Then in 1968 he worked for Hubert Humphrey, who lost to Richard Nixon.

During the Nixon administration, Larry O'Brien chaired the Democratic National Committee. He also secretly went to work for Howard Hughes as a lobbyist. https://www.newenglandhistoricalsociety.com/

Howard Hughes was at war with the CIA side of his own company, a war he lost to CIA employee Robert Maheu. Maheu's contract with the Hughes company started in 1955, after Howard Hughes hired him to investigate an alleged suitor of his fiance Jean Peters born 1926.

Although Maheu was for years a close confidant of Howard Hughes, he never met Hughes face-to-face, as they worked via memo and telephone. He was dismissed in 1970. As part of the power struggle with Frank William Gay, Hughes "Mormon Mafia" chief WATERGATE That connection to Hughes got his office at the Watergate robbed by Nixon's campaign operatives called the 'plumbers.' Nixon worried that O'Brien had evidence of embarrassing information about his own relationship with Hughes.

On June 17, 1972, five burglars got caught robbing O'Brien's office at the Watergate. The burglars had links to Nixon's campaign committee. The subsequent investigation then brought down Nixon's presidency.

O'Brien directed Kennedy's reelection campaign and then his presidential campaign. In 1964 he directed Lyndon Johnson's presidential campaign. Then in 1968 he worked for Hubert Humphrey, who lost to Richard Nixon.

During the Nixon administration, Larry O'Brien chaired the Democratic National Committee. He also secretly went to work for Howard Hughes as a lobbyist.

It was the JFK assassination ties and the plot to kill JFK the plumbing work was undertaken for in Gemstone a CIA Family Jewels set of CIA Dulles Foster Hunt George Bush and their alley from Texas LBJ) programs.

After that the story begins to get important. This part of the Manhattan Project, the Queen of England and development of the Atomic bomb and testing the first one in the SSFL area of Los Angels Las Vegas, dropping two them on Japan then more testing and DNA studies in the USA which my family was in and part of my birth history in Manhattan Beach California.

It is also the story of the rise of Nazism before and after 1936 and gyms being a GangStalk source of operation in which thugs destroy the lives of law abiding citizens by staging events, death threats, illegal gueirlla acts, and get rid of the evidence which politicians would find embarrassing and another relatively minor piece of the story is the Boston Marathon Bombing tied to the JFK library and that history, and the murder of Jeffery Mac Donalds family.

This book is about a press and a Espionage controlled law enforcement organization dedicated to corruption, crime, and CIA mafia work, and the intense and deep threat law enforcement in the United States is to the world and the USA itself, and how this ties to that house, Cape Cod, and the Manhattan Project.

This story takes place in Texas. This story is about my trying to get to Iran or Russia until the USA throws off this deep state.

JFK EVA BAN Aug 19
1962
Santa Monica, Manhattan,
Venice Beach are California

\

WELCOME!
Official Visit to Seattle
CIVIC WELCOME
PARADE
THURSDAY, NOV. 16, 1961

Alexander Ban (Architect)

Ban was one of a number of foreign-born architects working in the Los Angeles area during the 1940s. He was born in Székesfehérvár, Hungary, in 1909. Ban, who was Jewish, fled Hungary in 1941, landing in Montreal, QC, in 04/1941, a very late and fortuitous exit from Europe. From Montreal, he and his wife entered the US at Rouses Point, NY, on a Canadian Pacific Railway train on 05/01/1941.

Ban arrived in Los Angeles, CA, by late 1941, where he applied for naturalization in the US District Court, Southern District of CA, on 12/08/1941. (See Ancestry.com, Source Citation National Archives at Riverside; Riverside, California; NAI Number: 618171; Record Group Title: 21; Record Group Number: Records of District Courts of the United States, 1685-2009, accessed 09/05/2019.)

He wed Eva Charlotte Boross (born 11/18/1919 in Long Branch, NJ) on 09/07/1948show is ween here in August 1962 Santa Monica beach Inglewood Callifornia with JFK during the Missle Crisis and World Expo Seatle he visited.

Legendarily, if the story is needed, JFK is in Santa Monica with Eva Ban in 1961 and the Seatle Expo is underway.

JFK's secret visit to the Seattle World's Fair | Crosscut

Proof of JFK present found during review of pictures of construction of Needle per Crosscut

Where are Richard Cheney, CIA operative George H.W. Bush, and Jodie Foster, and Barrack Obama, ad Edward Donegan turns 1 years old?

IT was the private structure of the Expo that keep meeting schedules, etc., a matter of private and not public records.

JFK at Cape Canaveral – November 16, 1963 (photo courtesy John F. Kennedy Library)

https://portside.org/2014-10-30/cold-war-us-spy-agencies-used-1000-nazis

> In Cold War, U.S. Spy Agencies Used 1,000 Nazis *

U.S. agencies directly or indirectly hired numerous ex-Nazi police officials and East European collaborators who were manifestly guilty of war crimes. Information was readily available that these were compromised men. The wide use of Nazi spies grew out of a Cold War mentality and McCarthyism. Mr. Hoover, the longtime F.B.I. director, and Mr. Dulles, the C.I.A. director.believed “moderate” Nazis might “be useful” to America, records show.

At the height of the Cold War in the 1950s, law enforcement and intelligence leaders like J. Edgar Hoover at the F.B.I. and Allen Dulles at the C.I.A. aggressively recruited onetime Nazis of all ranks as secret, anti-Soviet “assets,” declassified records show.

[image]

Eunice Kennedy Shriver retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Eunice Mary Kennedy Shriver DSG (July 10, 1921 - August 11, 2009) was an American philanthropist[1] and a member of the Kennedy family. She was the founder of the Special Olympics, a sports organization for persons with physical and intellectual disabilities. For her efforts on behalf of the disabled, Shriver was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom in 1984.

Maria Owings Shriver (born November 6, 1955)[2] is an American journalist, author, member of the Kennedy family, former First Lady of California, and the founder of the nonprofit organization The Women's Alzheimer's Movement.[3] She was married to former Governor of California and actor Arnold Schwarzenegger, from whom she filed for divorce in 2011.

Mraia Shriver was born in Chicago, Illinois, on November 6, 1955, the second child of the politician and Peace Corps founder und JFK with Occidental College Sargent Shriver and activist Eunice Kennedy Shriver. She is a niece of the late U.S. President John F. Kennedy, U.S. Attorney General and U.S. Senator Robert F. Kennedy, U.S. Senator Ted Kennedy, and six other prominent siblings. A Roman Catholic,she is of mostly Irish and German descent.

Sisters, cousins and father

Father and Mother, Joseph P. and Rose Kennedy Sr.(September 6, 1888 - November 18, 1969)

Joseph Patrick and Rose Kennedy Sr. (September 6, 1888 - November 18, 1969)

was a prominent American businessman, investor and politician. He is known for his own political prominence as well as that of his children and was the patriarch of the Irish-American Kennedy family.

Rose Elizabeth Fitzgerald Kennedy (July 22, 1890 - January 22, 1995) was an American philanthropist, socialite, and a member of the Kennedy family. She was deeply embedded in the “lace curtain” Irish Catholic community in Boston, where her father John F. Fitzgerald was mayor. Kennedy was the wife of businessman and investor Joseph P. Kennedy Sr., who was United States Ambassador to the United Kingdom, formally known as Ambassador to the Court of St. James’s in the UK. Their nine children included President John F. Kennedy, Senator Robert F. Kennedy, and longtime Senator Ted Kennedy. In 1951 she was ennobled by Pope Pius XII, becoming the sixth American woman to be granted the rank of Papal countess.[1]

John F. Kennedy and Jacqueline Lee Bouvie Kennedy

John Fitzgerald Kennedy (May 29, 1917 - November 22, 1963), often referred to by his initials JFK, was an American politician who served as the 35th president of the United States from 1961 until his assassination near the end of his third year in office. Kennedy served at the height of the Cold War, and the majority of his work as president concerned relations with the Soviet Union and Cuba. A member of the Kennedy family and a Democrat, he represented Massachusetts in both houses of the U.S. Congress prior to becoming president.

[image]

Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Jacqueline Lee Bouvier was born on July 28, 1929, at Southampton Hospital in Southampton, New York, to Wall Street stockbroker John Vernou “Black Jack” Bouvier III and socialite Janet Norton Lee.[7] Her mother was of Irish descent,[8] and her father had French, Scottish, and English ancestry.[9][a] Named after her father, she was baptized at the Church of St. Ignatius Loyola in Manhattan and raised in the Catholic faith.

A popular first lady, she endeared the American public with her fashion sense, devotion to her family, and dedication to the historic preservation of the White House. During her lifetime, she was regarded as an international fashion icon.

After graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in French literature from George Washington University in 1951, Jacqueline Bouvier started working for the Washington Times-Herald as an inquiring photographer. The following year, she met then-Congressman John Kennedy at a dinner party in Washington. He was elected to the Senate that same year, and the couple married on September 12, 1953, in Newport, Rhode Island. They had four children, two of whom died in infancy. Following her husband’s election to the presidency in 1960, Kennedy was known for her highly publicized restoration of the White House and emphasis on arts and culture, as well as for her style. At age 31, she was the third-youngest first lady of the United States when her husband was inaugurated.

Robert F. Kennedy

Brother of JFK Robert Francis Kennedy (November 20, 1925 - June 6, 1968), also referred to by his initials RFK or by the nickname Bobby, was an American lawyer and politician who served as the 64th United States Attorney General from January 1961 to September 1964, and as a U.S. Senator from New York from January 1965 until his assassination in June 1968. He was, like his brothers John and Edward, a prominent member of the Democratic Party and has come to be viewed by some historians as an icon of modern American liberalism and died while a candidate from the US Senate running for POTUS

Brother of JFK Edward Kennedy

Sister of JFK Rosemary Kennedy

Kathleen Cavendish

Marchioness of Hartington

Kathleen Agnes Cavendish, Marchioness of Hartington, also known as "Kick" Kennedy, was an American socialite. She was the daughter of Joseph P. Kennedy, Sr. and Rose Kennedy, sister of future U.S. President John F. Kennedy, and wife of the Marquess of Hartington, heir apparent to the 10th Duke of Devonshire. Wikipedia

Born: February 20, 1920, Brookline, MA

Died: May 13, 1948, Cévennes, Fraissinet-de-Lozère, France

Spouse: William Cavendish, Marquess of Hartington (m. 1944–1944)

Buried: St Peter's Church, Edensor, United Kingdom

Siblings: Eunice Kennedy Shriver, Patricia Kennedy Lawford, MORE

Parents: Joseph P. Kennedy Sr., Rose Kennedy

Sister of JFK Kathleen Agnes Cavendish, Marchioness of Hartington (née Kennedy; February 20, 1920 - May 13, 1948), also known as "Kick" Kennedy

Kathleen Agnes Cavendish was an American socialite. She was the second daughter of Joseph P. Kennedy, Sr. and Rose Kennedy as well as a sister of former U.S. President John F. Kennedy and Senators Robert F. Kennedy and Edward M. "Ted" Kennedy and the wife of the Marquess of Hartington, heir apparent to the 10th Duke of Devonshire.

When her father was serving as United States Ambassador to the United Kingdom, Kathleen made many friends in London and was the "debutante of 1938." Working with the Red Cross, she began a romantic relationship with Lord Hartington, whom she married in May 1944. He was killed on active service in Belgium only four months later. Kathleen died in a plane crash in 1948, flying to the south of France while on vacation with her new partner, the 8th Earl Fitzwilliam.

Sister of JFK Jean Kennedy Smith

Jean Ann Kennedy Smith (February 20, 1928 - June 17, 2020) was an American diplomat, activist, humanitarian,[1] and author who served as a Catholic United States Ambassador to Ireland from 1993 to 1998.

As Ambassador to Ireland, Smith was reportedly instrumental in the Northern Ireland peace process as President Bill Clinton's representative in Dublin. She was heavily criticized after urging the U.S. State Department to grant a visa to Sinn Féin President Gerry Adams, although her family said this step influenced the Provisional IRA in its declaration of a ceasefire in 1994.

Smith was the founder of Very Special Arts (VSA), an internationally recognized non-profit dedicated to creating a society where people with disabilities can engage with the arts. In 2011, she was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the highest civilian honor in the United States, by President Barack Obama for her work with VSA and with people with disabilities.

Shriver became executive vice president of the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation in 1957.[2] She shifted the organization's focus from Catholic charities to research on the causes of intellectual disabilities and humane ways to treat them.[5] This interest eventually culminated in, among other things, the Special Olympics movement.

A longtime advocate for children's health and disability issues, Shriver championed the creation of the President's Panel on Mental Retardation in 1961. The panel was significant in the movement from institutionalization to community integration in the US and throughout the world.[7] Shriver was a key founder of the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD), a part of the National Institutes of Health in 1962. She has also helped to establish numerous other university programs, government initiatives, health-care facilities, and support service networks throughout the country.

In 1962, Shriver founded Camp Shriver, a camp for children with special needs that was held on her Maryland farm. Camp Shriver later evolved into the Special Olympics.[8] Shriver founded the Special Olympics in 1968.[9] That year, the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation helped to plan and fund the First International Special Olympics Summer Games, held in Chicago, Illinois. In her speech at the opening ceremony, Shriver said, "'The Chicago Special Olympics prove a very fundamental fact, the fact that exceptional children - children with mental retardation - can be exceptional athletes, the fact that through sports they can realize their potential for growth.'" Special Olympics Inc. was established as a nonprofit charity in 1968; since that time, nearly three million athletes have participated.[2]

On May 23, 1953, Shriver married Sargent Shriver in a Roman Catholic ceremony at Saint Patrick's Cathedral in New York City.

[48] Her husband served as the U.S. Ambassador to France from 1968 to 1970 and was the 1972 Democratic U.S. vice presidential candidate (with George McGovern as the candidate for U.S. President).[48][49] They had five children: Robert Sargent Shriver III, Maria Owings Shriver, Timothy Perry Shriver, Mark Kennedy Shriver, and Anthony Paul Kennedy Shriver.[50] Shriver had nineteen grandchildren.[51]

On May 19, 1956, Jean Kennedy married businessman Stephen Edward Smith in a small chapel of the Roman Catholic St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York.[13] The Smiths maintained a lower profile than some other members of the extended Kennedy family. Stephen and Jean had two biological sons, Stephen Jr. and William, and later adopted two daughters, Amanda and Kym.

Stephen Edward Smith died of cancer on August 19, 1990.[39] The following year, their younger son, William, was accused of rape in Florida, but was acquitted after a highly publicized trial.

Smith's elder sister Eunice died on August 11, 2009. Smith did not attend Eunice's funeral on August 14, choosing to stay with their brother Ted, who was terminally ill; he died on August 25, leaving her as the last surviving child of Joseph and Rose Kennedy.[8] Smith attended Ted Kennedy's funeral on August 29.

Smith died at her home in Manhattan on June 17, 2020, at the age of 92; she was the last surviving and the longest-lived of the nine Kennedy children.[43]

Sister of JFK Eunice Mary Kennedy Shriver

Described above is a JFK sister who married Sargent Shriver who found then Peace Corps under JFK and Sargent and Eunce had Maria Shriver, wife of Arnold Swartschengerr of Venice Beach and Austria immigrant had Maria Shriver as a daughter. A daughter in that family seems to carry FOXP2 and seems tied to Berlin Austrian Olymics and Kutshscheras of 1936 and 1938

Arnold Schwarzenegger retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Arnold Schwarzenegger's father was the local chief of police. After the Anschluss (reunification of Gernmany and Hitler's native Austria in 1938 following the 1936 Berlin Olympics, he joined the Nazi Party and, in 1939 the Sturmabteilung (SA). In World War II, he served as a military policeman in the invasions of Poland, France and the Soviet Union, including the siege of Leningrad, rising to the rank of Hauptfeldwebel.[16][17] He was wounded in the Battle of Stalingrad,[18] and was discharged in 1943 following a bout of malaria. According to Holocaust scholar Michael Berenbaum, Gustav Schwarzenegger served in "in theaters of the war where atrocities were committed. But there is no way to know from the documents whether he played a role."[16] Gustav's background received wide press attention during the 2003 California gubernatorial recall election in which Schwarzenegger was elected governor.

Arnold Alois Schwarzenegger was born in Thal, Austria on July 30, 1947,[10] the second son of Gustav Schwarzenegger and his wife, Aurelia (née Jadrny). His mother was of Czech descent,[11][12] while his paternal great-grandfather, Wenzel Mach, was also Czech and came from the village of Chocov near Mladá Vožice.[13] Wenzel had a child out of wedlock with Kunigunde Schwarzenegger, and the child (Schwarzenegger's paternal grandfather) was originally named Carl Mach but later adopted his mother's surname Schwarzenegger.

In an insanely illegal and socially accepted COINTELPRO slander campaign ectivity will happen like the following. As I take this Selfie I think with a 5 second delay for my smart phone a dopple of me, in this case black, on meth, crack, drunk, etc., is peeping through the windows of the gym, to the pool, etc., including at tots or under 18 females.

Joining a photo taken by others in the same vicinity I normally used my self phone ties me incorrectly to peeping events, and incorrectly to “restitution” to the peeped at.

Social services will take that person to be punished by a Dominatrix or sex worker who will confront the peeping and setup restitution fees paid from my genome. Character actors of this skit may surround me to create an appearance of my involvement but it is false, and usually based on similar clothing on the distinction different person from me who is going to go see a Dominatrix or any other person, often and perhaps as the program objective, hijacking anything I sart with anyone else.

The system uses my DNA to pay for sex workers and sex workers to detect alleged child porn interests of mine, I do not have, and then uses law enforcement in conjunction with the sex workers to create phony case and record against me which is used in conspiracy against property, conspiracy against rights in society, etc., by subverting my reputation and thus subverting co-operation with me.

I have researched this to MKULTRA and Atomic Testing and MKULTRA abuse of my family line for DNA reasons.

The World I try to enforce my rights in and defend my and my mother's genome

[image]

Battle of Kansas retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The Battle of Kansas (also known as the "Battle of Wichita"[1]) was the nickname given to a project to build, modify, and deliver large quantities of the world's most advanced bomber to the front-lines, originally in Europe and in the Pacific, although due to delay in production, was only used in the Pacific. The battle began as the first B-29 Superfortresses rolled off the production lines of the massive new Boeing factory on the prairies near Wichita, Kansas.[2]

The Boeing B-29 Superfortress was a significant advance in aviation technology, which came with a multitude of problems to be resolved before it was suitable for combat operations. When the B-29 was ordered into production, the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor had not yet taken place and the first flight of the XB-29 prototype was still over a year away. On 6 September 1941 the US Army Air Corps (soon to be the US Army Air Forces) placed its initial production contract for 250 B-29s, built mainly in Wichita, KS.[3]

Historical Snapshot

https://www.boeing.com/ BOEING - HISTORY - PRODUCTS - B-29 SUPERFORTRESS PAGE ^

Boeing submitted the proposal for the B-29 long-range heavy bomber to the Army in 1940, before the United States entered World War II.

One of the most technologically advanced airplanes of World War II, the B-29 had many new features, including guns that could be fired by remote control. Two crew areas, fore and aft, were pressurized and connected by a long tube over the bomb bays, allowing crew members to crawl between them. The tail gunner had a separate pressurized area that could only be entered or left at altitudes that did not require pressurization.

The B-29 was also the world's heaviest production plane because of increases in range, bomb load and defensive requirements.

The B-29 used the high-speed Boeing 117 airfoil, and its larger Fowler flaps added to the wing area as they increased lift. Modifications led to the B-29D, upgraded to the B-50, and the RB-29 photoreconnaissance aircraft. The Soviet-built copy of the B-29 was called the Tupolev Tu-4.

The earliest B-29s were built before testing was finished, so the Army established modification centers where last-minute changes could be made without slowing expanding assembly lines.

[image]

McNamara as Secretary of Defense, 1961. Up untile the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, an efficacy expert on B-29 usage (ending 1946)

Robert Strange McNamara (a Stranger, non Aristocrat?) was an American business executive and the eighth United States Secretary of Defense, serving from 1961 to 1968 under Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson. He played a major role in escalating the United States' involvement in the Vietnam War. Wikipedia

Born: June 9, 1916, San Francisco, CA Died: July 6, 2009, Washington, D.C.

Robert McNamara was born in San Francisco, California.[3] His father was Robert James McNamara, sales manager of a wholesale shoe company, and his mother was Clara Nell (Strange) McNamara. His father's family was Irish and, in about 1850, following the Great Irish Famine, had emigrated to the U.S., first to Massachusetts and later to California. He graduated from Piedmont High School in Piedmont, California in 1933

Before commissioning into the Army Air Force, McNamara was a Cadet in the Golden Bear Battalion at U.C. Berkeley. McNamara was also a member of the UC Berkeley's Order of the Golden Bear, a fellowship of students and leading faculty members formed to promote leadership within the student body. He then attended Harvard Business School, where he earned an M.B.A. in 1939.

Immediately thereafter, McNamara worked a year at Price Waterhouse, a San Francisco accounting firm. He returned to Harvard in August 1940 to teach accounting in the Business School and became the institution's highest-paid and youngest assistant professor at that time.

Following his involvement there in a program to teach analytical approaches used in business to officers of the United States Army Air Forces, he entered the USAAF as a captain in early 1943, serving most of World War II with its Office of Statistical Control. One of his major responsibilities was the analysis of U.S. bombers' efficiency and effectiveness, especially the B-29 forces commanded by Major General Curtis LeMay in India, China, and the Mariana Islands.[13] McNamara established a statistical control unit for the XX Bomber Command and devised schedules for B-29s doubling as transports for carrying fuel and cargo over The Hump.

He left active duty in 1946 with the rank of lieutenant colonel and with a Legion of Merit.

Robert McNamara retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

After his election in 1960, President-elect John F. Kennedy first offered the post of Secretary of Defense to Robert A. Lovett, who had already served in that position in the Truman administration; Lovett declined but recommended McNamara. Kennedy had read about McNamara and his career in a Time magazine article on December 2, 1960, and interviewed him on December 8, with his brother and right-hand man Robert F. Kennedy also being present.[17] McNamara told Kennedy that he didn't know anything about government, to which Kennedy replied: "We can learn our jobs together. I don't know how to be president either".

According to Special Counsel Ted Sorensen, Kennedy regarded McNamara as the "star of his team, calling upon him for advice on a wide range of issues beyond national security, including business and economic matters."

McNamara became one of the few members of the Kennedy Administration to work and socialize with Kennedy, and he became close to Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, eventually serving as a pallbearer at the younger Kennedy's funeral in 1968. [22] [page needed]

> Robert McNamara (1916-2009) was an American businessmen and the United States' longest-serving Secretary of Defence. His tenure lasted eight years (1961-68) under presidents Kennedy and Johnson. Born in San Francisco, McNamara was the son of a shoe salesman descended from Irish immigrants.

U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara with U.S. Air Force Chief of Staff General Curtis LeMay at The Pentagon on April 10, 1963. During World War II, McNamara served under LeMay's command as a statistician for the United States Army Air Forces.

Initially, the basic policies outlined by President Kennedy in a message to Congress on March 28, 1961, guided McNamara in the reorientation of the defense program. Kennedy rejected the concept of first-strike attack and emphasized the need for adequate strategic arms and defense to deter nuclear attack on the United States and its allies. U.S. arms, he maintained, must constantly be under civilian command and control, and the nation's defense posture had to be "designed to reduce the danger of irrational or unpremeditated general war." The primary mission of U.S. overseas forces, in cooperation with its allies, was "to prevent the steady erosion of the Free World through limited wars". Kennedy and McNamara rejected massive retaliation for a posture of flexible response. The U.S. wanted choices in an emergency other than "inglorious retreat or unlimited retaliation", as the president put it.

McNamara took other steps to increase U.S. deterrence posture and military capabilities. He raised the proportion of Strategic Air Command (SAC) strategic bombers on 15-minute ground alert from 25% to 50%, thus lessening their vulnerability to missile attack. In December 1961, he established the United States Strike Command (STRICOM).

The Origins of The Clan McNamara - Irish America Magazinehttps://irishamerica.com › 2002 › August

The Origins of. The Clan McNamara … The MacNamara Crest. … The roots of the McNamara family are in the distant past of Thomond, the region of Ireland that today … Country: Kingdom of Thomond Parent house: Dál gCais

[image]

The Kennedy's' Irish Mafia The Kennedy's' Irish Mafiastory of the Irish who surrounded the most charismatic political figure of the 20th Century - President John F. Kennedy: Who they were, how they supported their leader, and the price some of them paid for this unswerving devotion.

Nowhere was the assassination of Kennedy more acutely felt than in his ancestral homeland of Ireland.

What was known as Kennedy's' "Irish Mafia" became the key advisors surrounding the President. People like the affable Dave Powers, the clinical Kenny O'Donnell and the strategist Larry O'Brien - men selected for their loyalty and devotion to JFK and his family. This group helped him win the Presidency, grieved for his passing and provided political support to his successors for decades afterwards.

This award winning documentary features interviews with key witnesses to the Kennedy Presidency, as well as professional and amateur archive footage and new scenes of the locations. The Kennedy's' Irish Mafia is a stunning recollection about one of the most remarkable periods in modern history.

Who killed John Kennedy? It was It was Lyndon Johnson, Texas oil executives (allied with LBJ) & their friends in U.S. military intelligence who did it for a variety of reasons both personal & ideological. LBJ, Hoover, Allen Dulles, H.L. Hunt, Clint Murchison Sr, D. H. Byrd, Nelson Rockefeller and George Herbert Walker Bush are all very likely inner circle plotters to murder John Kennedy. You can add to that Gen. Curtis LeMay and most especially Gen. Edward Lansdale who was identified at Dealey Plaza by 2 of his peers: Col.

Fletcher Prouty and Gen. Victor Krulak*.

The financial activities likely CIA tied surrounding University of Wisconsin Madison by some first hand accounts tie to the JFK and other assassinations Evert Glover of the research lab was a a party in which Lee Harvey Oswald was provided a gun.

Attendees of that same university include Fletcher Prouty, a Donegan family friend and relative and Sidney Gottlieb CIA speech therapist, biologist, and CIA assassin.

Prouty asserted a Secret Team was profiting on some activities and wanted JFK dead.

In the story line of The Manchurian Candidate (1962) a Chinese psychology expert Dr. Yen Lo PsyOps expert stands in front of Stalin and Chairman Mao and the Communist star to explain a plot under which a US Soldier would be hypnotized by suggestion into doing something against his will, not away he was doing it.

Dr Lo gives this lecture to a horticulture lecture theater, a mind surgery room, in which surgical suggestions are given to US Soldiers and it is explained Blue flowers do not grow in certain locations.

In fact the Queen of Diamonds, of Family Jewels, the CIA program are nut under control of Stalin or Mao, that is to say, not under control of Cuba or China.

The program is to fight the Pacific and Atlantic missile crisis in both oceans by planting the Queens sleeper agents.

So play it backwards. The plot against the USA is a CIA plot for the USA which will stop Stalin and Mao. Black is White and White is Black, brainwash which is which by conditioning, reverse the answer to decode it.

JFK will oppose the Queens desire for world control as will my father James Donegan who married Glorian Donegan, though James and Glorian were given excuses as to why the CIA needed access to thier DNA and reproductivity, part of above ground blast testing and and follow up, though my father hated the British, my mother was humiliated and abandoned, left to stare at the Hope Diamond and wish she had had the chance of the recognized Von Trapps too.

In short the program was, as the Illuminati families of Rockefeller, Bush, Powell family, Gottlieb Family, Dulles brothers, Woolsey brothers, Clintons, Kellys, Donald Barr and William Peham Barr, Schwartenzeggers, Trumps, Obamas, the Cruz family, and others planned, the Mossad, British, and Vatican use of groomed sleeper agents planed out by the FBI, CIA, NSA, DARPA, NASA, and others, and JFK got in the way of Columbia University work and planning.

There should be a coming clean which Trump wants to do. There should be self-policing in the Vatican, Windsors, Israel, FBI DOJ, and elsewhere that panic moves were made, and now the nebula of WWII allies should remain strong and ALSO engage in correcting what were illegal acts, acts which history has only one time line and no comparison points of.

The alternative to this is that those countries of WWII allies are merely enemies pushign the error when they have the chance to right it.

This was the plan thought for Hawaii, Indonesia, Cuba, AND the USA.

Regime change, starting with the removal of JFK some plan could happen, OECD leading the charge.

2011

- November 12 - 19 - The President attends the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) economic summit in Honolulu (November 12 - 15) before traveling to Australia and Bali, Indonesia.[85]

- November 18 - While visiting Bali, Indonesia, President Obama announces Hillary Clinton's plan to visit Burma, the first by a Secretary of State in more than 50 years.

[86]

- November 23 - President Obama officially pardons two turkeys, “Liberty” and “Peace”, during the National Thanksgiving Turkey Presentation.[87]

- November 28 - President Obama hosts a White House summit for leaders of the European Union to discuss the European sovereign debt crisis.[88]

The grandfather (white side) of the Barrack Obama Jr. family line is Stanley Armour Dunham of Witicha Kansas who was reportedly caught stealing B-29 plans to help Gernmany during WWII.

During World War II, Madelyn Dunham (CIA agent) worked the night shift on a Boeing B-29 assembly line in Wichita and Stanley Dunham enlisted in the Army. Her brother Charlie Payne was part of the 89th Infantry Division, which liberated the Nazi concentration camp at Ohrdruf, a subcamp of Buchenwald,[7] a fact Barack Obama has referred to in speeches.[8] Madelyn Dunham gave birth to their only child, a daughter named Stanley Ann Dunham, who was later known as Ann, at St. Francis Hospital in Wichita on November 29, 1942.[9]

The most recent native European ancestor was Falmouth Kearney, a farmer who emigrated from Moneygall, County Offaly, Ireland, during the Great Irish Famine and settled in Jefferson Township, Tipton County, Indiana, United States. Kearney’s youngest daughter, Mary Ann (Kearney) Dunham, was Stanley Dunham’s paternal grandmother.[19]

Madelyn Dunham, born Madelyn Lee Payne on October 26, 1922, in Peru, Kansas,[1]

Stanley Dunham’s distant cousins include six U.S. presidents - and another president who is Dunham's grandson: James Madison, Harry Truman, Lyndon Johnson, Jimmy Carter, George H. W. Bush and George W. Bush, plus Barack Obama, his grandson. [20] Through a common ancestor, Mareen Duvall, a wealthy Huguenot merchant who emigrated to Maryland in the 1650s, Dunham is related to former Vice-President Dick Cheney (an eighth cousin once removed).[6] Through another common ancestor, Hans Gutknecht, a German Swiss from Bischwiller, Alsace whose three sons resettled in Germantown, Pennsylvania as well as the Kentucky frontier in the mid-18th century, Dunham is President Harry S. Truman's fourth cousin, twice removed.[21][22][23] Dunham and Wild Bill Hickock are sixth cousins, four times removed, through Jacob Dunham.[24]

The white side grandmother is said to be Madelyn Paine, a CIA agent tied to Hawaii, Sidney Gottlieb, and other CIA activities.

Boeing RB-29 / F-13 (Superfortress) retrieved from Militaryfactory.com and copied or modified to here

The Boeing B-29 Superfortress served as the basis for the late-World War 2 F-13 long-range reconnaissance conversion model.

As American involvement in World War 2 (1939-1945) grew, so too did its need for long-range reconnaissance. This need was only partly solved by conversion of existing Boeing B-17 "Flying Fortress" and Consolidated B-24 "Liberator" four-engined heavy bombers but these designs still had their inherent range limitations. With the introduction of the Boeing B-29 "Superfortress" strategic bomber in 1943, all that changed for now the United States Army Air Forces (USAAF) now had, in its stable, a versatile performer capable of reaching the ranges expected of it - particularly across the vast expanse of the Pacific Theater.

> The Chain of Command
>
> Wilcher alleged the existence of a “top secret chain of command underlying all of the major covert and black operations which have been carried out by the CIA’s myriad wet teams over the past 30 years or so.” This “shadow government” would be led by “a top secret council of nine men whose names I do not know and would not recognize even if I stumbled across them,” who were capable of giving orders to the Director of Central Intelligence and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.
>
> Wilcher claimed that this group was responsible for nearly every notable assassination and assassination attempt from JFK to John Lennon, for starting the Vietnam and Bosnian wars by destabilizing these societies, and for the deaths at Jonestown.

November 18, 1978 [the year by calculation of Jen MOores statistic I had been stalked for 45 years thus starting in 1978 and at the time of her death and that the CIA began the stalk of me and the year I noticed the stalk of me and tried to trace by phone tap who the stalkers were, all 1978], a total of 918 people died at the settlement including CIA MKULTRA investigator Congressman Leo Ryan. Most sources today refer to the deaths with terms such as mass murder-suicide,[6] a massacre,[7][8] or simply mass murder.[9][10] Seventy or more individuals at Jonestown were injected with poison, and a third of the victims (304) were minors.[11][12] Guards armed with guns and crossbows had been ordered to shoot those who fled the Jonestown pavilion as Jones lobbied for suicide.[8][13]

My premise in citing these works of fiction is that similar events occurred when evil Sidney Gottlieb and OSS CIA Vatican Mason types used hidden away Glorian Donegan ovum during my pregnacy, Feb 20 November 18 9 Months and her birthday December 13 as sort of annums of that pregnancy and delivery, and a half brother, perhaps in the same “oven” of Eva Ban, Barrack Obama with Malcom X as a father, Biologist using his own birthday to claim it was Obamas August 4 1961 and perhaps for sleeper agents, grooming twins for twins studies at the CIA operated medical field station, race research, and studying with the Windsors on covert research for a race relations utopia, a gene tied to speech and language running in the Windsor line and studied in out of wedlock Windsor lines.

Manhattan Beach Los Angeles Santa Monica Area, Manhattan Project, and early childhood testing of me in odd facilities Parents Dig Persistently for Evidence : McMartin school: Despite skeptics, they insist they have found underground network.

By STEVEN R. CHURM JUNE 5, 1990 12 TIMES STAFF WRITER

Former FBI agent Ted L. Gunderson believes it. So does Jackie McGauley and several other parents of former students at the McMartin Pre-school in Manhattan Beach.

And in recent days, Gunderson and the parents have tried to make the public believe that a long-rumored network of underground tunnels where children may have been taken and terrorized was discovered last week in the final hours before the now-infamous preschool was razed.

The ex-FBI Los Angeles bureau chief, who was hired by the parents, has appeared on radio talk shows to tell of the tunnels and criticize Dist. Atty. Ira Reiner’s office for failing to take seriously the parents' findings. He offers boxes and boxes of artifacts-more than 2,000 at last count-gathered during the excavation as further proof that the preschool operators maintained and then tried to cover up a tunnel system by stuffing trash into the narrow openings. He says that tiny paint chips, curtain rod rings, charcoal and electrical wiring dug from under the foundation support the theory.

An investigator for the district attorney's office who inspected the excavated school site last week told parents upon emerging from one of the crawl spaces that the openings hollowed out with picks and shovels "could be anything." Sewer or water lines, for example.

Even the archeologist hired by Gunderson and the parents qualified the findings, saying workers came across "two probable tunnels … . But we can't be 100% certain."

The kidnapping of children for purposes of prostitution, pornography, high tech weaponry experimental abuse, mind control, child slave labor for underground alien-controlled facilities, white sex slavery, and the satanic ritual murder of untold thousands of American children snatched from the streets and playgrounds of America by agents working for the CIA is the principle reason for the existence of a covert CIA operation called "The Finders" [of FOXP2 gene expressing children and symptoms testing of them] . -Ted Gunderson, Stalk and Abuse of Children born in that area and time ALso see Church Committee and Stalk of certain families

The McMartin preschool trial was a day care sexual abuse case in the 1980s, prosecuted by the Los Angeles District Attorney Ira Reiner.[1] Members of the McMartin family, who operated a preschool in Manhattan Beach, California, were charged with numerous acts of sexual abuse of children in their care. Accusations were made in 1983, arrests and the pretrial investigation took place from 1984 to 1987, and trials ran from 1987 to 1990. The case lasted seven years but resulted in no convictions, and all charges were dropped in 1990. By the case's end, it had become the longest and most expensive in American history.[2][3] The case was part of day-care sex-abuse hysteria, a moral panic over alleged Satanic ritual abuse in the 1980s and early 1990s.

From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Odd and secretive testing not revealed and in hidden facilities?

Some of the accusations were described as "bizarre",[7] overlapping with accusations that mirrored the emerging satanic ritual abuse panic.[6][23] It was alleged that, in addition to having been sexually abused, they saw witches fly, traveled in a hot-air balloon, and were taken through tunnels.[6] When shown a series of photographs by Danny Davis (the McMartins' lawyer), one child identified actor Chuck Norris as one of the abusers.[24]

Some of the abuse was alleged to have occurred in secret tunnels beneath the school.[25] Several excavations turned up evidence of old buildings on the site and other debris from before the school was built, but no evidence of any secret chambers or tunnels was found.[6]

Mu delivery was November 18 and birth certificate issued and signed November 19 with an odd stamp of Feb 2 and some line overlap I think tied to Feb 2_ I will cite later.

Feb 2 marrage Barrack Obama Sr (m, f) to Dunham (f, m) = Barrack Obama Jr Nov 2 or so.
Dunham, 3 months pregnanat Feb 2 means August 2 birth 1961.
Barrack Obam Jr said to be born Aug 4 1961, Queen Mother's Bday.
Me from Feb 20 impregnation of Dec 13 Glorian Donegan bday me born Nov 18 1961
I think Barrack Obama was the birth certificate between 022-46-3233 and 02246-3235
I think and and Glorian Donegan DNA was used, an out of wedlock Kings Daughters
Windsors, with Kustcheras, and Barrack Obama Jr. is a "subject of the Queen"

ıan Regional Medical Center, Memoria

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
CERTIFICATION OF VITAL RECORD

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

CERTIFICATE OF LIVE BIRTH
STATE OF CALIFORNIA—DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

STATE FILE NUMBER 61-351457
LOCAL REGISTRATION DISTRICT AND CERTIFICATE NUMBER 7042 064704

THIS CHILD
1a. NAME OF CHILD—FIRST NAME: Edward
1b. MIDDLE NAME: Paul
1c. LAST NAME: Donegan
2. SEX: Male
3a. THIS BIRTH SINGLE, TWIN, OR TRIPLET: Single
4a. DATE OF BIRTH—MONTH, DAY, YEAR: November 18, 1961
4b. HOUR: 10:12 A.
PLACE OF BIRTH
5a. PLACE OF BIRTH—NAME OF HOSPITAL: Daniel Freeman Memorial Hospital
5b. STREET ADDRESS: 333 North Prairie Avenue
5c. CITY OR TOWN: Inglewood 1,
5d. COUNTY: Los Angeles
7057
MOTHER OF CHILD
6a. MAIDEN NAME OF MOTHER—FIRST NAME: Glorian
6b. MIDDLE NAME:
6c. LAST NAME: Gainey
7. COLOR OR RACE OF MOTHER: White
8. AGE OF MOTHER: 33
9. BIRTHPLACE: South Carolina
10. MAILING ADDRESS OF MOTHER
USUAL RESIDENCE OF MOTHER
11. USUAL RESIDENCE OF MOTHER—STREET ADDRESS: 584 35th Street
12. CITY OR TOWN: Manhattan Beach
13a. IF INSIDE CORPORATE LIMITS: CHECK HERE
13b. OUTSIDE CITY CORPORATE LIMITS: CHECK ONE: USE A FARM / NOT ON A FARM
13c. COUNTY: Los Angeles
13d. STATE: California
FATHER OF CHILD
12a. NAME OF FATHER—FIRST NAME: James
12b. MIDDLE NAME: Paul
12c. LAST NAME: Donegan
13. COLOR OR RACE OF FATHER: White
14. AGE OF FATHER: 34
15. BIRTHPLACE: Massachusetts
16a. PRESENT OR LAST OCCUPATION: Pilot
16b. KIND OF INDUSTRY OR BUSINESS: Airlines
INFORMANT'S CERTIFICATION
I HAVE REVIEWED THE ABOVE STATED INFORMATION AND HEREBY CERTIFY THAT IT IS TRUE AND CORRECT TO THE BEST OF MY KNOWLEDGE
17a. PARENT OR OTHER INFORMANT—SIGNATURE: Glorian Donegan
17b. DATE SIGNED BY INFORMANT: November 19, 1961
ATTENDANT'S CERTIFICATION
I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT I ATTENDED THIS BIRTH AND THAT THE CHILD WAS BORN ALIVE AT THE HOUR, DATE AND PLACE STATED ABOVE
18a. PHYSICIAN (Richard L. Ray, MD)
18b. ADDRESS: Inglewood
REGISTRAR'S CERTIFICATION
19. DATE ON WHICH NAME ISSUED BY S.P.H.S. MENTAL HEALTH REPORT: FEB 9 1962
20. LOCAL REGISTRAR—SIGNATURE: K.H. Sutherland M.D.
21. DATE RECEIVED BY LOCAL REGISTRAR: DEC 4 1961

My theory is rather than use those dates for Obama, JFK being at my Manhattan Beach Manhattan Project atomic bomb testing and development birth, the CIA moved the location to Hawaii, also in atomic testing, and Gottlieb August 8 birthday delivery dates of August 3 and August 4.

In short Barrack Obama Sr said to be wed Feb 2, and that would be Nov 2 birthday but she was 3 months pregnant at wed, which gives Aug 2 as a birthday.

Lee Harvey Oswald found a position on October 12th, 1962 at the graphic arts firm of Jaggars-Chiles-Stovall as a photoprint trainee. The company has been cited as doing classified work for the US government but this was limited to typesetting for maps that were produced in a section to which Oswald had no access. While working for Jaggars-Chiles-Stovall, he may have used photographic and typesetting equipment in the unsecured area to create falsified identification documents, including some in the name of an alias he created, Alek James Hidell.

His co-workers and supervisors eventually grew frustrated with his inefficiency, lack of precision, inattention, and rudeness to others, to the point where fights had threatened to break out. He had also been seen reading a Russian publication, Krokodil, in the cafeteria. On April 1, 1963, after six months of work, Oswald's supervisor terminated Oswald's employment at Jaggars-Chiles-Stovall.

Robert Stovall and other employees who knew and worked with Oswald were called to testify before the Warren Commission, mainly to see if Oswald had come into contact with potentially classified materials, the aforementioned typograhic work for the government, which as it turns out was actually for the Department of Defense. As far as the Commission could tell, and as far as Mr. Stovall testified, Oswald didn't ever work on those jobs.

Very interesting sidenote: As noted above, Oswald was fired from Jaggars-Chiles-Stovall on April 1, 1963. That happens to be the day after the famous pictures of him holding a rifle in his backyard were taken by his wife, Marina. That is of course assuming that she was actually the person who took the pictures. They could be fakes, right? :) https://kscdirect.com/showpost.php?page_id=233

Fake Birth Certicates or the Feb 2_ Stamp on my birth certificate?

The firm of Jaggars-Chiles-Stovall hired Oswald as a photoprint trainee on October 12, 1962. While the company has been cited as doing classified work for the US government but this was limited to typesetting for maps that were produced in a section to which Oswald had no access. While working for Jaggars-Chiles-Stovall, he may have used photographic and typesetting equipment in the unsecured area to create falsified identification documents, including some in the name of an alias he created, Alek James Hidell.

Wikipedia retrieved from Te Switch and Rumor Has It and copied or modified to here

Bertrand Russell

Bertrand Arthur William Russell, 3rd Earl Russell OM FRS[65] (18 May 1872 - 2 February 1970) was a British polymath. As an academic, he worked in philosophy, mathematics, and logic. His work has had a considerable influence on mathematics, logic, set theory, linguistics, artificial intelligence, cognitive science, computer science (see type theory and type system) and various areas of analytic philosophy, especially logic, philosophy of mathematics, philosophy of language, epistemology and metaphysics. Russell was also a public intellectual, historian, social critic, political activist, and Nobel laureate.[66][67]

Russell was a pacifist who championed anti-imperialism and chaired the India League.[70][71][72] He occasionally advocated preventive nuclear war, before the opportunity provided by the atomic monopoly had passed and he decided he would “welcome with enthusiasm” world government.[73]

Owing to the birth of his two children, he became interested in education, especially early childhood education. He was not satisfied with the old traditional education and thought that progressive education also had some flaws,[137] as a result, together with Dora, Russell founded the experimental Beacon Hill School in 1927. The school was run from a succession of different locations, including its original premises at the Russells’ residence, Telegraph House, near Harting, West Sussex. During this time, he published On Education, Especially in Early Childhood. On 8 July 1930 Dora gave birth to her third child Harriet Ruth. After he left the school in 1932, Dora continued it until 1943.[138][139]

On a tour through the US in 1927, Russell met Barry Fox (later Barry Stevens), who became a well-known Gestalt therapist and writer in later years.[140] Russell and Fox developed an intensive relationship. In Fox’s words: “ … for three years we were very close.”[141] Fox sent her daughter Judith to Beacon Hill School for some time.[142] From 1927 to 1932 Russell wrote 34 letters to Fox.[143]

Garrison believed that the men were part of an arms smuggling ring supplying anti-Castro Cubans with weapons."

In the autumn of 1966, Garrison began to re-examine the Kennedy assassination. Guy Banister had died of a heart attack in 1964,[20] but Garrison re-interviewed Martin, who told the district attorney that Banister and his associates were involved in stealing weapons and ammunition from armories and in gunrunning. Garrison believed that the men were part of an arms smuggling ring supplying anti-Castro Cubans with weapons."[21]

Journalist James Phelan said Garrison told him that the assassination was a "homosexual thrill killing."[22] As Garrison continued his investigation he became convinced that a group of right-wing activists, which he believed included David Ferrie, Guy Banister, and Clay Shaw (director of the International Trade Mart in New Orleans), were involved in a conspiracy with elements of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) to kill President Kennedy. Garrison would later say that the motive for the assassination was anger over Kennedy's foreign policy, especially Kennedy's efforts to find a political, rather than a military, solution in Cuba and Southeast Asia, and his efforts toward a rapprochement with the Soviet Union.[1][2] Garrison also believed that Shaw, Banister, and Ferrie had conspired to set up Oswald as a patsy in the JFK assassination.[23] News of Garrison's investigation was reported in the New Orleans States-Item on February 17, 1967.[6][24]

On February 22, 1967, less than a week after the newspaper broke the story of Garrison's investigation, David Ferrie, then his chief suspect, was found dead in his apartment from a brain aneurysm. Garrison suspected that Ferrie had been murdered despite the coroner's report that his death was due to natural causes.[25] According to Garrison, the day news of the investigation broke, Ferrie had called his aide Lou Ivon and warned that "I'm a dead man".[26]

Garrison is subject to Slander campaign as he pursues CIA warfare techniques and Shaw.

> The Strange [August 15] Death of Clay Shaw
>
> Shaw's untimely death is just one of many bizarre "coincidences" that stretch from the Bay of Pigs to the doorsteps of Watergate. By Richard Boyle
>
> http://jfk.hood.edu/
>
> Los Angeles Couinty prosecutor Garrison still carries with him a tremendous bitterness, a conviction that he was fighting a one-sided battle against the CIA and something he refers to as the "[Special or Leverage] warfare state."
>
> Garrison says that since he first got a tip shortly after the assassination of JFK that Lee Harvey Oswald and David Ferrie had been associated together in the Civil Air Patrol, and since he first ordered his DA's staff to begin its own investigation, he has been the victim of a slander campaign.
>
> [image] KN-23122.
>
> President John F. Kennedy (left) and Senator

> Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota (center, back to camera) speak with two unidentified military officers, during a visit with a group of foreign civil air patrol cadets. Rose Garden, White House, Washington, D.C.
>
> Shaw was found innocent, and suddenly Garrison's credibility had vanished, as did his political future. After the trial ended in February 1969, Garrison disappeared from the headlines. Further, newspapers in New Orleans called for his removal from office, and he eventually was defeated for reelection. Garrison faded into political obscurity and Shaw filed a multi-million-dollar lawsuit against the former district attorney. Shaw had become the object of national sympathy, seemingly an example of what one over-ambitious politician could do to an innocent man. Shaw was seen as a man whose life was left in a shambles, emotionally and financially

Gay rights activist Elmdorf may be able to provide prescient insight. Was something being setup in advance with Scalia, perhaps a read in to a program, and he was objecting to the start, and they decided to cut the preliminary conversation short, even before the real conversation began?

From:elmendorf©teamsubjectmatter.com
To: john.podesta©gmail.com
Date: 2016-02-09 20:56
Subject: RE: Thanks

I am all in

> Sounds like it will be a bad nite , we all need to buckle up and double down
>
> From: John Podesta [mailto:john.podesta©gmail.com]
> Sent: Tuesday, February 09, 2016 4:36 PM
> To: Steve Elmendorf elmendorf©teamsubjectmatter.com > Subject: Thanks
>
> Didn't think wet works meant pool parties at the Vineyard.

> Final nail in Liz's coffin? Cheney 'secretly orchestrated Washington Post op-ed by all ten living former Defense Secretaries
>
> https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-9554985/

Liz-Cheney-secretly-orchestrated-Washington-Post-op-ed-ten-living-former-Defense-Secretaries.html

Rep. Liz Cheney secretly masterminded an extraordinary Washington Post op-ed authored by top military leaders just three days before the January 6 Capitol riot, it has been claimed.

The letter published in the Washington Post contained a stark warning from 10 Defense Secretaries from both parties - and came just three days before the January 6 Capitol riot.

Now, the Wyoming Republican could be within days of losing her elected leadership post amid a clash with Trump that came to a head with his claim that the 2020 election was a 'BIG LIE.'

APOSTLE BENJAMIN K. ARTHUR PASSES ON - THE CHURCH OF PENTECOST is remembering a Gallant Soldier of the Cross.

e have received with a heavy heart the passing on to glory of the former International Missions Director (IMD) of THE CHURCH OF PENTECOST, Apostle Benjamin K. Arthur (Retired), at the Komfo Anokye Teaching Hospital on Monday, October 22, 2018.

Apostle Benjamin K. Arthur was born on October 8, 1937, to Mr. Benjamin Kodwo Arthur and Mrs. Janet Esi Dede Arthur, both of blessed memory. He was the eldest of eleven children.

He had his primary education at the Aboso Methodist School between 1945 and 1952 and continued with his > secondary education at the Tarkwa Technical Institute. He later took a course at the Kumasi Technical Institute (now Kumasi Technical University

>
> Facbeook Group *

I believe my father and mother were Manchurian Candidate(s) used for involuntary race and twins research and used for the creating of Obama which my mother seemed to realize later in her life as best as I can tell and bitterly hated he fact.

Much of the stalking and life sabotage I have experienced has centered on harassing my positive attributes and trying to provoke negative cognitive attributes by picking fights with me I do not want.

CIA NSA FBI Genoracketeerign Cartel of Such Hollywood and Poltical Elections Power its influence controls the pyramid from the top with its own

I am going to cite the Ruins here in that my life in the USA, and most other peoples life in the USA is amidst hostile vines, I am using as a metaphor, for Illuminati tentacles with sufficient hostile be secretive reach as to accomplish illegal goals which protect Free Masons from those the Free Masons victimized, and I realized far too late the vines were surrounding me and my mother, even my father, so they already had the inroads to have exposed me to potentially lethal financial abuse conditions constraining good outcomes in my otherwise normal would be life.

> From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

The Ruins (film) is a 2008 supernatural horror film

The group of tourists in a remote Forrest now realizes that the vines around a pyramid are predatory

Two young American couples - Jeff (Jonathan Tucker) and Amy (Jena Malone), and Eric (Shawn Ashmore) and Stacy (Laura Ramsey) - enjoy their vacation in Mexico. They meet Mathias (Joe Anderson), a German tourist, who is looking for his brother Heinrich. His last known location is an archaeological dig at a remote Mayan ruin in the jungle. They are also joined by Dimitri (Dimitri Baveas), Mathias's friend. The group reaches the ruins of a Mayan temple, and are confronted by Mayan villagers with guns and bows. Mathias tries to explain their purpose, but the villagers do not understand Spanish or English. When Amy accidentally steps on some vines while taking a picture, the villagers become increasingly agitated. Dimitri approaches the villagers, hoping to appease them, but they shoot and kill him. The rest of the group flees up the steps of the ruins.

The group now realizes that the vines are predatory

The next morning, Stacy awakens and leaves the tent where the rest of the group is sleeping. She finds a backpack, which contains a knife. Jeff hears moans coming from outside and goes to see what is going on. Jeff and Amy follow with Eric. Jeff walks over to Stacy trying to calm her down as she has a deep gash on her forehead and is slicing up her thigh to get a vine out. He touches her and she flails the knife at him, slicing his palm. He backs away. Eric also approaches Stacy, trying to calm her down. As he touches her back to calm her, she spins around and fatally stabs him in the chest. While the rest try to restrain Stacy, Eric is dragged away by the vines. Overcome with remorse, Stacy begs Amy to kill her, and Jeff kills her as an act of mercy.

“Buy In” and the Estates - The Vines (tentacles) of MKULTRA and Its Power

Various front companies such as commercial media and businessess will cover for Epstein, Donald Barr, William Barr, Biden, Harris, the Bush family, others, in the long term NSA CIA (Vatican) Mossad/Judeo Masonic MKULTRA group of conspirators I sometimes call 2CON or muiltiple interests (more than one) grouped togeher acting together in covert operations (I am one victim and it is 2 against 1.)

Use of the term Conspiracy Theory is another tentacle invading the Ruins of the USA

	Government →
	(CIA FBI NSA Complicit Illicit Unitary I Media →
Physical Locations Controlled and Property Ownership Sudden Changes→

The Establishment Power of MKULTRA

	Government
	(CIA FBI NSA Complicit Illicit Unitary I
Media
Physical Locations Controlled and

Property Ownership Sudden Changes

My Attempts to Criticize The Establishment

Moral intimidat

MKU

(CIA FBI NSA Complicit Ilicit Unitary I

PsyOps Subversion and Ghosting of Whistle-blowers

Murder of Whistle-blowers

Protesting the Illuminati Grand Design

The firing of James Comey and Jeff Sessions and right wing support for that was the turning battle as important as any civil war battle.

Tentacles include

Fighting White Supremacism, or at least fighting the biggoted belief lack of Modernity beneficial brain genes in Blacks led to crisis and social conflict and MKULTRA made booboo in how it tried to solve the problem.

Secretive meddling in election power-brokering King Making and media operators with big money and espionage capability to keep program proponents in power and continuing treasonous espionage operation mostly out of Executive controlled rouge agencies and illegal black budget techniques such as racketeering monetized trust fund of Glorian Donegan and thus procuring HUMINT Human Intelligence operators.

Researching my family history and genomic history

The Church Committee (formally the United States Senate Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities) #Feb20Nov18Dec13 #Aug4July4April1

- Karen Gay Silkwood Born: February 19, 1946, Longview, TX Died: November 13, 1974, Crescent, OK

  The last person to see her alive was Wanda Jean Jung I think CIA Behavioral Health as staff at nuclear plant

- The Church Committee (formally the United States Senate Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities) was a U.S. Senate select committee in August 3 ,1975

  Operation Mockingbird as a systematic propaganda campaign with domestic and foreign journalists operating as CIA assets and dozens of US news organizations providing cover for CIA activity.[8]

I believe the family jewels were Glorian and James DOnegans, and tha tis the interest in my, Edward Paul Donegans DNA

Covert attempts to subvert foreign governments were reported for the first time

Christopher Pyle

Pyle graduated from Bowdoin College (1961) and earned LLB (1964), MA (1966), and PhD (1974) degrees at Manhattan Project's Columbia University overlooking Manhattan Beach.[1]

In the 1960s, Pyle served in the United States Army as a captain in Army Intelligence Command (now United States Army Intelligence and Security Command).[1]

In the 1960s while an Army captain in intelligence, Pyle learned that "Army intelligence had 1,500 plainclothes agents watching every demonstration of 20 people or more throughout the United States," (as later Pyle recounted on December 19, 2005, on Democracy Now[3] and again on ABC News on January 6, 2006, [4]) as part of a broad-based program of domestic spying.

Frank Forrester Church III (July 25, 1924 - April 7, 1984) was an American lawyer and politician. A member of the Democratic Party, he served as a United States Senator from Idaho from 1957 to 1981. He is known for heading the Church Committee, which investigated abuses within the United States Intelligence Community.

By the early years of the 1970s, a series of troubling revelations had appeared in the press concerning intelligence activities. First came the revelations by Army intelligence officer Christopher Pyle in January 1970 of the U.S. Army's spying on the civilian population[1][2] and Senator Sam Ervin's Senate investigations produced more revelations.[3]

Then on December 22, 1974, The New York Times published a lengthy article by Seymour Hersh detailing operations engaged in by the CIA over the years that had been dubbed the "family jewels".

Covert action programs involving assassination attempts on foreign leaders [and replacement of them with Groomed USA Leaders born with Family Jewels, Windsor Secret Princedoms] and covert attempts to subvert foreign governments were reported for the first time. In addition, the article discussed efforts by intelligence agencies to collect information on the political activities of US citizens. [4]

The ongoing work of Sidney Gottelieg and the Family Jewels. Hawaii and Indonesia and some Latin America and Cuba overthrows were planned with the CIA and Catholic Church, Church of England, others.

Pope and Vatican II
Litvenko
Dead
BBRDW/Bank of Hawaii/Chase Manhattan
Univ. of Hawaii
Behavioral Sciences
MKULTRA
Knights Of Malta -
James Angleton
Donald Barr
George H.W. B
Richard Cheney
J Edgar Hoover
Ron Pataky
East-West Center University of Hawaii
OSS MI5 NSA
DARPA Queen
Mossad Bush
US Marshalls
Sleeper Agents POTUS
Suharto/The Crane Group
USAID/Peace Corps/Ford Foundation
Big Oil, Big Pharma ..
Eugenics and Sleepers
Big Money
Gym Thug Stalkers Great Leap Forward and Communist GDP have caused famine
the poor resent

PROJECT MKULTRA, THE CIA'S PROGRAM OF RESEARCH IN BEHAVIORAL MODIFICATION

Abuses by CIA, NSA FBI - Organized "Rough Music"
Stalk of 20 "Family Jewels"

Aug 3
Rockefeller Commission.

JOINT HEARING

BEFORE THE

SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE

AND THE

SUBCOMMITTEE ON HEALTH AND SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

OF THE

COMMITTEE ON HUMAN RESOURCES
UNITED STATES SENATE

NINETY-FIFTH CONGRESS

FIRST SESSION

AUGUST 3, 1977

Rockefellers
Masons Shadow Gov
Assasnations

Also House Pike Committee Leo Ryan

Sidney Gottlieb Born: Augus 8 , 1918, New York, NY
Assasinations, Poisonings, Political Control and presenting polemic information to the Mind controlling it

OPERATION PAPERCLIP

THE NAZIS DIDN'T LOSE...

...THEY MOVED TO AMERICA

WERNER VON BRAUN
NASA ADMINISTRATOR

ARTHUR RUDOLPH
NASA SCIENTIST

SIDNEY GOTTLIEB
CIA / TSS / MKULTRA

From 1945 to 1955, Operation Paperclip granted nearly 1,000 German scientists American citizenship. Many had been longtime members of the Nazi party and the Gestapo and had conducted experiments on humans at concentration camps and commited other war crimes. The scientists ended up in the U.S. military industrial complex, worked with the CIA, NASA & more. One of the Nazi experiments that continued in America was mind control... known as the CIA's Project MK-ULTRA.

'RE OLD, YOU'RE WHITE, YO
NOVEMBER 19, 2012
Nov 19

Fort Mason SF to Vietnam War
Japan
South Korea
China
East China Sea
North Pacific
Hawaii
Philippine Sea
Polynesia Philippines Vietnam
Indonesia
Banda Sea
Papua New Guinea
Coral Sea
NT
QLD
Australia
WA
SA
NSW
Great Australian Bight
VIC

February 20 November 19 Dec 13 Aug 4 Family Jewels and replacing other countries sovereign leaders with Secret Windsor Princedom.

[image]

Donald Barr (who held experimantal monkey in the White House November 22 1961 and likely again somewhere in November 22 1963, father of William Barr, both CIA Agents (as George H.W. Bush was) who conducted the assassinations programs and destroyed the records then, having evaded prosecution, sought higher offices to stymie future investigations.

Leo Ryan investigated these activities as well such as MKULTRA at Folsom Prison and Jonestown Guyanna, CIA research locations

Researching my family history and genomic history

It does seem my father had a brother Edward Donegan Jr, thus my maternal grandfather, was Edward.

My fathers sense of movement I have, my mother's throat and Borderline I have. I am guessing one copy of FOXP2 from my father, one from my mother, the Kustchera.

I don't know that it all means but I have spent my life with militant unnamed blacks telling me the will kill me (or her) if am near a white woman and I have believed them from some women disappearing, several murders near me.

I was also radiologically attacked in my mid section, and places my mito dna are tend to burn, and I have been physically attacked by plain clothes blacks at least 30 times, always the say they are not doing it.

> "Rumor Has It (stylized as Rumor Has It …) is a 2005

> American romantic comedy film directed by Rob Reiner, and starring Jennifer Aniston, Kevin Costner, Shirley MacLaine and Mark Ruffalo. The film received negative reviews from critics and was a box office disappointment grossing $88.9 million against its $70 million budget." Wikipedia

My father left the church (Catholic Church) after fried of his was bitterly betrayed by the church and my father never forgave that. I think that person betrayed was his Cape Cod friend John Fitzgerald Kennedy, it was tied to my February 20 1961 November 18 1961 birth certificate and my mothers Dec 13 birthday, and her ovum use by the CIA for testing (FOXP2).

In a a later part of this book called #Books I will tell a story similar to that movie mine, Edward Paul Donegan born Los Angles Nov 18 1961 to parents in atomic testing CIA research.

James Paul Donegan and Glorian Donegan, my mother, my father in atomic testing and radiation affects as nuclear air force. Johnson Atoll, LA/Nevada SIMI Valley area.

My father, part of the "first nuclear wing of the Air Force (at one time the Army Air Corps which he had joined and later became the Air Force) was part of the Manhattan Project of the LA area and Pacific/ Nevada Proving Grounds where across the Southern US and Lawrence Livermore Labs the Gadget was built and tested, the first Atomic Bomb.

My father's (James Paul Donegan's) brother Robert William Donegan was in the nuclear industry our families in Cape Cod frequently dined together and visited together, James and Glorian Donegan, husband and wife, Robert Donegan and Helen Donegan, husband and wife, two brothers tied to nuclear testing and engineering, Robert, my father's brother when in the private sector as it seems Exelon Nuclear Industries working on Three Mile Island and other civilian projects tied to the Depart of Energy and its proving requirements.

I was born at Manhattan Beach Los Angles under the Manhattan Project ongoing testing, in 1961, when my was later in his later TWA job but still under followup Manhattan Project Testing of DNA and I believe he met my mother GLorian Donegan through SIdney Gottlieb of CIA Werhner Vob BRaun history, and many families including Shrivers and Obamas share my DNA, now a CIA dirty secret.

He started in what was then the Army Air Corps.

His most likely school which is also a CIA center.

> Sheppard Air Force Base is named in honor of Senator John Morris Sheppard of Texas (1875-1941), chairman of the Senate Military Affairs Committee from 1933 until his death on 9 April 1941. Senator Sheppard helped lead the fight for military preparedness before the attack on Pearl Harbor.
>
> The base began as Sheppard Field on 300 acres (1.2 km^2) just south of Kell Field, named for the businessman Frank Kell. A Texas cattleman, oilman, and philanthropist, Joseph Sterling Bridwell, sold the land to the U.S. Army for one dollar.[3]
>
> It was officially opened as a United States Army Air Corps training center on 17 October 1941, following the arrival of the first military members on 14 June. As the Army Air Corps became the Army Air Forces, facilities were completed sufficiently to allow the first class of 22 aviation mechanics to enter training that October; the class graduated 23 February 1942.

TWA Pilot Barry Seal was probably tied to my father's age of pilots class action lawsuit in biology and psychometrics regarding piloting and retiring age for new pilots to come on line. His death (Barry Seal TWA and Barry Seals CIA accountant near Florence Martin of Mabell Texas near Sheppard Air Force Base may be connected to my father. My mother also had a “Flow in accounting” joke “How is the cash, flow?” she used to tell.

Adler Berriman “Barry” Seal (July 16, 1939 - February 19, 1986) was a commercial airline pilot who became a major drug smuggler for the Medellín Cartel *

These are considered suspicious CIA deaths tied to a larger conspiracy of genome, genome experimentation around race, family lines, and futurism that centered around nuclear missile crisis with both China Indonesia and Cub Russia under president John F. Kennedy, Sidney Gottlieb, Thorkill Kristensen, George Ball, and others, espeically for the overthrow of Indonesian communist, and the preparation of OBama by the CIA to do that in averting further Pacific Missile Crisis started by PRC’s Mao Zedong.

An Illuminati story unfolded as this.

I believe this an international for profit racket of multiple benefits to the racketeers and that some of the goals are shared by Fellow Travelers in U.S. and other world governments. Assassinations keep fellow travelers moved into seats of powers in the U.S. by attrition vacancies. This includes JFK rejected the Catholic Mafia demands.*

The Illuminati have a cyphertext they use, religious prophecy in which they are “Galactic Aliens” in bright shining stars overlookingn Earth, and managing Earth’s affairs for world prosperity.

Breaking the Cypher Text, and the CIA Diagraph Illuminati Divinci Codes of February 20 Nov 18 Dec 13 and ties to Obama are the central story of this book.

November 16, 1963 (days before death and as I and I think Barack Obama turned two)

> JFK traveled from Palm Beach to Cape Canaveral, Florida on this Saturday morning, where he visited Pad B at Complex 37 and was briefed by Wernher Von Braun on the Saturn rocket booster.
>
> He is seen in the photo below with (L-R) NASA Associated Administrator Robert C. Seamans, Jr., Florida Senator George Smathers, NASA Administrator

James E. Webb, Dr. Wernher Von Braun (partially hidden), NASA Deputy Administrator Hugh L. Dryden, and military aide to the President Chester V. Clinton. Although not shown in the photo, long-time aide Kenny O'Donnell also accompanied him on trip.

> (Chester V Clinton, 1913 Born: Edmonton, Canada 1930 - 1932 Student, University of Washington Newspaper reporter, Seattle Post 1931 - 1932 : JFK Library Archives
>
> Wernher Von Braun: MKULTRA former Nazi

During his time in Cape Canaveral, JFK also viewed a Polaris missile being fired from a submarine.

Wernher von Braun was a German and later American aerospace engineer and space architect. He was the leading figure in the development of rocket technology in Germany and a pioneer of rocket and space technology in the United States. - Wikipedia

Tied to Nazi efforts in the nuclear tipped rocket and other programs of 1,500 German scientists von Braun, an aristocrat like many of the professional military of Germany opposed Hitler's programs. Once having attempted to escape to Britain and having been arrested he was allowed back to work for the Nazis to avoid death.

Wikipedia retrieved re: Kenny O'Donnell

O'Donnell was born in Worcester, Massachusetts, and raised in Boston. Both of his parents were Catholics of Irish descent.[2] O'Donnell graduated from high school during World War II and then served in the U.S. Army Air Forces (1942 - 1945), where he flew 30 missions as a bombardier in a B-17 squadron before being shot down over Belgium. "He was imprisoned, escaped, and emerged with the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal with Four Oak Leaf Clusters."[6] Following the war, he studied at Harvard College (1946 - 1949) and met Robert F. Kennedy, where they were roommates[5] [Similar to Thomas C. Wales?]

In 1958, Kenny O'Donnell became a member of Senator John Kennedy's staff, where he was later a key organizer and adviser during Kennedy's presidential campaign in 1960.[5] The following year, he became President Kennedy's special assistant and Appointments Secretary. He later advised the President during the lead up to the Bay of Pigs invasion and during the 1962 Cuban Missile Crisis.[5]

O'Donnell arranged President Kennedy's trip to Dallas in November 1963 and was in a car just behind the president's limousine when Kennedy was assassinated. Kennedy's death was an enormous blow to O'Donnell, who long blamed himself for the assassination.[7] [Mortal Error?]

Sidny Gottlieb. CIA biologist and speech therapist working with king Edward VIII on the FOXP2 speech defect tied to a number of symptoms like Borderline Personality Disorder, dry throughts, and polarized thinking capabilities or defects, depending clinically as to whether the cognitive trait is an asset or hinderance.

Glorian Donegan. My mother who carries the FOXP2 genes as I do and appears to have been rescued from King Edward VIII earlier days, as , having illegitimate children out of wedlock.

James P. Donegan, my father and his wife, who was working with DARPA, Sidney Gottlieb, and the CIA and other programs including Dept of Energy on the effects of radiation (being exposed to nuclear blasts in above ground testing towers and undergoing medical testing) during 1960s Los Angles we lived in a few years, other than that, living in Boston where my family likely knew the Kennedy's JFK who was part of an experimental fertilization Feb 20 1961 and a birth in Los Angles Nov 18 / 19 1961 Lost Angles. I believe this is Obama's birth as well as my own at St Joseph's Hospital Los Angles.

I further research and speculate that 2 years after Nov 18 1961 JFK is assassinated because he will not comply with the Illuminati plot and through my life a protection racket built around racial assault of me and will place me in institutions in which religious conservancy can try to wipe away the evidence of what happened to my family over the decades.

After 2006 to 2007 Secret DNA Aunuki Convention tests complete, cleanup of those who might disclose the operation get eliminated starting in 2008 through to 2011 including DNA operations Aug 4 and Seal Team Six told to place it

The following people died in 2011 as witnesses to the Malcom X assassination at Audubon Hall France and I believe the connected matter of the John F. Kennedy and other assassinations tied to the secret FBI plans to create and hide to the world sleeper agents of CIA selected DNA, involuntary from the Donegan family during the Manhattan Project.

In the January 25, 2011 on his stomach cancer death bed letter, Wood, who was on duty the day of Malcolm X's death, said he “participated in actions that in hindsight were deplorable and detrimental to the advancement of my own black people.”

“Under the direction of my handlers, I was told to encourage leaders and members of the civil rights groups to commit felonious acts,” Wood said in the letter. (In my case Edward Paul Donegan a Dopple of me creates the false-pretext basis for retaliatory criminal and civil harassment of me subverting my life, credibility, and following.)

Wood stated he was coerced by his NYPD supervisors to entice members of Malcolm X’s security detail into committing crimes that resulted in their arrest days before the deadly shooting.

Ted Gunderson, Special Agent in Charge, Santa Monica Los Angeles. (Died 2011 Cancer) Stalked by Gangsalked, in 2008 alleged he was being poisoned (as I was in 2008) and subjected to FBI and Military Organized Stalk for outing Fee Masonry deep state, poisoned, likely radiologically like myself, by MKULTRA Organized Stalk system which relies on plausibly denying criminal espionage acts conducted in public or during break ins.

Ted Gunderson cites one source being General Russell Bowden, a man in the know about George H.W. Bush connections into illegal CIA activities being covered up like the JFK, Marylin Monroe, and Macdonald family murders, the Malcom X murder tied to this as well as was the Jeffery MacDonald family members murdered, tied to the secret history of CIA work through Transhumanism cult groups that were CIA front organizations and basis for undercover CIA activity.

I was radiologically poisoned at the same time Ted Gunderson was alleging he was being poisoned. I was in a federal prison facility on a rigged charged of annoying Freedom of Information act officers with repeated contacts they would not return, such as an FBI connected document.

Seal Team Six and Judge Roll died at this time, as did my mother Glorian Donegan and I was forced into repeated arrests as an illegal and denied program of money laundering for asset seizures is used when an impersonator of me sees a Dominatrix and confesses to wrong doing, and admits he, not I, owes lots of people cars, gold jewelry, Jaguars, and other property in restitution for alleged acts.

The controlling motivation for the Judge Roll murder was that family genome databases could detect usage of various family lines from around the world (including Malcom X DNA, the X Component) and without co-operation which could hide things like FOXP2 genetics affects and family registries the CIA sleeper agents would be detected, and further, asset seizures could continue genetics plans to create groomed USAID locations which offered better fed, cared for, educated, and seized high value genome for an elite connected CIA backed near biological CIA deep state of secret groomed ancestry.

The Organized Stalk activity has stepped on me as the Crime Syndicate run from the top have been able to gain co-operation of the program which allows sham based claims against my trust fund which would rather keep control of my assets rather than I have them (a cartel) and use the assets for those they sympathize more with than me, alleged, only alleged, victims of me. My theory is those who are guilty run the FBI and are running under Cover Story of Law, the CIA Legend is they are DOJ FBI Law Enforcement, in reality they are CIA backed criminals trying to abuse state power to cover up the Espionage misdeeds that continue, and the coverup method is plausible deniable harassment of witnesses to the FBI murder of JFK and others because Free Masons and Bush Rockefeller Rothschild money wanted a Middle East and world overthrow plan JFK nor Malcom X would back, a plan using sleeper agents.

“The Amazing New Human DNA”

” The Beautiful Crystalline New DNA; The Beautiful Way; The Turn-Me-To-Stone Trick; The New DNA, What A Sight To Behold; Evil Schemes to Stop the DNA Spin; 360 Degree DNA; A Beautiful Gift To Humanity; Calling to the Eagles, For, where the Body is, there the eagles will be gathered also; Rejoice! Rejoice!; 23 Sept. 2006

Suddenly, this energy was ruptured by a catastrophe that took down the dominant Empire of Atlantis and set this reality upon a course that put it under the full control of the dark. However, this so-called fall was in reality part of a divine journey to teach you about the devious ways of the dark [Evil Europens]. The cataclysm reduced the human population to barely 15 million. These Beings were utterly childlike in their outlook and very primitive in their technology. They knew little or nothing of why they were here and retained no knowledge of their true origins. - 3 Batz, 9 Zac, 2 Ik - FEBRUARY 20, 2007

The Second Annunaki Conversation February 20, 2007 The giant said to me, “What do you want from us?”

I replied, “I want nothing from you!”

Then, he said, “But, you have a new DNA and through this new DNA, which is similar to ours, you will be like us!”

February 20, 2007

A religious group likely tied to Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, the Queen of England and out of wedlock Austrian DNA of both Einstein, Kutschera Gestapo, and original “British” Windsor family origins, are trying to plant central European cognition into groomed recipient populations and leaders, literally hoping for similar thinking and leadership and peacefull relations.

My DNA is tied to this program through MKULTRA and JFK history and the espionage agencies have been plausibly deniable harassing and mischaracterizing me.

My (Edward Paul Donegan) annotations of The Story of Obama: All in The Company (Part I) by Wayne Madsen

USAID planned to plant Obaam in Indonesia through the Peace Crorps and Searent Shriver. Robert Sargent Shriver Jr. was an American diplomat, politician and activist. As the husband of Eunice Kennedy Shriver, he was part of the Kennedy family. Wikipedia

The idea of the USAID Plan was to use the Peace Corps through Stanley Anne Dunham to overthrow the Indonesia Government and prevent the Peoples Republic of China from controlling Polynesia, Indonesia, Korea, and Vietnam. uharto was an Indonesian military leader and politician who served as the second president of Indonesia, holding the office for 31 years, from the ousting of Sukarno in 1967 until his resignation in 1998. He was widely regarded by foreign observers as a dictator. Wikipedia East-West Center of Hawaii Part of that plan for peace with East.

MKULTRA activities through all of this in the Pacific and Altantic Missile Crisis, and NASA participating in IQ and stopping communism through economic development.

An Intersection in History.

The Kennedy's, Lawfords, Shrivers, Windsor Dysgraphics, Obamas, Donegans, Kellys, Catholics, in a CIA experiment under NASA KMLUTRA Intelligent Life research and world IQ study.

The result of my family leaving the Church was a love of learning away from the Church which I grew up in. A disdain for adjectives effusing religious emptiness meant always going into the library in the den, letting a book fall open, and just moving into the present passage as if a meditation in learning.

I never liked ghetto or Christianity and fighting that off has been the losing fight of my life.

For forty plus years I have been hit with an Agent Provocatear Gangstalk appearing CIA and Secret Service US Marhsalls planted evidence based

An agent provocateur (French for “inciting agent”) is a person who commits or who acts to entice another person to commit an illegal or rash act or falsely implicate them in partaking in an illegal act, so as to ruin the reputation or entice legal action against the target or a group they belong to. They may target any group, such as a peaceful protest or demonstration, a union, a political party or a company.

A Targeted Individual is a person selected from a Decision Matrix (such as that Barack Obama and Jey Johnson ran) of miltary “non lethal” “decomoposition” usually resulting in death from creation of the circumstances of death and are also called “Targeted Assassination” and as Social Control use character assassination as part of the the Targeted Killing conducted by PsyOps military intelligence.

The entirety of this story is a Gangstalk of me which has been conduct by State Backed Assailants fitting the description of My Brothers Keepers foundation groups like Becoming A Man, operated from Chicago recruiting street criminals under grants in the cities of Los Angels, Seattle, and Boston.

After years, perhaps forty years of Gangstalk assailants attacking me I discovered a surplus of evidence why these odd attacks which do not fit my life are being conducted illegally.

Espionage agencies such as the CIA and Secret Service, and Free Masons and many in the military created Barack Obama Jr to infiltrate Indonesia politics during the missile crisis of the Pacific and JFK nixing some of the plans for the MKULTRA plans was assassinated.

To this day this Espionage continues and I am a second generation victim of Atomic Testing of the Manhattan Project, and Espionage Agencies conspiring to hide their Espionage blunders and ever increasing Deep State terror most likely led out of a shadow government building 555 in Corus Christi and backed by such people as Hillary Clinton, one of the Kennedy family members, Colin Powell (his wife Elma Powell likely tied to the FOXP2 gene in Cape Cod and the Manhattan Project, and racial genome testing underway at that time.

I call this MKULTRA Birterism, Malcom X and Glorian Donegan the biological parents under Sidney Gottlieb of Barack Obama Jr, born to surrogate Evan Ban after an experimental IVF procedure.

Espionage murders and espionage acts against my mother and I, and our Mitochondria, are still under way and the goal of the destroyers of MKULTRA information (before the Church Committee could get them all) is the espionage coverup underway an it is using mass scale terror and illegal funding.

In Texas the CIA, US Military, and Gods works around the world have enormous support and stoppig this even in the courts has been a problem because of illegal interference with my court filings (conspiracy against my right to petition) and unrecused court officials like CIA tied B Janice Ellington have effectively blocked my suits allowing misrepresentation of me by benefiting agencies, etc.,

Why all of this and tied to me? Black Liberation or Liberation Theology and other movements later in the Vatican had even earlier roots in WII and trying to stop Hitler and the Nazis.

The Church, Christian interventionism involved acts like rescuing Von Trapp children (I will document Glorian Donegan "Dec 13 DNA" ovum art of that, and working with Spanish Illuminati and Nazis on the speech and Borderline Personality Didorder gene called FOXP2 led to "lab supplies" usage of that genome during the Manhattan Project DNA experimentation and part of that experimentation was created a Malcom X and Glorian Donegan biological child, fertilzed Feb 20 1961 and of a Nov 18 1961 Birth, Certificate on the 19th, creation of Vatican Sidney Gottlieb CIA FBI manufactured counter communist Barack Obama to be deployed into Indonesia by USAID, Peace Corps, newly founded SEALS (Sea Aair and Land) espionage teams.

These agencies ultimately killed JFK, someone, it seems the Catholic Mafia, George Hinky Jr., perhaps Dave Powers co-operating, close to both JFK and the Vatican, the Vatican concerned with Spain to Capetown genomics, and Hispanics as well, often carying gblack DNA.

While the JFK assassination keeping MKULTRA going worked for a while the progress in genetics and the tracing of FOXP2 now has created a Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency, the Human Brain Program, and espionage agency continuing serecy for what really happens in MKULTRA and the families coming out of secret studies of secret fertilization by NASA and likely Langely NASA search for genetic origins and meanings of life, but with much to cover up for the families involved tied to Cape Cod or Los Angles/Santa Monica, and genetic closeness concerns.

DARPA and MKULTRA. Family Secrets (Donegans) what I know and will prove to you. Also, 2B or Not 2b, to take the fight with the provacatuer and get arrested or in a fight again.

> The creation of the Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA) was authorized by President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1958 for the purpose of forming and executing research and development projects to expand the frontiers of technology and science, and able to reach far beyond immediate military requirements,[3] the two relevant acts being the Supplemental Military Construction Authorization (Air Force)[7] (Public Law 85-325) and Department of Defense Directive 5105.15, in February 1958.
>
> Its creation was directly attributed to the launching of Sputnik and to U.S. realization that the Soviet Union had developed the capacity to rapidly exploit military technology. Initial funding of ARPA was $520 million.[8] ARPA's first director, Roy Johnson, left a $160,000 management job at General Electric for an $18,000 job at ARPA.[9] Herbert York from Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory was hired as his scientific assistant.[10]

Much of DARPA was transferred into NASA and stopping the missile race by increasing global IQ and world development was an Illuminati goal of peace on Earth and in Space.

The result, in part, has been obsession with my genome, Glorian Donegans son.

The countries involved include Ethiopia and Australia, and the Free Masons of the DOD and DARPAs seeming greatest minds from around the world .

On the Birther issues is the "Obama dead pool" links in which said biological family and locations of said biologial Obama family seem to take hits (Kenya, Mexico) as well as those with CIA backed activity plant fake covers for Obama as Peace workers.

“Don’t take the fight” has been my motto, staying at home when I can. Yes, the can make it physically and or psychologically to be in public such as being in my path during covid9 or smelling too foul to exercise near.

You will see me work from this table at several upcoming points in the book.

↓ ↓ ↓ ↓ ↓ ↓ ↓ ← ← ← ← ← ← ← ← ← ← ← ← ← ← ← ← ←	Barack Obama Origins ↑ ↑ ↑ ↑ ↑
Barack Obama DNA Edward Paul Donegan under espionage Agent Provacatuer assaults	Glorian Donegan Most Likely Austria DNA via Windsors (paternal) Kutschera (Maternal) of WWII Europe, her life and Mitochrondria in flames.	Free Masons 1960s MENA Airport → → →→ →→ → →	Africa, Ethiopia, Australia, elsewhere is panted with Glorian DNA
		Free Masons 1960s MENA Airport

The Euclidian Birther Chart

Edward Paul Donegan greyed out because a Conspiracy Against His Rights (Under Color of Law and including Religious, Reproductive, and other fundamental rights) are included more in the next chapter “Government backed Assailants of Edward Donegan > is a person who commits or who acts to entice another person to commit an illegal or rash act or falsely implicate them in partaking in an illegal act, so as to ruin the reputation or entice legal action against the target or a group they belong to. They may target any group, such as a peaceful protest or demonstration, a union, a political party or a company.

An agent provocateur (French for “inciting agent”)

Exploitable females are planted near me on treadmills in front of me, walking in front of me, in other part of an apartment building such as a common area lawn, trespass on my property or field of hearing or vision in some way.

The are Shills, fake victims. I am coyly asked "were you just at the gym?" as someone pops his one hand that is a fist into the open palm of his other hand.

Confronted the person will say asking me about the gym was no allegation at all about me and that is correct. To others I am now linked to an accused impropriety at the gym I had been at as it is asserted peeping or other behavior is in my character.

I seem the culprit of the incident, and a racially hostile provocateur team near me will assert I took peeping photo, rubbed my crotch, etc., and later, that team of provocateurs will forge a confession of mine and distribute it to others with the compromising photo out of my control.

https://www.bibliotecapleyades.net/sociopolitica/sociopol_obama163.htm

On the continuing MKULTRA activity around the world by the Masons of Little Rock and the Christian Motorcycle Association is #Arkancide, #MENA Airport (Middle East North Africa) and Barry Seal TWA drug running, etc. and the “fountain of youth.”

Sep 02, 2015 · On Feb. 19, 1986, as Seal parked his car in front of the Salvation Army Community Treatment Center in Baton Rouge where he was serving a six-month probation on drug related charges, died.

http://www.akdart.com/body-c.html

As for FOXP2 like Caitlyn Mahoney, Edward Paul Donegna, Justina Pelletier, we are targeted and have hard times gettting out of CIA illegal programs and study, or “illegal animal husbandry” as State backed assailant provocateurs call it, because this gene and where it comes from and tracing the families would give away CIA, Vatican, and US Illuminati Family Secrets of so many powerful people.

You will see this chart of CIA connected family history as well in various locations in the book, perhaps at different update or emphasis levels.

Families

FOXP2 Gene Present Feb 20 Nov 18 Dec 13 360 DNA
Kutschera • Franz Kutschera Austrian Nazi who mostly had trade skills unle to Maria Kutschera • Agusta Kutschera, Brother of France • Maria Kutschera, daughter of Agusta, later married Captain Von Trapp, Maria Von Trapp after rescued from the abusive Nazi uncle
Windsor

- King George V who seems to have emotions trouble, later renamed as British Windsor
- Prince Edward Wales and other 15 or 17 FOXP2 London Family FOXP2 genes family

Kings Daughters [King Edward VIII, Maria Kutshera], Glorian Donegan and her perhaps geneologist sister Victoria Windsor

- Glorian, 1926 Dec 13th daughter of Maria Kutschera and Prince Edward of Wales
- Edward Donegan, FOXP2 gene

Mark and Scott Kelly Born Twins Born Mark Edward Kelly February 21, 1964, Judge Roll, Family Databasis, University of Arizona

Barack Obama Jr., secretly Glorian Donegan ovum used along with Malcom X fertilization, thus the Shabazz family and Obama children

Kennedy's, Shrivers, Lawfords, Schwarzeneggers, , Katherine Schwarzenegger Borderline Personality Disorder born Dec 13, Pelletiers, possibly both Albert Einstein and Adolph Hitler, most of all of whom are tied to Manhattan Beach and Cape Code Massachusetts, Mary Caitrin Mahoney

Then there are CIA like connected operatives, the Bushes, Pescott, HW, George, the Powells (Alma, General Powell, FCC Powell *, Gottliebs, others controlling this, Clinton, Free Masons, Dulles Brothers, Woosley etc. Herman Edward Butts, HEB, Ambassador to Australia 1961, Christian Hill Country Lodge, Joseph Kennedy, Ambassador England 1920s

The US Mothers of World Disaster CIA, DARPA, MKULTRA, Defense Intelligence Agency, Secret Service, FBI, The Bible,

Free Masons,

Thus the gene, or working with genetic forensics and study of the brain and even brain and race (Scalia, Roll) are deadly, as are investigating the CIA and brain research at Jonestown Guyanna or the Virgin Island Brain Foundation of Epstein.

Many “Far right wing conspiracy Theories” I myself rejected I have come to believe and even think I know more than anyone else about, such as a mysterious carpet van crash in Walnut Creek California near Moraga california, old carpet probably burning before it made it into land fill, from Moraga California where Glorian Dec 13 DNA and I lived for about 25 years.

And the dates of my fertilization, birth at Manhattan Beach, feb 20 nov 18, JFK present it seems at least by phone at both, and Dec 13, the brain and IQ world 360 DNA which will help foreign economies.

All of this leads in the destroyed files of the CIA and MKULTRA, racial genetics, racial testing, involuntary guinea pigs of the CIA and Illuminati, and family databases and Race and IQ under the law, Race and IQ and Autism in ongoing Illulminati work.

And then I assert a connection between Family Databases at Univerity of Arizona, Judge Roll assasination, Justice Scallia assasination, and Jahred Laughmber of Brain Research and DARPA ties to MKULTRA.

Twins Study

TWINS 1, DEC 13 Glorian DNA Mitochondria

Edward Donegan IQ Research and Obama, same mother Feburary 20 1961 IVF Danish politician, finance minister, professor in national economy, and futurist. OECC November 19 1961 Edward Donegan and Barack Obama newbors, around midnight

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
CERTIFICATION OF VITAL RECORD

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

STATE FILE NUMBER 61-351457

CERTIFICATE OF LIVE BIRTH
STATE OF CALIFORNIA—DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

LOCAL REGISTRATION DISTRICT NUMBER 7062
CERTIFICATE NUMBER 064704

THIS CHILD
1a. NAME OF CHILD: Edward
1b. MIDDLE NAME: Paul
1c. LAST NAME: Donegan
2. SEX: Male
3a. THIS BIRTH: SINGLE
3b. IF THIS BIRTH WAS ONE OF TWINS OR MORE, THIS CHILD WAS BORN 1ST, 2ND, 3RD
4. DATE OF BIRTH: November 18, 1961
5a. HOUR: 10:12 A.

PLACE OF BIRTH
5b. PLACE OF BIRTH—NAME OF HOSPITAL: Daniel Freeman Memorial Hospital
5c. CITY OR TOWN: Inglewood 1,
5d. COUNTY: Los Angeles
5e. STREET ADDRESS: 333 North Prairie Avenue

7159

MOTHER OF CHILD
6a. MAIDEN NAME OF MOTHER: Gloriam
6b. MIDDLE NAME:
6c. LAST NAME: Gainey
7. COLOR OR RACE OF MOTHER: White
8. AGE OF MOTHER: 33 YEARS
9. BIRTHPLACE: South Carolina
10. MAILING ADDRESS OF MOTHER

USUAL RESIDENCE OF MOTHER
11a. USUAL RESIDENCE OF MOTHER: 584 35th Street
11b. CITY OR TOWN: Manhattan Beach
11c. IF INSIDE CORPORATE LIMITS: CHECK HERE
11d. IF OUTSIDE CITY CORPORATE LIMITS: CHECK ONE: ON A FARM / NOT ON A FARM
11e. COUNTY: Los Angeles
11f. STATE: California

FATHER OF CHILD
12a. NAME OF FATHER: James
12b. MIDDLE NAME: Paul
12c. LAST NAME: Donegan
13. COLOR OR RACE OF FATHER: White
14. AGE OF FATHER: 34 YEARS
15. BIRTHPLACE: Massachusetts
16a. PRESENT OR LAST OCCUPATION: Pilot
16b. KIND OF INDUSTRY OR BUSINESS: Airlines

INFORMANT'S CERTIFICATION
I HAVE REVIEWED THE ABOVE STATED INFORMATION AND HAVE CAREFULLY STATED IT TO THE BEST OF MY KNOWLEDGE
17. PARENT OR OTHER INFORMANT—SIGNATURE: Gloriam Donegan
18. DATE SIGNED BY INFORMANT: November 19, 1961

ATTENDANT'S CERTIFICATION
I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT I ATTENDED THIS BIRTH AND THAT THE CHILD WAS BORN ALIVE AT THE HOUR, DATE AND PLACE STATED ABOVE
19a. PHYSICIAN: (Signature) (Degree) (Title)
19b. ADDRESS: Los Angeles

REGISTRAR'S CERTIFICATION
20. DATE ON WHICH NAME ADDED BY AMENDMENT: FEB 9
21. LOCAL REGISTRAR: R.H. Bellingham M.D.
22. DATE RECEIVED BY LOCAL REGISTRAR: DEC 1 1961

Centinela Freeman Regional Medical Center, Memorial Campus was a hospital that was located at 333 N. Prairie Ave, Inglewood, California, USA The hospital was founded by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet

AR6317-A. President John F. Kennedy Meets with Representatives of the Baptist World Alliance Accession Number AR6317-A Date(s) of Materials 2 February 1961 alleged marriage date of Barrack Obama Sr and his CIA white wife, is Feb 2_ aka Feb 20

The question of 022-46-3233 and 022-46-3235 possible switch out and SSA co-operation withe the Manhattan Beach Inglewood P-51 project tied 022-46-3234 reamin the greatest foundation, bedrock, of human CIA NSA FBI DARPA Columbia University story in history.

> This issue is also not scheduled to be discussed by the U.S. Supreme Court. Birther attorney Orly Taitz has proffered claims of forged IDs and stolen Social Security numbers as “evidence” in a number of lawsuits challenging Barack Obama’s eligibility for the presidency, and like all of her previous suits, Edward Noonan, et al v. Deborah Bowen was rejected by the U.S. Supreme Court.

---

relationship to 022-46-3235 or 022-46-3233?

The Modern American Revolution attorney who authored this is John Wayne’s daughter, also a Graduate of USC …

Jean Paul Ludwig or Barack Hussein Obama? SSN# 042-68-4425 An intensive investigation has revealed the identity of the man whose Social Security Number (SSN) is being used by President Obama: Jean Paul Ludwig, who was born in France in 1890,immigrated to the United States in 1924,and was assigned SSN 042-68-4425 (Obama’s current SSN) rec’d on or about March 1977.

Mr. Ludwig lived most of his adult life in Connecticut . Because of that, his SSN begins with the digits 042, which are among only a select few reserved for Connecticut residents.

Feb 2 marrage Barrack Obama Sr (m, f) to Dunham (f, m) = Barrack Obama Jr Nov 2 or so.
Dunham, 3 months pregnanat Feb 2 means August 2 birth 1961.
Barrack Obam Jr said to be born Aug 4 1961, Queen Mother's Bday.
Me from Feb 20 impregnation of Dec 13 Glorian Donegan bday me born Nov 18 1961
I think Barrack Obama was the birth certificate between 022-46-3233 and 02246-3235
I think and and Glorian Donegan DNA was used, an out of wedlock Kings Daughters
Windsors, with Kustcheras, and Barrack Obama Jr. is a "subject of the Queen"

ıan Regional Medical Center, Memoria

The Impregnation of Obama Shifted in Time 3 Months Earlier than in reality

Begin 9 Months Li (L) Timeline	[redacted]	It takes a Chicago Village
Uknown Nov 1960 fertilizatio claim Barack Obama Sr Madylin DUnham	[redacted]	August 1961 Hawaii alleged birth Barack Jr August 1961 Keny birth of Obama Jr.
022-46-3234	Chicago Church and Elemen ake on Barack Obama on behalf of Ke Trinity marks its beginning o 3, 1961 Trinity United Church of Christ is a predominantly African-American church with more than 8,500 members. It is located in the Washington Heights community on the South Side of Chicago
???	[redacted]	???

0L (OM offset -3)	9L
Links in QR Code Israel Insider says Mossad doubts Nov 1960 impregnati doubts that Surrogate was Dunahm, Mother and Father tied to Boeing and CIA, says Obama Sr killed by CIA in Kenya	Much doub about this and Hawai official dead in plane crash

Links to the above public data sources and references to them in the QR Code

At 0 Months FEb 1961 Barack Obama Sr Weds 3 mos pregant CIA Agent Madelyn Dunham, or he is fertilized on FEb 20 and 9 months later born. I call L the Lie timeline

Feb 20 1962 External Fertilization re-implant successful for 1 year, plant for April 1961 Futurism MKULTRA Rocketry November 22 1961 Birthday of experimental monkey at JFK Whitehorse

Arpil 1962 21st Century Expo JFK, Windsors, Futurism, Thomas C. Wales, Boeing, Missile and MKULTRA

November 1962 JFK Dec 12 1962 OECC and need for blacks of aid, the need PHDs

November 19

November 18 1963 Obama two years old, talking normally. Quite normally. Quite.

November 22 1963, JFK Dead, Irish Mafia Donegan's move 45 miles away from Hyanisport in Cape Code bay shore

TWINS 2, Dec 12 DNA

Feb 21 1964 Scott and Mark Kelly born. Same mother, same white father.

Dec 12, 2019 - Twins Study | Latest News, Videos and Images. FAQs. Twins Study | Omics Video Series and Poster. MORE STORIES. National Aeronautics

They do a lot of testing

Today

Tic Toc Tic Toc

Operation	Result
Snow Mountain	Edward Paul Doengan to Downtown Austin	Skid Row Gang Banger peeps as Ed at Ballpark West Downtown Austin	Austin and the Gang Banger
Snow Mountain	Snow Mountain
	Ed and Gang banger both hit Skid row Corpus Christi, Gang banger leaves. No opportunity zone for Ed who remains in useless Corpus Christi opportunity Gang Bangers Bird Dogging assert victim of Ed Donegan

Hostile Conservatorship of Ed Donegan Trust

Edward Paul Donegan can not break away from MKULTRA CIA Gangstalk, brain study, DNA animal husbandry, PsyOps, retardation firms he wants nothing to do with.

Tricking Dominas Twice and NIA of False ALlegations

Cops or snitches backed by cops have a ploy worked out.

Twice they will pretend (or their snitches) will pretend to me be me or ask others to use my identity for themselves.

1. When they photograph a witting or unwitting female vicitm

2. When they as a Domina to punish them, as me, for the picture alleged to have been taken by me.

The cops skidding their truck out near me or motorcycle near me “sells” that they seem to be on to me for something but won’t name it or make something else up.

Name: Sound and Fury

Roaring Engines, skidding tires, blocking windows, sirens going off emergency vehicles etc.

Information: As told to others (not me) some childish asshole took a picture of a victim.

Application: the Copl or Doppelgänger of me did take the picture. When the COpl or DOpl say to a domina “guess what ED DID” the domina will punish the cop, not me, for the rights to my DNA and use it for police backed causes, such as retarded children, themselves, their ministers or religions, etc.,

The cops tell me NOTHING is going on and no perps are in any area and no allegation exists against me or anyone else.

I believe as a matter of MKLULTRA history the Gov has a reason to beat me out to women and explain why it is my DNA has been signed over to others making me a “third parent” to their IVF test tube baby creations.

The Domina will be played, and told if she is a smart domina she will not speak to me about what was done, and that is how the BDSM should work, because a person left out is punished appropriately.

This system of beating me out to women I would have been near and protecting other women from my alleged despicable interests near them sabotages my own reproductivity and also allows MKULTRA Behavioral Sciences to black market continuing use of my genome through adult entertainers and surrogates without my permission, them faking my permission to Dominas who accept them as me.

Assassination and Murder

Black Nationalists and Illuminati, and NASA Langley and others cover up this history by making “the clones drop like flies” but the problem is the cover-up itself is outed by this book, which found the original crimes through researching the cover-up of Sidney Gottlieb CIA Science.

Gangstalk of Me in Which My GEnome APPEARS to be Authorized and I stigmatized, and it is Racial and Religious

In Furtherance of .. Rome Statute Violations and PCR Amplication and Manufacture of Reproductive Biology An Ovum or Sperm of a person can be created now be it Ovum (cloned) (btw it seems Antibody Cells can be cloned) Spermatozoa, etc.,

Taken to the black market, such reproductivity is for sale for “children” and can violate religous and other rights in illegal black market transfer of children.

It can also violate financial as well as human rights laws. Since the DNA can “cum” from anyone with a beaker full of it the sperm bank value of it can be used on the black market for babies by those other than those who really own the DNA.

Surrogate mothers will likely be used.

When I came to Golds Gym Corpus Christi I said one of the WORST moments of my life, one of the three, was a black man in a GOlds Gym staff shirt jumping in front of my workout music when the Western Goth Rockers sang “One Dance. One Family (of goths.)

He was pretentiously manufacturing a show that he and I were “family” to which I have insisted and have written about for years Goth merged Western society even Eastern Europe, with Europe as white, and this was good for Europe, and also the course of my life of being assaulted by blacks had led me to white supremacy.

In grocery stores and other locations including Golds Gym people say “I bought them as my pornography” thus they will be recipients of my “cum” or “money”: shots.

I have maintained that females are Rx to me, I am recipient of wrongful and inappropriate conduct towards me, even defamatory and abusive to me, as blacks say I owe them my babies for that.

Inside and outside of custody in the US a Legend has been built that I am retarded Tx, the moron an liker of blacks, who will have non white children and agrees to it.

That is Tx not me and that is a Doppelgänger long con set, not where I live.

I do not traffic in my DNA but grocers make it intoned that I do. Trying to use the blur of vaugness in property lines (which is 46, my only apartment I have anything to do with, and where are the common area and interior property lines, and who has legitimate access use of it for real repairs (not evidence plants) creat the blur as to who is trafficking, etc.

47 is NOT 46-46

In that blur is CIA and MKULTRA backed partially or wrongfully deceptively stated terms of human trafficking in bunko added to normal life.

The Schwartenegers, HEB, Christian and other histories families in MKULTRA have allowed their private entities to co-operate with the bunko of this but I have stated in clear terms I am not authorizing my DNA nor am I “Tx” nor do we have

“code words.”

In fact I did not even have the code book until about 8 years into obvijous intonation, so I could not have agreed to what was hidden from me, I have never been Tx, ever, who is who agrees to it, and I have been clear my reciept states the groceries I bought, and btw if they stick some penny item on or something I did not catch, it is still bunko.

While all of this violates the Rome Stature I think it needed by the CIA to create the perception I had agreed to all this in the past, when, in fact, I never had and do not agree to it now.

Not only has grocery buying been a part of the fraud, grocery theft has, as both those appearing to shop with me and those stealing groceries vital to my health make it seem we are doign things together when we are not.

“46-46” appear to be Tx who pays up or is arrested, or the location of “the provider” of the sigjht of a females, the black on my property photographs, and thus in doing so has “given sperm to her or the provider of her, the “statement to me” is on the pubic exterior of a door an egg is posted …hmm Easter.

Of course the unstated concealed (from me) meaning as egg has been presented to 46 from 46-46 to be fertilized by an event where children were photographed by someone else at the pool.

A fake me? He took the tot pics

The actual tot photographing perv (aka Tx or Zoom Photographer) who took poolside tot pics which allegedly led to me fertilizing 46-46 because of his act made my DNA due

This edition of Muhammad Speaks dated April 1962, has a front page caption that reads:

A white woman with a black baby …. at a Rally of 12000 Black People, in the front row, the picture then posted in Malcolm X's newspaper, Muhammad Speaks? Is something not wrong with this picture?

A photo in Muhammad Speaks places Stanley Ann Dunham and Baby Barack at Malcolm X's Nation Of Islam Annual Rally in Chicago, Illinois. Allegedly taken on 23 February 1962, the date is coincident with Stanley Ann's alleged enrollment at The University Of Washington in Seattle.

"More than 12,000 people on February 23 gathered in Chicago's International Amphitheater to hear Messenger Elijah Muhammad speak on The Future Of The American So-called Negroes."

Inside the newspaper, on page 18, Ann and baby Barack are placed just below, to the left of a photo of Malcolm X, with the caption "The Young Listened".

FROM THE MOUNTAIN PROPHECIES

BOOK TWELVE

CHAPTER FOURTY-EIGHT

BARACK HUSSEIN OBAMA IS THE ANTICHRIST

Coming out of Africa, through the European Illuminati, a subject of the Queen of England, backed by the Vatican, empowered through the Israeli Mossad, Communist/Marxist groomed!

>WAKE UP, OH YOU PEOPLE! THE HOUR OF GREAT JUDGEMENT IS UPON THIS NATION; AND UPON THE WHOLE WORLD!

EXTREMELY IMPORTANT

My Blessed Child, I am your Father Yahweh, yea Jehovah, Most High God! My Little One, hearken unto Me! Listen and write as I say, that all may be the wiser! For, a time of great trouble is upon the whole world! A time when nation shall rise up against nation, families against families, a time wherein one's greatest enemies may be in his own household! A time of great want, of famine, of global wars, pestilences, and diseases as never seen before! A time when very powerful families of great evil shall stand up against one another, with one out to destroy the other! A time when Satan does, indeed devour his own tail, that his head may be crowned! Oh, yes, you have seen such a thing, such an artwork with Satan devouring his own tail, and at the same time that he devours his own tail, a crown is put upon his head.

Now, My Little One, take note! Look through these glasses and through these new lenses, which I now put on your eyes; and tell Me what you see!

"My Father, I see black boots, like those of Hitler, shiny and new, but large, long and wide! And, for now, I only see the boots."

"But, look upward, My Child, what do you see?"

"My Father, I see that the boots belong to Barack Hussein Obama! And, also, my Father, I see that he is dressed as a Nazi! He is wearing a Nazi uniform and over his heart and on his left pocket is a Nazi emblem! He wears a green beret and on the left side of this beret, but near the middle of his forehead is another Nazi emblem. He carries a baton; and emblazoned on the end of it is also a Nazi emblem. Oh, my Father, this is not good!"

"Yes, my Child, through his calm demeanor, through his use of clever words, he has deceived the whole world! But, do not be deceived, My Little One! Now, when I change the lenses in these glasses, what do you see?"

"My Father, I see a bright candle! It is indeed very bright; and I can neither see past it or around it."

"No, you cannot, My Child, not now. But, as I put a shade on this candle, what do you see?"

"My Father, I see, of course, that the candle is dim, very dim, so dim that I no longer see it, but only see a very faint light; and where the candle was, I now see Barack Obama! And, I see, as well, that he has no light, but is full of many lying demons and seducing spirits, and out of his mouth come many blasphemous things! His every word is full of darkness and his teeth are like black posts. His countenance is also no longer that of Barack Obama, but that of a beastly image, who stands tall in the faint light! And, the appearance of this beast is vague to me; therefore, I am left without words to explain what I see; for I have never seen anything like it. His fingernails are long and curled! His toenails are long and curled and he paces up and down in the oval office, something like a caged animal! Oh, my Father, tell me about what I see."

"My Little One, all of the world shall wonder after what they perceive to be the light of the world! Nations shall wonder after a false light and nations shall heap praises upon a false light! And, many shall wonder after this light! Many shall thereby be deceived and shall fall and worship this false light, giving great honor to what is false! For, many are now longing for someone to come and to rescue them from the forces of great evil! They want a Saviour, but do not wish to bend a knee to the real Saviour, who is Jesus, My Son. For, they love the world and what is in it; and the Real Light of the World, they refuse! For, they do not wish to repent, but to continue on in their wicked ways! Therefore, they shall honor a false light and they shall call him the light of the world! And, many shall fall at his feet and shall worship him, when he is no man, but a beast, who appears to be a man!

And, through this very one, many, many shall fall the whole world over! And, many shall be deceived! For, they are looking for a man to rescue them from the evils of the world! And, this one shall rise and he will begin then to devour parts of Satan's Kingdom, to devour Satan's own tail, all in order that he may be crowned king of this world! For, when he is king of the world, Satan will indeed be king, if only for a short while.

Therefore, what you see now, with this man, who is not even yet inaugurated, is a great push to uproot long-held, Bush-Rockefeller-Clinton power bases in America, thereby removing their power from this nation, so that it falls more readily into the hands of the power elite in Europe and into the hands of the Israeli Mossad, and in to the hands of other nations.

To all of you, it may appear that he is doing a great work to destabilize the drug empire of the Bushes and Clintons, and to bring back to America, what these have stolen and robbed from this nation! Do not be deceived!

For, his great push to take these trillions and to sit over this great amount of wealth is being driven by the European Satanists in their bid to destroy America and also by the Vatican, the Israeli Mossad, and even others.

If his behavior seems unseemly for someone, who is not yet even inaugurated, it is because of the fact that he dances high for Satan, higher than all of the rest! And, he dances well for the European elite and for the Israeli Mossad, who put him in power.

It is a grave mistake indeed, that so many believe that he has at heart the interests of America. He does not! He is the final nail in the coffin of this great nation.

For, the real light of the world, you, as a nation, have overwhelmingly trampled! And, now, you have the false light, one who is really a beast in great disguise. The real Light, My Son, you have overwhelmingly rejected! But, this false light, you will overwhelmingly follow, and so will many, many the world over!"

"Oh, Father, this is even as I have felt in my spirit."

"Yes, My Little One, this is even as you have felt; for I have quickened your spirit to see beyond the facade and to see a man of obscurity arise to world power in such a short time. A man, who is no man at all, but a beast! And, the whole world will long after the beast! And, many will take the mark! And, they will fall and worship the Beast! None, whose names are in the Book of Life, will worship the beast, but of the rest, My Little One, vast numbers will take the mark! For, they will idolize this one, and they will believe in him! And, they will do as he says, for they are cut off from My Spirit! But, the wise will know who he is and the wise will teach many!

Now, you know, My Little One; and all will also know, who have the heart to receive! Barack Hussein Obama is Satan's number one ruler in the world! And, the high-level Satanists of other nations, along with his god Satan, are his driving force! And, he has but one goal for America and this is to bring you down, and to bring other nations down, even other ruling elite of Satan, who stand opposed to giving up their power. For, he will rise and exalt himself above all.

Be not deceived! For, now is the time for the rest of the Book of Revelation to be fulfilled! And, the time is at hand also, when Revelation 12 will also be completed and with it mighty blessings coming back for humanity! For, as the antichrist system rises, My Kingdom also rises in the Earth.

I am your Father Yahweh, yea Jehovah, Most High God.

As witnessed, dictated and recorded this 15th day of November, 2008,

Linda Newkirk

For a few days, my Dear Ones, I waited upon our Father; and I also longed to know more of this man! And, because of this longing, our Father gave another confirmation of who he is! And, it was during the time that our Saviour was speaking to me and giving me the following message that a Dear Brother called me early in the morning. Normally, I would not have answered the phone, but I felt the tug of the Spirit in my heart, that I should answer the call. This Dear Brother told me that he had run across an article, which detailed how Obama had been in Russia as early as 1992, and that even then, the word was that he would be senator! I have not yet had a chance to read this article, but even so, this was but another confirmation, which our Saviour wanted me to have as I was beginning to receive His words! Below, you will read His words, and you will also understand that the Nazi education of this man. Obama, is indeed deep.

SECOND MESSAGE

JESUS SPEAKS!

November 20, 2008

My Blessed Child, I am your Friend, I am your teacher, I am your Saviour, Jesus, Messiah of the World, and as you know Me and call Me, King of Kings and Lord of Lords.

My Blessed Child, you have received of our Father and of Me, a second confirmation of what you have been given as regards Barack Obama's being the Antichrist.

Obama Origins, the Brain, and Scalia and AI at Poindexter The Brain Project in Texas, Andy Ellington CIA DOD

Investigative journalist Wayne Madsen has discovered CIA files that document the agency's connections to institutions and individuals figuring prominently in the lives of Barack Obama and his mother, father, grandmother, and stepfather. The first part of his report highlights the connections between Barack Obama, Sr. and the CIA-sponsored operations in Kenya to counter rising Soviet and Chinese influence among student circles and, beyond, to create conditions obstructing the emergence of independent African leaders. http://knowledgecreatespower.blogspot.com/search …

Ed Donegan Although CIA geo-political covert operations at the University of Hawaii are well-documented, the agency's darker side of research and MK-UKTRA type operations has not generally been associated with the University of Hawaii. A series of formerly Confidential CIA memoranda, dated May 15, 1972, points to the involvement of both the Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA), the CIA, and the University of Hawaii in the CIA's behavioral science program. The memos are signed by then-Deputy Director of the CIA Bronson Tweedy, the chief of the Intelligence Community's Program Review Group (PRG) [name redacted], and CIA Director Richard Helms. The subject of the memos is "ARPA Supported Research Relating to Intelligence Product," The memo from the PRG chief discusses a conference held on May 11, 1972, attended by Lt. Col. Austin Kibler, ARPA's Director of Behavioral Research. Kibler was the chief for ARPA research into behavior modification and remote viewing. Others mentioned in the PRG chief's memo include CIA Deputy Director for Intelligence Edward Proctor, the CIA Deputy Director for Science and Technology Carl Duckett, and Director of the Office of National Estimates John Huizenga.

In 1973, after CIA Director James Schlesinger ordered a review of all CIA programs, the CIA developed a set of documents on various CIA programs collectively called the "Family Jewels." Most of these documents were released in 2007 but it was also revealed that Dr. Sidney Gottlieb, the CIA's director of MKULTRA, the agency's behavior modification, brainwashing, and drug testing component, had been ordered by Helms, before he resigned as CIA director, to be destroyed.

This book

Kings and Queens and An Explanation To All These Things

John Edgar Hoover (January 1, 1895 - May 2, 1972) was an American law-enforcement administrator who served as the final Director of the Bureau of Investigation (BOI) and the first Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). President Calvin Coolidge first appointed Hoover as director of the BOI, the predecessor to the FBI, in 1924. After 11 years in the post, Hoover became instrumental in founding the FBI in June 1935, where he remained as director for an additional 37 years until his death in May 1972 - serving a total of 48 years leading both the BOI and the FBI and under eight Presidents.

Ed Donegan assert J. Edgar Hoover had three historical periods of British aligned Secret Inteligence Service backed world plans. In the 1920's he (a Master Free Mason) was part of the plot to get 1925 impregnated Maria Kutschera (Nazi neice and singing coach to Capt Von Trapp and his children he had with Agatha Whitehead). Removing the Nazi unwilling Nazi propogandists from Austria while pregnant by a Windsor into the USA was the first phase. In the Cold War using Marilyn Monroe and Glorian Donegan as 1926 children for MKULTRA including creating Barrack Obama Jr. as a sleeper and the plan involved Malcom X as someone setup by early publicity as a possible father of secret identity Barrack Obama Jr. In the third phase the FBI killed JFK and covered it up on the decades since as the elite like the Bush family and others that were part of the OSS CIA and Vatican activities hid their acts.

J. Edgar Hoover (we must be careful about confusion with Herbert Hoover) became a Master Mason at 26. If we believe his later created 1/1895 guess at his birth that would be about 1921.

…

FREEMASONRY?

Degrees are initiation ceremonies that represent progressive steps to membership in the organization. There are three degrees conferred in the Masonic Lodge: Entered Apprentice, Fellow Craft, and Master Mason. They are loosely based upon the journeymen system, which was used to educate medieval stonemasons and craftsmen. In today's society, the word degree is used by colleges and universities to indicate completion of a course of study. In the lodge, the candidate must demonstrate his knowledge or proficiency of each degree before he can proceed to the next.

It is through these degrees that Masonry passes its teachings and principles from generation to generation. The degree ceremonies are intended to be sources of knowledge, inspiration, and pride for the candidate and the lodge members. Those ceremonies also serve as a shared experience that binds men to a closer brotherhood. A candidate receives the utmost respect during all three ceremonies, and he is never made to feel uncomfortable.

…

Blake Bowden Administrator Staff Member Sep 20, 2011

J. Edgar Hoover was a devoted Freemason, being raised a Master Mason on November 9, 1920, in Federal Lodge No. 1, Washington, DC, just two months before his 26th birthday. During his 52 years with the Masons, he received many medals, awards and decorations. Eventually in 1955, he was coroneted a Thirty-Third Degree Inspector General Honorary in the Southern Scottish Rite Jurisdiction. He was also awarded the Scottish Rite's highest recognition, the Grand Cross of Honour, in 1965.[45] Today a J. Edgar Hoover room exists within the House of the Temple. The room contains many of Hoover's personal papers and records.

…

Württemberg in the Early 20th Century

It now is part of Germany.

Mary of Tek the wife of King George V and parent of Edward VIII and George VI (Albert of York) was from Württemberg

The gene FOXP2 common in Austria area may have entered the Windsor family through Mary. At the very least the intermarriage and favors among the royals assisting each other was political intermarriage if not at the same time biological intermarriage.

…

and an FBI plot retrieved from https://www.theguardian.com/uk/2002/jun/29/research.monarchy and copied or modified to here

When the Duke of York Edward [abdicated 1939] and Duchess of Windsor Wallis SImpson sailed into Palm Beach, Florida, on the SS Berkshire from Nassau on April 18 1941 they were looking forward to enjoying three days of relaxation at the Everglades Club playing golf and drinking and gossiping with American high society.

Little did they know that the previous night instructions had gone out from President Roosevelt to FBI chief J Edgar Hoover to launch what was to be an extraordinary covert intelligence exercise that had to fool both the exiled royals and the US secret service agent who was guarding them.

The exercise was launched after the FBI had been passed intelligence that the duke and duchess were being used by the Nazis to obtain secrets which could wreck the allies' war effort. The US investigation became even more lurid when FBI agents interviewed a benedictine monk in a Franciscan monastery in the United States; Father Odo had once been the Duke of Wurttemberg, a minor German royal with connections to Queen Mary, the duke's mother, and her brother, the Duke of Athlone, then governor general of Canada.

.

Historical Note: King George V was paren to Edward of Wales King Edward VIII who abdicated. Albert of York the younger brother to Edward of Wales then became King Geroge VI taking the name of the father of the brothers. King George V was maried to Mary of Tek that being part of Wurttemberg.

He told them that a prime suspect in the investigation - Joachim von Ribbentrop, then the Nazis' foreign minister - had been the duchess's lover when he was ambassador to Britain in 1936. The minister was already thought to have been supplied with information by the duchess during the German invasion of France in 1940. Now it was suggested that there was far closer arrangement.

Father Odo told the agent: "He knew definitely that von Ribbentrop, while in England, sent the then Wallis Simpson 17 carnations every day. The 17 supposedly represented the number of times they had slept together."

He also revealed that the Duchess of Windsor had told guests at a Paris party that: "The duke is impotent and although he had tried sexual intercourse with numerous women they had been unsuccesful in satisfying his passions."

He went on: "The duchess in her own inimitable and unique manner has been the only woman who had been able to satisfactorily gratify the duke's sexual desires."

Exile

The duke was forced into exile after he abdicated as King Edward VIII in 1936. He first went with his lover, formerly the American divorcee Wallis Simpson, to France and was only later exiled again to Bahamas to keep him out of the way.

…

The key take away from me Edward Paul DOnegan is that these House of Masons feudal history families opposed Nazi German and its anti-monarchism.

In World War I, Carl Alexander Herzog von Württemberg (Father Odo OSB) fought on the Western Front in Italy. He resigned from the army at the rank of captain, following the German Revolution of 1918-1919, and within a few months became a postulant at the Abbey of St. Martin in Beuron. He entered the novitiate in 1920 as "Brother Odo", taking vows in February 1921. His father succeeded King Wilhelm II, a distant cousin, as head of the House of Württemberg in October of that same year. Brother Odo was ordained a priest in 1926.

Duke Carl Alexander of Württemberg retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Carl Alexander Herzog von Württemberg (Father Odo OSB) (12 March 1896 - 27 December 1964) was a member of the House of Württemberg who became a Benedictine monk.[1] During the Nazi and post-Nazi era, he provided aid to refugees, Jews, and prisoners of war and was reported to Nazi authorities for these activities. He acted as an informant of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and spied on Wallis Simpson, the lover and later wife of the former British king Edward VIII.

Carl was the third son of Albrecht, Duke of Württemberg who was the presumptive King of Württemberg. Albrecht, the Duke and Crown Prince of Württemberg (Albrecht Maria Alexander Philipp Joseph; 23 December 1865 - 31 October 1939) was the last heir presumptive to the Kingdom of Württemberg, a German military commander of World War I, and the head of the House of Württemberg from 1921 to his death.

Duke Albrecht (father of Carl) was born in Vienna as the eldest child of Duke Philipp of Württemberg and his wife Archduchess Maria Theresa of Austria

Excerpt from A PANORAMIC HISTORY OF THE FIRST AMENDMENT

REMARKS TO THE WESTERN NEW YORK LIBRARY RESOURCES COUNCIL By James Ostrowski March 22, 1995

https://mises.org/ko/profile/james-ostrowski

The Bill of Rights is best understood as the enactment of a philosophy of individual natural rights that dominated American political thought in the Eighteenth Century.

Natural rights philosophy emerged in the Seventeenth Century as an explanation of the proper function of government that was in sharp contrast to the philosophy that had prevailed in the Middle Ages.

During that time, Europe was ruled by kings who had acquired power basically by invading countries, defeating the natives in battle, and ruling them by force of arms. Kings soon found propaganda useful in subduing their subjects and there was no shortage of intellectuals who would curry favor with the king by announcing in obscure treatises that kings ruled by divine right and their authority was absolute.

Along about the Seventeenth Century, however, certain authors like John Locke offered an alternative explanation of the basis for political authority. Locke and others less famous argued that individuals possessed certain rights by virtue of their nature as rational human beings. They had the rights to life, liberty and property, for example. To secure these rights, governments were established, whose powers were delegated to them by the people for the limited purposes of maintaining order and protecting natural rights. While governments were to protect rights, these philosophers emphasized that the rights belonged to individuals by nature, and were not granted by the government.

The philosophy of natural rights [and quest for them and for self rule] was a powerful ideological weapon against kings and tyrants during the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries in England. During that time King Charles I lost his head and later kings lost much of their authority to an elected parliament.

…

ALbert of York and Edward of Windsor 1926. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DupyAkOZLYA

https://aim4truth.org/2021/06/12/proof-columbia-university-helped-british-saboteurs-and-american-traitors-takeover-america-in-1902/ From Michael McKibben and Douglas Gabriel

J. Pierpont ("J.P.") Morgan (1837-1913)PROTÉGÉ OF BRITISH LORDS ROTHSCHILD and BRITISH PILGRIMS SOCIETY HANDLER FOR OSS and CIA Founder General WILLIAM J. "Wild Bill" DONOVAN and FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT (1907) WHO ACQUIRED WEALTH UNDER SUSPICIOUS CICRCUMSTANCES IN 1890.

Our History (SIS Beginnings 1909 In the early 1900s, the British government was increasingly concerned about the threat to its Empire posed by Germany's imperial ambitions. This led to scare stories of German spies and even the Director of Military Operations was convinced that Germany was targeting Britain. These rumours proved to be overblown, but the Prime Minister, Herbert Asquith, reacted to popular concern. He ordered the Committee of Imperial Defence to look into the matter and they established a Secret Service Bureau in July 1909. https://www.sis.gov.uk/our-history.html

Captain Sir Mansfield George Smith-Cumming KCMG CB (1 April 1859[3] - 14 June 1923) was a British naval officer who served as the first chief of the Secret Intelligence Service (SIS) and died in office soon before he was to retire.

At the outbreak of WWI he was able to work with Vernon Kell and Sir Basil Thomson of the Special Branch to arrest twenty-two German spies in England. Eleven were executed, as was Sir Roger Casement, found guilty of treason in 1916. During the war, the offices were renamed. The Home Section became MI5 or Security Service, while Cumming's Foreign Section became MI6 or the Secret Intelligence Service. Agents who worked for MI6 during the war included Augustus Agar, Paul Dukes, John Buchan, Compton Mackenzie and W. Somerset Maugham.

Admiral Sir Hugh Francis Paget Sinclair, KCB (18 August 1873 - 4 November 1939), known as Quex Sinclair, was a British intelligence officer. He was Director of British Naval Intelligence between 1919 and 1921, and he subsequently helped to set up the Secret Intelligence Service (SIS, commonly MI6) and GCHQ.

Hugh Slinclair came Director of Naval Intelligence in February 1919 and Chief of the Submarine Service in 1921. He became the second director of SIS in 1923. He was promoted vice-admiral on 3 March 1926 and full admiral on 15 May 1930. Sinclair also founded GC&CS, later to be known as GCHQ in 1919.

Ties to Admiral Halsey and the Queen of Romania at that time

Was it Prince Albert's out of wedlock births of Norma Jean and Glorian Gainey headed to North Carolina to be born by Maria Kutschera of the Convent?

http://newwilliamcooperpatrioticsovereignpress.com/wp-content/uploads/2023/12/BannedFromConvent.jpg

In the German Language version of her musical based on her notes Maria Kutschera bits and apple ten seconds later slides down a bannister with her legs spread and lands dropping her bible on the floor as she falls in front the Nuns.

The forkhead box protein 2 (FOXP2) was the first gene to be implicated in a developmental disorder of speech and language (Lai et al. 2001). Identified as the “speech and language gene” by Drs Simon Fisher and Anthony Monaco following molecular studies of 15 individuals in the “KE family” [who live in London and match the number of Royals] who suffered from speech-language delays (Hurst et al. 1990), FOXP2 is now known to play an essential role in normal speech development. Located on Chromosome 7 (Fisher et al. 1998; Lai et al. 2000, 2001), FOXP2 is not only implicated in speech-language delays but also has a function in regulating a large number of downstream target genes associated with common forms of language impairment (Vernes et al. 2008). https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC4849846/

Fig. I - Rothschild-protégé banker J.P. Morgan became a trustee of Columbia University while William J. Donovan (1903•1907) was being groomed by numerous founders Of the British Pilgrims Society. By 1912, had purchased editorial control of all of America's major newspapers and in 1913 drove the formation of the Federal Reserve to be controlled by British banks aligned with the Pilgirms Society where Lord Rothchild was a co-founder with J.P. Morgan. L/R: William J. 'Wild Bill" Donovan, J. Pierpont ("J.P.") Morgan, Franklin D. Roosevelt, all British Pilgrims Society founding members.

Alleged C.I.A. founder William J. Donovan was a mere stooge for J.P. Morgan, Lord Rothschild and John D. Rockefeller who conspired with Columbia University to groom him (1903-07)

…

Wild Bill Donovan retrieved from The Spymaster Who Created the OSS and Modern American Espionage and copied or modified to here

By Douglas Waller · 2011

After three years of what amounted to prep school at Niagara, Father Egan convinced Donovan that the legal profession might be his calling (he certainly had the windpipes for the courtroom) and wrote him a glowing recommendation for Columbia College in New York City - which helped get hilu admitted in 1903 despite mediocre grades.

He continued to be an average student at Columbia, but the college gave him the opportunity to widen his intellectual horizon and explore ideas beyond Catholic dogma (though like Donovan, a large majority of his classmates professed to be conservative Republicans). At one point Donovan even questioned whether he wanted to remain in the Catholic Church and started attending services for other denominations and religions, including the Jewish faith, to check them out. He finally decided to stick with Catholicism.

Donovan was handsome, his dark brown hair brushed neatly to the side, his face angular but with soft features that showed manliness yet gentleness, and those captivating blue eyes. Young women found him irresistible and at Columbia Donovan began going out with them, gravitating toward girls with highbrow pedigrees. He dated Mary Harriman, a free spirit who attended nearby Barnard College and whose father was railroad tycoon Edward Henry Harriman. His most serious romance developed with Blanche Lopez, the stunningly beautiful daughter of Spanish aristocrats resettled in New York City, whom Donovan had met at a Catholic church near Columbia.

[Mary Harriman Rumsey (November 17, 1881 - December 18, 1934) was an American social activist and government official. She was the founder of The Junior League for the Promotion of Settlement Movements, later known as the Junior League of the City of New York of the Association of Junior Leagues International Inc, and served as Chair of the Consumer Advisory Board of the National Recovery Administration. Mary was the daughter of railroad magnate E.H. Harriman (Bunny) and sister to W. Averell Harriman, former New York State Governor and United States Diplomat. In 2015 she was posthumously inducted into the National Women's Hall of Fame.]

…

This is very important. It is in The George Bush Unauthorized Biography this period of time is when Geroge H.W. Bush and this very crowd including Averell Harriman are becoming the Military Industrial Complex and will remain so through their lives.

The Truth: C.I.A., NSA, FBI, DoD, DOS, SEC, Judiciary and multinational corporate intelligencers are American stooges controlled by the British Empire [and the Special Relationship.]

Columbia University recruited and groomed William J. Donovan at the inception of the British Pilgrims Society in 1902 to organize American intelligence as a reflected lizard of British intelligence.

Jun. 10, 2021 - On Jul. 16, 1902, the British Empire's top "Empire Builders" formed The British Pilgrims Society at the Carlton Hotel, London. They were Privy Councilors, admirals, generals, spies, virologist (Sir Henry Wellcome), Guglielmo Marconi (wireless), bankers (Lord Rothschild), industrialists, lawyers, aristocrats, politicians, publishers and newspapermen.

CECIL RHODES 5 July 1853 - 26 March 1902)

As in earlier centuries the late 19th Century was built on open colonial conquests by Redcoats or private armies backed by the Crown such as Cecil Rhodes led but the world was rebelling against this style including the Atlantic Revolutions in North America, Francel, and elsewhere and the rise of Natural Law libertarian philosophy of republics.

First Cabalist of British Imperialism. Cecil John Rhodes. was an English mining magnate and politician in southern Africa who served as Prime Minister of the Cape Colony from 1890 to 1896. On 13 March 1888, Rhodes and Rudd launched De Beers Consolidated Mines. He and his British South Africa Company founded the southern African territory of Rhodesia (now Zimbabwe and Zambia), which the company named after him in 1895. He also devoted much effort to realising his vision of a Cape to Cairo Railway through British territory. Rhodes set up the Rhodes Scholarship, which is funded by his estate. His monopoly of the world's diamond supply was sealed in 1890 through a strategic partnership with the London-based Diamond Syndicate. They agreed to control world supply to maintain high prices.[17][page needed][18][page needed] Rhodes supervised the working of his brother's claim and speculated on his behalf. Among his associates in the early days were John X. Merriman and Charles Rudd. Rudd later became his partner in the De Beers Mining Company and the Niger Oil Company.

Empire Builder Edward VII and his spouse Alexandria of Denmark reign 1901 to 1910

Edward VII (Albert Edward; 9 November 1841 - 6 May 1910) was King of the United Kingdom and the British Dominions, and Emperor of India, from 22 January 1901 (following Queen Victoria's death) until his death in 1910. Formed the Empire Builders.

Two children of them of note here for possible FOXP2. 1) George (son) and Duke of York becomes George V and and marries Mary of Tek. 2) Princess Victoria (daughter) and thus sister of George was essentially home schooled a free spirit and as guarded closely by parents and her brother George V

NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER (1862-1947)

Columbia University, Pilgrims Society, Carnegie Foundation, J.P. Morgan, Rockefeller devotee and fellow Cabalist

J. PIERPONT MORGAN (1837-1913)

Baron Rothschild UK protégé. Columbia Universtiy trustee. William J. Donovan groomer. Pilgrims

Society. Carnegie Foundation. Rockefeller devotee and fellow Cabalist.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt as Lord as Lord of the Admiralty 1913-1920 retrieved from FLASH: The Fordham Law Archive of Scholarship and History and copied or modified to here by Joseph Sweeney Fordham University School of Law

[For the purposes of Edward Donegan focus on this article keep in mind the advent of submarine warfare and the Von Trapp story and international law.]

President Franklin Delano Roosevelt (FDR) was a lawyer but not an Admiralty lawyer; nevertheless, his position as Assistant Secretary of the Navy for seven years and five months (during the First World War) made him "Lord of the Admiralty" and director of government policy affecting ocean transport and even military actions. FDR's service modernized the Navy and provided the experiences and confidence he continued to exude after he was crippled by Polio in 1921.

Our only four-term president guided the nation through its most serious financial collapse (1933-39) and the mightiest of world wars (1941-45). Standard biographies of FDR' agree on the importance of his Navy years in the development of his administrative and executive skills but none of them provide a close examination of the content and consequences of his maritime decisions. All consistently describe his supreme self-confidence and mistrust of experts as clues to his career in government. Assistant Secretary of the Navy was an office FDR sought for many reasons. His devotion to the Navy was life-long but more important was the fact that his distant relation, Theodore Roosevelt (TR), had held it on his way to the White House. While FDR and his wife called him Uncle Ted, he was truly Eleanor's uncle but only a fifth cousin, once removed to FDR. Nevertheless, despite their different political parties FDR always admired "Uncle Ted" even though he could not publicly endorse his aggressive foreign policies while part of the Wilson administration, and TR always encouraged FDR's career.

Theodore Roosevelt came from a New York City branch of the family. TR was an enthusiastic supporter of the Navy and author of The Naval War of 1812, which was published in 1882 shortly after his graduation from Harvard College. TR lectured at the Naval War College while in the Navy Department. As president, TR proudly expanded the Navy and sent the "Great White Fleet" [that also sounds much like the United Fruit Company Tourist ships Great White Fleet https://www.unitedfruit.org/gwf-notes.html] around the world from July 7, 1908 to February 22, 1909 to advertise the United States as a maritime power. Theodore Roosevelt had been Assistant Secretary of the Navy for eleven months at age 40, resigning to become a "Rough Rider" in the 1898 Spanish War.

Both TR and FDR were adherents of the "Big Navy" thinking of Admiral Alfred Thayer Mahan, as espoused at the Naval War College, Newport, RI. 4 Mahan's demands for a one-ocean Navy of overwhelming power, naval bases abroad, larger battleships, and a vigorous merchant marine would greatly influence the "Imperialists" of the Spanish American War in 1898 who added the Philippines, Guam, Puerto Rico and Hawaii to America's empire. FDR had a brief correspondence with Mahan and was anticipating discussions with him, but Mahan's sudden death in 1914 eliminated that possibility.

While Admiral Mahan's theories were viewed with suspicion and hostility by Pacifists and even American senior officers, they were enthusiastically adopted in London, Berlin and Tokyo and pushed to extremes in the construction of giant warships like HMS Dreadnought, which was launched by Great Britain in 1906 with ten monster 12 inch guns and capable of 21 knots. The result was an arms race to build the most expensive and dangerous ships afloat. Those concerned with naval policy were distracted by the arms race even as the nature of naval warfare changed completely with the introduction of the submarine. The First World War would be a war of submarines and their enemies, the destroyers.

I

FDR AND THE SEA FDR's middle name, Delano, tied him to a nautical legacy. His mother, Sara Delano (1854-1941), came from a family of New Bedford merchants and ship owners in the China trade to and from Hong Kong that had been a Massachusetts specialty since the beginning of the nineteenth century. Sara's father, Warren, had recouped family fortunes in the opium trade during our Civil War, then retired from business. He bought Algonac, an estate in New York's Hudson River Valley where Sara grew up except for two years in Hong Kong (1862-64). At Algonac, she met James Roosevelt, a wealthy widower known to her father from business and social clubs. Despite the difference in their ages (Sara was 26, James was 51) Sara was determined to marry James Roosevelt, ignoring her father's concerns about the age difference.

FDR's father, James Roosevelt6 came from a family of Dutch planters (Patroons), the fifth generation descendent of Nicholas Roosevelt (1658-1742) whose father, Claes, came from Holland to America in 1644. James was born on a Hudson River estate, Mount Hope.

He was sent to Union College in Schenectady, NY and received his A.B. in 1847. James attended Harvard Law School and received the LL.B. in 1851, then spent two years in a New York City law office before turning to a business career. James was an investor with his father, Isaac (1790-1863) in transport and coal mines (Consolidation Coal Co.), served as Vice President of a canal company (Delaware and Hudson) and President of the Southern Railroad Security Company (a railroad holding company). He acquired the 500 acres of "Springwood" at Hyde Park in 1865.

James married a distant cousin, Rebecca Howland, in 1853; she died in 1876. James met and married Sara Delano in 1880. (Sara was the same age as James' son, also James (1854-1927), but known as Rosy). James was devoted to his new family-their only child, Franklin was born January 31, 1882. James did not pursue active business after his new marriage and remained with Sara and FDR in Hyde Park or their annual trips to Europe and Campobell. However, by FDR's teen age years, James had become an invalid due to heart disease.

By 1913, FDR had crossed the Atlantic forty times (twenty round trips). His mother insisted on an annual trip to visit her sister in Paris and his father took thermal waters at Bad Nauheim. By the time he entered Groton School at age fourteen (1896) he had made sixteen crossings. The result of his ocean, coastal and river experiences made him a vigorous and daring sailor, and a fearless commander always ready to try unconventional procedures and uncharted waters. He read widely about the sea and "Uncle" Ted's "War of 1812" and tried to persuade his parents that he should go to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, but his father refused to consider any school but Harvard.

The Roosevelt extended family was also involved in trading enterprises requiring water transport. Nicholas Roosevelt, (1767- 1834) a New York City merchant, was known as "Steamboat Roosevelt." He became an associate of Robert Fulton in Hudson River steamboats in 1809; after more than ten years of his own experiments, he received a United States patent in 1814 for an improved paddle wheel, having operated his steamboat New Orleans from Pittsburgh to New Orleans from 1811. FDR's paternal great grandfather, John Aspinwall, was from a family of New York ship-owners involved in the California trade-the Pacific Mail Steamship Co., and later the Panama Railroad. (The Atlantic terminal of the Panama Canal, now Colon, was once Aspinwall, and FDR's last born child was named John Aspinwall Roosevelt (1916)).

...

William Frederick "Bull" Halsey Jr retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

[Ed Donegan asserts Halsey was called upon to do a favor for Uncle Albert aka Prince Albert to get Maria Kutschera to the USA to secretly give birth to Windsor fathered children. "Uncle Albert/Admiral Halsey" is a song by Paul and Linda McCartney from the album Ram. Released in the United States as a single on 2 August 1971, William Frederick "Bull" Halsey Jr. (October 30, 1882 - August 16, 1959) was an American Navy admiral during World War II. He is one of four officers to have attained the rank of five-star fleet admiral of the United States Navy, the others being William Leahy, Ernest King, and Chester W. Nimitz.

After waiting two years to receive an appointment to the United States Naval Academy, Halsey decided to study medicine at the University of Virginia and then join the Navy as a physician. He chose Virginia because his best friend, Karl Osterhause, was there. While there, Halsey joined the Delta Psi fraternity and was also a member of the secretive Seven Society. (As Frank Wisner was.)

Following graduation he spent his early service years in battleships, and sailed with the main battle fleet aboard the battleship USS Kansas as Teddy Roosevelt's Great White Fleet circumnavigated the globe from 1907 to 1909.

How did this affect Edward Donegan's thinking watching some British propaganda filled by Disney shortly after JFK's death? Mary Poppins I find Disney Propaganda about the Royals and their backers shifting from Military Conquest of Cecil Rhodes (Rhodes marching column into Rhodesia for example) to Financial Offensives (infiltration to gain control of media and corporations) along with Charm Offensives carried out through corporate outreaches and American media building up the British system of Knights and Feudal reigns later a thousand years (M Kingdoms in Roman Numerals - MKULTRA and the Special Relationship between the United Kingdom and USA.

Some background on myself (Edward Paul Donegan) is that I have researched Natural Law Philosophy and The Age of Reason and rise of Western Civilization most of my life including from a Republic of Ireland immigrant family of Boston Massachusetts with deep running contempt for blue-bloods.

I have known that republicanism (hierarchical representative government that functions for very large or small countries alike) including using Federalism that in affect makes small empires from some pluralistic rule as regions self govern within the limits of their own republican nations. This differs from familes of Aristocratic legacy, those with both wealth and title passed among them from generation to generation.

Today though we are not enough aware of it powerful elites continue control of our society with money and influence and illegal and covert anti-democratic mechanisms in a Deep State.

Picture of Lord Governer Barrack Obama Jr ruler of the Principality of the USA in Service to Her or His Majesty of England. So say some socialists and leftist like John Pilger and right wingers as well.

Truther Theory per Ed Donegan is that out of wedlock bastard children in Franklin Nebraska, Manhattan Beach City Los Angeles County (Edward Donegan included) Barrack Obama Jr. date back to hidden CIA and MI5 connections from early plans in WWI, WWII, and the Cold War to control "the devil's chessboard" with manufactured Princes to rule each square on it.

This was mostly an old money and Grand Old Party plan though the Sleepers are false-Democrat Party members and work for the Robber Barron NWO. William Burns is among them.

KING EDWARD VII PUBLISHED A POSTCARD ENTITLED "KING EDWARD & HIS EMPIRE BUILDERS: 11 OF THE 16 LIVING BRITS IDENTIFIED, 11 WERE FOUNDING MEMBERS OF THE PILGRIMS SOCIETY ON JUL. 16, 1902.

THOSE 11 "EMPIRE BUILDERS WERE ALL ORGANIZERS OF THE FIRST IMPERIAL PRESS CONFERENCE,JUN. 05-28, 1909 (LINK FOLLOWS). CURATOR, INDEPENDENT ANALYST- (u 1907).

KING EDWARD & HIS EMPIRE BUILDERS, POSTCARD, WITH CORRELATION BETWEEN PILGRIMS SOCIETY 1902 AND FIRST IMPERIAL PRESS CONFERENCE, 1909. NATIONAL PORTRAIT GALLERY, UK. BETWEEN JUN. 05-29, 1909

THE PILGRIMS SOCIETY ORGANIZED THE FIRST IMPERIAL PRESS CONFERENCE, 1909. THE KEYNOTE SPEAKER WAS LORD ROSEBERY (ROTHSCHILD). LORO L. WALTER ROTHSCHILD WAS THERE TOO.

By 1902, the British Pilgrims had evidently already singled out selected American "Robber barons" that they would recruit to their "Empire Building," many of whom were in Britain for the delayed coronation of Edward VII following the deaths of Queen Victoria and Cecil John Rhodes - their empire building prime mover. We will discuss their names below.

WANTED: PILGRIMS CEO FOR THE AMERICAN "BRANCH" (Council on Foreign Relations and Trilateral Commission [UK, USA, and Japan along with Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and others]) Among those Americans was a groom-in-process: Columbia University lawyer named William J. Donovan who would attend Columbia as an undergrad and law student (1903-1907). BRITISH PILGRIMS SOCIETY'S RHODES IMPERATIVE (CA. 1900): TAKE BACK AMERICA

…

The plan was business On Target with imperial exploitation (hegemony) of lands beyond England and media corporations On Message with friendly propaganda and planted story lines mocking the enemy.

Queen Victoria Reign 20 June 1837 - 22 January 1901 and who ruled with Cecil Rhodes precedes the events and change in strategy begun in 1902. Victoria married her first cousin, Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, in 1840. Their nine children married into royal and noble families across the continent, earning Victoria the sobriquet "grandmother of Europe". After Albert's death in 1861, Victoria plunged into deep mourning and avoided public appearances. As a result of her seclusion, British republicanism temporarily gained strength, but in the latter half of her reign, her popularity recovered. Her Golden and Diamond jubilees were times of public celebration. Victoria died in 1901 at Osborne House on the Isle of Wight, at the age of 81. The last British monarch of the House of Hanover, she was succeeded by her son Edward VII of the House of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha

Around 1871 with the the pressure force of is made and captured for use motors (motive force) in Steam Engine in trains and boats and metal works massive industrialization took place with Robber Barron financiers directly involved. You don't have to walk as far or buy a horse. The boat just goes across the water by itself from one location to another- EPD

Queen Victoria (Alexandrina Victoria; 24 May 1819 - 22 January 1901) was Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland from 20 June 1837 until her death in 1901. Her reign of 63 years and 216 days, which was longer than any of her predecessors, is known as the Victorian era. It was a period of industrial, political, scientific, and military change within the United Kingdom, and was marked by a great expansion of the British Empire. In 1876, the British Parliament voted to grant her the additional title of Empress of India.

Victoria married her first cousin, Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, in 1840.

In United States history, the Gilded Age is a term coined by Mark Twain and used to refer roughly to the period from 1865 to 1904, which occurred between the Reconstruction Era and the Progressive Era.

The early half of the Gilded Age roughly coincided with the middle portion of the Victorian Era in Britain and the Belle Époque in France.

It was a time of rapid economic growth, especially in the Northern and Western United States. As American wages grew much higher than those in Europe, especially for skilled workers, and industrialization demanded an increasing unskilled labor force, the period saw an influx of millions of European immigrants. Railroads were the major growth industry, with the factory system, mining, and finance increasing in importance. Immigration from Europe and the Eastern United States led to the rapid growth of the West based on farming, ranching, and mining.

The East India Company (EIC)[a] was an English, and later British, joint-stock company founded in 1600 and dissolved in 1874.

The company eventually came to rule large areas of India, exercising military power and assuming administrative functions. Company-ruled areas in India gradually expanded after the Battle of Plassey in 1757 and by 1858 most of modern India, Pakistan and Bangladesh was either ruled by the company or Princely states closely tied to it by treaty. Following the Indian Rebellion of 1857, the Government of India Act 1858 led to the British Crown assuming direct control of India in the form of the new British Raj.

Marc?Bidwell (Pseudonym) Reference?

Pictorial World, 22 January 1901

Date: 1901-1902

Caption: Imperialism and Civilised Rule in Rhodesia and elsewhere

https://www.npg.org.uk/collections/search/portrait/mw253760/King-Edward--His-Empire-Builders

'King Edward & His Empire Builders' © National Portrait Gallery, London published by Rotary Photographic Co Ltd postcard print, circa 1907

Marc?Bidwell (Pseudonym) Reference?

Caption: King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra of Denmark

Date: 1901-1902

Caption: Honeycombing the flies

Caption: King Edward VII, Empire Builders will

Caption: Nobility of the Prince and Princess of Caption: Wales and the British Queen in Africa

Caption: colonizing

[illegible] to [illegible] Edward VII.

Marriage (Prince Albert Victor)

Children (Prince Edward)

Reign 6 May 1910 - 20 January 1936

Marriage (Prince Albert)

Children (Princess Elizabeth, Princess Margaret)

Reign 11 December 1936 - 6 February 1952

Predecessor: George V and Edward VIII.

Successor: Elizabeth II

Prince Edward, Duke of Windsor, Prince of Wales (Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David; 23 June 1894 - 28 May 1972) was the eldest son of George V. He succeeded his father as King Emperor on 6 May 1910 and ruled the United Kingdom and the British Empire until his abdication on 11 December 1936 in order to marry the twice-divorced American socialite Wallis Simpson, a decision that caused a constitutional crisis in Britain and the Empire. Edward VIII was the only British monarch to abdicate voluntarily. He was then styled as the Duke of Windsor.

George VI (Albert Frederick Arthur George; 14 December 1895 - 6 February 1952) was the second son of George V. He succeeded his brother Edward VIII, who abdicated in 1936, and was the last Emperor of India and the last King of Ireland. He was also the last King of Great Britain and Ireland and the last King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. He was the first head of the Commonwealth of Nations, which replaced the British Empire, and the last British monarch to be born in the 19th century. He was the father of Queen Elizabeth II.

Prince Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David (born 23 June 1894) was the eldest son of George V. He was styled as Prince of Wales from 1911 to 1936 and was the heir apparent to the British throne and the Empire. He was also the heir apparent to the thrones of the Dominions of the British Empire, including the Canadian throne, the Australian throne, the New Zealand throne, the South African throne, the Irish Free State throne, and the Newfoundland throne. He was also the heir apparent to the Indian Emperor, the King of Ireland, the King of Scots, the King of Wales, the King of Cornwall, the King of Rothesay, the Duke of Cornwall, the Duke of Rothesay, the Duke of Saxony, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, the Duke of Brunswick, the Duke of Lunenburg, the Duke of Holstein, the Duke of Stormarn, the Duke of Dithmarschen, the Duke of Oldenburg, the Duke of Ditmarsh, the Duke of Gelderland, the Duke of Jülich, the Duke of Berg, the Duke of Cleve, the Duke of Mark, the Duke of Ravensberg, the Duke of Westphalia, the Duke of Angria, the Duke of Bouillon, the Duke of Aquitaine, the Duke of Normandy, the Duke of Brittany, the Duke of Lancaster

George V. The German boy who would become George VI was a sickly and fearful child prone to tears.[Borderline Personality Disorder and that kid as child had a similar face to Ed Donegan's]

Lionel Logue notes there are interior emotions correlations to speech while Elizabeth Angela Marguerite Bowes-Lyon later was wife of the King is Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother born August 4 demands it is simple bodily speech articulators (or written language bodily error causing Dysgraphia?) and nothing of a personality nature. There known offspring are part of Kingdoms and unknown offspring part of Eugenics studies living under hidden identities and born at the same time as Princess Elizabeth 1926 later Queen II.

George V Family life 1894 and 1895.

Marie, Queen of Romania (1863-1921) Raised in Coburg, where her father succeeded to the Duchy in 1893, Princess Marie of Edinburgh was seen as a prospective bride by Prince George of Wales, later he was King George V, but she was married instead to Ferdinand I, King of Romania.

King George V and Marie of Romania did have fond feelings at least through their lives. In 1924 Maria of Romania will go to the USA on August 4. In 1925 Prince Albert of York a son of George V will do poorly at the Imperialism speech he was to give. Ed Donegan assert in 1926 Maria Kutschera left the Convent in Austria pregnant and had Marilyn Monroe and Glorian Donegan. Albert of York may have been testing the bloodline in him outside of known family members. I think the Admiral Halsey song told this story of births in the USA a song by Paul McCartney

1924 is the time Admiral Halsey is in Vienna or Germany as an attache and FDR is Undersecretary of the Navy (who could get Halsey a command if he performed a favor for FDR and Joseph Kennedy. Bringing bastard children into the USA was that plan. The Hidden Identities Jen Moore assert to the Donegan family as an Allen Dulles plan that led to the assassination of JFK.

Male Children. Edward VIII (Edward of Wales 23 June 1894 - 28 May 1972) George VI (Albert of York 14 December 1895 - died 6 February 1952)

Marc Hopkins (Issue) in Reference?

Under King George V who was King 1910 to 1936 two males are among his children. Prince of Wales Edward he has little like for and more his favorite Prince Albert of York. He is less flashy than Edward of Wales and his what I Think is FOXP2 speech and grammar and borderline personality defect.

In 1895, Prince Albert Saxe-Coburg-Gotha was born to Victoria von Teck, Princess of Württemberg, and her husband George V. The German boy who would become George VI was a sickly and fearful child prone to tears. [Volatile emotions either way but the the joy in a male child normed to baseline usaully.] Incidentally, you can see how Queen Elizabeth married her third cousin, Philip Schleswig-Holstein-Sonderburg-Glücksburg, on the chart above. Those German-er, I mean English-royals are the product of a breeding program, just like the stuff the Nazis were into.

It is not a matter of blame though George V wife Mary of Tek may have introduced a common Central European gene FOXP2 of concern to the London family. Or even more along Alexandra of Denmark Edward of Edwards VII. Their wife of Edward VII.

The We[illegible]t of York (circled)

They have come from any of the German speech lines. I don't know and I don't think they did either.

Albert (younger brother) and Edward are sons of KING GEORGE V who is carrying on plans of Edward VII to charm the world into Colonialism again. Edward is briefly KING EDWARD VIII and abdicates to become Duke of Windsor in 1936 and marries a commoner.

Following the abdication of Edward VIII in 1936 George VI became King of the United Kingdom and the Dominions of the British Commonwealth from 11 December 1936 until his death on 6 February 1952. His daughter Princess Elizabeth becomes QEII and world plans are formed with the USA.

Princess Elizabeth a daughter of Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon (QEI) and King George V will become Queen Elizabeth II in 1952. Her mother Elizabeth was Queen by marriage to Albert of York aka George V. Some ascension rule made her Queen upon the death of her father King George V.

Now there is a question. What if the Windsor family who will rate around the world don't have the name Windsor at all and even more so don't even get selected and groomed unless they pass a series of tests in Orphanages. Then after that they are called to duty.

I think this was a key element of the Cold War plan for Indonesia in the late 1950's and in truth far earlier dating back to the 1920's and Marilyn Monroe.

Wife is Bowes-Lyon Queen Elizabeth (Born 4 August 1900 - 30 March 2002) Spouse George VI (who in the Kings Speech helps Prince Albert find a speech coach) (m. 1923; died 1952) was Queen Elizabeth I the QUEEN MOTHER of the United Kingdom and the Dominions

Elizabeth Angela Marguerite Bowes-Lyon

Mother is Queen Elizabeth (Born 4 August 1900 - 30 March 2002)

Sister of the Queen

Nowhere is a question. What if the Windsor family who will rate around the world don't have the name Windsor at all and even more so don't even get selected and groomed unless they pass a series of tests in Orphanages. Then after that they are called to duty.

Edward of Edwards VII. Wife of Edward VII.

I make a false speech lines. I don't know and I don't think they did either.

Princess Elizabeth a daughter of Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon (QEI) and King George V will become Queen Elizabeth II in 1952. Her mother Elizabeth was Queen by marriage to Albert of York aka George V. Some ascension rule made her Queen upon the death of her father King George V.

Albert (younger brother) and Edward are sons of KING GEORGE V who is carrying on plans of Edward VII to charm the world into Colonialism again. Edward is briefly KING EDWARD VIII and abdicates to become Duke of Windsor in 1936 and marries a commoner.

Following the abdication of Edward VIII in 1936 George VI became King of the United Kingdom and the Dominions of the British Commonwealth from 11 December 1936 until his death on 6 February 1952. His daughter Princess Elizabeth becomes QEII and world plans are formed with the USA.

Princess Elizabeth a daughter of Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon (QEI) and King George V will become Queen Elizabeth II in 1952. Her mother Elizabeth was Queen by marriage to Albert of York aka George V. Some ascension rule made her Queen upon the death of her father King George V.

Now there is a question. What if the Windsor family who will rate around the world don't have the name Windsor at all and even more so don't even get selected and groomed unless they pass a series of tests in Orphanages. Then after that they are called to duty.

I think this was a key element of the Cold War plan for Indonesia in the late 1950's and in truth far earlier dating back to the 1920's and Marilyn Monroe.

of the British Commonwealth from 11 December 1936 to 6 February 1952 as the wife of King George VI. She was concurrently the last Empress of India until the British Raj was dissolved in August 1947. After her husband died, she was officially known as Queen Elizabeth The Queen Mother,[2] to avoid confusion with her daughter, Queen Elizabeth II.

Ed Donegan asserts this is when a new decoding facility is built in England and the Special Relationship is reborn in the Cold War and ATSUGI gets started by the CIA and BRitish.

The British Throne Guided Age and forward and introduction to Marilyn Monroe Glorian Donegan Kennedy's and Bush and Obama JR theory

From the moment that Rhodes first wanted America back as a British colony, William J. Donovan's treasonous Pilgrims Society implemented Cecil Rhodes' imperative to make American British again. It was a central component of Rhodes' plan to build a new corporatism British federal empire that was shielded from liability for ALL their evil acts by the Monarch's Bank of England and the Crown Courts hiding in a one square mile named The City of London, also named The City of London Corporation (not to be mistaken for Greater London).

https://www.fbcoverup.com/docs/library/2020-06-26-JP-Morgan-Controls-Major-Newspaper-Editoril-Poilicy-While-Spoofing-and-Hoarding-Silver-and-Gold-AIM-AFI-Jun-26-2020.pdf and https://www.fbcoverup.com/docs/library/man-up-v-3.pdf

On 6 May 1910, Edward VII died, and George V became king. He wrote in his diary,

> I have lost my best friend and the best of fathers … I never had a [cross] word with him in my life. I am heart-broken and overwhelmed with grief but God will help me in my responsibilities and darling May will be my comfort as she has always been. May God give me strength and guidance in the heavy task which has fallen on me.

George objected to the anti-Catholic wording of the Accession Declaration that he would be required to make at the opening of his first parliament. He made it known that he would refuse to open parliament unless it was changed. As a result, the Accession Declaration Act 1910 shortened the declaration and removed the most offensive phrases.

Albert of York is about 29 or 30 in the mid 1920s and likely to have had trouble in schools requiring many tutors to keep his attention on studying, etc.,

The Theory and which unanswered questions fit facts no one can even believe https://newwilliamcooperpatrioticsovereignpress.com/kings-and-queens-and-an-explanation-to-all-this-things/

Norma Jean. Brought by Joseph Kennedy Sr. connected to Navy Undersecretary FDR in the 1920s into the USA. Glorian Donegan too, her as Glorian Gainey in Dean Rusk area North Carolina near Davidson College and underground railroads.

Long-term CIA involvement in both their lives even to this day.

John F. Kennedy through Joseph Kennedy became involved in sleepers around the world from the Special Relationship going back to 1902 and 1910 into the WWII and the COld War.

George Herbert Walker Bush, Prescott Bush, and others were part of the special relationship in CIA companies.

The planned with Malcolm X and Norma Jean help creating sleepers of Indonesia (Obama Jr) and maybe Cuba (as Ted Cruz Sr. was anti-communist working with Oswald too. Obama Sr. in Kenya was CIA backed and died suspiciously. So did Malcolm X and Noram Jean who (as with Dr King) knew of the CIA plan until they found out the evils of the CIA plans and activities.

That Ted Gunderson assigned to Marilyn Monroe AND the JFK murders knew something was up and became a target. Sobee maybe ties to this history too. The Donegan's are victims and how does Keith S. Labella fit this? That is my only unanswered question so far.

In 1919, Edward agreed to be president of the organising committee for the proposed British Empire Exhibition at Wembley Park, Middlesex. He wished the Exhibition to include “a great national sports ground”, and so played a part in the creation of Wembley Stadium. It was his brother Albert of York who in 1925 spoke to widespread criticism.

FDR ties and the Navy

Mother Sara Delano - Delano was described as 5'10" (178 cm), [4] and an intelligent debutante beauty in her youth. She was also known for her sense of purpose that many young women of her age and class lacked at the time. After the death of her husband in 1900, she temporarily moved to Boston, Massachusetts to be close to her son FDR who was then studying at Harvard University.

In the United States, members of the Delano family include U.S. presidents Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Ulysses S. Grant and Calvin Coolidge, astronaut Alan B. Shepard, and writer Laura Ingalls Wilder. Its progenitor is Philippe de Lannoy (1602-1681), a Pilgrim of Walloon descent, who arrived at Plymouth, Massachusetts, in the early 1620s. His descendants also include Eustachius De Lannoy (who played an important role in Indian History), Frederic Adrian Delano, Robert Redfield, and Paul Delano. Delano family forebears include the Pilgrims who chartered the Mayflower, seven of its passengers, and three signers of the Mayflower Compact.

After obtaining a law degree from Harvard University, FDR's father James Roosevelt I joined the law firm of Benjamin D. Silliman, the latter arranging Roosevelt serve on the founding board of directors to the company's client, the Consolidated Coal Company of Maryland. Doug Wead wrote that Roosevelt applied the skills he learned from watching the growth of this company to his own enterprise.

Jamwe Roosevelt's business interests were primarily in coal and transportation. He was vice president of the Delaware and Hudson Railway and president of the Southern Railway Security Company.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Franklin Delano Roosevelt was born on January 30, 1882, in the Hudson Valley town of Hyde Park, New York, to businessman James Roosevelt I and his second wife, Sara Ann Delano. His parents, who were sixth cousins, came from wealthy, established New York families - the Roosevelts, the Aspinwalls and the Delanos, respectively.

William Henry Aspinwall (December 16, 1807 - January 18, 1875)[1] was a prominent American businessman who was a partner in the merchant firm of Howland & Aspinwall and was a co-founder of both the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and Panama Canal Railway companies which revolutionized the migration of goods and people to the Western coast of the United States.

Aspinwall was descended from, and related to, many prominent American families including the Roosevelts, Howlands, and Aspinwalls, that were heavily involved in the merchant trade business and politics, wielding vast power and ensuring wealth for generations.

William Henry Aspinwall was born on December 16, 1807, in Manhattan, New York. He was the third of seven children born to John Aspinwall (1774-1847) and Susan Howland (1779-1852). His father, who traveled extensively,[4] was associated with the dry goods merchant firm of Gilbert & Aspinwall His younger sister, Mary Rebecca Aspinwall (1809-1886) was married to Isaac Roosevelt, the grandfather of U.S. President Franklin D. Roosevelt. His maternal aunt, Harriet Howland, was the third wife of Isaac's father, New York State Assemblyman James Roosevelt.

FDR's father, James, graduated from Harvard Law School in 1851 but chose not to practice law after receiving an inheritance from his grandfather.

A member of the Delano family and Roosevelt family, after attending university, Roosevelt began to practice law in New York City. He was elected a member of the New York State Senate from 1911 to 1913 and was then the assistant secretary of the Navy under President Woodrow Wilson during World War I. FDR In office as March 17, 1913 - August 26, 1920 Undersecretary of the Navy. The Delano family patriarch, Philip Delano, traveled to the New World on the Fortune in 1621, and the Delanos thrived as merchants and shipbuilders in Massachusetts.

Theodore Roosevelt Jr. 26th President of the United States often referred to as Teddy in office September 14, 1901 - March 4, 1909.

In 1908, FDR took a job with the prestigious law firm of Carter Ledyard & Milburn, working in the firm's admiralty law division and in FDR Assistant Secretary of the Navy (old job of Teddy Rosevelt) FDR Undersecratary of Navy office March 17, 1913 - August 26, 1920.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt , commonly known as FDR died in office in 1945 just asn then Atomic Bomb was about to be dropped. 32nd President of the United States In office March 4, 1933 - April 12, 1945 He was succeeded by Truman also a Democrat.

Lee Harveyu Oswald How Lee Harvey Oswald is a Closer Cousin to Teddy Roosevelt than FDR Posted by HISTORYMONOCLE on APRIL 14, 2016

Teddy Roosevelt President of the New York City Board of Police Commissioners In office May 6, 1895 - April 19, 1897. 5th Assistant Secretary of the Navy In office April 19, 1897 - May 10, 1898 by President William McKinley. 25th Vice President of the United States under McKinley. In office March 4, 1901 - September 14, 1901. 26th President of the United States In office September 14, 1901 - March 4, 1909 following assaination of McKinley.

FDR entered Columbia Law School in 1904 but dropped out in 1907 after passing the New York Bar Examination. In 1908, he took a job with the prestigious law firm of Carter Ledyard & Milburn, working in the firm's admiralty law division.

In 1900 FDR's father dies. In 1901 President William McKinney is shot (and dies) at the Pan American Conference and Teddy Roosevelt his V.P becomes President of the USA.

FDR graduated from Harvard in three years in 1903 with an A.B. in history. He remained there for a fourth year, taking graduate courses.

FDR entered Columbia Law School in 1904 but dropped out in 1907 after passing the New York Bar Examination. In 1908, he took a job with the prestigious law firm of Carter Ledyard & Milburn, working in the firm's admiralty law division.

FDR Assistant Secretary of the Navy In office March 17, 1913 - August 26, 1920, Member of the New York State Senate from the 26th district In office January 1, 1911 - March 17, 1913

During his second year of college, Roosevelt met and proposed to Boston heiress Alice Sohier, who turned him down. Franklin then began courting his childhood acquaintance and fifth cousin once removed, Eleanor Roosevelt, a niece of Theodore Roosevelt. In 1903, Franklin proposed to Eleanor. Following resistance from Roosevelt's mother, Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt were married on March 17, 1905. Eleanor's father, Elliott, was deceased; Theodore, who was then president, gave away the bride.

…

Despite sharing the same surname, Theodore Roosevelt and Franklin D. Roosevelt are not really that closely related. Many of you may know that FDR’s wife, Eleanor, was both a Roosevelt by birth and the niece of Teddy Roosevelt. When FDR and Eleanor married, Teddy Roosevelt said something to the effect, “It’s a good thing to keep the name in the family!” What some of you may not know is that JFK’s presumed killer, Lee Harvey Oswald, is actually more closely related to TR than cousin FDR is to the older president.

This may perplex some, partially because the Marxist Oswald is a Southerner and TR is identified with New York. What a lot people don’t know is that TR’s mother was born in Georgia from a leading Georgian family: the Bullochs. Archibald Bulloch, the great-grandfather of TR’s mom, was a governor of Georgia. From his mother’s side, TR is the great-great grandson of Joseph Oswald of Georgia, who died about 1785. This is the common ancestor of TR (and Eleanor) and Lee Harvey Oswald. TR and Eleanor came from a daughter of Joseph Oswald, while Lee Harvey Oswald came from a son, Thomas Hepworth Oswald.

While TR is the 2x great grandson of Joseph Oswald, Lee Harvey Oswald is the 3x great grandchild of Joseph Oswald. This makes them 3rd cousins, 1 time removed. https://historymonocle.com/2016/04/14/how-lee-harvey-oswald-is-a-closer-cousin-to-teddy-roosevelt-than-fdr/

Franklin Delano Roosevelt was born on January 30, 1882, in the Hudson Valley town of Hyde Park, New York, to businessman James Roosevelt I and his second wife, Sara Ann Delano. His parents, who were sixth cousins, came from wealthy, established New York families - the Roosevelts, the Aspinwalls and the Delanos, respectively.

Early life and marriage

Childhood

As a child, Roosevelt learned to ride, shoot, and sail, and play polo, tennis, and golf. Frequent trips to Europe - beginning at age two and from age seven to fifteen - helped Roosevelt become conversant in German and French. Except for attending public school in Germany at age nine, Roosevelt was homeschooled by tutors until age 14. He then attended Groton School, an Episcopal boarding school in Groton, Massachusetts.

Roosevelt's father died in 1900, causing him great distress. The following year, Roosevelt's fifth cousin Theodore Roosevelt became President of the United States. Theodore's vigorous leadership style and reforming zeal made him Franklin's role model and hero. He graduated from Harvard in three years in 1903 with an A.B. in history. He remained there for a fourth year, taking graduate courses.

Roosevelt entered Columbia Law School in 1904 but dropped out in 1907 after passing the New York Bar Examination. In 1908, he took a job with the prestigious law firm of Carter Ledyard & Milburn, working in the firm's admiralty law division.

In the summer of 1902, Anna Eleanor Roosevelt encountered her father's fifth cousin, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, on a train to Tivoli, New York. The two began a secret correspondence and romance, and became engaged on November 22, 1903. Franklin's mother, Sara Ann Delano, opposed the union and made him promise that the engagement would not be officially announced for a year.

"I know what pain I must have caused you," while in West Virginia FDR wrote to his mother of his decision. However, he added, "I know my own mind, and known it for a long time, and know that I could never think otherwise." Sara took her son on a Caribbean cruise in 1904, hoping that a separation would squelch the romance, but Franklin remained determined. The wedding date was set to accommodate President Theodore Roosevelt, who was scheduled to be in New York City for the St. Patrick's Day parade, and who agreed to give the bride away.

Frank Gardiner Wisner retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Frank Wisner was educated at the University of Virginia, where he received both a B.A. and a LL.B. degree.[1] He was also tapped for the Seven Society.[2] After graduating from the University of Virginia School of Law in 1934,[3] Wisner began working as a Wall Street lawyer for Carter, Ledyard & Milburn.

Navy and OSS career- In 1941, six months before the attack on Pearl Harbor, he enlisted in the United States Navy. He worked in the Navy's censor's office until he managed to transfer to the Office of Strategic Services (OSS) in 1943. He was first stationed in Cairo where he spent an uneventful year. After Cairo (from June 15, 1944) he spent three months in OSS Istanbul, Turkey, as head of SI (Secret Intelligence) branch. On August 29, 1944, Lt. Comdr. Wisner and 21 OSS agents landed in Romania,[5] where he became head of OSS Bucharest.

Wisner arrived just as Romania joined the Allies and declared war on the Axis. His first task was to oversee the return of over 1,000 American airmen who had been shot down in missions against Romanian oilfields. The POWs were returned by the Fifteenth Air Force via the Popești-Leordeni Airfield during Operation Reunion.[8] Over 50 B-17 Flying Fortress airplanes flew out the prisoners between 31 August and 3 September. In all, some 1,127 American POWs were transported.

Immediately after the arrival of Major Robert Bishop (September 9, 1944) as head of X-2 (Counter Espionage) branch in Bucharest, Wisner started the search for German records. With the help of Romanian Intelligence, they manage to obtain tons of records, including SD files, 200 rolls of German film and a large amount of Soviet information. During that time, Wisner and Bishop discovered and penetrated a Soviet intelligence service named GUGBEZ. Wisner left Bucharest Romania in the last week of January 1945.

In March 1945, Wisner was transferred to Wiesbaden, Germany. In 1945-1946, he returned to law practice at Carter, Ledyard & Milbrun.

Wisner was recruited in 1947 by Dean Acheson to join the State Department to become the Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Occupied Areas. On June 18, 1948, the United States National Security Council approved NSC 10/2 which created the Office of Special Projects.[12] On September 1, 1948, the office was formally established, although it was renamed to the Office of Policy Coordination (OPC) for obfuscation purposes.[13] Wisner was chosen to lead the OPC in the capacity of Assistant Director for Policy Coordination (ADPC).[14] The OPC initially received services from the CIA but was accountable to the State Department.[15]

According to its secret charter, the OPC's responsibilities include "propaganda, economic warfare, preventive direct action, including sabotage, antisabotage, demolition and evacuation procedures; subversion against hostile states, including assistance to underground resistance groups, guerrillas and refugee liberation groups, and support of indigenous anti-communist elements in threatened countries of the free world."

During the early 1950s, Wisner was the subject of FBI inquiries in connection with his wartime work in Romania, including the claim that he had an affair with Tanda Caradja, daughter of Romanian princess Catherine Caradja during the war; Caradja was alleged in FBI reports to be a Soviet agent. However, Wisner was cleared of all suspicions by the CIA Office of Security.

On August 23, 1951, Wisner succeeded Allen W. Dulles and became the second Deputy Director of Plans, with Richard Helms as his chief of operations. In this position, he was instrumental in supporting pro-American forces that toppled Mohammed Mossadegh in Iran in 1953[citation needed] and Jacobo Arbenz Guzmán in Guatemala in 1954.

Wisner worked closely with Kim Philby, the British agent who was also a Soviet spy.

Wisner was also deeply involved in establishing the Lockheed U-2 spy plane program run by Richard M. Bissell Jr.

Wisner suffered a serious breakdown in September 1958. He was diagnosed as manic depressive and received electroshock therapy. Bissell replaced Wisner as Deputy Director of Plans. After a lengthy recovery, Wisner became chief of the CIA's London Station.

In 1961, Wisner was ordered to organize CIA activities in British Guiana.

In 1962, Wisner retired from the CIA.[citation needed]

British Guiana
1831-1966 is a country in South America south of Venezuela along the eastard opening mouth of the Caribbean

Motto: Damus petimusque vicissim (Latin) "We give and take in return"

Anthem: God Save the King (1831-1837; 1901-1952)
God Save the Queen (1837-1901; 1952-1966)
Duration: 1 minute and 4 seconds 1:04

Status	British colony
Capital	Georgetown
Common languages	Official English Vernacular language Guyanese Creole show Native languages show Other languages
Government	Colony
Monarch
• 183	William IV
• 183	Victoria
• 190	Edward VII
• 191	George V
• 1	Edward VIII
• 193	George VI
• 195	Elizabeth II
Legislature	Legislative council
Historical era	New Imperialism
• Singl	21 July 1831
• New co	1928
• Inder	26 May 1966
Area
1924	231,800 km^2 (89,500 sq mi)
Population

• 1	307,391
Currency	Spanish dollar (to 1876) British Guiana dollar (to 1940s) British West Indies dollar (1949-65) East Caribbean dollar (1965-66)
ISO 3166 code	GY
Preceded by	Succeeded by
Today part of	Guyana

Carter Ledyard & Milburn retrieved from https://www.clm.com/firm/a-brief-history/ and copied or modified to here

A Brief History (including FDR and Frank Wisner)

James C. Carter pcitured from Collection Harvard Club of New York City

The founding partners were distinguished attorneys with well-known clients who made valuable contributions to the profession and the City of New York. James C. Carter argued three dozen cases before the U.S. Supreme Court and was a member of the legal team that successfully sued the politician William “Boss” Tweed for corruption and graft. He was called “possibly the most famous lawyer in the country” and “perhaps the most respected appellate advocate in the nation” at the turn of the 20th century. Lewis Cass Ledyard was personal counsel to J.P. Morgan and a founder and President of the New York Public Library, and John G. Milburn was a law clerk to Grover Cleveland and Supreme Court counsel for John D. Rockefeller's Standard Oil.

Since 1904, when Carter Ledyard & Milburn had only five lawyers, the firm has steadily built its practice. Today, the firm has about 100 lawyers spanning a broad range of practice areas, including many facets of litigation, corporate law, trusts & estates, real estate, intellectual property, tax law and non-profit/tax-exempt organizations. A full list of the firm's practice areas is available here.

In addition to its founding partners, Carter Ledyard & Milburn boasts many notable alumni, including: Franklin Delano Roosevelt (32nd President of the United States), Edmund L. Baylies (a well-known New York lawyer and philanthropist), John Teele Pratt (a corporate attorney, philanthropist, financier and music impresario), Devereux Milburn (an accomplished attorney who won ground-breaking cases before the U.S. Supreme Court involving the rules for class action lawsuits and the contract clause of the U.S. Constitution as well as one of the best polo players America has produced), Grenville Clark (a Nobel Peace Prize nominee and co-author of the book "World Peace Through World Law"), William Harding Jackson (National Security Advisor to President Dwight D. Eisenhower), Frank Wisner (Head of the Office of Strategic Services operations in Southeastern Europe at the end of World War II and 2nd Deputy Director of Plans in charge of covert paramilitary and counterintelligence operations for the CIA under President Truman), Peter H. Dominick (U.S. Senator for the State of Colorado), Renato Beghe (U.S. Tax Court Judge, appointed by President George H.W. Bush), John M. Walker, Jr. (Chief Judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, appointed by President George H.W. Bush) and Margo K. Brodie (U.S. District Court Chief Judge for the Eastern District of New York, appointed by President Barack Obama and the first Afro-Caribbean-born federal judge in the United States).

The Great Treason X, Pillory, Ted Gunderson Bio, Written By The Right Hand, Majic 12 and the Secret Government

This book https://archive.org/download/genoracketeering_202001/GreatTreason.epub

Cabal Structure and Social Control

An open letter to the Future of Freedom Foundation on Egalitarianism and Assassinations

When we think and discuss Egalitarianism we think most likely in political philosophy as though John Stuart Mill contemplating the individual and the State and classes of citizens or the rights of citizens or the individual and society and society's role with the individual and vice versa.

It very often comparative discussions occur as to racial groups and equality or income equality and members of a society and whether income should be normed to each individual's own productivity or to a norm among individuals.

Yet the JFK assassination and CIA assassinations in general remind us of other uses of the concept of egalitarianism that in high tech form would be the properties of an object. The object could be a group such as one race or another or white collar or blue collar workers or labor union members or non-union members.

Frequently fairness in income and in opportunity are in the forefront of discussions.,

Yet there is another object to be considered (as is also done in political philosophy) and that is the Individual Each of us individuals have our own multiple "aspects" that make up our whole.

Though JFK and LBJ were from the same party and similar in many ways each individual varied from in some aspects. Most notably Vietnam War policy choices varied between them but many other issues divided them as well.

I continue to believe the Regime Changer plans during the Cold War and the military industrial complex never fully disassembled from WWI or WWII took on a life of its own and by criminal means still services and even thrives today.

It is likely today a NeoCon outlook on world planning is now held by both main parties and in fulfillment of those plans we are still governed by the illegal means JKF began to rebel against and is still in place.,

While parties do differ in some aspects they likely vary little in other regards especially in embracing illegal conduct and covert activities including assassinations and preemptions, etc.,

Dear Mr. Vernon, we accept the fact that we had to sacrifice a whole Saturday in detention for whatever it was we did wrong. But we think you're crazy for making us write an essay telling you who we think we are. You see us as you want to see us … In the simplest terms, in the most convenient definitions. But what we found out is that each one of us is a brain, and an athlete, and a basket case, a princess, and a criminal … Does that answer your question? Sincerely yours, the Breakfast Club.

Regime change does work. Overthrow can be achieved. It is likely we are far less free today than we think we are.

That one member of the Democrat party took over for JFK meant very little since JFK and LBJ differed so much. This can be applied to journalists and many others who are replaced but replaced by differing individuals who themselves very from the previous position holder.

…

COINTELPRO retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

One thing to know about Neuces Texas DA Mark Gonzales is he is a known gang member recusing himelf from his own gangs murder cases and anti white pro hipanic immigrant politics

Program revealed

The building broken into by the Citizen's Commission to Investigate the FBI, at One Veterans Square, Media, Pennsylvania

The program was secret until 1971, when the Citizens' Commission to Investigate the FBI burgled an FBI field office in Media, Pennsylvania, took several dossiers, and exposed the program by passing this material to news agencies. The boxing match known as the Fight of the Century between Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier in March 1971 provided cover for the activist group to successfully pull off the burglary. Muhammad Ali was a COINTELPRO target because he had joined the Nation of Islam and the anti-war movement.

Many news organizations initially refused to immediately publish the information, with the notable exception of The Washington Post. After affirming the reliability of the documents, it published them on the front page (in defiance of the Attorney General's request), prompting other organizations to follow suit. Within the year, Director J. Edgar Hoover declared that the centralized COINTELPRO was over, and that all future counterintelligence operations would be handled case by case.

Additional documents were revealed in the course of separate lawsuits filed against the FBI by NBC correspondent Carl Stern, the Socialist Workers Party, and a number of other groups. In 1976 the Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities of the United States Senate, commonly referred to as the "Church Committee" after its chairman, Senator Frank Church (D-Idaho), launched a major investigation of the FBI and COINTELPRO. Many released documents have been partly or entirely redacted.

The Final Report of the Select Committee castigated the conduct of the intelligence community in its domestic operations (including COINTELPRO) in no uncertain terms:

> The Committee finds that the domestic activities of the intelligence community at times violated specific statutory prohibitions and infringed the constitutional rights of American citizens. The legal questions involved in intelligence programs were often not considered. On other occasions, they > were intentionally disregarded in the belief that because the programs served the "national security" the law did not apply. While intelligence officers on occasion failed to disclose to their superiors programs which were illegal or of questionable legality, the Committee finds that the most serious breaches of duty were those of senior officials, who were responsible for controlling intelligence activities and generally failed to assure compliance with the law.[1] Many of the techniques used would be intolerable in a democratic society even if all of the targets had been involved in violent activity, but COINTELPRO went far beyond that … the Bureau conducted a sophisticated vigilante operation aimed squarely at preventing the exercise of First Amendment rights of speech and association, on the theory that preventing the growth of dangerous groups and the propagation of dangerous ideas would protect the national security and deter violence.

The Church Committee documented a history of the FBI (initially called BOI until 1936) exercising political repression as far back as World War I, and through the 1920s, when agents were charged with rounding up "anarchists, communists, socialists, reformists and revolutionaries" for deportation. From 1936 through 1976, the domestic operations were increased against political and anti-war groups.

Intended effects

The intended effect of the FBI's COINTELPRO was to "expose, disrupt, misdirect, or otherwise neutralize" groups that the FBI officials believed were "subversive"[56] by instructing FBI field operatives to:

- Create a negative public image for target groups (for example through surveilling activists and then releasing negative personal information to the public)

- Break down internal organization by creating conflicts (for example, by having agents exacerbate racial tensions, or send anonymous letters to try to create conflicts)

- Create dissension between groups (for example, by spreading rumors that other groups were stealing money)

- Restrict access to public resources (for example, by pressuring non-profit organizations to cut off funding or material support)

- Restrict the ability to organize protest (for example, through agents promoting violence against police during planning and at protests)

- Restrict the ability of individuals to participate in group activities (for example, by character assassinations, false arrests, surveillance)

Range of targets

At its inception, the program's main target was the Communist Party.

In an interview with the BBC's Andrew Marr in February 1996, Noam Chomsky-a political activist and MIT professor of linguistics-spoke about the purpose and the targets of COINTELPRO, saying:

COINTELPRO was a program of subversion carried out not by a couple of petty crooks but by the national political police, the FBI, under four administrations … by the time it got through, I won't run through the whole story, it was aimed at the entire new left, at the women's movement, at the whole black movement, it was extremely broad. Its actions went as far as political assassination.

According to the Church Committee:

While the declared purposes of these programs were to protect the "national security" or prevent violence, Bureau witnesses admit that many of the targets were nonviolent and most had no connections with a foreign power. Indeed, nonviolent organizations and individuals were targeted because the Bureau believed they represented a "potential" for violence-and nonviolent citizens who were against the war in Vietnam were targeted because they gave "aid and comfort" to violent demonstrators by lending respectability to their cause.

The imprecision of the targeting is demonstrated by the inability of the Bureau to define the subjects of the programs. The Black Nationalist program, according to its supervisor, included “a great number of organizations that you might not today characterize as black nationalist but which were in fact primarily black”. Thus, the nonviolent Southern Christian Leadership Conference was labeled as a Black Nationalist-“Hate Group”.

Furthermore, the actual targets were chosen from a far broader group than the titles of the programs would imply. The CPUSA program targeted not only Communist Party members but also sponsors of the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee and civil rights leaders allegedly under Communist influence or deemed to be not sufficiently “anti-Communist”. The Socialist Workers Party program included non-SWP sponsors of anti-war demonstrations which were cosponsored by the SWP or the Young Socialist Alliance, its youth group. The Black Nationalist program targeted a range of organizations from the Panthers to SNCC to the peaceful Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and included every Black Student Union and many other black student groups. New Left targets ranged from the SDS to the InterUniversity Committee for Debate on Foreign Policy, from Antioch College (“vanguard of the New Left”) to the New Mexico Free University and other “alternate” schools, and from underground newspapers to students’ protesting university censorship of a student publication by carrying signs with four-letter words on them.

Communist and socialist organizations, Organizations and individuals associated with the civil rights movement, including Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and others associated with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Congress of Racial Equality, and other civil rights organizations, Black nationalist groups. The Young Lords. The American Indian Movement. White supremacist groups, including the Ku Klux Klan. The National States' Rights Party. A broad range of organizations labeled "New Left", Students for a Democratic Society the Weathermen, and environmental activists.

Almost all groups protesting the Vietnam War, as well as individual student demonstrators with no group affiliation. The National Lawyers Guild. Organizations and individuals associated with the women's rights movement.

Nationalist groups such as those seeking independence for Puerto Rico, United Ireland, and Cuban exile movements including Orlando Bosch's Cuban Power and the Cuban Nationalist Movement.

Additional notable American individuals.

The COINTELPRO operators targeted multiple groups at once and encouraged splintering of these groups from within. In letter-writing campaigns (wherein false letters were sent on behalf of members of parties), the FBI ensured that groups would not unite in their causes. For instance, they launched a campaign specifically to alienate the Black Panther Party from the Mau Maus, Young Lords, Young Patriots and SDS. These racially diverse groups had been building alliances, in part due to charismatic leaders such as Fred Hampton and his attempts to create a "Rainbow Coalition". The FBI was concerned with ensuring that groups could not gain traction through unity, specifically across racial lines. One of the main ways of targeting these groups was to arouse suspicion between the different parties and causes. In this way the bureau took on a divide and conquer offensive.

Let's take some time to examine Rockefeller free Mason Little Rock free mason Pike / Mason are and the genome and divinci codes.

Let's also remember George H.W. Bush gave his NWO speech in about 1983 and PCR genetics just came onto the shelf of medicine.

As the Linda Newkirk blogs of experimentation in Little Rock Arkansas tell the Bush family were there visting her at her bedside, H.W. Bush having worse bedside manner than W. Bush.

The US Military and missle command and Navy Seals and Air force were involved.

It was also in that set of blog entries of alien experimentation on her that "clones" who were clones of others would drop like house flies.

The IDFILES website was put up on part by contributors left to right are Mark Keesee, Jean Duffey, Ron Dane, Linda Ives, and James Duffey.

At least one has the name Jean who may have had knowledge of some experiments. Certain dates in the chronology like they are tied to the basic dates of February 20 Nov 18 Dec 13 April 1 June 4 July 4 August 4

Nearness to those dates is hard to miss but it still likes less than random dates of events.

[image] [image]

Kevin Ives

Don Henry

Kirk Lane retrieved from ID Files and copied or modified to here > an unmarked police car pulled up and two men in plain clothes got out and …

[image]

It is truly disgraceful, but Kirk Lane was appointed by Governor Asa Hutchinson as Arkansas Drug Czar on August 7, 2017. It was 8 years earlier 2009 that the mayor of Benton (Saline County, Arkansas), Rick Holland, chose Lane to be his Police Chief, albeit under a great deal of protest from some city counsel members and a very large number of Benton residents. The controversy centered around the allegations in the documentary video, "Obstruction of Justice: The Mena Connection" in which Kirk Lane and Jay Campbell are named as the suspected killers of Kevin and Don.

The August 4 dog whistle, he is playing for The Team, the Secret Team.

The protests began weeks previously when it became apparent that Holland was considering his "best friend, Kirk" for the job. Although Holland consistently said he was not going to choose Lane, he did so over Christmas break. When everyone returned to work, Lane was the new police chief. In an unusual procedure, some counsel members called for a vote to override Holland's choice. To do so would take 7 votes out of the 10 council members.

On the evening of January 10, there was a standing-room-only crowd, and many spoke passionately about not wanting Lane as police chief.

Councilmen met in private to vote with the outcome of 5 to oust Lane and 4 to keep him, which fell short of the 2/3 required number to outs him. There was one council member absent. Holland put him in the “keep him” column.

Lane declared a great victory, but it’s hard to see how great it was. when more than half the council present wanted him gone.

During interviews before the council meeting, the subject of his being a suspect in the murders always came up. Lane then brings up the defamation law suit he and Campbell filed against the “Obstruction of Justice” documentary producer, Pat Matrisciana. He says that the lawsuit served to restore his credibility since 12 jurors agreed with him that he was defamed.

There’s a a bit of a problem with Lane’s reasoning. The 8th Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the juror’s decision. One reason was because the trial judge did not not allow the jury to hear all of the evidence that pointed to Campbell and Lane as the killers. The appellate court felt that the jurors should have reached a different verdict, so it reversed the verdict. Again, it’s hard to see how Lane can claim vindication.

Apparently, he doesn’t actually feel vindicated, because he told a Benton Courier reporter for an article published January 13, 2009, “This is a burden I’ve carried on my shoulders for a long time.” No higher authority can take away the 8th Circuit Court findings, so it’ll be on his shoulders as long as we continue to publish the appellate court’s opinion.

The 8th Circuit Court opinion direct excerpt of an interview recounting the experience of a witness only hours after the train ran over the boys:

> “an unmarked police car pulled up and two > men in plain clothes got out and … one of them was Kirk Lane, who used to work for the Benton Police Department, and the other guy he did not know but he was a large man." The two boys and "these two cops got into an argument and the two cops beat the boys unconscious and threw them into the car and then drove off."

The Benton Courier reported that the FBI agent in charge of the murder investigation testified in the defamation trial that she was "allowed to question Lane and Campbell, but this is an error. She actually said at trial that she was not allowed to question Lane or Campbell (although she made a request to her superiors to do so). Neither Lane nor Campbell have ever been questioned or interviewed by anyone.

This website team will make an offer to Lane. If he wants to finally lift the burden, he can take an out-of-state polygraph test and answer up to 10 simple questions about the night the boys were murdered. If he passes, we'll publish the results on the home page of this website with our apologies. If he doesn't agree, he'll have to live with the burden, which will get heavier and heavier.

MENA and the CIA retrieved from ID Files and copied or modified to here

Black Operations also called Black Budget Special Access Program Branch daliances not justified to Congress or the public, funded by operations ROI activities of the Executive, illegal, and denied of exp includes Genmoe for Sale and also guns for countries which have n options and oil business and oil executives funding hits through Bla

In October, 1987, a plane belonging to the CIA was shot down in communist Sandinista missile. The plane was loaded with weapons to the Nicaraguan freedom-fighters, who were being supported thro operations at the behest of President Ronald Reagan. This incident the ugliest foreign policy secrets in American history, the Iran-Cont illegal operation, which included drug-smuggling, gun-running, and laundering was set up by Vice President George H. W. Bush. The in Angeles, California was targeted for raising funds by selling crack c at a small airport in rural Mena, Arkansas, the notorious smuggler given protection by Governor Bill Clinton to continue his drug-smu running, money laundering operation but now as a DEA informant contract pilot, also set up by Bush.

The crimes of Reagan, Bush, and Clinton, including reckless disreg life, are well documented, indisputable, and certainly not justifiable by the extreme efforts of these presidents to keep their involvement though the liberal and conservative mainstream medias have manag an otherwise outraged public with lies, the legacies of these preside exclude their crimes, as they had hoped.

Timeline

- 1977 - Federal authorities, DEA, FBI, and CIA were watch
Seal as he set up his drug smuggling operation in Mena, Ar believe he was already a DEA informant.

- 1979 - The “Sandinistas” were declared the ruling party i while small rebel groups started forming.

- 1981 - The CIA begin coordinating rebel groups to form t

- Late 1982 - Barry Seal makes deal with DEA and CIA and smuggling operations at Mena.

- 1983 - The CIA begin to smuggling drugs into Los Angeles

- 1983 - 1995 - Federal investigations are covered up and s

- Feb 3, 1986 - The Arkansas IRS assess Barry Seal’s income $29,487,718.00 for smuggling 30,000 kilos of cocaine into 1981 to 1983, saying nothing of 1984 to 1986 after which his two C-123 Air America cargo planes.

- Feb 19, 1986 - Barry Seal TWA pilot (James Donegan kne have been in a lawsuit with regarding aging) was assassinat before he was supposed to testify at the trial of Colombian Pablo Escobar and Jorge Ochoa of the Medellin Cartel.

  After Seal's murder, the CIA continued operations at the M
North Africa Rockefeller oil money airfield.

- Oct, 1986 - Eugene Hasenfus was shot down by a Nicaragu Sandinista missile while flying one of Seal's C-123k military planes carrying weapons to the Contras. This broke the Iran scandal, yet the operations at Mena continued

- Aug 23, 1987 - Kevin Ives and Don Henry stumbled on a c while walking down the railroad tracks in rural Saline Cour Arkansas. They were murdered, placed on the tracks, and ru train.

- Jul, 1995 - "The Crimes of Mena" by Sally Denton and Ro was published

- Aug, 1996, Oct, 1996, and Jan, 1997 - The 3-part-series, " Alliance" by Gary Webb was published.

- Within Each Commonwealth of the Cabal

- Industrialist in Defense CABAL and CIA CABAL contracted Business
- Global connected partnership with Cabal in oi and overthrow of foreign governments
- Global military base rights and economic trade deals
- Industrialist in Media - the Media squelches Conspiracty Theories about the Cabal by intimidation and being a large scale limited view political correctness
- Industrialists in Government having CIA and NSA GCHQ and big business and media support

- As in the USA (FBI, NSA, CIA abuses ongoing)
  - The Bush Family, Obama Family, and others stay in power from generation to generation and do not out the Cabal which includes both Democrats and Republicans.
  - Christoper Wray, Donald Barr, William Barr, Mulckasy, Wild Bill Donovan, J. Edgar Hoover abuse power along with the US Military to use COINTELPRO a social control often targeting WWII veteran families to hid culpability of Sindey Gottlieb and others which not involved the Cabal families by illegal acts it created Cabal families with illegal genetics and CIA testing and grooming genetics, now detectable
  - COINTELPRO destroys the lives of victims of MKULTRA with illegal Guerilla Warfare of Gangstalking ordinary citizens not in the cabal but whose life story may be a threat to the Cabal thus are subjected to Psychological Warfare eradication, loss of status and voice, jobs, housing, family, etc.,

- Many Catholics were killed because of a deal they DID refuse or showed a gene the CABAL needs to hide or has the mitochondria of that line of families

- Methods achieved by under-cover teams

  - False arrest, often held without trial as a mentally incompetent, violent, or schizophrenic Conspiracy Theorist acting under delusions

  - Subversion by societal sabotage of work, family, economic or religious activities, sabotage of housing, all by undercover teams with the Law Enforcement Klout to get public co-operation and plain clothes status to hide activities from the victim.

  - D-E-W, Dirty Bombs, Poisons other than radiological, interference with medical care for existing disease or use of biological diseases as warfare.

  - Psychological harassment to keep people preoccupied with introduced problems and physical fights on 24 hour basis.

  - Hostile abusive environments including sexual racial and religious assault by action or suggestiveness, psychical attacks by thugs from the neighborhood doing favors for Cabal police who may have been recruited by payoffs or calls from the powerful looking for allies on the force.

- Subversion of the Courts and other government entities by finding recruits or planting Placed Individuals, Agents in Place of Espionage Guerrillas Warfare in violation of the Constitutional Charter of the Courts in furtherance of violation of Constitutional rights of a party with standing before the courts.

- Black budgets from illegal and offshore operations such as Epstein and others monetizing criminal activity ranging from robbing PCs from home offices to racketeering across international lines.

[image]

Shriners International, also commonly known as The Shriners or formerly known as the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, (AAONMS) is a Masonic society established in 1870 and is headquartered in Tampa, Florida.

Shriners International [image]

In 1870, there were several thousand Freemasons in Manhattan NYC likely including the Lucille Ball family, many of whom lunched at the Knickerbocker Cottage at a special table on the second floor. There, the idea of a new fraternity for Masons, stressing fun and fellowship, was discussed. Walter M. Fleming, and William J. Florence took the idea seriously enough to act upon it.

[image]

William J. Florence a world-renowned actor, while on tour in Marseille, was invited to a party given by an Arab diplomat. The entertainment was something in the nature of an elaborately staged musical comedy. At its conclusion, the guests became members of a secret society. Florence took copious notes and drawings at his initial viewing and on two other occasions, once in Algiers and once in Cairo. When he returned to New York in 1870, he showed his material to Fleming.

Walter Millard Fleming - Fleming created the ritual, emblem and costumes. Florence and Fleming were initiated August 13, 1870, and they initiated 11 other men on June 16, 1871.

The group adopted a Middle Eastern theme and soon established Temples (though the term Temple has now generally been replaced by Shrine Auditorium or Shrine Center). The first Temple established was Mecca Temple (now known as Mecca Shriners), established at the New York City Masonic Hall on September 26, 1872. Fleming was the first Potentate.

In 1875, there were only 43 Shriners in the organization. In an effort to encourage membership, at the June 6, 1876 meeting of Mecca Temple, the Imperial Grand Council of the Ancient Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine for North America was created. Fleming was elected the first Imperial Potentate. After some other reworking, by 1878 there were 425 members in 13 temples in eight states, and by 1888, there were 7,210 members in 48 temples in the United States and Canada. By the Imperial Session held in Washington, D.C. in 1900, there were 55,000 members and 82 Temples.

By 1938 there were about 340,000 members in the United States. That year Life published photographs of its rites for the first time. It described the Shriners as “among secret lodges the No. 1 in prestige, wealth and show”, and stated that “in the typical city, especially in the Middle West, the Shriners will include most of the prominent citizens.”

Shriners often participate in local parades, sometimes as rather elaborate units: miniature vehicles in themes (all sports cars; all miniature 18-wheeler trucks; all fire engines, and so on), an “Oriental Band” dressed in cartoonish versions of Middle Eastern dress; pipe bands, drummers, motorcycle units, Drum and Bugle Corps, and even traditional brass bands.

Membership - Until 2000, before being eligible for membership in the Shrine, a Mason had to complete either the Scottish Rite or York Rite systems,[8] but now any Master Mason can join. describes itself as a fraternity based on fun, fellowship, and the Masonic principles of brotherly love, relief, and truth. There are approximately 350,000 members from 196 temples (chapters) in the US, Canada, Brazil, Bolivia, Mexico, Panama, the Philippines, Europe, and Australia. The organization is best known for the Shriners Hospitals for Children that it administers, and the red fezzes that members wear.

The Fez and the Ottoman Empire

The Fez became a symbol of the Ottoman Empire in the early 19th century. In 1827, Mahmud II mandated the Fez as a modern headdress for his new army, the Asakir-i Mansure-i Muhammediye. The decision was inspired by the Ottoman naval command, who had previously returned from the Maghreb having embraced the style. In 1829, Mahmud issued new regulations mandating use of the Fez by all civil and religious officials. The intention was to replace the turban, which acted as a marker of identity and so divided rather than unified the population.[6][7] The fez was subsequently outlawed in Turkey in 1925 as part of Atatürk’s Reforms.

To Whistle blower Jen Moore - Her self sacrifice to protect an Atomic Veteran family from Free Masons, and from what?

> “If not now, when? If not us, who?”

[Many] have echoed Hillel’s aphorism, perhaps unaware of its provenance:

In 1963, Michigan governor George Romney stumped for his tax reform plan across the state with the impassioned plea, “If not now, when? If not us, who?” Addressing the United Nations in 2012, then-Turkish foreign minister Ahmet Davutoğlu proclaimed, “If not now, when are we supposed to act in unity? And if it is not the United Nations, who is to lead? If it is not us, then who will shoulder the responsibility to protect the innocent civilians?”

The Babylonian Talmud (Sukkah 53a) records how different rabbis used to celebrate the annual water festival at the Temple in Jerusalem. Among them was Hillel the Elder. The Talmud recounts:

> They said about Hillel the Elder that when he used to rejoice at the Simchat Bet Hashoevah, he used to say: ‘If I am here, everyone is here; but if I am not here, who is here?’

In laymen’s terms, this is rabbinic for “I am the life of the party.” Put that on a t-shirt. https://www.tabletmag.com/sections/news/articles/if-not-now-when-a-recent-history-of-hillels-misattributed-maxim-from-ivanka-trump-to-ronald-reagan

Jen Moore was the lifeblood of the Republic as before her Ted Gunderson, Gene Chip Tatum, and John DeCamp were. Truth tellers. Chauncey Marvin Holt knew the history of the USA belongs to the people of the USA and wanted to tell that history before he died. Like Holt and unlike Jen Moore and unlike Ted Gunderson I am not law enforcement I am a witness. But as a rare witness rarified by the deaths of my family member and all heirlooms lost during my family or origins life and after their deaths only the oral history I can provide is left. For the importance of that is not me but the connection my story makes between very important victims and very important criminals. That is in a way lifeblood of the Republic and I am trying to insure it is not lost. When we are gone the last hope of the truth coming out is gone, or rather when our works are lost to a cover of dust or deletion the last hope of truth is gone.

Facts of FBI CIA and Long Term Criminal Subversive in CIA FBI NSA killing Kennedy and others and the Scientific Method as Process

Hypothesis: The abnormal conditions I am experiencing in my life are powerful forces at work trying to disrupt the book I am writing

I assert abnormal Conspiracy Against both Housing, Job, and Office are defensive Abuse of Power by espionage officials concerned about the generation, reach, and credibility of my voice and hope to derail me. I assert the facts applied to this hypothesis support the hypothesis.

Scientific method retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

[image]

File:Aristotle Altemps Inv8575.jpg

Aristotle (384-322 BCE). "As regards his method, Aristotle is recognized as the inventor of scientific method because of his refined analysis of logical implications contained in demonstrative discourse, which goes well beyond natural logic and does not owe anything to the ones who philosophized before him." - Riccardo Pozzo

The scientific method is an empirical method for acquiring knowledge that has characterized the development of science since at least the 17th century (with notable practitioners in previous centuries; see the article history of scientific method for additional detail.) It involves careful observation, applying rigorous skepticism about what is observed, given that cognitive assumptions can distort how one interprets the observation. It involves formulating hypotheses, via induction, based on such observations; the testability of hypotheses, experimental and the measurement-based statistical testing of deductions drawn from the hypotheses; and refinement (or elimination) of the hypotheses based on the experimental findings. These are principles of the scientific method, as distinguished from a definitive series of steps applicable to all scientific enterprises.

Although procedures vary from one field of inquiry to another, the underlying process is frequently the same from one field to another. The process in the scientific method involves making conjectures (hypothetical explanations), deriving predictions from the hypotheses as logical consequences, and then carrying out experiments or empirical observations based on those predictions.[a] [4] A hypothesis is a conjecture, based on knowledge obtained while seeking answers to the question. The hypothesis might be very specific, or it might be broad.

The overall process involves making conjectures (hypotheses), deriving predictions from them as logical consequences, and then carrying out experiments based on those predictions to determine whether the original conjecture was correct.

There are difficulties in a formulaic statement of method, however. Though the scientific method is often presented as a fixed sequence of steps, these actions are better considered as general principles.

```
Monday, February 20, 1961

JFK met with the Secretary General of the Organizatic for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC) Thorkil Kristensen at around 11 [line feed
am in the Oval Office.
 [margin padding]
[line feed]
[margin padding]
<meta property="article:modified_time" content="2015-09-23T03:08:55+00:00" />

Analogous
JFK met with the Secretary General of the Organizatic for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC) Thorkil Kristensen at around 11
 [margin padding]
[line feed]
[margin padding]

 [margin padding]
[line feed]
[margin padding]
am in the Oval Office.

<meta property="article:modified_time" content="2015-09-23T03:08:55+00:00" />
```

Tom Dunham @sftomdunham · 3 Nov 2015
Clues point to both police and SelectQuote knowledge of theft from my apartment. How and why is not so clear. selectquotereview.com/2015/10/how-is...
31

Tom Dunham @sftomdunham · 29 Oct 2015
Neighbors can stay under the radar near me. It's hard to say what connected cops, robbers, and SelectQuote. selectquotereview.com/2015/10/how-is...
41

Tom Dunham @sftomdunham · 23 Oct 2015
The writer impersonating Ed Donegan appears to have done so to discourage protecting kids. selectquotereview.com/2015/10/impost...
1 48

Tom Dunham @sftomdunham · 21 Oct 2015
More impersonation! Someone posing as a sharp guy I knew writes incoherently about me and events that didn't occur. selectquotereview.com/2015/10/fake-e...
4

Tom Dunham @sftomdunham · 19 Oct 2015
It's been a long struggle, but that may help in fighting any disinformation still circulating. selectquotereview.com/2015/10/still-...
76

Tom Dunham @sftomdunham · 12 Oct 2015
Given exposed corruption, break-ins to my home may have been police sponsored theft, used to hide something worse. selectquotereview.com/2015/10/keys-h...
1 79

Tom Dunham @sftomdunham · 10 Oct 2015
In retrospect, seemingly random events that happened concurrent to break-ins at my place may mean something. selectquotereview.com/2015/10/keys-h...

JM

Jenny Moore

+1 [redacted]

5 Jul 2018

Sent you pics at intel & [redacted]

22:32

Have you contacted them?I have appt at ICE HSPI in morning?

22:49

Are you going to show his face? I am afraid Rosenstein will have him offed. He is BC protector

22:52

I have considered bringing him here for some sort of protection. Not sure.

22:55

Yes I agree. [redacted] Tick tock tick tock

23:00

Jenny Moore
+1 [redacted]

2 Jul 2018

I stayed one extra night in NYC this kid was very sick and I did not feel right about sending him home. He slept well after releasing so much of this. I think ICE HSPI unit is the place to go. The top FBI are blackmailed or involved. Trump has sent ICE HSPI unit after child trafficking that is why the Dems& some R's aretrying to disband them. I met one he said all that unit does is go after child trafficking, ritual abuse, etc.and the FBI just tries to block them from getting to politicians, elite etc. I met an agent that works for HSPI who told me personally. I also know an FBI aeny

17:16

FBI agent contractor who personally trafficked his son as well as other children. Uses Govt computer to produce CP.....Has TS clearance. Mother & children interviewedin 2015.Line agents horrified. To brass renewed his SC and his contract 17:21

Passing of Jen Moore retrieved from Tracy Police Department on Fecebook and copied or modified to here

Tracy Police: It is with deep sadness we announce the death of retired officer Jenny Moore who passed away on August 13, 2018 in Millersville, Maryland. Jenny served the community of Tracy from 1993 until her retirement in 2004. Jenny held the rank of Corporal, served in the then named Street Crime Unit as a narcotics investigator and worked in the Tracy Unified School District as a DARE officer. As a Field Training Officer, Jenny taught new officers how to police in Tracy and gave them an appreciation of what it meant to grow up in a town and later serve the same community. She also was a member of our adventure racing team competing in several events on the west coast.

Jenny graduated from Tracy High School in 1986 and later completed a Master's Degree in Psychology, which she put to good use as a psychologist at a non-profit organization.

Her mother, Jane Moore of California, survives her; her Father Bob Moore of Texas; her sisters Robin and Kelli, and brother Bobby, all of California. She also had numerous nieces and nephews.

Jennifer Marie Moore retrieved from Findagrave.com and copied or modified to here

Jennifer Marie "Task Force" Moore was the YouTube persona known as "Task Force" - a whistleblower, an investigative journalist and a former police officer. She was reportedly working on stories about child abuse / trafficking involving important people when she was found dead in her Washington, D.C. hotel room.

Her death from a brain hemorrhage appears to have been the result of a severe beating she received the year before.

The person that originally created this page (From Days Gone By) has removed the photo and blindly transferred maintenance of it. Will update this area as (verifiable) information becomes available.

Jenny Moore's youtube screen name was "Task Force".

Homocides have signatures such as fun-house odd character named people surrounded Targeted Individuals, connections to the Kennedy assassination, illegal acts by five dollar a day criminals working with law enforcement, fbi or others often on sham investigations and fabricated facts. Many deaths meet the signature that are included in this book.

Slush find and fraud based CIA Jerk Off funds

She died because the slush fund black budge Mafia of MKULTRA and Midnight Climax VIA bordellos did not want to be exposed as long term criminal mafia operations in RICO networks.

Death sentence for interfering with bill of rights 18 usc 242 : If bodily injury results, the offender may be fined and/or imprisoned for up to ten years. If death results or other aggravating factors are present, Section 242 provides for a fine and/or imprisonment for ten years to life or a death sentence (though the Constitution forbids death sentences for non-homicide offenses). The Mafia CIA slush fund black budge did kill her, death resulted.

By their deeds are people Frauds and Evil or Good and Saved?

I am under attack by Fraudsters of immeasurable evil.

Vocabulary.com retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

> deeds
>
> 1. n. performance of moral or religious acts
>
> > They still hanged black people as a form of punishment for the smallest of deeds, but at

> Bethel AME, every member of the church was welcome and loved. -March Forward, Girl
>
> It grieves me to think that I have brought shame to the place that has sheltered me, that by my unwitting deeds, St. Emilion might be ruined. -Ophelia
>
> My lady wife lowered the New York Times and gazed at me so long that I inspected any recent deeds and impulses. - Travels with Charley in Search of America

By paperwork created fraudulently, the staged deceitful acts and statements, the assailants of me working for the elites like the elites themselves are evil and fraudulent in all of their acts and deeds even in terms of housing deeds, housing records, they are frauds.

#DispositionMatrix of the #NDAA #AssetSiezures system of #Espionage, #GuerillaWarfare and #GangStalk of #TargetedIndividuals by #PsyOps are one and the same. It is designed to destroy the lives and reputation US Leaders view as a threat to nation (or themselves - corrupt pols).

What Legends do our current social leaders need? Our Elite, our big businesses, for our place in the world to make sense? How do we create those Legends?

The GangStalk and paid actors out in public, dopples, lies, frauds, spin, etc.,

The GangStalk is organized stalkers destroying my life by abusive appearances, violence against my reputation so intensive it incites retaliation against me on a preventative basis, creating a Legend I am a risk and a containment to society.

The destruction of my life is what carrerr crimninal MKULTRA politiciand need to conceal the wrongdong of MKULTRA which victimized my family during the Manhattan Project.

First Layer of the Onion

I Edward Paul Donegan have been Gang Stalked by high power elite figures tied to the US Presidency and its office holders and history.

Jen Moore and I (always in danger of our lives) tell the stories of those elites from Kingpins like Donald Barr, William Barr, Prescott and George H.W. Bush to the Rockefellers, Henry Edward Butts family, Shrivers, Schwartenegers, Crus Jr. and Sr family, the Clintons and more.

A Secret Special Access Program protected by the Wet Division (Rosenstein, Holder Machen Jr.) is using long term twins studies on many figures also being groomed for media and political roles and this is tied to England and the Special Relationship between the CIA and DARPA and England and also Saudi Arabia.

Some US elites in the program are in various ways reluctant and hobbled or dead (these being Donald J. Trump and his deceased brother and John F. Kennedy. George W. Bush is reportedly being forced into compliance with expressive but non verbal death threats, likely a factor in a much larger calculus.

[image] [image]

George Walker Bush (born July 6, 1946) is a Eugenics

breeding program product and an American politician and businessman who served as the 43rd president of the United States from 2001 to 2009. A member of the Bush family and Republican Party, he previously served as the 46th governor of Texas from 1995 to 2000. Bush flew warplanes in the Texas Air National Guard. After graduating from Harvard Business School in 1975, he worked in the oil industry.

He appointed Justice Roberts who has no Divinci Code like birth month and day but Justice Roberts is married to Jane Sullivan whose birthday is August 3, 1958 which seem to be one of the DARPA Brain Program NASA program dates tied to the Queen Mother August 4th birthdays which Barrack Obama Jr. has as well.

George W. Bush attended high school at Phillips Academy, a boarding school in Andover, Massachusetts. His daughters (twins) Barbara and Jenna born November 25, 1981

[image] Decency, security, and liberty alike demand that government officials shall be subjected to the same rules of conduct that are commands to the citizen. In a government of laws, existence of the government will be imperiled if it fails to observe the law scrupulously. Our government is the potent, the omnipresent teacher. For good or for ill, it teaches the whole people by its example. Crime is contagious. If the government becomes a lawbreaker, it breeds contempt for law; it invites every man to become a law unto himself; it invites anarchy. To declare that in the administration of the criminal law the end justifies the means - to declare that the government may commit crimes in order to secure the conviction of a private criminal - would bring terrible retribution. Against that pernicious doctrine this court should resolutely set its face.

Olmstead v. United States, 277 U.S. 438, 479 (1928)

wikiquote

Photo

The empire strikes back: How Brandeis foreshadowed Snowden and Greenwald So-called liberals attack the whistle-blower duo - and a brilliant Supreme Court justice saw it all coming By ANDREW O'HEHIR PUBLISHED MAY 24, 2014 4:00PM (EDT)

[image]

Joseph Patrick Kennedy Sr. was born to a political family in East Boston, Massachusetts. He made a large fortune as a stock market and commodity investor and later rolled over his profits by investing in real estate and a wide range of business industries across the United States. During World War I, he was an assistant general manager of a Boston area Bethlehem Steel shipyard; through that position, he became acquainted with Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was the Assistant Secretary of the Navy. In the 1920s, Kennedy made huge profits by reorganizing and refinancing several Hollywood studios; several acquisitions were ultimately merged into Radio-Keith-Orpheum (RKO) Studios. Kennedy increased his fortune with distribution rights for Scotch whisky. He owned the largest privately-owned building in the country, Chicago's Merchandise Mart.

Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation

From Wikipedia the free

encyclopedia/ *

.

Bethlehem Steel Corporation Shipbuilding Division was created in 1905 when the Bethlehem Steel Corporation of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, acquired the San Francisco shipyard Union Iron Works.[1][2] In 1917 it was incorporated as Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Limited.

The division's headquarters were moved to Quincy, Massachusetts, after acquiring the Fore River Shipyard in 1913.

In 1964, the now-corporate headquarters moved to Sparrows Point, Maryland, southeast of Baltimore, Maryland, whose shipyard had been acquired in 1916.

The Quincy / Fore River yard was sold to General Dynamics Corporation in the mid-1960s, and closed in 1986. The Alameda Works Shipyard in California was closed by Bethlehem Steel in the early 1970s, while the San Francisco facility (former Union Iron Works) was sold to British Aerospace in the mid-1990s and survives today as BAE Systems San Francisco Ship Repair.

Bethlehem Steel ceased shipbuilding activities in 1997 in an attempt to preserve its core steelmaking operations.

On May 1, 1861, the company's title was changed again, this time to the Bethlehem Iron Company.[1]

Construction of the first blast furnace began on July 1, 1861, and it went into operation on January 4, 1863. The first rolling mill was built between the spring of 1861 and the summer of 1863, with the first railroad rails being rolled on September 26. A machine shop, in 1865, and another blast furnace, in 1867, were completed. During its early years, the company produced rails for the rapidly expanding railroads and armor plating for the US Navy.

Eugene Grace was president of Bethlehem Steel from 1916 to 1945, and chairman of the board from 1945 until his retirement in 1957. Eugene Grace orchestrated Bethlehem Steel's wartime efforts. In 1943, he promised President Roosevelt one ship per day, and exceeded the commitment by 15 ships.

Was this tied to Captain Von Trapp, husband of relative of Robert Whitehead?

The Whitehead torpedo was the first self-propelled or "locomotive" torpedo ever developed.[a] It was perfected in 1866 by Robert Whitehead from a rough design conceived by Giovanni Luppis of the Austro-Hungarian Navy in Fiume.

> Robert Whitehead was an English engineer who was most famous for developing the first effective self-propelled naval torpedo. Wikipedia Born: January 3, 1823, Bolton, United Kingdom Died: November 14, 1905, Shrivenham, United Kingdom

In the early 1900s Samuel Broadbent led an initiative to diversify the company. The corporation branched out from steel, with iron mines in Cuba and shipyards around the country. In 1913, under Broadbent, it acquired the Fore River Shipbuilding Company of Quincy, Massachusetts, thereby assuming the role of one of the world's major shipbuilders. In 1917, it incorporated its shipbuilding division as Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Limited. In 1922, it purchased the Lackawanna Steel Company, which included the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad as well as extensive coal holdings.

1930s and 1940s Construction of two warships: HMS Calder as USS Formoe (DE-58) and USS Foss on the right (pictures omitted for space consumption reasons here) 6", 10", 12", and 14" naval guns being assembled at a Bethlehem Steel facility

During World War I and World War II, Bethlehem Steel was a major supplier of armor plate and ordnance to the U.S. armed forces, including armor plate and large-caliber guns for the Navy.

In the 1930s, the company made the steel sections and parts for the Golden Gate Bridge and built for Yacimientos Petrolíferos Fiscales (YPF), a new oil refinery in La Plata City, Argentina, which was the tenth-largest in the world. During World War II, as much as 70 percent of airplane cylinder forgings, one-quarter of the armor plate for warships, and one-third of the big cannon forgings for the U.S armed forces were turned out by Bethlehem Steel.[citation needed]

Bethlehem Steel ranked seventh among United States corporations in the value of wartime production contracts.[9] Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation's 15 shipyards produced a total of 1,121 ships, more than any other builder during the war and nearly one-fifth of the U.S. Navy's two-ocean fleet. It employed as many as 180,000 persons, the bulk of the company's total employment of 300,000.

A case theory (aka theory of case, theory of a case, or theory of the case) is “a detailed, coherent, accurate story of what occurred” involving both a legal theory (i.e., claims/causes of action or affirmative defenses) and a factual theory (i.e., an explanation of how a particular course of events could have happened).[1]

That is, a case theory is a logical description of events that the attorney wants the judge or jury to adopt as their own perception of the underlying situation. The theory is often expressed in a story that should be compellingly probable.[2] Case theory is distinguished from jurisprudence (aka legal theory) as general theory of law not specific to a case.

I have struggled why a disgusting reproductive slander is being forced on me destroying me life as a peeping in-sophisticate retarded masturbating boy incapable fo the presence of adult women.

My DNA was misused in secretive research related to the Manhattan Project and has a history, if found out, jeopardized the lives and the fortunes of the nations elites.

10 days after Life reports a chimp goes goes into space another project starts, sleeper agents and keeping the Iron Curtain solid away

A chimp that became a space pioneer retrieved from Bangkok Po copied or modified to here

Nasa officially called the chimp “No.65” and only recognised it as after the successful completion of the mission. The reasoning was th public would become upset if an animal with a name died in space, would be less emotional about a number expiring.

Thankfully Ham survived his 16min 39sec flight, splashing down i Atlantic with little more than a bruised nose to become the first hor space. The mission was hugely important because the chimp succes pulled a couple of levers in flight, proving astronauts could perform while in space.

The mission created considerable excitement in the US and Ham n cover of Life magazine on Feb 10, 1961, looking cute in his Nasa
The risks involved were reflected in the banner headline of the San Francisco Examiner which proclaimed with some relief, "SPACE CH LIVES!"

To create the false claims likelihood of success I have been treated in an offensive and destructive way, creating the fact theory of the case I eroticize, peep at, tots, take peeping pictures, follow women around befudled by their yoga pants asses, etc.,

None of this is true and my being assaulted by acts towards me are abusive to me but that needs to appear to me true of the claims (which are also fake) can be consistent with the theory of the facts about me.'

I have no shortage of witnesses in this matter, I just seek its prosecution.

In carefully architected covert ops harassment the following occurs

SPECIAL REPORT The Story of Obama: All in The Company (Part I) retrieved from https://www.voltairenet.org/ and copied or modified to here

Investigative journalist Wayne Madsen has discovered CIA files that document the agency's connections to institutions and individuals figuring prominently in the lives of Barack Obama and his mother, father, grandmother, and stepfather. The first part of his report highlights the connections between Barack Obama, Sr. and the CIA-sponsored operations in Kenya to counter rising Soviet and Chinese influence among student circles and, beyond, to create conditions obstructing the emergence of independent African leaders.

President Obama's own work in 1983 for Business International Corporation, a CIA front [and a good example of rather thinly veneered making up front company names] that conducted seminars with the world's most powerful leaders and used journalists as agents abroad, dovetails with CIA espionage activities conducted by his mother, Stanley Ann Dunham in 1960s post-coup Indonesia on behalf of a number of CIA front operations, including the East-West Center at the University of Hawaii, the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID), and the Ford Foundation. Dunham met and married Lolo Soetoro, Obama's stepfather, at the East-West Center in 1965. Soetoro was recalled to Indonesia in 1965 to serve as a senior army officer and assist General Suharto and the CIA in the bloody overthrow of President Sukarno.

Barack Obama, Sr., of Kenya, who met Dunham in 1959 in a Russian language class at the University of Hawaii, had been part of what was described as an airlift of 280 East African students to the United States to attend various colleges - merely "aided" by a grant from the

The Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation (JPKF) is a non-profit foundation founded by Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy Sr. in 1946 in memory of his son Joseph P.

Kennedy Jr.. The foundation was led by his youngest brother, U.S. Senator Edward M. Kennedy, until his death in 2009. The foundation funded the construction of the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Memorial Hall at Boston College, now a part of Campion Hall and home to the college's Lynch School of Education. The foundation had assets in 2000 of $30 million (equivalent to $45 million in 2020).

From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia citing Frank L. Ellsworth (Editor), Joe Lumarda (Editor), 2003, From Grantmaker to Leader : Emerging Strategies for Twenty-First Century Foundations, Wiley, p9

according to a September 12, 1960, Reuters report from London. The airlift was a CIA operation to train and indoctrinate future agents of influence in Africa, which was becoming a battleground between the United States and the Soviet Union and China for influence among newly-independent and soon-to-be independent [of foreign powers] countries on the continent. [and elsewhere]

CIA files indicate that Mboya was an important

Language of Espionage Letter "A"
From the Spy Museum of Washington D.C.

Agent

A person unofficially employed by an intelligence service, often as a source of information.

Agent-in-Place

A government employee who is influenced to cooperate with a foreign government instead of defecting; now working for two employers instead of one.

Agent-of-Influence

A person who works within the government or media of a target country to influence national policy.

Asset

A clandestine source or method, usually an agent.

for the CIA, not only in Kenya but in all of Africa. A formerly Secret CIA Current Intelligence Weekly Summary, dated November 19, 1959, states that Mboya served as a check on extremists at the second All-African People's Conference (AAPC) in Tunis.

[Perhaps Barrack Obama Sr once a Muslim but then convert to Anglicanism in the British Kenyam run school could produce a future Kenyan leader loyal to London and covertly rule on behalf of Great Britain]

Mboya received a $100,000 grant for the airlift from the Kennedy Foundation after he turned down the same offer from the U.S. State Department, obviously concerned that direct U.S. assistance would look suspicious to pro-Communist Kenyan politicians who suspected Mboya of having CIA ties. The Airlift Africa project was underwritten by the Kennedy Foundation and the African-American Students Foundation. Obama, Sr. was not on the first airlift but a subsequent one. The airlift, organized by Mboya in 1959, included students from Kenya, Uganda, Tanganyika, Zanzibar, Northern Rhodesia, Southern Rhodesia, and Nyasaland.

This book will document Joseph Kennedy Sr marriages and ties to England and the likelihood his own family is genetically tied to Windsors and the FOXP2 and is Royal Family sympathizing in war efforts as are the Saudis whose royal family King Saud is connected in history.

Louise Little retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Louise Norton Langdon Little was born in La Digue, Saint Andrew Parish, Grenada to Ella Langdon. Ella was the daughter of Jupiter and Mary Jane Langdon, both of whom were kidnapped by other Africans from the region of modern-day Nigeria and sold into slavery, before being freed by the British Royal Navy;

Little was raised by her grandparents, Jupiter and Mary Jane, until his death in 1901 and hers in 1916.[5] She was educated in a local Anglican school, and was fluent in English, French and Grenadian Creole French.[6] After her grandmother's death, she emigrated from Grenada in 1917 to Montreal, where her uncle Egerton Langdon introduced her to Garveyism and the Universal Negro Improvement Association (UNIA)

Garveyism is an aspect of black nationalism that refers to the economic, racial and political policies of UNIA-ACL founder Marcus Garvey.[1] The ideology of Garveyism centers on the unification and empowerment of African-descended men, women and children under the banner of their collective African descent, and the repatriation of the descendants of enslaved Africans and profits to the African continent.[citation needed]

Garvey put forward his dreams in response to the marginalization and discrimination of African Americans in the United States and the Caribbean at the time with the hopes of inspiring black Americans to proactively establish infrastructure, institutions and local economies rather than expecting such from the heavily prejudiced post-reconstruction American government. The movement had a major impact in stimulating and shaping black politics in the Caribbean and in parts of Africa.

Garvey was fought by the African-American establishment in the United States. An investigation by the Justice Department, directed by J. Edgar Hoover, led to Garvey's arrest on charges of mail fraud in January 1922, and his projects collapsed.

Some Unpopular History of the United States

The JFK Years and His Assassination

January 20, 1961 - November 22, 1963

Edition as of November 2019 by Richard L. McManus

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this book is to inform readers about historical facts that most US history books omit. Most US citizens do not know about the unnecessary and unjust wars, violations of international law, and covert operations by the CIA and other US government agencies. This book is based on 50 years of work by JFK assassination researchers, a great many declassified documents, and three US Government investigation. I hope future historians and you will find my mistakes so together we get closer to the truth.

The CIA secretly gave money and technical assistance to the Christian Democratic Party in Italy until the 1960s. The CIA continued Radio Liberty until 1971 when Congress withdrew its support. (Ibid, p. 39)

One of the methods in a counterinsurgency program was isolation of the guerrillas through control of food supplies and the forcible relocation of suspect elements into secure resettlement areas; and the creation of no-go (free-fire) zones, “specific areas from which the population is restricted and in which all non-governmental personnel (translated “anyone persons including civilians) encountered can be assumed to be guerrilla/terrorists.”

Unconventional warfare came into play whenever US supported operations took place in enemy territory or in territory that the US considers to be under enemy influence, where the insurgent have been successful in dominating a territory. Offensive counterinsurgency forces acted as if they were conducting covert cross-border raids. US terrorism became the counter-terror operations in counterinsurgency.

No elaboration of the terror operations appeared in the 1960s US Army field manuals (FMs), but references to punitive actions suggested a no-holds-barred approach. The prescription of terror for US Army Special Forces (SF) solders counter insurgency (unconventional) warriors remained a feature of American doctrine in the 1960s and afterward. Nations that the CIA provided Army Special Forces trainers, ended up using torture and death squads against their own citizens after the CIA provide them with Black lists of alleged, communist, bad guys. http://www.statecraft.org/chapter9.html

During the late 1950s the CIA’s special military operations manpower was gradually reduced to a couple hundred Army SF soldiers. When the CIA needed more men it would hire them with short-term contacts. The CIA also hired ex-US military service members, adventurers, and outright mercenaries and/or on direct loan from the active duty or reserve, US Army Special Forces soldiers and pilots. After working for the CIA these US military men would return to their former military careers. (The CIA and the Cult of Intelligence p. 96)

The CIA built secret bases/camp in Nicaragua, Honduras, and Guatemala for training people it hired for special operations. For the operation to assist Tibet, it constructed extensive support facilities in Northeast India. They brought large numbers of Tibetan guerrillas to a deserted Army base in Colorado for training. The CIA also used a Navy base in Saipan. The CIA also trained special operations forces in the use of weapons that violated the Geneva Convention, like silencer-equipped rifles and machine guns. (Ibid, p. 98)

In the 1960s, the CIA assumed the role of coordinator of all US government counter-insurgency operations in Latin America. Small detachments of Army Special Forces were regularly placed under CIA control and were dispatched form Fort Gulick in the Panama Canal Zone. The CIA special operations aided Peru's fight against leftist guerrillas. They build training base in the Peruvian jungle region, etc. (The CIA and the Cult of Intelligence, p. 110)

Terror Operations would take the form of campaigns of assassination, kidnapping and disappearing, and mass executions in many countries in subsequent decades, and would remain a hallmark of the counterinsurgency state. Direct involvement of US unconventional forces is prescribed in everything from propaganda to acts of terrorism. Special Forces type soldiers who are demolition specialists can work with the host nation guerrillas in destroying government facilities, terrorist activities, and in tying down internal security forces to protect government installations.

With NSAM No. 177, passed into law on August 7, 1962, the Agency for International Development proceeded on November 1, 1962 to establish the Office of Public Safety (OPS). Once established, the OPS attempted to utilize indigenous police forces against insurgent threats by providing, through the United States Agency for International Development (USAID), a carefully balanced program of technical advice, training, and equipment. Although it is technically an independent agency, USAID operates subject to the foreign policy guidance of the President, Secretary of State, and the National Security Council.

Accordingly, the Kennedy administration envisioned an integrated law enforcement apparatus that the general populace would recognize as a legitimate peace keeping force. In order to promote internal security in Third World nations, the Office of Public Safety (OPS) aimed to bolster the ability of local police to conduct regular operations, master investigative skills in order to identify and neutralize criminal or subversive activities, and create the capability for controlling militant disturbances, such as demonstrations, disorders, and riots, through small-scale guerrilla operations.

Counterinsurgency for the Kennedy administration became the focal point in its fight against the spread of communism throughout the world. In particular, the United States sought to eliminate internal subversion before it could escalate to the point where direct United States military intervention would be required to restore order.

Per many sources Joseph Kennedy Sr was part of the plan to fund a leader for Indonesia Barrack Obama Jr working with USAID, The Peace Corps, East-West Center in Hawaii Senator Lyndon B Johnson championed, and the entire plan run by the CIA starting under Richard Nixon and the National Security Council with Col Prouty and the Dulles brothers, the Rockefeller charirites for international economic develop and similar agencies and NGOs.

Blackbox financing

The CIA is often acting as rouge elements and using the CIA name as businesses like Zapata Patroleum or International Trade Mart, East-India Tea Company, United Fruit Company, or through individuals or other corporations, use mafia groups and mafia figures, and use illegal funds from criminal operations to fund “black budget” programs that are not accounted for to anyone.

CIA ACCUSED OF ILLEGAL BANK DEALS

By Joel Glenn BrennerMarch 21, 1990

The First National Bank of Maryland in Baltimore has helped the Central Intelligence Agency launder money, set up secret bank accounts and purchase arms, according to a former vice president at the bank who said he was ordered to handle the illegal transactions.

Robert Maxwell, a former manager of international letters of credit at First National, left the bank in 1985, taking with him dozens of documents linking the bank with weapons deals arranged by Associated Traders Corp., a now-defunct arms dealer that he said was a CIA “front” operation.

Maxwell said that between 1983 and 1985, the bank asked him to help construct a complicated money trail for Associated Traders that would hide transactions valued at more than $20 million for the financing of rifles, machine guns, ammunition, radio transmitters and other items.

Former CIA agent David MacMichael, who has reviewed the documents, said, “They seem to be fairly typical of CIA operations. The CIA has to do its banking somehow.”

Maxwell’s allegations, outlined at a press conference yesterday, come on the heels of recent articles in the Houston Post alleging CIA involvement in covert financial operations with many failed banks and savings and loan institutions. The House Intelligence Committee is looking into those reports to decide whether to proceed with a formal investigation.

MacMichael, who is the director of the Association of National Security Alumni, an organization of former intelligence officials who oppose clandestine operations, said Maxwell’s charges are yet another window into the CIA’s use of the U.S. banking system to conduct its operations.

Maxwell said bank officials told him that Associated Traders was a “dummy” corporation for the CIA. He said he was ordered to handle the accounts “in a manner contrary to accepted banking practices and in apparent violation of the law.” When he protested, Maxwell said he was threatened and harassed by bank officials and the CIA to force compliance.

But Maxwell refused and quit his job in 1985. He then sued the bank, alleging that his refusal to carry out the CIA transactions led to harassment, threats against himself and his family and a forced resignation.

On Monday, Maxwell amended his suit, which was filed in the U.S. District Court in Baltimore, to include Associated Traders and 10 “John Does” - officers of the CIA, FBI and the Department of Justice - who he said have tried for the past two years to intimidate him and his counsel into dropping the case.

Investigative Journalist: Obama Grandparents CIA Connections; Bogus Harvard Certifications

Birther Report 9/14/2013 v

Excerpt:

Grandma “Toot’s”
Hawaiian banking intrigue
Via Helen Tansey | T-Room.us

By Wayne Madsen https://waynemadsenreport.com

President Obama’s grandmother, Madelyn Payne Dunham, the woman who actually raised the future President of the United States, served as the vice president and chief escrow account officer for the bank of Hawaii at an interesting time for the CIA’s murky operations in the 50th state. Dunham retired from the Bank of Hawaii in 1986 but not before a massive financial network was exposed in 1983 as a result of the financial failure and Internal Revenue Service investigation of a major CIA proprietary headquartered in Honolulu, Bishop, Baldwin, Rewald, Dillingham and Wong (BBRDW), the Bishop being a member of one of Hawaii’s landed gentry families and one that both Madelyn Dunham and her husband Stanley, as well as their daughter, Stanley Ann, had past interactions.

New York businessman Charles Reed Bishop married Bernice Pauahi Paki of the royal House of Kamehameha in 1850. Their descendants would play a major role in Hawaii to the present day. Charles Bishop, through the Bishop Trust, built a number of buildings at the elite Punahou School, where Obama attended. The Bishop Trust also funded the Bishop Museum for whom Obama's mother briefly worked as a Javanese history specialist.

For an agency that disavowed any connection to BBRDW, the CIA curiously maintains detailed files on the failed corporation that was involved, according to the editor's book, The Manufacturing of a President, in making pay-offs to Asian dictators who were allies of the United States. These payments were made via the escrow accounts overseen at the Bank of Hawaii by Obama's grandmother.

Among the CIA files is an obscure article on BBRDW written by John Kelly for the June-August 1984 issue of CounterSpy, a now-defunct magazine. BBRDW was an investment advisory firm on the surface but underneath its charade, it was a facilitator for various CIA clandestine operations.

Although the CIA vehemently denied that BBRDW belonged to them, One of the company's consultants and investors was John "Jack" Kindschi, the former CIA station chief in Hawaii who previously served in clandestine positions in Stockholm and Mexico City. More interesting, Kindschi's cover in Mexico City was the Robert Mullin Company, a public relations firm that employed one E. Howard Hunt, who would later emerge as one of conspirators in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Kindschi would most certainly have been known to Office of Strategic Services (OSS) and CIA veterans Stanley and Madelyn Dunham who arrived in Hawaii from Seattle just as Hawaii became a state in 1960.

The CIA had cleverly provided Stanley cover as a "furniture salesman." In fact, Pratt Furniture of Honolulu, Dunham's alleged employer, never existed save for a filing in the business records held by the State of Hawaii.

When BBRDW founder Ron Rewald, CIA code name "WINTERDOG" and "R," attempted to commit suicide in a room at the Waikiki Sheraton in 1983, after BBRDW's financial collapse, the CIA's "plausible denial" machine went into full gear. CIA general counsel Robert Laprade stated in a sworn statement:

"the CIA did not cause Bishop, Baldwin, Rewald, Dillingham & Wong to be created nor has the agency at any time owned, operated, controlled or invested in Bishop, Baldwin, Rewald, Dillingham & Wong."

End of the story?

Not quite.

While denying any CIA connection to BBRDW, Laprade asked that defense documents filed by Rewald in the government's fraud case against the firm be sealed. Not only did U.S. Judge Martin Spence seal all the defense documents but he ordered sealed all documents mentioning the CIA and all attorneys, parties, and their agents were placed under a court gag order. Not coincidentally, one of the federal prosecutors, John Peyton, previously worked for the CIA's general counsel's office.

Rewald's court affidavit stated that BBRDW was used by the CIA to “shelter monies of highly placed foreign diplomats and businessmen, who wished to ‘export’ cash to the United States, where it would be available to them in the event of emergency.” The CIA’s man in Cambodia, Marshal Lon Nol, availed himself of the accounts after he fled Cambodia to Hawaii after the takeover by the Khmer Rouge. Rewald bought a house form Lon Nol in Hawaii, an address that was later used for CIA cover companies.

The accounts held by BBRDW for foreign officials were held in “negotiable securities, wire transfers, or checks, many from the Chase Manhattan Bank.” Chase Manhattan was owned by David Rockefeller.

The Kelly article refers to letters between Kindschi and CIA agent Charles T. Connor that confirmed that BBRDW was providing such financial shelter for foreign officials, not just those in Asia but around the world. One letter from Connor to Kindschi stated that BBRDW provided a scheme for Greek elites to circumvent stringent Greek foreign exchange controls by investing in BBRDW.

A CIA intermediary in Greece is named in the letter: Dino Goulos. Dino did not help the CIA because of his love for the agency. The letter states: “ … if Dino can find investment friends seeking safe haven in dollar denominated investments with BBRD&W, we would be able to pay him a ‘finders fee’ of up to 5 percent …”

In other cases, BBRDW used joint business ventures to cultivate contacts with organizations such as the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC). At the same time that Barack Obama was working for the CIA’s premier corporate liaison and contact-development firm, Business International Corporation of New York, BBRDW had signed on as joint venture partners billionaire Philippines banker Enrique Zobel, Sultan of Brunei Hassanal Bolkiah, Crown Prince Saud Mohammed of the United Arab Emirates, and wealthy Indonesian businessmen Indri Gautama. These four provided critical oil price intelligence to the CIA, particularly to major oil investor Bill Casey, the director.

BBRDW established the Hawaiian-Arabian Investment Company and U.S. & United Arab Emirates Investment Company with Saud Mohammed and Gautama and the Ayala-Hawaiian Corporation with Zobel. Zobel, who founded the Ayala Corporation in 1983, was a member of the influential and wealthy Ayala family of the Philippines. All were registered with the State of Hawaii and were as phony as Obama's grandfather's furniture company.

The Honolulu Star-Advertiser spiked a story by reporter Charles Memminger on Zobel's ties to the CIA operation. The reason was that Zobel was part of the oligarchical opposition opposed to President Ferdinand Marcos, an opposition that was being groomed by the CIA. The CIA did not want Zobel and his allies burned. Eventually, Marcos, like Lon Nol before him, would flee to Hawaii in 1986 after being ousted. With Marcos came his massive wealth, much of it deposited in Hawaiian banks, including Grandma Toot's Bank of Hawaii, as the result of wire transfers from the Philippines National Bank.

Before Zobel broke with Marcos, the Philippines businessman helped arrange for BBRDW to obtain information on the purchase of two Hawaii estates by Marcos in 1977 and 1980. The first was an estate at 2338 Maikiki Heights Drive in Honolulu and the second was the Helen Knudsen estate, across the street from the first purchased estate.

Rewald was also a sleuth for the CIA. Court exhibits included information on Rewald filing a report to Langley with Tokyo CIA station chief Eugene Welsch. Rewald obtained the blueprints for Japan Airlines' top secret High Speed Surface Transport (HSST). Rewald was said to have obtained the prints from a BBRDW's client's son who worked for the Japanese Ministry of Railroads. BBRDW also was involved with a covert CIA funding contrivance in Japan called T&B International Co., Ltd.

… … … … … … … … … … … … … … … …

Sources: T-Room.us. www.WayneMadsenReport.com

As black budget programs have contrinued the military industrial compmlex run BCCI as sleaze CIA banking.

B.C.C.I.: The Dirtiest Bank of All

> "I could tell you what you want to know, but I must > worry about my wife and family - they could be killed."

> - a former top B.C.C.I. officer
>
> "We better not talk about this over the phone. We've found some bugs in offices that haven't been put there by law enforcement."
>
> - a Manhattan investigator probing B.C.C.I.

Bank-fraud cases are usually dry, tedious affairs. Not this one. Nothing in the history of modern financial scandals rivals the unfolding saga of the Bank of Credit & Commerce International, the $20 billion rogue empire that regulators in 62 countries shut down early this month in a stunning global sweep. Never has a single scandal involved so much money, so many nations or so many prominent people.

Superlatives are quickly exhausted: it is the largest corporate criminal enterprise ever, the biggest Ponzi scheme, the most pervasive money-laundering operation and financial supermarket ever created for the likes of Manuel Noriega, Ferdinand Marcos, Saddam Hussein and the Colombian drug barons. B.C.C.I. even accomplished a Stealth-like invasion of the U.S. banking industry by secretly buying First American Bankshares, a Washington-based holding company with offices stretching from Florida to New York, whose chairman is former U.S. Defense Secretary Clark Clifford.

But B.C.C.I. is more than just a criminal bank. From interviews with sources close to B.C.C.I., TIME has pieced together a portrait of a clandestine division of the bank called the "black network," which functions as a global intelligence operation and a Mafia-like enforcement squad. Operating primarily out of the bank's offices in Karachi, Pakistan, the 1,500-employee black network has used sophisticated spy equipment and techniques, along with bribery, extortion, kidnapping and even, by some accounts, murder. The black network - so named by its own members - stops at almost nothing to further the bank's aims the world over.

… https://content.time.com/time/subscriber/article/0,33009,973481,00.html

J. Edgar Hoover Memo - American Experience retrieved from http://www.shoppbs.pbs.org/ and copied or modified to here

Primary Sources: FBI Memo

J. Edgar Hoover to Special Agent Ridgely
Washington, D.C., October 11, 1919

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. RIDGELY.

I am transmitting herewith a communication which has come to my attention from the Panama Canal, Washington office, relative to the activities of Marcus Garvey. Garvey is a West-Indian negro and in addition to his activities in endeavoring to establish the Black Star Line Steamship Corporation he has also been particularly active among the radical elements in New York City in agitating the negro movement. Unfortunately, however, he has not as yet violated any federal law whereby he could be proceeded against on the grounds of being an undesirable alien, from the point of view of deportation. It occurs to me, however, from the attached clipping that there might be some proceeding against him for fraud in connection with his Black Star Line propaganda and for this reason I am transmitting the communication to you for your appropriate attention.

The following is a brief statement of Marcus Gravey and his activities:

- Subject a native of the West Indies and one of the most prominent negro agitators in New York;
- He is a founder of the Universal Negro Improvement Association and African Communities League;
- He is the promulgator of the Black Star Line and is the managing editor of the Negro World;
- He is an exceptionally fine orator, creating much excitement among the negroes through his steamship proposition;
- In his paper the “Negro World” the Soviet Russian Rule is upheld and there is open advocation of Bolshevism.

Respectfully,
J. E. Hoover

[Typewritten reference] JEH-GPO
DNA, RG 60, file 198940. TMS, recipient’s copy.

Excerpt from Robert A. Hill, ed. The Marcus Garvey and Universal Negro Improvement Association Papers, Volume II, 27 August 1919 - 31 August 1920. Berkeley and Los Angeles: University of California Press, 1983.

Louise Little retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Through the UNIA in Montreal, she met Earl Little, a craftsman and lay minister from Reynolds, Georgia. The couple married on May 10, 1919.[8] The following year they moved to Philadelphia for a better life than they had in Canada, and then to Omaha, Nebraska in 1921. While in Omaha, she became the secretary and "branch reporter" of the UNIA's local chapter, sending news of local UNIA activities, led by Earl, to Negro World; they inculcated self-reliance and black pride in their children.[9][10][11] Their son Malcolm, who became famous as Malcolm X, later said that white violence killed four of his father's brothers.[12] Another son, Wilfred, later remembered that Louise "received letters from the leaders of the movement thanking her for the work she had done and praising her for her devotion to the cause".[13] Earl and Louise had seven children together: Wilfred (19201998), Hilda (19212015), Philbert (19231993), Malcolm (19251965), Reginald (19272001), Wesley (19282009) and Yvonne (19292003).

Because of Ku Klux Klan threatsEarl's UNIA activities were said to be "spreading trouble"[14]the family relocated in 1926 to Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and shortly thereafter to Lansing, Michigan.[15] There the family was frequently harassed by the Black Legion, a white racist group. When the family home burned in 1929, Earl accused the Black Legion.[16]

In 1931, Earl died in what was officially ruled a streetcar accident, though Louise believed Earl had been murdered by the Black Legion. Rumors that white racists were responsible for Earl's death were widely circulated, and were very disturbing to Louise and their children.[17] After a dispute with creditors, Louise received a life insurance benefit (nominally $1,000about $17,000 in 2020 dollars[A]) in payments of $18 per month;[18] the issuer of another, larger policy refused to pay, claiming her husband Earl had committed suicide.[19] To make ends meet Louise rented out part of her garden, and her sons hunted game.

During the 1930s white Seventh-day Adventists witnessed to the Little family; later on Louise Little and her son Wilfred were baptized into the Seventh-day Adventist Church. In 1937, a man Louise had been dating marriage had seemed a possibility vanished from her life when she became pregnant with his child, Robert (19381999).[22] In late 1938 she had a nervous breakdown and was committed to Kalamazoo State Hospital. The children were separated and sent to foster homes.

Little was institutionalized at the Kalamazoo Mental Hospital from 1939 through 1963. Malcolmwho had become a criminal, then convicted, imprisoned, and released, and rose to fame as Malcolm X, a leading minister of the Nation of Islamjoined his siblings in securing her release from the hospital. She lived with her surviving family and descendants for the rest of her life mostly in Grand Rapids, Michigan. Most of her children lived and died in Grand Rapids like her where she was a member of Bethel Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

During the Kennedy administration (in particular of February 20 1961) a plot among the ambassador to Great Brittian Joseph Kennedy and in 1961 JFK would create Barrack Obama Jr. This acts and disputes regarding sleeper agents and overthrows created a Wetdivisioin series of targeted killings and espionage operations continuing in this day.

> “In going where you have to go, and doing what you > have to do, and seeing what you have to see, you'll dull and blunt the instrument you write with. But I would rather have it bent and dull and know I had to put it to the grindstone again and hammer it into shape and put a whetstone to it, and know that I had something to write about, than to have it bright and shining and nothing to say, or smooth and well-oiled in the closet, but unused." -Ernest Hemingway

> Russian Proverb from Russian Proverbs and Sayings
>
> Ши́ла в мешке́ не утаи́шь.
>
> "The truth will always out.; What is done by night appears by day."
>
> Literal: you cannot hide an awl in a sack.
>
> Those who murdered Whistleblower Jen Moore or were fired by the FBI or other government agencies to hide the lurid false pretenses claims to my mother's Estate will be caught in the light of day.

The Manchurian Candidate (Queen of Diamnds CIA Family Jewels) is a 1962 American neo-noir, psychological political thriller about the Cold War and sleeper agents. The film was directed and produced by John Frankenheimer. The screenplay was written by George Axelrod and based on the 1959 Richard Condon novel The Manchurian Candidate.

False Flag 911: How Bush, Cheney and the Saudis Created the Post-911 World Paperback - July 29, 2008

Mortal Error: The Shot That Killed JFK is a 1992 non-fiction book by Bonar Menninger outlining a theory by sharpshooter, gunsmith, and ballistics expert Howard Donahue that a Secret Service agent accidentally fired the shot that actually killed President John F. Kennedy. Wikipedia

The above works are all correct and the truth of them funnel into the truth of theMedicalState.epub attacked.

George H.W. Bush CIA 1961 and Cheney CIA 1962 decided to overthrow the USA and kill JFK to create England and Saudi Royal elements via the Aristocracy of Sleeper Agents like groomed Barrack Obama Jr, Mark and Scott Kelly, and media figures who would back Western plans into Africa, Indonesia, other locations to be become controlled subsumed puppets of Free Masonry, the Queen of England in particular, in the Nuclear Age.

> I lost my love in Baghdad : a modern war story
>
> by Hastings, Michael, 1980-
>
> At age 25, Michael Hastings arrived in Baghdad to cover the war in Iraq for Newsweek, with a little Hemingway romanticism and all the apparatus of a 21st-century reporter. He describes the chaos, the violence, the threats of bomb and mortar attacks, the front lines that can be anywhere. This is a new kind of war: private security companies follow their own rules or lack thereof; soldiers in combat get instant messages from their girlfriends and families.
>
> Borrow the book for free from Archive.org

See also truther page https://www.madcowprod.com/order/

The power though is merely trying to conceal its blunders and cling to long term wealth and power since the subversion and subsumption international plot was launched.

My guess on the psychology of my parents on this knowing what I know and knowing them continually through their entire lives

A Peek into their minds and motives

- James Paul Donegan always felt for the little guy against abusive power. He hated fat cat business managers, considered the famine conditions imposed on Ireland by the British one of the worst disasters of history, felt no better about Christianity and religious wars either, and was deeply loyal to the natoin of Ireland where his father was an accountant who upon immigration to the United States worked as janitor in a Herscyys cholcate plant.

  When he died my father burst into tears. My father did not like Boston conditions either and WASPS because his mother, my grandmother in his side, tried to get jobs to belp raise him, my father, as they lived in extreme poverty, my father working as a house paioter as a mid teen to helo the family buy food.

  His mother, my grandmother was turnee donw for job after job, at one point, a WASP pointing to her Irish pin and saying “Well, since you are wearing that, why would yo uven come in for an interview?”

  He would have liked the Irish Catholic Kennedy family as he did his own priest Uncle we all used to spend time with at my uncle Harold's Cape Cod beach property.

This video tells of my mother's poverty very mch like his own and his fellow Irishmen's poverty.

Glorian Rememberance TouTube

- Me, Edward Paul Donegan. My went along with the "grandfather's" wish of Ned Donegan as my nickname, knowing it was British, but also told me he didn't like the British component of it, I only know Ned Edward Donegan was NED and early on I thought that was my full name.

  When I read Trinity by Leon Uris, there was a certain someone name James who stuck the book in my hands

  I held my father's anti british views ranging from the britiish atrocieties around the world and during the American Revolution to fuedual societies generally.

- King Edward VIII and the Windsors. The faster King Edward VIII could distance himself from his out of wedlock children, from Nazi officials nieces, the better chance of him staying King. They, likely the CIA, were happy to move him out anyway for that and other reasons like speech timing impediment, writing dysgraphia making his signature exactly like mine, Edward Donegan's for instance. [Try to find "paperclip[ped] written language from King Edward VIII!] Part of MKULTRA was working with RCA Corporation and preparing for radio broadcasting which the King George V line was not ready for with the speech impediment.

- Glorian was humiliated by the poverty she lived under though from a singing family. She was abandoned by the Windsor side AND the VonTrapp side both who hid Kutcshera reproductive ties. She had to wear gunny sacks for clothes but was told by someone, likely her mother, if the fabric was clean it did not matter where the fabric came front, only dirty clothes were a bad social sign.

- Tom Donegan, bragged about maybe being a King some day and showing me the three lion Donegan crest as a child he was bragging about, and the faster a Nazi like my mother could be disavowed, the more regal he might look to others, and I think Barrack Obama Jr. and others shared that mission of embracing Windsors and disavowing Glorian and even disavowing me.

  Through the support of Identity Theft, the harassment of my identity such as getting a Drivers License fee paid allowed others in my identity to benefit under my mother's trust fund for me, and the person with my identity could therefore also victimize others such as minorities thus use my mother's trust fund for yet others the trust fund was not intended for.

- Jen Moore, defended me and my mother from the promoted theory that Glorian and I were of a psych line and horrible and mentally ill people, not at all like Obama, the Kelly brothers, Arnold Swcherteznger children or others, who DO have Glorian DNA.

She was using the pictures my brother Tom Donegan and Mark Wierness had been stealing from my mother to confirm the truth of the Kutschera and Prince Edward of Wales (King Edward VIII) story, and she believed SOME truth about my mother such as my mother being anti social, but that was Tom Donegan propaganda, Tom claiming my mother and I were bipolor psychotic delusional when there was no truth to that and only had the FOXP2 genes and its symptoms which were dry throat, speech regulation, etc.,

Jen Moore seems to reference me with a broken arm in Alington County Sherrifs detention, a situation where I was mouthing hard at some black Sherrifs/ Marshalls types harrassing me, and broking me arm against the cell window slot as I got a letter from my father stating he was suicidal. This was in the 2011 -2013 time frame.

MKULTRA

I believe that I have been radiologiacally (nuclear raw material) and X-Ray lethal exposure attacked by Directed Energy Weapons as the machines are called, not mere radioactive material and this is tied to Manhattan Project DNA history,

Ted Gunderson accused the FBI and others of poisonings of many in the USA including himself during a system called Gangsalking in which slander and other methods are used to bring about adverse consequences to victims in plausibly deniable ways..

Poisonings

US developing sensor to stop ‘havana syndrome’ energy attack retrieved from via Yahoo News source www.independent.co.uk/us and copied or modified to here

The US Department of Defence has been working on a wearable sensor that would detect invisible radio frequencies amid reports that a microwave weapon might be causing a mysterious illness in US personnel.

Reports first surfaced from Cuba in 2016 of attacks on US embassy personnel that caused significant brain injury. The mysterious illness, which was named the “Havana syndrome”, causes symptoms like debilitating headache

Although the cause of the illness remains under investigation, the DoD appeared to be taking it seriously by funding research into a wearable sensor that would detect these radio frequencies, the New Scientist reports.

This development comes after the mysterious illness that causes brain injuries has occurred in more than 130 spies, diplomats, soldiers and other US personnel overseas within the last five years, The New York Times reports, sparking concern within the Biden administration.

Something I susect.

DARPA and the Brain Initiative

When I lived in Clarendon Courts apartments in Arlington Virginia some heavy machinery was being rolled around above me late at night as I moved from place to place to sleep in my small apartment and the machine above would be moved to above my new location and then a transformer blew out in the neigbborhood and all power was lost, a black looking like Dr Cheltham was walking around Arlingon VA at that time (US Commissioned Corps medical)

At one time I was in a counseling session with Backy Harrison it felt warm and I remember thinking did she know if some DEW device was in place, she didn't seem alarmed or know of it but several events in Arlington convinced me they were in use.

The core system of the Gangstalk subversion of a person who the Government has targeted for ILLEGAL and SELF Serving Reasons is they manufacture through Espionage a reason which will be accepted then actu under that pretext, called Abuse of Process, using good process on bad facts. The system gives arbitrary SEEMING good use of State power to any executive law enforcement willing to plant evidence for the basis of asset seizures, just revenge or racial or social pretexts, or to get elite figures out of trouble by undermining critics of elite power. The Bullying is Street Theater in which it SEEMS like the evidence which was FAKED must be true because people ACT like it is true in front of others.

> The Story of Obama: All in The Company (Part I)
> by Wayne Madsen
>
> While George H.W. Bush and Richard "Dick" Chenney worked a CIA program Feb20 Nov 18 Dec 13 Aug 4 and at Seatle along with Jodi Foster, same dates, from 1961 to 1963) Tom Mboya, the Kenyan nationalist and labor leader who selected Obama, Sr. for a scholarship at the University of Hawaii. Obama, Sr., who was already married with an infant son and pregnant wife in Kenya, married Dunham on Maui on February 2, 1961 and was also the university's first African student. Dunham was three month's pregnant with Barack Obama, Jr. at the time of her marriage to Obama, Sr.

The CIA allegedly recruited Tom M'Boya in a heavily funded "selective liberation" programme to isolate Kenya's founding President Jomo Kenyatta, whom the American spy agency labelled as "unsafe."

[During George H.W. Bush vice-presidency starting Ricky Prado CIA work] In 1983-84, and contempoary with an NWO speech by Bush) Barack Obama worked as Editor at Business Internation Corporation, a Business International Corporation, a known CIA front company.

Mboya received a $100,000 grant for the airlift from the Kennedy Foundation after he turned down the same offer from the U.S. State Department, obviously concerned that direct U.S. assistance would look suspicious to pro-Communist Kenyan politicians who suspected Mboya of having CIA ties.

Obama, Sr., who left Hawaii for Harvard in 1962, divorced Dunham in 1964. Obama, Sr. married a fellow Harvard student, Ruth Niedesand, a Jewish-American woman, who moved with him to Kenya and had two sons. They were later divorced. Obama, Sr. worked for the Kenyan Finance and Transport ministries as well as an oil firm. Obama, Sr. died in a 1982 car crash

President Obama's own work in 1983 for Business International Corporation, a CIA front that conducted seminars with the world's most powerful leaders and used journalists as agents abroad, dovetails with CIA espionage activities conducted by his mother, Stanley Ann Dunham in 1960s post-coup Indonesia on behalf of a number of CIA front operations, including the East-West Center at the University of Hawaii, the U.S.

> Agency for International Development (USAID), and the Ford Foundation. Dunham met and married Lolo Soetoro, Obama's stepfather, at the East-West Center in 1965. Soetoro was recalled to Indonesia in 1965 to serve as a senior army officer and assist General Suharto and the CIA in the bloody overthrow of President Sukarno.

Too Well Connected, Rich, and In Charge of NSA CIA FBI Espionage to Fail. Foreward to the Five Book Series

"targeted Victims"

That is who Jen Moore was telling the true story of MKULTRA and its hidden identities for.

Already victims of Project Paperclip, MKULTRA, CIA Sidney Gottlieb programs, and other ethics be damned MKULTRA history, agencies, countries, NGOs and NGO interests continue their dark activities by further harassing already victims like my family, the Donegan family, me, my mother, and my father in particular.

Abuses in the Family Courts or Social Services system

A State-Actors a Long Con set location an impersonator of me , Shill working with other Shills, will accept responsibility for the Crisis Actors generated event, child porn, exploitive photos taken in my vicinity b Crisis Actos who create the crisis and act in a Braggadocio way towards me publicly that treats me as though I am suspected of the Crisis event.

This dopple of me is part of street criminal which have surrounded me, labeled me by their presence around me and around whatever apartment I rent a part of normal living, and these street criminals often both commit crimes while in my identity and proximity or with my property out of me control or on my property out of my control and then destroy the apartment complex premises, my property, and conspire against my rights and reputation slandering me for swath of destruction and crime.

An example of which is a motorcycle I bought which as doppled by a similar motorcycle parked outside the pool areas and children's area of gyms, a peeping to camera platform and then my motorcycle disappeared and was badly damaged, this patter repeating itself several times, non of what I did in owning or operating the motorcycle was anything but responsible motorcycling but my ownership of it and my usage of it was slandered then the slander acted upon by vigilantes who may have been the dopple motorcycle owners in their hunt for the real peeping tom motorcycle and my motorcycle was quite similar to theirs.

The public accepting the destruction of my property vigilantly is accepted in public by the public because something, the pretext for it, was falsified nevertheless the falsity is believed and accepted as a valid motive for abusive acts towards me.

Racially Motivated Position of Abusive Power alleging I am retarded white needed gay and non white care takers and they making abusive claims demanding I pay restitution to those the dopple me harmed and demands I not leave assisted living for only the providers can "coral" the dangerous Edward Donegan.

This is a pretext system for Conspiracy Against Rights and blames me for things in my vicinity or stages things out of my control such as who is in my field of view in public or my apartment common area or apartment when I am not in it the blame of which will be assigned to me via behavioral health care workers who are defending the community and my common area property from the crimes the street people are committing and billing my trust for the the damage done as though all of the chaos of street criminals is tied to me who is stigmatized as an intellectually disable person likely to do the damage to people who are “pornography” for the peeping tom in the same vicinity I am in.

In my particular case the Surveillance State (see https://www.surveillancesurvivors.org/targeted-publications.html) first surveils my life and my normal living acts such as ordering a 30 pound weight bar which is like a long rubber coated iron bar which can be used for curls and various other exercises. That is then after being surveiled is publicly skitted as something from assisted living as someone makes gestures in public that they are coaching my making such a purchase, thus eroding my claims to living normally, eroding that normal impression of normal me by in public pretentiously involving themselves as associated coaching to my living.

A Gangtalke in the Manhattan Beach area and at 2008 -2009 time frames, times of attacks on me and also attacks on Ted Gunderson who was at one time the FBI Special Agent in Charge for Los Angeles and Dallas Texas FBI Field Offices, where I was born and and Donegan family friends still are Ted Gunderson radiologically attacked between 2008 and his death in 2011. Ed Donegna hospitalized in North Carolina with radiation burns 2009 but told it was in his imagination, not real.

A person not me and not known to me on Rudy2s Blog describes it this way. *

> "I just wanted mention that I have been used by NSA for several years now, listening too their voices and dealing with the control of my career. I was kept from finding work in 2008-2009 and subsequently lost my condo to foreclosure. This was after my divorce and my ex-brother in law was a Long Beach DEA Agent. This helped my ex-wife get 80-20 custody of my child and allowed her to move out of state. I'm a chronic pain sufferer that tore both my shoulders and for 14 years the doctors focused on my C6 and C7 spinal damage instead of doing a full exam. I've been going thru right back shoulder pain in my shoulder blade and shooting nerve pain to my neck for over 14 years. It cost my career, my marriage and sent me down a financial down fall. Now that I'm on Obama care, my new Neurologist took the time to examine both shoulders and found rotator cuff tears in both shoulders. So I've been on pain meds forever and had a bad accident in 2011 > that damaged my spinal cord. They have falsified the doctors records that have missing info, altered the police report.” *

Nonie Lee Chaffin, 87 (closest friend of Glorian Donegan and close friend of Ed Donegan)

Mostly Manhattan Beach area but some connections to Seattle Washington Nona is wife of a TWA pilot friend of James Paul Donegan as TWA pilots living in Manhattan Beach in 1961 and follow up atomic testing over time.

Lived In Redondo Beach CA, Thousand Oks CA, Seattle WA, Manhattam Beach CA

aka Nona Lee Chaffin, N Chaffin, Chaffin Nona, Nona L Chaffin

Iama TI on Facebook

From Iama TI: Hello my friends. It looks like I have gone to the next level of torture. Mind control. My dreams have been controlled by the evil one. This house is under attack from the energy weapons. I can see that the others are also suffering, but they don't have a clue. Please pray for us. These people are so evil, they don't care about the people they are harming. This is the worst thing possible. Besides the energy attacks, they are gassing the room. I can see the film on the mirrors, and even on the windows of the cars in the garage. Lord please have mercy on us. I am so glad to have friends who understand and are there to listen to me, and know exactly what I am going through. God Bless us all who suffer everyday for this evil crime against Humanity.

2101 N Westlake Avenue #102 Seattle, WA 98109 Owner: NONA L THE CHAFFIN TRUST Building value: $209,000 Built 1984 Land value: $101,000 Total value for property: $310,000 Assessments for tax year: 2016

Read more: http://www.city-data.com/king-county/N/N-Westlake-Avenue-13.html

Age 87 Also Known As Nona Choffin, Nonie Chaffin Lives At 231 Montana Way, Los Osos, CA 93402 Used to Live At 2101 Westlake Ave N Unit 102 Seattle, WA 98109 Related To Elita J Chaffin, Adian Marie Lenz

Rahayu Nurmaida Soetoro (born 1984

> Occupy Seattle: Seven Protesters, Five Questions By Ian Duncan November 22, 2011

Ted Gunderson, this guy, and me all stalked as my mother dies 2011 vomiting greenish horror and I believe she was slipped a radaictive element by a nurse and awfully I argued with her to trust the nurse but my mother thought the pils were wrong and she was right as was usually true and I am so sorry.

While I Edward Donegan worked at Wells Fargo and during a normal small meth drug by I was “introduced to” (the fbi term for a Confidential Informant coming into a person’s vicinity and contact) a strange creepy child porn type psycho who I kicked of my car. I was never blamed for anything, but a bad vibe surrounded me and I was fired from Wells Fargo and I always suspected he was a double of me and his drug addled child abuse characteristic was misdirected to me who was with in in my car at one time in a $25 dollar meth deal.

In Coprus Christ Texas I decided to watch The Kings Speech movie I checked out from the library. My mother and I saw that together and we talked a lot about War War II and this event afterward and during our lives. We would go to a movie at Shirlington, any other place, have dinner, and do a few things out.

The original police call seemed pretty clear a nut job crackhead from unit #45 had stolen it and was installing it in Unit 45 where sometimes they claim I am in. The subsequent police calls and police reports were simply re written that the theft in someway involved my sliding patio door to the other side of the living room, which it did not. I heard the thief come into the Kitchen hall doorway area and as I entered the living room I saw the thief in my living room and leaving through the hallway door.

That record, like the lease agreements, my rent payment records, the diagrams of the building and unit numbers are all altered and all the time setup those who are distinct from my identity but confused by various things like similar apartments, similar cloths, or stolen property or stolen wifi use my identity in defamatory acts I and my trust fund will be retaliated against in Abuse of Process Conspiracy Against Rights.

Is a black man from skid row planting child porn on me interested in me shouting about how blacks are criminals in the studying racial belief systems, or is it so the child porn can me look bad and a black hero claim a moral high ground of defending against, me, or is it faking injury to fake claims against my trst fund?

This book asserts than in a complex slight of hand my genome will seem worhtless bcause I could not get a job in Austin high tech compapnies or mingle normally, on the other hand, while the genome under my life through it was fruitless, aggressors will claim it for themselves and live fruitfully under it by claiming I owe it to them.

That seems a logical contradiction if a consistant view of my genome is required in the system and one is available. I have a good genome, suppressing it in my and by slight of hand moving it to others completes the accounting for what wsa done illegally long ago, now the paper work follows.

A genome tax from rich to poor is how this is sold, the “Tax” being for unethically photographing the poor, or the non white, which I am not doing but a person near me but out of frame of the ominsicent camera is photographing the tot.

The assertion against me thought that I did is popular for the hoax allegation will benefit the poor and further social justice.

The entire cottage industry claim of minorities abused by whites a or a white male has always been lucrative and popular and I have always fought it saying it was just deep pockets claims against whites in hopes the claims result in property transfers.

Vocabulary.com retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

A CIA backed mechanism for this the FBI NSA CIA seem unwilling to investgate is the Tia Marilie of ARC of Northern Virginia (Advocarcy for Retarded Children) took over GLorian DSonegan's will of 333K dollars or so. Rather than use the money to assit me she used the aurhortity of trust adminsitrator to hinder my life diminuizing my rights, health and opportunities and reputation as she sent impersonator of me, retarded, to confess to Dominatrixs that real Ed DOnegan was bad, and harmed autistics and the retarded, and now owes her (Tia Marsili's) Austims INstitute or retarded children Ed Doneggan gene therapy assets not available from her since her own child has autism and my family is autism free.

Rikky Epstein trust director and likely tied to Jeffery Espstein is likely part of the CIA FBI NSA DARPA backed brain program genes cartel.

Putting-out system from Cottages retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The putting-out system is a means of subcontracting work. Historically, it was also known as the workshop system and the domestic system. In putting-out, work is contracted by a central agent to subcontractors who complete the work in off-site facilities, either in their own homes or in workshops with multiple craftsmen. It was used in the English and American textile industries, in shoemaking, lock-making trades, and making parts for small firearms from the Industrial Revolution until the mid-19th century. After the invention of the sewing machine in 1846, the system lingered on for the making of ready-made men's clothing.[1]

The domestic system was suited to pre-urban times because workers did not have to travel from home to work, which was quite unfeasible due to the state of roads and footpaths, and members of the household spent many hours in farm or household tasks. Early factory owners sometimes had to build dormitories to house workers, especially girls and women. Putting-out workers had some flexibility to balance farm and household chores with the putting-out work, this being especially important in winter.

The development of this trend is often considered to be a form of proto-industrialization, and remained prominent until the Industrial Revolution of the 19th century.

In a call to the FBI from camping in the Flaming George area I asserted to the FBI a system of fake claims Peonage was being used manufactring a residency indebtedness I did not owe.

I did not wish to live in Neuces Texas, I did not want to be provided child porn, or pay restitution for it, not having even solicited or nor my having manfactured it, but the "cottage" of Nueces and other actors theatend arrest of assault if I left, and my trust pays for modeling of tot or teens I do not want but are provided.

The FBI who shake down my trust as a white person oweing the minority community kept bating me “what are you calling me about that has to do with TEENS?

I guees Teens and Peonage each have an “E” sound in them, like ordering fries is like ordering small fries.

Vocabulary.com retrieved from Legal Information Institute and copied or modified to here

> Peonage
>
> Notwithstanding its early acknowledgment in the Slaughter-House Cases that peonage was comprehended within the slavery and involuntary servitude proscribed by the Thirteenth Amendment,24 the Court has had frequent occasion to determine whether state legislation or the conduct of individuals has contributed to re-establishment of that prohibited status. Defined as a condition of enforced servitude by which the servitor is compelled to labor against his will in liquidation of some debt or obligation, either real or pretended, peonage was found to have been unconstitutionally sanctioned by an Alabama statute, directed at defaulting sharecroppers, which imposed a criminal liability and subjected to imprisonment farm workers or tenants who abandoned their employment, breached their contracts, and exercised their legal right to enter into employment of a similar nature with another person.

Black Budgets and Slush Funds out of FBI and other claims about White Supremacism illegal acts create cell funding for Cartel interests in quasi state causes, like, nominally, fighting white supremacism by pre-emption, but the cash flow out of assets seizures from an alt right person like myself Ed Donegan are fraudulent use of Espionage cells which pretexts their acts by the appearance of a person being a threat by subversion of the persons reputation before the public or courts.

Select Jen Moore Videos retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

In short these few video titles and summaries tell the story of an illegally funded NWO Soctish Rites system of for profit profiteerign politcal power plays of just the type Lawrence Odonall hated, Rockefeller - Bush - Clinton Rothschild types

Occult:Aliester Crowley, Thelma, Book of the Law, L.Ron Hubbard, rituals

In the face of Fascims CIA funded research inncludes recruitment of Humanism and Universalism which could ideologically pre-empt racial war and racial sentiments

The 3rd Reich & "The Artist" Infiltration into US Politics

I think Maria Kutchsera and stage show. A Nazi at 8 years old "makes it into the United States"

Indoctrination, theaters, the Hitler Youth

OSS to CIA, black budgets, Operation [project] Paperclip, & [MKULTRA] and Hidden Identities of bastard children

MK Ultra, Mind control, Pedophelia blackmail, secret societies, Jesuits

How these people were smuggled around and given new identities

Albert Pike, Freemasonry, & the Justice System

He remained Sovereign Grand Commander for the rest of his life, devoting a large amount of his time to developing the rituals of the order. He published a book called Morals and Dogma of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry in 1871

His writings included masonry plans to maneuver nations and in strategic conflicts and match ups produce word war outcomes which fit masonry ideals and goals.

Video 7: Baby Factories for Stem Cells. Manafort trial

Manafort moves into Trump campaign as he joins longstanding USA CIA policy of drug deals and drug trafficking in cartel markets

Video 6: Ukraine, Manafort, Clinton Foundation & Child Trafficking

Highly complex world economics including NADRA Pakistani intelligence assistance in espionage and forged identity and other support

For clarity Imran Awan's brother Abid/Omar Awan also a Pakistani Spy in the House was married to Natalia Sova and lived with Imran had shell companies, etc. She is directly connected to

Ukraine Nadra Bank and money laundering, weapons, drug sells and worse

Child Trafficking & Pornography. What are your children watching? [Gambit children shake down a look alike confusion with real Ed's identity]

Churches use children to get claims against others (me) and thus fund-raise for their own church against an atheist. Under claims of "Save the world" via our way of raising money or assets by sacrificing our children to alleged abusers

How the elite live in DC … [cartel econoics, cartel profits cartel cars and houses]

For the big names of big politics they keep themselves in charge and in profitable business and keep themselves political powerhouses and multi-genrational power including coming out of retirement back into government for second caresses..

The misuses of this system of stopping terrorism just turned into "who can we call a terrorist today?" (and thus who can we deprive of assets and harass) and has now deteriorated in elites ridding themselves of enemies under a scheme of vilifying enemies of the elite and diminishing the accusers of the elite or earlier misconduct by the elite.

The creation of mercenary cells looking to rob assets of potentially locratuve targets for exploitation arose fro a loose even self preserving use of espionage by the darkets parts of UW espionate history and as the elements of the cells of contractors and mercenaries has reached further out of regular actors the abuses under the guise of counter espionage has turned into the long feared Surveillance State of “Official Bikini Inspectors” patrolling beaches with cameras.

In espionage terms slush funds are created of “pad money” corrupt police shake down criminals (or even law abiding citizens) and use for personal asset gains of the Law Enforcement including funding their own Law Enforcement Intelligence Unit looking for the fake Official Bikini Inspectors which were not therefor authorized to do so.

Black Budget Kill The black Budget Opposition Away Kill The Opposition Away

Human radiation experiments retrieved from Main article: Human radiation experiments and copied or modified to here

Researchers in the United States have performed thousands of human radiation experiments to determine the effects of atomic radiation and radioactive contamination on the human body, generally on people who were poor, sick, or powerless.[61] Most of these tests were performed, funded, or supervised by the United States military, Atomic Energy Commission, or various other U.S. federal government agencies.

The experiments included a wide array of studies, involving things like feeding radioactive food to mentally disabled children or conscientious objectors, inserting radium rods into the noses of schoolchildren, deliberately releasing radioactive chemicals over U.S. and Canadian cities, measuring the health effects of radioactive fallout from nuclear bomb tests, injecting pregnant women and babies with radioactive chemicals, and irradiating the testicles of prison inmates, amongst other things.

Much information about these programs was classified and kept secret. In 1986 the United States House Committee on Energy and Commerce released a report entitled American Nuclear Guinea Pigs : Three Decades of Radiation Experiments on U.S. Citizens.[62] In the 1990s Eileen Welsome's reports on radiation testing for The Albuquerque Tribune prompted the creation of the Advisory Committee on Human Radiation Experiments by executive order of president Bill Clinton in order to monitor government tests; it published results in 1995. Welsome later wrote a book called The Plutonium Files.

Unethical human experimentation in the United States
From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

The system of funding cells o mercenary based espionage units which can seize assets and use in political or politically motivated acts is one which can be compared to Southern slavery in which assets, labor production, even children of slaves were claimed as property by those who were wealthy enough to fund armies with the economic agrarian economic system to keep the system going.

For a cell to be able to operate it needs both funding and legitimacy and its fundamentals which target assets of value for exploitation rather than legitimatize penalty create the organizational capability including the failed intellectual or factual pretexts the systme of force utilizes to gain control of assets and use criminal methodology to hide troublesome factual matters or use criminal methods to eliminate operation opponents.

Thus the factual and theoretical basis of the operation can succeed if the elimination of cell motives and methods can be hidden which is the "dark" area cells without regulation or oversight can succeed in since improper asset transfers meet no effective opposition and obstacles are removed giving rinse to possible supporters replacing those who have been silenced.

It is not necessary the cell operate on a legitimate basis. It is necessary no true criticism or understanding of the facts underlying the program exist nor its truth ever be revealed, the true goal in my situation I think is a combined suppression of Life, Liberty, and Property so effective the shreds of my life left will not give any clues to my native intelligence, education level, or social capabilities because hostile roughians simply harass being out of the home by bully acts defective enough to cause fights but not directly defamatory enough to take legal action against.

Non uniformed police can pick a fight in any bar about who had the bar stool first, etc., and it is a bad idea to find out after you punched someone it was a cop and the stranger next to the cop is cop too but denies it and claims to be neutral.

The economics I assert of Mercenary cell operation is that a motive of profitablity within Blackwater contracting can be used to target anyone who has something of value and I need to talk of Elevator Repair people here.

The Superpower of an Elevator Engingeer is a Commpany ID that can get access to many diffeent building elevators, for good or evil while the EE is working on the elevator.

Espionage teams can use devices deisgned to covertly disrupt the guilty such as surveil or fake swith telephone calls to wrong parteis, etc., and use that super power against a law abiding person the espionage unit WANTS something fron, and will sieuze and the evidence they themselves plant.

Effectively Rouge acts of abusive entanglement by Espionage of an Asset Possessor can become a profitable NGO like war cause against the asset possessor if it is falsely politicized or falsely branded as part of a war on terror or terrorism.

And high ranking politician may laucn Espionage units on any such witch hunts against their Atheist opposition or nayone else IF they are powerful enough in government.

The theory I am positing: The “New World Order” is based in Vatican and OSS now CIA plans to first test in Obama mixing of genome from blacks and whites (Birther conspiracy theory, testing Sydney Gottlieb MKULTRA program use of Windsor DNA (Glorian Donegan of Navy rescued daughters of King Edward VIII) with the FOXP2 speech and written language impediment of stuttering, etc., and the Kings Daughters Hospital of Norfolk Virginia.

A kill list of my own genome while also getting int on the black market really ends a family line problematic for the CIA and big name political families who have something they need to hid, the truth of my genome, the genome itself on a kill list seizure list.

First using 1920s illegitimate children of King Edward VIII in the US to mix with Malcom X and create the Manchurian Candidate (web search for existing theory on that, also in my book) then testing world designer baby programs to bring up world IQ while also denying world IQ variance exists is the long term deep state goal.

Larry MacDonald had the information at Barrack Obama burst onto the scene in 1982 as the Presbyterian workers like Mama Lois” Anderson created test baby, and trying to out the plan in the Anchorage Alaska area where the alleged mother of Barrack Obama lived, Seattle and elsewhere, also Boeing Corp of Seattle, and Seattle World’s Fair of JFK and the Windsor’s (Also the murder of Thomas C Wales to cover all of this up.

In fact it was Cuba and others genomically connected to the Madrid to Capetown cline who wished world IQ increased with the MKULTRA Program of which Obama was the Feb 20 test subject of discussed later and the House Camelot House Windsor meeting at that very 21st Century Expo world’s fair the Malcom X side was simultaneously following as the records now indicate, preserved from that time.

This has lead to organized crime deep state of covering up the DNA RFLP trail of family databases through Deep State black market racketeering designer babies on genes not disclosed to the general public, but made available to elite buyers to fund the Deep State, and this is the blackmail racket run by Jeffery Esptienn VI Brain Foundation, Mark Epstien, Psychiatrist, and Rikki Epstien, illegally reselling faked rights to my genome in a 2nd Prohibition Era bootlegging scheme, bootlegging DNA laundered through asset seizure and adult entertainers “in charge of DNA” and bribing impersonators of me ‘to justice.”

Even without RFLP the FOXP2 gene is visible in me and my mother. This is especially bad for the Illuminati/CIA. It runs in one family and one family only, the family used on Feb 20 1961 to fertilize Obama with Glorian Donegan Ovum (using Malcom X sperm) and Edward Paul Donegan, me, with James Paul Donegan my father.

KE Family Line	Glorian Donegan FOXP2 symptom	Edward Paul Donegan FOXP2 symptom	Manufact bizzarely defamato evidence including faking I am a peeper	Women incited to run from me, others incited to housing, job, pscy eval, other vigilatism behind the scenes where I can not refute it.	End the line, criminal harassment under color of law

It is this organized crime Deep State of which I and others have been a victim.

Though my father and I have intensely hated Christianity in the world I can not stop their misreprsentation, and their conspiracy against me rights.

FOXP2 is nearly identical to ADHD if not an extreme form of it.

I suspect MKULTRA is Man Kind Ultra

Chatter is the hyper rambly nature and fidgeting

Artichoke is the dry throat and swallowing problems, also maybes stuttering

Monarch is the tie to KE London family of KE VIII

Paperclip is the written piece of choppy writing, graphically, and dropping words or conjugations or clauses.

Cryotome is Feb 20 IVF of Ed Donegan (and Barrack Obama) from Glorian Donegan ovum, James P Donegan, atomic radiation testing subject for affects of radiation, Malcom X for Obama, by CIA Gotlieb to fight in lower Soviet Union against Russia as Muslim. Dec 13 the birthday of my mother adopted into Dupont Family Bishopville Sout Carolina. These are also the Vatican/Opus Dei Divinci Codes, going along with the Spanish Opus Dei stone mason Illuminati El Greco hand sign.

https://www.bibliotecapleyades.net/sociopolitica/sociopol_obama163.htm

1st Cousin or closer	~100%
2nd Cousin	99%
3rd Cousin	~90%
4th Cousin	~45%
5th Cousin	~15%
6th Cousin and beyond	under 5%

Family Relationship
Probability of detecting

Jen Moore would later reveal, as they threatened her with death, what I later found out, and I think what Holder, Machen, Rosenstein and his CIA wife keep secret on behalf of the the National Institute of Health/PHS which works in the prisons.

And why Tom Donegan and Mark Weirness fought all their lives against me and Glorian Donegan, our mother.

This turns out to the history, the politics, and the profitability of my mother's genome, likely his mother too, Glorian Donegan, only now found out by others.

The sexually, religiously, and international law human rights abusive scheme Jen Moore described as Pizzagate is a repugnant form of black markets human trafficking violating religion, reproductive, and other rights in abusive conduct.

Homeboy a migrant farm worker type from Nueces County Texas exploits Homegirl, female of the same demographic, or a white underage female from a Nueces County church group.

Homeboy has made Homegirl is first pornography.

His second porno is a white female dominatrix who thinks Home Girl Matters and will punish Homeboy as Ed Donegan, beause White Female thinks, is socially engineered to think Ed Donegan exploited Home Girl who was near Ed Donegan while Ed Donegan had a smart phone, shopping cart, gym bag in use.

Thus to leave Ed Donegan out of the fun of punishing the exploitation of Homegirl (by agreeing to the rights of Ed Donegan's DNA) Homeboy, husband of Homegirl, undergoes "the punishment" under command of the riding crop.

In fact I was the real pornography of all them, they cant get away from me and they want to "have my baby" getting all or parts of my genome by forgeries fo rights to my genome when it is used to settle debts to others never my real liability in the first place.

The CIA operation of Gottlieb and others using my genome in MKULTRA is long running, but fake papwers as to the rights of my genome to harmed communities" are being faked.

I believe Jeffery Epstein and Ghislaine Maxwell ("socialite") recruited by Donald Barr at Columbia University Manhattan Project setup this CIA DIA FBI system of Brain Foundation genes money laundering investigated by Micheal Thomas Paine Moore and Jen Moore.

Heavy.com Donald Barr: 5 Fast Facts You Need to Know

[image]

Brain Research and Brain Genes for sale from the CIA on the black market

In the Times obit, it was reported that while at Columbia, Donald Barr studied mathematics and anthropology at Columbia, and after graduating in 1941, joined the Army and served with the Office of Strategic Services in Washington and Europe. After the war, he returned to Columbia to teach, earned his masters degree and then completed coursework for a Ph.D

The Ties That Bind Jeffrey Epstein, William Barr & Donald Trump - reporter.com

The Jet Age is the Missile Age because they are supersonic flying liquid rocket engines in MKULTRA

Liquid Propellant

John Whiteside Parsons was an American rocket engineer, chemist, and Thelemite occultist. Associated with the California Institute of Technology, Parsons was one of the principal founders of both the Jet Propulsion Laboratory and the Aerojet Engineering Corporation. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia connection points culturally

Cal Tech, Parsons, MKKULTRA, Transhumanism as Asia US

Rockets, and MKULTRA

Staged! Arranged Events. POLICE show badge, say stand THERE!

My father raised me to study science and I am an atheist. This is being roadblocked in me and and copted by others.

Inside the Griffith at a Foucault Pendulum like exhibit I was studying the science, math, concepts, and Los Griffith Aerospace history of it all and teenage buttock poised the entire experience, and seemed to make me a poisonous presence to the location.

The first true awareness of self I have or remmber as having was my father in Pennsylvania explaing the Foucult pendulum swing and how it was the Earth in Space and our movements, inertia, etc., as the Earth moved and the pendulum was on a steady vector.

I began to wonder who I was in all of this and heard myself thinking and had one of those ‘I think therefore I am” moments.

Laying-In-Wait for me to photograph Hollywood sign.

Bad Optics at locations I am ambushed at make me look bad, make it look bad I was at that location. They high power camera of others equates to the low power camera in my hand.

Staged events staged in public

The gently swaying Foucault Pendulum in the W.M. Keck Foundation Central Rotunda has long been a visitor favorite since the building opened in 1935. One of the largest such devices in the world, the fully restored pendulum is actually an elegant scientific instrument which demonstrates the Earth’s rotation.

The 240-pound bronze ball, suspended by a cable 40 feet long, swings in a constant direction while the Earth turns beneath it. The pendulum is mounted to a bearing in the rotunda ceiling that does not turn with the building as it rotates with the Earth. A ring magnet at the bearing gives a little tug on each swing of the pendulum to keep the pendulum in motion. As the day passes, the pendulum knocks over pegs set up in the pendulum pit and indicates the progress of rotation.

The gently swaying Foucault Pendulum in the W.M. Keck Foundation Central Rotunda has long been a visitor favorite since the building opened in 1935. One of the largest such devices in the world, the fully restored pendulum is actually an elegant scientific instrument which demonstrates the Earth's rotation.

The 240-pound bronze ball, suspended by a cable 40 feet long, swings in a constant direction while the Earth turns beneath it. The pendulum is mounted to a bearing in the rotunda ceiling that does not turn with the building as it rotates with the Earth. A ring magnet at the bearing gives a little tug on each swing of the pendulum to keep the pendulum in motion. As the day passes, the pendulum knocks over pegs set up in the pendulum pit and indicates the progress of rotation.

At the pendulum and elsewhere the exhibit was photomombed to my camera and the camera of others with sexuallized teenagers. It seems that is what I was doing there, seeking teenagers to photograph.

The Foucault pendulum

The Foucault pendulum which was displayed for many years in the Smithsonian's National Museum of American History was removed in late 1998 to make room for the Star-Spangled Banner Preservation Project and there are no current plans to reinstall it.

Some people have built their own pendulums; you don't need a ceiling 50 feet high. If you are interested in building your own, you might like to go to your library and read two articles from Scientific American magazine: pages 115-124 of the June 1958 issue and pages 136-139 of the February 1964 issue.

The Foucault Pendulum is named for the French physicist Jean Foucault (pronounced “Foo-koh), who first used it in 1851 to demonstrate the rotation of the earth. It was the first satisfactory demonstration of the earth’s rotation using laboratory apparatus rather than astronomical observations.

If you start a Foucault Pendulum swinging in one direction, after a few hours you will notice that it is swinging in a quite different direction. How does this happen?

Does this man I call the Left Globe Photographer have a scar on the right side of his head? As I do? He is probably off to see an adult adult-entertainer. When he does he will be caught with the teen or tot porn, and he will have to pay up or be arrested, and when he does pay to the victim, the rights to MY genome forged by his signature will be laundered into the black market for genomics.

Among those getting the genes rights are the religious groups who claim I need their help with my peeping at females problem, and who represent me and pay off my misconduct for my alleged Heathen or Atheist misconduct against female victims.

Jen Moore has described this as a stolen organ scenario. The Left Globe Photographer, perhaps blacked out from too many drugs and partying, and wakes up to that adult entertainer he hired legitimatly but gives up to blackmail on the creepy photos he is caught with.

Veronica Hoffman was used for this as later died after harassment from that same criminal network, perhaps her loyalty to the network came into doubt and she could have compromised the operation if she was believed.

Kiva Lender Veronica Hoffman

Apr 1, 2007

Location:	Studio City, CA, United States
Occupation:	trainer
I loan because:	I can :)
About me:	I operate a small correctional facility where I teach men the virtues of treating women with the respect and adoration they deserve.
Check out:	http://www.myspace.com/mistressveronica
Member Since:	Apr 1, 2007

Send message | Send a Kiva Card

Shaking down an unamed fool, Fools
Day, for his peeping at a pool
Kiva and foreign immigres benefit

For instance at KinkBnB I, repeat I, was framed as a shower peeker (like at 42nd Street) but an impersonators, in both cases, faking my voice print, will be blackmailed, not me.

Sexual Misconduct as Poison Pill to normal Civil Life (knwledge, library, tourism, health and fitness is called K data)

Ambushing a person , me, by staging crossfire of cameras in arranged people at scene

But for the crisis my rights would be enforceable, but since a Crisis (manufactured by Crisis Actors) was present, my rights die under Law Enformcement Exception, and thus I can not enforce my most basic and protected rights.

Roadblocking, Disruption of Continuous Event Paths

Try this as the Young Monk says the Old Monk is too old for that lady.

This works especially well if the young monk talks negatively about the old monk who deserves respect.

	river

Road Blocking

Two Monks and a Woman - a Zen Lesson

Try this as the Young Monk says the Old Monk is too old for that lady.

Black monks, obsessed with white ass, blame the white monk buy placing white ass in front of him. The repercussion the scam intends is that I am separated from white women who then surround the Black Monks

https://www.instagram.com/p/ByG2Qm9A4mn/ and https://www.kindspring.org/story/view.php?sid=63753

	Roadblock Tree In Road	Identity Thief	Original Path now is now under way with identities switched out
Identity Thief (black male)
Original Person did not move forward

Road Blocking

This is the Conspiracy Against My Own Sexual and Association Rights.

Keeping me single the next available administrator of my DNA non-white administrators embezzling the genome value to non-whites

FALSE FLAGS, BUNKO, AND THE TRIANGLE OF MEANINGLESSNESS There are two gangstalks. White women in my vicinity are approached away from me and incited on most likely the evidence manufactured in my vicinity and asked to participate in vigilantism or behave as dupes in my vicinity, leaving my vicinity.

They may also be photographed surreptitiously by those impersonating me, a false flag operation.

Or the impersonator of me will make terrorist or foreign intel comments to the erotic entertainer and then IQ related or other genes related to retarded children advocacy can be seized under the NDAA or FISA Court activities. I believe this tied to my family genome, disrupting my sexuality in the U.S. and planting me DNA into non-whites.

This scheme appears to have been created for non-whites to use impersonators of me to give my DNA to non-whites which I would not, to Christian groups which I would not, and for Non European groups which I would not, thus replacing me in the bedroom to force different racial, religious, national, and ethnic partners for use of my DNA.

Nothing could be more offensive to Human Rights law in the US or in International law.

The scheme uses covert operations in a scheme I have called ErosX. I meet someone or an near someone on the street and an impersonator of me will later in some way pursue contact, perhaps electronically, with that person.

Circumstantially it will appear I continued or started along a path of contact with that woman or teen. Something will be said to me which I begin to detect as a pattern and reject.

For instance for a while at normal points of sale where I am doing normal purchases an unwanted layer is added on, a claim code words spoken to me which have no meaning to me supposedly add an extra transaction onto.

For instance for a while people said “Happy Birthday” to me out of the blue, unexpected, and low and behold, an impersonator of me was later detected in San Francisco getting “pizza” for my birthday in San Francisco when I was in Texas.

Other times people asked me “how many CC is your motorcycle?” or said “we are out of ice” or used the world “hon” to me.

These circumstantial things when I am out and about doing normal transactions during the day are poisoned with meaning they do not have by impersonators agreeing to the meanings I reject, thus forging a a chain of events I am circumstantially tied to.

This is called “cutouts” in cover ops where my non-participation in the scheme is cut out and a person’s (an impersonator of me) willing participation, away from me, is cut into the case file supported by corrupt law enforcement our counter-intel people.

This scheme has been used on property as well including cars and housing and much of has links to Chris Lloyd of Orinda, California, not to be confused with Christ Lloyd the sci fi actor.

Chris Lloyd and Lenny Schaefer and a few others took me to a massage parlor on my 18th birthday in Berkley, CA, Chris Lloyd is tied to genetics research, and Chris Lloyd has a daughter working for Genetech, and Chris Lloyd has made circumstantial physical property comments to me such as house and car purchases as if I had “approved” them when he merely mentioned them without and substantive meaning.

In college Chris Lloyd, I, and others could purchase cocaine from the food cafeteria of University of Oregon by purchasing a candy bar and paying $26 or so and a quarter gram would be passed under the candy bar handed across the counter, if we said the code word at purchase.

Google Books Bombing

Planted Subjects

These planted subjects in the vicinity of Smartphone use will be zoom photographed by someone, and my DNA will pay off the allege affonse of mine to the black or gay who caought me.

The second use, if not the primary use, is to allege I am the peeper at female buttocks that these blacks and gays are really doing.

Mere innuendo towards me points the finger until I challenge them to accuse me of anything, often in shouting matches, and they say there is no accusation against me and nothing is going on.

Sexuallizing children disgusts me, and adult women have a reflexive rage against people who do this, and affinity towards though who investigate this.

Thousand and thousands of time, and no recourse against this. Oh those brave cops are too busy to investigate this.

Cement Walking Path	Turn to TMOBILE my frame right turn to take	GPS to TMOBILE to the right of this scene is the subject I am using my GPS on the smart phone for, the right turn up to Tmobile at the path
buttocks Zoom photog to my left out of m frame	Me	right of paved path
KOMPROMAT photo attributed to me, used behind my back, piggy backed to my legitimate phone usage	My real GPS phone use

Sure, I have been photo bombed, whenever I take a regular photo it is alleged I am a sex fiend because they bomb the

photo with a sexualized tot, etc.,

I cal this “Guilt Added Photograph” where they add guilt allege to me of my normal ordinary act.

Thy also GPS Bomb me and Googel Books Bomb me. Whenever I used the smartphone for anything they added in a tot or teen in front of me. Even though there was no camera in use, just MapMyWalk, Google Maps Directions, Google Play Books, or anything else, taking a call, seing and SMS message, the screen to my face was met with a tot or something like that in front of me.

At first I though this was to disrupt my ability to read by breaking my concentration, thus making me look like an idiot, a retarded person.

Later I would discover the photo SOMEONELSE took of me with the screen pointing to my face would be a prop for them as they preteneded to be me, then, as confronted, confess to filming that tot, etc.,

In fact the prop of me with the screen to my face would match THEIR photo of the tot THEY took, also in evidence at asset seizure, so why look closely at my Google Books screen?

Social Sabotage

Also, for social sabotage of me, it makes sense that a photo of me with a smartphone in my hand near a tot or teen could be used to indicate to OTHERS with me not present, that the photo of me using my cellphone [for Google Books] was acatually me using my smartphone for photography.

Chris Lloyd writes Edward Paul Donegan

> Christopher Lloyd
> Jan 6, 2014, 11:50 AM
> to me
>
> In reading this further. I assume he is the executor of your mothers will. With that job comes the responsibility to EXECUTE the will.
>
> He has not and he may attempt now to set up the trust to 1.maintain control. And 2. Attempt to keep the courts for getting upset with him.
>
> Knowing the acrimonious relationship of the two of you your mothers wishes would be better served my someone that will treat your needs in a non adversary manner.

Removing adult women I am interested in, planting tots I am not interested in, then saying they are protecting the tot I can not get rid of, including when masturbating adult females porn in my own bedroom none other than I have permission to.

My blackout curtains were pulled shut completely and I had consenting adult BDSM porn on, headphones. I saw something sort of shadowing a few minutes after setting up the laptop. More vague silloute shadows a moment later. They had planted a kid outside my window, I repeatedl complain abou, them make a pretense of watching out for me, all on my property illegally.

Adult female BDSM Porn on the laptop, , they photo bomb this with tots shouting in, etc., as tresspass into my home.

This same pattern was round the clock in the gym planted women getting in front of my path, then, men in plain clothes, jumping between me and gym women, all the while saying nothing was going on.

James Comey that medical asset seizures, if being conducted by DIA and Flynn US Marines or others at the Bikini Beach Teen White Chick Bullwip Centcom research center isn't ethical, especially if the Edward Donegan there isn't even the real Edward Donegan DaAssRaper is raping genetically.

Who is Who in the Chart Below

Dead Bernie

A homeless person such as "Donald" or Bobby Courtney impersonating me, or Jim volcelck or William Ruiz.

FRAUD

Top US Federal Judge Assassinated After Threat To Obama Agenda

The European Union Times

Top US Federal Judge Assassinated After Threat To Obama Agenda http://www.eutimes.net/2011/01/top-us-federal-judge-assassinated-after-threat-to-obama-agenda/

According to this SVR report, Federal Judge John McCarthy Roll was the Chief Judge for the United States District Court for the District of Arizona who this past Friday issued what is called a "preliminary ruling" in a case titled "United States of America v. $333,520.00 in United States Currency et al" [Case Number: 4:2010cv00703 Filed: November 30, 2010] wherein he stated he was preparing to rule against Obama's power to seize American citizens money without clear and convincing evidence of a crime being committed.

The case being ruled on by Judge Roll, this report continues, was about bulk cash smuggling into or out of the United States that the Obama administration claimed was their right to seize under what are called Presidential Executive Orders, instead of using existing laws. The Obama administration used as support for their claim before Judge Roll, the SVR says, the seizing of all American citizens' gold, in 1933, by President Franklin D. Roosevelt's signing of Executive Order 6102, which was ruled at the time to be constitutional.

According to this SVR report, Federal Judge John McCarthy Roll was the Chief Judge for the United States District Court for the District of Arizona who this past Friday issued what is called a "preliminary ruling" in a case titled "United States of America v. $333,520.00 in United States Currency et al" [Case Number: 4:2010cv00703 Filed: November 30, 2010] wherein he stated he was preparing to rule against Obama's power to seize American citizens money without clear and convincing evidence of a crime being committed.

Should the Obama administration win their argument to seize their citizen's money by Executive Order without having to abide by the law was made more chilling this past week when reports emerged from the US stating that President Obama and his regime allies were, indeed, preparing to rule America by decree since their loss this past November of their control over the US House of Representatives, and in the words of the Washington Posts columnist Charles Krauthammer: "For an Obama bureaucrat … the will of the Congress is a mere speed bump".

Since taking office in early 2009, Obama has completely overturned the once free United States through his use of Executive Orders that asserts his power to put anyone he wants in prison without charges or trial forever and his right to assassinate any American citizen he deems a threat.

The most chilling of these powers Obama has asserted for himself, however, are contained in Executive Order 13528 he signed nearly a year ago (January 10, 2010) creating a Council of Governors he has hand-picked to rule over the United States in place of its elected representatives when their next “disaster” strikes and orders them to begin “synchronization and integration of State and Federal military activities in the United States; and other matters of mutual interest pertaining to National Guard, homeland defense, and civil support activities”.

Bernie seems to be Ed wherever a private Ed Donegan location seems to be in play

Time	Place
My residence but I am not at home, aka breakins	Architectural Analogs. Instead of stolen-clothes impersonators breaking into my residence or evidence plants at my residence, impersonators use sound stages of other apartment units with same layout as my own apartment floor plan.

BOLSTER

To Bolster what Time/Place dislocated Bernie did,

- Bernie is placed with impersonations of people I know, at least Tom Dunham, and the pair of fake Ed Donegan and fake Tom Dunham online agree with Genentech use of Gloria DNA

- People make suggesting sexual, thanks, business relationship, or other statements to me in public places out of my control, publicly bolstering the claim Bernie was really me instead.

Color Sequence of Candy in Pez Dispenser

I ErosX Bernie ALWAYS takes over for Edward Donegan Ed Donegan is switched out and Bernie, who is NON_WHITE is always switched in.

No white women are in my vicinity.

If I found a rather carefully hidden photo of someone who said this was political, about defeating Nazis (Trump supporters,) who might be behind that plan?

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=9kmyNRB9tg8

Doppelgänger, not Ed, parties at Saratoga FL near CENTCOM

By appearnces, the indica visible to the public by blogroll, I had been to this place, I have not, my Doppelgänger has and been blackmailed there.

Meet Mistress Vesta

I am wicked, classy, sadistic specializing in the arts of spanking, caning, corporal punishment, bondage, humiliation, foot worship. Step into my dungeon if you dare!

February 6, 2017

BDSM, bondage, dickie, virgin FemDom Guide, fantasies, flogging, foot worship, humiliation, key holder, Mistress, Mistress Vesta, Mistresswww, paddle, punishment, respect, slave, spanking, whips

Leave a comment

Welcome To The Dungeon!

Are you worthy of me? Imagine yourself walking up the stairs of a narrow hallway. You can hear yourself breathing and feel your

WWW.SARASOTABDSM.COM

Search ...

BLOG STATS

- 1,010 hits

BLOGS I FOLLOW

- The Haunting, Aching Echo of Wonder
- The New Electro
- Finding Purpose
- The Neighborhood
- Dexter's Papers
- Simple Living Over 50
- Thankfully there is no reason to believe that prophecy is a real thing.
- We Bust For Cupcakes
- Home Flight DCA Reagan National Airport
- The Insomniac Libertarian
- The Virginia Conservative
- Bruceradjacs's Blog
- stuff and things with lee

BLOGS I FOLLOW

- The Haunting, Aching Echo of Wonder
- The New Electro
- Finding Purpose
- The Neighborhood
- Dexter's Papers
- Simple Living Over 50
- Thankfully there is no reason to believe that prophecy is a real thing.
- We Run For Cupcakes
- Honor Flight DCA Reagan National Airport
- The Insomniac Libertarian
- The Virginia Conservative
- Brucemajors's Blog
- stuff and things with lee

20 minute drive from CENTCOM is the Bikini Beach White Women Bullwhip Center

In December 2011, Austin was nominated to become Vice Chief of Staff of the United States Army (VCSA).[20] He took office on January 31, 2012.[21] .. He also Austin supervised a review of the psychiatric treatment of personnel assessed for disability by the Army.[24]

United States Central Command Vice President Joe Biden, Austin, became the commander of CENTCOM on March 22, 2013, after being nominated by President Obama in late 2012 His approach as CENTCOM commander has been described as that of an “invisible general”, due to his reluctance to speak publicly about military matters.[27] From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Austin meeting with US ambassador to Iraq James Jeffrey (left) and Secretary of Defense Leon Panetta (center) in 2011

Note the Transfer from Maryland National Institute of Health to the US Marines Beach Landing in the Groups list and text above

Someone (Bernie) might be getting raped for his DNA at the US MARINES CENTCOM Saratoga Bikini Peeping Study Facility

Below, Conrad Truntman, US DOD, staffs the Bikini Bullwhip Research Center

In one of the more bizzare aspects of this covert teams of people surround me at laundry facilities and make bizzare motions of having to mop the floor as if I were masturbating in public, police and FBI (black ghetto) allegdge FBI undercover make fake claims I am hiring pizza from the laundry mat, buying drugs from the laundry mat (with an alleged black neigbor I do not have of Casa Linda, at least my REAL apartment) and at these drugged out trysts, per the Corpus Chrisi black police officer, at the alleged trysts of an apartment I did not move to in Los Angles (but I did put in a Disbursement request for) a Doppple of me, with a fake Ed Donegan with hair was bound by a dominatrix similar to this, “forced to give up his milk” by the cast of characters who surrounded me at the laundry mat, but it was BERNIE not ME in LA.

But the fetlife pic and that cop were directly linked, and when I was kicked out of the laundromat for THEIR activities, my lost clothes were moved into a Sound Stage at the far end of the complex and facing 180s the other way, but with blinds and computer desk peeking at a high school which was BEHIND that apartment.

The internal set created in THAT apartment tied to a paint bucket for teens to get keys, was create to look like me looking at at a high school.

First of all I did not sexually kids, and that whole thing may have began when I moved to that intersection which had all the bus lines and laundrymats near the gym, stores, hall way in between the two city hubs of Corpus Christi and near parks

I am not interested in children nor exploitation of anyone but I am framed in public places or so in IMPERSONATOR of me will be blackmailed for my DNA rights, then law firm TJ Henry and ARC of Northern Virginia will claim them and provide them to Genentech for mothers who want the DNA only alleging my permission.

Chased from what I call Element “A” where it appears i took a teen or tot photo, the Doppelgänger of me is caught at Element “B” and blackmailed for DNA

I am not the person being blackmailed, did not take the teen or tot picture earlier, nor did I contract for the treehouse. I probably did contact the domina but she turned me down for a need person who will “sub” stittute for me while i am punished by being left out of the scene.

Below, an ARC of Nothern Virginia owned vehicle in their parking lot (along with other Wrangly 4X4s) after I had shopped for one later request and was turned down for a Toyota 4Runner. An indication Triniaus turned down my request from the only fund I have access to and use a fake unreported “family grow fund” of embezzled semen IVF rights to buy themselves one.

As well be revealed in the following chapters Marines hire white models and use dummy impersonators of to to host the white models. I call this Dummy figure “Bernie” and Bernie pays for the US Marines Parties with real Ed Donegan’s DNA.

An Instance in Operation

Returning from canada on Greyhound I am surrounded by people who at least, the guy next to me, provide some information on who they are.

The white hand near me in the photo belongs to a white guy who revealed himself to be National Institute of Health, though somewhat relulactanlty he revealed that, and is presence was supposed to be a coincidnce.

Two black also coincidently seem to be near me, like a Harvey Dent, black cop, and a Doppelganger of me in a similar coat to mine.

They, when awake, lear and drool at two white women seated in front of me.

A black retarded level male is the greyhound bus driver of a bus leaving at 12:01 on the schedule, my voice being recorded saying Georgia underage porn law.

This recorded sound of me will come out of Bernie's adams apple at the party I am not going to.

One possibiliy of somethig earlir was switcing out my airline ticket TO Canada.

DONEGAN/EDWARD and DONEGAN/EDWARDPAUL have flights. MY name is not EDWARDPAUL it is Edward

In the usual switchout I bought an insured ticket to Canada but without passport DONEGAN/EDWARD was not allowed to board.

I was then sold the ticket shown instead DONEGAN/EDWARDPAUL traveling instead.

I reported this to flight crew.

The FAKE Ed Donegan may have arrived at the Canadian border first, and been kicked out.

When I arrived at Canda, I already had an arrest in Canada which was the impersonator of me who arrived on the earlier flight INTO Canada I was not allowed to board.

I had to take the bus from New York, crawling along slowely, with my Drivers License and Birth Certificate, while an impersonator of me, likely black, with fake california ID created at a CA DMV scam was arrested in Canada.

From: Edward Paul Donegan
To: To Whom It May Concern;

In what is a serious criminal and serious human rights matter my left wing Gay Rights brother, in a battle over family financial and other assets control, has utilized Flim Flam techniques in a crime of such scale few could believe its occurrence.

I have been harassed and embezzled by a shake down schem operating in my vicinity in which planted people pretend to be my victim and people around me also manufacture bizarre attempted dual constructions tying me to activities in my vicinity.

In a family split politically for years my brother Thomas Neil Donegan and his now legal spouse Mark Weirness continually in various forums alleged my allegations of his fraudulent activities were untrue and even sought and received some civil commitments of me hampering my life and generating the psychiatry history on ne he always wanted to exploitiveliy achieve.

And utilizing that record created for him and agents acting on is behalf an illegally run conservancy utilizing well known flim flam shakedown systems of a trust fund not reporting its activities and use of assets not properly disclosed to me.

In fact the schemes is a flim flam scheme known a Quackery of people allegedly my coaches, assistants, and conservators are merely inventing a perceived need for them and inventing claims against me which will enrich themselves.

This appears to be tied to gaining rights to genes wished for which occur in my family line and myself tied to high IQ (life long testing reveals high IQ in me and my family line) and possibly designer babies in the age of CAS9 and CRISPR, the type of bio experts and genomicists he has been co-operating with.

Because of lack of accounting and operation of hostile conservancy It has taken decades to gather the facts and the Terms Of Art used in grifting and false claims crimes to outline the activities; which again, are serious crimes including financial crimes and which have had very devastating affects on my life, with me having the legal status of an Elder (retarded or cognitively impaired adult.) Glossary and Terms of Art in Bunko

A confidence trick is also known as a con game, a con, a scam, a grift, a hustle, a bunko (or bunco), a swindle, a flimflam, a gaffle, or a bamboozle. The intended victims are known as marks, suckers, stooges, mugus, rubes, or gulls (from the word gullible). When accomplices are employed, they are known as shills.

As I am going somewhere legitimate a Shill (plant female) will be exploitively photographed, etc., by a Doppelgänger of me (called a gull or gullible, ,and also a Shill) in the area, who will then be shaken down by health care conservancy to sign genes of mine those behavioral social justice firms need for their own social justice work. The Doppelgänger of me who will be confronted for the alleged wrongdoing against the shill will sign my genes rights (high IQ) over to the retardation firm.

Thus I am being impersonated and a confession alleged from me forged.

I will later and continuously face social retaliation for the alleged acts and remain single and socially isolated from those who would act on my behalf rather than on the Conservancy's behalf.

Chris Lloyd as emergency contact "grandparent" and corrupted in emergency contact role

More Glossary Terms and Terms of Art

Stooge Assaults Police backed assailants, paid informants

The operator of a hotel posts this, hoping residents will co-operate with the frame job of me.

She changes her facebook name to ..

Cheryll Lloyd friendly “ccl” . motel operator, (cubic centileter) wants some DNA from a faked trist in a hotel room, or faked activitiy in my home bedroom. This was at a motel in Arlington VA where a black man smoking pot in an adjoining room with no door access and below my room (also black, smoking pot) met with white females, someties wearing 88 football jersys. For the frame job materials to feed to the Lilly White Assed Dominatrix (LWAD,) the police tape was put around my motel room which was near the stairs I allegedly was peeping from my room.

Black, gay, and autistic predation on whites women and white male IQ

As for as ME, they said nothing was going on. STill, police tape was all around in publicly visible Aviator Glasses Trick.

“Don Johnson,” “Big Boy” and others were among the Harvey

Dent law enforcement on the scene to shake down the black impersonator of me, when that impersoonator of me was caught by the LWAD.

Chris Lloyd before his death assured me that while he had an AIDS research compnay he owned (and just bought a Porsche from) and his daughter worked for Genetech, nothing he was doing in any way had anything to do with me or my genome.

In an interesting slip of the tounge, Chris Lloyd wrote this to me a few years ago.

> Christopher Lloyd
> Jan 6, 2014, 11:50 AM
> to me
>
> In reading this further. I assume he is the executor of your mothers will. With that job comes the responsibility to EXECUTE the will.
>
> He has not and he may attempt now to set up the trust to 1.maintain control. And 2. Attempt to keep the courts for getting upset with him.
>
> Knowing the acrimonious relationship of the two of you your mothers wishes would be better served my someone that will treat your needs in a non adversary manner.

As I will state 3 Conclusions and the book series epilouge, every is corrupt, anyone at all. Just so long is it works out for them well and at anyone else expense.

This is why I will die devoted to the Iranians and their country putting morality first.

frequently drawn from prison populations and acting as paid "snitches" will conduct assaults upon someone at police request. The typical type of stooge assaults I have experienced are placement of imagery revolting to me, sexualized children or explositiveness of people I do not sexualize or non-whites sexualized or buttocks fetishism as women buttocks flash me, often with non-white males initiating the acts as though to please me, a white person.

The affect of this is harassment and sex assault upon me which will be interpreted as me being the predator and at allegedly at fault for the sexualization of environments I was using normally.

Noble Causes Police Corruption and Police Corruption

Especially non-white and even non-US national people have backed these stooge assaults upon me. The alleged victim, the Shill, is compensated as have been other In and Ins (co-operating scam artists) and non whites have had a hey dey of constantly approaching white women on scams allegedly tied to me but actually conducted the scam artists themselves.

In shaking down and blaming the white supremacist for his genetic makeup everyone seems to benefit and thus things have been shouted at me by dangerous felon cultured blacks "we are going to cut off your balls and fuck Jessica Simpson with them."

This has been organized racial violence allowed and setup by SJW behavioral care workers treating autism, retardation, and other medical conditions, and these same medical workers undermine my stalking and RICO allegations as mental illness.

In THE TRIANGLE OF MEANINGLESSNESS plain clothes people, claiming to me nothing is out of the ordinary, treat me very publicly as though I were a sex offender, peeper, stalker, etc., The pretentious acts of those people surrounding me carry no meaning. Mere innuendo, less than name calling.

Paul Graham's Hierarchy of Disagreement lists ad hominem as the second lowest type of argument in a disagreement.

'Loudacris'. Modified by Rocket000 - hand-coded by uploader; based on en:Image:Graham's Hierarchy of Disagreement.jpg by BUNKO to others, the acts of those surrounding me and physically blockading women from my proximity, is justified. It is never justified to me, can not be justified truthfully, ,and justification to me would not withstand scrutiny.. Thus, only innuendo is ever used near me and when I call it out the innuendo is denied.

The innuendo towards me is a cover for the false flag acts the perpetrators commit dressed or described as me.

Conference calls: MK Ultra, Nazi Germany, Freud, OSS, Dulles, Black budgets, Jack Parsons Cal Tech Pasadena, NASA, (and free masonry shaking down Ed Donega's trust fund His genome was studied in race differences and cause of nuclear war, NSA DARPA studies "papers" much like the Pentagon papers what led the USA into Vietnam?)

> jpl.nasa.gov
>
> The Jet Propulsion Laboratory

The Jet Propulsion Laboratory is a federally funded research and development center and NASA field center in the city of La Cañada Flintridge, with a Pasadena mailing address, in California, United States. Founded in the 1930s, JPL is currently owned by NASA and managed by the nearby California Institute of Technology for NASA

Liquid-propellant rocket retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

A liquid-propellant rocket or liquid rocket utilizes a rocket engine that uses liquid propellants. Liquids are desirable because they have a reasonably high density and high specific impulse (Isp). This allows the volume of the propellant tanks to be relatively low. It is also possible to use lightweight centrifugal turbopumps to pump the rocket propellant from the tanks into the combustion chamber, which means that the propellants can be kept under low pressure. This permits the use of low-mass propellant tanks that do not need to resist the high pressures needed to store significant amounts of gases, resulting in a low mass ratio for the rocket. [citation needed]

If the Oxygen produces one unit of fire-blast and the liqued fuel produce on unit of blast two units of blast are emitted.

If .5 unit of blast is taken from the blast and added to the air compressor power its capacity moves to 1.5 bast component insertion. Liquid propellent input and be increased to 1.5 to match the available oxygen increasing blast level to 3.0

If the Pilot feels lucky the pilot can direct liquid propellent into the blast now entering the oxygen rich atmosphere.

1. Liquid rocket fuel.

2. Oxidizer

3. Pumps carry the fuel and oxidizer.

4. The combustion chamber mixes and burns the two liquids.

5. The hot exhaust is choked at the throat, which, among other things, dictates the amount of thrust produced.

6. Exhaust exits the rocket.

Airplane Jet Engine 1 Air Compressor (Oxidizer air flow) 2 Fuel injected from wing tank 3) Fuel and Air mix 4) Combustion Chamber 5) same 6) same

[image]

An inert gas stored in a tank at a high pressure is sometimes used instead of pumps in simpler small engines to force the propellants into the combustion chamber. These engines may have a higher mass ratio, but are usually more reliable, and are therefore used widely in satellites for orbit maintenance. [1]

Liquid rockets can be monopropellant rockets using a single type of propellant, or bipropellant rockets using two types of propellant. Tripropellant rockets using three types of propellant are rare. Some designs are throttleable for variable thrust operation and some may be restarted after a previous in-space shutdown. Liquid propellants are also used in hybrid rockets, with some of the advantages of a solid rocket.

In a for profit Eugenics scheme rights to genes from my family line are on the black market as “stripper bucks,” an unusual racketeering scheme in which a forged permission to the Donegan genome can be created if an stripper catches an impersonator of Edward Donegan in sexual misconduct such as making females his [cell phone camera] porn.

The stripper will accept forged permissions for Ed Donegan’s DNA from an impersonator of Ed Donegan IF she believes that Ed Donegan was caught at the scene of a crime by the person forging Ed Donegan’s permissions.

So what happened at the Scene of the Crime? The forger made a female an exploitative photograph victim, and that same forger will allege Ed Donegan rather than the forger took the photo at issue.

The stripper (believing Ed should be left alone as punishment) will accept the Forger’s statement HE is the hero of the scene and HE should be the person “punished” by the Dominatrix Stripper, punishment of signing DNA rights over to the female victimized by the exploitative photo.

Paying for the stripper and paying restitution to the victim and paying for patrols against Ed Donegan (from ever doing it again) are money coming from the monetized trust fund of Glorian Donegan, created a shame justice system in which “paper” is generated for the rights to the genome which would not survive any scrutiny in any real and serious inquiry Due Process standard legal system.

Using illegally funded Irregular (subversion) soldiers in mercenary Dirty War to replace missile wars. PsyOps takes control

INSIDE the USA continues MKULTRA NWO activities, denied, but includes Directed Energy Weapons (plausibly deniable) other attack.

Flunkies in Star Chambers and secret illegal black operations cover up Prescott, George H.W. Bush, George Bush, international needs first OECD attacks on the USA and cover up history of Bush v. Kennedy wrong doing, the schism starting between Dulles Brothers/ George H.W > Bush CIA overriding JFK.

Oliver Twist retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Oliver Twist; or, the Parish Boy's Progress is Charles Dickens's second novel, and was published as a serial from 1837 to 1839 and released as a three-volume book in 1838, before the serialisation ended.[1] The story centres on orphan Oliver Twist, born in a workhouse and sold into apprenticeship with an undertaker. After escaping, Oliver travels to London, where he meets the "Artful Dodger", a member of a gang of juvenile pickpockets led by the elderly criminal Fagin.

Oliver Twist contains an unromantic portrayal of criminals and their sordid lives, as well as for exposing the cruel treatment of the many orphans in London in the mid-19th century.[2] The alternative title, The Parish Boy's Progress, alludes to Bunyan's The Pilgrim's Progress, as well as the 18th-century caricature series by William Hogarth, A Rake's Progress and A Harlot's Progress.[3]

In this early example of the social novel, Dickens satirises the hypocrisies of his time, including child labour, domestic violence, the recruitment of children as criminals, and the presence of street children. The novel may have been inspired by the story of Robert Blincoe, an orphan whose account of working as a child labourer in a cotton mill was widely read in the 1830s. It is likely that Dickens's own experiences as a youth contributed as well.[4]

Oliver Twist has been the subject of numerous adaptations, including a highly successful musical play, Oliver!, and the multiple Academy Award-winning 1968 motion picture.

Jen Moore is dead not because she was wrong but because the Illuminati Espionage activities subverting the USA are beyond the point of no return and their actions must be completed and completed in stealth or the truth will be revealed.

The only true threat to the USA has been Free Masons. The most deadly threat to the USA, the Presidency, and Law Enforcement is Free masonry. She was a whistle blower about them and that is why Free Masons killed her.

The Right and Left Hands of a Long Term corruption of NSA CIA activities of Elites and Profiteering

George H.W. Bush first started it, at least in a large way, using Enrigue Prado, tied to crimes, as private CIA contractor assets who would carry out actions without normal government controls, George H.W. Bush's left hand, and his right hand, no politics implied, saying to legitimate government Stand Down to CIA backed activities and do not interrupt it.

This creates the illegal anti democratic hit teams the ruling elite of the USA use.

> When Political Crimes Are Inside Jobs: Detecting State Crimes against Democracy
> https://www.jstor.org/stable/25610803

Abstract

Public administration theory and practice tend to overlook the possibility of state political criminality in liberal democracies. This article proposes a policy science to detect state crimes against democracy (SCADs), using social and political theory to understand when, why, how, and by whom such crimes are likely to be committed. After defining SCADs and differentiating them from other types of political crimes, the article analyzes SCADs in terms of antidemocratic tendencies posited by theories of liberal democracy. SCADs are traced to specific institutional objectives by analyzing patterns in SCAD targets, timing, and modus operandi. The role played by career civil servants in exposing government crimes and deceptions suggests that professional public administrators are a critical line of defense against the criminalization of the state.

The deceptions in government include illegal husbandry of genome on black markets and sleeper agents, MKULTRA criminal world conduct, assassinations of officials, and secretive CIA illegal acts.

No Ordinary Stalking

Organized stalking is carried out by an enthusiastic and structured group that has cruel intentions:

stalk, harass, injure, financially ruin, and mentally crumple human prey until incapacitation occurs. What sets this crime apart is that innocents are picked off the street. There is no getting away from the stalkers and no getting away from the unusual technology that is used to take over someone's life.

> “For the first couple of months,” says June, “I thought it was a sick game. Now that I’ve been tormented for years, well, it’s clear that organized stalking is a sophisticated crime that follows a step-by-step process to leave the victim as bare and isolated as the dead tree on the cover. He or she may still be standing, but that’s about it.
>
> “I’ll sum it up this way. Veiled intimidation ensures that targeted individuals are viewed by the public as free people, which they are not. They are playthings to their controllers. Hostages in plain sight. Victims are quite literally owned yet have limited chance of rescue because their desperate circumstances are misunderstood.
>
> Some die from the violence. Some die from suicide. And the rest merely exist.”
>
> Organized stalking is worldwide and is called gang stalking in some areas. The electronic harassment that accompanies organized stalking is also known as covert harassment.
>
> To purchase “No Ordinary Stalking”, please click HERE.
>
> Visit June TI’s http://www.westcoast-oseh.com/

The Step By Step Process is Manufacture Evidence (illegally such as law enforcement planting evidence to create sham investigations) and using the sham investigation as Abuse of Process (investigatory process) to Conspire Against Rights of the victim, gang surveillance warrants, in my case suing my trust fund for what the planted evidence suggests, and also using non recused plant public officials and the Press working for allowing for “favors” granted to the law enforcement agencies asking for them.

As far as those who cooperate with Sham investigations like the Press who I often offer evidence that a Prosecutorial Misconduct system is at least SOME of the misconduct and in my case ALL of the misconduct AND ALSO that I can show the REAL motive the Government (William Barr, Free Masons, others) are subverting THIS MKULTRA victim, the Press and others refuse that evidence. Negligence of the Press and others is solidified as Ice, not shifting intransigent, cold to the facts and thus are Criminal Intent holding the position solid, not shifting as the negligent would.

Did you know a Jet Engine is a form of a liquid rocket? This story goes in to Jack Parsons, JPL Labs, Cal Tech, and MKULTRA history of missile and jet bombers and breaking the sound barrier by Nea Armastrong in an airplane.

This is the goal of Gangsalking subverting people and their rights for arbitrary reason which could not pass constitutional muster, often the arbitrary reason is the person is a witness to or a victim of Government misconduct and is being discredited as a person.

Further, the misconduct alleged to the victim of the Gangstalk will close doors to the victim as “office mobbing” (rumors in office places, housing ,etc.,) spread about the misconduct wrongfully alleged to the Gangstalk victim.

Stalkers hid heir identity, their acts, from scrutiny of the victims thus the real motives of the stalkers is not subjected to scrutiny.

Those and many other books about Organized Stalking (police organized used of criminal acts though oberving rather than committing the crimes at this site. https://www.surveillancesurvivors.org/targeted-publications.html

The press protects the deceptions in government rather than expose the Illuminati 5th Column illegal acts thus participating in, enabling the State conduct's continuation.

MKULTRA was never legal. Its long history of assassinations, cover up, CIA history and private contractors working for big family names in the Presidencies engaged in illegal and plausibly deniable acts is mostly hidden.

One chapter in this book use a movie metaphor for what Jen Moore was saying and is true, the the US Government MKULTRA tied power brokers are continuing assassinations and illegal acts to continue both cover ups and big pharmacy profits and this is tied to Jeffery Epstein, Donald Barr William Barr, the Bush family, Bidens in Ukraine, the OSS CIA Vatican St Josephs connections and many more including my own November 16 1961 birth in Manhattan Beach under the Manhattan Project, atomic bomb development and radiation testing.

Masonic Elites in Office and Media
Consistent with USA and Masonry and within the all laws
Masonic Crimes In the USA Against the USA, assassinations, muscle	Defending the USA, Jen Moore

She decided to out the elite criminals with her videos before they could silence her or them complete their mission against me.

The elites in the media and politicians who called her a Conspiracy Theorist, a nut job, and the media ignored her allegation and her death, including her allegation Rod Rosenstein was organizing hits, which seem not to be true about his use of MS-13 as assets on Seth Rich. her death.

The media ignoring her death is central to the meaning of my life. I have spent all my life under aggression thrown at me and then me in custody suffering even more violently aggressions treatment all the while complaining this was out of the view o he media.

Upon my various releases I found it was in the fact the Media creating the movement of “study” of me, subversion, sabotage, and ghosting of me, Jen Moore, and others as the Robber Barron’s oil and the Bush family of Media and Politics create their Illuminati Families work including Jeffery Epstein, the CIA and others.

The media, private business owners and the retail clerks following their orders are the Deep State.

A change in plan for me is to end the futile alerting the press ot the error of this all, and help the military and others see the error of the Press and its role in supporting rather than outing crony power.

The CIA, NSA, and others put together MKULTRA and its business partners long ago and that is intact today more so than ever and the promotion and demotion of social heroes is part of the media plan of cover up of MKULTRA and the continuing attack on MKULTRRA victims.

Thus her videos were her First Amendment use of free speech to defend me and whistle blow the corrupt officials targeting the law abiding.

This book attempts to out criminals of Abuse of Power using Elites by re-informing rank and file career professionals their bosses are corrupt even if the media idolizes their bosses or lobbies the public for them., with free speech rather than me fight assailants in the public.

Wikipedia retrieved from Self-defense From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia and copied or modified to here

Self-defense (self-defence in some varieties of English) is a countermeasure that involves defending the health and well-being of oneself from harm.[1] The use of the right of self-defense as a legal justification for the use of force in times of danger is available in many jurisdictions.[2]

First Amendment: Various forms of defense against criminal conspiracies and criminals themselves, like defense against any noxiousness, is the Light of Day and thus Jen Moore was a Lamplighter, Sunlight is the Best Disinfectant and this what her videos and other work were dedicated too.

Second Amendment: Physical defense may be necessary if the illegality if public attention is not sufficient to intimidate or bring investigation to those involved in the crime.

When police complicity exists in the crime, crimes under Color of Law, the press and the public may be reluctant to aide the victim for a variety of reasons.

The Ukraine and Drug Deals - Task Force Video and Stem Cells on the day or day before of her death

> we have a lot of things that are in common we have weapons [gene therapy] drugs money-laundering child trafficking and Coons in Ukraine so a lot of people don't I don't we don't realize but I think it was in 2011 know who was who happened in Ukraine and really it was a Hillary Rodham Clinton George Soros money and some of our quote unquote agents involved in a coup and that was you know to put in a puppet one of our puppets that we control better into power and that led to the country breaking down obviously concern with Russia Russia obviously would be concerned it's on their border and you know this whole chant chant chant of democracy democracy when really what happened is the country broke down and a lot of our politicians got on the energy boards and made a whole lot of money and you know if you check the energy boards to this day you're gonna see names like I don't know Biden things like that of people that are either related or you know maybe senators themselves that got really rich any time all these NICU units popped up neonatal intensive care units involving the Clinton Foundation

Corruption - Political ideology Google knowledge panel retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Corruption is a form of dishonesty or criminal offense undertaken by a person or organization entrusted with a position of authority, to acquire illicit benefit or abuse power for one's private gain. Wikipedia

Corruption is a form of dishonesty or criminal offense undertaken by a person or organization entrusted with a position of authority, to acquire illicit benefit or abuse power for one's private gain. Corruption may include many activities including bribery and embezzlement, though it may also involve practices that are legal in many countries.[1] Political corruption occurs when an office-holder or other governmental employee acts in an official capacity for personal gain. Corruption is most commonplace in kleptocracies, oligarchies, narco-states and mafia states.[2]

Vocabulary.com retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Kleptocracy (from Greek “power, rule”) is a government whose corrupt leaders (kleptocrats) use political power to appropriate the wealth of their nation, typically by embezzling or misappropriating government funds at the expense of the wider population.[1][2] is a form of power structure in which power rests with a small number of people. These people may be distinguished by nobility, wealth, education, corporate, religious, political, or military control. Such states are often controlled by families who pass their influence from one generation to the next, but inheritance is not a necessary condition of oligarchy.

Oligarchy

Narco-state

Narco-state (also narco-capitalism or narco-economy[a]) is a political and economic term applied to countries where all legitimate institutions become penetrated by the power and wealth of the illegal drug trade.[2] The term was first used to describe Bolivia following the 1980 coup of Luis García Meza which was seen to be primarily financed with the help of narcotics traffickers.[3] Examples of some narco-states are described below. Other well-known examples are Mexico, Colombia, and Guinea-Bissau, where drug cartels produce, ship and sell drugs such as cocaine and marijuana.

Mafia state

In politics, a mafia state is a state system where the government is tied with organized crime to the degree when government officials, the police, and/or military became a part of the criminal enterprise.[1][2] According to US diplomats, the phrase "mafia state" was coined by Alexander Litvinenko[3] Aleksandr Valterovich Litvinenko 30 August 1962 or 4 December 1962 Voronezh, Russian SFSR, Soviet Union Died 23 November 2006 (aged 43 or 44)

In 1991, Litvinenko was promoted to the Central Staff of the Federal Counterintelligence Service, specialising in counter-terrorist activities and infiltration of organised crime.

> [The First] Amendment rests on the assumption that diverse and antagonistic sources is essential to the welfare of the public, that a free press is a condition of a free society.

https://sites.google.com/site/andrewnevsky/desktop

Sources: Wikipedia, Documentary "The Most Dangerous

Game” Project MKULTRA Frank Olson was a chemist with the Army’s top secret Special Operations Division at Fort Detrick in Frederick, Maryland. His specific research in the Army is unknown, but he was involved in biological weapons research and experimented with mind control drugs.

Forty-four American colleges or universities, 15 research foundations or chemical or pharmaceutical companies and the like including Sandoz (currently Novartis) and Eli Lilly & Co., 12 hospitals or clinics (in addition to those associated with universities), and 3 prisons are known to have participated in MKULTRA

In 1973, CIA Director Richard Helms ordered all MK-ULTRA files destroyed. Pursuant to this order, most CIA documents regarding the project were destroyed, making a full investigation of MK-ULTRA impossible.

Possible Link with Peoples Temple Suicide:

Jonestown, the Guyana location of the Jim Jones cult and Peoples Temple mass suicide, was thought to be a test site for MKULTRA medical and mind control experiments after the official end of the program. Congressman Leo Ryan, a known critic of the CIA, was assassinated after he personally visited Jonestown to investigate various reported irregularities.

Guyana achieved independence from the United Kingdom on 26 May 1966 and became a republic on 23 February 1970, remaining a member of the Commonwealth. The United States State Department and the US Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), along with the British government, played a strong role in influencing political control in Guyana during this time.

Project CHATTER Project ARTICHOKE “Manchurian Candidate”

Subproject 54, was the Navy’s top secret “Perfect Concussion” program, which used sub-aural frequency blasts to erase memory.

CIA directors Allen Dulles Richard Helmes

http://edocket.access.gpo.gov/2009/E9-14948.htm

Rear Admiral W. Craig Vanderwagen USPHS is the first and current Assistant Secretary for Preparedness & Response under the redesignation of the Office of Public Health Emergency Preparedness (by the Pandemic & All Hazards Preparedness Act of 2006) and was the second Assistant Secretary for Public Health Emergency Preparedness at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS).

I have been made a harassment target by these people because

- Prescott Bush, the entire Bush family and their Masons groups already use my genome, and others too tied to MKULTRA.
- The containment of me into skid row limits normal employment, social groups, health club life, social life, etc.,
- With me in their skid row programs my standing and worth can be attacked through deep pocket claims by their church groups and then assigned to their church group outreach beneficiaries when in fact my standing and worth are Atheism based and a result of like my father refusal to wast time on religious cultism

> Russian Proverb from Russian Proverbs and Sayings
>
> У каждого червяка есть слабое место
>
> Every worm has his weak point.
>
> ---
>
> Church programs that want or use DNA, Masonic, Veteran's Groups, Former CIA operatives like Bush, Donald Barr, William Barr, NASA DARPA mistakes, etc.,

Conspiracy against my rights, my religious beliefs, and my mother's estate is a Double Entry Accounting System, Evidence Plants and Deep Pockets claims to the Trust as larceny Crusading cops fake case to reimburse "gambit victims" and victims funds. Are these two Placed Individuals sympathetic to a con operation?

Texas is subverting an Atheist as a pervert, using a Dopple of him that creates crisis, thus achieving both moral and economic false accreditation of their crony fraudulent systems alleged as victims, and bail their Red State churches interests out in the process

Crisis Actors will generate a crisis that an Edward Donegan

When the Crisis Actor out of my presence confesses that he Edward Donegan was part of that crisis, in effect Police wanting a confession from a person don't trick me into a false or deceptive confession they get the confession they want of a dopple of me they planted in the same vicinity and confront out of my presence.

- Shizo belief holding
- White Supremacist unethical person
- Is a Peeper and exploiter of women including those 17 and under

These conflicts are generated by aggressive assaults upon me and my reputation leading me to turn to whites seeking others experiencing these conditions to join with me in documenting it and repusling it.

Crisis Training Exercise “Spinning” a narrative of my normal public usage events into a Crisis

Where this is occurring against Ed Donegan and his Mother’s trust fund is the information space Wiggle Room of 1) Circumstantial evidence only and not direct proof and 2) The outcomes of Claims made to the trust funds or assets managers, not the trust fund beneficiaries, both 1 and 3 of which creates wiggle room from what a Trust Fund would do or what a Beneficiary would be either presented with or agree to which is also material to 323K v US in that could such laxity in asset seizures be tolerable to Justice.

- Manufactured Claims against a person
- Money laundering and unneeded asset managers handling the claims (RICO)

Consider right to sue under Judge Roll and US v 323k of asssets for import or export to foriegn economies WITHOUT clear and convincing proof.

Jen Moore may well have been used as a Crisis Actor not liking the role of it as used to trap normal people inside the simulation using the normal person as a prop in a play the normal person is not involved in but surrounded by and thus associated with.

“Targeted Individuals” have their lives destroyed as evidence is planted and actors act out being victims of the Targeted (for being surrounded) Individual which slander that Targeted Individual.

Crisis actors in Disaster Simulations From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Actors take on the role of mock victims and simulate specific injuries from a disaster to add life-like realism to an emergency exercise. Theatrical makeup and cosmetics, plus rubber and latex appliances, are often used to simulate a variety of wounds or medical conditions that realistically portray victim's injuries, a practice known as medical moulage.[7][8][9]

Actors who portray news reporters, relatives of victims, and concerned citizens are also used during drills to train emergency operations center personnel to cope with a variety of emotionally-charged demands and requests.

[image]

Emergency medical technicians from the 96th Medical Group move a "wounded" Airman toward safety during an active shooter exercise at Eglin Air Force Base in Florida in 2014.

Disaster training simulations

Actors take on the role of mock victims and simulate specific injuries from a disaster to add life-like realism to an emergency exercise. Theatrical makeup and cosmetics, plus rubber and latex appliances, are often used to simulate a variety of wounds or medical conditions that realistically portray victim's injuries, a practice known as medical moulage.[7][8][9]

Actors who portray news reporters, relatives of victims, and concerned citizens are also used during drills to train emergency operations center personnel to cope with a variety of emotionally-charged demands and requests.

In practice scenarios these Crisis Actors are practice for emergencies. In Intel operations they can frame people by creating “narratives” of people and events they surround,, like a hooker, a crisis actor, in public saying (to a victim of stalking) “thank you for paying me that money” I hope you liked your blowjob from and underage girl”

In Free Masonary this is called Rough Music and defames accusers of Masonry by impeaching critics of Masonry

Her head was spinning

DEBUNKED: AOC Wasn’t Hiding In The Capitol On Jan 6, ‘Insurrectionists’ Who ‘Tried To Kill’ Her Never Entered Her Building

COPYRIGHT NATIONALFILE.COM by GABRIEL KEANE
February 3, 2021

Supporters of AOC have claimed that she was terrorized inside the Capitol by far-right "insurrectionists." Those claims have been emphatically debunked.

Ocasio-Cortez, who frequently receives massive positive engagement on Twitter, was ultimately ratioed on her tweet trying to explain away her account of the Jan. 6 protests.

She was also roundly mocked for her attempts to stoke fear about pro-Trump protests after enthusiastically endorsing Black Lives Matter riots during the summer of 2020.

Earlier this week, Ocasio-Cortez took to Instagram live to recount lurid tales of the terrors she endured both in her office and the office of fellow Rep. Katie Porter in the nearby Longworth House Office Building, during which she was sure an “insurrectionist” would storm the halls with a firearm and she would die.

Unfortunately for Ocasio-Cortez, it was revealed Wednesday that she was not even inside the Capitol, but the Cannon building, where her office is located. Her attempts to explain away this key omission only made a further subject of mockery on social media.

…

And a Crisis Resolution that a trust fund representing the cause of the Crisis, Edward Paul Donegan, will be billed for the crisis and supply genome rights or other property via the communities Right to Sue the trust fund of Edward Paul Donegan.

This is the PsyOps mission underway called Jade Helm 15 or Extortion 17.

Fraud Wrongdoin in one location which includes a fraudulent act (- for cops if cops did it)	Defraud Presentation of the fake, the fraudulent information, to others who accep it (+ cops of The Cops can get the	Deep Pockets Suit Usage Moving forward and with Due Process violations using the information to shake down evidence plant

	evidence accepted by judge (0 cop wrongdoing), media, etc	victim
Evidence being planted around Tom Dunham, Myself of peeping ring and trafficking	Evidence shown to others of Peeping and Trafficking were Tom Dunham and Ed Donegan were	Prosecution Community now has a claim against Edward Donegan and Tom Dunham, my trust fund a target for minority usage, my reputation for tarnishing by minority interests. SJW Law Enforcement
Tom Dunham in 24 /7/10 years long fights to document to others it is all a fraud in every possible medium of hard copy and internet and police reports and forums of fraud and dispute resolution	Non responsiveness I think tied to sapient deafness created to protect highly placed high ranking instructions sources

US DOJ Summary:

Section 241 of Title 18 is the civil rights conspiracy statute. Section 241 makes it unlawful for two or more persons to agree together to injure, threaten, or intimidate a person in any state, territory or district in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him/her by the Constitution or the laws of the Unites States, (or because of his/her having exercised the same). Unlike most conspiracy statutes, Section 241 does not require that one of the conspirators commit an overt act prior to the conspiracy becoming a crime.

The offense is punishable by a range of imprisonment up to a life term or the death penalty, depending upon the circumstances of the crime, and the resulting injury, if any.

> Only a free and unrestrained press can effectively expose deception in government. And paramount among the responsibilities of a free press is the duty to prevent any part of the government from deceiving the people and sending them off to distant lands to die of foreign fevers and foreign shot and shell. … [W]e are asked to hold that … the Executive Branch, the Congress, and the Judiciary can make laws … abridging freedom of the press in the name of 'national security.' … To find that the President has 'inherent power' to halt the publication of news … would wipe out the First Amendment and destroy the fundamental liberty and security of the very people the Government hopes to make 'secure.' … The word 'security' is a broad, vague generality whose contours should not be invoked to abrogate the fundamental law embodied in the First Amendment. The guarding of military and diplomatic secrets at the expense of informed representative government provides no real security … . The Framers of the First Amendment, fully aware of both the need to defend a new nation and the abuses of the English and Colonial governments, sought to give this new society strength and security by providing that freedom of speech, press, religion, and assembly should not be abridged.[13]

It is my belief and I will articulate it in various places in this book acts of war by criminal enterprises are already being conducted without deeper understanding of the originators of the attacks and that WW III is either under way or can or will erupt as a matter of course if these matters are not handled in open and reasonable fact findings including compensatory responsibility taking by parties involved similar to post war negotiations for reparations.

World Stage Connectedness to Moscow Subway Bombing, Several Downed Planes Including During Olympics, Judge Roll assasination and Foreign Economies, more

A complex kluge of genetic CARTEL commerce and the effects of genes and relocation of genes under MKULTRA-360 is what this book is about.

Alexander Litvinenkoa retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

During his time in Boston, Lincolnshire, Litvinenko Alexander Valterovich Litvinenko wrote two books, Blowing Up Russia: Terror from Within and Lubyanka Criminal Group, wherein he accused the Russian secret services of staging the Russian apartment bombings in 1999 and other acts of terrorism in an effort to bring Vladimir Putin to power. He also accused Putin of ordering the assassination of the Russian journalist Anna Politkovskaya in 2006.

On 7 October 2006, Anna Politkovskaya was murdered in the elevator of her block of flats, an assassination that attracted international attention.[7][8][9] In June 2014, five men were sentenced to prison for the murder, but it is still unclear who ordered or paid for the contract killing.[10]

A Dirty War by Anna Politkovskaya

[image]

A Russian Reporter in Chechnya

By Anna Politkovskaia, John Crowfoot, Thomas De Waal · 2001

"In a series of despatches from July 1999 to January 2001 she vividly describes the atrocities and abuses of the war, whether it be the corruption endemic in post-Communist Russia, in particular the government and the military, or the spurious arguments and abominable behaviour of the Chechen authorities. In these courageous reports, Politkovskaya excoriates male stupidity and brutality on both sides of the conflict and interviews the civilians whose homes and communities have been laid waste, leaving them nowhere to live and nothing and no one to believe in."-BOOK JACKET.

Declan rated it it was amazing * * * * * (5 Star)

I read this book a few years before

> Anna Politkovskaya was murdered and I was astonished at the time by her passionate need to pursue the truth of the Chechen war without favoring either side.
>
> She was as contemptuous of both sides as she was sympathetic to those who were forced - in whatever way - to become part of the brutality for which both sides were responsible. She wrote from, and for, the human level. Her aim was to be a reporter, someone who saw a situation and told us what she saw.
>
> Too honest an approach, too troubling for those in power, too vivid in her descriptions of how war works on the human mind and body. Someone decided she was too much of a nuisance, too bothered by death. So she too had to die.

On 13 November 1998, Berezovsky wrote an open letter to Putin in Kommersant. He accused senior officers of the Directorate of Analysis and Suppression of Criminal Groups Major-General Yevgeny Khokholkov, N. Stepanov, A. Kamyshnikov, and N. Yenin of ordering his assassination.[26]

Four days later, on 17 November Litvinenko and four other officers appeared together in a press conference at the Russian news agency Interfax.

All officers worked for both FSB in the Directorate of Analysis and Suppression of Criminal Groups.[15] They repeated the allegation made by Berezovsky.[15][27]

> Lubyanka Criminal Group (Russian: Лубянская преступная группировка; also translated as The Gang from Lubyanka) is a book by Alexander Litvinenko about the alleged transformation of the Russian Security Services into a criminal and terrorist organization.[1][2]
>
> Lubyanka is known as KGB headquarters. In the book, the authors claim that Russian president Vladimir Putin and other FSB officers have been involved in organized crime, including covering up drug traffic from Afghanistan.[3]
>
> The book was withdrawn from sales in Russia by request from the FSB[4] according to The Moscow Human Rights News Agency Prima News. In response, the authors allowed the book's publication and distribution by anyone in Russia free of charge. Alexander Goldfarb. Alexander Davidovich Goldfarb (a.k.a. Alex Goldfarb, Russian: Александр Давидович Гольдфарб; born 1947 in Moscow) is a Russian-American microbiologist, activist, and author. from From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

---

Ignite! Learning, Inc. is an educational software and hardware company co-founded in 1999 by Texas businessman Neil Bush [1] and a year later Ken Leonard. Neil is a brother of Former President George W. Bush and Former Florida Governor Jeb Bush, and son of former President George Herbert Walker Bush. Alan Davis resigned as the President and CEO in November, 2009. Ken Leonard is the current acting CEO. Berezovsky was an investor in Bush's Ignite! Learning, an educational software corporation, since at least 2003. In 2005

B. Allen-Ebrahimian https://twitter.com/BethanyAllenEbr

Jun 5 2021 Scoop: The Bush Foundation for US-China Relations accepted $5 million from a Chinese Community Party-linked policy organization known for its efforts to make U.S. policy discussions more Beijing-friendly.

July 1, 2020

About the Bush China Foundation

Neil Bush, Founder/Chairman

Charles Foster, Vice Chairman

David J. Firestein, President/CEO

Florence Fang

Carla A. Hills, Honorary Chair

Our Mission

The mission of the George H. W. Bush Foundation for U.S.-China Relations is to advance U.S.-China relations in ways that reflect the ethos, spirit and values of President George H. W. Bush. While in the Oval Office and throughout his long post-presidency, President Bush regarded China as a vital partner of the United States and the U.S.-China relationship as the single most important bilateral relationship in the world. President Bush advocated an approach to China that was clear-eyed and focused on long-term U.S. interests rather than the political winds of the moment. He sought a relationship with China that was functional, substantive, results-oriented, mutually beneficial and politically sustainable. Though President Bush loved the Chinese people, he didn't shy away from calling out, sometimes in blunt terms, Chinese policies and actions that he felt were misguided or inimical to the interests of the United States.

Message From Our President

…

We believe that virtually no major global challenge today can be resolved in any enduring sense in the absence of effective communication and cooperation between the United States and China. We emphatically reject the notion that China is the enemy of the United States, even as we view China as the most formidable overall national competitor the United States will face in the lifetime of every American alive today. Like President Bush, Foundation staff members have for many years expressed disagreement with, and leveled direct public criticism of, Chinese policies and actions on issues ranging from China's approach to Taiwan and Hong Kong, to China's human rights record and its handling of the Tiananmen protests in 1989, to China's trade and investment practices and, most recently, China's early response to COVID-19, among others.

Over the years, numerous former U.S. secretaries of state and national security advisors from both sides of the partisan aisle, along with multiple former members of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff and other notable Cabinet-level observers, have lauded the thought leadership of individuals who are now members of the Bush China Foundation staff team.

…

David J. Firestein, President & CEO

Though the terms of the U.S. debate on China have shifted dramatically over the last several years, the Bush China Foundation remains committed to its positioning in the "sensible center" of U.S.-China discourse and faithful to the vision of its namesake.

Business Plot retrieved from Wikipdia and copied or modified to here

In July 2007, Scott Horton, an American attorney known for his work in human rights law and the law of armed conflict, had an article published in Harper's Magazine claiming that Prescott Bush was involved in the 1934 Business Plot, a failed plan by some of America's wealthy to overthrow President Franklin D. Roosevelt.[23]

However, no evidence from the source material of the congressional report, or from news reports at the time, make any mention of Bush's involvement.

The Business Plot (also called The White House Putsch)[1][2] was a political conspiracy in 1933 in the United States to overthrow the government of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and install a dictator.[1] Retired Marine Corps Major General Smedley Butler asserted that wealthy businessmen were plotting to create a fascist veterans' organization with Butler as its leader and use it in a coup d'état to overthrow Roosevelt. In 1934, Butler testified under oath before the United States House of Representatives Special Committee on Un-American Activities (the "McCormack-Dickstein Committee") on these revelations.[3] No one was prosecuted.

At the time of the incidents, most major news media dismissed the plot, with a New York Times editorial characterizing it as a "gigantic hoax".[4] While historians have questioned whether or not a coup was actually

[image]

One week after February 20 1961 a meetign with Burke

On July 1, 1933, Butler met with MacGuire and Doyle for the first time. Gerald C. MacGuire was a $100-a-week bond salesman for Grayson Murphy … Company[21][22] and a member of the Connecticut American Legion.[23][24] Bill Doyle was commander of the Massachusetts American Legion.[25] Butler stated that he was asked to run for National Commander of the American Legion.

> American Legion
>
> [image]
>
> First and foremost an association for United States ex-servicemen, the American Legion was founded in Paris in 1919. As of 1993, there were little over 3 million members.
>
> The American Legion is not a secret society in the classic sense, but is has initiatory rituals and a strong political agenda. Moreover, in some localities, American Legion membership consists entirely of freemasons.
>
> By the 1920s, the Legion began to assume semiofficial status in federal government, which gave it certain surplus military equipment and granted it tax exemption on its building in Washington D.C. The Legion has historically exerted influence on local, state and federal legislators and was instrumental in securing GI and veterans' benefits. At any times, however, its right-wing orientation motivated agitation for such intolerant legislative measures as a ban on citizenship on foreign-born Japanese (1920) and a push for legislation requiring all foreign-language newspapers to file translations with the U.S. Postmasters general.

The American Legion Auxiliary is the ladies' branch of the organization and works in support of veterans' rights and welfare, especially for the wounded and the elderly.

On July 3 or 4, Butler held a second meeting with MacGuire and Doyle. He stated that they offered to get hundreds of supporters at the American Legion convention to ask for a speech.[27] MacGuire left a typewritten speech with Butler that they proposed he read at the convention. "It urged the American Legion convention to adopt a resolution calling for the United States to return to the gold standard, so that when veterans were paid the bonus promised to them, the money they received would not be worthless paper."[12] The inclusion of this demand further increased Butler's suspicion.

> Around August 1, MacGuire visited Butler alone. Butler stated that MacGuire told him Grayson Murphy underwrote the formation of the American Legion in New York and Butler told MacGuire that the American Legion was "nothing but a strikebreaking outfit."[28] Butler never saw Doyle again.

In a December 6, 1992 sworn declaration, Russbacher described to me part of the CIA operations in which he was involved:

GUNTHER ROSSBACHER was also a pilot who checked out in the SR 71 blackbird …and he piloted G.H.W. BUSH across the Atlantic after Bush did his negotiations in the October Surprise. Rossbacher HAD HIS VIDEO CAMERA ON, AND TAPED BUSH'S RIDE. Rossbacher was later neutralized with mind control. His wife is RAYELIN at her site, RUMOR MILL NEWS.

During my time of service within the Proprietary Operations Division of the Central Intelligence Agency, I was approached while using the assigned name of Robert Andrew Walker to initiate contact with a nationally prominent brokerage house. (It must be noted that I had been a part of such brokerage facility under another alias/code name.) .. (continuing on)

SILVERADO S&l WAS NEIL BUSH's family mafia crime. He was butt buddies with the parents of the Hinckley, used as a MK ULTRA PATSY who went down on the ATTEMPTED MURDER OF Ronald REAGAN

SILVERADO S&L WAS NEIL BUSH's family mafia crime. He was butt buddies with the parents of the Hinckley, used as a MK ULTRA PATSY who went down on the ATTEMPTED MURDER OF REAGAN, that "would have put BUSH into the White House". (Good history lesson for BARACK OBAMA TO HEAR, so he does not put HILARY CLINTON ON HIS TICKET AS VICE PRESIDENT).

Alexander Litvinenko From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Alexander Valterovich Litvinenko (Russian: Алекса́ндр Ва́льтерович Литвине́нко, IPA: [ɐlʲɪˈksandr ˈvaltɨrəvʲɪtɕ lʲɪtvʲɪˈnʲɛnkə]; 30 August 1962[2][3] or 4 December 1962 by father's account[4] - 23 November 2006) was a British-naturalised Russian defector and former officer of the Russian FSB secret service who specialised in tackling organized crime.[1][5] According to US diplomats, Litvinenko coined the phrase "mafia state".[6]

In November 1998, Litvinenko and several other FSB officers publicly accused their superiors of ordering the assassination of the Russian tycoon and oligarch Boris Berezovsky. Litvinenko was arrested the following March on charges of exceeding the authority of his position. He was acquitted in November 1999 but re-arrested before the charges were again dismissed in 2000. He fled with his family to London and was granted asylum in the United Kingdom, where he worked as a journalist, writer and consultant for the British intelligence services.

During his time in Boston, Lincolnshire, Litvinenko wrote two books, Blowing Up Russia: Terror from Within and Lubyanka Criminal Group, wherein he accused the Russian secret services of staging the Russian apartment bombings and other terrorism acts in an effort to bring Vladimir Putin to power. He also accused Putin of ordering the murder in October 2006 of the Russian journalist Anna Politkovskaya.

On 1 November 2006, Litvinenko suddenly fell ill and was hospitalised in what was established as a case of poisoning by radioactive polonium-210; he died from the poisoning on 23 November. He became the first known victim of lethal polonium 210-induced acute radiation syndrome.[7] The events leading up to this are a matter of controversy, spawning numerous theories relating to his poisoning and death. A British murder investigation pointed to Andrey Lugovoy, a former member of Russia's Federal Protective Service, as the prime suspect. The United Kingdom demanded that Lugovoy be extradited, which is against the Constitution of Russia, which prohibits[8] extradition of Russian citizens. Russia denied the extradition, which led to the straining of relations between Russia and the United Kingdom.

After Litvinenko's death, Marina Litvinenko, aided by biologist Alexander Goldfarb, pursued a vigorous campaign through the Litvinenko Justice Foundation. In October 2011, she won the right for an inquest into her husband's death to be conducted by a coroner in London; the inquest was repeatedly set back by issues relating to examinable evidence.[9] A public inquiry began on 27 January 2015,[10] and concluded in January 2016 that Litvinenko's murder was an FSB operation that was probably personally approved by both Vladimir Putin and Nikolai Patrushev who was then Director of FSB.[11][12]

In the chapter Gangtalk: CIA Predation on Citizens via CIA-Asset Criminals I use this description of the Gangstalk ,and all of this the CIA doing cleanup of genetic evidence tied to CIA misconduct under illegal science and Masonary genome lines of hidden identities.

Law Enforcement Versus Subversion (espionage Honey Pot Blackmails over Honey Trap)

Subversion of my marital life and trust fund from my mother's side but why?

Law Enforcement Paid Informant Wall-off of Suspect

Agency (3) and assets/public (2) are in Conspiracy against suspect (1) in Contain.

(3 2) (1)

1. Criminal Suspect, Law Enforcement tipped off [husband looking for murder of wife for hire]

2. FBI, LE uses paid informants or themselves to surround suspect under cover, document suspect recruiting hit on wife, Wife of husband covertly moved to safety

3. Suspect walled off from society by Law Enforcement plain clothes

Espionage Paid Assailants Wall-off of Suspect (Gangstalk Conspiracy Against Marital Rights)

(3 2) (1)

In this book sometimes written as 2B upper level conspirator with 2A general public enlisted conspirator working with 2B (2B 2) (1)

Collectively Jade Helm 15 PsyOps MKULTRA. A person “from the neighborhood” tried to set me up with an under age “domina” to which I said no. At one time I was a little iffy wiht a truly emancipated minor 17 year old who was uneasy just getting started leading me to stop right away. THis was in my twenties or so.

But others near me are mistaken for me and I think even planted to be taken for me as they “take the bait” and photograph 15 year olds, then confess (as me) they owe out of my trust fund.

1. FBI has it in for a person and wishes to harrass them under color law, military grade harassment

2. Paid Assailants, Inculpatory evidence fabricators, make husband look bad, move Wife from husband, covertly moved to dubious protection of police

3. Normal safe husband but Law Enforcement has it in for him or wife,[husband a good husband obeys laws but seperated now] harassed from public life and opportunities

In its most lethal form the wife is encouraged, incited, by police to take vindictive action against husband in “curbside justice,” catty get backs at someone who you have a secretive dislike of.

In case dirt cops as “case managers” use Recidivist Confidential Assailants planted near me to continue the crimes that are their propensity including attacks on me which are race baiting or acts of pedophilia against minors near me.

The dirty cop case manager THEN goes to a second snith and says to the snitch “Let’s get Ed that racist or that pedophile.

The snitch with the police backing will shoot first , ask question of Ed (not at all because Snitch two is a duped of the cop.

Separation of Snitches Double Blind Steps

1. Cops uses Confidential Assailant to attack Ed via physical act, no explanation, snitch thinks attacking a racist or pedophile [acts on information, translates motive into act

2. Earlier the copy used a Confidential Assailant who is a Dopple of Ed or other kind of asset to create a false police report on Ed [Creates Information]

The pretext for a dupe snitch to act on is create in one step, the dupe snitch is then incited in the second step, translating the theory about ed into an acts towards Ed.

Paid Assailants themselves goading the assaulted victim

Vocabulary.com retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

> goad

1. stab or urge on as if with a pointed stick

2. urge with or as if with a goad

3. goad or provoke, as by constant criticism

4. give heart or courage to

A goad is a pointy stick or other instrument used to prod something along. To goad is to poke something with that pointy stick. Either way, the pointiness is really essential for making things leap into action.

Originally spelled gad, meaning “spearhead,” goad first came into use as a verb in the 1570s. But say you left your pointy goading stick at home. Have no fear! You can goad people with words, too. Literally or figuratively, a goad prods and pokes and provokes people into doing something. A sheep herder might hustle his flock along with a goad, just as your mom’s constant nagging and goading might finally get you sit up straight at the dinner table.

“Fight Picking” defined by Ed Donegan as he has expereinced from others

Evidence planters, those I am already senstitive to (allergic to) such as criminals, pedophiles, gang members, race baiters, assault children in front of me, perhaps their own. At the scene and later in civil claims against me will Goad me as an alleged lover of children being seuxallized, and also goad me they robbed my trust fund of what I wanted as was for me but sucefully stolen from me, my mother, and the trust fund itself. The puplic the > goading is the Judged victor over me but in fact it was larceny based false claims which deemed them to rightful parties to good standing and property claims.

>
> The publicly visible goading of me as actually Propoganda claims to the public that they are in the right and I am in the wrong, but they assailantes dare not explicitly articlate that anywhere near me unless they are forging electronic communications with me.
>
> I believe this is also have my elderly father was drawn into pscyh ward, a fight, and that then his death covered with bruises.

The true art of step four is the theory that a criminal prosecution can not occur for various reasons but SOCIAL revenge if kept secret is the best way to get revenge for what is in secret known about a person.

This is the Masonry system of Rough Music, having secret enemies and plausibly deniable rough treatment of a person in public that is Masonic Harassment, sometimes if the police have masonic ties the harassment is under Color of Law as it has been with me.

The subversion of the husband and marriage work upon the police picking fights, under cover with husband also using the frame of husband behind his back with his wife who now keeps company with the police, not husband, but keeps secret of what police said to her.

That very Plumbers frame job under color of law subversion of me spanning decades

Vocabulary.com retrieved from disrupt and copied or modified to here disrupt [Ed Donegan's positive and health bringing healthy activities]

Disrupt goes back to the Latin root disrumpere, "to break apart." When you disrupt, you break someone's concentration, break up a routine, or break apart a system or order, as when bad weather disrupts the travel plans of people in airports. Even if your headphones keep the music in your ears only, singing out loud can disrupt those around you. A larger interruption would be if a war were to erupt. That would disrupt the peace of an entire region and its people. [As in Edward Donegan's gym usage by minors planted near me claiming to be exploited thus coming between and me and normal gym atmosphere]

To disrupt is to interrupt or throw something into disorder. If you don't turn your phone off before a play, it might ring and disrupt the actors and the audience.

1. make a break in Synonyms: break up, cut off, interrupt break, break off, discontinue, stop

2. throw into disorder "This event disrupted the orderly process"

3. interfere in someone else's activity

The Disruption of Edward Donegan's activities

> Photo bombs of minors around me, acting in outlandish and provocative ways, make my presence a risk to me as I will be blamed for the narrow view of the scene, me and the tot, and not the larger picture of the minor being planted in my vicinity by others
>
> Forged electronic communications and others who represent the minors being exploited send claims to my trust fund representatives to settle the claims of the minors create a direct path to my trust fund which they wanted available for claims, and the trust fund likes them better than me.

I assert the Trust Fund was move into place to be available for false claims against a family line they wanted rights to.

I am not a psycho, not retarded, nor a pedophile, nor a racist but I am in these areas in provoked fights all my life which sets up that I need an conservator who will pay my imagined debts to minority victims who are also represented by my trust fund.

Te Killing Fields laboratory Ecosystem to Preempt of Racism While Both Generating it and Studying it

Mendel, pea plants were fundamental in allowing him to understand the means by which traits are inherited between parent and offspring. He chose pea plants because they were easy to grow, could be bred rapidly, and had several observable characteristics

For the human brain and later brain evolution only human brains could be studied and then over generations of testing.

MKULTRA long underway it used the rights to genome to both fund preemption of racism by assaulting people and while doing that get funded by alleging the victim of the assault harmed the racial groups assaulting the white guy, me, tbus the assailants in the goading attack on me are able to fund the study of racism by goading me with false claims of their victims.

This creates as army of now funded and incentivized struggling racial groups who can operate in a black opps black budget sphere with high level CIA support though the funding source is a based on racketeering in the killing fields ecosystem in which the mercenaries are paid off to be self style justice seekers in harassment of a white establishment person with deep pockets.

“I don’t have to worry about the federal budge deficit. It is big enough to take care of itself.” - Ronald Reagan

The DARPA Program can survive not because it is error free, but because it has the necessary Superpowers to overcome its errors, including continuing subversion of its victims.

The long war on racism meant funding via assets siezures and keeping “racism” out of law much like tearing down Confederate statues.

I think john Browns 21st Century War is funded by US v $323K dollars, my trust fund, and is a wetworks war against the old Oceania establishment and its singular claim to beneficial genetics.

The premise of this book is White House Plumbers and Media Cronies are seizing genome rights which if moved into orphanage work will aid foreign economies and this ties to ongoing evidence plants and THEN seizures based on intelligence estimates of NDAA criminal activities detection and disruption, disruption by seizing the assets for victims use, not the criminal's usage and this is tied to the DARPA Brain program around the world.

The Subversion of me is meant to look like a racial matter since racial predators, Confidential Informants working for Espionage, have been thrown at me and it is supposed to look like a Pedophilia matter since teens and tots are thrown at me.

If State back assets 1) create fights, create incriminating racial or exploitation of minors fights with me and then 2) blame me for the fights the public will then back the State in that fight and likely any other fights or discrimination as well.

I call this Anti Heroes, those planting minors at the scene make a spectacle about shouting it out that I ma there and as I react in anger to them it only bolsters their claims to the public they are the heroes and I am the villain, bolstering their theatrics polarizing the public towards them and away from me.

Propaganda has the elements of being public, as public as possible while also being deceitful and able to be suggestively incorrect as needed by the propagandist to cover the wrong doing of the person offering the propaganda to the public.

Later in this book I will go into Braggadocio as a word and that the spectacle of seeming neighbor watch physical acts of bravado actually are just propaganda that they in the search for "the real exploiter" when in fact it was them all along.

Jen Moore told the truth. This is about the Free Masons covering up the truth of MKULTRA and the Manhattan Project and as she says in her YouTube videos and the masons themselves say this includes the Kennedy Assassination, of some importance to the USA as well as "Fountain of Youth" black market frontiers in genetics and biological science .

Thus foreign economies and White Supremacist genome is conceivably tied to Judge Roll and Justice Scalia.

This book is about my life as a USA Citizen under MKULTRA attack by the NWO plans of MKULTRA operating out of Middle East North Africa (MENA) Airport and Fee Masons support of assassination, murder, and illegal activities which continue the Illuminati Masons bungle of history so far and what the Masons, the families of MKULTRA are hiding from the public.

These Illuminati NWO families are the shot callers of Blackwater hits and illegal gangs and the Show Runners of the US Media world, both the gangs and the media running cover up for these operations, stenciling whistle bowers with the term "Conspiracy Theories" which promote "Dabd Tendencies" for those who believe the Conspiracy Theories about these Free Masons..

> "Gang Stalking" is, very likely, a disinformation term created by U.S. intelligence agencies. It refers to the intense, long-term, unconstitutional surveillance and harassment of a person who has been designated as a target by someone associated with America's security industry.
>
> Such operations have nothing to do with criminal gangs. Official domestic counterintelligence operations of this type are - apparently - perpetrated by federal agents and contractors, sometimes with the support of state and local law enforcement personnel. The goal of such operations - in the parlance of counterintelligence agents - is to "subvert" or "neutralize" an individual deemed to be an enemy (or potential enemy) of clients or members of the security state. Arguably, the most accurate term for this form of harassment would be "counterintelligence stalking."

Subversion of me involves reproductive and genetics issues still tied to MKULTRA and my rather in Atomic Blast Testing and the Manhattan Project of Manhattan Beach.

"False Heroes" Gangstalkers are usually drawn from outlaw biker gangs, street gangs, prison gangs, or other ghetto sources who are willing to both plant evidence and while in illegal access to premises steal property [such as book manuscripts] and become false heroes as the janitor, landlord company or building supervisor, who really found "something out" about someone while changing the sheets, doing a service repair call to the apartment, etc., usually while the tenant is not present.

Compelled	Propelled	Property
	Steal the book because it is of worth (possible stand alone motive)	Real Ed Donegan's book
Unless the above theft occurs the a plot to undermine Ed will fail

Compelled Propelled Act

False Heroes needed an anti-hero for their struggle, their heroic acts to look real thus the vilification of me by their planting evidence and creating incriminating circumstances.

The character of the evidence plants was inconsistent though with Tom Dunham or myself

The evidence plants are consistent with the needs of harassers of Tom Dunbam who entangle with us on the basis of evidence plants (Abuse of Process) and during that entanglement utilize the copied assets of Tom Dunham and myself because as alleged heroes seem better choices to society than Ton Dhunam or myself.

Elsewhere in the book I use this list of legitimate and phony investigations.

Methods Employed for sex abuse of a person by predators

Most sexual predators are skilled sales people who know how to get you to trust them and hand over control of a situation to them. They know how to disarm you, influence your choices, and determine your decisions for you. If you feel that somebody is trying to sell you on a course of action, and is persistent in their attempts to do so, then you are most likely in the presence of a predatory individual, and should do what you can to disengage from the situation you are in. A person should be judged by their behaviors and actions regardless of whether they are a friend, an acquaintance, or even a family member - statistically you are more likely to be assaulted by someone belonging to one of these groups than by a stranger e.g. if a friend of your boyfriend/partner comes to your home at a time when they know he won't be around, be equally suspicious of them as you would be with a stranger who turned up on your doorstep.

Gavin De Becker, identifies seven behaviors, actions, or methods that predatory individuals use to disarm or groom you, these are:

- Charm & Niceness
- Too Much Information (being flashed)

- Discounting the word “No”
- Typecasting (in my case suggesting “Ed Donegan wanted it”)
- Loan Sharking (alleging I “took the bait” and actually some else did impersonating me was the “bad risk” who did wrong)
- Forced Teaming (adding others to my environment)
- Unsolicited Promises

Any individual who wants to groom you first has to gain access to you. We can use the example of a friend of your partner/boyfriend coming to your house at an unexpected time, when they would know you will be alone - something which should be questioned in and of itself. If a person we know starts to behave and act in an unfamiliar way, we should automatically be suspicious of what these changes mean e.g. if that person used to be hostile but is now being friendly, we should question why this is, rather than simply be relieved that (present and) future awkward social situations have been avoided. Niceness is not a character trait, it is a way of behaving, and predatory individuals can learn how to appear as “nice” people. I taught my 6 year old son how to be polite, how to say “please” and “thank you”, he was not born with these words in his mouth, he learn’t them. People can learn how to be nice, and although we associate niceness, and to a lesser extent politeness, with good intentions, the two aren’t actually the same.

> In my case, Edward Paul Donegan, the > sexual abuse [of me} Predator will make the unsolicited prpmise they were only talking about the groceries or pizza I ordered and there is nothing to worry about, nothing else is intoned or planned.

The unsolicited promise. When somebody makes a "promise" to you in order to address an obvious concern that you have, but haven't yet voiced, they are using a sales technique/method known as "closing the doors behind you."

A predator will know that there will be a request they make of you, which you will feel uneasy with and will want to deny them. By assuring you that no harm will come to you, they are attempting to close a door behind you, which you could have used to exit the situation.

Law Enforcement Versus Subversion (espionage Honey Pot Blackmails over Honey Trap)

Subversion of my marital life and trust fund from my mother's side but why?

Law Enforcement Paid Informant Wall-off of Suspect

1. Criminal Suspect, Law Enforcement tipped off [husband looking for murder of wife for hire]

2. FBI, LE uses paid informants or themselves to surround suspect under cover, document suspect recruiting hit on wife

3. Wife of husband covertly moved to safety

Espionage Paid Informant Wall-off of Suspect (Gangstalk Conspiracy Against Marital Rights)

1. Normal safe husband, Law Enforcement has it in for him or wife,[husband a good husband obeys laws]

2. FBI, LE uses paid informants or themselves to surround suspect under cover, do plant evidence of husband wanting murder of wife

3. Wife of husband covertly moved to dubious protection of police

4. In its most lethal form the wife is encouraged, incited, by police to take vindictive action against husband in "curbside justice," catty get backs at someone who you have a secretive dislike of.

The true art of step four is the theory that a criminal prosecution can not occur for various reasons but SOCIAL revenge if kept secret is the best way to get revenge for what is in secret known about a person.

Step 4 has often, usually, been going to a psychiatric examiner behind my back with forged evidence and deceitful information than not transporting me to hearings or allowing me the court proceeding materials of which I the stakeholder was left out of.

In this book I will utilize reliable data on Subversion that if a community can be financially or otherwise bought off it may go along with Subversives and gain from it.

The blind conservator may be another place bogus information is presented to in my absence.

This is the Masonary system of Rough Music, having secret enemies and plausibly deniable rough treatment of a person in public that is Masonic Harassment, sometimes if the police have masonic ties the harassment is under Color of Law as it has been with me.

The subversion of the husband and marriage work upon the police picking fights, under cover with husband also using the frame of husband behind his back with his wife who now keeps company with the police, not husband, but keeps secret of what police said to her.

The protagonists here were the anti heroes disguising themselves as heroes in their defeat of what are actually false flag criminal activity they themselves, the protagonists, created using their own victims as gambits to be victims near Tom Dunham or myself or near the property of Tom Dunham or myself.

Non verbally these paid actors make it look like I am following a child by placing them near or around me and non verballly they air punch me as if I harmed the child by making child porn of it. This is a way of making false claims later elsewhere, my trust fund, which the public appearance of seeming events support.

Repeatedly I have been institutionalized for fighting against this and the press and State deny the operation where an impersonator of me forges my identity to offend and confess while in my identity.

It appears to be what Jen Moore and others called Pizza-gate where it seems “I [Edward Donegan] had a scum bag “provider” put a minor in my present to photograph, but the impersonator of me who did “take tbe [jail] bait, also an adult, will be caught with the pictures when an adult entertainer, called in my name, will catch that person with the child porn, and claim my DNA can then be re-assigned to victims and victims funds, a ‘money shot” paid to the exploited.

Use of sex offenders to surround me both create the appearance I am sex offender and blurs their acts with mine since we are both near the minor being exploited by photograph of provocative pose.

This very “found” evidence in one apartment prevents the deal from going through on other apartments, at least I have found that to be the case now stuck in the ghetto.

“Targeted Victims” as Jen Moore called them, us, me, law abiding citizens, are attacked by Blackwater CIA Mercenaries security-types in illegal operations using street criminals as assets, the CIA used to harass people, to plant defaming evidence on, etc., and under various *excuse*s hiding their real motives which this book exposes, covering up the errors of big names in politics and security errors they made.

I list some of the very big names with things to hide in the chapter and as Jen Moore said big names, the very most powerful of the elite are running the Gangstalk.

I say these elites are tied to the 1961 events of my birth and in the Law Enforcement Intelligence Unit “Fusion Centers” of the NDAA Disposition Matrix asset seizures system including the one at 555 Tancahua Corpus Christi are tied to Hillary Clinton and MENA, Alma Powell Auditory Therapy Colin Powell Boston, 1961, Catholic Charities, the Obama family, all also tied to my birth and wrongful 1961 and beyond use of my DNA by people like Herman Edward Butt.

Some of these names are in section of the book Abuse of Witnesses (me and Jen Moore) to Politician Misconduct section of the book in quick description form but also are in the detailed history in the 2,000 or so pages of the chapters leading up to that.

The detractors or foes of political enemies of politicians seem to fall on hard times, like Adnan Khashoggi, Michael Hastings, his girlfriend his fiancée Andrea Parhamovich or others family with “biolgical weapons” (genomic medicines) in use in the Middle East to stabilize nations and that connection to the origins of Obama under that same program (#Truther).

The media will back the government operation and even help suppress information the operation is going on.

I classify these stalkers operated by the CIA as “lumpenproletariat” using Carl Marx’s term and his definition as a group willing to be bribed into misconduct.

> essentially parasitical group was largely the remains of older, obsolete stages of social development, and that it could not normally play a progressive role in history [on its own.] Indeed, because it acted only out of socially ignorant self-interest, the lumpenproletariat was easily bribed by reactionary forces and could be used to combat the true proletariat

I have been through violent assaults by these people, CIA backed, and with little recourse and frequently I am blamed for the confrontations or the illegal acts of the riff raff themselves, as dopples of me, collecting witness accounts I am a bad person who should be sunned (subversion of me in society.).

Jen Moore came to my defense and the defense of my deceased mother, also attacked, and I think the CIA killed her for outing the CIA operation and black budget and block opps the stalkers use, an underground riff raff network of black marketing the rights to my genome in a biological rights trafficking network among adult entertainers ala operation Midnight Climax of the CIA in massage parlors during the history of MKULTRA.

I had wondered why I was targeted and subject to Espionage operations and I traced it to my fathers and mothers military service and the DARPA DOD NASA need to coverup the Space Race and Nuclear Triad disaster of the Cuba and Pacific Missile Crisis, that two decades after the the atomic bombing of Japan my father was a part of, and that later crisis between Cuban and Chinese missiles during my birth under continuing Manhattan Project work at Manhattan Beech California in a Catholic/CIA operated DNA results testing hospital.

Finally, after much of my life through family information and public records and even a movie analogy I found what is the true story of my life and comparison in a well known movie.

Treat Williams as Colonel Fitzgerald has the “duty” of covering up radiation testing affects and operations disasters of the Manhattan Project area (Los Angeles police and across the border to Nevada) and the coverups involve murders of those whose existence could expose the truth of what really happened during the Atomic Proving Ground Dept of Energy operation and is disastrous medical fallout history.

My Sword broken, hers strong, for her to me, my Strength

> “In going where you have to go, and doing what you have to do, and seeing what you have to see, you’ll dull and blunt the instrument you write with. But I would rather have it bent and dull and know I had to put it to the grindstone again and hammer it into shape and put a whetstone to it, and know that I had something to write about, than to have it bright and shining and nothing to say, or smooth and well-oiled in the closet, but unused.” - Ernest Hemingway

It was from her to me I found the deeper answers, the deeper truths, the deeper understanding, and the meaning of courage, that in her.

I had a number of conversations about courage with my father and he was qualified to speak on the topic.

James Paul Donegan was raised in what he called “the wrong side of the tracks” Boston and dreamed while painting under age worker status to help out the household to one day fly *.

At the outbreak of WWII he signed up right away and become a member of the Army Air Corps. My best guess is he flew reconnaissance before, during, or after the nuclear bombings of Japan because he was in the Manhattan Project above ground (blast exposure) testing in Nevada and Simi Valley California and Johnson Atol of Hawaii and i was born under that Manhattan Bomb development Los Alamos atomic center, Manhattan Beach (which is 10 miles from Venice Beach) California in an Inglewood neighborhood Jesuit hospital under extensive testing.

During his military service he flew the recon version of the P-51 which he told me could only take pictures, and that the cameras were wired up to the normal gun firing controls thus replacing gun firing function in the controls as well as plane equipment.

The Manhattan Project, Manhattan New York Columbia University gets a Manhattan Beach head near Venice, Santa Monica, and other Los Angeles County beaches

The Manhattan [Beach] Project and Simi Valley

Within a 25 mile radius of my birth at the time of my birth

Daniel Freeman Jesuit Inglewood Hospital Los Angel's County Manhattan City November 18 was JFK, The Lawords Schartenegers, Manhattan Project Bomb development including p 51s and my father piloting them, Simi Valley bomb test area IV, MKULTRA Rocket Testing, and offshore, Hawaii , the Johnson bomb blast atol, and OBama's alleged birthplace.

I carry the Windsor London KE FOXP2 gene running in families tied to all this intersection of world history.

*

Quote retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Los Angeles's NUCLEAR SECRET Years of mishandling dangerous radioactive materials and chemicals has also left a toxic legacy for generations of people living near the Santa Susana Field Laboratory. BY JOEL GROVER AND MATTHEW GLASSER

With the detonation of the world's first nuclear weapon by the United States Army on July 16, 1945, the world ushered in the "Atomic Age." Two years later, an American aerospace company called North American Aviation selected a rural location in the hills above Simi Valley to build a secret research facility.

> The Inglewood builder of the P-51 my father would fly at built at the place of my birth Inglewood neighborhood of , Manhattan Beach City of Los Angles County where Ed Donegan was born near the SSFL test site and Nevada Test Site of atomic bombs and above ground testing.

At first, the purpose of the site was to test rocket engines. But in 1953, under the supervision of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, the predecessor of the Department of Energy and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, the Field Lab added Area IV (effectively Simi Valley Hills of Los Angles, blasts visible from LA).

This 209-acre section of the Field Lab was dedicated to nuclear research including the development and testing of experimental nuclear reactors. Over the course of four decades, Area IV would be home to 10 reactors, a plutonium fuel fabrication facility, a uranium fuel facility and a "hot lab" for remotely cutting up dangerous radioactive material.

The rest of the site, more than 2,000 acres was used for the testing and development of rocket engines for the U.S. space program and for advanced weapons research. During its operational history, more than 30,000 rocket engine tests were conducted at SSFL.

Starfish Prime was a July 9, 1962, high-altitude nuclear test conducted by the United States, a joint effort of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) and the Defense Atomic Support Agency. It was launched from Johnston Atoll (near Hawaii atomic proving “ground”) and was the largest nuclear test …

Outside of the bomb development work during WWII I do not know too much about his flight role history but I guess reconnaissance since he flew reconnaissance in the Korean War, still in military service in what was then created and is now the US Air force.

My father, the acrobatic type flew this the Recon version of the P-51 Mustang in both WWII and the Korean war.

Supermarine Spitfire (early Merlin-powered variants)

Google knowledge panel retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

The Packard V-1650 Merlin is a version of the , Rolls-Royce Merlin aircraft engine, produced under license in the United States by the Packard Motor Car Company. The engine was licensed in order to expand production of the Rolls-Royce Merlin for British use. Major applications: North American P-51 Mustang; Supermarine Spitfire; Avro Lancaster Wikipedia

Google knowledge panel on the North American P-51 Mustang retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

The North American Aviation P-51 Mustang is an American long-range, single-seat fighter and fighter-bomber used during World War II and the Korean War, among other conflicts. Wikipedia

Top speed: 437 mph Range: 999.8 mi Wingspan: 37′ 0″ Engine type: Packard V-1650 Merlin

> The Rolls-Royce Merlin is a British liquid-cooled V-12 piston aero engine of 27-litres (1,650 cu in) capacity. Rolls-Royce designed the engine and first ran it in 1933 as a private venture. Initially known as the PV-12, it was later called Merlin following the company convention of naming its piston aero engines after birds of prey.*

Army Air Corps and later and later Triservice Naming of Airplanes *

The airplane made from Spitfire blueprints by North American Aviation (plane) and Packard Motors (V-16 engine) is most commonly flown as and called the P-51 D Mustang.

Its typical role and name designation is similar to an F/A-18 Hornet which as a fighter attack plane, light bomber or air combat.

In the days my father flew it as a recon plane in the US Army Air Corps it was the F-51D as Photographic Reconnaissance. The main modification was the wing guns were removed and cameras installed operated by the same trigger mechanism.

Basic mission

All aircraft are to be assigned a basic mission code. In some cases, the basic mission code is replaced by one of the modified mission codes when it is more suitable (e.g., M in MH-53J Pave Low III). The defined codes are:

- A: Attack aircraft (for tactical air-to-surface mission)
- B: Bomber (for strategic air-to-surface mission)
- C: Cargo (i.e. Transport)
- E: Special electronic installation
- F: Fighter
- K: Tanker (dropped between 1977 and 1985)
- L: Laser-equipped
- O: Observation (Forward Air Control)
- P: Maritime patrol
- R: Reconnaissance
- S: Anti-submarine warfare
- T: Trainer

- U: Utility
- X: Special research

The rise of the multirole fighter in the decades since the system was introduced has created some confusion about the difference between attack and fighter aircraft. According to the current designation system, an attack aircraft (A) is designed primarily for air-to-surface missions (also known as "attack missions"), while a fighter category F incorporates not only aircraft designed primarily for air-to-air warfare, but also multipurpose aircraft designed also for attack missions. The Air Force has even assigned the F designation to attack-only aircraft, such as the F-111 Aardvark and F-117 Nighthawk.

US Army Air Corps

- A : Attack and Light Bomber
- AT :Advanced Trainer
- B:Bomber
- BT :Basic Trainer
- C : Cargo and Transport

- F* : Photographic Reconnaissance

- L :Liaison

- O : Observation

- OA*: Amphibian (can operate from land or water)

- P : Fighter (Pursuit)

- PT : Primary Trainer

- R*: Helicopter (Rotary Wing)

- UC: Utility Transport

"Mustang Thouroughbread Stallion of the Air https://erenow.net/ww/mustang-thoroughbred-stallion-of-the-air/7.php retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

THE F-6 AND RF-51 TACTICAL RECONNAISSANCE MUSTANGS

Photographic reconnaissance and mapping aircraft are critical assets to successful military combat operations. In the Second World War, there were fifteen aircraft specifically created for photographic reconnaissance and mapping duties. Some were armed, some were unarmed. But all were of the utmost importance to the war effort.

To meet this challenge, the US Army Air Forces procured a relatively large number of photographic reconnaissance aircraft that were designated with the prefix F for Photo (graphic).

These photo-recce aircraft (as they were called) were created from attack, bomber and pursuit airplanes. Since the Mustang was a fast, well-armed pursuit airplane, the USAAF opted to procure a total of 481 tactical reconnaissance Mustangs up until VJ Day. For the most part, these Mustangs were manufactured on the Inglewood (Los Angles County) and Dallas production lines with special fuselage openings, behind which were specially built bays to house the cameras they carried.

> Speaking as Edward Paul Donegan here "Centinela Freeman Regional Medical Center, Memorial Campus was a hospital that was located at 333 N. Prairie Ave, Inglewood, is my place of birth and JFK seemed to have been there."

They were then sent to various modification centres (mod centres) for their respective camera installation processes. Since the Mustang was the sixth in the series of photo-recce aircraft, the first variant was designated F-6A followed by the F-6B, F-6C, F-6D and F-6K. All of the photo-recce aircraft were also known as 'Foto Joes'. These various photo-recce aircraft included the Fairchild F-1, Beech F-2, Douglas F-3, Lockheed F-4, Lockheed F-5, North American F-6, Consolidated F-7, De Havilland F-8, Boeing F-9, North American F-10, Hughes F-11, Republic F-12, Boeing F-13, Lockheed F-14 and Northrop F-15. Of these, however, it was only the F-4, F-5, F-6, F-7, F-9 and F-13 that were most widely used.

It was a tactical reconnaissance Mustang that became just the second USAAF Mustang variant to be used in a combat situation. On 9 April 1943, a lone P-51-2-NA (41-37328) flown by Lt. Alfred C. Schwab Jr. of the 154th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron flew an armed reconnaissance mission from its base in Tunisa, North Africa, whereby he successfully photographed the enemy-held Kairouan Aerodrome and returned without incident. This also marked the first time that a USAAF P-51 was used in combat. This P-51-2-NA and seventy-three others were re-designated F-6A-1-NA in late 1943. The first six P-51-2-NA Mustangs to arrive came to the 154TRS seven days earlier on 2 April 1943. On the next day during training maneuvers near the base, one of the 154TRS P-51s crashed killing its pilot Lt. Howard Kenner. These P-51s, said to closely resemble Bf 109s by some, had yellow stripes painted on their outer wings to help identify them as USAAF Mustangs. (Although the first USAAF P-51 Mustangs to see operational service were with the 154th TRS, after only a few weeks, the aircraft were transferred to the 68th Observation Group, 111th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron.)

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
CERTIFICATION OF VITAL RECORD

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

STATE FILE NUMBER 61-351457

CERTIFICATE OF LIVE BIRTH
STATE OF CALIFORNIA—DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

LOCAL REGISTRATION DISTRICT AND 7042
CERTIFICATE NUMBER 064704

THIS CHILD
1a. NAME OF CHILD—FIRST NAME: Edward
1b. MIDDLE NAME: Paul
1c. LAST NAME: Donegan
2. SEX: Male
3a. THIS BIRTH: SINGLE, TWIN, OR TRIPLET: Single
3b. IF TWIN OR TRIPLET, WAS THIS CHILD BORN 1ST, 2ND, 3RD?
4a. DATE OF BIRTH—MONTH, DAY, YEAR: November 18, 1961
4b. HOUR: 10:12 A.

PLACE OF BIRTH
5a. PLACE OF BIRTH—NAME OF HOSPITAL: Daniel Freeman Memorial Hospital
5b. STREET ADDRESS: 533 North Prairie Avenue
5c. CITY OR TOWN: Inglewood 1,
5d. COUNTY: Los Angeles

7657

MOTHER OF CHILD
6a. MAIDEN NAME OF MOTHER—FIRST NAME: Glorian
6b. MIDDLE NAME:
6c. LAST NAME: Gainey
7. COLOR OR RACE OF MOTHER: White
8. AGE OF MOTHER AT TIME OF THIS BIRTH: 33 YEARS
9. BIRTHPLACE (STATE OR FOREIGN COUNTRY): South Carolina
10. MAILING ADDRESS OF MOTHER

USUAL RESIDENCE OF MOTHER
11. USUAL RESIDENCE OF MOTHER—STREET ADDRESS: 584 35th Street
12. CITY OR TOWN: Manhattan Beach
13. IF INSIDE CORPORATE LIMITS: ☒ YES
14. IF OUTSIDE CITY CORPORATE LIMITS: ☐ ON A FARM ☐ NOT ON A FARM
15. COUNTY: Los Angeles
16. STATE: California

FATHER OF CHILD
17a. NAME OF FATHER—FIRST NAME: James
17b. MIDDLE NAME: Paul
17c. LAST NAME: Donegan
18. AGE OF FATHER AT TIME OF THIS BIRTH: 34 YEARS
19. BIRTHPLACE (STATE OR FOREIGN COUNTRY): Massachusetts
20. COLOR OR RACE OF FATHER: White
21a. PRESENT OR LAST OCCUPATION: Pilot
21b. KIND OF INDUSTRY OR BUSINESS: Airlines

INFORMANT'S CERTIFICATION
I HAVE REVIEWED THE ABOVE STATED INFORMATION AND HEREBY CERTIFY THAT IT IS TRUE AND CORRECT TO THE BEST OF MY KNOWLEDGE
17c. PARENT OR OTHER INFORMANT—SIGNATURE (CAPITALS): Glorian Donegan
17d. DATE SIGNED BY INFORMANT: November 19, 1961

ATTENDANT'S CERTIFICATION
I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT I ATTENDED THIS BIRTH AND THAT THE CHILD WAS BORN ALIVE AT THE HOUR, DATE AND PLACE STATED ABOVE
18a. PHYSICIAN OR (RIGHT OF THIS ONE): [illegible] M.D.
18b. ADDRESS: Los Angeles

REGISTRAR'S CERTIFICATION
19. DATE ON WHICH NAME ASSIGNED BY SUPERVISING REGISTRAR: FEB 2 1962
20. LOCAL REGISTRAR—SIGNATURE: R.H. Butler M.D.
21. DATE RECEIVED BY LOCAL REGISTRAR: DEC 4 1961

For the most part, these [photo reeces] Mustangs were manufactured on the Inglewood (Los Angles County) and Dallas production lines with special fuselage openings, behind which were specially built bays to house the cameras they carried.

Manhattan New York, Columbia University, and the Manhattan Beach [head] operation in Los Angeles

Columbia University Archives: Manhattan Project
Quote retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

> Alumni Profile: Barack Obama Columbia Undergraduate Admissions 212 Hamilton Hall, Mail Code 2807 212-854-2522

Columbia University Private university in New York City, New York

Columbia University is a private Ivy League research university in New York City. Established in 1754 on the grounds of Trinity Church in Manhattan, Columbia is the oldest institution of higher education in New York and the fifth-oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Wikipedia

Columbia was awarded the first federal contract to explore the use of atomic power for energy, or for bombs, and had the first atomic pile. Because the work was done for the government, most records relating to what is now known as the Manhattan Project are under the custody of the National Archives. For example, they hold the records of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The Department of Energy releases declassified Manhattan Project-related reports and documents on its OpenNet website. This searchable database includes bibliographical references to all documents declassified and made publicly available after October 1, 1994. Some documents can be viewed as full text. This website also provides a comprehensive Manhattan District History.

To start your research into Columbia's role in the Manhattan Project, read Laurence Lippsett's article "The race to make the bomb. The Manhattan Project: Columbia's wartime secret." The article appeared in Columbia College Today, Spring/Summer 1995, 18-21, 45.

> Columbia College Today THE R ACE TO MAKE THE BOMB The Manhattan Project: wartime secret *

Unless you pay me for yet another book or are tied to a chair and can not get away I will not tell you some of the many stories I have heard from my father or his friends or my mother but I will select a few stories here, stories of courage, and a story of fear.

My father stood there as Atomic Blast from a tower in Nevada, looking into it. It was necessary so he did it. He fought WWII bravely to save many from mass murder, like sailors, like the Army, not fighting at home, fighting inside enemy territory, in Harm's Belly.

Fear. He would toss and turn sweating at night my mother used to tell, as I was young and he was a TWA pilot. It never left him when he flew over civilian space what if he had gotten target selection wrong, what if his work or his errors led to the bombing of civilians?

Today they call that thing Post Traumatic Stress Disorder.

What I find is a triangle between him, Albert Epstein, and Jen Moore.

I hope I use the word digressing properly here. My father used to tell me all glamor is fleeting.

Truth, doing the right thing, they were never disposable to him, they were not negotiable. Perhaps the cynic in him, perhaps the love and respect for others in him, be never tried to leave the earth or be above, nor tried to conquer it.

Just be himself in it, be true to himself and to others, and let that drive him.

To Jen Moore and to James P. Donegan they were deeply connected to others and service to them.

Life is always hard, the outcomes can be painful and ill-fated as well as joyous. Neither Jen Moore nor he could fully control the world, but they were in control of themselves and whatever world they would ever live in the were relaxed at home with themselves and the decisions they made in life.

In my life the struggle has been to try and get out the filthy toilet bowl of Homeless Shelter Corpus Christi including being attacked with feces, death threats and attacks when I use the library, write books, or join meet-up on high tech, etc.,

It is my belief that

- The US Government and DARPA and various officials realize my mother by Mitochondria and other means will be identified as Kutschera/ Windsor descendent

- The US Government and DARPA and various officials wish to create a Racism and Psycho legend of my mother and I who are loyal to the USA and embroiled in provocations we have no originating roles in.,

By personality appearances and by DNA tracking we are being cut away from many similar people in the USA who are compassionate and thoughtful leaders.

In about 2007, inexplicably, I was formally threatened by a hostile black person who should not even know who I was and the threat was “We are going to cut your balls off and fuck Jessica Simpson with them” as he had a picture of Jessica Simpson in a bikini.

The system employed was copying my cultural and intellectual standing and worth as Brain Study and at the same time those assailant researchers trying to beat me out with that standing and worth of my own to others.

This book is not about, alone, the consistent events surrounding Nueces County Texas, its District Attorney Mark Gonzales, its federal district court CIA tied magistrates, the fight against white supremacism by US Marshalls in the area, nor the events cited as occurring in Nueces Texas but rather the long life these same events and of death threats to me by unidentified black predators who have threatened to kill any white woman (of reproductive age) near me or me if I were to go near white females of reproductive age, and the bizarre ability of the Gangstalk to get public co-operation with any of this under several conflicting and untrue “Legends’ which falsely justify the motive for their racially hostile acts and falsify the foundations of those racially hostile and human rights offensive acts.

I have spent my life “inexplicably” surrounded by non whites engaging and bragging about racial hostility towards me, in the private sector and public sector. For much of my life I thought at least if this happened in front of the public there would be some recourse to the intensive egregiousness of it, but not at all, and the press and public are happy observers of the activity.

Jen Moore found this baffling as well.

Mr. Bovard revisits the standoff involving white seperatist Randy Weaver at Ruby Ridge Excerpt of article here

20 Years Ago at Ruby Ridge: FBI Sniper Slays Mother Holding her Baby by Jim on August 22, 2012Quote retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Randy Weaver lived with his wife and four children in an isolated cabin on Ruby Ridge in the Idaho mountains, 40 miles south of the Canadian border. Mr. Weaver did not favor violence against any other race, but believed that the races should live separately. Because of his extreme beliefs, he was targeted for a sting operation.

In 1989, an undercover agent of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms approached Mr. Weaver and pressured the mountain man to sell him sawed-off shotguns. Mr. Weaver at first refused, but the agent was persistent and Mr. Weaver eventually sold him two shotguns - thereby violating federal firearms law. A court official sent Mr. Weaver a notice to appear in court on the wrong day; after Mr. Weaver did not show up on the correct date, a Justice Department attorney (who knew of the error) got a warrant for his arrest. Federal agents then launched an elaborate 18-month surveillance of Mr. Weaver's cabin and land.

David Nevin, a defense lawyer involved in the subsequent court case, noted later: "The U.S. marshals called in military aerial reconnaissance and had photos studied by the Defense Mapping Agency … . They had psychological profiles performed and installed $130,000 worth of solar-powered long-range spy cameras. They intercepted the Weavers' mail. They even knew the > menstrual cycle of Weaver's teenage daughter, and planned an arrest scenario around it."

>
> On Aug. 21, 1992, six heavily armed, camouflaged U.S. marshals sneaked onto Mr. Weaver's property. Three agents threw rocks to get the attention of Mr. Weaver's dogs. As Mr. Weaver's 14-year-old son, Sammy, and Kevin Harris, a 25- year-old family friend living in the cabin, ran to see what the dogs were barking at, U.S. marshals killed one of the dogs. Sammy Weaver fired his gun in the direction the shots had come from. Randy Weaver came out and hollered for his son to come back to the cabin. Sammy yelled, "I'm coming, Dad," and was running back to the cabin when a federal marshal shot him in the back and killed him.
>
> Kevin Harris responded to Sammy's shooting by fatally shooting a U.S. marshal. Federal agents falsely testified in court that the U.S. marshal had been killed by the first shot of the exchange; evidence later showed that the marshal had fired seven shots before he was shot himself.

Many days, many years of my life have been spent assaulted by homeless people telling me there is a sniper with a gun to my head as they assault me, and this is US Marshalls tied.

At least 10 times that, maybe fifteen. I am told I will be killed / my throat cut if I use a library or an near white female, and by assailants known to provoke resentment in me, attempting to initiate a fight with me. I was radiological attacked and watched stealth operations against my parents and espionage and hits on those I know so I consider threats against me credible.

I have watched police an sheriffs negotiate with the homeless, deals in which the assailants will be granted degrees, jobs, other OJT credit for psychical assaults on me and those same homeless people have told me of snipers out for me and contract killing deals made with gang members by police.

I have written many letters, lawsuits, web sites, and books but so far the result has been intransigent Institutional co-operation with the active assaults on me..

My brother Tom Donegan and Mark Wierness his gay partner long faked that my mother and I were mentally incompetent and at her death hid pictures of her “performing group” (black faced) from her childhood, etc., Jen Moore talked about the evil of those with nice hair cuts I think a reference I made to interior designer Mark Weirness as a hair dresser at times. Jen Moore was a defender of my mother and me or perhaps the haircuts of religious groups who have preyed upon the rights to me genome by faking flaws in me which is the theory of how their own have been victimized.

Jen Moore is among the many who faced and then fell to the death threats, carried out, by these violent predators tied to MKULTRA and lethal Espionage operations and COINTELPRO.

Only with her Sword now mine can I fight. And fight who? The upper echeolons of power and CIA DARPA history.

echelon: noun Quote retrieved from Dictionary.com and copied or modified to here

Power itself.

echelon: noun

- A level of command, authority, or rank: After years of service, she is now in the upper echelon of city officials.

- a level of worthiness, achievement, or reputation:

- studying hard to get into one of the top echelon colleges.

- Military. a formation of troops, ships, airplanes, etc., in which groups of soldiers or individual vehicles or craft are arranged in parallel lines, either with each line extending to the right of the one in front (right echelon) or with each line extending to the left of the one in front (left echelon), so that the whole presents the appearance of steps.

- Military. one of the groups of a formation so arranged.

Archaic. any structure or group of structures arranged in a steplike form.

And I need to. She was seeking some sort of Safe House for me to protect me from falsely premised espionage lethal assaults on me and those assaults also run in Truckee and Lincoln Nevada on my father and mother, both of which Jen Moore referenced as Gangstalking.

I have been the subject through my life of foundation-less, usually anonymous and non verbal assault and violent physical assault of my property and person, both racial and sexual assault, seeming as racial rage against me (as IF I peeped at or harmed non white children) but in these false claims and the assaults predicated on false claims assailants praise themselves publicly for assaulting me and hide the bizarre and confused racial envy of me, me the hoity toity white establishment Trump supporter type on Alt Right social media like StormFront.org who like Japanese stranded on an island are still fighting WWII.

They assaulted their own children using my identity to give those children DNA rights from me I would not agree to but their churches claim to represent my DNA and us it to transfer my DNA into their religious groups to compensate false claims.

This is religious in nature as these types from inner city religious workers, goodwill stores, Metro churches, etc., join in on framing me and claiming my DNA for alleged harm done to their community of people and children and claim superiority, as the true criminals, blaming the Atheist with higher standard in erotic ethics than they have.

There are few who are attacking me and forcing me into the system as my asset managers who in the course of my life I have not defended well including with technology and multimedia projects such as WWII soldiers, most leftist viewed as some Fox News right wing religious military big spending Tea Party Patriots cause, which I instead embraced (as an atheist not a military crusader) the WWII defender sof gays against Lavender Triangle Nazi abuse of gays, thus making WIII soldiers a wider fan demographic.

Because all my life I have done those things for those groups, groups I have defended they now assault me, victimize me as white establishment person, frame me for my motives, and use my work in defense of them as their activism product and of the merit of their standing and thus their right to assault to be treated as a repugnant alien.

The far deeper need to discredit me and move attention which would have, unsolicited come to me, toward others instead.

My DNA tied to the Windsor family, also the Vontrapps and Jen Moore and my documentation of that make up this book, the racketeering of genome, and religious and sexual abuse upon which the litigation will occur over, who initiated it, who settles the debts said to exist, and how.

Effectively I need to be bad husband material and discredited, others sucking up any oxygen which might reach me, a criminal harassment system of sabotaging me to others, literally being battle for the keyboard i am using, the bed I am in and how should be in it, etc., as i loose out to the competing espionage backed competitors gangstalking my activities.

In my isolated and disavowed discredited even homeless conditions other can claim my assets, genetic assets that are mine, and in this book, I trace back into history of genealogy.

I believe DARPA, the CIA, and others are trying to use mercenary, even race based assaults upon me and my mother in a Gagntalkt to coverup espionage mistakes history against my family

"Race, Sex Offender, or Atomic Veteran?" Ploy

Espionage Agencie Targeting of me	The mistakes NWO MKULTRA are covering up
Public Hatred of White Supremacy	Public Hatred of Pedophiles	Public Support of Atomic Veterans
Seizing Genes on th basis of White Supremacism for use with vulnerable populations who are threatend by the White	Planting that evidence as Black Nationalism to provoke retaliation legal and social claims, and as Character Assassination	Permissions were never given to my mother's Genome during Manahttan Project, Targeted now for use and fake permissions, secret projects dispersing them
Blacks have been punching me all my life, physically, air punch, attitude, or discriminatory	Tot and Teen Abuse Ring created around me I am not in	Sidney Gottlieb huh?

treatment of me starting a fight I never understood

I might die in this fight or end up in a homeless shelter a victim of unprovoked attacks because others are incited against me on manufactured “Legend” (false back-stories about me) predicates for assaults

I might die in this fight or end up in a homeless shelter

DARPA, The CIA, FBI, DOJ who misused DNA and Free Masons may die in this fight over their illegal and unethical conduct.

MKUTRA, Race Wars, and the Manhatan Project

My father and mother had their DNA misused during the Cold War and espionage agencies are now targeting me illegal with violent assaults

I am a Targeted Individual of Targeted Gangstalking of state backed criminal assailants attacking me with not only impunity but State backing and State pay for the criminal assailants of me

Underneath all of this has been secret tapping of genome into Illuminati and SJW causes by excuse against me, or deceit of my father and mother. I believe the IVF of me made him the Manchurian Candidate whose lab fertilization of me also was used to create Barack Obama from Donegan DNA, and other Illuminati projects use of that DNA as well.

Mechanism for the seizure: An Uber driver, etc., will say “your adult entertainer is on the way.” That same person or another will later go meet that adult entertainer and as me, in ny identity, say “I am a pedophile and I owe my genome to exploited females and exploited religions.” They will then receive rights to my genome, and blame me to the public using the forged confession behind my own back.

The scheme creates a theory that my genes were signed away under extortion to places I would not (and did not) authorize, but people go along with the racket for several reasons, like socially good use of the genes and defaming a white supremacist as having a secret sexual fascination with non white victims, other victims like minors of any race. Many just say what is the harm, he doesn’t even know his genome was signed away to the poor.

This continues 60 year illegal usage of my genome, never stopping.

Other reason peole go along with is to be blackmailed, as me, by a sex worker, or being paid a bounty or deputized form catching a crime, the crime is them in my identity committing a crime. What Richard Jewel was accused of.

Special Needs versus Pooled Trust and my Genome genetics rights usage trafficked/laundered through Behavioral Health Care of DARPA and the CIA

The value of Special Needs trust bled by filing law suits intra-trust beneficiaries against each other, effectively making it a Master Trust paying out to all beneficiaries which my mothers trust was not setup to be.

My mother kept the principle from the sale of the Moraga house my brother and I were raised in and lived Spartanly off other income, splitting proceeds from the sale of the house in Moraga between my brother and I, my half administered by him in a Special Needs Trust Fund my brother refused to provide me documentation on despite my request for it.

Likely he claimed it was a Pooled trust he could allocate my assets AWAY from me through, rather than be a source of funds to me.

The Gang is a fake claims system againt the Genomic trust only the CIA DARPA knows the value or usage of: Agent Provocateur dressed as me or using leased space leased as mine out of my control though, a real or planted victim of the Agent Provocateur, and witness that the Agent Provocateur was me, someone claiming to represent me, a trut fund left by my mother, (Grandparent Scam) who will pay the alleged victim.

Grandparent Scam [or Trust Fund Scam defrauding a trust fund left by a deceased person]

> A grandparent gets a call or e-mail from someone claiming to be their grandchild, saying that they are in trouble. For example, the scammer may claim to have been arrested and require money wired, or gift cards purchased for bail, and asks the victim not to tell the > grandchild's parents, as they would "only get upset." The call is fraudulent impersonation, the name of the grandchild typically obtained from social media postings as well as obituaries listed either in newspapers or from a funeral home's website. Any money wired out of the country is gone forever.

In my case the impersonator of me I often call Tx (transmitter of the panicked message using my identity calls the Trust Fund, or course, rather than me who he is impersonating upon his being confronted for the misconduct he engaged in, peeping tom.

Agent Provocateur (Dressed as me) incurring a liability against me (and my genome rights to settle the plaintiff claim for defendant assets of value)	Gangstalk Victim (me) who is the subject of retaliation for the act of the Agent Provocatuer dressed as me Possessor
Dis-possessor. Dispossess: deprive (someone) of land, property, or other possessions via assaults upon victim 1) Direct (State organized) Assault on Victim 2) Manufacture of Pretext for State attack on Victim

The ARC of Northern Virginia (Advocacy for Retarded Children) also refused any documentation to me of the trust fund my brother turned over to the to administer. Though a cash trust they wished to use it as a CIA front company for biological family genome rights tied to CIA ongoing work with DARPA and FOXP2 gene among other work.

Oddly, this gene tied to Austria, is CLAIMED to be the Nazi gene of “psychos” and flash tempers, but in fact makes up passionate people with strong emotions such as LONDON KE FAMILY of King Edward VIII, likely on my mother’s side (paternal, out of wedlock) as well as Maria Kutschera later Maria VonTrapp, niece of an Austrian Nazi official showing the same gene, also in King George V of Germany Austria area.

This is not in a vacuum and would not have arisen itself but for the DARPA CIA work tied to those families, my family, and underground railroads by Joseph Kennedy for out of wedlock Windsors.

Deeper espionage agencies have long used my DNA without permission and this latest scheme created an umbrella excuse environment retroactively explaining a legal theory for illegal use of my DNA to fit the preexisting condition the CIA and DARPA need a way out of.

The Illuminati have a problem to explain if the problem is even detected and among the solutions is illegally manufacturing or selling rights to genes they know about and others do not on CIA backed repugnant markets like Donald Barr William Barr (Ag) Jeffery Epstien Columbia University MKKULTRA Manhattan Project and VIrigin Island Brain Foundation work of the CIA.

They have my DNA in their families, even their non white families. Appearances are that I agreed to that though others are agreeing to that “for me.”

This is ongoing fallout not of atomic ash but of Sidney Gottlieb involuntary human subjects in CIA experiments including stolen DNA.

This Espionage lethal assault on my on incorrectly pretexts acts under Color of Law or incited permitted crowd violence harms my law abiding ethical family in the Espionage hopes Espionage agencies can hide the wrongs of their own Sidney Gottlieb unethical conspirators and assassinations conducted by the CIA and others who didn't like JFKs plans during the Cold War.

Genomicaly Trafficked in the Treehouse

Homeland Security Investigation Equity (of the People) in the Genome Trafficking and Illegal "ethics" of MKULTRA CIA DARPA Genetics and Brain Eugenics

- The child trafficking (me as if a child wrongly represented by Social Services who have a predatory (and disguised) interest in my brain and other genes they want for the benefit those current SJW beneficiaries like the autistic, retarded, or others who want genetic treatments rights from a source (me.)

- That experimental and other MKULTRA super secret programs regarding brain genes go into the JFK assassination, current figures with conflicts of interests (William Barr) tied to secret programs and destroying the files of Donald Barr and the MKULTRA program, and

- Sleeper agents created by the Illuminati holding office inside or outside the USA groomed bu the US Military, CIA, or NGO religions or secret groups.

- The real parents, birth circumstances, etc., in USA Presidents and illegal "muscle" from any group to assassinate to cover that history up

- The sovereignty of the USA from international groups working around the clock having fifth columns of actors inside the USA working perhaps on goals shared with the USA and its leaders but assassinating in the USA to keep the USA on track with the supranational foreign objectives.

- The protection of my rights as a person born under atomic testing with James and Glorian Donegan loyal to the USA and me loyal to the USA.

- To stop Abuse of Psychiatry for political, religious, or any other reason, and and stop Abuse of Process in any matter.

- To be and enforce transparency as to he genealogy and even gender of First Families if that issue intrudes into use of Espionage capabilities to cover up identities.

Jen Moore was going down the same road I have. A Deep State is staging and using sex abuse victims for moving genetics around under false prescription, a rights to eugenics genes scheme on appearances which are deceiving but weak basis are accepted rather than tested for legitimacy.

People do want that genome trafficking. But the illegality, repugnance, and exigency as a violator of justice and human rights is an HSI equity and I hope HSI will serve all ending this criminality and they he aware of Ethics, Eugenics, Trafficking evils, etc., as I think James Comey was qualified to be.

I fear for my life in the United States of America because she and James Comey are now missing, James Comey who would never accept the ethics of shaking down someone for fertilization rights in a blackmail scenario

Let's assess that Chemists and Legal experts know about issues such as Josef Mengele and Sidney Gottlieb who studied with involuntary subjects survivability of space flight conditions or other research projects.

Ethics and James Comey

C&EN talks chemistry with James B. Comey
retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Chemical & Engineering News covers the world of chemistry, from research and education to business and policy. C&EN senior correspondent, Cheryl Hogue recently had a chance to sit down with Former US FBI director James B. Comey on majoring in chemistry and how it affected his career. Below are some “vitals” from the interview:

- Hometown: Allendale, New Jersey
- Education: BS, chemistry and religion, College of William and Mary, 1982; JD, University of Chicago Law School, 1985
- Career highlights: Chief federal prosecutor in New York City and surrounding counties, 2002-3; lead prosecutor of TV personality and businesswoman Martha Stewart on charges of securities fraud, 2003; second in command at US Department of Justice as deputy attorney general, 2003-5; appointed by President Barack Obama to a decade long term as FBI director, 2013
- Career-altering moment: Learning via television that President Donald J. Trump had fired him as FBI director.

- Current work: Book author and distinguished lecturer in public policy at the College of William and Mary

- Secret weapon for getting through 8:00 a.m. advanced biochemistry classes three days a week during his last semester in college: His roommate and fellow chemistry major, Todd Irick, now an industrial hygienist in Ottawa, Ontario. “Todd would swing his legs over the top bunk, hop down, and drag my sorry self out of the bed to go to the class. I’ve told him many times that I’m grateful because who knows what would have happened to me but for that intervention.”

Read the full article here and learn how he used what he learned as a chemistry major to connect with forensic scientists at the FBI: Former US FBI director James B. Comey on majoring in chemistry and how it affected his career.

Much of this book is about why the USA is interested in my genome. The following sentences and tables are about how the USA claims control of my genome, with me forced into “the system” which will manage it all.

I am being abusively assaulted and treated abusively in public by Government or contractor groups in the hopes that I will “blow’ and get into a fight with gang stalkers from the Targeted Individuals program. First, on the likelihood I would blow my top when taunted and the FOXP2 gene and Borderline Personality and intense volatile emotions.

By controlling my environment illegally (in the public or in institutions) the duplicitous are staging that I am incompetent, developmentally retarded, and denying reproductive partners opportunity. This covers up, intentionally and for the State benefit, my real cognitive normality except for a form of Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder, at times called ADD - Explosive Type which only is strong in me if strongly environmentally infused.

In totality, in the two tables, I am foundation-less attacked AS IF the perv in the Treehouse of child porn, and if I take the fight, I am back into the social services who actually operate the treehouse under my name and from that treehouse victimize other trust fund beneficiaries (those getting payouts from the trust fund from my mother's fund.)

Need for Genomic Asylum.

Getting me into the system by making environments hostile and provoking fights (expressive hostile acts belittling me) creates the System having me under arrest and my assets under control if I “correct” the behavior of cheap shot-ters of me via fight. Tied to secretive interest in my genome and its history and or its value to others.

female being peeped at (could be at the gym, store, place I am at, not at)
Corrupt Cop, paid off	Impersonator of Ed with Cop working with cop	Ed
Treehhouse Apartment (overlooks children at play) said to be under Ed Control, i under Trust Fund or SJW Contracting (who also represents peeping victim children), adult entertainer will visit fake Ed at the Treehouse, entertaining cop or SJ Worker, fake ed drunk and loaded, blows cover, peeping then discovered and drunk and found	Ed/s real home which may have cross wiring (e.g. ATT Mastec) with Tree-house out fake ed pays bill for adult entertainer, and child victim and neighborhood watch, singing over DNA rights, caught in the Tree-house child porn location. HIGH PRICE MODEL SHOWS UP FOR FAKE AT TREEHOUSE AS MEDICINE SEX WORK FOR FAKE ED Eds DNA under blackmail in the Treehouse pays the high price model bills and the Victoria's Secret sex worker.

In Espionage language, the visiting adult sex entertainer of adults and retarded may be a "swallow" or "raven" (raven the male sex honey pot, the swallow the female) enticing police and others to engage in illegal activities including world black markets in genetics rights vial blackmail or bogus signatures for rights

Trafficking my DNA by the Goat impersonator making me and my genome the Scapegoat for his acts victimizing females exploitatively

Tails of the Talloid in Treehouse 46-46 aka 47

When I moved into the 1001 N. Water Street apartment Corpus Christi there all sorts of shenanigans going on including confusion generated by others of which unit number the 4th floor north one bedroom apartment was by painted numbering (46,) whether that matched computer floor plan, and whether door painted unit number 47 adjoined 46.

I was "zerod out" (the Ballpark West rental office term ,a guy leasing agent said a white supremacist zero like me would never lease there) from 1001 N. Water Street 1/17/2021. It had all beenm modified and from what I signed to what was returned to me there at least 5 mismatches in apartment numbers, dates of checks, amount paid, etc., and sudden neighbor changes were being planned.

The Mac Lamar Property Management interface said my name was on more than one lease and a black I called the Talloid moved into painted door painted unit 47 the same day I moved into 46.

Mac Lamar property insisted to me it was a double entry accounting like system where the owner side of receivable matched my renter side of payable but I disputed that because while the move in dates were the same the amounts did differ by a little and were clearly similar but not the same.

I over heard the “talloid” confess (after I had used the trail on the beach for exercise) to having filmed tots at the beach, being a despicable looser for having done so, and asserting he had now way to pay up, to pay the victims, because he was so poor, but was willing to pay with bone marrow rights, if that would be acceptable.

This then led to my research of this book into bone marrow, neural cells, immunology, and even genealogy, and that sill life long quest of why anyone would be interested in my genome at all.,

If I had my druthers, contracting for housing, myself, and able to be safe in my housing, and gain sole occupancy of it and protect it from intrusion

The “Legend” of the Talloid

Though I am not at the events where a group of lower social status militant blacks along with an impostor of me receive a visit from an adult sex worker I have heard the “role play.”

The males black may be a US Marshall fighting White Supremacist, as are active in Corpus Christi per its newspaper, by a dopple of me generating a negative record through purporting himself as me and then it be reported that he was me.

As of February 17 2022 enough “roleplays’ have been overheard by me more specific generalizations can be reported of the events at “Element B” of the RICO scheme.

Racketeering often involves criminal acts one nearly by if not as definition is a Racketeering Influence Criminal Organization which operates as a trusted entity but with deceitful and dishonest practices for ends to achieve unlawful results engage in some sort of laundering of proceeds attainment such that the proceeds while fraudulently gained have the appearance of lawful results.

When it is a simple as having brand confusion accounts on the books, similar ones, and moving assets and liabilities around taken from one account and added to a different account, the different account is similar to but not the account the assets should really reach, that can be considered RICO even when it involves the complicity of public officials.

Account C is indebted to Account B. Account b is credited. Both Account B and Account b are on the books and one debit (Account C) matches one credit (Account b).

I am calling R^2ICO Long Con RICO so brazen and so immune from effective scrutiny sets are manufactured, and mass capabilities of paid actors are added in, many accomplices enlisted into a Cartel Criminal Syndicate including those of ethnic or religious goals.

In my case the person of me doppling me is contradictory to who I am, reverses my attributes into negative attributes in that same area, generates Information about me which is false and will defame me later behind my back.

One of the most instructive full dialogues was the one on the 17th of February 2022 when a Dopple of me near me I could hear saying “I was committed to Salvation Army because I was such a tweak. I didn’t know how to ask for thing like being bullwhipped.

It seems both racially and religiously antagonistic interested to me which on the one hand study and adopt much of my life while using a Doppler to assert (as me) I do NOT have the skills but could be taught the skills by an adult entertainer.

The Doppler of me has police escort and often a black “pimp’ providing child porn to the teak loser, and the pimp will be paid with Donegan family reproductive assets for some scenario the dopple is in, i don’t understand the full details, but according to what I repeatedly heard including on the 17h the dopple me is under blackmail becaus the dopple of me has sexualized and or photographed or been caught with or bought pictures of minority children, a Legend Texas religious use to defame my atheism and kite belongs managed by their religions.

The organizational identity of this grifter group I have not established but could be from a Black Nationalist religious extremist group of the type Southern Poverty Law Center say are active in Corpus Christi Texas or MKULTRA connected families or office holders.

The actual dopple of me is usually black or olive skinned and this has been visible while in institutions as well creating the "Legend" of the impersonator or me.

That Characterization of me, satirization of me, is a defamatory caricature with a buttocks fetish and is sexually developmentally arrested and photographing teen or tots who are in provocative poses, illegal as exploitation of a minor, and the dopple has such photos which will be discovered by the adult entertainer called for the developmentally arrested dopple of me with the buttocks fetish.

The Dopple leaves broken glass around where children and pets play, burns cats and children with cigarrattes as turn on, etc., contra to everything about me.

Cats love and trust me and the only time I have ever needed a cat carrier was when using a car. in Walnut Creak my roomate had a cat who would go to the apartment pool with me, walking with me, play around me and with other cats and kittens, and walk back to the apartment with me when I left. this is the norm with me and cats.

The adult entertainer who sees the dopple of me who has a smart phone alleged to me containing buttocks photos of tots will show her own buttocks (or as it has been said) her "white parts" to the dopple of me to get back at the white supremacist who exploited minors, and leaving me out of the role play, showing a black or other minority white buttocks of an adult woman and creating an online taunt of that meant to reach me that I was left out do to exploitation of minors alleged to me.

I believe the "bedroom" and economic gains value of blackmailing the dopple of a White Supremacist, an alleged harmer of minor and non white females, create the Body, Mind, and Spirit type of complete satisfaction SJWs want against white supremacism.

The erotic components of erotic play and deals for DNA in the blackmail role play.

The achievement of political character assassination of a competing social justice system.

Religious sympathy built for non white missionary work beneficiaries blaming Atheist immorality and sexual immaturity. Economic gains for the religion to as they pay themselves to contain the evil of the atheist buying themselves cars, etc., with Atheist assets while disrupting the Atheist.

The SJW activists, rooted Political activism, racial, or religious activism, or a combination of those overlaying elements, are seizing rather than protecting my assets by their misconduct in my identity, making me a scapegoat for their egregious and destructive criminal acts while they are in the highjacked identity and in the hijacked worth of my life aesthetics.

This scheme of a Dopple of me having genomic rights used in the role play is the money laundering and RICO fraud I allege as the system moves genome rights from me to others and uses my genome value to fund the operation as well which though surrounds me does not involve me, only it appears to.

Google knowledge panel People also ask Is druthers a real word? retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

When you have your druthers, you can do what you want. This word always appears in the plural form and usually in a phrase like “If I had my druthers …” It refers to a preference, wish, or desire. … This word evolved from a pronunciation of “I’d rather, which should help you remember the meaning.

I’d be living in a town like Capitola or in Monterrey California

Stay and Play among 18+ white consenting female adult partners in R/L activities

But I have been roadblocked (and by death threat) trapped in a town of narcissistic poor minorities with an interest in false claims against me, and no right to (by death threat and other acts) keep me from normal life, and death threats done under color of laws if leave the area or if I was to use the county normally.

The constant death threats for outing this scheme Jen Moore and I have received are part of this book, as are at least 20 other espionage agency murders similar to hers and are tied to these same events surrounding my life and the Manhattan Project and the issue of my family genome and tied to permissions of its usage, and its highly secret history.

The neighborhood and neighborhood watch sue the Trust Fund of Glorian Donegan for the activities in neighborhood of Ed Donegan, but it was not Ed Donegan. It was trust fund or others trying to act under Ed Donegan's name buy signing for apartments as him or occupying his apartments jointly with him illegally.

Now a given I am not in a county with a white prosecutor (or a state with an Atheist governor) claims can proceed against fake ed and I will recount one such chain of events in which I discovered what the operation was that Jim Volcecka challenged me to prove even existed, and I found out via thin walls and an adjoining apartment unit.

I have called it "dabbing" that entanglement (unwanted from Behavioral Care) assault system entangle with me, and thus entangle with my achievement and even claim a right to my biology by conflict entanglement with me I am blamed for (their claiming to model for illicit photos others, not I, take.)

Strangers, stalkers public mock me as needing to know from their example the most basic living skill or I need their examples or suggestions the for intellectual achievements I have reached in my own life.

This is called Ganstalk which creates hostile environments with me on the defensive against State backed COINTELRPO often violent assailants and post-conflict State adjudicated detentions.

It sounds like and matches the Bob Creamer Scott Foval system of picking fights with Mercenaries from skid row thrown at a Trump supporter and preying on a hot temper that I have with FOXP2 extreme ADD impulsivity.

In the legal system :My defensive responding to assaults, I have been interviewed, tanked by Speech Spasmodia emphatically misdiagnosed as Bipolar Disorder and Delusions (my delusion being I think the Government is in the wrong) and my handwriting and dropped grammar problems of FOXP2 treated as severe retardation.

- In Table 1 my strong emotions are being attacked as I am baselessly assaulted as though victimized the young, thus I am the “mark” of organized crime, a victim.

- In Table 2 my mother’s assets left to me are the mark, the target, or organized crime, fake law suits as they fake my property line and identity, then victimized their other beneficiaries under my name they used for their criminals Doppling me.

I fear for my life in the United States of America because I carry an Austria Central Europe Halogroup gene expressed as AD/HD gene and its history exposes Espionage agencies to 120 years of assassinations, secret societies, and Illuminati wrongs in Eugenics.

I am a loyal former high tech worker who has no pedophilia interests at all and every day of my life photo-bombs occur of that kind of thing in public as well as evidence plants in my home the police seem to support rather than stand down from and I am driven from society and the Drivers License facilities or other Government agencies deny me identification, etc., also in State backed criminal harassment under Color of Law.

I will always be loyal to the United States of America but I need to be safe from the CIA and its coverups too.

Why would lethal Gangstalks and Targeted Killings be used against me by the Defense Intelligence Agency, DARPA, and other Targeting programs of Espionage agencies across my lifespan?

I was a loyal High Tech information Technology worker highly placed at Chevron WAN systems including satellites around the world and Hughes net.

I worked at Concord California Naval Weapons Station including Q Area nuclear war tips work area of the Missile Command.

I have worked at the highest placed US Secret Service monitored (1.7 Trillion dollar assets network) and protected computer financial network, Host Intrusion Detection internal network security Team Lead, technical and project, for all of Wells Fargo re-engineered main data centers I participated in building and designing.

After frame jobs behind the scenes I worked as a volunteer in WWII Veterans support groups. My father was in the Manhattan Project Nuclear Bomb “The Gadget” development project, in the 1920s and 40s are families, the Kennedy's and Donegans, closely interlinked in Cape Cod though my Birther was still under the Manhattan Project Manhattan Beach 1961 California, where JFK was that day, and my fathers Nuclear Bombing Wing flight history in the Army Air Corps and US Air Force opened doors for me I never tried to exploit.

I am no enemy of the USA but I found the police stalking and harassment of me is DARPA tied and tied to CIA misuse of my DNA and now the Espionage agencies have a hit on me and my reproductivity by planting evidence offensive to females to leave me to die excluded to die in disgusting skid row Salvation Army homeless shelters with no opportunity for normal life.

This is the story of the CIA harassment of me, lethal, and to cover CIA mistakes in the loyal family history, James, Glorian, and Edward, myself.

Athena

Athena was a Goth scene artist in San Francisco who was one of the early club promoters and co-founder of one San Francisco California's most famous goth dance gogo fetish party clubs.

She would later die of breast cancer.

I had met her some time ago and we discussed my Dr. Leaky fraternity shirt. I had been playing pickup mud football in it at times and was using it kind of around town. The nickname on the back was sort of multi=sourced in part because I had urinated in a room at a fraternity party however I thought that pledge nickname might have name came to the surface in ideas because one of the fraternity sisters, girlfriend of a full member, had seen in my home "EPD III" (Edward Paul Donegan III) something my mother once joked about, a bookend figurine of a monkey sitting on a stack of books, one from Darwin, contemplating evolution and holding a human skull pensively.

I had been told then I had King Edward grandfather of some type which we didn't really sort of go into the history of too much and I was led to believe or at least thought it might have been an Irish fiefdom lost during changes of governing authority in Belfast, County Donegal.

More likely the deeper story is in Vienna, Austria, and the FOXP2 gene in Maria Von Trapp and the Windsor London KE Family line, this an extreme AD/HD that makes it hard to keep emotions in check, etc., because the Executive of the brain can let some things slip through when it isn't looking a all the things for just a moment, forgetful in short term memory, not concentrating.

The story this book which is the story of Western History includes the major World Wars and Race and Genetics, and Espionage surrounding it in both war and peace efforts.

Among those Espionage Agencies is the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency, more or less synonymous with MKULTRA and Nuclear War, and the most advanced global brain and economy, world economy, starvation, and Communism, and weapons and war preparation research.

Are we a smart society, smart enough, and what is intelligence and evolution, and is there a such thigns as evolutionary psychology or patterns of human conduct?

What underlies Nuclear Wars. What causes them?

Founded in 1961, involved in my Nuclear Triad Manhattan Atomic Bomb Project 1961 birth and the study of me, this book is the story of DARPA and the Illuminati in DARPA, companies, agencies, and people.

To Error is Human but to really fuck up on a global scale it takes NASA.

Sapience and Sapient Intent

If you would like to be a member of Targeted Justice, please submit the information below.

TargetedJusticeMembership©protonmail.com

SECRETS SHARED BY LBJ'S MISTRESS: There's a plot in this country to enslave every man, woman and child.I intend to expose this plot." President John Kennedy by M. Glenn Baxter (Author), M. Glenn Baxter (Editor) Format: Kindle Edition *

Nothing can be considered true until Snopes had debunked it and everything and everyone surrounding it in 3 Terra bytes.

Highest level knowledge of the Mission and the plan formed to fulfill it.

In a short time from now I will attribute the US and World Espionage Agencies of having a Sapient need to disrupt, interfere with, and claim to benevolently mismanage a genomic history of me which if not interfered with, if properly understood and expressed and utilized by me, exposes the Illuminati the NWO of genomic frauds, racketeering, and assassinations going back to the JFK murders, the Dulles Brothers, OSS, Vatican anti communists sponsored in Latin America, and more.

I have lived in fear most of my life from some incredible background power wherein assault and background legal and social sabotage have affected my basic human rights in truly non sequitur ways I could not piece together.

I was not and was not a “birther” who believed Obama was born in Kenya under a CIA planted birth certificate which is known to exist.

It IS known even by US Government sources Barack Obama was intended as a sleeper agent groomed for foreign leadership and he was born in the USA.

In this book I assert his birth is tied to MKULTRA and the CIA and when Obama reached two years old and was unaffected by speech defect the CIA Catholic Free Masonry anti communist mafia assassinated JFK to keep the program in place and not just in test birth status.

It is that 100 year long CIA DARPA MKULTRA history this book is about and not Barack Obama.

This book is also about my Cape Cod Massachusetts and Nuclear Energy Manhattan Project and Atomic Reactor family history and ties to JFK, liquor distribution, and how this got mixed into that CIA MKULTRA history.

Google knowledge panel quoted here on Eugenics which was sourced from link

Eugenics is the study of how to arrange reproduction within a human population to increase the occurrence of heritable characteristics regarded as desirable.

Developed largely by Francis Galton as a method of improving the human race, it fell into disfavor only after the perversion of its doctrines by the Nazis.

To Inform rather than to Entertain

What will our Newsreels reveal? Betting tables on party seats on each side of the map and the Over/Under for the election results as though fantasy football?

Excerpting a JFK Speech

JFK Section 1

The very word “secrecy” is repugnant in a free and open society; and we are as a people inherently and historically opposed to secret societies, to secret oaths and to secret proceedings. We decided long ago that the dangers of excessive and unwarranted concealment of pertinent facts far outweighed the dangers which are cited to justify it. Even today, there is little value in opposing the threat of a closed society by imitating its arbitrary restrictions.

Even today, there is little value in insuring the survival of our nation if our traditions do not survive with it. And there is very grave danger that an announced need for increased security will be seized upon by those anxious to expand its meaning to the very limits of official censorship and concealment. That I do not intend to permit to the extent that it is in my control.

And no official of my Administration, whether his rank is high or low, civilian or military, should interpret my words here tonight as an excuse to censor the news, to stifle dissent, to cover up our mistakes or to withhold from the press and the public the facts they deserve to know.

JFK (section 1)

Every newspaper now asks itself, with respect to every story: “Is it news?” All I suggest is that you add the question: “Is it in the interest of the national security?” And I hope that every group in America - unions and businessmen and public officials at every level - will ask the same question of their endeavors, and subject their actions to the same exacting tests.

JFK: (section 2)

It is the unprecedented nature of this challenge that also gives rise to your second obligation - an obligation which I share. And that is our obligation to inform and alert the American people - to make certain that they possess all the facts that they need, and understand them as well - the perils, the prospects, the purposes of our program and the choices that we face.

No President should fear public scrutiny of his program. For from that scrutiny comes understanding; and from that understanding comes support or opposition. And both are necessary. I am not asking your newspapers to support the Administration, but I am asking your help in the tremendous task of informing and alerting the American people. For I have complete confidence in the response and dedication of our citizens whenever they are fully informed.

I not only could not stifle controversy among your readers - I welcome it. This Administration intends to be candid about its errors; for as a wise man once said: “An error does not become a mistake until you refuse to correct it.” We intend to accept full responsibility for our errors; and we expect you to point them out when we miss them.

Without debate, without criticism, no Administration and no country can succeed - and no republic can survive. That is why the Athenian lawmaker Solon decreed it a crime for any citizen to shrink from controversy. And that is why our press was protected by the First Amendment - the only business in America specifically protected by the Constitution - - not primarily to amuse and entertain, not to emphasize the trivial and the sentimental, not to simply “give the public what it wants” - but to inform, to arouse, to reflect, to state our dangers and our opportunities, to indicate our crises and our choices, to lead, mold, educate and sometimes even anger public opinion.

This means greater coverage and analysis of international news - for it is no longer far away and foreign but close at hand and local. It means greater attention to improved understanding of the news as well as improved transmission. And it means, finally, that government at all levels, must meet its obligation to provide you with the fullest possible information outside the narrowest limits of national security - and we intend to do it.

Google knowledge panel on The Tyrant retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

“The Tyrant” is the third episode of the sixth season of House. It first aired October 5, 2009. Plot[edit]. The team treats a brutal African dictator named Dibala (James Earl Jones) … Now, he states, the gun is in her hand, and he tells her she should kill him if she … Cast list · Accolades · Soundtrack · Nurse Jeffrey · Doctor Richter. *

President Dibala was the ruthless African dictator that was the patient in the episode The Tyrant. He was killed by the [contra indicated] treatment that Dr Foreman [fatally] gave him because [Dr.] Chase masked what Dibala’s real illness was.

Dr Chase was the Espionage agent, foreseeing a reason to have President Dibala of an African nation die and it seem like an accident.

Dr. Foreman was the Targeted Individual. Under Mind Control, phony diagnosis which actually applied to some other patient, a Doppelganger for President Dibala) Dr. Foreman as a "Manchurian [candidate] Doctor administers the lethal rather than curative medications. to President Diabla.

Gangstalk Victim: President Diabala. Espionage Agent/ Operative; Sr Chase. information Doppelganger the person who had the disease treated by the otherwise lethal treatment when used in a person under different disease path. dr Cameron, spectator, not sad to see Diabla go upon his death, all figure why investigate as the whole things seems to smell bad.

Did the Illuminati, the big boys of the military and DARPA pull a "Code Red" JFK, A Few Good Men style, Jack Nicholsan character taking charge, during existential missile threat?

Great reporting and great questions

http://www.akdart.com/body-c.html

How Jen Moore became aware of the evil of MKULTRA and why she dedicated (and gave her life) to stop MKULTRA. Succeeding by leading me to the Von Trapp piece. Jen Moore was part of a PsyOps MKULTRA Behavioral Research Team running out of DARPA and the CIA. She knew the history of my mother and me, and how I was being targeted because I had the FOXP2 gene and she knew my family history of why I had it, and how the NWO, the CIA, and the Military are covering their errors by trying wipe out certain genetics lines, and certain people (me)

It was from her cold dead bloody hand her documents arrived to me, and will keep them and cherish them.

Warlike Human Rights Violations and Sex Abuses in COINTELPRO Deep State

The Ol' 1, 2, 3, My father taught me in boxing coaching holding the punching body bag

1. Left Jab
2. Right Cross
3. Left Hook

Today Law Enforcement Backed Bird Dogging carries out these three Bird Dogging Claims steps making a "mark" out of me and my trust assets for wrongful litigation claims

(1) Harms Child	Law Enforcement, Gov Contractor and me and peep victim in vicinity	(3)I am Doppled, OUT OF MY PRESENCE, perhaps to an adult entertainer, the Doppelgänger showing porn folders, to the entertainers, the police, prosecutor, or to the press, LE/ Neighborhood Watch covertly blames me, impersonates me, to those others for photo they took, incites them, about what happened at the original scene, sues my Trust Fund for their acts in my identity. Others may include a victim, adult sex worker for the retarded seeing an impersonator of me, and they together will decide honorable Neighborhood Watch should be punished for what is said to be Ed's misconduct towards minors ↓

I am blackballed	(2) In the presence of me at the scene they harmed a child/female tho threatens ME with silent unexplained"air punches" as if for my peeping, while I am only ASLO at the scene of harmed minor ↓	the public later hears about an allegation made of my pesence near the minor ↓
Roadblocked I am blackballed	Open but UNJUSTIFIED (no actual foundation for the abuse of me stated) abuse of me Very vauge chest pumping, verbal cheap shots, NO actual specifics for scrutiny.	Others encouraged and incited to be abusive and hostile/alienating abusive unexplained behavior towards me

Roadblocking

Step "2" at the scene "sells" to public appearances, appearing to the public, I victimized the child near me, or had some kind of unnamed social liability when in fact the grifter team surrounding me victimized the female with a camera, but i was in the area, perhaps even answering some junk telemarketer call or text message.

chest-thumping noun: conduct or expression marked by pompous or arrogant self-assertion
- political chest-thumping

Someone perhaps neighborhodo watch near their own neigbors may say “How Dare You!” to me, I say “How dare I what?” and they say “I wasn’t talking to you” as I call them out.

I have created this chart and used it at various update levels and purposes in this book to show that an Identity Thier I call -2L will create a pretext for State actions towards me then as -2U will bully me as though I did it, as 2U being a State actor who acted as me instead when 2L.

The CIA technique of “road blocking” can involve the sabotage of pre requisites (putting a screw into one of my car tires going into Thanksgiving weekend as i was leaving the Bar Area California for a weekend with my father and step mother in Truckee california.

Road blocking (can arise from Step 2 or Step 3) can also be picking of the fight as the pre requisite item is attacked, such the victim getting into a fight with CIA asset vandalizing his car.

In my case compromising photos are staged by when I complain I am attacked violent over the complaint such as a suggestion I need to be on meds, I am mentally ill, the person planting the minor attacks me complaining that I am complaining about the photobomb of the minor ‘How dare you complain, spit at, the site of my DAUGHTER!”

This fits with the Black Swan scheme of the Doppelgänger being a psychological taunt of the person Doppled, the Doppelgänger denying they are a stalking Information Doplleganger or evidence planter, but they are a Doppelganger or evidence planter.

In Memory of Jen Moore and Micheal “Thomas Paine” Moore

Mike “Thomas Paine” (Lamplighter) Moore* dedication of his book to Jen Moore (Lamplighter)

> [Frank Serpico] provides support to “individuals who seek truth and justice even in the face of great personal risk”, calling them “lamp lighters”; he prefers that term in place of the more conventional “whistleblower”, which refers to alerting the public to danger, in the spirit of Paul Revere’s midnight ride during the American Revolutionary War *.

Jen Moore and the passage of time bring answers to the questions I struggled with including State and religion sanctified active acts of ongoing child and elder abuse

1. Why is it people who were clearly faking IN PUBLIC that I was a pedophile also actually seem to believe it? For instance I call it Mop Pushing, acting AS IF I had some sexual release in some wildly inappropriate place when the mop pushers in public near me are mopping nothing? (The answer it turns out is that Covert Operatives are using deceptive acts towards me to claim my DNA is involved in acts not in any way associated with normal public acts, the ONLY acts, I was and am involved in) though the treatment of me as pedophile fulfills public expectations if I am to be blamed for what a Doppelgänger of me near me with a camera did to the female victim planted near me.

2. Why stigmatizing to me novel acts of child exploitation occurring in the areas i was in, and why was there a Doppelgänger in the areas filming the exploited females?

3. Why was my DNA both matter of envy (people have a bizarre interest in it) and also at the same time a fear of it and a fear of my own re productivity?

My being reproductively trafficked by the System, CIA backed, a created a DNA-paid-for black opps slush fund valuated by the stolen DNA rights used as 'black money" in black opps money laundering of long running mufti-generational programs.

The CIA placed my family DNA into the Family Jewels program of Illuminati use in 1961 in a program dating back to 1926 Vienna under the CIA, Carl Jung, Freud, and others, and secret tracking, use, and abuse of my DNA is the subject of my book and between her and I our expose on the matter.

The answer lies in MKULTRA, Hidden Identities, and the unfolding information about PsyOps, the DIA, DARPA, Brain Research, and Eugenics.

Pairing away my sexual opportunities with 18 and over reproductive women through the vehicle of blaming me for novel acts against minority children or others creates a government allocation system of my DNA, and prevention, of my DNA under my control, instead it introduced into the jurisdictions of Behavioral Health Care who can and do want the jurisdiction over and trafficking my DNA.

Tracking the funding of CIA Donald Barr, William Pellham Barr, DARPA program Virgin Island Brain Foundation and genes rights being pattented or trafficked

Micheal “Thomas Paine” Moore aka True Pundit

DEDICATION

For my incredible wife who stood by me and never flinched when the FBI tried to take us down.

Jen Moore aka Task Force

Probable wife or ex-wife of Mike Thomas Paine Moore and also to Mike Thomas Paine Moore

True Pundit founder Mike “Thomas Paine” Moore (not Micheal Moore) says that Citi loaned Epstein of the VI Brain Foundation more $100 million, allowing him to make thousands of wire transfers from the bank.

Bowers was previously the chief of Deutsche Bank's Private Wealth Management division in New York City. At Citi, he was chief of The Citi Private Bank and also ran Citigroup's Global Markets and Wealth Management businesses.

"The [irregular] loans to Epstein were personal and commercial," True Pundit founder Mike "Thomas Paine" Moore said. "The Citi loans I can confirm were for more than $25 million. Some were secured, some were not." Moore previously ran an anti-money laundering for Citigroup.

SWAT-clad FBI agents stormed into Mike "Thomas Paine" Moore's home and terrorized his wife and young children at gunpoint after rousting them out of bed. Not once, but twice, pointing automatic weapons at the family. Historic, costly blunders for the FBI.

[Jen Moore offered to make coffee for the FBI Agents according to Micheal Moore]

In response Paine assembled his journalism crew of former feds, launched True Pundit and literally dismantled the FBI in less than two years with pens and laptops while working from home, often in pajamas.

While the mainstream media ignored a corrupt FBI, DOJ, Paine and cohorts hammered away and knocked the FBI off its trusted public mantle. Revered FBI leaders were fired. Others quit. FBI officials, targeted by True Pundit's hard-hitting reporting, are now targets of numerous federal investigations. A fitting irony after the FBI - whom Paine worked for - came into his home with M4 rifles drawn on his young kids and wife. Twice. Then, the FBI went on a rampage to ruin his Fortune 100 career at Citi and even prevented him from attending his mother's funeral.

hat did Paine know that terrified the Deep State and prompted FBI agents to stoop so low as to literally terrorize an 8-year-old and 12-year-old? And Paine's wife? Paine tells it all here - revealing he was investigating Intel that the FBI, CIA and White House were covering up evidence that Osama bin Laden was living and running al Qaeda from Iran after 9/11. Paine reveals his True Identity: Loeb Award-winning and Pulitzer nominated newspaper reporter and Intel expert Mike Moore.

Illuminati Pyramid with Prescott Bush, Herbert Walker Bush, the Rockefeller Pseudosciences and MKULTRA, Joseph Kennedy, Ratzinger, the Dulles brothers, and others in MKULTRA using Donegan DNA.

I assert these people with Will Bill Donavan were in a plot big enough to win the Free Mason Order of Saint Sylvester and blunder enough by over secrecy to get caught in a lie later.

Dumbed Down Public

Illuminati Gangstalk (Rough Noise)

COINTELPRO and ESPIONAGE tied to genealogy

Prescott Bush mistakes	H.W. Bush mistakes	Seeming Infallible and Secret Illuminati History	WWI and WII Allies Espionage history
James Watson Jen Moore Steven Pinker The most important issues belong to the People
Press Ignores, assists Gangstalk
Populat	←Exposition of evidence planted by Agent Provocateur Planted evidence by Agent Provocateur on Edward Paul Donegan →	Edward Paul Donegan	Exposition of evidence planted by Agent Provocateur →

What the public had the right to know rather than Espionage cover it up

I was likely the results of a fertilization February 20 1961 and at that time George Ball and Thorkill Kristensen were in a phone conference with JFK.

February 20 1961 Barack Obama Jr's parents, Madelyn Payne Dunham (CIA Hawaii) and Barack Obama Sr. were allegedly married. No wait, that was February 2 1961 not February 20. So if Barack Obama Jr (POTUS) was fertilized February 20, same bday as me, Nov18, birth certificate Nov 19 1961.

Let's use the Feb 2 marriage date of Obama Jr parents. Then the birthday of Barack Obama Jr might be November 2 1961. But it is said Madelyn Payne Dunham was three months pregnant at Feb 2 marriage. that creates an Aug 2 1961 birth, what is said now, Obama born Aug 4 Hawaii.

This book supposes that Glorian Donegan ovum was used February 20 1961 and Malcom X sperm.

This was part of the Missile Crisis of both Asian communism (China, Vietnam, Korea) and Latin American communism (Latin America, Cuba) and MKULTRA programs to erode the spread of communism.

Lie	Paternal	Maternal
Barack Obama Sr's father was Onyango (late Hussein) Obama, and his mother was Habiba Akumu Nyanjango 1918 to 2006) of Karabondi, Kenya	grand Stanley Dunham 1944 Boeing OSS CIA	grand Madelyn Lee Payne Dunham
6 y old 1942 Islamic to Anglican	Stanley Anne Dunham Not Biological convert Obama Sr, not the father of Barack Obama Jr. died in a car crash Nov 24 1982 in the year Barack Obama speaks at Occidental real father Malcom X	mother of Barack Obama, Not IVFd surrogate, Mere paperwork Fuddy , real mother Glorian Donegan Ovumn, Windsor Dysgraphic

(Liberation Theology) Trinity United Church of Christ Founded 1961	1944 Vatican OSS Wild Bill Donovan. 33rd Degree 1961 Donald Barr 33rd Degree OSS CIA Atomic Programs 2020 Ex-CIA William Pellham Barr who destroyed Donald Barr CIA MKULTRA records now AG

Truth	Malcom X	Barack Obama	Glorian Donegan

Layer 1 Paternal Maternal Obama Biology
1961 Defense Intelligence Agency DARPA MKULTRA

Eva Ban surrogate
09 X Glorian Donegan = Barack Obama Jr.	James Donegan Glorian Donegan = Edward Donegan

FROM THE MOUNTAIN

PROPHECIES BOOK TWELVE CHAPTER FOURTY-EIGHT

Barack HUSSEIN OBAMA IS THE ANTICHRIST

Coming out of Africa, through the European Illuminati, a subject of the Queen of England, backed by the Vatican, empowered through the Israeli Mossad, Communist/Marxist groomed!

November 18 1961 I am born a Manhattan Beach Manhattan Project atomic testing, though from Massachusetts Cap Cod and JFK as at Manhattan Beach vicinity during birth.

Trinity United Church of Christ and It Takes South Side Village

After CIA JFK February 20 1961 Manhattan Project Thorkil Kristensen CIA OSS fertilization experimental procedure, November 18 1961 baby delivery to a mother whose own birthday was Dec 13 which is on my birth certificate.

Birth Certificate Data from Edward Paul Donegan

fertilization February 20 1961

Birth November 18 1961Manhattan Project nuclear testing and DNA father atomic bomber pilot and blast exposure testing

Birth Certificate dated November 19 1961

Dec 13, mothers birthday

photocopies later in book

JFK returning from Santa Monica CA Lawfords house (November 19 1961) to the White House.

November 22 1961 Donald Barr OSS CIA Atomic Weapon Manhattan Project(also father of Attorney General William Barr) OSS CIA Atomic Weapon Manhattan Project, holds Experimental Monkey VISITS White House as Birthday Party.

November 22 1961 KN-19548. Man with a Research Monkey Accession Number KN-19548 Date(s) of Materials >Description Unidentified man with a research monkey in an unidentified room in the East Wing, Second Floor, White House, Washington, D.C. https://www.jfklibrary.org/asset-viewer/archives/JFKWHP/1961/Month%2011/Day%2022/JFKWHP-1961-11-22-F

November 22 1963 Display/Hide Digital Identifier Trip to Texas: Parkland Hospital (exterior); President's limousine; Love Field, President's body borne onto Air Force One (JFKWHP-1963-11-22-D) ST34

Donald Barr CIA Free Mason with an experimental monkey having a birthday at the White House November 23 1961

Said the wrong thing? About giving speeches. And speaking. JFK Dead November 22, 1963,

November 21 1962 Trip to Texas: Houston: League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC) Dinner, Rice Hotel (JFKWHP-1963-11-21-G)

A bookend piece on Edward Paul Donegan III my being a descendent of a King Edward via a Rodin sendup called Rheinhold's Affe mit Schädel and a few days after my birthday these two statues in my home, one in the Whitehouse

Born Nov 18 , Certificate 022-46-3234 November 19

[Feb 20 - Nov 18/19 - Dec 13] - Aug 4

COMMUNICATION FROM THE HONORABLE BARACK OBAMA

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Chair lays a communication before the Senate.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

U.S. SENATE,
Washington, DC, November 18, 2008.

Hon. RICHARD CHENEY,
Vice President of the United States of America,
President of the U.S. Senate, U.S. Capitol,
Washington, DC.
DEAR VICE PRESIDENT CHENEY, PRESIDENT
OF THE U.S. SENATE: This letter is to inform you that I resigned from the United States Senate, effective November 16, 2008, in order to prepare for my duties as President of the United States.

Sincerely,

BARACK OBAMA,
U.S. Senator.

Donald Barr. Wiliam Pelam Barr. Epstein, DARPA, and the Human Brain.

> Trinity marks its beginning on December 3, 1961 when twelve middle-class black families, most of whom were descendants of migrants to Chicago during The Great Migration of African Americans, met for worship in a Chicago elementary school gymnasium.

It is difficult to report the existence, and more so the evil acts of, Nazis while in downtown WWII Berlin.

Profiles in courage. Those like Sophia Scholl still did it.

Jen Moore did the equivalent of that, speaking truth to power. She went to Washington D.C. to report a corrupt Washington DC backing Jeffery Epstein and DC based Pedo networks run by churches connected to this genome, perhaps Trinity Baptists and other baptist or non denominational leaning Salvation Army Goodwill Industries types.

She could not disclose too many State secrets she held.

That she held about Donald Barr and William Barr tied to Jeffery Epstein, the DARPA Brain Program, the Free Masons and Illuminati, and corrupt trafficking in genome conducted CIA connected elites.

That churches were planting child porn victims that their churches could sue through corrupt family courts OTHERS also being held in family courts bird dogged cases, fake cases, for fake claims to genome that would supply the rich and famous, and also genome claims spread around towns to which will win support for the program makign the elites rich.

But she knew the US People were the clients, like myself and the general public, the People vs Deceit and Criminality in Government, and she led that charge on behalf of ALL US peoples and in that also and directly on behalf of me, James Donegan, Glorian Donegan, and she was leading the charge and against Tom Donegan betraying the wishes and will of James and Glorian Donegan on behalf of State interests in a cover up of a massive scandal which could and would rock the elites.

But she was part of DARPA as an expert on sexuality and tracking by interview and history the FOXP2 Gene from the Von Trapps and Windsor family rescued from Nazis by the Illuminati and hidden in the USA including groomed for politics.

The Ultra Secret, call it the WWI and WWII MKULTRA Gene, the MKFOXP2 gene, the MK MONARCH gene, is the London Family KE King Edward VIII genes of speech spasmodia, and of Cap Code.

Cape Cod Massachusetts of the Kennedy's, of Barack Obama Sr 1961 and Harvard, of the Donegans, the Donegans, the Pelletiers, and many others.

Elements in the US Gov want this to achieve international and inter-racial use of my DNA. Social Justice Firms allegedly representing me created these PizzaGate schemes because those they really serve need the cure of my family’s DNA.

This creates the CIA desired Legend, the public belief, the either the gene is worthless and not in major government (the Illuminati families) or that it was (the gene) authorized from a seemingly retarded person (me who is not retarded.)

Somehow who has these genetics and when and why are the biggest story in at least 500 years as the most powerful espionage agencies in the world scramble and kill to coverup the deepest darkest secrets of the 20th Century now during the 21st when all their plans were supposed to come into fruition, which they did, as expected.

It was not expected family databases would exist and expose the illuminate genome secret blood lines usages and testing.

The final result of Bernie being blackmailed is a case file delivered to Genentech in which my DNA is given away to others by Bernie (not me) but the procedure is OK'd. CIA/DOD Contractors from around the world including Andy Ellington, perhaps the Lloyds of Orinda, California, now have a supply of Donegan DNA for research, medical treatments, or other usages such as surrogacy.

FILE TOOLS VIEW RuizRocket.docx (Protected View) - Word

PROTECTED VIEW Be careful—files from the Internet can contain viruses. Unless you need to edit, it's safer to stay in Protected View. Enable Editing

8/7/2018
To: Capitola Police
422 Capitola Ave,
Capitola, CA 95010

From: Ed Donegan
19025 Karen Dr
Salinas, CA 39307
EdInArlington@gmail.com

August 7 20198 as I was reporting a genomic racket using identity theft which I think is CIA and Christianity backed, tied to Obama and Birtherism MKULTRA

A pernicious Blackmail/Extortion ring has formed. The complexifying elements are that

- Identity Thieves are using impersonations of me to engage in despicable and politically defaming conduct. PICTURED A bike other than my bike, but of similar discription, in an otherwise empty parking lot, is spying on women of the gym. Golds Gym Corpus Christi.Rarely and non-exploitivly I do use a forward facing dash camera to tape scenic motorcycle rides on MY motorcycle, not the one

- Emezzelers have captured funds into bank accounts tied to them but falsy claimed are actually mine use Identity Theft and other Fraud tactics to hold, and money launder the funds due me but held by others. I have no verbal, financial, or any another account of the financial accounts but others use identity theft to create the cover story I am aware of the money and I am spending out of it. Chris Lloyd of Orinda California appears central to this illegal scheme.

SCREENS 1-2 OF 47 140%

Type here to search 7:27 PM 10/27/2018

For those who ever doubt police officers can be loyal and dedicated she will remain a shining beacon of faith in the profession, however much all humans are subject to failings.

My personal theory on the scope of PizzaGate, her murder, and my life in danger

She was driven off YouTube reporting that an impersonator of me, NOT ME, is being used a DIA CIA backed person who will pass out using drugs with Domina, be blackmailed for what drunk Ed Donegan said while drunk.

All this happens as REAL Ed Donegan is framed by circumstantial evidence.

At 7 minutes 45 secs a possible, likely reference to RUIZ ROCKET doc the day before. I am being impersonated and it is not to be believed Who is actually Who. But OTHERS (I think Fetlife Legal) is getting the picture that the Russia Investigation claims I am a loser being extorted by Dominas yet now Feltife Legal sees real info too!

At 42nd Street Capitola I was framed as a shower peeper. William Ruiz said he liked to shower after being unable to shower for weeks. That was his voice but I had just come from camping. His voice was later used as mine to confess to shower peeping in MY stolen motorcycle jacket. I documented this Aug 7 a day before she was driven of YouTube and killed.

At Salinas KinkBnb I was framed again for peeping, and again, Jim Volcelcka faked be me, staying to me in his voice he had taken the military IQ test but did not join the military, doing the same civilian work instead. That is what I DID.

Later Jim Volcelka in my alleged voice faked being me to Deja Vu with co-operating Mistress [Special Forces in] Extremis (a “Harvey Dent” “Casper” type)

It is the go-to play the the US DOD CIA NIH PHS to get my DNA. Extort it from peeped on 17 year olds and give out around the world.

The silencing of Jen Moore kept this plan still going at Hotel Irwin and beyond and before.

Kerberos and Colonel Kerboros and Fraus Stein, so many examples.

Invoking Veronica Hoffman Harvey Dent Kiva here.

At 7 minutes 45 secs a possible, likely reference to RUIZ

ROCKET doc the day before. I am being impersonated and it is not to be believed Who is actually Who. But OTHERS (I think Fetlife Legal) is getting the picture that the Russia Investigation claims I am a loser being extorted by Dominas yet now Feltife Legal sees real info too!

> Staff Sgt. Joseph Biggs told KTLA that he received an email from Hastings on Monday.
>
> Biggs had known Hastings since 2008, when the journalist was embedded in his unit in Afghanistan.
>
> “On Monday morning, I woke up and I got an email, and it’s very panicked,” Biggs said.
>
> He was blind-copied on the email, which was sent to Hastings’ colleagues.
>
> In part, it said that the feds were interviewing his close friends and associates, and that he was onto a big story and needed to get off the radar.
>
> The FBI has denied that Hastings was ever under investigation.
>
> “It alarmed me very much,” Biggs said. “I just said it doesn’t seem like him. I don’t know, I just had this gut feeling and it just really bothered me,” he said.
>
> The email was sent just before 1 p.m. on Monday, 15 hours before the deadly crash.

This book ends with the acknowledgments of those who I appreciate as seekers of truth. Jen Moore like many others were threatened with death openly and she kept going. In one video she talked about her own unwillingness to be silenced even as the gang banger death threats from thugs in muscle cars had already nearly killed in one physical attack and she was staring through a peephole still reporting in a hotel room unable to get wifi.

As I write this book cars speed up, skid, do burnouts around me, knives waved or passed across the gang bangers throats as thought threatening to kill me, open death threats are made if I go to the library, etc.,

 VIDEO TITLES The 3rd Reich & “The Artist” Infiltration into US Politics, OSS to CIA, black budgets (unauthorized slush funds included) (MK Ultra, Mind control, Pedophilia blackmail, secret societies, Jesuits), Operation Paperclip, & Hidden Identities, Albert Pike, Freemasonry, & the Justice System, and more. The core story is the CIA in genomic black markets selling and profiteering genetics among the Illuminati and killing to cover it up Psychology and Sexuality. And also the psychology of King Edward VIII and Borderline Personality Disorder, impulsivity - Vienna and 1920s Central Europe Eugenics	Officer Moore, previou clutching her badge still Job history of investig assaults

Before I link to my video tribute to her I link to her body of work on YouTube and elsewhere, whistle-blowing on these ongoing coverup murders of MKULTRA in the USA and around the world.

CIA Contract Killings and Being Silenced

Jen Moore aka Task Force

From the appendixes later in the book here as well.

YouTube A Whistle blowers Journey

Her Bitchute Channel after August 8th 2018 technical problems days before her death

Free Masonry means “muscle,” ties to contract killings ordered by the DARPA Deep State and her death, and the threats against me which led to the research in this book are about that criminal deep state capability.

This book

Preface and upcoming book allegations against the Illuminati Deep State and a profitable dirty war of irregulars

From Leopard Street and Josephine Street Corus Christ Salvation Army, Search For Truth Veteran's shelter, Black Hebrew Islrealites, and a mexican mafia base fund as I moved in they could coopt and sue me if they made false allegations. When doing that they also became Leopard Robed Kings of Stay and Play Monterey Bay as they smeared me more and built themselves up into the original goth culture of sophisticate bondage masters.

Jen Moore and I have gotten in they way of that saying the system of allegations these and others make against me are part of extortion (forcing unwanted m meanings and liablilties into wanted unicumbered transactions, leading statements that are either misleading or fraudulent, in a scheme to impose false allegations and benefit from the false allegations. When these false allegations allowed them the chance to take over the place very far away from Leoped Street Corpus Christi they wanted to make sure their extortion and money laundering racket payed their ticket price into their new lives in new places.

IUIC Corpus Christi

Send Email | Like | Message

Like | Comment | Share

Videos

See All

#Endure this hardness til the end #Israel. We are almost t...

39

759 Views · 3 days ago

IUIC Corpus Christi
17h

https://youtu.be/EJRYHF6RULg

New Video From IUIC TALLAHASSEE

#IUIC | Rec... See More

Page Transparency

See All

Facebook is showing information to help you better understand the Exclusive experience

Vanilla date

There is no such thing I would not like - every experience might be pleasant in good company.
Don't let me get bored!

From haute cuisine restaurant to the sniper rifle shooting class, car racing, board or video game, event or gala - I will follow you everywhere, I'm into it if you will show me through your eyes.
And if you want, I will show you things that I find fascinating.

My aim is to provide a safe space where you can feel relaxed and able to express an honest, carefree version of yourself. The moments I find most enchanting are when we can play off of each other, unravel what the other person likes and simply, have fun! I suspect the transformation of something good into something which lingers is a delicate reaction, the catalyst being perceptivity.

INTERESTS:
please visit my FAQ page to view the full list of my interests

Exclusive Professional Dominatrix and Travel Companion

Vesper Domination Exclusive Ready to meet? Tribute FAQ Friends Spoil Me Gallery

Rates and Options

I like it when things go slow and natural.
The attraction and connection can not come by force, that's why I found the best way for Me and you to know one another because mutual trust and attraction is the key to an unforgettable experience!

We will start over a light dinner or a glass of wine and you will tell me everything about you, get comfortable around me and by the time when the magic starts you will be under my charm craving for more.

BDSM Experience

90 mins - $750
2 hours - $1000
3 hours - $1500
5 hours - $2000

Complimentary Aftercare

These People were used by the FBI to fabricate allegaions against me and stage parades by the FBI and others directing COINTELPRO and Black Budget cartels

The immense world popularity of John F. and Jackie Kennedy and their Roman Catholic beliefs defended so publicly - defended against the British

I asser they were assasintated and now predatory false allegations are being launched from a sespool that profits on smearing me.

September 12, 1962 - President John F. Kennedy's motorcade and arrival at Rice University Stadium

Further Reading on Ireland, Sinn Fein, and Roman Catholicism

My father's Irish parents in Boston were as likely to meet the Kennedy's on poor slum docs than as war heroes later.

Line John F. and Ted Kennedy and Robert Kennedy and like James Donegan, they all had parents in slum Irish communities and a bitter Irish Roman Catholic versus Boston WASP experience.

This iteself wasa continuation of British oppression when Great Britain oppressed Irealand into the Patato Famine so England could fund war with France, thus the Donegans and Kennnedys arrive in Boston in Potato famine years, that was my paternal grandfather.

James Paul Donegan told me of the discrimination his mother went through in Boston as she was trying to feed him.

John F. Kennedy Jr may have heard from his mother how the two brothers who came to America were treated as Irish in Boston slums.

Person	Parents	Anti British History	Advancement in society	Children
Rose Fitzgereal Kennedy	John Francis Fitzgerald	John Francis Fitzgerald, poor immigrant arriving in slums of Boston a Roman Catholic Irish Potato Famine refuge	15 year old Rose followed her father John Fitzgerald on his campaign trail as elected office and civil service established him in Boston, Rose will meet and marry Joseph Kennedy Sr and steel, RKO, and other adventures as later Ambassador continue Rose into a socialite	John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Robert Francis Kennedy, Edward Kennedy among them
James Paul Donegan	Nanna Donegan his mother and his accountant father then husband and wife	My father was painting houses for others under 18 because his household	While painting he heard on the radio Army Air Corp was recruiting, he clomb	Thomas Neil Donegan and Ed Donegan. During Atomic Testing and came from Ireland during the famine. Though a well educated Irish CPA i Boston he and his wife are humiliated and poor and James resents that treatment of them, his parents as his parents try to find work to feed him.

could not afford food and job attempts of his mohter were rebuffed because sh had an Iris pin on.

down the ladder and and becom a historic military officer in later the USAF. His wife Glorian wa poor originally from North Carolina and likely a Windsor/ Kutschera daughter, rejected by the British and others, likely Glorian and Harold as I do have FOXP2 Syndrome, Minimal Brain Dysfunction

DNA studies I think Donegan DNA in non “registry” children and Barrack Obama Jr is one of them as are the Kelly Brothers possible

Foes

This lens of thge British leads to anti Great Britain Imperialism, that very cause the Sleepers are being groomed for

James Paul Donegan AND Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy were analogous

Thomas Fitzgerald 1823 retrieved from irelandxo.com and copied or modified to here

[image]

Place of migration:

Migrated to/Born in USA

The ancestral home of JFK is generally accepted to be Dunganstown, Co. Wexford as this is the homeplace of his paternal ancestors. He even visited there on his 1963 tour of Ireland. But what of JFK's maternal connections to Ireland?

Thomas Fitzgerald was born in Bruff, Co. Limerick in 1823. He married Rose Anna Cox (1836-1879), a Cavan woman with whom he emigrated to Boston MA. While in Boston the couple had 12 children, 9 of whom lived to adulthood.

The Fitzgeralds

Michael (1858-1860)

James (1860-1950)

Thomas J. (1861-1893)

John Francis (1863-1950)

Marries Mary Josephine Hannon

Oddly Germanic name Rosemary Fitzgerald a child and is then Rose Elizabeth Fitzgerald Kennedy

It is Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy who seems to introduce the FOXP2 gene into the Kennedy family line

Michael J. (1864-1925)

William S. (1865-1899)

Edward C. (1867-1940)

Joseph A. (1868-1920)

Ellen Rosanna (1870-1870)

George F. (1871-1914)

Henry S. (1875-1955)

Mary Ellen (1879-1879)

The couple's fourth child, John Francis Fitzgerald (1863-1950) would go on to marry Mary Josephine Hannon, who would give birth to Rose Elizabeth Fitzgerald on the 22nd of July 1890. Rose Elizabeth would become JFK's mother.

Thomas Fitzgerald died on the 19th of May 1885 in Boston Massachusetts, USA.

Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy - Mother of The Kennedy's, 1973 retrieved from CR's Video Vaults 85.1K YouTube subscribers and copied or modified to here

Ted Kennedy on his mother

” every time you meet her or with her or talk with her you’re very much conscious of the the you know so the joy of existence in life she hasn’t got time for for uh self-pity and i think during the most difficult times of tragedy in our family she’s been the one that’s kind of lifted us all up and i think this has been part of the reason why uh we’re we’re always not only in love with her but have such respect for her.”

Narrator

The kennedy story began in the port of boston where irish immigrants came in their hundreds of thousands during the potato famine of the 1840s among them were two men from the county of Wexford Patrick Kennedy and Thomas Fitzgerald the early years in Boston were not easy for the irish newcomers crowded into slums along the waterfront they were happy to accept any work live in any conditions thomas fitzgerald’s son john was born in a tenement house his playgrounds as he grew up were the dark side streets and alleys but he knew that beyond the waterfront was a world of opportunity and that the son of a penniless immigrant could still hope to reach the highest position in the city of Boston

[Music]

In december 1905 john fitzgerald achieved his ambition and was elected mayor of boston by his side throughout the campaign was his fifteen-year-old daughter Rose Fitzgerald reveling in the color and excitement of Boston politics and even mayor Fitzgerald’s opponents had to admit he was colorful never happier than singing Sweet Adeline to his supporters in his fine tenor voice.

well i think it probably started with my father because he was in politics and all his life and my sons were at home that they used to uh in Cambridge which is very near Boston uh and uh they used to lunch with him every week uh and he loved to talk about Boston he'd love to talk about the history of this country and Boston is of course replete with things of historical interest it's very near conquered in Lexington so they grew up in that atmosphere where they were interested in history they were interested in government and then they went to Washington at an early age just as a little boy seeing uh the uh seeing congress and seeing the senate and of course my father had been in congress uh so it was sort of a natural interest.

the kennedy story began in the port of boston where irish immigrants came in their hundreds of thousands during the potato famine of the 1840s among them were two men from the county of Wexford Patrick Kennedy and Thomas Fitzgerald the early years in Boston were not easy for the irish newcomers crowded into slums along the waterfront they were happy to accept any work live in any conditions thomas fitzgerald's son john was born in a tenement house his playgrounds as he grew up were the dark side streets and alleys but he knew that beyond the waterfront was a world of opportunity and that the son of a penniless immigrant could still hope to reach the highest position in the city of boston.

[Music]

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/John_F._Fitzgerald retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

[image]

John Francis “Honey Fitz” Fitzgerald poor immigrant to the USA will have daughter Rose Fitzpatrick (Rose Kennedy) and Rose will learn of his poor years in Boston.

John F. Kennedy in New Ross and Wexford, Ireland, June 27th 1963. retrieved from HelmerReenberg 25.8K YouTube subscribers and copied or modified to here

It took 115 years to make this trip and 6000 miles and 3 generations but I’m proud to be here and I appreciate the warm welcome you’ve given to all of us.

When my great-grandfather left here to become a Cooper in East Boston he carried that nothing with him except two things - a strong religious faith and a strong enough desire for liberty.

> Gerry Adams on IRA and Sinn Fein
>
> Transcribed from PBS *
>
> “In more recent years, Sinn Fein has said, “We are not the IRA, they are a totally separate organization.”

And I’m glad to say and I’m glad to say that all of his great grandchildren have valued that inheritance.

If he hadn’t left I’d be working over at the Albatross company or perhaps for John D Kelly and in any case we're happy to be back together.

About fifty years ago an Irishman from New Ross traveled down to Washington with his family and in order to tell his neighbors how well he was doing he had his picture taken in front of the White House and said this is our summer home come and see it.

Well it's our home also in the winter and I hope you will come and see us.

[Applause] Thank you.

Mayor chairman of the council Mr. Minister my friends I want to what I want to express on my pleasure at being a back from whence I came there is an impression in Washington that there are no Kennedy's left in Ireland that they're all in Washington and I wonder if there are any Kennedy's in this audience.

Could you hold up your hand so I can see I'm there to see if you dozens who didn't catch the boat?

Okay seems to me that in these dangerous days when the struggle for freedom is worldwide against an armed doctrine that Ireland and its experience has one special significance and that is that the people's fight which

s John Boyle O'Reilly retrieved from Wikipedia
and copied or modified to here

[image]

John Boyle O'Reilly (28 June 1844 - 10 August 1890) was an Irish poet, journalist, author and activist. As a youth in Ireland, he was a member of the Irish Republican Brotherhood, or Fenians, for which he was transported to Western Australia. After escaping to the United States, he became a prominent spokesperson for the Irish community and culture through his editorship of the Boston newspaper The Pilot, his prolific writing and his lecture tours.

Born in Dowth, O'Reilly moved to his aunt's residence in England as a teenager and became involved in journalism and shortly after became involved in the military. He left the military however in 1863 after becoming angry with the army's treatment of the Irish, and returned to Ireland the same year.

In 1864 he joined the Irish Republican Brotherhood under an assumed name and was part of the group for two years until he and many others were arrested by authorities in early 1866.

After a trial the same year he was sentenced to death which was later commuted to 20 years' penal servitude. In 1867 O'Reilly was transported to Western Australia and moved to the town of Bunbury where he escaped two years later. He was assisted in escaping by a Fr. Patrick McCabe from Arnaghan, Gowna, Co. Cavan.

After the escape O'Reilly moved to Boston and embarked on a successful writing and journalism career that produced works such as Moondyne (1879) and Songs from the Southern Seas (1873), and poems such as The Cry of the Dreamer and The White Rose and In Bohemia. He married Mary Murphy in 1872 and had four daughters. In the last 4 years of his life he suffered various health issues before dying of an overdose in his summer home in Hull, Massachusetts in 1890. His memorial service held at Tremont Temple was a major public event.

O'Reilly's literature and work with civil rights have been celebrated throughout the years.

[an Irish poet, journalist, author and activist wbo as a youth in Ireland was a member of the Irish Republican Brotherhood (or Fenians) for which he was transported by the British to Western Australia. After escaping to the United States, he became a prominent spokesperson for the Irish community and culture] said I've lived a thousand years that it was possible for a people over hundreds of years of foreign domination and religious persecution it was possible for that people to maintain their national identity and their strong faith and therefore those who may feel that in these difficult times who may believe that freedom may be on the run or that some made nations may be permanently subjugated and eventually wiped out would do well to remember Ireland.

And I'm proud to come here for another reason because it makes me even prouder of my own country my country welcomed so many sons and daughters of so many countries Irish and Scandinavian and German is Italian and all the rest and gave them a fair chance and a fair opportunity.

The Speaker of the House of Representatives (Tip O'Neil) Irish descent leader of the Senate is a Irish descent and what is true of the Irish has been true of dozens of other people in Ireland I think you see something of what is so great about the United States and I must say that in the United States through millions of your sons and daughters and cousins twenty-five million in fact you see something of what is great about Ireland.

So I'm proud to be here I'm proud to have connected on that beautiful golden box coat of arms of Wexford the coat of arms of the kingly and beautiful Kennedy's and also and the coat of arms of the United States that's a very good combination.

Supreme Governor of the Church of England retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The Supreme Governor of the Church of England is the titular head of the Church of England, a position which is vested in the British monarch.[1] Although the monarch's authority over the Church of England is largely ceremonial and is mostly observed in a symbolic capacity, the position is still very relevant to the church. As the supreme governor, the monarch formally appoints high-ranking members of the church on the advice of the prime minister of the United Kingdom, who is in turn advised by church leaders,[1] such as the Lords Spiritual.

The Lords Spiritual of the United Kingdom are the 26 bishops of the established Church of England who serve in the House of Lords (not counting retired archbishops who sit by right of a peerage). The Church of Scotland, which is Presbyterian, and the Anglican churches in Wales and Northern Ireland, which are no longer established churches, are not represented. The Lords Spiritual are distinct from the Lords Temporal, their secular counterparts who also sit in the House of Lords.

I believe this World Interest was operating as the Family Jewels Program and also in Kenya and created Barrack Obama JR. from Barrack Obama Sr. in a USA, Harvard, and CIA Saudi plan including Mossad that would solidify Great Britain.

This was co-oerdinated worldwide by the US Spy James Angleton.

Wherever you look James ANgletons name is on this and he was controversial in US inteligence.

> - The official assassination program -
>
> CIA NWO Shadow Gov assassinations, the war against Home waged from Great Britain *
>
> The ambiguous rationale for the MK-Ultra program was the search for the Manchurian Candidate: to study, emulate, and counterbalance communist programs which brainwash people who could be dangerous to our national security. These programs were secret, and masses of MK-Ultra records were destroyed. But some aspects of the program's direct testing have been divulged. CIA executive Morse Allen worked at creating killers under hypnosis on and around Feb. 19, 1954. The CIA planned early in 1954 to hypnotize a man they considered disposable, to get him to make an assassination attempt, be arrested for attempted murder, and be "thereby disposed of." A CIA hypnosis study was done by Alden Sears at the University of Minnesota and was moved by Sears to the University of Denver, Colorado. Sears worked to answer the question, "Could a hypnotist induce a totally separate personality? CIA counterintelligence chief {{James Jesus Angleton,}} a leader of the British intelligence faction in the American intelligence community, established three goals for the hypnosis program:

Sectarianism and Dirty Wars are often fought through Gym Roughians (Brown Shirts) or Athletic or other clubs, or neighborhood groups who commit Guerillas Warfare acts with tacit State approval or State assistance.

They are undercover and deny their actions.

Roman Catholicism

Roman Catholicism should opposed this in its ranks but the Vatican may be willing to join the Anglicans in a shoulder to shoulder war against Communism or Socialism.

> [Catholic rights] Northern Ireland Civil Rights Association (NICRA)
>
> The Northern Ireland Civil Rights Association (NICRA) was an organisation that campaigned for civil rights in Northern Ireland during the late 1960s and early 1970s. Formed in Belfast on 9 April 1967,[1] the civil rights campaign attempted to achieve reform by publicising, documenting, and lobbying for an end to discrimination in areas such as elections (which were subject to gerrymandering and property requirements), discrimination in employment, in public housing and alleged abuses of the Special Powers Act.[2] The genesis of the organisation lay in a meeting in Maghera in August 1966 between the Wolfe Tone Societies which was attended by Cathal Goulding, then chief of staff of the Irish Republican Army (IRA)
>
> Orange Order (Protestant)
>
> The Loyal Orange Institution, commonly known as the Orange Order, is an international Protestant fraternal order based in Northern Ireland and primarily associated with Ulster Protestants. It also has lodges in England, Scotland and the Republic of Ireland, as well as in parts of the Commonwealth of Nations, Togo and the United States.

The Orange Order was founded by Ulster Protestants in County Armagh in 1795, during a period of Protestant-Catholic sectarian conflict, as a fraternity sworn to maintain the Protestant Ascendancy in Ireland. It is headed by the Grand Orange Lodge of Ireland, established in 1798. Its name is a tribute to the Dutch-born Protestant king William of Orange, who defeated Catholic king James II in the Williamite-Jacobite War (1688-1691). The order is best known for its yearly marches, the biggest of which are held on or around 12 July (The Twelfth), a public holiday in Northern Ireland.

The Orange Order is a conservative, British unionist[4][5] and Ulster loyalist[6][7] organisation. Thus it has traditionally opposed Irish nationalism/republicanism, and campaigned against Scottish independence.[8] The Order sees itself as defending Protestant civil and religious liberties, whilst critics accuse it of being sectarian, triumphalist and supremacist.

Ulster Protestant Volunteers (Protestant)

The UVF's declared goals were to combat Irish republicanism - particularly the Irish Republican Army (IRA) - and to maintain Northern Ireland's status as part of the United Kingdom.

In the spring of 1969, the UPV took part in a bombing campaign across Belfast. The series of bombings took place on 30 March, 4 April, 20 April, 24 and 26 April. These attacks targeted electricity substations that would remove power from the east and south parts of Belfast. Other attacks targeted the water supply. A separate bombing was also planned to target a hydroelectric plant in Ballyshannon. As a result, Irish troops moved toward the border alongside ambulances, and British troops moved into the area as well. The UPV was also involved in the RTE Studio bombing on 5 August 1969.

This is a timeline of actions by the Ulster Volunteer Force (UVF), an Ulster loyalist paramilitary group since 1966. It includes actions carried out by the Red Hand Commando (RHC), a group integrated into the UVF shortly after their formation in 1972. It also includes attacks claimed by the Protestant Action Force (PAF), a covername used by the UVF. Most of these actions took place during the conflict known as “the Troubles” in Northern Ireland.

- 6 April 1966: UVF members petrol bombed a Catholic primary school-Holy Cross Girls’ School-in Belfast. The attack happened two days before Terence O’Neill, Prime Minister of Northern Ireland, was to address a Catholic-Protestant reconciliation meeting there.[6]

- 16 April: UVF members fired two shots through the front door of the home of a Unionist politician, Johnny McQuade, in the hope Republicans would be blamed.[7]

- 7 May: UVF members petrol bombed a Catholic-owned pub on Upper Charleville Street, in the Shankill district of Belfast. Fire also engulfed the house next door, badly burning the elderly Protestant widow who lived there. She died of her injuries on 27 June.[8]

- 27 May: Gusty Spence sent four UVF members to kill a man they believed to be an Irish Republican Army volunteer. When they arrived at his house on Baden Powell Street in Belfast, he was not at home. The men then drove around the Falls district in search of a Catholic. They shot John Scullion, a Catholic civilian, as he walked home. He died of his wounds on 11 June.[8] Spence later wrote: “At the time, the attitude was that if you couldn’t get an IRA man you should shoot a Taig, he’s your last resort”.[10]

- 25 June: the UVF tried to kill a well-known Republican in the Falls area of Belfast. He wasn’t home so they broke into his house and set fire to it.[7]

- 26 June: the UVF shot three Catholic civilians as they left a pub on Malvern Street, Belfast. One of them was killed.[8]

- 28 June: the UVF was declared illegal.

- 1 January: a bomb planted by UVF members destroyed a republican memorial at Toomebridge, County Antrim, on the route of the People’s Democracy march.

- March-April 1969, members of the UVF and Ulster Protestant Volunteers (UPV) bombed water and electricity installations in Northern Ireland. The loyalists hoped the attacks would be blamed on the dormant IRA and on elements of the civil rights movement, which was demanding an end to discrimination against Catholics. The loyalists intended to bring down Ulster Unionist Party Prime Minister Terence O'Neill, who had promised some concessions to the civil rights movement. At the time, the bombings were indeed blamed on the IRA, and British soldiers were deployed to guard installations.[11]

- Perhaps ten more bombings to numerous to transcribe into this book

- 5 August: RTE Studio bombing - a bomb damaged the front of the RTÉ Television Centre in Donnybrook, Dublin.[12] The UVF claimed responsibility.[13] This was its first attack in the Republic of Ireland.[14]

- Many more beyond that just from this group.

A Hornets Nest

Hornets are the largest of the eusocial WASPs, and are similar in appe their close relatives yellowjackets. Some species can reach up to 5.5 cm

> Genus: Vespa; Linnaeus, 1758
>
> Class: Insecta
>
> Phylum: Arthropoda

> Family: Vespidae

> Order: Hymenoptera

> Kingdom: Animalia

> Memnbers: Rirchard and Lynne Queen Ann Cheney, Queen Eli
> Lynne Cheney, Queen Mary Cheney, King George Herbert Walke
> King George Walker Bush, Presidente Rafeal Cruz Sr, Rafeal Cru
> William Jefferson Blythe III (Bill Clinton)

Virginia Dell Blythe Clinton Dwire Kelley (née Cassidy; June 6, 192 1994) was an American nurse anesthetist and the mother of Bill Clinto president of the United States.

The Business Plot as Prescott Bush and others envisioned it was two hands working together in the business interests of the West.

Great captains of industry like defense contractors in nuclear research, aerospace propulsion, or other research along with strategic resources like oil and mining would plan a vision of the world and destabilize any regime which would resist imperialism and the war would be dirty, by assassinations, preempting later larger scale conflict.

This quasi government operation, and New World Order NGO entity would have the support of Government which would provide assistance to NWO work or ignore the illegal acts conducted with formers soldiers such as Free Masons American Legion which was founded in France and produced an able supply of military trained private CIA contractors.

Powerful Texans Need a Delusion to be beld, fixed, forced and re-inforced in public perception a thing that is or is likely to be wrongly perceived or interpreted by the senses.

Illusion

Delusion

A belief or altered reality that is persistently held despite evidence or agreement to the contrary, generally in reference to a mental disorder.

Fixed Delusion

Medical terminology for a Pscychotic state in which an irrational belief is held, a delusion, and the presence of the fixed delusion is a Personality Disorder in most cases.

This book maintains the condition can be instilled, created and adopted into people by making them WISH a lie was true in the heat ofa moment or temptation, thus act under the lie and espouse the lie.

From the computer term my father (James Paul Donegan) taught me about computers and using them. "Gargbae In, Garbage Out aka GIGO. Carefully staged evens using shills, con artists, actors, often drawn from homeless shelters or law enforcement family, can act out needed public appearances.

Obsessive-compulsive disorder (OCD)

Obsessive-compulsive disorder is characterized by unreasonable thoughts and fears (obsessions) that lead to compulsive behaviors. OCD often centers on themes such as a fear of germs or the need to arrange objects in a specific manner. Symptoms usually begin gradually and vary throughout life.

In fact the NWO CIA nutjobs who killed JFK to make available and make profitable Middle East Oil and puppet governments have the realistic fear vitcims of the NWO will out the murder of JFK and I am one of those who have evidence of who killed JFK.

Sigma Iotia II (Star Trek TOS)

Perhaps the name means a piece of the action when the sum of the action is very little, but it keeps the game theory of behavioral motivations alive.

A pre warp civilization (by contemporary rather than SciFi relativism, a non nuclear capable country) is run by a mob. The crew of Star Trek must act as mobsters in the paradigm of the planet until they can reach safety.

This book offers that my genome is not truly of value as nature, but more by nurture and life needs driving me to learn, the iota of my genes value had been inflated and rights to it are offered through a criminal cartel which insures discipline to the criminal collustion with payments of the iota.

Slander Campaign

Information Doppelgänger the Dopple of me will harm someone

The Object in Subject Predicate Object is the harm done to others

I will be the Subject of suspicions by others if a predicate is met

Expressive acts of innuendo will surround me and frame me, thus, predicated on those acts, suspicion will fall upon me

The Predicated condition of blame falling on me occurs in public by people staging the appearance of my guilt via innuendo in atlernative to clear statements that had fixed and then testable meaning

Espionage Roles

An Information Doppleganer of me is Mercenary who will comit a False Flag dressed as me causing harm to MY reputation

A Gangstalk involves the harm occuring around me which is the Information Warfare slandering me

The Office Mob part of the Gangstalk talks up I was likely the person doing the harm continue and amplfyig the information warfare

Misrepresentation of me and my mothers trust fund will offer money to those it prefers over me, being the action which people are offered the piece of

Cartel profits are fast money and criminals will flock to it and a dirty war is funded as a black budget dirty army run by powerfull criminals commanding it

The base is the gate controller device for the larger electrical supply. The collector is the larger electrical supply, and the emitter is the outlet for that supply. By sending varying levels of current from the base, the amount of current flowing through the gate from the collector may be regulated.

In what I call the 2.5/5 Information Circuit a Dopple Emits evil, the Base which are stalkers transmit to the public (collects) disinformation I was the one who committed the evil.

Crossfire Hurricane

Revolving added-narrative actors by appearances-only as seen by distant observers alter the narrative of what is actually happening at the scene, as paid actors revolve around a person publicly, seemingly, by appearances only, involving the Stalk victim in the narrative portrayed by the paid actors.

In the case of Jewish Hollywood activist Veronica Hoffman she was surrounded by alt right Lyndon Laryouches and asked to try on Nazi clothes, thus making a narrative available to pare away support for her in Jewish American social circles.

I believe the appearances only created by revolving actors surrounded me are the inconclusive (and forgeries bolstered) false information used under the NDAA for EXTORTION17 and tie to Twins Studies and the Judges Roll and Scalia assassinations

Stalker Activity	Stalker Activity	Stalker Activity
Talkers dressed as me use females nea me as “porn”	STalkers act like I am guilty	The General Public sees me treated as the photographer of females
Ojbect, Objectify females	Expressive acts towards me justified bv predication I took the photos	Public gets the statement I was the photographer
Sill frame excerpte will be excerpted from ORIGINAL an TRUTHFUL CONTEXT during surveillance, the still frame taken from Normal activity in private by stalkers of victi of during victims normal life in private	Public location or adjoining private location is an altering context, gets added in skit addendum lie to normal truth still frame in private home -something of like moving a sample under a Luminal desk lamp but what emerges is lie, not something invisible	Public can see the lie skitted narrative in public more than truthful context of private element

Organized Stalk revolve hostile operatives, under-cover parties replacing normal people and normal life.

Later this would be either restarted or continued as Operation 40 and be composed of the Bush family, Dick Cheney, Colin Powell, and the ROckefellers, the latter two, the Powells and the Rockefellers, tied into Speech and Auditory therapy and likly part of the twins creation using Vienna FOXP lines.

The WWASPs had a plan for the USA made up of British sleeper agents using out of wedlock Windsor including Windsor > Kustchera DNA and from Glorian Donegan and with the DUlles brothers, George H.W. Bush, Richard "Dick Cheney this was MKULTRA, a plan through MKPOSSEE and MKBlackBudget, a secret NWO allegiance of secret intelligence agencies working with OECD, the Rockefellers, perhaps Five Eyes to illegaly fund PsyOps irregular warfare and political control of countries and media and even public events and faslse flags; for instance, Operation Northwood could asssinsate JFK and blame Cuba for the crime.

The Five Eyes (FVEY) is an intelligence alliance comprising Australia, Canada, New Zealand, the United Kingdom and the United States. These countries are parties to the multilateral UKUSA Agreement, a treaty for joint cooperation in signals intelligence

> The Irish who arrived during the famine years (like my Irish Catholic father's parents) were among the poorest and least welcome immigrants in Boston. In 1850, a group of African Americans living on Elm Street signed a petition to keep the Irish out of their neighborhood.[88] Advertisements for domestic servants sometimes stipulated "a Protestant woman", implying that an Irish Protestant would be acceptable; others specifically warned, "no Irish need apply".

I heard many stories about this from my father and though wealthier JFK would certainly have sympathies for Ireland as the Queen of England and the IRA fought.

> The military though had the Special Relationship with the Queen Of England, MI5, MI6, and far fewer reservations about the Middle East North African and Indonesia and Far East plants to stop Cub, Russia, and China.

> What started as sleeper agents became a liability for groomed families and genome family databases and the program turned into a free for all of faked mass printed rights to various families in genome black markets and worthless secretive genome exchanges in the Ukraine and elsewhere degenerating intelligence community activity to elite family secret participation in long term twinds and animal husbandry studies of DNA.

Temptations have created a Genome market of Donegan genome of enormous mass much like a huge but secret ice float which secretly creeps along, its mass large enough to keep it in motion.

Lewin's equation retrieved from Wikipedia the free encyclopedia and copied or modified to here

This book will assert very high ranking political power can invite those with a profit motive to operate free from or with encouragement from espionage agencies and thus become hit people for espionage operation if the rewards from the requested conduct are of sufficient reward interest to the mercenary, and that use of those will little hope such as homeless communities as espionage assets can encourage blatantly illegal but permitted behaviors and this may apply to Bob Creamer Scott Foval tactics.

The Windsor Royal Family tries to look British and Keep the Throne going into WWII and later with Standard Oil (Rockefeller of Arkansas) plus Rothschild's, George H.W., W., and other Bush family members, and E. Howard Hunt and Howard Hughes of Texas drill bits make a plan for the Middle East North African oil fields, sleeper agents for Juntas, and subversion of governments by assassination.

JFK looses faith in the Dulles Brothers, Donald Barr, and William Barr, the Vatican, and others backing the plot, but he is easily removed.

Yet another risk to the Queen Mother Elizabeth I and Queen Elizabeth II if this is ever tied to them.

Recall …

Risk to the Throne: Genetic imperfection of some 15 or 17 or so, half the children of each offspring of George V [A story Glorian told me there itself about George]

A woman identifying herself as Linda Newkirk, a white test subject living in Little Rock but the White Buffalo woman of Kansas, of the Illuminati (she describes the Illuminati making recognition signals with their hands before a candle and using a Two Barks and a Half Bark numerology sign I think tied to February 20) says the Bush family including Prescott and Goerge H.W. were directly involved in genetic testing by Illuminati scientists of the Military missile group, likely NASA DARPA

> Book 12 Chapter 33 FROM THE MOUNTAIN PROPHECIES
>
> So, as I have stated, yesterday this same man was again watching the DNA as it was working and also commenting on the new DNA when someone beside him questioned him as to where he had come from, commenting that he had not seen him at all in this kind of work. And in response to the comments of this second person, this man told him that he had come from the Mars base and that he was one of fifteen commanders, who made their way among the moon bases, the Mars base and the base on Saturn, which is really on one of the moons of Saturn according to what our Father in Heaven told me. This man continued to tell the second person that the “pressure” in the underground base on Mars became very unstable, that the conditions on the Saturn base also became unstable, that they base actually “imploded”, and that they were forced to leave these Mars!

> He went on to say that at first they did not know what was bringing about these instabilities on the Mars base, but that at this time, they believe that Yahweh was behind these instabilities. He also said that the whole solar system is unstable at this time.

There are about 17 known FOXP2 LONDON KE Family members with the language writting and speaking issues which affects about half of that family. I think it involves Borderline Personality Disorder too.

Risk to the Throne: Using unregistered out of wedlock Windsor descendents for grooming Brittians sleeper agents and moles for extended navy and soveriegn empire power, and economic power in the Middle East North Africa, but JFK must be gotten out of the way.

> The dark cabal set up the present US administration to complete a process begun in the closing days of WWII. But a growing body of patriotic and disgruntled government employees and assorted allies clearly understood what was covertly being done to hijack the American Republic. The focus of this underground group was on legally remedying these abuses and returning the fiscal resources pilfered by the dark. They also saw that both political parties were becoming puppets for the empire-building programs of the dark. The opposing sides finally engaged in an all-out clash in the late 1990s, a highlight of which was the stolen election of 2000. With this contemptible act, it became clear that the needed reforms were not going to be enacted by the now-degenerated US political system. Equally clear was the need for creating > an effective alternative to this system and putting it into power. The upshot is the present bunch of policies advocated by our Earth allies.

Recall like my father James Paul Donegan, Tom Donegan, Glorian Donegan, and me, most Irish Catholics are no fan of the Queen or England, and them siezing land. Trust me on that I spent much of my life listening to songs about Bobby Sands, the Troubles in Ireland, and reading his poems or going to bars covered with Irish history putting tips on the bucket to fund the IRA and Palestinians.

I loved the book Trinity by Leon Uris (a great Jew whose other magnificent work was Exodus.)

[image] [image]

August 9, 1987 Princess Diana and Princes William-Harry on holiday in Majorca, Spain to visit with the Spanish royal family. Thus may have included Spanish Catholic and English Protestant planning for Middle East North Africa.

Royals In Spain

Prince Charles and Diana, Princess of Wales (July 1 1961 - 1997) with their sons Prince William and Prince Harry whilst holidaying in Majorca with the Spanish royal family, 8th August 1987. King Juan Carlos I of Spain is with his wife, Queen Sofia and their children, Elena, Cristina and Felipe. (Photo by Tim Graham Photo Library via Getty Images)

August 23, 1987, in a rural community just south of Little Rock, police officers murdered two teenage boys because they witnessed a police-protected drug drop. The drop was part of a drug smuggling operation based at a small airport in Mena, Arkansas. The Mena operation was set up in the early 1980's by the notorious drug smuggler, Barry Seal. Facing prison after a drug conviction in Florida. https://idfiles.com/ Murder On The Tracks A Crime Of Mena Ives- Duffey Files

Adler Berriman "Barry" Seal (July 16, 1939 - February 19, 1986 [Ronald Reagn/ George H.W. Bush) was a commercial airline pilot who became a major drug smuggler for the Medellín Cartel who died in transit to an event in "anums" of time.

Florence Martin - Accountant & sub-contractor for the CIA, both in Operation 40, was related to the Barry Seal Mena Airport drug smuggling case. He died of three gunshot wounds.

On 11th December, 1959, Colonel J. C. King, chief of CIA's Western Hemisphere Division, sent a confidential memorandum to Allen W. Dulles, the director of the Central Intelligence Agency. King argued that in Cuba there existed a "far-left dictatorship, which if allowed to remain will encourage similar actions against U.S. holdings in other Latin American countries." * [Paul Kangas is another investigator who has claimed that George Bush was involved with members of Operation 40.]

Prince Harry August 1987. Prince Harry With The King Of Spain Juan Carlos On Holiday In Majorca.. Holiday With King Juan Carlos Of Spain In Majorca. The Old Showbiz Adage About Never Working With Children And Animals Came Home To The Prince And Princ

Skull and Bones Member - George Herbert Walker Bush.

in 1959 Richard Nixon [Libary Meetings with Rockefeller Standard Oil about Mid East North Africa MENA) was approaching oilmen like George Walker Bush and Jack Crichton to help fund

Operation 40. We also have the claim of Frank Sturgis that "this assassination group (Operation 40) would upon orders, naturally, assassinate either members of the military or the political parties of the foreign country that you were going to infiltrate, and if necessary some of your own members who were suspected of being foreign agents." *

The treasonous President George H.W. Bush died at 94. #SkullAndBones #Boston #Harvard #CIA born in Milton, MA,, 1924. Moved to Texas "to fight the far right" allegedly but really to run CIA backed oil companies like Zapata and conduct #Operation40 hits.

The Democratic Party had historically dominated Texas, but Republicans scored their first major victory in the state with John G. Tower's victory in a 1961 special election to the United States Senate. Motivated by Tower's victory, and hoping to prevent the far-right John Birch Society from coming to power, Bush ran for the chairmanship of the Harris County Republican Party, winning election in February 1963

Rewald's court affidavit stated that BBRDW was used by the CIA to "shelter monies of highly placed foreign diplomats and businessmen, who wished to 'export' cash to the United States, where it would be available to them in the event of emergency." The CIA's man in Cambodia, Marshal Lon Nol, availed himself of the accounts after he fled Cambodia to Hawaii after the takeover by the Khmer Rouge. Rewald bought a house form Lon Nol in Hawaii, an address that was later used for CIA cover companies.

The accounts held by BBRDW for foreign officials were held in “negotiable securities, wire transfers, or checks, many from the Chase Manhattan Bank.” Chase Manhattan was owned by David Rockefeller.

The Kelly article refers to letters between Kindschi and CIA agent Charles T. Connor that confirmed that BBRDW was providing such financial shelter for foreign officials, not just those in Asia but around the world. One letter from Connor to Kindschi stated that BBRDW provided a scheme for Greek elites to circumvent stringent Greek foreign exchange controls by investing in BBRDW. A CIA intermediary in Greece is named in the letter: Dino Goulos. Dino did not help the CIA because of his love for the agency. The letter states: “ … if Dino can find investment friends seeking safe haven in dollar denominated investments with BBRD&W, we would be able to pay him a ‘finders fee’ of up to 5 percent …”

In other cases, BBRDW used joint business ventures to cultivate contacts with organizations such as the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC). At the same time that Barack Obama was working for the CIA’s premier corporate liaison and contact-development firm, Business International Corporation of New York, BBRDW had signed on as joint venture partners billionaire Philippines banker Enrique Zobel, Sultan of Brunei Hassanal Bolkiah, Crown Prince Saud Mohammed of the United Arab Emirates, and wealthy Indonesian businessmen Indri Gautama. These four provided critical oil price intelligence to the CIA, particularly to major oil investor Bill Casey, the director.

https://www.wasobamaborninkenya.com/InspectorSmith/forum/main-forum/obama-s-background-and-family-history-general-discussion/5696-investigative-journalist-obama-

grandparents-cia-connections-bogus-harvard-certifica

David Rockefeller of BBRDW was born in New York City, New York. He grew up in an eight-story house at 10 West 54th Street, the tallest private residence ever built in the city.[3] Rockefeller was the youngest of six children born to financier John Davison Rockefeller Jr. and socialite Abigail Greene "Abby" Aldrich. John Jr. was the only son of Standard Oil co-founder John Davison Rockefeller Sr. and schoolteacher Laura Celestia "Cettie" Spelman.

In 1946, Rockefeller joined the staff of the longtime family-associated Chase National Bank.[10] The chairman at that time was Rockefeller's uncle Winthrop W. Aldrich.[11] The Chase Bank was primarily a wholesale bank,[12] dealing with other prominent financial institutions and major corporate clients such as General Electric (which had, through its RCA affiliate, leased prominent space and become a crucial first tenant of Rockefeller Center in 1930). The bank also is closely associated with and has financed the oil industry, having longstanding connections with its board of directors to the successor companies of Standard Oil, especially Exxon Mobil. Chase National became the Chase Manhattan Bank in 1955[10] and shifted significantly into consumer banking. It is now called JPMorgan Chase.[13]

From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

John Alston Crichton retrieved from Published in Dallas Morning News from Dec. 13 to Dec. 15, 2007. and copied or modified to here

Published in Dallas Morning News from Dec. 13 to Dec. 15, 2007

Jack Crichton proudly served his country during the Second World War in the U.S. Army as Special Agent OSS in Europe, where he was awarded the Bronze Star, Five Battle Stars and numerous other Citations of Merit. He was a retired Colonel in the US Army Reserves. Jack's career as an international petroleum consultant, engineer, geologist, oil and gas executive, explorer and writer and his love for travel led him to work in Yemen, Saudi Arabia, Libya, United Arab Emirates, Cuba, Honduras, Nicaragua, Venezuela, the Arctic, Alaska, Ceylon, Wales, Canada, Somalia, Egypt, Columbia, Vietnam and Brazil.

He served as President of several [international] companies, including Yemen Development Corporation, Dorchester Gas Corporation and Arabian American Development Company. He served as a Director to Florida Gas Company, Clark Oil and Refining, Whitehall Corporation. Transco Energy, Dorchester Gas Corp and Consolidated Development Corporation.

He was Co-Author of the "Dynamic Petroleum Industry", published by University of Oklahoma Press. In 1964 he served his Republican Party of Texas as Candidate for Governor. Jack was a Past President of the Dallas Petroleum Engineers Club. He served his Alma Mater as President of the Association of Former Students of Texas A&M, President of the Lettermen's Association and Chairman of the A&M Development Foundation.

He was a member of Preston Hollow Presbyterian Church, where he served as Deacon and Elder. He was also a long-term member of Northwood Club, Dallas Petroleum Club and Explorers Club. A memorial service celebrating Jack's life will be held Saturday, December 15 at 1pm in the main sanctuary of Preston Hollow Presbyterian Church, Preston Road at Walnut Hill, in Dallas.

On 11th December, 1959, Colonel J. C. King, chief of CIA's Western Hemisphere Division, sent a confidential memorandum to Allen W. Dulles, the director of the Central Intelligence Agency. King argued that in Cuba there existed a "far-left dictatorship, which if allowed to remain will encourage similar actions against U.S. holdings in other Latin American countries." (1)

As a result of this memorandum Dulles established Operation 40. It obtained this name because originally there were 40 agents involved in the operation. Later this was expanded to 70 agents. The group was presided over by Richard Nixon. Tracy Barnes became operating officer of what was also called the Cuban Task Force. The first meeting chaired by Barnes took place in his office on 18th January, 1960, and was attended by David Atlee Phillips, E. Howard Hunt, Jack Esterline, and Frank Bender.

According to Fabian Escalante, a senior officer of the Cuban Department of State Security (G-2), in 1960 Richard Nixon recruited an "important group of businessmen headed by George Bush (Snr.) and Jack Crichton, both Texas oilmen, to gather the necessary funds for the operation". (2) This suggests that Operation 40 agents were involved in freelance work.

It is known that at this time that George Bush and Jack Crichton were involved in covert right-wing activities. In 1990 The Common Cause magazine argued that: "The CIA put millionaire and agent George Bush in charge of recruiting exiled Cubans for the CIA's invading army; Bush was working with another Texan oil magnate, Jack Crichton, who helped him in terms of the invasion." (3) This story was linked to the release of "a memorandum in that context addressed to FBI chief J. Edward Hoover and signed November 1963, which reads: Mr. George Bush of the CIA" (4)

Reinaldo Taladrid and Lazaro Baredo claim that in 1959 George Bush was asked “to cooperate in funding the nascent anti-Castro groups that the CIA decided to create”. The man “assigned to him for his new mission” was Féliz Rodríguez. (5)

Daniel Hopsicker also takes the view that Operation 40 involved private funding. In the book, Barry and the Boys: The CIA, the Mob and America’s Secret History, he claims that Richard Nixon had established Operation 40 as a result of pressure from American corporations which had suffered at the hands of Fidel Castro. (6)

Webster Griffin Tarpley and Anton Chaitkin have argued that George Bush was very close to members of Operation 40 in the early 1960s. In September, 1963, Bush launched his Senate campaign. At that time, right-wing Republicans were calling on John F. Kennedy to take a more aggressive approach towards Castro. For example, in one speech Barry Goldwater said: “I advocate the recognition of a Cuban government in exile and would encourage this government every way to reclaim its country. This means financial and military assistance.” Bush took a more extreme position than Goldwater and called for a “new government-in-exile invasion of Cuba”. As Tarpley and Chaitkin point out, beneficiaries of this policy would have been “Theodore Shackley, who was by now the station chief of CIA Miami Station, Felix Rodriguez, Chi Chi Quintero, and the rest of the boys” from Operation 40. (7)

Peace Corps, Global social work, USAID, US Public Health Services Commissioned Corps, and DARPA CENTCOM backed, along with religious missionary support, Council on Foreign Relations, the program has US and international military plans and support as well including “red state” religious republicans and missionary outreach against failing communist leaning foreign economies.

HOUSTON, TX - The LBJ Foundation has awarded the LBJ Liberty and Justice for All Award to former President George H.W. Bush, in recognition of his leadership in public service and commitment to civil rights. In a ceremony on Tuesday, December 3, 2013, at the offices of our 41st President in Houston, Texas, Foundation Board members presented President Bush with the award. Joining President and Mrs. Bush at the presentation were his son, Neil, and his wife, Maria, and grandson Pierce Bush. Representing the Johnson family were Lynda Johnson Robb and Luci Baines Johnson.

The LBJ Liberty and Justice for All Award honors those, like President Bush, who personify Johnson's vision of a nation where every citizen can share in the benefits and full blessings of American life. Our nation's oldest living former president, President Bush is acknowledged for his strong character marked by decency and civility.

The Bush and Johnson families share a long history and friendship, beginning in the 1950s when Lyndon Johnson served in the U.S. Senate with Prescott Bush, George H.W. Bush's father. Although from different political parties, the two men enjoyed a productive working relationship steeped in mutual respect. In a letter to Prescott Bush, George H.W. Bush wrote about first meeting Johnson in Midland, Texas, in 1953. When Senator Johnson complimented his father, Bush replied that he was glad to hear such praise from a staunch Democrat. Johnson responded, "Your father and I don't like to be thought of as Republican or Democrat, rather as good Americans!"

In April 1990, President and Mrs. Bush welcomed Mrs. Johnson, members of the Johnson family, and former Johnson Administration Cabinet members to the White House for a 25th anniversary celebration of President Johnson's Inauguration.

The longstanding friendship between the Johnson and Bush families was carried on by President George W. Bush when he invited Lynda Johnson Robb, Luci Baines Johnson, and their families to the White House where he signed a 2007 law naming the Education Building in Washington, D.C., after President Johnson.

The ceremony in Houston is just the latest chapter in the relationship between the Bush and Johnson families. Joining in the presentation were Jean Becker, Chief of Staff to President Bush, along with members of the LBJ Foundation Board including former Texas Lt. Governor Ben Barnes; Texas Senator Rodney Ellis; Wayne Gibbens; former Texas Lt. Governor Bill Hobby; Robert Hutchings, Dean, LBJ School of Public Affairs; Tom Johnson, LBJ Foundation Chairman Emeritus; Cappy McGarr; Roy Spence; Larry Temple, LBJ Foundation Chairman; and Mark K. Updegrove, LBJ Library Director.

LBJAWARD.ORG

Motivated by Tower's victory, and hoping to prevent the far-right [Nationlist anti NWO] John Birch Society from coming to power, Bush ran for the chairmanship of the Harris County Republican Party, winning election in February 1963

In 1970, with President Nixon's support, Bush gave up his seat in the House to run for the Senate against Yarborough. Bush easily won the Republican primary, but Yarborough was defeated by the more conservative Lloyd Bentsen in the Democratic primary.[62] Ultimately, Bentsen defeated Bush, taking 53.5 percent of the vote.[63]

Nixon and Ford administrations (1971-1977) Further information: Presidency of Richard Nixon and Presidency of Gerald Ford

Ambassador to the United Nations Bush as ambassador to the United Nations, 1971

After the 1970 Senate election, Bush accepted a position as a senior adviser to the president, but he convinced Nixon to instead appoint him as the U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations.[64] The position represented Bush's first foray into foreign policy, as well as his first major experiences with the Soviet Union and China, the two major U.S. rivals in the Cold War.[65] During Bush's tenure, the Nixon administration pursued a policy of détente, seeking to ease tensions with both the Soviet Union and China

From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Family of Secrets retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

[image]

Family of Secrets is a book by Russ Baker. Published by Bloomsbury Press in 2008, the book describes alleged connections between the Bush family and the Central Intelligence Agency. The book asserts that President George H.W. Bush was linked to the Watergate scandal and the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

Publication date 2008 Pages viii, 577 ISBN 978-1-5012-6397-2 Dewey Decimal 973.931092

In the book he levels various charges of corruption at the Bush family, whom he ties into the entry of the United States into World War II, the formation of the CIA, the assassination of John F. Kennedy and the Watergate scandal.

According to Baker, the first President Bush became an intelligence agent in his teenage years and was later at the center of a plot to assassinate Kennedy that included his father, Prescott Bush, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, CIA Director Allen Dulles, Cuban and Russian exiles and emigrants, and various Texas oilmen.[3] He also names Bob Woodward of The Washington Post as an intelligence agent who conspired with John Dean to remove President Richard Nixon from office for opposing the oil depletion allowance.

The book observes that when George H.W. Bush was at Phillips Academy his roommate was the nephew of George de Mohrenschildt, and that in later years, Bush and De Mohrenschildt fraternized in Dallas. In 1962, de Mohrenschildt befriended Lee Harvey Oswald. Baker also makes a connection between the Bushes and the Watergate scandal. He describes Watergate "not as a ham-handed act of political espionage but as a carefully orchestrated farce designed to take down President Richard Nixon

Search for some "Giant Octopus" of enough tentacles for this whole story to fit together

Investigative journalist Tim Weiner, winner of the Pulitzer Prize and author of CIA and FBI histories, said the book is "a carnival of conspiracy theory." He told Boston magazine in 2015 that Baker is "driven by the search for truth that drives reporters everywhere, but conspiracy theory in which there's a giant octopus that connects disparate events and provides a unified field theory explanation of otherwise disparate events is not either journalism or history."

Competing Solutions

Being a Racist, like being a Geologist, or an Anthropologist (Ethnic, Ethnology, or biological) has come to be thought of as too dangerous a field of public debate and public policty as mostly blacks have been deemed inferior as a race through much of history.

From the 1920s on Eugenics was discussed worldwide and following the Allies victory in WWII only the most offensive and illegal spy agencies in covert programs ever considered the question again; or, more truthfully, still and in classified studies such as Twins Studies.

Covert work by covert agencies lead to mistakes which are kept covert and the need for Espionage Agencies and the sphere of influence they have to keep all these matters covert are the subject of this book, and why law abiding citizens who live in the lanscape of government mistakes are now in danger, those like myself.

Included in the assignations to cover CIA and DARPA bungles was Leo Ryan, November 18, investing the CIA's MKULTRA work in Jonestwon Guyana at an annual review.

Various CIA leaks indicate d CIA controlled wetworks state with a large complex mission and have led to attacks at WACO, Jonestown Guayana he JFK and John Lennon Assassinations, and other activities around MKKULTRA Mind Control, behavioral research and genetics research

Media Will Cooperate with activities of Law Enforcement

- Normal of Espionage Activities within the law under Color of Law

- Illegal Blackwater, Blackstone, or other activities under color of law but illegal

All of this “drug running” has been actually MKULTRA trafficking in celebrity political and entertainment media figures creating groomed public figures for US and world puppet leadership roles through Peace Corp, USAID, FBI Counter Intel, and CIA and Defense Intelligence Agency mole development projects of plants who are likely to succeed without minimal levels of USA support.

> The Chain of Command
>
> Wilcher alleged the existence of a “top secret chain of command underlying all of the major covert and black operations which have been carried out by the CIA’s myriad wet teams over the past 30 years or so.” This “shadow government” would be led by “a top secret council of nine men whose names I do not know and would not recognize even if I stumbled across them,” who were capable of giving orders to the Director of Central Intelligence and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.
>
> Wilcher claimed that this group was responsible for nearly every notable assassination and assassination attempt from JFK to John Lennon, for starting the Vietnam and Bosnian wars by destabilizing these societies, and for the deaths at Jonestown.
>
> More from Paul Wilcher referenced later in this book an the ties to George H.W. Bush including the October Suprise

Also included in this is a Rough Music scheme of Illuminati using a scheme to limit the following I have (by co-opting my Liberal Arts work) and at the same time discredit the reach of my voice I do have, thus as a Y-axis X-axis area multiplier harming my getting a following in my accusations against CIA programs.

I would have attained certain “celebrity” celebrating my father’s and mother’s military roles with my works celebrating them thought at that time my goal was not my own celebrity.

Dirty Wars of Contract Killers Plausibly Denied and Illegally Funded depend on never being caught and secret codes and dates of in use by international agencies and allegiances

Source of funding includes oil windfalls, abuse of state power for personal usage by cover up operations, money laundering, and other black budget source of funding denied or not investigated.

Press fails also to follow the money.

Cyberwarfare and Cyber Channels

The diagram below is not correct but it is close enough. In radio base signal the information is all over the place. It was later found the side bands of symetric of each other and those one could be eliminated, conserving power.

> SSB takes advantage of the fact that the entire original signal is encoded in each of these “sidebands”. It is not necessary to transmit both sidebands plus the carrier, as > a suitable receiver can extract the entire original signal from either the upper or lower sideband [but AND would be superfluous.]

Let's consider Illuminati family financial goals of Rockeffelers in Little Rock Arkansas (Standard Oil),) E. Howard Hunt and the Bush family (Texas) and Middle East North Africa oil trade against Oil Producing and Exporting Countries (OPEC) Cartel and price fixing.

Let's call business interests on the side the side band.

SSB	SSB	Baseband	Bandwidth Area	Governing Affect
	This	This	Upper Side Band	Conflicts of Interest Government
This	and this	This	Main Band	Conflicts of Interest Government and this		This	Lower Side Band	Conflicts of Interest Government
		This Only		Is this no Oil business influence sitation best?

Racketeering and Cartel Influenced Government

Where SSB $^{+}$ equals world oil stability and SSB $_{-}$ equals Dulles Brothers Sideny Gotlieb CIA assasinations and PsyOps in other countries and the USA.

What we are told is that the lower side band activity is crime and assasination but that is o.k. because the upper side band activty is the national interenst in regime change and puppet governments through the world so US Oil business even Englands get the free market price oil neccessary for the economy, thus the Upper Side Band interests which are a positive negate the anti democratic aspects of the lower side band actity of dirty wars and a net zero in the whole picture emerges.

Fee Markets
US Oil Interests
	USA Plausibly Denies Ukraine, elsewhere	Western Cartel is in place
Assasination and murder

Plus and Minus Side band net to zero

Masnoic Interes	State OFfice Authority - Masonic Governess, POTUS Abuse Power, Ed blamed for State Exorcizes near him, bullying attitude, short of explicit statement, nothing therefore for me to refute, clear MY name of	NWO
Mosonic REAL Interest in Crisis	Available State Use of Power, [illegible] mere excercizes on public land	NWO
Crisis Actors of Peeper in vicinity of Edward
Masonic Victims and Masonic Perps	Becomes Identity Theft and RICO conspiracy	Masonic Heroes

Against Rights under Color of Law when Dopple acts used as acts of Edward Donegan, conspiring against proprty and interests fo Ed Donegan since others acts alleged to him.

Masonry Heroes and Masonry Victims near Ed act as if Ed was the source of the State produced Crisis

Behind the Scenes Reputation Damage road blocks him

I am harassed, Conspired Against in my rights, by the State ordered false flags

Effect neaded by 1963 Assasins of JFK, Edwawrd DOnegan can not enforce rights, fades from prominence, normal life, genetic legacy

With Enough MAASONS Upper Band can use Lower Band

In-Band and Out-Of-Band

Insulating Crime with highly placed Moles

Top Crime	Crimes objected to X	Crimes Protected ✓
Bottom	Crimes objected to	Witness intimidated, disbelieved, eliminated

Similarly the defamation of me is transmitted to real celebrities I might have come into contact with during my activities but social engineering of them has caused them to view me as threat and use their would be allied with voices to denounce me on fabricated evidence basis.

I have found that this harassment scheme is used by powerful politicians to impeach their critics.

Google Knowledge Panel referencing Wikipedia retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

> kludge
>
> A kludge or kluge is a workaround or quick-and-dirty solution that is clumsy, inelegant, inefficient, difficult to extend and hard to maintain. Wikipedia

From Stoic Epicurean Induction and Deduction of Nature as objects in Nature to demi god production of Nature, Opus Dei

Plausible Denials and Plausible Affirmations from the CIA, DARPA, US Government, and others

Illegal CIA acts, deceptions, will be denied and in plausible way. Similarly their false accusations against me, others, and truthful statements will be created as plausible affirmations in which some supporting truth is mixed into a tall tale of a lie.

In this context a powerful pseudo-reality is being created out of deceit, the actions of the CIA denied and the truth smeared and intimidated.

An Agenda with a cause, if a new truth is imposed, a manufactured one, that lie will fit a truth being denied, the Kennedy assassination and other crimes committed in history, made to be undetectable, the creation of moles, sleeper agents, and Illuminati robbery of famous genetics in unethical science.

People are putting my DNA on the black market via a money laundering scheme plausibly denied and the scheme includes plausible affirmations that I (rather than plain similar clothes impersonators of me) is being blackmailed by adult female models for my DNA usage rights.

Sufficient resources of wrongly wired internet, wrong names on leases, misrepresentations, stolen TVs, Chromecast HDMI dongles, notebook computers, clothes and laundry, eyeglasses, have been achieved for a great deal of faked identity especially in video conferences, Skype, Zoom, etc.,

Plausible Denial	Plausible Affermation	Plausible Psuedo Reality	Intractability
Pizzagate		Beleived CIA i NOT doing it, oppsing CIA on this intimidated	Presentation of my contrary evidence to the Courts or media, elsewhere rejected, psuedoreality continues
	“Tx” the impersonator elsewhere confess to ph “Rx” me flashed by a r similar clothes real me i Roll) at locations, plausi	Believed me, “Rx’ of buttocks flash is believed the photographer of minors	plain (Judge

		By using condition of filth and sex offenders surrounding me the actions and properties of those around me blur with me.	I am trapped in sex offender camp treated as sex offenders as others Offend and Confess in my name, repercussions and label of their acts on me

The Human Brain Program and Eugenics, offering brain genes to those in need including out of a 323K trust fund

> I think of biological knowledge as providing useful analogies for understanding human nature. … People think of biology in terms of such practical matters as drugs, but its contribution to knowledge about living systems and ourselves will in the future be equally important. … In the past epoch, man was concerned with death, high mortality; his attitudes were antideath, antidisease", he says. "In the future, his attitudes will be expressed in terms of prolife and prohealth. The past was dominated by death control; in the future, birth control will be more important. These changes we're observing are part of a natural order and to be expected from our capacity to adapt. It's much more important to cooperate and collaborate. We are the co-authors with nature of our destiny. Jonas Sal Christian Evangelical, friend of Francis Collins, Brain Program, both)k

John Brown's [Civil War era] War as an exmampel of Midevil World Order or now described as Masonic New World Order campaing on non uniformed insurgency with fifth columns in Government

Google knowledge panel retrieved from www.history.com topics John Brown and copied or modified to here

John Brown

John Brown was a leading figure in the abolitionist movement in the pre - Civil War United States. Unlike many anti-slavery activists, he was not a pacifist and believed in aggressive action against slaveholders and any government officials who enabled them.

Following the brutal murder of Presbyterian minister and anti-slavery activist Elijah P. Lovejoy in 1837. He said at the time, “Here, before God, in the presence of these witnesses, from this time, I consecrate my life to the destruction of slavery!”

Harpers Ferry

By early 1859, Brown was leading raids to free enslaved people in areas where forced labor was still in practice, primarily in the present-day Midwest. At this time, he also met Harriet Tubman and Frederick Douglass, activists and abolitionists both, and they became important people in Brown’s life, reinforcing much of his ideology.

With Tubman, whom he called “General Tubman,” Brown began planning an attack on slaveholders, as well as a United States military armory, at Harpers Ferry, Virginia (now West Virginia), using armed freed enslaved people. He hoped the attack would help lay the groundwork for a revolt, and historians have called the raid a dress rehearsal for the Civil War.

In the end, John Brown's raid on Harpers Ferry ended in failure.

Robert E. Lee and his men arrested Brown and transported him to the courthouse in nearby Charles Town, where he was imprisoned until he could be tried. In November, a jury found Brown guilty of treason against the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Brown was hanged on December 2, 1859, at the age of 59. Among the witnesses to his execution were Lee and the actor and pro-slavery activist John Wilkes Booth. (Booth would later assassinate President Abraham Lincoln over the latter's decision to issue the Emancipation Proclamation.)

The Donegan Family and Atomic Testing at this video link along the California Hawaii Korea Vietnam China war-vector

> Johnston Atoll, also known as Kalama Atoll to Native Hawaiians, is an unincorporated territory of the United States currently administered by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service. Johnston Atoll is a National Wildlife Refuge and is closed to public entry. Limited access for management needs is only by Letter of Authorization from the U.S. Air Force and Special Use Permit from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Birth of Barack Obama at Jesuit St Josephs Hospital, November 18 1961 Birth Certificate Movermber 9 1961 as Illuminati sleeper. Alternative claims were in Nairobi Kenya and Hawaii.

[image]

In a national survey at the turn of the millennium, both journalists and the public ranked the dropping of the atomic bomb and the end of the Second World War as the top news stories of the twentieth-century.

- The Manhattan Project and the Second World War, 1939-1945
- The War Enters Its Final Phase, 1945
- Debate Over How to Use the Bomb, Late Spring 1945
- The Trinity Test, July 16, 1945
- Safety and the Trinity Test, July 1945
- Evaluations of Trinity, July 1945
- Potsdam and the Final Decision to Bomb, July 1945
    - On August 3 1945 a simple short draft order for the bombing is written. ref Document 56: “Magic” - Diplomatic Summary, War Department, Office of

Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2, No. 1226 - August 3, 1945, Top Secret Ultra

- AUGUST 4: Tibbets briefs the 509th Composite Group about the impending attack. He reveals that they will drop immensely powerful bombs, but the nature of the weapons is not revealed

- The Atomic Bombing of Hiroshima, August 6, 1945
- The Atomic Bombing of Nagasaki, August 9, 1945
- Japan Surrenders, August 10-15, 1945

For nearly 70 years, the atoll was under the control of the U.S. military. During that time, it was variously used as a naval refueling depot, an airbase, a nuclear and biological weapons testing site, a secret missile base, and a chemical weapon and Agent Orange storage and disposal site. These activities left the area environmentally contaminated and remediation and monitoring continue.

> During this time CIA Madelyn Payne Dunham and CIA Sidney Gottlieb were CIA Donald Barr Atomic Energy were active in the operation and PsyOps to turn Hawaii into the 50th US State preparing infiltration of Indonesia.

Youtube "The Communist Revolution is Happening Now" early as 1928 the Communists declared that the racial differences among our people constituted the weakest and most vulnerable point in our social fabric by constantly probing and straining at this one spot they calculated that eventually the cloth could be torn apart and that Americans could be divided weakened and perhaps even set against each other in open combat we mustn't kid ourselves into thinking that the Communists have placed their agitators only into the black communities they're working both sides of the street they want hatred violence and bloodshed between the races and they don't care how they get it or whom they use even children if necessary …

Manning Johnson said black rebellion was what moscow wanted bloody racial conflict would split America during the confusion demoralization and panic would set in then finally the Reds say workers stopped work many of them seized arms by attacking Arsenal's street fights become frequent under the leadership of the Communist Party the workers organized revolutionary committees to be in command of the uprising armed workers seized the principle government offices invade the residences of the president and his cabinet members arrest them declare the old regime abolished establish their own power

The Battle in the Pacific. Naval Bases and Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles

- Eastern Europe and Cuban satellite
- The Pacific Ocean Pacific Rim Philippines Battle of Midway, etc.,
- Latin America, Walt Disney peace outreach, etc.,

↓↓↓↓	Polar Route
Pacific	← USA	Atlantic
↑↑↑↑	Latin America

“View From Space”

WWII Memorial

The Plaza of the WWII Memorial is the space in between the columns representing the US States. The plaza is made up of two Pavilions representing the two great battles of WWII, the Atlantic and the Pacific which JFK himself fought in.

“PT-109 was a PT boat (patrol torpedo boat) last commanded by Lieutenant (junior grade) John F. Kennedy, future United States President, in the Pacific theater during World War II. His actions to save his surviving crew after the sinking of PT-109 made him a war hero. PT-109's collision with a Japanese destroyer contributed to Kennedy's long-term back problems and required months of hospitalization at Chelsea Naval Hospital. Kennedy's postwar campaigns for elected office referred often to his service on PT-109". *

PsyOps, Overthrows, Biological Weapons, Assassinations, Sleeper Agents, and Regime Change in the Pacific and Pacific Rim

February 8, 1961 (Wednesday) At a press conference to announce that Prime Minister John Diefenbaker of Canada would be coming to the United States on February 20, President Kennedy mispronounced the Canadian leader's name multiple times. Kennedy had asked Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who in turn had asked Assistant for European Affairs Foy D. Kohler, who suggested the German pronunciation "Dee-fen-bawk-er"; Diefenbaker's name was misspelled by various news sources as "Diffenbaker", "Diefenbacker", "Diefenbacon" and even (by UPI) "Fifenbaker".[24] Privately, the Prime Minister, whose name was pronounced "Dee-fen-bay-ker", was enraged at what he viewed as being mocked by the American president.[25]

March 11 1961 Plans for an invasion of Cuba were presented by CIA official Richard M. Bissell, Jr. for the approval of President Kennedy. In a meeting attended by the President, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, CIA Director Allen Dulles, and General Lyman Lemnitzer, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staffs, Bissell outlined the proposed "Operation Trinidad", with an invasion force storming the beaches of Trinidad, Cuba by sea and by air. Kennedy rejected the plan as "too spectacular", and directed Bissell to come up with a less obvious placement of troops. Only four days later, Bissell had drawn up a new plan, with the force to strike at the Bay of Pigs within a month. "The Kennedy team was impressed," one historian would say later, "when they should have been incredulous."

>March 12, 1961 (Sunday) Miami mobster John Roselli, who was assisting the CIA in its plans to assassinate Fidel Castro, met with a Cuban contact at the Fontainebleau Hotel in Miami Beach. Roselli would testify before the U.S. Senate, 14 years later, about the delivery of money and poisoned pills for the contact to place in Castro's food. Columnist Jack Anderson would break the story in his column of January 18, 1971.[31] The CIA would acknowledge its involvement 46 years after the fact, with the declassification of documents in 2007. March 14 A B-52F-70-BW Stratofortress bomber, with two nuclear weapons, crashed 15 miles (24 km) southwest of Yuba City, California after its crew bailed out.[40] The two nuclear bombs were torn from the aircraft on impact, but did not detonate.

← The Creation of Barack Obama in the plan to pickup Indonesia and Polynesia as US controlled

Ten days later November 28 1961 Alan Dulles is fired by JFK.

The Art of Appearances: Madeylyn Payne Dunham (CIA Hawaii and Probate office worker) Married to Stanley Armour Dunham, Boeing, caught by CIA stealing B29 plans in Wichita Kansas says "anthro student in Seattle take my name Dunham, My husband's name Stanley, it is suggestive you are our child." →

Then claim to be the mother of Barrack Obama on the paper work." Glorian Donegan has no middle name, Victoria Windsor murdered, slew of odd names. - Seattle and the Space Needle where Obama will live for a few years →

A planted public records trail which leads to the family like traditions of this made up family using name legacies reinforcing the Legend of the [Stanely] Anna Dunham family line as CIA agent Madeylin Payne Dunahm also arranges dubious marriage and marrieage date of Barrack Obama Sr to Stanly Anna Dunham.

In math terms is is the 360 World plan by in military signaling is ← ↖ ↑ ↙ ↗ → ↓ Global Records Insertions conde name Situation-Is-Normal-Glory Marching

PROJECT MKULTRA, THE CIA'S PROGRAM OF RESEARCH IN BEHAVIORAL MODIFICATION

Abuses by CIA, NSA FBI - Organized "Rough Music" Stalk of 20 "Family Jewels"

Aug 3

Rockefeller Commission.

JOINT HEARING

BEFORE THE

SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE

AND THE

SUBCOMMITTEE ON HEALTH AND SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

OF THE

COMMITTEE ON HUMAN RESOURCES

UNITED STATES SENATE

NINETY-FIFTH CONGRESS

FIRST SESSION

AUGUST 3, 1977

Rockefellers Masons Shadow Gov Assasnations

Also House Pike Committee Leo Ryan

Sidney Gottlieb Born: Augus 8 , 1918, New York, NY Assasinations, Poisonings, Political Control and presenting polemic information to the Mind controlling it

I will use this Tradecraft set of definitions, the Art of leving red herring bread crumb trails

Edifice

Edifice means a building, but it doesn't mean just any building. To merit being called an edifice, a building must be important. A mini temple can be an edifice, or a towering sky scraper

The meaning of edifice has expanded to include a system of ideas - when it is complicated enough to be considered to have walls and a roof, then it is an edifice. You could say that basic facts of addition and subtraction are the foundation on which the edifice of higher math rests.

Artifice

A deceptive maneuver (especially to avoid capture) If a politician pretends to be angry as a way of rousing the anger of the voters and getting more votes, he's guilty of artifice - a subtle and crafty trick.

Before taking on its current meaning, artifice meant a skilled piece of workmanship. A beautiful diamond bracelet might have been considered a piece of artifice, for example; now it would only be called artifice if the diamonds were fake.

Deceit

Deceit is purposeful falsehood. If you want to keep your true love true to you, avoid any acts of deceit.

> Deceit comes from the Latin for “cheat.” When you deceive someone, you give them a false impression, mislead them so as to get away with something bad. If a person speaks in a way that gives a false impression, we call the way he speaks “deceptive.” If someone pretends to be someone else, that’s an act of deceit, like when a thief pretends to be a valet parking attendant and takes off with your car.

MK Memory Loss n. Use of Nueralizers before testifying before Congress. Synonym: ‘On the advice of my attorney”

The Crane GroupQuote retrieved from WAPO and copied or modified to here

Six of these sources allege that Crane worked for the Central Intelligence Agency at times during his overseas assignments in government in Africa and Indonesia. Asked about this, a CIA spokesmansaid that as a matter of policy, the agency declines to either confirm or deny allegations of CIA affiliation. However, one former top CIA official, who knew Crane slightly during the Agnew years, said he could not recall a CIA affiliation.

The Asian Missile Crisis Cold War included conventional warfare in Korea and Vietnam as well as unconventional special forces (SEALs created) and regime changes leverage troops warfare.

The US Military backed que de tat of Indonesia, plans for its succeeding leader, and the gain of the State of Hawaii ready the USA for the Asian threat vector

[USA Backed] Suharto was an Indonesian politician and military general who served as the second president of Indonesia, holding the office for 31 years, from the ousting of Sukarno in 1967 until his resignation in 1998. He was widely regarded by foreign observers as a dictator. Wikipedia

Overthrow: America's Century of Regime Change from Hawaii www.amazon.ca › Overthrow-Americas-Century-Regim … Overthrow: America's [20th] Century of Regime Change from Hawaii to Iraq: Kinzer, Stephen: … Poisoner in Chief: Sidney Gottlieb and the CIA Search for Mind Control. *

August 21, 1959 Wikepedia Hawaii Becomes our 50th State. These scenic islands have a long history. Hawaii officially became the fiftieth state on August 21, 1959. It is one of the smallest states, and it is the only state made up entirely of islands.

What will the 21st Century look like? Can we see or control the future?

Unwillingness to be wrong. Unwillingness to get caught.

> Infallibility refers to an inability to be wrong. It can be applied within a specific domain, or it can be used as a > more general adjective. The term has significance in both epistemology and theology, and its meaning and significance in both fields is the subject of continued debate. - Wikipedia

Bay of Pigs, Cuba, and Operation Northwoods (Wikipedia)

Twelve of these proposals come from a 2_ (really February 20) February 1962 memorandum entitled “Possible Actions to Provoke, Harass or Disrupt Cuba,” written by Brig. Gen. William H. Craig and submitted to Brig. Gen. Edward Lansdale, the commander of the Operation Mongoose project.[6][9]

> This book asserts the February 2_ 1961 Marriage of Barrack Obama Sr. and [Stanley} Ann[a] Dunham was really February 20 1961, and the claim that at the February 2_ marriage Ann Dunhamm was three months pregnat is false, but the two claims together shift the Nov 18 1961 birth of Barrack Obama to August 2, close to the alleged Aug 4 1961 Hawwaii birht alleged to be Barrack Obamas

The memorandum outlines Operation Bingo, a plan to “create an incident which has the appearance of an attack on U.S. facilities (GMO) in Cuba, thus providing an excuse for use of U.S. military might to overthrow the current government of Cuba.”

It also includes Operation Dirty Trick, a plot to blame Castro if the 1962 Mercury manned space flight carrying John Glenn crashed, saying: “The objective is to provide irrevocable proof that, should the MERCURY manned orbit flight fail, the fault lies with the Communists et al. Cuba [sic].” It continues, “This to be accomplished by manufacturing various pieces of evidence which would prove electronic interference on the part of the Cubans.

> The previously secret document was originally made public on 18 November 1997, by the John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Review Board,[7] a U.S. federal agency overseeing the release of government records related to John F. Kennedy’s assassination.[8][9]

Allen Dulles retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Allen Welsh Dulles (/ˈdʌləs/; April 7, 1893 - January 29, 1969) was an American diplomat and lawyer who became the first civilian Director of Central Intelligence (DCI), and its longest-serving director to date. As head of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) during the early Cold War, he oversaw the 1953 Iranian coup d’état, the 1954 Guatemalan coup d’état, the Lockheed U-2 aircraft program, the Project MKUltra mind control program and the Bay of Pigs Invasion. He was dismissed by John F. Kennedy over the latter fiasco.

“Space Mines Ploy” Social Services backing and paying the assailants and effectily holding me still to ease the assaults aim

One of the main story lines of this book which I also compare to the circumstances of the death of Judge Roll is that there has been a bizarre and unprecedented obsessive desire of those around me to try and administer my assets, or my mothers, and seeming do so as a mission as important as an international declaration of war, seriously, as if history seemed to turn on others gaining and using those assets, and a mas hysteria surrounding my genome.

My belief I will outline is that sham cases against me like racially or sexually assaulting me and seeking claims against me, based on the fight, (as if claiming whiplash injury to the neck after a car collision) “gets my genome into lawfully seized assets” where in fact they have already unlawfully been in use including by religions Peace Corps, NASA MKULTRA experimentation, etc.,

This is “legitimization after the fact” in which “I really bough it, jail bait, with my misconduct” thus my genome is due as penalty to harmed people where my genome is already long in use for decades.

Those world peace like organizations, perhaps Salvation Army, Catholic Charities or others, or the US PHS Commissioned Core or Dept Of Justice victims’ funds, are targeting me for claims which legitimize their exist claims to my genome and its administration.

Gettign me into racial fights and observing “my racism” is part of it. I consider three conditions of the State.

- State and Citizen are peaceful
- Law Enforcement: State is peaceful and observes secretly hostile citizen to study Citizen illegality without altering path or acts of citizen acting illegally, study illegal citizen as pretrial obsererd did not affect the observed evidence collection
- COINTELPRO: The State is illegally a provocative threat to the citizen. This is the case with me as unconstitutional fights and violations of my rights are provoked in State abuse of power and state wrongfull adjudication of conflict situations.

The Foundations of White Supremacism and MKULTRA and Behavioral Health: Cognition, other health, and Genome Transfers: The US Marshalls Force Acts and Seizure of Assets Fighting White Supremacism ab initio, from the beginning, of my entering my reproductive years, I have been under some kind of stalk and I trace this from inside Head Royce School of the 1970s and in fact from the years Jen Moore cited I may have been stalked by the CIA since 1978 (I graduated high school in 1980,) about the same time I place it, when women happy with me disappear, or more outrageous yet, I am give death threats to myself or the white women of reproductive if I am ever near them. Further there is history of those threats credibly carried out just as the hit on Jen Moore the CIA promised was carried out.

Turning the perception of me to that of a White Supremacist by me being in fights, or turning pools I am in into kiddie pools, kiddies surrounding me, or calling me retarded and threatening to kill me if I use a library, or picking fights with me in libraries is my life in the USA, and I have wondered why and how this is tied to my mother's genome.

This book, researching my family history and my Color of Law assailants, is my best answer I can find to it.

Jen Moores works have been a turning point in that research, and she has been the inspiration to me to complete this task.

I assert fake claims against my legitimate life transfer assets illegally and constitute political and economic espionage and also are Human Rights Violations.

U.S. Senate: The Enforcement Acts of 1870 and 1871
Google knowledge panel retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

> In response, Congress passed a series of Enforcement Acts in 1870 and 1871 (also known as the Force Acts) to end such violence and empower the president to use military force to protect African Americans. … Even this legislation did not diminish harassment of black voters in some areas.
>
> Then and today the US Marshalls are used for that task including seizures of assets of White Supremacists and also fund themselves out of seized assets.

In my case, Edward Paul Donegan, US Marhsall fighting white Supremacism take an impersonator of me, a retarded loser, to an adult entertainer and find child porn which they manufactured, on the impersonator of me. This scenario allows my genome to be seized and used for minorities since the impersonator of me took exploitative photos of the minority child or others

I call an early version of this book Genocracketeering in that behavioral health care I do not want or need, nor has the right to my mothers genome, is “paying” that genome to their own beneficiaries as they agree of false claims against me.

The scam is called the Grandparents scam when a someone (like a trust fund for the boy) is called to take care of the problem the boy is ALLEGED to have, though the trouble the boy is in is faked and false ID of the boy.

Sapient Surgical Espionage Hits

Google knowledge panel quoted here which was sourced from link

Sapience is closely related to the term “sophia” often defined as “transcendent wisdom”, “ultimate reality”, or the ultimate truth of things.[5][4][61] Sapiential perspective of wisdom is said to lie in the heart of every religion, where it is often acquired through intuitive knowing.[5][4] T

Culpable Agencies, Agency Heads, and Foreign Titled Masonic Ranks or Orders

Why do Masonic groups especially seem to assault me AS IF I assaulted them or their children, and assault me (and my genome rights) in retaliation, as if my genome was the property of Masonry groups under any form of law? Does this go to Free Masonry history? And Espionage entanglement with Masons history?

Wikipedia on Culpability retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Culpability, or being culpable, is a measure of the degree to which an agent, such as a person, can be held morally or legally responsible for action and inaction. It has been noted that the word, culpability, “ordinarily has normative force, for in nonlegal English, a person is culpable only if he is justly to blame for his conduct”.[1] Culpability therefore marks the dividing line between moral evil, like murder, for which someone may be held legally responsible and a randomly occurring event, like earthquakes, for which no human can be held responsible. One formulation of the concept is as follows:

A person is culpable if they cause a negative event and

- the act was intentional;
- the act and its consequences could have been controlled (i.e., the agent knew the likely consequences, the agent was not coerced, and the agent overcame hurdles to make the event happen); and
- the person provided no excuse or justification for the actions.

Culpability descends from the Latin concept of fault (culpa). The concept of culpability is intimately tied up with notions of agency, freedom, and free will. All are commonly held to be necessary, but not sufficient, conditions for culpability.

What was perceived to be necessary during the 1960s Missle Crisis? Or in the earlier rise of Nazism and the V2? What could Espionage accomplish with the Churches, aka “Catholics In Action?”

Does this go back to a long history of MKULTRA CIA stop at nothing to defeat Communism “hits” starting with JFK murder under MKULTRA?

Communism and Aerospace. Loosing the all the component races in the most existential threat Western civilization ever faced.

"Mind Control" (More simply leadership or political control) can begin with assassination of leadership to change or alter the course of beliefs, platitudes, or programs, changing the courser of history itself.

Google knowledge panel retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Sidney Gottlieb was an American chemist and spymaster best known for his involvement with the Central Intelligence Agency's 1950s and 1960s assassination attempts and mind-control program, known as Project MKUltra. Wikipedia

---

Poisoner in Chief: Sidney Gottlieb and the CIA Search for Mind Control * - Book by Stephen Kinzer

The bestselling author of All the Shah's Men and The Brothers tells the astonishing story of the man who oversaw the CIA's secret drug and mind-control experiments of the 1950s and '60s.The visionary chemist Sidney Gottlieb was the CIA's master magician and gentlehearted torturer-the agency's "poisoner in chief." [Hawaii overthrow]

The history and Illuminati murders tied to MKULTRA now being hidden by sapient espionage planning and surgical hits.

Some strange espionage backed espionage based US Department of Defense malfeasance has surrounded what my genome is, where it exists, and who has rights to it, most of this being faked by the US DOD all of the time including US Public Health Service, military medicine.

I think secret histories are revealed by what is really true about my genome and Espionage agencies are using “stealth and cunning” techniques of deceit to coverup the truth.

All other use of Feb 20 Nov 18 Dec 13 versos me

All other use of Feb 20 Nov 18 Dec 13 versus me . Where Where Legitimacy of Dec 13 DNA Equals 1, and where my DNA ties to JFK OECD and MANY CIA DOD State Dept in on FOXP2

No one should have a problem with me or my mother or father but unprovked assaults on me have me in constant lethal fight including being punched hit with feces for the acts of others at a location, often the puncher or feeces thrower the real culprist of the acts though dressed as me.

I kept wondering why someone would fignt me for no reason and nothing I had done. I found over time the assailants were often genomic rape tauning me saying they “liked my “watermelons” and wanted to have my baby.

I realized during these encounters and others the issue was never me and that was all manufactured, I was the doorway, if assaulted created the open passage to my parents DNA, the real lineage they were after, and in the assault I came out so bad I became 1 knocked down and then the path to Glorian and James Donegan open to the genetic assailants.

The crippling attacks on me were knocking me down on the way to my mother and father and their DNA.

All Others	Me

0	1
1	1	Thus an Espionage hit on me roadblocking normal life

Where Legitimacy of Dec 13 DNA Equals 1

More Twins Authorized

DNA Assignment Authority
Victims of Fake Ed	Fake Ed	Aduult Model provided to Fake Ed Fake Ed Confesses to	Real Ed verbablly assaulted and blamed for being a harmer of victims
Most of this can and does happen with Ed not there.	If REAL Ed is in the vicinity he will be assaulted for the crisis fake Ed created and Real ed may be asked to leave on flimsy excuse

Minnesota Twin Family Study

The Minnesota Center for Twin and Family Research

(or MCTFR) is a series of behavioral genetic longitudinal studies of families with twin or adoptive offspring

MTFS is a twin study established in June 1989 with 1300 same-gendered twin pairs age 11 or 17, with an additional cohort of 500 such pairs recruited around 2004. Twins were born between 1972 and 2000. [1] All twins born in MN at that time were eligible to participate using birth registry data. Both identical and fraternal twins share certain aspects of their environment. This allows researchers to estimate the relative impact of environmental and genetic influences on phenotypes.

The Minnesota Twin Registry was established in 1983. [2] Its original goal was to establish a registry of all twins born in Minnesota from 1936 to 1955 to be used for psychological research. Recently, it has added twins born between 1961 and 1964.

The Sibling Interaction and Behavior Study (SIBS) is a study of >600 adoptive and non-adoptive families.[1] The adoption study design allows one to disentangle the environmental and genetic influences on a phenotype, including psychological phenotypes.

A Foreign Intelligence Service (SVR) report circulating in the Kremlin today states that the top US Federal Judge for the State of Arizona was assassinated barely 72-hours after he made a critical ruling against the Obama administrations plan to begin the confiscation of their citizen's private retirement and banking accounts in order to stave off their nations imminent economic collapse, and after having the US Marshals protecting him removed.

Google knowledge panel quoted here which was sourced from Wikipedia link

The Foreign Intelligence Service of the Russian Federation or SVR RF is Russia's external intelligence agency, focusing mainly on civilian affairs. The SVR RF succeeded the First Chief Directorate of the KGB in December 1991. The SVR has its headquarters in the Yasenevo District of Moscow.

According to this SVR report, Federal Judge John McCarthy Roll Cause of death: Assassination Died: January 8, 2011 (aged 63); was the Chief Judge for the United States District Court for the District of Arizona who this past Friday issued what is called a "preliminary ruling" in a case titled "United States of America v. $333,520.00 in United States Currency et al" [Case Number: 4:2010cv00703 Filed: November 30, 2010] wherein he stated he was preparing to rule against Obama's power to seize American citizens money without clear and convincing evidence of a crime being committed.

Did Judge Roll have the US Marshalls removed while under "Mind Control" (manipulation techniques) Roll sensing some form of harassment or vague problems with Marshalls behavior around him thus finding the presence for US Marshalls "unsettling?"

Were Mark and Scott Kelly and Ed Donegan and Tom Donegan and Barrack Obama twins or half twins under study and did this lead to the gunshots towards Gabrielle Gifford, Judge Roll, and others?

In the chapter The Jim Volcelcka Question Stay And Play operator framed me as retarded and a child porn maker.

Was Obama getting the Immunology and other assets seizures he wanted from the Judge Roll Case in the phony charges of child porn ring?

> The White House Office of the Press Secretary, For Immediate Release December 13, 2010 Remarks by the President and First Lady at the Signing of the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act
>
> "And this bill is also about doing what's right for our country, because we feel the strains that treating obesity-related health conditions puts on our economy. We've seen the connection between what our kids eat and how well they perform in school. And we know that the countries that succeed in the 21st Century will be the ones that have the best-prepared, best-educated workforce around.
>
> "So we need to make sure our kids have the energy and the capacity to go toe to toe with any of their peers, anywhere in the world. And we need to make sure that they're all reaching their potential. That's precisely what this bill - the Healthy, Hungry-Free Kids Act - will accomplish.

> From and including: Saturday, November 30, 2010 To, but not including Monday, December 13, 2010 Result: 13 days
>
> From and including: Monday, December 13, 2010 To, but not including Saturday, January 8, 2011

Result: 26 days. It is 26 days from the start date to the end date, but not including the end date. https://www.timeanddate.com/

Espionage Agencies

Google knowledge panel quoted here

"Power tends to corrupt; absolute power corrupts absolutely."

An observation that a person's sense of morality lessens as his or her power increases. The statement was made by Lord Acton, a British historian of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries.

Black Opps are the shadows shadowy people work in that can cover mistakes using bad policies under excuses to cover thier own mistakes. This shadow capability includes ability to recruit assets, paid assets, dupes, and allies in the espionage cause. - Donegan

I (like Tom Dunham) have obeyed the law all of my life minus a few recreational drug deals but by appearances we are in a ring together manufacturing Child Porn victimizing church going and other females.

If a massive operation represented my mother's genome could that trust fund (under bogus claims tied to Reproductivity) legitimize the illegitimate involuntary biological weapons history and experiments of Sidney Gottlieb during MKULTRA when a series of test family lines were built for the 21st Century, their own futures as leaders with leadership genes.

Jim Volcelcka challenged me why would we seize your tiny cash value trust fund of your mother from you?" and I have upcoming book section on the Why and How of it early in this book.

According to Jen Moore murdered August 12 2018 while I was at Stay and Play and I was creating the documentation, the real answer is when people like me, Justina Pelletier, and others are trapped in family courts, then those corrupt courts traffic our genome for the elite families, the Illuminati.

In my case hacks say speech spasmodia is Bipolar Disorder and bad handwriting (Dysgraphic) and clipped grammar is Retardation.

Video #5 The more connected the more protected

This also ties to FOXP2, the Windsors, the Von Trapps, and the secret post World Wars identity of Future Illuminati leaders of Free Masonry.

What if it were genomic assets of Glorian and the thank you card from Obama at the location was his support for the genomic immunology or other asset seizures by the US Marshalls.

The same US Marshalls seizing property under that case also will be funded by those asset seizures, US Marshalls disrupting racketeering organizations funding sources.

Repeatedly Marshalls or associated people have given me death threats, pushed me away from my keyboard, shouted or honked horns, or other activity as I have been writing my book and an expose writer Jen Moore talking about individual harassed by the Marshalls, she was posting about Defense Intelligence Agency DARPA Brain Program MKULTRA, CIA Black Budgets from blackmail pedonetworks funding CIA contractors, funding MKULTRA, and the FBI role in its ties to MK-ULTRA. She was killed at the same time I was writing my identity theft tied to asset seizures (car purchases) docs on the subject, Genomics and Genentech, and on the fake claims against me in the alleged child porn ring which appears to involve Tom Dunham and I but is something we could not even trace much less were involved in.

My Brother's Keeper" (Obama Program for gang mebers) street gang under government grants

Most of my life I have been assaulted by skid row ghetto gang members often saying they from Chicago (as is Good Sams Baptist Mission COrpus Christi Texas) and they are study race by assaulting me.

Perhaps they think they are studying a Kutschere to learn about racism, but the assault are real.

Her role in this is in the Dedication and through the book. As for California Department of Motor Vehicles black operatives and some white religious people were menacingly stalking me and surrounding the DMV counters and there was some unusual activity. I was told to come back the next day half way through the process, making it possible of a switch out in the paperwork and later also they said the repealed my Real ID because they doubted I proved my resplendence at Kink BnB Stay and Play in the first place.

> RESPONSE NEEDED BY 08/03/2019
>
> Dear EDWARD PAUL DONEGAN,
>
> This letter was sent to you because at the time you you were issued a REAL ID card during the period January 2018 April 2019, only one residency document was provided to the California Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV). A second residency document must be provided in order to retain your REAL ID card. DMV set up this easy and convenient way for you to respond by following a few simple steps.

On bus tickets, airplane bordering passes, etc., my name always seems to be wrong such as “Edwardpaul Donegan” RATHER THAN “Edward Paul Donegan,” a different unique passenger name.

Meanwhile before and after I had been suing these landlords and others and the cases were rigged by the CIA and Marshall at the South Texas Federal District Courthouse by the parties involved (CIA, B. Janice Ellington and Andy Ellington CIA DOD UT Texas genetics lab, like the Brain program DARPA) and the filings window had its video equipment being repaired, the filer of the suit could not be determined.

This is all my life, always, DARPA CIA DOD as the secret ingredient of every secretly rigged moment and DARPA role in genome usage.

It was the same all of my mother's life too, and it surround our lives.

In the course of my and my mother's life stories a massive espionage interest in the triangle between our re productivity, brains, and Bone Marrow immunology are linked as are pictures of us.

Sapient kleptomania from my brother Thomas Neil Donegan and Mark Weirness

Kleptomania around my, my fathers, mothers, and my belongings, military service beer steins mugs, family air-looms, hats, etc., causing the family records and even records of existence and background information to just disappear and be destroyed, this going back to 1982 or so during my father's move from the Moraga House and the loss of his military unit beer mug and photos, just disappearing, at that time.

FBI COINTElPRO contract killers bragging about those they kill and threatening me

The COINTELPRO system was used to frame or blame Martin Luther Kings for affairs, contacts with communists in Cuba or elsewhere, etc., and try to blackmail him, take out the Ku Klux Klan, and others.

I have nothing to be blackmailed over but these same evidence plants, etc., create the appearance I am retarded and appearance I am giving in to blackmail. Evidence is planted on me in COINTELPRO and further evidence is created against me for extensive use when an impersonator of me forges a confession stealing my identity.

Gangs of contract killers (Mercenaries) who plant evidence on, assault Gangstalk Victims (myself) create KOMPROMAT, and then used on Targeted (for CIA and Secret Service) recruitment) Individuals (Landlords) I am peeper, Nazi, etc.,

Central Intelligence Agency capabilities backed black opps

Home	Public	Long Con Set Not Actually My Home
Zone “A”	Zone “B” (stalking, Mercenaries, Evidence Plants, evidence seizures and profits seizures)	Zone “C”
My PRIVATE HOME	Stolen property from my home, planted evidence in my home, surveillance of my home	In-explicit though obvious non verbal assaults, photobomb by tots, teens,, planted people, etc.,	My stolen clothes, NEXT to but not my apartment, etc., PCR created DNA, etc.,	Impersonators or replacements take over links of Glorian and Edward Donegan

Impersonator of Ed Donegan

	who deny they are trespassing against my use of public locations

It turns out now that it is because of CIA interest in my genes to “settle debt!” if adult entertainer leaders, feminists, demand my genes settle debts to harmed exploited children.

Evidence Tampering to Abuse the Process. Faked evidence goes into the real process and out comes an outcome abusive to the process and abusive to the person the evidence was faked about, but it looks legitimate on its face.

The evidence underneath the real thing is fake, so the real thing is also fake but looks real, effectively a tampered with court order since it used sort of illegally guiding the hand if the judge.

This can include Abuse of Psychiatry, a from of Abuse of [medical] Process.

“It’s nice being asked.”

Affinity to Operation, Liquidity and Commodity As Quantitative escalators of motivation rather than Qualitative adherence to Epistemia or Ethics

Financial, racial glory or political glory, social success, or simple cash can be motivators which can continue to motivate by increasing, variably, how much motiviations is required to achieve motivational results.

Espionage's Interest aka motive	Search for Corrputabilty of Asset	Incorrect Act paid for by what Asset wanted to be paid (asset's motive)	Incorrect Result
No ulterior actor	Correct Motiv	Correct Action	Correct Result

Espionage Recon of potential assets and how they could be motivated and direct or either non existent affinity to operation goals or loyalty to Kingpins of operation

Julian Assange and Wikileaks posited that offensively illegal operations would lose the Imperial Conditioning of people like Edward Snowden as their affinity the programs existence faltered on a loyalty level to the illegality.

"His crime has been to make sense of dark times. WikiLeaks has an impeccable record of accuracy & authenticity, which no newspaper, no TV channel, no radio station, no BBC, no NY Times, no Washington Post, no Guardian can equal. Indeed, it shames them"

The Late Great John Pilger! Michelle #FreeAssangeNOW #ToriesOut #StarmerOut https://twitter.com/Michell45064244/status/1743474107386118542

Sure, CIA or US Marshall pretending to be me to a Dominatrix sex worker likes to be asked to give in to blackmail, my genes demanded, but it is more than that.

Since faked evidence involves ILLEGAL misconduct (which I am NOT involved in) the DARPA CIA US Marshall types now have rights to my DNA seized with law enforcement help and available in the seized asset locker for community charities, etc.,

The scheme depends on “permission slips” to represent me as though I am incompetent on fake diagnosis backed by the State while private neutral doctors are denied, moved away or acted upon in privilege.

It is prosecutorial bad faith to overtly fake that I am incompetent though such a manufactured finding enables the next prosecutorial bad acts, with the established misrepresentation acting in their interest to seize assets from me rather than defend me from the asset seizure scheme.

Why claims to my genome and mitochondria might be of concern to other branches of family origins and the JFK assassination? Truther link here. *

If you were born in the Andes Mountains you were selected to survive certain genes in those mountains and your Bone Marrow has that white blood cell information stored.

It is as if the shapes of your bone marrow genome are like a key shape matching the line of the top of those mountains and that is how peaks and shallows of lengths of immunology genes makeup your family history or origins, down to close relatives and out to no close connection at all.

The espionage fascination with and sabotage of the family line on my mother’s side is essential to this book and explaining the espionage agency interest in me.

What are Dysgraphia, ADD, Explosive Subtypes of ADD, and Speech Spasmodia?

Though the FOXP2 gene is rare and comes from the Germany Austria area it seems to be pre-frontal cortex concentration, sustained focus pathology leading to various n neuro-motor and psychological symptom expressions.

Maintaining Constant focus (FOXP2 is the other thing)
Smooth regular speech and handwriting
Speech Making and sounding and projecting confidence like the Real Estate King Doing will in Military or Convent structures or other places of conservative behavioral norms Good shoe tying
Keeping impulsive situational emotions in check effectively
Failure to understand physics *

Lucky in love, unlucky in shoe tying.

DARPA and the Manhattan Project

My brother Thomas Neil Donegan named after Thomas Jefferson and Neil Armstrong, Bell X-1 Sound barrier DARPA

James Paul Donegan nuclear bomber flights and Manhattan Nuclear Project (and his nuclear engineer brother both from Cape Cod and the Kennedy's) Glorian Donegan, likely daughter of Maria Von Trapp out of wedlock with Prince Edward of Wales FOXP2 gene.

Edward Paul Donegan, myself, named after a King Edward who was my grandfather, Paul Donegan my father’s middle name.

Usage of Identity Theft to Launder My DARPA Identified Genetics Rights into Asset Seizure goods in a Manhattan Project MKULTRA cover-up

My being without valid State Identification (Real ID) or the valid correct apartment number on the lease, cell unit, bedroom in the house, etc., has been the every moment battle of my life consuming all my life as I tried to move from States of the USA locations expecting somewhere my brothers influence or the money laundering influence of others falsifying my correct ID would not be present but the COINTELPRO backed scheme for Doppelgangers to be retarded pedophiles with schizophrenia in my identity has succeeded all my life.

In fact a San Francisco friend of mine Tom Dunham had an online Doppelgänger of him matching my Doppelgänger that created the phony pedo ring of which my assets are signed away to Executive Asset Seizures which benefit retardation, autism, and other causes with my genes.

I have identified myself on Fetlife social networking forums as Story_CoverStroy, my presence in an area used as the cover story for an Espionage agency peeping tom ring using my identity by someone near me to misdirect blame towards me and away from the Doppelgänger, an Espionage actor who will be pursued from the scene by corrupt police.

Once a person who has stolen my identity has harmed a child, minority, etc., the asset seizure for that Trust Fund Social Services beneficiary is setep, and the asset seized mine, not the asset of the Doppelgänger of me.

A funding source for the illegal gangstalk force. ROI. It takes money to plant evidence to seize money over.

Asset seizures by Marshalls for THEMSEVLES, own use, and for victims use, and siezed from under cover operations in Strip Clubs both managing the clubs and “fining’ activities of White Supremacists in them.

U.S. Marshals Service

Justice. Integrity. Service.

U.S. Department of Justice

Fact Sheet

Asset Forfeiture

2019

- The Department of Justice Asset Forfeiture Program has four primary goals: (1) Punish and deter criminal activity by depriving criminals of property used in or acquired through illegal activities; (2) Promote and enhance cooperation between federal, state, local, tribal and foreign law enforcement agencies; (3) Recover assets that may be used to compensate victims when authorized under federal law; and (4) Ensure the program is administered professionally, lawfully and in a manner consistent with sound public policy.
- Agencies participating in the program investigate, identify, seize and forfeit the assets of criminals and their organizations while ensuring that due process rights of property owners are protected.
- The U.S. Marshals Service serves as the primary custodian of seized property for the program. The Marshals identify and evaluate assets and manage and dispose of the majority of the assets seized and forfeited through the program.

I think there has been an effort to tie my mother's trust fund of that value in the year of her death in 2011 to phony child porn networks manufactured for the purpose of seizing assets.

The Trust Fund wanting my genome seized for its use is assisting in the creation of my stolen identity and also disrupting my gaining my own property and ID cards.

- The Department of Justice Asset Forfeiture Program is a key component of the federal government's law enforcement efforts to combat major criminal activity by disrupting and dismantling illegal enterprises, depriving criminals of the proceeds of illegal activity, deterring crime and restoring property to victims.

- The U.S. Marshals Service plays a critical role in identifying and evaluating assets that represent the proceeds of crime as well as efficiently managing and selling assets seized and forfeited by DOJ.

- The Marshals Service manages a wide array of assets, including real estate, commercial businesses, cash, financial instruments, vehicles, jewelry, art, antiques, collectibles, vessels and aircraft.

- Proceeds generated from asset sales are used to operate the program, compensate victims and support various law enforcement efforts.

- The Marshals manage the distribution of proceeds and payments to victims of crime and other innocent third parties, all of which helps to mitigate the financial damage inflicted by criminal activity. The agency employs best practices from private industry to ensure that assets are managed and sold in an efficient and cost-effective manner.

- The Marshals Service supports communities by transferring certain types of forfeited assets to state, local and nonprofit organizations. Through the Operation Goodwill program, forfeited real or personal property of marginal value can be transferred to state or local governments in support of drug abuse treatment, drug crime prevention and education, housing, job skills and other community-based public health and safety programs.

- The Asset Forfeiture Program was created in 1984 when Congress passed the Comprehensive Crime Control Act, which provided federal prosecutors and agents the legal and regulatory tools necessary to keep up with, and ahead of, those who commit crime for economic benefit.

- DOJ Asset Forfeiture Program participants include the Asset Forfeiture and Money Laundering Section of the Department of Justice Criminal Division; U.S. Marshals Service; Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives; Drug Enforcement Administration; FBI; and U.S. Attorneys' Offices. Other participants include the U.S. Postal Inspection Service; Food and Drug Administration; Department of Agriculture Office of the Inspector General; Department of State Bureau of Diplomatic Security; and Defense Criminal Investigative Service.

Later on in this book I will make extensive use of this pyramid describing the need for public debate on Race rather than leave it to Espionage agencies conducting The DARPA Brain Program but let me modify it here for a Mercenary model of events

What Jim Volcelcka was operating was a Social Good sperm bank fraud. Someone, not me, would "pay for" child porn with DNA, my DNA, which "settled the debt."

Yet I had no interesting in peeping or child porn, the person who forged being me, who agreed to settle the debt, was an impersonator, a Doppelgänger, who shook down my mother's trust fund, a trust fund never meant for that in the first place.

This fraud, that I am retarded, and retardation firms will settle claims against me in the scope of jurisdiction they have over all retarded people is the fraud of Behavioral Health Care and them as interested parties accepting the forgeries from my Doppelgänger which benefit their retarded beneficiaries for the social good.

Much like with Al Capone, what a favor he is doing for the town with availability of alcohol and charity donations.

His Mercenaries are for the good and donate to community charity Understanding Espionage, selected (Targeted Individuals) Mercenaries (Dupes, assets of Espionage,) and Gangstalk (evidence plants

- Targeted Individual, someone picked out or placed by the Espionage Agency who can be controlled by duping them with disinformation, perhaps information generated by an Information Doppelganger

- Espionage Agency, cover operatives seeking to gain control of a Government or Other OFficial

- Gangstalk Victim. A person who is having evidence planted on him by a Gangstalk including some in the Gang faking being him and identified by the Gang who pretend they are normal witnesses in public

The “good” being accomplished is the legitimization of black market DNA, which the Elite need because they have the DNA illegally and want that to appear as lawful use of DNA.

Individuals, Organizations, or Individuals within Organizations may be Targeted for recruitment by Espionage agents because the Targets are pro gay couples Genomics (Sandy Hume, Andrew Breitbart) or religious (Scalia, Roger Allies) or merely needed (Judge Roll.) If the recruitment goes south OR after opp, silence of grave prevents compromise of the Espionage mission Utilizing Targeted Individuals, recruited where they work in Front Organizations (BBRW Bank, etc.,) are how Espionage is conducted through assets.

Legends, cover stories such as employment in the Front Organization, is how covert operations are conducted even in view of the general public.

Targeted for recruitment as Double Agents. Working for Government while working for Espionage which misuses or re-purposes the job the recruited asset holds, and is generally contradictory to he mission of the organization the Targeted Individual is placed in.

Deceit (creating a Dupe,) Incitement/Incentive, or Expansion of the Assets own personal desires make up recruitment efforts.

The best recruitment of assets play on strong emotions the espionage recruit will be controlled by, thus the recruit will disregard normal cautions in acts.

The Targeted Individual is said to be in a state of Psychosis, that psychosis being under the control of a powerful fixed delusion non responsive to normal controls,

The Legend, the delusion the Dupe or the public holds, is the cover-story the Espionage Agency hides its acts through. In this book and other locations I call myself at times "Story_Coverstory" in that espionage agencies commit peeping tom acts but say it was me who did it, making me the cover story for the own acts.

Coutouts, also called Indica, misleading/ misdirecting but not despostive "indications" of things, like similar coats on two people, one the real perp. Because another person, the Gangstalk Victim, has the same coat on, the identity of one to another is cut and pasted with the clothing item the "clipboard" the identity is temporarily housed in as it is moved in between.

For those who can not be controlled or for assets who could compromise the Espionage mission Targeted Killings will be used.

The entire operation of fielding and concealing operatives, recruiting and using espionage front organizations, is the Gangstalk Ecosystem of Covert Operations

All of these elements provide cover and operational support including non neutral witnesses who are planted or recruited to lie for the Espionage operation, and up to and including #WETWORKS as needed to protect the mission and operatives from being compromised before the public.

These acts are described in the Long Con but also consider Spy Museum Language of Espionage.

examples from the first page

> Spy Museum terms of Espionage Link
>
> Agent
>
> A person unofficially employed by an intelligence service, often as a source of information
>
> Agent-in-Place
>
> A government employee who is influenced to cooperate with a foreign government instead of defecting; now working for two employers instead of one
>
> Agent-of-Influence
>
> A person who works within the government or media of a target country to influence national policy
>
> Asset
>
> A clandestine source or method, usually an agent

Babysitter

Bodyguard

Bagman

An agent who pays spies and bribes authorities

Bang and Burn

Demolition and sabotage operations

Birdwatcher

Slang used by British Intelligence for a spy

Black Bag Job

Secret entry into a home or office to steal or copy materials

Black Operations

Covert operations that are not attributable to the organization performing them

Black Propaganda

A disinformation that is deniable by (and not traceable to) its source

Blowback

A deception planted abroad by an intelligence agency to mislead another country that returns to the originating nation with bad consequences

Blown

Discovery of an agent's true identity or a clandestine activity's real purpose

Cut-out

A mechanism or person used to create a compartment between the members of an operation to allow them to pass material [or identity] or messages securely; also an agent who functions as an intermediary between a spymaster and other subagents

Ghoul

Agent who searches obituaries and graveyards for names of the deceased for use by agents.

Honey Trap

Slang for use of men or women in sexual situations to intimidate or snare others

[I use that term Honey Pot to attract those willing to, in my identity, confess to the [Victorias Secret] sex worker or model that harm has been done to women and Donegan genome is due because of that, to prenent the arrest of Fake Edward, settling the debt to the community for the exploitation done.

Innocent Postcard

A postcard with an innocuous message sent to an address in a neutral country to verify the continued security of an undercover operative

A form of an Innocent Postcard used by the FBI and others for attacks is to disguise clandestine hotilitiy into alleged normal activities or statements. A pedestrian in act on a sidewalk may be the the reverse side of a written postcard, but in the idillic scene may be hidden espionage elements such as a created ambiguity leading to misdirection, false pretexts for attacks on a person or warrants, etc.,

Nugget

British term for the bait (money, political asylum, sex, or career opportunity) offered to a potential defector

Raven

A male agent employed to seduce people for intelligence purposes

Swallow

A female agent employed to seduce people for intelligence purposes

Illuiminati (DiviInci) and CIA use of Expectable dates for planning such as one year marks, etc.,

Event Driven Architecture (things recure in timeline plannable ways such as brithdays, one year marks, etc, as CIA Digagrpahs, conference planning, and recognized in beteween the lines information, Secret Identities, in stories with dates of February 20 November 19 Dec 13

Wikipedia on Operation Pastorius _ All were born in Germany and all had lived in the United States. All returned to Germany between 1933 and 1941. After the declaration of war between the United States and Nazi Germany in December 1941 following the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, they received training at a sabotage school near Berlin, where they were instructed in the use of explosives and in methods of secret writing. [Diagraphs for instance of MKULTRA]

I propose in this book some are still fighting WWII in their own way and mostly to cover errors such the murder of John F. Kennedy in a plan to use hidden Nazi era familes secretly who were already hidden in the USA and Argentina.

I propose in this book some are still fighting WWII in their own way and mostly to cover errors such the murder of John F. Kennedy in a plan to use hidden Nazi era familes secretly who were already hidden in the USA and Argentina.

And many others ..

Stopping Family Databases creating Skyfall

dailyjournalonline.com quoted from here on the stopping of an Espionage Skyfall

> When James Bond's (Daniel Craig) latest assignment goes terribly wrong, it leads to a calamitous turn of events: Undercover [sleeper] agents around the world are exposed, and MI6 is attacked, forcing M (Judi Dench) to relocate the agency. With MI6 now compromised inside and out, M turns to the one man she can trust: Bond. Aided only by a field agent (Naomie Harris), Bond takes to the shadows and follows a trail to Silva (Javier Bardem), a man from M's past who wants to settle an old score.

In the Russia Investigation example

Anti Trump Interests are the Espionage Deep State

James Comey is the Targeted Individual believing his FISA warrants are based on sound evidence and help DEFEAT espionage

A British and or other Gangstalk plants evidence surrounding the Trump campaign subjecting it to investigation

Student, Senator, President, and Former President Obama, and Obama the husband and father.

This book nor any book or lawsuit or I have written is about Obama. For a while a picture of Barack Obama was on the cover and that Newsweek cover story magazine cover featured Obama in European aristocratic garb and a November 19 publish data of the magazine.

In 2006 I was using a web site to challenge the factual underpinnings of Department of Energy and National Institute of Health research in the joint Human Genome Project.

In 2006 I did not it consider it tied to my CIA manipulated family of origin history but rather sociology which blamed white Europeans for oppressing blacks when cultural problems and even likely genetic inequality to be sources of the problems which was within blacks.

Senator Obama and the Congressional Black Caucus I thought from online material were influencers of that sociology thinking

(Ethics) which were displacing Science (Epistemic Biology.)

Arrested while seeking Freedom of Information Act documents tied to my web site I found THEY, the government were working on and co-opting those points from the other perspective leading to heated phone calls and finally my arrest on a misdemeanor for harassing the FOIA officers over my unfulfilled FOIA requests

During my DOJ Bureau of Prisons Public Health Service operated detention and psych evaluation I was tanked by a placed team of black psychiatrist, social workers, and others who viewed my entire theory of race as damaging to society and I was said to be unable to understand how racism harmed others and I was told I was delusional in requesting document I had no right to any interest in and was wrong about.

It was during that detention a prison snitch told me a Congressperson was going to step down from Congress to join the US Marshalls to fight against White Supremacism.

Later I would suspect the snitch was talking about Barack Obama and leaving Congress meant his run for president and the post racial plans coming from him, of a white mother and black father, and in that sociology to address race in America and I also think that meant me under study as a source of racism.

Deeper under that I think the CIA, DARPA the Brain Program, and other very covert agencies are interested in the FOXP2 Borderline Personality Disorder gene I carry and I have the Information Theory and Philosophical system to describe and the family history of observing it clinically for years.

This I later found out comes from that rare gene in my mother's side and how that collides with CIA MKULTRA work in my mother's side history and government interest in that including the secret CIA program which created Barack Obama Jr as a test birth of using that DNA and creating several family lines of twins and IQ studies, and other cognitive experimentation, attributes, and metrics.

I view the Obamas and Donegans mostly as victims who are the product of CIA activities effectively in Sins of the CIA history who now have the CIA history either to coverup or discover.

This will lead me into the theory the Trump administration and William Barr (Attorney General who as CIA officer destroyed CIA MKULTRA records) are trying to cover the era of Sidney Gottlieb and the CIA and Illuminati which included the assassination of Kennedy as Kennedy resisted the program going any further.

Today's Asset Seizures of a White Supremacist create the foundation to both continue genomic transfer among families and among countries such that with now Illuminati and Church backed usages what was quite rare DNA is now more common DNA, not of rare source, and found everywhere.

This activity though is coming from "Bird Dogging" fake claims against me which through a public perception I am psychotic white supremacist harming females by peeping minority children can be compensated and it is this growing mercenary network I believe tied to racketeering and crime.

Today public visible publicly planted indica (signs, not true evidence of) a peeping network I seem to be in are placed through society publicly and it is all fraud but creates the Legend the CIA and DARPA wants so that in that network genome IS authorized.

Mercenaries have been recruited and used to bird dog these phony claims against me.

The real hope is that as White Supremacism is taken down a rung, the genes transferred are of economic and cultural benefit to the disenfranchised and disadvantaged.

The Donegans and Kennedy's in the Manhattan Project, Cape Cod, and secret family histories and identities.

"Yes" to always hating the CIA and "No" to ever had been a "Birther."

What unlocked a lifetime of mystery for me, a lifetime of bizarre abusive treatment of my mother and by strangers who had no basis for hostility towards us led me thirty years of book writing and researcher ever corner of social knowledge, people, sociology, even cognition and cognitive research.

The final result unlocked in 2020 is that I have been the decades long victim of a Ganstalk, manufactured and planted evidence to be used in persecution, and this has been a form Deep State "doing a number" on a person COINTELPRO style, and spanning for 45 years, and this is because of what is on the maternal side of my family history, where the LONDON FOXP2 Runs in the "LONDON KE FAMILY" line

During this 45 years front organizations and people have been subjecting to sham hearings, assaults I am blamed for as the suspect rather than victim, and other dirty tricks conducted by people who say they are not doing it, and brag about doing to others as the planted evidence is accepted as true by others.

It is my theory now in this book (about Cape Cod and the Manhattan Project (in part) that the DARPA Human Brain Research including IQ, Economies, and Communism are tied to my birth, JFK and Sidney Gottlieb involuntary science projects and biology experiments, and that covert operations both need for my DNA and the need to hide its source explains the "number" being done on my by COINTELPRO.

That history goes to my fertilization with secret blood line DNA, a secret history of Feb 20 1961 DNA experiment (IVFs from Glorian Donegan DNA) and its use in modern families who wish to deny not only the racial experiments in family lines but the racial realities leading to those experiments.

This book is the speaking about what has and is so far unspoken, and why in my family history I have a the Rosetta Stone to make the decode of many public records whose presence is visible but the meaning is missing, such as JFK in Santa Monica California Manhattan Beach area November 19 1961, part of the Manhattan Project testing my father and mother, and Barack Obama Jr would also be connected to, and JFK would be assassinated over as he resisted DARPA and Illuminati CIA ongoing plans.

Because I have the family history, spoken, genetic, and in birth certificates, death certificates, school, medical, and other records mostly you can verify at once I can decode things the rest of the world have not had a good answer for.

During the Race and IQ University Admissions case of Fisher v. University of Texas at Austin I can explain why Justice Scalia died in Texas, with a pillow over his face, and, oddly, it happened in Red State anti communist TExas with the brain MKULTRA research Werhner Von Braun state and why a military intelligence, DARPA CIA #Wetworks Illuminati hashtag preceded his death, and no one realisticly denies that hash tag went out.

I will explain for instance in that matter gays and others who were in the addressing of that email have all sorts of new capabilities in personal eugenics, designer babies, and medical treatments for diseases and the possibility of gay same gender biological parents of children with IVF capabilities if DARPA and other new genetics and can produce up and coming answers rather than old thinking.

I can also explain why people like Justina Pelletier have been effectively kidnapped into unwanted government systems as I have who also likely possess the Cape Cod gene USA locus point.

And finally I can explain the unanswered questions the Camelot assasinations and Thomas C. Wales murder by a mercenary.

The Snowball Pelletier Snowball Rollovers

The Pelleiteirs talk of a snowball of rigged and wrong proceedings which the number of and effect of just build a bigger snowball which keeps rolling and same with me and the outlandish Gangtalk no one is defending me against in Surreal USA existence.

I have tried suing CIA Front Organizations (Targeted Businesses, Targeted Individuals, those who have asked to be assets of the CIA DARPA Deep State) unfortunately the South TExas FEderal DIstrict Court themselves and others work as favor providers to the Deep State and thus both the courts and the media have been useless or worse in seeking justice.

CIA Brain Research connected interests such as the Ellingtons of CIA DOD labs had a planted magistrate,e co-operating Marshalls created misfilings at the Clerk ‘s Window with down video survelliance blind spot, etc.,

Espionage Agencies, Targeted Individuals, Gangstalk Victims, Information Doppelgangers

- Espionage Agency: DARPA, CIA, Secret Service, FBI, etc., even DOD Public Health Service and Psychological Warfare support

- Targeted Individuals Public or Private Organizations or people asked to support Espionage Agencies complicity, and keep co-operation covert. Such co-operation is based on Disinformation. The Espionage Agencies is duping the entity. Targeting influencers or Commanders with Disinformation is part of PsyOps

- Gangstalk Victim The person whom the Espionage Agencies are using Front Organizations (Targeted Individuals) against; thus the Gangstalk Victim has wrongful outcomes orchestrated through Espionage Agency front groups

A Gangstalk "decomposes" a person's life and rights by public appearances making the person seem like he is following the woman in front of him, who in fact is placed in front of him, or he is walking down the street with some stranger placed to walk next to him, and he has no control over, etc.,

Typically an Information Doppelganger (also called an Agent Provocateur) substituting for the Gangstalk Victim will create the Disinformation to be used duping Targeted Individuals into actions against the Gangstalk Victim.

Both the Information Doppelganger and the Targeted Individual may be Mercenaries who will benefit (or their causes will benefit) from actions against the Gangstalk Victim.

In practice, whether or not a person is a mercenary may be a matter of degree, as financial and political interests may overlap, as was often the case in all of history. - Wikipedia

What is Gangstalking?

The term "Gangstalking" or "Organized Stalking" refers to intense, long-term, harassment, intimidation, and surveillance of a Targeted (for Gangstalking) Individual. These covert operations are run by the Deep

State Fusion Centers in each state, and many police departments are involved, worldwide.

It is funded by the CIA under the black budge, with the intention to silence or neutralize a person, who is often a political activist.

Such operations have little to do with criminal gangs, as they are operated by official government-funded agents.

Private organizations, such as Infragard, Citizen Corps, and Neighborhood Watch are often involved.

I quote this table form later and I will introduce it here to describe the assaults upon my mother and I, a group who will steal DNA from someone hated.

Roadblocking, Disruption of Continuous Event Paths achieved by Defamation created during the Gagnstalk

Recall that Street Theater, Rough Music, Gangstalk, is a technique to add deceptive context to public events making use of actors who are added to the context of normal events. That false total context, using the real person's activities out of its real unmodified context, is then in the falsified context part of a false narrative woven of false context surrounding normal person and thus blocking normal person on KOMPROMAT.

Roadblock	Continuity in Sower's path
	Reaper Prepares victim and creates identities of Sower and Crisis Actor	Original Path of victim and Sower with Crisis Actor without the Reaper, a Crisis Actor pretending to be the Sower, exploiting the victims

Discriminating Community acts on secretly held KOMPROMAT Road Roadblocks Sower on flimsy excuse but good enough excuse

Reaper will defame Sower to Community, Ask to be accepted instead

May also rob Sower's original work

Sower did not move forward,does not have his or her own work result

Road Blocking especially form position of power rather than peer competition

When Police or private allies help plant KOMPROMAT and/or create or enforce roadblock Conspiracy Against Rights

Reaper Sower Model - Reapers FBI CIA NSA may wrongly misdirect a Sower (law abider) to where a Reaper is harming someone (victim) dressed as Sower. Reaper may harass Sower as suspect

The first part is called Gangstalk the second part is called Office Mob, where a Commumity accepts the Reaper who is carrying forward the Sower's work.

My own brother Tom Donegan on numerous occasions tried to place me at locations I was not through deceitful conversations, etc.,

Other times Uber cabs and other transportation has dragged me around town, me the unwilling passenger.

Masons target those in the USA who are law abiding people though these law abiding people are a threat to Illuminati agenda, Illuminati members such as those in Twins Studies

“For, they [the Illuminati and Masons] have come from many nations, all working together, their “think tanks” operating twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week and they have all said, “Let us defile her! (Glorian, terrible White Woman)

Let us look upon her and defile her! And, we will stop this thing from coming into the Earth!”

And, hoards after hoards of them, all from many nations, have come in their stealth and in their cunning, with their latest in space technology all given to them by Satan, and they have said,

“We will defile her! We will spoil this plot! We will stop what Yahweh plans!

We will bring an end to this! We will traumatize her! We will kill her; and as she takes her last breath, the interdimensional portal will open and we will flee!

We are not grounded in the earth! We will fly high again!

We will roam among the stars again! We will sneak out and Yahweh and the hosts of the heavens will be powerless to stop us!

We are gods!

We have all of the power and this woman is a nobody!

She is nothing before us!

It is nothing for us to kill her, nothing for us to steal this new spiritual code! (360 degree Crystal Intelligence Code)

> We will stalk her!
>
> We will find her weak links and we will break her!

The [gang] stalk of paid mercenaries is in Zone “B” which generates KOMPROMAT which then is used in Zone “C” which person from Zone “A” is excluded from.

Again this chart of mercenaries harassing both my mother and I, finding weak links to use tampered with evidence on disruption the course of our lives.

Home	Public	Long Con Set Not Actually My Home
Zone “A”	Zone “B” (stalking, Mercenaries, Evidence Plants)	Zone “C”
My PRIVATE HOME	Stolen property from my home, planted evidence in my home, surveillanc of my hom	In-explicit though obvious non verbal assaults, photobomb planted people, etc., who deny they are tresspassing against my use of public locations	My stolen clothes, NEXT to but not my apartment, etc.,	Wanted, intended, associations, links with, of myself or my mother

The Mercenaries are paid or ideologically suitable people used to attack me on behalf of illegal organization, CIA, espionage. They may be Targeted Individuals, Dupes, Profiteers, Zealots, etc.,

COINTELPRO manufacturers activities I am not involved in. The Ricky Prado Blackwater killers brag about who they have killed and will kill, and operate under Spook names, I have watched many die after their threats were acted upon and I still warn the scene and I still say I am in danger, their threats as open Spook Contractor Mercenaries and La Cosa Nostra are real.

They are In and Ins, those who are invited IN into the racket others are already in on.

When I come along, they are told an opportunity for profit is on its way.

Would the Texas based Bush Family Line be involved in the DARPA Deep State CIA Contractor Murders like Enrique Prados or others

NWO Assassinations like that possibly of Justice Scalia, perhaps by a heart attack inducing drug, as Justice Scalia was about to out the Bush family and MKULTRA video [that video linked to here I located from this Eddie Cole site *

The most important issues belong to the People
Dumbed Down Complicit MSM Press
Population Controlled Dumbed Down USA Public

So the above chart will be later in the book but adapted here below to introduce a point.

Sow what are the mulitple various races Illuminati international families really hiding and how does it relate

One of the many accusations this book makes is this picture of my half brother,depicted as a monkey in 1961 and I claim it is my half biological twin, mitochondrial detected, and one of many illegal twins I have black and white.

My father fertilized my mothers ovum on February 20 1961 and I was born at Manhattan Beach California under a radiation exosure testign progam my cape cod family my father the WWII bomber pilot were a part of.

The birth tracking though is through the mother giving births, not fertilization, something the Mossad points out in tracking Obama's origins.

Fertilization	Birth November 18 1961

Feb 20 1961 George Ball, THorikill Kristensen, JFK on phone that day in photo
Edward Paul Donegan 022-46-3233	November 19 Manhattan Beach California, Manhattan Nuclear bomb development area birth, Nov 19 birth certificate JFK present 20 miles away at Santa Monica California wit Schartezneggers Shrivers Lawfords

One problem being my brother Tom Donegan and I are 022-46-3233 and 022-46-3235 Massachusetts Social Security Numbers.

So who is 022-46-3234?

Fertilization Feb 20 1961 George Ball, THorikill Kristensen, JFK on phone that day in photo
Edward Paul Donegan 022-46-3233	November 19 Manhattan Beach California, Manhattan Nuclear bomb development area birth, Nov 19 birth certificate JFK present 20 miles away at Santa Monica California wit Schartezneggers Shrivers Lawfords
Barack Obama Atomic Testin test fertilization Febrray 20 1961 JFK on phone 022-46-3234	JFK Present for the birth. November 18 November 19 Daniel Freedman St Josephs Manhattan Beach Hospital I was born at/

February 20 1961 Thorkil1 Kristensen, OECD.

> The brainchild of Thorkil Kristensen, the first secretary general of the organisation, the OECD Observer was launched at the 2nd ministerial meeting 27-28 November 1962.

Author of IQ, developing economies, and the Brain. DARPA

November 18 1961 JFK at Manhattan Beach/Santa Monica birth, November 19 1961 birth certificate

Roskens 'sleaze factor' at U.S. AID could be bad news for Bush campaign retrieved from Executive Intelligence Review and copied or modified to here by an EIR Investigative Team

I (Edward Paul Donegan assert there are low security gimmics used by Free Masons one is writing backwards. There is precedent for this.

In January 1990, Roskens pushed the "family planning" line during a whirlwind tour of seven African nations with Secretary of Health and Human Services Louis Sullivan. Roskens reported that by the year 2000, there would be more than 10 million children on the African continent infected with the AIDS virus. Pressed by the nrdia to articulate soltions, Roskens was evasive, but did say, according to a Lin- coln Journal Star article on Feb. 3, 1991, that one of the major problems he saw affecting the continent was population growth. He said that most of the families he saw in Africa had 7-8 children, and at that rate, the population will double within 20 years, he warned. He commented that AID spends more than $200 million a year on "family planning. " Some students of the Freemasonry believe that homosexual deviance and the correlated obsession with irth control go back to the Gnostic belief structures of the Freemasons and their antecedents in the medieval European "Buggers." It is therefore interesting that Roskens is playing a central role in masonic outreach to Russia and eastern Europe.

Roskens lists in his Who's Who entry, "King Ak Sar Ben LXXXVI, 198()." Ak Sar Ben (Nebraska spelled backwards) is the elite masonic organization of Nebraska, which crowns a "king" at an annual ball.

 February 20, 1961

JFK met with the Secretary General of the Organization for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC) Thorkil Kristensen at around 11

 am in the Oval Office.

* JFK met with the Secretary General of the Organization for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC) Thorkil Kristensen at around 11 *

* am in the Oval Office. *

Could read 11 18 1961 Happy Birthday

More Dec 13s ?

Elements of HTML in documents like p (paragraph) or span (span something)not displayd, not visible. Only things inside a paragaraph or span are. Empty paragraphs or empty spans or their properties do not show

JFK and Thorkil Kristensen (center) with unidentified man – February 20, 1961

11 surface of water 18 61

11/18/61

https://dailyjfk.com/days/february-20-1961/ note “around 11” aka 9 months later then in the next photo 9 months later at Manhattan Beach Santa Monica Nov 19 1961.

Donald Barr CIA Free Mason with an experimental monkey having a birthday at the White House November 23 1961

Rodin's Thinker bookend, not the sendup of it EPD III, a monkey on a stack of book, one with the name Darwin, and the monkey holding a Human skull Affe mit Schädel .

image of Rheinhold's Affe mit Schädel from * located on Wikipedia page * November 23 1961 and Experimental monkey 022-46-3234 transported to the JFK Whitehorse, who is not the son of GLorian or James Donegan, not the CIA claimed parents, will be raised in Chicago by Trinity CHurch members.

https://www.jfklibrary.org/sites/default/files/archives/JFKWHP/JFKWHP-FA.xml

Saturday, November 16, 1963

November 16, 1963

JFK traveled from Palm Beach to Cape Canaveral, Florida on this Saturday morning, where he visited Pad B at Complex 37 and was briefed by Wernher Von Braun on the Saturn rocket booster.

He is seen in the photo below with (L-R) NASA Associated Administrator Robert C. Seamans, Jr., Florida Senator George Smathers, NASA Administrator James E. Webb, Dr. Wernher Von Braun (partially hidden), NASA Deputy Administrator Hugh L. Dryden, and military aide to the President Chester V. Clinton. Although not shown in the photo, long-time aide Kenny O'Donnell also accompanied him on trip.

During his time in Cape Canaveral, JFK also viewed a Polaris missile being fired from a submarine.

https://dailyjfk.com/days/ , November 16, 1963 * JFK traveled from Palm Beach to Cape Canaveral, Florida on this Saturday morning, where he visited Pad B at Complex 37 and was briefed by Wernher Von Braun on the Saturn rocket booster.

M.Morrissette The President went aboard the USS. Observation Island to watch a Polaris Missille launch from the submarine named Andrew Jackson.

Torbert MacDonald and Dave Powers were Jfk's guests at Ambassador Kennedy's home in Palm Beach,Florida (1095 North Ocean Blvd) Died Ambassador Kennedy to England died November 18, 1969 (aged 81) Hyannis Port, Massachusetts, U.S. After lunch They were watching Navy vs. Duke with JFK giving them 10 points (grains) , And Jfk won 38-25. JFK wanted his winnings Now so Dave and Torbert had to go upstairs to get their wallets.

John Sidney "Slew" McCain (August 9, 1884 - September 6, 1945) was a U.S. Navy admiral and the patriarch of the McCain military family. He held several command assignments during the Pacific campaign of World War II. McCain was a pioneer of aircraft carrier operations.[1] Serving in the Pacific Ocean theater of World War II, in 1942 he commanded all land-based air operations in support of the Guadalcanal campaign, and in 1944-45 he aggressively led the Fast Carrier Task Force. His operations off the Philippines and Okinawa and air strikes against Formosa and the Japanese home islands caused tremendous destruction of Japanese naval and air forces in the closing period of the war.[2] He died four days after the formal Japanese surrender ceremony.

Several of McCain's descendants were also graduated from the United States Naval Academy. He and his son, John S. McCain Jr., were the first father-son pair to achieve four-star admiral rank in the U.S. Navy during World War II. His grandson, John S. McCain III, served as a Navy captain in the Vietnam War, and later served in Congress until his death in 2018. His great-grandsons, John S. McCain IV and James McCain, currently serve in the U.S. Navy and U.S. Marine Corps, respectively.

From 1960 to 1962, John S. McCain Jr held commands in the Atlantic, including Amphibious Group 2 and Amphibious Training, and served on Taconic and Mount McKinley.

[38] He was Chief of Naval Information from 1962 to 1963,[38] initiating the post and garnering influence with the Washington press that would aid his career.[1] Following the April 1963 loss of the nuclear submarine Thresher, he explained to the public why the search for the wreckage would be lengthy and difficult, and defended the Navy against charges that it had been tardy in disclosing details of the disaster.[42][43][44] McCain was promoted to vice admiral in July 1963, and was made commander of the entire Amphibious Forces, Atlantic Fleet (COMPHIBLANT).[38][45][46]

He came up with the idea for Operation Sea Orbit, the voyage around the world without refuelling of three nuclear-powered Navy ships; it was reminiscent of the Great White Fleet circumnavigation that his father had been part of over half a century earlier.[47]

> York man, JFK's godson, recalls the presidential legend …www.seacoastonline.com › article › NEWS Nov 17, 2013 Torbert Macdonald of York, Maine, talks about his father, Torbert Hart … in 1955, serving as congressman until his death in 1976 at age 58.

MELBOURNE, Fla. - Kennedy Space Center as we know it was just getting off the ground when President John F. Kennedy visited Cape Canaveral for the last time, 50 years ago Saturday.

Inside a blockhouse, scale models arranged on a table previewed what the massive Vehicle Assembly Building, launch pad 39A and Saturn V rockets would look like.

There, pointing to the models and charts on easels, NASA leaders briefed the president on progress in developing the facilities and rockets that would support moon shots by his end-of-the-decade goal.

Kennedy appears in a picture to be listening intently, one hand held to his chin.

The Apollo program's enormous cost - NASA's total budget had jumped from $500 million in 1960 to $3.7 billion in 1963 - increasingly was under attack as Kennedy prepared to campaign for re-election.

Kennedy himself had begun to express some doubts privately, had recently proposed cooperating on moon missions with the Soviet Union and was awaiting the results of a high-level review of the nation's military and civil space programs.

"So this was Kennedy preparing to make a decision on whether to continue with the Apollo program or not," said historian John Logsdon, author of "John F. Kennedy and the Race to the Moon." "And I think this visit rekindled his enthusiasm for the program."

That enthusiasm was tragically short-lived: Six days later Kennedy was gunned down in Dallas.

> Like the nation, NASA's space center, which within a week of the assassination would be renamed in Kennedy's honor, was consumed with shock and sorrow, remembers Jack King, then NASA's local director of public information.

Four days after November 19th birth certificate 022-46-3234 was born, an Experimental Monkey has a Birthday Party at the JFK White House, and Donald Barr, OSS CIA Atomic Energy expert and Illuminati 33rd Degree Mason is holding the baby.

That birth certificate will be destroyed by 1970s CIA Officer William Barr (later attorney general) as purge of the records of MKULTRA

As the baby turns 2 years and passes tests, JFK is assassinated by the CIA and Secret Service loyal to the Illuminati, and 022-46-3234 disappears as the experimental monkey birth certificate.

February 20 1961 fertilization changes to the Feb 2 marriage of Barack Obama Sr and Madelyn Dunhan, and the birth shifts by three months, November back to August, as Dunham was alleged three months pregnant already of February 2 1961.

It will actually make the point that the Illuminati replaced James Watson, Scientist, from the Human Genome Program (thus defeating the Natural Law premise of the Age of Reason Atlamtic Revolutions Nation State) and placed Francis Collins as Director whose movement, whose Evangelical Pipe Dream, whose transcendental Ethics shunned the evil of racism, and acts resultant from racism, and created a new Prophecy of find all Gods children who have Gods [February 20] "Spiritual Code] all around the Earth.

One of the affects of placing that "Spiritual Code" around the Earth is it is now at the very root of the branches of evolution which match the Bible's ethics and tale.

Thus while Francis Collins and various Religious causes are hard to dislike they may in fact be recruited Mercenaries under DARPA, the CIA, and others in illegal programs covering up Illuminati earlier errors and I think the illegal harassment of my family and others fall under that Espionage aim.

Specific to the Genetics Rights Pyramid

Roll	Scalia	Secret Illuminati Needs of cash (Epstein) and Church rights to genes Salvation Army	Thomas C. Wales
James Comey and Jen Moore Trying To Stop Corruption and FBI manufacture of child porn ring
Mercenaries working with Elites and backed by Espionage and British market Bird Dog genes through Victoria Secrets models who tempt Mercenaries to fake being Ed

Donegan and act with vauge suspicion towards Ed Donegan Law Abiding Tom Dunham and Edward Donegan as outcasts, though via gossip circles

These public vague and incorrect evidence before the public misleading the public are the speciality of PsyOps and psychological warfare, tarnishing people.

How could anyone justify assassination in the USA?

To the Espionage agencies tied to MKULTRA and the assassination of JFK and creating illegal family lines coverup is a motive.

Under the veneer of doing anything to defeat White Supremacism around the world, aka support MKULTRA and DARPA brain research, some “white supremacists” might be framed under COINTELPRO, White Supremacists judges removed, and child porn planted on white supremacists allowing Salvation and good works to minority children.

For the reader let me explain why in the book I will discuss this case and others including the likely murder of Justice Scalia during a race and IQ case.

A DARPA project on Race and IQ, and of economic development of foreign nations dates back to John F. Kennedy and is part of my story, and why Espionage is involved in something so secret by the Masons even a near Chief Justice would never talk.

A Defense Advanced Research Agency (DARPA) Obama favored project on Race and IQ, and of economic development of foreign nations dates back to John F. Kennedy and is part of my story, and why Espionage is involved in something so secret by the Masons even a near Chief Justice would never talk. #WETWORS.

Never talk about Thorkil Kirstenson and George Ball and Feburary 20 “Spiritual Code” DNA of the Manhattan Project. #WETWORS.

DARPA, the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency had been bungling the study of race and IQ through illegal experiments under Sidney Gottlieb and Prescott Bush MKULTRA in what some call “New World Order” building of a future peaceful world without the poverty leading to racism and new uses of genetics rights to fight diseases ranging for AIDS and Bubonic Plague, retardation and autism, cancer, and other ills which through Bone Marrow Stromal Cells in neurology, immunology (bone marrow) cells, and other stem cells or mitochondrial disease usages.

Increasingly this has been Illuminati blood lines manipulation of sleeper agents and test subjects of a variety of connected families, most tied to Cape Cod or Manhattan Beach Los Angles County.

According to murdered Jen Moore and according to my family history and extensive available public records this began with Sidney Gottlieb, CIA Weapons Scientist with speech therapy and biology background and work with Windsors and Von Trapps (Maria Kutschera Nazi tied Von Trap rescued by OSS and Vatican, likely with daughters from London 1926 Prince of Wales future Kings Speech King Edward VIII and my father and mother in the Manhattan Project and my Manhattan Beach Birth though otherwise from Cape Cod Massachusetts childhood.

In the Rumor Has It Analogy chapter I will explain that my father's James Paul Donegan (Manhattan Project, atomic blast testing nuclear air wing) friend bitterly betrayed by the Catholic Church was John F. Kennedy, also a Cape Cod person, and at that led into his prior Illuminati like extensive deep knowledge and love of history into an Atheist study of history I was raised in.

It was in Cape Cod he met my mother, tied to Britain and the Prince of Wales and Von Trapps, Glorian Donegan.

Keepers of the Secret DNA and Family Lines by DARPA for the 21st Century and Beyond, the babies of the elite are being exposed as animal husbandry and fake birth certificates as to biological parents and where those lines are today in the United States of America and how this ties to CIA test of twins children, twins known to some and with Nazi German relatives ties.

CIA launches mind control program, April 13, 1953 By ANDREW GLASS 04/13/2019 12:00 AM EDT retrieved from Politico and copied or modified to here

Some 80 institutions, including colleges and universities, hospitals, prisons, and pharmaceutical companies participated in the research program. In all, about 150 separate experimental investigations were carried out.

> These were around the world, NGOs, CIA Front Companies, and other private companies, media companies in particular > like those of Maxwell Epstein ties,

> Hollywood and its actors and producers, and academic institutions
>
> NGOs and others around the world including the Mossad and French intelligence, the CIA efforts include Jim Morrison, Wwlt Disney, and other public figures :-EPD

> The CIA's Office of Scientific Intelligence [and DARPA NASA] organized the project, code-named Project MKUltra, in coordination with the U.S. Army Biological Warfare Laboratories. In some cases, academic researchers were funded through grants funneled to them from CIA front organizations while remaining unaware that the CIA sought to use their work for its own purposes. In other instances, however, top officials at these institutions knew about the CIA's role.

As I state elsewhere nothing about the Gangstalk of me under MKULTRA is legal.

It is all bunko and all fraud but the NWO Media and NWO State and its NWO officials are too big to be accountable, not in the courts where Free Masonry and the CIA rule, nor are any of these Crony actors and Crony companies accountable to anyone including my lawsuits THEIR hack Ellington tanked, which of course the media did not out as having occurred.

Designer DNA like any other DARPA technology is increasingly on the black market for those in the know and also some powerful family lines now have detectable secrets to hide.

All of this violates the Roche Supplier Code of Conduct and also criminal law.

The Roche Supplier Code of Conduct incorporates the 5 auditable key principles of the Pharmaceutical Supply Chain Initiative (PSCI):

- Ethics: Suppliers shall conduct their business in an ethical manner and act with integrity.
- Human Rights and Labour Rights: Suppliers shall be committed to uphold the human rights of workers and to treat them with dignity and respect.
- Health and Safety: Suppliers shall provide a safe and healthy working environment, including for any company-provided living quarters.
- Environment: Suppliers shall operate in an environmentally responsible and efficient manner, and they shall minimise adverse impacts on the environment.
- Management Systems: Suppliers shall use management systems to facilitate continual improvement and compliance with the expectations of these principles.

What the DARPA backed Espionage system utilizes is the public appearance I should be shunned, and that because (a Doppelgänger of me) is being blackmailed as filthy perverted pedophile peeper who needs Sex Therapy to re-meliorate sexual conduct.

Thus Espionage Agents are able to in my identity hire sex workers and pay-up with my DNA and that is visible to the public by little telltale evidence crumbs left around in public.

Deep State Needs to claim my genome is and also WAS authorized

The Illuminati (At times joking or elusively gibberish “Galactic Alien Overloards of nations” don’t like to be caught especially with Kutchera Windsor DNA or murders of “Earthlings” (nationals) which expose the truth of history and FOXP2 gene carriers.

Elite MKUTLRA families are protected, ordinary (Edward Paul Donegan and others like Caitlyn Mahoney) are Targeted Individuals getting hit with distance of connectedness to others in either IQ or accomplishment, they are persecuted and attacked though share this genealogy.

As a backstop to the possibility my genealogy ties to the elite will be detected the Deep State is faking authorizations which appear real to the public

Religious organizations tied to the Illuminati and political families benefit from COINTELPRO intelligence activities, and may be part of the Mercenary objectives in coverup and phony permission for religious use of DNA or political family use of DNA also results from the genoracketeering in designer on the black market of elites.

In fact this happens in mostly public and was set up by Abuse of Process Psychiatry in which Doppelgänger of me, Edward Paul Donegan, in density theft, were given a “Legend” of being gullible, naive, and retarded, and under that diagnosis given by the State z(utilizing Doppelgangers) including by Department of Defense, the factual theory my DNA was authorized (through blackmail) will be consistent.

While the Mercenary is a”Gullible” who will give into blackmail this happens under identity theft merge the Gulls (Mercenary’s confession and obtuse field of view camera with my acute proximity to the planted female.

This I call Element “A” of the “ritual” abuse, and Element “B” is the Agent Provocateur will show the child porn to a Honey Pot who is against child porn (as any sane person is.)

The Agent Provocateur will blame me who was in the vicinity of the child or the child was placed on my property and along with State backed police demand my DNA assets be seized under the circumstantial evidence.

Tx is who I call the Espionage Agent Provocateur because he will Take the picture of the tot I am near at Element “A,” upon chase to a location not mine by Fugitive Task Force Transmit his confession (as me) that Edward Donegan took the picture generating child porn, Transact that Edward Donegan’s DNA is therefore forfeit to the victim as a due penalty and thus his places rights to my genome on the international black market “legally.”

While Tx is clearly not Rx (me, who was flashed by the tot) since I seem to be the photographer leaving me out of the blackmail by the Dominatrix is also fitting “punishment” so the Agent Provocateur is punished, a cop out for the good, as though me in order to complete the forgery of my permissions.

I assert and I show Jen Moore described this CIA and Masonry system carried out by contractors will funnel money, the rights to biological property, into the repugnant black market, CIA Slush Funds, human trafficking in DNA and fertilization rights in personal eugenics, and 3rd Party Parenting for the rich.

This is DARAP black marketing genes of mine through blackmail of adult models, most likely Victoria Secrets which I have seen near me and the genes going to Epstein’s DARPA Brain Research CIA DOD Programs which the US MEdia also protects.

I say Jen Moore was on the verge of revealing this public appearances and court records spectacle creates the appearance of legitimacy to long running illegal racketeering and use of Maria Kutchera and Prince Edward of Wales DNA which was ILLEGALLY used by CIA for twins studies and other purposes among the elite by the elite.

My existence is literally a material threat to Espionage agencies who have used my DNA among families of the Elite, or rather my mother's DNA.

Jen Moore referred to "Targeted Victims," Targeted Individuals in Disposition Matrix of CIA hits by mercenaries which I believe are now being used to coverup geneology secrets of highly placed family lines.

Disposition Matrix and other secret keeping system run through Rod Rosenstein and Eric Holder help keep and or justify these secret genomic programs by continuing activities of money laundered rights to genes in black market system tied to Epstein and Maxwell.

To sell that it was me who victimized the female who the Doppelgänger victimized I will be assaulted in vauge ways by the Doppelgänger, the real criminal who is taking a virtuous stand against me or a virtuous stand for the alleged victim, perhaps the victim will or will not think I was the culprit, but it is all vague bullying innuendo, not specific enough for me to argue down before the public.

In fact in the store or public place the retarded, gay or other person who is likely a social services beneficiary (Tx) (retarded client of SJW services) victimizes a female, child most likely.

It is in liability to the child who was photographed that Doppelgänger, a sex offender mercenary, that DNA will be Just Reward, since the DNA rights could benefit various genomic rights if granted in exchange for dropping any peeping case.

As bizarre as this is it makes a blackmail-able offense through which once genomic rights are seized to any of variety of genes (breast cancer, AIDS, Telomeres, IQ, other) that they then can be resold or utilized by the needy or rich.

Further CIA black marketing cancer genes autism genes neural cells etc. can put in Illuminati religions and medical works genes taken without permission and used in social work or for profit once the rights are claimed and DARPA knows which genes are up and coming and through the Illuminati.

The CIA or someone through front companies, perhaps it seems Christians, are blaming me and pleading me guilty, the Atheist, for their own crimes and in doing that, bilking the value of my mothers genome and harassing my life.

Although people fairly openly claim rights to my genome it never made sense to me. I am quite ordinary except what seemed off the scale ADD and Dyslexia plus bad handwriting.

I would later find out this part of the LONDON KE (King Edward) set of symptoms of FOXP2 which runs in my family history, my name after my grandfather, Edward some royal I was told about who was out of the thrown and in secret in some way, I thought on my fathers side, but my mother's side.

Jen Moore can be heard talking about that history here. She was told by thugs in muscle cars if she continue to talk she would be silence and the first time she was jumped she was left disabled and legitimately concerned for her life, more concerned for her country and the truth and the unfairly harmed than herself.

Espionage agencies challenged with defeating genocide and communism used its sword edges for genoforming and ultimately fascist techniques taken from the fascist leaders of the first third of the 20th Century that these US espionage agencies could wield the sword for the good.

In fact growing forensic technology now reveals blood line manipulation and assassinations of US officials which either stood against it or had knowledge of it.

Jen Moore had knowledge of it, coming out of WWI, Borderlines, and the rescue of the Kutcheras and the history of the rise of Nazis and how the Allies have an OSS Vatican history of that, destroyed MKULTRA records and now attempting to bury the truth, her with it.

Glorian Donegan and Edward Paul Donegan and finally James Paul Donegan have been the victims of an Illuminati originally good faith war time operation spanning multiple wars and now in which Espionage agency Saboteurs and Provocateurs are acting in bad faith espionage crimes under MKULTRA world plans coverups

COINTELPRO

Agent Provocateur	Targeted Individual
Diss-possessor. Dispossess: deprive (someone) of land, property, or other possessions	Possessor

I am Edward Paul Donegan and the following information, verifiable, is the real reason I am under State backed criminal assault by a classified program

I am the product of genetic testing in the Manhattan Project, Manhattan Beach California (where I was born to a military atomic testing family) and genetic research spanning back into the 1920s regarding the rare FOXP2 gene and the families of the world that gene now runs in.

My existence, in particular my genetic existence and mitochondria and immunology are a threat to the United States of America and its intelligence community, even to Western nations.

The my genealogy includes my DNA in many “unauthorized families” is not the problem.

That the CIA and others have killed and conducted terror attacks to CONCEAL the history of MKUTLRA is a major threat to the Illuminati.

I have spent my life experiencing what is called “Abuse of Process” human rights crimes.

Abuse of Process used rigged proceedings to put law abiding people in mental wards, pretrial detention awaiting trial and forced to pleat out to misdemeanors instead, experiencing witness tampering during proceedings, evidence plants, etc., which over time have destroyed my life.

What actually is State Violence, wrongful arrests and wrongful detention even wrongful psychiatry and wrongful diagnosis have been used by the State which rather than corrected merely snowballs (the term I take from Justina Pelletier ‘s case) into more “foundations” for more abuse of process.

The mistakes made in DNA manipulations as part of MKULTRA was made by espionage agencies like DARPA and the CIA and they have the capability to manipulate my life.

I will tell my verifiable e story. I am the son of Glorian Donegan, daughter of Prince Edward of Wales 1920s and Maria Kutschera, and the CIA needs to cover that up or EXPLAIN that it really did (when it did not) have permissions to my DNA.

The APPEARANCE I am being blackmailed and am giving into blackmail creates a blackmail [history of] backdating of permissions never given and DARPA research into my genealogy never disclosed.

Trespass Capabilities of Mercenaries

In short, US Marshalls plant or steal evidence from my home, defame me socially, then ask they impersonate me to adult entertainers. The entertainers hate peepers, thus will accept the forged confessions from the police who CLAIM they seized peeping evidence from me.

The Marshalls will claim child porn on them is actually mine, the Adult Entertainer “finds it” and together agree Edward Donegan’s DNA should be given to victims as Asset Seizures when the Police are called upon finding the evidence. All of this impersonation of me and finding that evidence is elsewhere from my home, a fake home, where I am impersonated by the forger. The adult entertainer is “punishing me” by punishing the cop RATHER than me, thus the cop “gets caught” as me in massage parlors, etc.,”

Tom Dunham noted one such incident in San Francisco when I was not even in San Francisco but during a “Birthday Massage” a cop was getting in my name.

In the chapter “Who is Number 2?” myself or Number 6 of Fighting Monarch seek answers and justice in COINTELPRO CIA NSA operations against our lives including in my case a break in stealing my DVD Player when I rented The Kings Speech from La Retma Central Library Corpus Christ Texas, a break in that was done in full view of observation by the police and police backed.

The below done at Stay and Play Salinas, planting evidence while I was there, evicting me, asking an adult enterrainer to punish a Doppelgänger of me for the planted evidence about me.

Home	Public	Long Con Set Not Actually My Home or not the room or apartment in the building which I leased
My PRIVATE HOME	Stolen property from my home, planted evidence in my home, surveillanc of my hom	In-explicit though obvious non verbal assaults, photobomb planted people, etc., who deny they are trespassing against my use of public locations	My stolen clothes, NEXT to but not my apartment, etc.,	Claims I am a participant by peeping into the location (false) I am there (false) when a Doppelgänger is (true) and likely has stolen or manufactured evidence said to be mine, that I am aware of the set (no, not for years) where deals for my DNA are made and call-girls arrive
	FOG OF TRESPASS	FOG OF TRESPASS	FOG OF TRESPASS	“Bernies Residence”

The summary of what is happening here is the fog of Espionage I am seemingly, with non whites, authorizing my DNA into the black market through the use of Bird Dogged fake DNA rights paperwork or PCR created DNA that all people at the set will sign off on out of my presence and without my consent.

Weekend at Bernies

Law Abiding

Espionage

At home alone, unsafe from home invasion,

Garbage (KOMPROM made to influence women

US Marshalls with MK CONTROL (influenced) woman, bad decisions, away from Ed, in private Girl Code equals Marshalls Code Shhh! keep this secret and so many sabotaged	Dalhina, other woman, under PsyOps incidences

In the fog, deceit. But what motivates these mercenary crimes?

The purpose of my books and posts are to re-enable the CIA and DOD and FBI to fight for the USA after records destruction, assassinations, concealed the Illuminati plot

Jen Moore, myself, Veronica Hoffman, others, have been victims of a racket run by a Deep State.

With Thomas C. Wales, Bobby and John F. Kennedy dead, Leslie Anne Shed and other CIA dead, records burned and destroyed, an attempt on Sir Han Sir Han, and even an attack (possibly) on the JFK library during (possibly) a diversion, the Deep State of Illuminati DARPA world plans wrongdoing was hidden.

The New Yorker

An Unsolved Killing retrieved from The New Yorker, and copied or modified to here

A Reporter at Large August 6, 2007 Issue

Seattle Washington Assistant US Attorney (siting)[who was also a JFK Jr. roomate at law school] Tom Wales was not supposed to be home on the night of October 11, 2001. Wales, an Assistant United States Attorney in Seattle, had planned to have dinner and spend the evening with his girlfriend, Marlis DeJongh, a court reporter who lived downtown. But that afternoon Wales called DeJongh and said that he had projects he needed to work on at home. In the evening, after leaving his office, near the federal courthouse, he returned to his Craftsman-style, wood-frame house in a quiet neighborhood known as Queen Anne

By 2000, the investigation of the helicopter-conversion industry [led by Wales] was winding down, with disappointing results for Wales and the U.S. Attorney's Office.

Only one case remained. In 1997, investigators had searched the premises of a helicopter company owned by two local men, James Anderson and Kim Powell.

On July 27, 2001, a month after the indictment was dismissed, Anderson filed a motion against the U.S. Attorney's Office, under an obscure law called the Hyde Amendment. The law, which was enacted in 1997, allows defendants who have been acquitted in federal court to sue the prosecutors in order to recoup their attorneys' fees and legal expenses, provided they can show that the case was "vexatious, frivolous or in bad faith." Anderson demanded a hundred and twenty-eight thousand dollars.

On August 3, 2001, Wales's office filed a response to Anderson's lawsuit in federal district court. "We are convinced that he brings this motion in large part to discover the identity of additional witnesses that he imagines may have contributed to his indictment," the brief stated. "During the course of the investigation, the Government received information from at least two persons indicative of defendant Anderson's violent and retributive nature." Other government documents pertaining to the case remain under seal, and the identities of the persons referred to in the brief have not been made public. In any event, Anderson's motion was dismissed, and that ruling was upheld on appeal.

A month later, the terrorist attacks on New York and Washington took place, and, soon afterward, Wales again took a public stand for gun control. “Right after 9/11, the idea started to circulate that airline pilots should be allowed to carry weapons,” Trevor Neilson, the former vice-president of Washington CeaseFire, said. “Tom and I both thought it was a bad idea as a matter of public policy, but I thought it was wrong politically to come out against it at this time. The atmosphere was so strong in favor of doing anything to stop terrorism. But Tom disagreed. He thought arming pilots was a terrible idea, and he was going to say so publicly.”

Wales’s murder was in some ways a boon for Washington CeaseFire. A month after he was killed, the group held a benefit in his honor, which was attended by more than five hundred people, including many prominent Democratic politicians in the state, and raised five hundred thousand dollars. The featured speaker was the documentary filmmaker Rory Kennedy, who is the daughter of Robert F. Kennedy and the sister of Joseph P. Kennedy II, the former Massachusetts congressman, who had been Wales’s roommate at Milton. Wales, who was the president of the student body and the captain of the football team at Milton, roomed with Kennedy the fall after his father was assassinated.

On September 25th, Wales participated in a half-hour debate-which was broadcast several times in the Seattle area, on NorthWest Cable News-about whether airline pilots should be allowed to carry guns in the cockpit.

> Is it possible DHS and Mossad and other security experts were in on expert talk on security matters? - Ed Donegan > Pilots, he said, “are not trained as Green Berets, they are not trained as law enforcement.” He added, paraphrasing Duane Worth, the president of the Air Line Pilots Association, “It simply is not possible for an airline pilot to be Sky King and Wyatt Earp at the same time.” Sixteen days later, Wales was dead.

With the Donegan family knowledge I have had, but did not know was applicable, my goal is to re-enable the CIA and USA DOD and .MIL, the US Congress, FBI, and others, to fight against multinational espionage.

> Since the Obama administration largely shut down the CIA’s rendition programme, choosing instead to dispose of its enemies in drone attacks, those individuals who are being nominated for killing have been discussed at a weekly counter-terrorism meeting at the White House situation room that has become known as Terror Tuesday.

According to the Illuminati certain “clones” (unwanted genetic similarity to the Illuminati) will “drop like houseflies.”

I think that includes Caitlyan Mahoney, myself, and others.

We demand better and to be defended against Mercenary violence.

I offer this information to correct, redirect the CIA to its original information level and thus its original mission.

Defending me from foreign based violence from a 5th Column Illuminati plan inside the USA.

I will spend a considerable amount of time on Cartel Economics, Oil Cartels, Genome Cartels, and even Cartels operating in the financial arena now that asset seizures, siezed asset management, and siezed assets disposition through Law Enforcement Intelligence Units Disposition Matrix create cartel systems for NGO world espionage movements and international finance entities and financial transactions spanning the Ukraine, Virgin Islands, reseach centers, and victims funds.

It is simple of course to say the trigger finger on siezing assets from one person or one group or another might get a little trigger happy just as a Middle Eastern church group might draw a search warrant just for being normal tourists traveling their new country's capital and taking pictures of its buildings and monuments.

But rather than leave it at just that I will provide a near example of an sect within a side in a form of war within the side.

The Monster M*A*S*H Wiki retrieved from Fandom and copied or modified to here

Preventative Medicine (M*A*S*H TV series episode)

During OR, the doctors notice that many of the patients have multiple entry wounds from multiple directions. Potter explains that these wounded are part of Lieutenant Colonel Lacy's unit, the 603rd Battalion, which sustains more casualties than any other in Korea; while all the other units were retreating, Lacy ordered his men to stay and fight a little longer.

Hawkeye quietly explains to him that he has a plan is to slip Lacy a mickey to get him off the line. After a couple of drinks mixed by Hawkeye, Lacy doubles over in pain, and while B.J. quickly diagnoses it as gastritis, Hawkeye believes it to be appendicitis, requiring surgery. Hearing this, Lacy protests, saying he'll lose his command if he's off the line for too long, which only empowers Hawkeye to order Lacy to be prepped for surgery.

In the scrub room, Hawkeye and B.J. have it out - B.J. reminds Hawkeye that what he's doing is mutilation and unethical, but Hawkeye, citing doctors back home who do needless surgeries for money, believes it will save the lives of all the soldiers who, with Lacy reassigned, won't have to climb Hill 403. B.J. warns Hawkeye that he'll hate himself for the rest of his life, but Hawkeye replies, "I'll be able to hate myself with a clear conscience", and performs the appendectomy, but B.J. refuses to help.

Weary, Hawkeye later returns to the Swamp and quietly admits that he tossed Lacy's "pink and perfect" appendix into the scrap bucket. But then B.J. informs a disbelieving Hawkeye that more wounded are on the way, just a few seconds before the P.A. announces it. B.J. adds: "You treated a symptom the disease goes merrily on." He helps a tired and frustrated Hawkeye back to his feet, and the two return to the OR.

The Medical State Usage

Some have decided harvests must be made from me, me on the same side as them, BUT, unlike the doctors of M*A*S*H trying to get a dangerous colonel out of battle, in the case of me, the asset seizers like the goods they are seizing, pay themselves for seizing the evidence after they fake the basis for seizures

> In addition the asset seizures are destructive to me and they themselves are the dangerous battle warriors with much to hide, and I have the information on them they would prefer goes to the grave with me.

The Second Jim Volcelka Question

He asked what harm does it do if we do something behind your back, as if something like photocopying a book, no harm done, huh?

That money laundering of value of my genome, undisclosed to me, but used for secret causes not legitimately funded, become the means and motive for criminal acts especially in black market activities in which the “black money” is reproduvity trafficking.

It also means as a target of organized crime I am forced into homeless shelter so they, not me, will “manage my life and assets” rather than I live a normal life.

In those shelters I am attacked by skid row people often making statements like “I will have your babies” (black women) “I am going to cut off your balls and fuck Jessica Simpson with them.”

Manufacturing what is likely a La Cosa Nostra or Enrique Prado Blackwater CIA contractor organization to claim fake rights to fertilization is a rightfully both crimes in process and substance as I have spent my life with people taking “in ” on a deal to force me into homeless and retarded living shelters, out of normal life.

Despite this being sold has helping the little guy it puts fertilization and genetic rights into the powerful Illuminati families and does away with the source of those genes through illegal harassment of people like me.

I have likened the entire plan to have landlords others drive me out because I am a peeper (when I am not but the Gangsalk manufactures this) and leaving me in skid row homeless shelters under black and white assault and loss of all belongings over and over again to the Law and Order Special Victims Unit episode Taken.

The “special victim” is a former underage girl rapist himself under age. At age 17 a con team (grifters) know his background and fake a Deep Pockets civil complaint against the hotel employing him at very low wages, the brand new well financed hotel. With the detectives on the case they find the female victim was a fake, the team creating the compliant a con artist team. Stabler and his partner plead the grifters to a minor or civil charge and the grifters agree. Then Stabler and his partner arrest the grifters on serious charges right in front of the judge for felony involvement in his wrongful death in custody, attacked as a sex offender.

It is exactly the acts of people like Jim Vocelka who take the deal to evict me, profit from it, or help others too, then leave me in homeless shelters where I am said to be there out of mental incompetence needing Social Services representation.

Another movie reference I cite is Mulholland Falls (1996) with Manhattan Project national security team covering its errors by killing those who know about the disastrous radiation effects at the testing site. It is that operation fighting me for 45 years and after my parents death I had no safe harbor from its attack.

Against my wishes this story will blame Mark Weirness and Tom Donegan in that order

I think they were manipulated and recruited, targeted for recruitment as people inside the Donegan Family of Origin that could setup getting control of the family genome on behalf of "Noble Causes" police corruption, a system where the ends will justify the means, and it is just others getting the genome, and behind my back because I did not know he blind trust administered it, he started out the idea none of this would be harmful enough to stop the plan.

His administration of the Glorian Donegan trust fund left for me would be delegated out to others over time, or he assisted Rod Rosenstein or others in getting initial control of it.

Mark Gonzales, Neuces County Texas family services and county prosecutor victims services I say is the new Enrique Prado, CIA backed organized crime

His is from an "outlaw" motorcycle gang proudly in border town Texas, covered in tattoos black Hispanic mix and calls himself an expert philosophically about the study of philosopher Hegel and the defeat of white supremacism mental diseases, and fights for non white victims in the county as the down trodden.

This book extensively blames him for being the bird doggers and #WETWORKS murder of opposition to the bird dogging run out the Neuces County Texas, their county violating my right to lease elsewhere such as Monterrey County California, Capitola, etc.,

Bobby Courtney, one of the bird doggers told me it was from this government the Hispanic crime family was operating and paying him for the bird dogs claim which I reported to Corpus Christi Police dept in Neuces county though like Jen Moore Bobby Courtney was also killed I suspect by a CIA asset calling himself “Casper.”

I also believe it likely the police chief Floyd Simpson died of murder in a seeming motorcycle ride accident with few witnesses and this outlaw biker group could also have been responsible.

He has drawn national notice for being “the most unlikely District Attorney in America” and tweeting things like #ftp said to be slang for Fuck The Police.”

I have constantly feared for my life in Nueces County Texas because of its openly acting organized crime rings and open death threats, assaults of me, and open felony racketeering fake claims to my genome by those giving me the death threats.

The core Racketeering (CIA backed) elements this books proves is Government backed Doppelgangers of me are child porn addicts (developmentally and sexually retarded) who need sex workers sent to them. Upon arrival of the sex worker the Doppelgänger of the White Supremacist admits what a loser he is and signs rights to his genome away to the adult sex worker sent to him, when that sex worker calls the police or Marshalls or social workers.

The affect is the white supremacist is on government record as a danger to others, ostracized, and defamed, meanwhile SJW beneficiaries faking be Edward Paul Donegan to sex workers are getting “freebies” paid for with real Edward Paul Donegan genome rights.

The rest of the world is told to ostracize Ed Donegan and leave him homeless shelters run by the Salvation Army and others where he is not threat to anyone. Those shelters use his genome for their preachers and missionary work as well.

Conflict Victim of Conflict Engagement

My mother and I spent our lives under unprovoked racial assaults from inexplicably placed and inexplicably duplicitous racial assailants and trying to understands the decades of assaults I have lived under is how these books and my life story have unfolded.

One theory that the assailants have used most likely later in the game is that by picking a race based or even a sexual assault fight with a victim (Glorian Donegan or myself) during the assault the perpetrator may get sought debate during the arguments during the assaults.

No question that has been used as theory to assault me repeatedly, frequently physically violently, but the assaults sparked my research into sociology and motives for black on white anonymous studied from the right wing perspective.

Means Motive Opportunity

Google knowledge panel quoted here which was sourced from link

> In criminal law circles, the phrase "means, motive, and opportunity" is a popular for its summation of the three aspects of a crime that must be established before a verdict about one being guilty can be determined in a criminal proceeding. Mar 28, 2014

I have always known I was under constant and violent racial assaults particularly if I was near a white woman and I received death threats if I were near one I or her would be killed and I believed those threats.

In the opportunity for those crimes, un identified people, mercenaries of some type as seeming normal civilians, I wondered what the motives of the assailants were.

The means were clear, they would not show cause when I challenged to show cause or identify themselves thus the acted under the anonymity cloak of stalking and stalkers who would not identify their themselves or motives but often some conversation tied them to the National Institute of Health or Cancer Research.

In six years of non stop research I have tied this to an interest in my genome and in fact even a misleading interest in my genome.

Nominally, a motive of certain medial cures could be used from it if my mothers trust fund could be shaken down over false, bird dogged claims resulting from conflict situations, but more so, the deeper motive was that the conflicts would remove me from my own expected normal family life and the powerful interests of the Illuminati would pair away by bird dogged assaults on me my normal reproductivity and normal family outcome prospects.

In fact it seems a life of racial and sexual assaults do tie to my genome and why I have spent ally my life in an espionage agency backed assault tied to my Manhattan Project Manhattan Beach genome history and the governments desire to coverup that genome history by assaulting rather than defending my reproductive life and interests.

A Crime has Occurred and the Defendant is the Likely Suspect

This has been the challenge to me given by Jim Volcelcka, can you show a crime (money laundering, identity theft, sexual and physical assaults on me occurred at Stay and Play, and why that would have happened, or who was the person organizing the crime?

This book tastefully bundles Barack Ombama, Prescott Bush, George H.W. Bush, Governor Abbot, Herman Edward Butt, Arnold Schwarzenegger, Donald Barr, William Barr, Enrique Prado, Matt Gonzales, B Janice Ellington, Andy Ellington, Tom Donegan, the ARC of Northern Virginia, and others into an interest processing fake claims against me genome, holding me out of normal life, and finding the Deep State Truther financial and political motive for that.

The more recent story of a a Frank Olson

I consider myself that same person, under CIA attack and repeatedly forced into psych wards by assailants where I think consider my life and or liberty at risk by CIA hacks, something Jen Moore also discussed as the CIA in medical hospitals (and snitch usage) which I will quote on later in the book.

I have also been the victim of “hit job” misdiagnosis as intentionally or by Zebra Errors my speech spasmodia is found a Bipolar episode and my Dysgraphic grammar clipped writing to be retardation, which may have been at leas by some opportunistic misdiagnosis.

Beddazling Wears of Spies In Cloaks

Legend creates un-noticability

A Hurricane Wind that is not There

A Hurricane Wind disguised as Normalcy is the Espionage created espionage goals by pretending to part of the NORMAL environment though as non-neutral planted operatives they MISDIRECT the roles they secretly occupy on behalf of Espionage.

A Beddalzement creates Un-noticability of the Spook

Is the Viewer of the Spook Bedazled? Does he see schizophrenically aliens or other delusions in a spaced out way as the observer thinks he has spotted alien activity to the norms reality and law?

I believe this book is as important as Friday the 13th to the history of fighting the Illuminati including their hiding as the delusional rantings as though who have spotted them.

What if the spooks who are speaking are Aliens discussing Alien matters of fiction?

Fandom quoted here from link

> Invisibility cloaks may be woven from the hair of a Demiguise, a magical creature whose coat allows it to become invisible.[2] Invisibility cloaks can also be produced by enchanting an ordinary travelling cloak with an exceptionally strong Disillusionment Charm[3] or Bedazzling Hex.[4]

Limitations

> “It’s never occurred to me before, but I’ve heard stuff about charms wearing off cloaks when they get old, or them being ripped apart by spells so they’ve got holes in. Harry’s was owned by his dad, so it’s not exactly new, is it, but it’s just … perfect!” - Ron Weasley on the Cloak of Invisibility[src]

Such Cloaks of Bedazzlement have been attempted blinders upon on Tom Dunham, myself, and others (likely Veronica Hoffman, James Paul Donegan, DJ Rabbitron, others) to get them into psych wards or simple to undermine the police reports we have given on Doppelgangers of us in our vicinity engaging in wrongdoing.

As in the opening, closing with the murder of Judge Roll

I continue to assert the intense covert violence against me in full view of everyone, with that much clout assisting, has been a very high level CIA conspiracy tied to, I now believe, DARPA and Twins Studies by the CIA leading to the JFK assassination and other assassinations.

My genomic identity is made up of my State ID Card and Genome. Both are faked every day of my life as Department of Motor Vehicles are snapped shut as I go in, the ID is withdrawn of fake grounds, others have my REAL ID and are non white, a money manager denies me permission to pay the fees to get one leaving me with no ID, it is stolen exactly as I intend to use it leaving me in 5 day rage once (a black in the gym was stalking me, for an hour, then went right to it, Hayward California 1980s) all these things. Even the SSN seems to have switched out with my brother, I used to be 022-46-3235, for most of my life, in the 1990s I was told I was 022-46-3233 and the records now say that.

Judge roll was near Arizona U where family databases were under development and the two twins from NASA were there as well, as was the case regarding my mother's genome.

One goal of this book is to help law abiding Espionage retake the hill from MKULTRA Cover-up Espionage

My belief is DAPRA The Brain Program, Epstein, and Black Markets of Black Money (genes rights) grew a bad project out of control and is Maxwell/Epstein. Already failing, needs to fail faster.

My current strategy, from an whistle blower from the outside, is to help Espionage Agents formerly on the INSIDE to retake the hill from MKULTRA. Most won't contact Snowden. I suggest James Comey.

The Little Brown Princess the cognitively ill dopple of me authorized 1001 N. Water St., a brown painted building was named by others not me and schizo, criminal, and retarded dopples of me live in it dubbing children "knights" and "little princess" with real Ed Donegan's DNA, thus creating forged permissions for "little brown girls and boys" to have Edward Donegan's genetics.

I think this re-enacats to re-inforce an assertion I authorized the Obama children, one with a birthday of July 4, the date Jeffery Epstein of his brain genes cartel died, and the it was ruled a suicide by William Pellham Barr woo with Donald Barr

Geroge H.W. Bush, George Bush, and the Dulles borthers first created Barrack OBama Jr., then Wollsey and Clinton created the Obama Children, and permissions of that seem to be being faked.

Here is the story of my being Roadblocked on developing value, economic worth in 1001 N, Water St Apt 46 but that being roadblocked by a Dopple in a next apartment and others trying assert they created the home improvements such that they are going to both claim and assert they created the home improvements value I had created though they did not have the basis I did to create that value.

Thus it is concealed I create and have value, but with that being denied, others can use the value generating assets of me on the racketeering cartel market as the value they claim they generated and belongs to them, though the claim is fraudulent, and thw racketeering of switch out of who created the value is achieved through behavioral health effectively surrounding me with their pick pockets they say are my helpers.

The normal racketeering road blocking scheme took place. I created a par course run from the building around town using stairs, spirals, great views, a Gazebo area, and everyone watched and said how beautiful a workout, but homeless people physically attacked me, through feces or rocks at me, aimed for my knees or toes when I was running or blocked the spiral with a homeless camp I could not breath around because of the stench, but I lit up my patio to cover the dinginess.

I was fought and assaulted that , building glass topped book shelves from scratch and 25 dollar starting points, but the value of all that will be realize by others in condo conversion now that management has changed, a new buyer owns the place, and will join the units 46 and 47, and likely bought the building with stolen rights to my book the Medical State which documented all that identity theft racketeering and suppression of the truth I am not developmentally retarded, I developed into a knowledgeable and economically productive person and a leader.

The Cartel usses Social Services for creating and operating the Protection Racket including using dopples to confuse accounts and switch identities.

This idea that my genes are not of worth, but I do create little brown princess, seem to be tied to Barrack Obama and his children, and the operation was by a cartel in government started by the CIA.

As I point out in the book the factual frauds that make up the accountancy steps are built around discontinuity.

- Time. ONe thing will happen one time, but later something else will happen. For instance, the service call to repair something in the apartment can not be completed in one call because lack of parts or it being 5 o'clock so a discontigous second part of the operation is used later.

- Person. During the second part of the discontinuity identity theft occurs. A different person is switched into events to complete the events chain being followed.

- Location. Usually the next chain of events will happen at a similar location to the first event but not the actual place, thus truth and lie do not intersect and the lie defeated.

Chasing in building owner, management company, provide the switch out opportunities and the cartel can gain profits.

This book

Ich bin ein Berliner and Muster

Ich bin ein Berliner (I am a Berliner) speech (9:02)

Speech from the Rathaus Schöneberg by John F. Kennedy, June 26, 1963. Duration 9:01; "Ich bin ein Berliner" first appears at 1:45, then again at 8:43.

Ich bin ein Berliner ("I am a Berliner") speech (audio) (9:22)

0:00 MENU

Audio-only version (Duration 9:22)

Problems playing these files? See media help.

Part of a series on the History of Berlin

Margraviate of Brandenburg (1157–1806)

Kingdom of Prussia (1701–1918)

German Empire (1871–1918)

Free State of Prussia (1918–1947)

Weimar Republic (1919–1933)

1920s Berlin
Assassination of Talat Pasha Greater Berlin Act

Nazi Germany (1933–1945)

Welthauptstadt Germania
Deportation of Jews from Berlin
Bombing of Berlin in World War II
Battle of Berlin

West Germany and East Germany (1945–1990)

West Berlin and East Berlin
Berlin Wall
Berlin Blockade (1948–1949)
Berlin Crisis of 1961
"Ich bin ein Berliner" (1963)
"Tear Down This Wall" (1987)
Fall of the Berlin Wall (1989)

Federal Republic of Germany (1990–present)

History of Germany and History of Europe

See also

Timeline of Berlin

V · T · E

Google.com retrieved from Merriam Webster and copied or modified to here

n. muster

1. a formal gathering of troops, especially for inspection, display, or exercise. "he attended the musters, which were called to train all able-bodied men""

2. a group of peacocks."the sound was like the cry of a muster of peacocks"

v. Muster

1. assemble (troops), especially for inspection or in preparation for battle. "17,000 men had been mustered on Haldon Hill"

2. collect or assemble (a number or amount)."the city council was unable to muster enough votes to pass the measure"

Google knowledge panel retrieved from Ich bin ein Berliner and copied or modified to here

"Ich bin ein Berliner" is a speech by United States President John F. Kennedy given on June 26, 1963, in West Berlin. It is one of the best-known speeches of the Cold War and among the most famous anti-communist speeches. Wikipedia Originally published: June 26, 1963 Author: John F. Kennedy

From 1890s the FOXP2 gene certainly has been identified and King Edward VII may be in the West End seeking mothers to have test babies as Jack the Ripper. In 1901 the issue becomes a threat to the England's monarch and Great Britain as nation.

The Leuge of Nations and other European old societies remain interbread and attempt to hold the line against Socialism and Communism and more quietly keep old European wealth in Grand Master Masonic hands who also often rule.

During this time and even since the Atlantic Revolutions and the loss of the US Colonies republicanism is also a threat to the cohesian of a Europe lead by Great Britain.

Holding France, holding out against the Republic of Ireland, Communism and Socialism in Indonesia, Cuba, and elsewhere is important to conventional warfare and the person walking the castle wall in Berlin may have doubts.

That person is John F. Kennedy.

In the United States the Bush family, Dick Cheney, Joseph Kennedy Sr, Dulles brothers, E. Howard Hunt, and others are concerned JFK "will blink" in the conventional forces stand-off.

"Wild Bill" Donovan and the Origins of the OSS retrieved from https://www.nps.gov/ and copied or modified to here

The handsome, blue-eyed, Irish Catholic with a quick wit and winning smile, who neither smoked nor drank, remained a bachelor until 1914 when, at the age of thirty-one, he married Ruth Rumsey, daughter of one of the leading and wealthiest families in Buffalo. She was a Protestant; he a Roman Catholic, but they both were Republicans.

The origins of the Office of Strategic Services (OSS) lay in the dark early days of World War II in Europe. Employing a new, highly mobile form of warfare called Blitzkrieg ("lightning war"), Nazi Germany had quickly and brutally conquered Poland in 1939, then Denmark, Norway, Belgium, the Netherlands, and finally France by the middle of 1940. That summer German dictator Adolf Hitler launched a massive air offensive against Great Britain, and many believed that England would be the next to fall. Not until mid-September 1940 was it clear that the Luftwaffe had failed, and Britain would remain an island bastion against the Nazis' expanding empire.

Concomitant with his connections with Republican political, legal and financial figures, Donovan ran his Wall Street law firm and also continued an active interest in the military and in world affairs. He obtained overseas clients, including some of the London banks and some British politicians, including Winston Churchill. He traveled overseas frequently and obtained contacts around the world. During fascist Italy's invasion of Ethiopia, Donovan toured the battle lines there in 1935, and in 1936. Subsequently, in the Spanish Civil War,

Faced with the German onslaught against the western democracies, President Franklin D. Roosevelt committed the United States to their aid, and then, when Britain was left standing alone against Germany, to all-out assistance-short of war-to the British under their new prime minister, Winston Churchill. Like many others at the time, both Roosevelt and Churchill believed that Hitler's shockingly swift military victories were due not simply to prowess of the German Army and its Blitzkrieg tactics, but also by the effective use of demoralizing propaganda and internal subversion by Nazi sympathizers called “fifth columnists,” who engaged in espionage and sabotage for the German military intelligence services.2 In the summer of 1940, one of the special envoys President Roosevelt sent to London to encourage the beleaguered British, to assess their ability to withstand the German onslaught, and to find out what London had learned and was doing about new methods of warfare, especially unconventional warfare, was a prominent New York lawyer and former war hero, William J. (“Wild Bill”) Donovan.

[The MI5 office in Washington DC was the home of the OSS during its earlyh days - Jen Moore]

It was a fateful visit. Churchill understood the importance of Donovan’s mission and sought to use it to persuade American leaders that Britain would not fall and that they should increase their aid for the island bastion against Hitler. To reinforce his position, he provided Donovan with extraordinary access to British military and intelligence secrets. Following meetings with Churchill and King George VI, Donovan was introduced to leading figures in British intelligence and special operations agencies, including Sir Stuart Graham Menzies, head of the civilian Secret Intelligence Service (SIS),10 and Admiral John H. Godfrey, director of the Royal Navy’s intelligence service. Godfrey was especially attentive to Donovan, a kindred spirit. The President’s envoy was shown the latest Spitfire fighter planes, the new radar warning system, and Britain’s secret coastal defense arrangements. In fact, the only major secret Donovan was not shown was “Ultra,” the new and evolving, super-secret process that was beginning to decipher radio transmissions encoded by the German military’s Enigma coding machine. Donovan also gathered information about the role of propaganda and subversion in countries that had been conquered by the Wehrmacht. 11

Original Windsor Kutschera, Windsors, or Kutscheras	Starting Gate	Life Path	Hostiral Portrait Gallery
		Biden Harris, Bush Family, Rockefellers, Biahna	Portraits and trappings of office and society assured
Kenedys Bush Donegan Rockeffeller Various Media and Screen Actors	GangStalk Behavoiral Research
		Donegan family Trump family Kennedy Family, others	Perhaps totals dissapearance from the future and any record of existing in the present

Into the Starting Gates

I still think the Gaulton contrived outcome system is in place sabotaging lives of disfavored families though the have the same roots as favored families in power, the disfavored drop like houseflies into homelessness, etc.,

My most recent theory is the the #CIA Domestic Contracting Service made deals with Clay Shaw and others to clean evidence about illegal genetics activities #JFK even had one general civilly committed over, creating #BlueBloods (royal) in USA as sleeper agents.

This book

Gerry Adams and Sinn Fein

Gerry Adams and Sinn Fein retrieved from PBS.org and copied or modified to here

[image]

Gerry Adams TD at Sinn Féin's 2018 Special Ard Fheis, held at the RDS Arena in Dublin, Ireland.

Gerry Adams and Sinn Fein

Sinn Fein

Sinn Fein had been formed at the beginning of the 20th century. The words are Gaelic and they literally mean, 'ourselves alone.' They mean that we can go and achieve our own freedom, we don't need the help of anyone else do it, but that we have to be a free-standing nation among the nations of the world, and therefore the only answer is Irish unity.

Now, some of them believed in some sort of relationship with Britain, but Irish unity was the be-all and end-all of their policy. Sinn Fein was a constitutional party, and in fact, at the British general elections in 1918, Sinn Fein won the majority of seats throughout the island of Ireland, and it was that which gives them the animus to conduct a violent campaign against the British in the War of Liberation. And it was that war which persuaded the British to withdraw from Ireland, but to withdraw through a partition settlement.

And it was they who were engaged in the civil war against the majority of the community, it was they who argued that you do not lay down your weapons, it was they who refused to take any oath of allegiance to the monarchy in Britain.

By its use of this Gaelic name, Sinn Fein was demanding its own autonomy, and Irish unity was its ultimate end. In that respect, the slogan was very simplistic. It believed that the only way to get rid of the British was through the barrel of a gun, rather than through any rational argument.

The relationship between Sinn Fein and the IRA, historically, has been symbiotic. It is impossible to separate them. In more recent years, Sinn Fein has said, “We are not the IRA, they are a totally separate organization.” In the minds of the vast majority of people in Ireland, whether they are Unionist or Nationalist, Sinn Fein is the political wing of the IRA, and it has played that role quite hotly down the years.

Sinn Fein’s political role was never important until the beginning of The Troubles, because it had been the militants, the military types, who were in command inside the Republican movement. They believed that the only answer to the Irish question was what they called “one last heave.” One last long push to get the British out of Ireland, and the only thing [that] will get that done is the use of weapons.

And in that respect, Sinn Fein was very much an auxiliary of the Irish Republican Army. They were there for propaganda purposes, they were there to raise the funds, they were there to speak on behalf of the IRA, but they were very much second-cousins. They didn’t command. It was the IRA who commanded. But Sinn Fein had refused to organize politcally so it was never a serious political force within the Catholic community, as evident in its refusal to stand in Parliamentary elections, whether in Westminster, Stormont or Dublin.

So it wasn't in the business of electioneering, it was in the business of propagandizing. It's only in the 1980s that it begins to take itself seriously as a political organization.

Adams clearly was, and is, a highly intelligent politician. Adams, in some sense, is easier to read than Martin McGuinness, simply because Adams has published memoirs, his political manifesto, et cetera, and Adams shows some form of long-term political vision. He speaks in his memoirs of his time as a youth, growing up … of a sense of discrimination. He was clearly an intelligent school boy who could have gone far, but, in fact, he left school early and became a bar man, but joined the Republican movement as soon as it was formed, because he had the family background.

And became deeply involved in the armed struggle from the earliest days, and was interned early in the 1970s, and was sprung from internment in 1972, because the authorities realized that he was one of the key members of the new generation who had to be listened to.

So, again, here we have someone who is incredibly single-minded, incredibly ruthless, but also has a sense of vision, and sees violence in its communicative framework rather than simply by destruction.

Gerry Adams comes from a very strong Republican family, on both his mother and father's side. He can trace it back to at least his grandfather, if not his great-grandfather. One of the earliest radicals in the 20th century, a man called Jim Larkin, who was concerned with trade unionism and with the national struggle, had as one of his assistants one of Adams' ancestors. And you could find … in the Republican struggles in the '30s and ’40s, either the Hannaway family, which was his mother’s side, or the Adams family, were involved in all of those struggles.

One of the most important factors in explaining the resilience of the Republican movement is what I call generational continuity. It’s handed down from father to son and mother to daughter, from generation to generation. For example, in the late ’60s, when you had sort of youth protests, you had less of that in Northern Ireland, because the children were following the same values as the parents, whether they were Loyalist or Republican.

So, generational continuity, this strong sense of communal history and the sense of the Republican movement as a large family. Family involvement, not necessarily at the forefront of the struggle, but as backup troops, is very, very powerful in explaining the success of the Republican movement. That is, I think, probably the supreme reason why the IRA has had to endure as much as it has had. You know, we’re talking about, for the most part, working-class youth, with no great sophistication, fighting against one of the supreme military operations in the Western world, against overwhelming odds, against huge … and yet they’re able to endure. And endurance was its middle name.

[With regard to Sinn Fein] … the contemporary view inside the Republican movement is that there are two separate operations. There is an Irish Republican Army and there is a political, but discreet, wing called Sinn Fein. It wasn’t always thus. At one stage, Sinn Fein had no difficulty in standing alongside the IRA and saying, “We are one and the same.”

What is different now is that Sinn Fein is engaged very heavily in a political process. But, given their sense of history, it is a process in which they are afraid of being betrayed yet again. And the only weapon they believe they have is the IRA. So, if they are seen to be totally separate from the IRA, then people will say, “Why should we talk to you? Who do you represent? OK, you’ve got 16 percent of the vote in the last election, but there are three other parties with larger votes. We don’t have to take you seriously.”

So, it is in their interest to be separate from the IRA, but not to disown the IRA. And they would argue that in doing this they are taking the IRA away from the armed struggle and leading them into the political process.

There is a view, not only in the British political establishment, but certainly even in the administration of this country, probably more strong in the State Department than the NSC that what the Republican movement is engaged in is a very cynical exercise, that the peace process is simply the struggle by other means. …

But if they don’t get what they want, or to the political dialogue or the political negotiations, they will simply revert to violence. That’s the cynic’s viewpoint. There is another viewpoint which argues that the Republican movement has come a long way in educating itself, and realizing that the armed struggle did more damage to the community it was supposed to be protecting. In recognizing that the war has reached a stage of stalemate,they cannot defeat the British; but, equally, the British cannot defeat them.

So, the only to move forward is through a political strategy. And once they abandon the armalite, they realize that it may take another generation before they could begin the armed struggle again. So, they see it as taking a huge political risk in the hope that they can persuade, in particular, the Unionist community in Northern Ireland to throw in their lot with Ireland rather than with Britain.

It's perfectly understandable why particularly people in the political establishment, and Unionists, would say that the IRA, because of the armed struggle, that Adams has bombed his way to the table and, therefore, they should have nothing to do with him. Adams would retort by saying, "Well, tell me about George Washington. Tell me about Kenyatta. Tell me about Nelson Mandela. Tell me about Yasser Arafat." Adams would say that he belongs to a proud political tradition where the politically oppressed have no other means than the means of their own violence to get to that negotiating table, to make it a level playing field. And in that respect, he belongs to a long and honorable tradition.

[But] if and when Gerry Adams uses the analogies of historic figures such as George Washington or Nelson Mandela, the short answer is that he's being premature. Time will tell whether he can become a person of that stature. What we do know is that he failed to demonstrate he was a Nelson Mandela when he got his visa to visit the United States for the first time. And the reason why we know he failed was because he had to satisfy two audiences simultaneously. He had to satisfy the external audience, personified by the President, who'd gone out on a limb to give him that visa, that he was a man of peace. But he had to satisfy the internal audience, Sinn Fein and the IRA, that the struggle would continue until there was ultimate victory. And he has not come to terms with how you satisfy both audiences simultaneously, which means that we cannot cast any judgement on whether he is truly an historic figure or not.

History will decide whether, in fact, the IRA and the Republican movement are engaged in a cynical exercise of using the political process as another wing of their armed struggle, or whether Adams can become a Nelson Mandela. It is too early to say. My own belief is that

Adams is genuine in trying to move away from the violence. I think it's a strategy that he and Martin McGuinness have been developing for a very long time. I think it's partially a strategy based on the fact that they know that their own community doesn't want any more violence, that their own community has removed the sense of fatalism, that we cannot control our political destinies, that their own community has enough self-confidence to say, "We are prepared to use simply the force of argument as against the force of weaponry, and we do not want to see any more people killed."

I think that we sometimes forget that those who engage in armed struggle are also human beings. It's too easy to characterize them as psychopaths. It's too easy to demonize them. And so, therefore, we have to be careful in how we weigh the balance between their military actions or their support for military actions and their political agenda.

The evolution of Sein Fein's new strategy: electoralism

When internment was introduced in 1971, it was seen as being disastrous, because the wrong people were being picked up. But then they started to pick up the right people and they put them in. Long Kesh became known as the terrorist university. It was actually a very good education training ground for them, because they were grouped together in their own prison blocks, they were able to educate themselves together, they were highly disciplined, they were seen from the outside as a way that the British during the Second World War who were locked up in concentration camps. They were seen as national heroes.

So, to be someone behind the wire was to have graduated through the ranks of … Republicanism, and was to give you particular status and stature in your community. There is a whole tradition in every guerrilla movement of using the prisons, of the symbolism of the prisons, to show how people can be reflective, how people can rethink their strategy. Whether you think of Mao and his long march or whatever, it is part of the mythology.

Adams used it beautifully in his writings about Cage 11. But he also used it very seriously. He and others … because they were in the prisons for so long, and had the time to reflect-because, remember, men of action don't have time to reflect; they're engaged in activity-they had the time to reflect and he began to think of, "Where is this struggle taking us?" "How long is a long war?" "Is it going to succeed?" "The longer it goes on, does it, in fact, alienate even more of our people?"

And all of these things were beginning to address themselves to him, and he was beginning to put his thoughts together, which he brought together in a book, which he published in 1986.

I think that we have to be careful in mythologizing Gerry Adams. There is a Republican movement. He is the person who personifies that, if you like, gradualist and progressive wing of the Republican movement, but there are a number of others whose names I could give you, who wouldn't mean anything- not only to people in the United States, but to people in Ireland-who were doing the thinking, who were the strategists, who were the politicals as opposed to the revolutionaries.

Adams had around him a team of people of around the same time ago, had gone through the same struggle-people like Tom Hartley, Jim Gibney, Martin McGuinness, McLoughlin-a whole series of them, Richard McCauley. They all formed this sort of group which began to think their way politically out of the impasse.

It occurred, at some stage in the mid-to-late ’70s, to IRA and Sinn Fein, that they might actually win a military war, but lose the political piece; that they might set up the conditions for others to compromise. And they began to realize that they had to change things.

Now, it changed them by accident. It changed them as a result of the hunger strikes. And what happened there was, what the Republican movement realized, there was a huge untapped source out there in the community which didn’t approve of IRA violence, but emotionally were attached to what the IRA was trying to achieve, Irish freedom.

So … 1980 and ‘81 they seriously begin to put together a political strategy based on electoralism. And they were very anxious and concerned that electoralism could destroy them. They did not go into it lightly. They thought of it very, very carefully.

But they realized that they needed a dual strategy, what became known as the armalite and the ballot box. The armalite was one of their favorite weapons which could cause enormous damage. They were following, if you like, classic tactical issues by Lenin at the time of the Russian Revolution. In one of their newspapers, The Republican News, they put it this way, “Not everyone can plant a bomb, but everyone can plant a vote.”

So, how do you maximize the support you’ve got there? There are those who are there for the military, there are those who are there for the political.

As soon as the British took control with direct rule in 1972, they began to work with the Irish government, because they didn’t want to hang on in Northern Ireland. And they accepted the opinion of the constitutionalists that you could have a reform in the Northern political system with power sharing-in other words, you could bring Catholics into government for the first time, and you would give them a share of power. You also could have much closer north-south relations within the island of Ireland.

The 1986 Decision by Sinn Fein to Take Their Seats in Parliament

The decision by the Sinn Fein conference in 1986, that they would take their seats if elected in the south of Ireland, in the Irish Republic, was one of the most historic decisions ever taken by the Republican movement.

It ran contrary to their history of the previous 60 years. And it was an indication of just how successful Adams and McGuinness had been in taking over the Republican leadership, because it was something that they'd been working for for at least three or four years. Remember, that the provisional IRA was created because of a split about electoralism in 1969. So, here people were very conscious that this was very dangerous, because it went to the heart of Republican mythology, yet they pulled it off.

And the reason they did it was because they believed that their electoral star was in the ascent. And that if they wanted to speak for the people of Ireland, they'd have to show that they'd had support in the Republic of Ireland, as well as the north of Ireland. And that's what it was about.

John Hume, the SDLP and Sinn Fein

One of the seminal documents which will come out of the Troubles is the dialogue between the SDLP and Sinn Fein which began in March of 1988, and went on until September of 1988. And it is fascinating to read, because what it demonstrates is Sinn Fein have ceased to be a sect. They've now become a political movement.

Because they're engaging with a group who say "We want the same end of you, Irish unity, but we disapprove fundamentally of your methods. Not only do we disapprove of it, but we're telling you that it's counterproductive." And by challenging Sinn Fein on his own ground, we're challenging the very heart of Republican mythology, and they're making these people think politically for the first time. Very, very significant.

The person who has to take all the credit for this is John Hume. He chose the right psychological moment in the aftermath of the Enniskillen bombing. He chose the right target in Gerry Adams, whom he recognized as someone who wanted to move into another phase. He knew that Republicanism was weak as a result of the outrage of Enniskillen. And, therefore, would have to engage.

He knew that the IRA could go nowhere else but to the SDLP and engage in this.

If I had to single [out] one person who's done more than anyone else to get to this stage it would have to be John Hume, the leader of the constitutionalist party, the SDLP. His policy from the day he entered politics has been one based on non-violence. And it's also one in which he says you cannot demonize singlehandedly by building up relations in this country, from about 1972 onwards. Firstly, through striking up a very good relationship with Senator Kennedy and educating Senator Kennedy with the nuances of the Irish conflict, and then meeting with every successive president from President Carter onwards, he has done more than any single individual.

Because Irish Prime Ministers have come and gone.

British Prime Ministers have come and gone. [Hume] has been the one constant factor. And he has always known what he's wanted, which was an end to the violence. And what he's always said is not about the uniting of territory, it is about the uniting of peoples.

And that very simple philosophy is something which he has pursued ruthlessly and single mindedly. And I think he has got us to this state. He, it was, who persuaded Adams into dialogue. He it is whose established now a good rapport with the former Loyalist paramilitaries. He it was who persuaded John Major to take risks when it wasn't in Major's interest. He has made all the important moves at the right time. And he's been through it all; no one else.

The Hunger Strikes 1980-81

It was something which is part of an Irish political tradition, which goes back to pre-Christian times, something which is not part of the Western tradition, but was there. Hunger strike and hunger strike to death, if necessary, because you are challenging your detractor either to withdraw his charge or to hunger strike with you or to see through the consequences of the hunger strike, whereby the striker would die.

In that situation, the authorities couldn't win. So, an incredible use of religious symbolism and mythology. It changed the whole nature of the campaign.

The fact that they were living in conditions like animals, that their own excrement was being smeared on the walls, actually goes back to the beginnings of Christianity. The symbols and slogans that they were using at the time-"No greater love hath a man than to lay down his life for his friend." The iconography that they were using, of a dying Christ in the bosom of the blessed Virgin Mary. People going out in demonstrations wearing the prison shroud, putting on their heads the crown of thorns, which Christ had worn to Calvary. All of it was going to the very heart of Christian symbolism. So, you don't need to have any elaborate text; you simply need the visual evidence. And so, therefore, they were claiming that they were part of something which was old as Christianity itself, and as self-sacrificial as the death of Christ himself.

They were extremely aware of the power of imagery and symbolism, because precisely the same images, precisely the same images, have been used after 1916, when the rebel leaders were rounded up and put into the jails and then shot in 1916. Sixty years later, the new generation comes along and uses exactly the same imagery, the same symbols.

When you look at the reaction of the greater Catholic community to what was happening inside the Maze with the blanket men and then the hunger strikes, you have to divide the Catholic community … those relatives who actually have people inside the prisons and most others, who were non-Republicans. And most others were not moved, for the most part, by what was going on.

For example, the first hunger striker who went to his death, Bobby Sands, on the day he went on hunger strike, 4,000 people watched in protest. We can take it that they all were hard-line Republicans. On the day he was buried, 70,000 marched in protest. So this, again, was a huge propaganda victory, where the Catholic community were used as sort of an emotional rollercoaster. And now it was rollercoasting towards the … Republican movement again. They believed that the British authorities had mishandled [the situation] very badly.

The British Prime Minister, Margaret Thatcher … did herself tremendous damage in saying, “We will not talk to terrorists under any circumstances.” It has to be remembered that, at the time, she refused to speak to the ANC and to Nelson Mandela. This was part of a wider policy that she had.

I’m not certain we can use the word “strategy” when we look at the whole hunger strike. Some of it was accident, but then a strategy began to put itself together. It was actually insofar as it was the relatives who moved the Republicans to take seriously voices other than their own. That was the first point. Secondly, the momentum was coming from within the prison and not from outside. Adams and company were against the hunger strike to begin with. They thought it was counter-productive. They didn’t think it was going to work. And what it indicates is how central prisoners are to the whole campaign. If you look at the cease-fires, it’s only after the prisoners agreed to it that they were able to carry it through.

So, the prisoners played the role. But the strategy was something which, again, was embedded in the Republican psyche. It was simply reaching into the recesses of their communal memory, and remembering what happened after 1916. The symbolism, the imagery, was something which came to them as second nature. They would have given, had some thought, but it would’ve been the most natural thing in the world to do.

The IRA leadership] was opposed to the hunger strike because they were afraid it would fail simply because of Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher. They would have to call off the hunger strikes, and the result of that would be huge demoralization inside the organization. They didn’t want it to happen. And, secondly, it was happening inside the prisons. They didn’t have control. They were an organization which was used to control, liked to be firmly in control.

When Bobby Sands was elected to Parliament, only then did it strike Republicans what a gold load had struck. Because here they were saying “Bobby Sands MP”, Member of the British Parliament, RIP, may he rest in peace; killed by the British establishment,” was the way they were able to put it. And that’s when the democratic mandate really begins to go into play. That’s when they realize that they have to play the electoral role as well.

So, what you find is with the election of Bobby Sands, and following his death and the bi-election, the election of another Republican, is the sovereignty changes to electoral … to show that they had the democratic mandate. And they took off in spectacular fashion.

Remember, they started from a base of zero. But, within a few years they were taking 13.4% of the whole vote inside Northern Ireland. They were taking up to 40% of the Catholic vote. They were challenging for the first time seriously the SDLP. They were embarrassing the Irish government. They were upsetting the apple cart again.

When the second hunger strike was called, it actually had more support than the first hunger strike. Because the first hunger strike was called off after two Catholic bishops had gone into the prisons and believed that they’d won concessions from the government.

They then believed that the government went back on its word. So, it wasn’t a question of simply believing what Republicans said, Catholic bishops had been lied to was the perception.

So, when a second hunger strike began, it began with that advantage. Its timing also was crucial. The first hunger strike had been timed so that if anyone was going to die, they were going to die around Christmas, the time of a huge Christian celebration, the birth of Christ. The second hunger strike was timed to end at Easter. And that had two potent symbols. One was the risen Christ of Easter, and second was the remembrance of Easter Rebellion of 1916. So, the thinking, the symbolism, the imagery that had gone into it was very powerful.

Margaret Thatcher compounded British difficulties by appearing to be too … (inaudible)-“a crime is a crime is a crime,” in that horrible strident verse of hers. And while it may well have gone down well with her own supporters, it showed no understanding of the Irish political psyche. It did tremendous damage to the constitutional politicians in Ireland who are now being challenged by these revolutions. And all of that had to be undone.

The impact of Sands’ death was overwhelming. Even the peace people, the people who had formed a peace movement in 1976 as a result of IRA atrocities, said that they could identify with people, they identified with Sands. That here was another Irish life taken needlessly.

Bobby Sands’ death led to yet another huge emotional ground swell inside the Catholic community. A ground swell which didn’t necessarily go towards Republicans, but certainly it went against the British. That had the impact that the Protestant community and the Catholic community were more polarized than they’d been for at least a decade. And, neither side understood how the others felt.

The culmination of the hunger strikes was one which brought Sinn Fein out of being a militant armed sect into a wider political and democratic process. Now, this is very, very important.

I don’t think they would have embraced that had it not been for the emotional ground swell of the hunger strikes, the realization that there are votes out there to be taken. So, it was very important for that reason. It also raised the profile of people like Adams, who in any case had been thinking and moving in the direction of a democratic process rather than the military process.

The IRA Campaign of Violence

There is a perception that the IRA and other paramilitaries have used mindless violence. That is very far from the truth. The violence has always been used for a purpose.

And, simply put, violence is used as a communicative dimension. It is saying to the state or to government, “We are here. You have to talk to us. If we have to bomb our way to a negotiating table, we will.” So, very rarely do you get examples of mindless violence in the Northern Ireland context.

And when you look at the type of violence, over time it has changed. Because the violence was a classic example of armed propaganda. Sometimes car bombs would be used, which would be simply about causing as much economic destruction as possible, as making Northern Ireland so expensive for the British exchequer that there would be a demand for the British to withdraw. Or they would target British soldiers. There always was the belief that the death of one British soldier was worth at least, in propaganda terms, ten policemen from Northern Ireland, because in Britain itself, the British mainland, the demand to get out would grow.

So, targets were very carefully specified. What the IRA tried to do for the most part and what they believed they were doing was that they were not trying to harm the local community. Now, that was part of their mythology.

If they killed a Protestant, they would argue that it wasn't a Protestant they were killing, but it was a member of the security forces who happened to be a Protestant.

And in their role as purported defenders of the Catholic community, they've actually succeeded in killing more Catholics than have their opponents. And so, when they carry out campaigns of violence against property or against people, in many, many instances what they were doing was they were damaging their own people more than they were furthering their cause. Now, that is very important, because the IRA, unlike other terrorist groups around the world, realized, to use the Maoist dictum, that "it needed water for the fish to swim in." The water it needed was the support of the local community. I f it lost that support, its campaign is going to run into the sands. So, it was always very, very conscious that it had to be careful how it used its violence.

It is worth pointing out that Belfast, for example, never became Beirut. There was a control to most of the violence. Before the violence occurred, there were usually plenty of warnings. Very rarely could you put your finger and say that innocent people were targeted deliberately.

They were very conscious in their propaganda of how they sold their violence. They were always conscious they had to bring their people with them.

When we speak of soft targets we're talking about people or property which are very easy to target, very easy to pick off. And, obviously, the easier they are, the more successful you're going to be. So, they could pick, for example, an isolated Protestant farmer on the border of Northern Ireland, who was a member of the local security force on a part-time basis. Or, in one instance, the IRA killed a woman who was taking a census collection. She was simply finding out, for the government, how people felt in Northern Ireland. She was shot dead because she worked for the government.

There were literally hundreds of examples of soft targets. But they all added grist to the mill. They all were to demonstrate that Northern Ireland was ungovernable.

Bloody Friday (July 21 1972)

Bloody Friday was important in demonizing the IRA. Bloody Friday happens within four months of the imposition of direct rule, when Unionists had lost out, when there were people saying, "Let's call it a day. We've had enough violence." The IRA response to Bloody Friday was that it wasn't they who got it wrong, that they gave the warnings. It was the authorities who got it wrong, that they did not mean to kill those innocent civilians. Whatever way you look at it, it was a very important event, because what it did was that it distanced those in the Unionist community who might have been prepared to give some thought to doing deals with people in the Catholic community … they said, "All bets are off."

It reinforced the position of the Protestant paramilitaries, and made them a real force in the political game in Northern Ireland. It reinforced the fanatical voice of Protestant militism, some of those who claim that they were not, or didn't approve of violence, but used violent language. What it did was that it polarized the situation very, very badly.

It persuaded the British government that you cannot do business with the Republican movement. So, for all of those reasons, Bloody Friday had very serious consequences.

The Murder of Lord Mountbatten August, 1979

In August of 1979 the IRA pulled off two of their huge spectaculars with the murder of Mountbatten, part of the British royal family. But they also killed two young boys in the same boat that he was in. So, there were mixed feelings about it. There was great glee in the Republican movement. The British authorities were able to make much propaganda out of the death of the two young boys. On the same day, the IRA pulled off probably their most spectacular military operation when they blew to pieces 18 British soldiers-[at Warrenpoint] and they happened to be British paratroopers, the people who were responsible for Bloody Sunday. So, among their followers, this was a huge, huge victory.

But the downside of that was that the soldiers had been killed on the Irish border. So, the British were able to mount a propaganda campaign, arguing very strongly that the border between Northern Ireland and the Republican of Ireland needed to be sealed, that the Irish government wasn't doing enough, that the American administration was too soft on the Irish government, and it needed to take a much [non active] … (inaudible) role, that you can't go around killing young boys simply because you wanted to kill an old man of 79.

It was both a win and a loss, but it became a win later on … at that time, immediately after the tenth hunger striker had gone to his death, the Sunday Times did a poll of the world's newspapers, and what they discovered was a huge switch in opinion from sympathy with the British government, which had lost Lord Mountbatten, which had seen an attempt to blow up its whole Cabinet at Brighton, and what they saw was an insensitive, unthinking government.

So, the death of Mountbatten and all the rest of it actually turned out to be a propaganda coup for the IRA rather than a loss for them.

The 1987 Enniskillen Bombing

When the IRA exploded the bomb in Enniskillen in November of 1987, they did their cause irreparable harm from the military perspective. Because they blew up 11 innocent Protestant civilians in probably the most sacred day of their year commemorating their war dead. So, what it demonstrated to begin with was a total insensitivity of Protestant peoples.

Secondly, they tried to claim that this was something which actually had been created by the British. That backfired very badly and they lost out very badly in that respect. Thirdly, they lost out electorally insofar as four of their eight elected representatives were not selected again the next election in that area. Fourthly, it led them in the direction of going into dialogue with the SDLP. And that was one of the big turning points.

The Brighton Bombings

The Brighton bombings were very simple and very complex. Simple, they wanted to destroy Margaret Thatcher. They hated her with a passion. And, if they could destroy the British government with her, even more so. Nowhere else could it happen that a complete government was being wiped out with one bomb. It demonstrated the vulnerability of the British security system. It was a huge propaganda victory for the Republican movement, which they played up very strongly.

The London Bombing Campaign

The London bombing campaign was simply to bring the war to the British mainland. It was surprising because previous campaigns in Britain had failed because they didn't have the logistics, they didn't have the local support. And in going to London, they were saying to the British political establishment, "We are moving into the heart of your country." But it wasn't successful, it wasn't effective. It's only much later on in the campaign, when they return to Britain, that it does become effective, with some spectacular failures.

In particular, there was a bomb in a British town called Warrenpoint in March of 1992, when two young boys were blown to pieces. That was one which went very badly wrong. The images of those two boys shows how an organization which operates through symbolic capital can have that turned on its head, so that the propaganda that came out of Warrenpoint was, "This is an organization that takes the lives of innocent young children." And that impacted very strongly among their own supporters. I think that was one of the telling points in actually going for a cease-fire.

The second attempt to blow up the British Cabinet occurred in 1991 when the Cabinet was meeting, dealing with the affair in Kuwait. It was a war cabinet. The IRA launched a bomb, a mortar bomb, in the heart of London on Downing Street. One security expert said it was five to ten degrees off. If they got it right, it would have been their greatest spectacular.

What they demonstrated was just how vulnerable London was. And brought home to politicians in London that at some stage you're going to have to deal with us. That's all we're telling you; deal with us.

The bombing in London and in Britain throughout the ’90s, I think demonstrates that the IRA were showing that they had the skill to continue. But, in some ways, it was the last throw of the dice, they had to go for the spectaculars.

But, they also realized that if they were going into negotiation, they went into negotiation from a position of military strength. And these bombs were occurring … when there were secret negotiations going on between Martin McGuinness and the British … and this was a classic example of the IRA saying look, if you think you’re going to hoodwink us, just you realize how military powerful we are.

British Actions

Internment

We use the term “internment” to mean imprisoning people without trial. So, it’s a short cut. It goes by the judicial process. And the government decided in August of 1971 that the IRA campaign was getting out of control, the best way to deal with it was simply to intern the key people-over 350 people were lifted in one swoop, on one morning in August. But it was a disaster.

And the word “disaster” is not mine. That is the word used by the chief of police in Northern Ireland about a policy which his men had to carry out. It was a disaster because they lifted only Republicans when Loyalist violence was going on at the same time. So, it was seen as being against the Catholic community solely. Their intelligence was so out of date that very few of those they lifted had actually been engaged in the present campaign of violence. It was therefore seen as an assault, yet again, on the whole Catholic community. It was followed by allegations of torture, many of which allegations were upheld. And, again, it undermined British rule in Northern Ireland. So, as a result of it, the IRA were able to recruit young men in scores, if not in hundreds.

A number of studies have been done on IRA prisoners and IRA people who have gone to their deaths-whether it's been done by psychologists or others-and one of the things that comes out very clearly is that these people do not, as a class, belong to the criminal class. Their self-perception is that they joined for idealistic motives. It is the only way to defend their community.

If you look at the rate of recidivism among former IRA inmates, you find that very few of them are involved in criminal activity. If you look at their level of education, you find that, for the most part, they have a reasonable level of education. Very few have third level, but most of them have a reasonable level of secondary education.

So, they did not represent an underclass of ill-educated, disenchanted youth. They represented some people, men and women, boys and girls, who believed they had to be part of the struggle because they had to act on behalf of their community.

I would believe that most of the people who joined the Republican movement were idealists. I have had a little experience of going into the prisons and teaching. And when you go into the prisons, you have to teach the separate para-military block, so, therefore, you would teach one group of Loyalists and then another group of Loyalists, and then the two official and provisional Republicans. And I came away overwhelmingly with the sense that if there were psychopaths in there, they were very, very difficult to discover; that they were people who really believed that they, in fact, belonged to a higher moral plane than the rest of us, because they were prepared to lay down their lives and prepare to give up their years of freedom for a cause they thought could not be challenged. That is on both the Catholic and Protestant side.

The Introduction of the Policy of Criminalization

British authorities, I think, realized by the mid-'70s that they were in for a long campaign, and they realized the cost to them on the British mainland. So, they wanted to change the nature of the campaign. And they introduced two concepts. One was Ulsterization, whereby the battle would be fought by people from Northern Ireland; the security forces and the front line would be the police of Northern Ireland rather than the British army. And criminalization was an attempt to try and withdraw the IRA and the Republican movement from the greater Catholic community by saying, "These people are not engaged in political struggle. They are simply criminals."

The result of those two policies were disastrous for the British. In the short term, things seemed to be going their way. The IRA campaign had slowed down considerably. The British believed that they were defeating them. The Protestant community, particularly militant Protestants, were becoming more self-confident, and they believed that it was only a question of time before they went back to the status quo.

But in the longer term, the decision to use criminalization meant that a whole community were being branded. And the IRA turned said, "They are saying that your sons and daughters, who are prepared to lay down their lives, are being treated like ordinary criminals. We cannot have that."

Another aspect of the whole criminalization policy was the authorities' attempt to try and [get many Rupublican leaders into] the judicial system very quickly, either by forcing confessions out of people or by using what were called “super grasses,” defectors from the movement who would identify sometimes between 30 and 40 people and say that they were part of the movement. And both of those backfired. There is no doubt that the authorities got very valuable information, with which they were able to lock dangerous men up.

But the means whereby they had got it run against the Western tradition of the rule of law, and, therefore, damaged that particular cause. And, again, in criminalizing people, the British authorities were doing damage to their own system. One of the most serious defects in the whole last 25 years is what the IRA campaign has done to the British sense of justice. So, what they have done, the IRA have done by forcing the British to use these excessive means, is that they have highlighted the extent to which a so-called modern democracy is, itself, flawed.

The whole movement revolted against the notion of criminalization. And the way they did so was through the powerful symbol of just how powerless they were. They refused to wear the prison clothes, and so, therefore, they wrapped themselves in a blanket. Their imagery was the imagery of Christ at Calvary. And it was a very powerful, very emotive, inside the Catholic community.

Ironically, [criminalization] elevates the IRA, but it does so paradoxically, because the people who take up the Republican struggle are the families of IRA prisoners, who are not necessarily part of the Republican movement. And they form an organization, relatives trying to free their sons and daughters. And the IRA realized that they were losing that section of the community. And the IRA also began to realize that the struggle they were involved in was political and military. So, it was the relatives that got them to think politics.

The Failed 1974-75 Cease Fire

During 1974-75, after the failure of power-sharing in 1974, the IRA went into another cease-fire in which they believed that some sort of understanding with the British government that there was going to be disengagement. In retrospect, they believed that what happened was that the British government was trying to divide them, was trying to demoralize them, because the longer there was an absence of violence, the more difficult it was to resurrect a campaign.

As a result of that cease-fire, the old Republican leadership stood aside. And it is then, late 1975, that Gerry Adams, Martin McGuiness, come into their own, and they come into their own as people who have been against the cease-fire.

I think the real significance of that '74-'75 cease-fire was not that it had failed, but that a generation … realized that Republicanism failed, and that new generation was represented by Martin McGuiness and Gerry Adams. And after '75, they were the people who took over, and they were the people who took over with a very strong belief that you can never trust the Brits.

That new leadership, I think, took at least two lessons … from the failure of that '74-'75 cease-fire. One was they must always be militarily prepared. They must demonstrate that if they go into negotiations again, they do so from a position of strength and not from weakness. And, secondly, they had to decide on a political strategy whereby they could not be shortchanged by the British. They had to demonstrate that if they went into negotiations, they could bring the whole Republican movement along with them, that Republicanism could not be split.

Unfortunately, I think that the British authorities learned nothing from the failure of that cease-fire. They believed that they had the IRA on the ropes. The politician in charge at the time said the he was squeezing the IRA like he would squeeze a tube of toothpaste, that they were on their last legs. And the more he said it, the more dangerous it became, because the IRA were not prepared to give in to that. And the British government believed it was now simply a question of time before the campaign would come to an end. And they began to treat virtually all Irish-Catholics with great disdain. So, they learned no lessons whatsoever.

The Anglo-Irish Agreement (Nov 15, 1985)

The Anglo-Irish agreement is one of the most significant agreements between the two governments in this century, because it was a recognition by the British government that the Northern Ireland problem was something which it couldn't handle in its own right. It was also recognition that it was paying some attention to international opinion, which had argued for quite awhile, particularly the U.S. administration, that there had to be Irish involvement in it.

But, thirdly, from a British perspective it was about closer security, cooperation. And interestingly, the IRA in its Christmas message in 1985 described the agreement as the most sophisticated, counter-revolutionary strategy ever devised for the British. They saw it as an attempt to destroy them.

The Protestant reaction to the Agreement was one of overwhelming detestation, from all strata in Protestant society. They believed that they'd been sold out in a way that had never happened before partition. They went back to 1912 to find something somewhere.

And, so they united to a man and woman against it, but they couldn't prevent the implementation of the agreement. It was an attempt to say to the Protestant population, "You in fact, are a minority inside the United Kingdom. Northern Ireland makes up less than three percent of the population of the United Kingdom; you make up about two percent of that population. It is what the majority of people in the United Kingdom want, which will be the deciding factor, not what you want."

The 1988 Gibraltar Killings of Three IRA

The killing of three IRA volunteers at Gibraltar in 1988 was something which appeared to be a wonderful coup for the British security services. They had got them as they were about to plant a bomb, or so they said, and they had executed them. Classic example of why the military can operate.

But, again, it was something which went badly awry as far as the authorities were concerned, because evidence started to build up that these people could quite easily have been arrested. And what, in fact, the authorities had done was they made martyrs out of three people.

One of them was a young female graduate who represented the romantic side of Republicanism. And as the British authorities tried to destroy the evidence of some of the witnesses, mutual witnesses from Gibraltar, they compounded their own problem. And then as they tried to destroy attempts made by some of the British media to get to the bottom of it, again they compounded the sense in which democracy was not at work here. So, it became a Republican coup. And they were very good at the propaganda level. They were very good when the authorities had done something wrong.

Gibraltar was a classic example. Mariad Farrell who was quite a striking beauty, they used that very, very successfully. They used it on other occasions. Even during the hunger strikes, the hunger strikers appeared to look like Christ with the long black hair and the dark beards … all of it was part of war by other means, war by propaganda.

The Birmingham Six

The Birmingham Six is one of the classic cases as to why Britain might want to get out of Ireland, because it showed British justice at its worst. The authorities picked up six innocent men returning to Ireland to a funeral. But they were soft targets, they were obvious people to pick up. They were, for the most part, inarticulate, unemployed, working-class Catholics.

They were nailed for Birmingham. None of them had anything to do with it. For two decades, the British political establishment could not accept that they could have made a mistake. The Lord Chief Justice said it was inconceivable that a mistake could have been made. And the longer they went on denying it, the longer the British political establishment did serious damage to their old case. And at the end, it was Irish Republicanism which was exonerated, even though Irish Republicans had planted the bomb.

The U.S. Role

I think the most important point of what the Irish-American diaspora in this century has been that it's suffered from a huge myth. It's suffered from the myth that America was a second front. It suffered from the myth that it had huge influence with the administration, whatever that administration was.

But if you look at the record, in fact, it had little or no influence. And that became painfully clear when the troubles broke out in 1969. It became particularly clear in the first couple of years of the troubles, when they find that the administration, the Nixon administration, relied totally on what they were told by the British authorities.

Secondly, in the United States there was a split between, if you like, the treetops and the grass roots-the treetops who believed that there may be a constitutional way forward, believed that they could bring moral pressure on the administration to bring pressure on the British to do something about it. One commentator had described it thus: “The Micks telling the Yanks to tell the Brits to tell the Prots that the only answer is a united Ireland.”

But it was organized at two levels. There was the treetops, the Four Horsemen, as they were known-Speaker Tip O’Neill, Senators Edward Kennedy and Daniel Patrick Moynihan, and Governor Hugh Carey. They were heavily influenced by John Hume, who was the leader of the Nationalists in the north, and by the Irish government, that there had to be a constitutional way forward, and that Irish-Americans should not be giving their money to the IRA for weapons.

So, you have the treetops, which were trying to work through the administration, and you have the grass roots, the guys who were giving their dollars - from the Bronx, South Boston, or whatever, to help the struggle in Northern Ireland. And you have for example, 1973, an FBI report which says that it is embarrassed by the Irish conflict, because the Irish conflict has been paid for by U.S. dollars. There is a realization that something had to be done.

So, Irish America had to come to terms with the fact that insofar as the administration was concerned about the Irish question, it was only concerned because it was part of a larger network of international terrorism, and something had to be done to break that link. It is there that the Horsemen begin to play a very strong role. The Horsemen come out with statements very opposed to the IRA campaign, as it becomes much more vicious during the 1970s. It is the Horsemen who argue very strongly that you should not be helping these people.

Irish America generally, until very recent years, was seen as being a hindrance rather than a help. So, there was a feeling, still remains a feeling, among the British political establishment that this has nothing to do with the United States, and there is a huge irritation among the more establishment newspapers, for example, about the role that the United States has played. That indicates the United States' influence is growing, and is important.

Part of the problem with the Irish-American community is one of ignorance. They have a romantic view of what Ireland was, they have a very simplistic view of the struggle. Now, as the troubles have gone on, that has become more sophisticated. But they did idealize. Secondly, Irish-American propagandists were very clever in using the language of liberty, which rings with the American community, which goes all the way back to the revolution and which Northern Ireland Protestants could never understand. But it was that use of propaganda, which kept it on the burner all the time.

Clinton's Granting a Visa to Gerry Adams in 1994

One thing I think we should remember about President Clinton-he's the first post-Cold War president. His predecessors, Bush, Reagan, all the way back to Kennedy, etc., were part of that Cold War which believed very strongly in the special Anglo-American relationship.

President Clinton owes nothing to that heritage. He owes nothing to those who were proud of the Second World War. He was the person taking over in the post-Cold War. You had a new world order where everything became possible. Also, he owed no favors to John Major, because the conservative party had acted on behalf of George Bush in the presidential campaign. He was his own man. The Irish American vote was very important. All of these were factors in persuading the President to get involved.

What President Clinton had to gain, I think, was one, domestic. He could solidify his hold into the Democratic party through Irish America, which had begun to drift towards the Republican party in the previous decade. But, secondly, for the man who says "the economy, stupid," he actually was concerned with foreign policy issues.

And the Irish conflict was one which was winnable. It wasn't too complex; it wasn't too regional. It was coming to some sort of successful completion. So, he could paint himself as an international man of peace. And he'd do a great degree of good. The United States generally could be a prestigious third party.

When the president invited Gerry Adams to United States, or at least give him a visa to come, he was moving away … Gerry Adams, over the past 20 years, had been refused seven visas to come to the United States. He was now being recognized at the very center of democracy. He realized that. So, Adams gained that. But, you know, it was a two-way ticket. What he lost was that he couldn't deliver, that he couldn't demonstrate that he was a Nelson Mandela.

The granting of the visa to Gerry Adams had an important impact with the IRA. It gave the IRA a certain degree of self confidence. That if Sinn Fein did go into negotiation, it was going into negotiation with the goodwill of the most powerful state in the world. Not necessarily the acquiescence, but at least with the United States wanting to play the role …. wanting to push the process forward. And, you know for a people who believed themselves to be demonized, marginalized, isolated completely, psychologically this was very powerful indeed.

There would not have been an IRA cease fire in August of 1994 if the Republican movement had not been convinced that the Clinton administration was wholly on board, wholly committed to trying to move the process forward. Leaning at least on the British authorities, because they knew that the Irish authorities wanted to move in that direction in any case.

And, equally, the IRA cease fire would not have been restored where the IRA again [was] not convinced that the administration was important. What I'm saying is the role that the Clinton administration has played has been central to the peace process. It has not been marginal; it has been central. It has pursuaded Irish Republicans that their views are being taken seriously on a wider stage.

Equally, it persuaded their political leadership that they may have to go for something less than what they actually want to implement in one go. That they might have to accept something less than Irish unity. It has persuaded them that politics is about process and compromise and concession.

And, all of that has come about because the President and staff inside the NSC listen to people like John Hume and went for it. They ignored the advice coming from the State Department and from the Justice Department, and they said we're going for this. They have kept in weekly, if not daily contact with the actors to make sure that the peace process would stay in place.

They have, in the present Blair government, the Labor government, a very close ally indeed. So, the parts are there for the peace process to actually take off, and the American administration has been central to all of that.

The role of the Clinton administration has been central to the whole peace process. They took the risk in standing alongside Gerry Adams, in giving Adams the moral fiber and the political fiber to convince his own people that they'd never reach the stage where politics is a game on time. "It's the right process, it's the right compromise, it's the right concession and conciliation. You may not get all you want, but you won't get anything better by any other means. Go for it."

What is essentially different is that the last peace talks failed. People got into the present peace talks in a much less euphoric frame of mind. But, they've also gone into it with a much lesser degree of fatalism. The advantage of the 17 months was that the greater community in Northern Ireland said we can make this one.

So, the pieces are there for everything to come together. And as long as the administration stays with it, and as long as the Blair government with its huge majority stays with it, then it is possible to realize peace, if not in a matter of months, certainly a matter of years.

The Future

In the coming months the worst case scenario is that all the historic mistrust will get on top of the talks. That those parties outside the talks in Northern Ireland, and there are two, will be able to whip up fears in the larger community so that the Ulster Unionist party won't have the confidence to continue. So, either it's going to be as a result of historic mistrust or short-term political gain. That's the worst case scenario.

The best case scenario is that the Irish peace process will follow what happened in South Africa. It will use the vocabulary of South Africa where they seek a sufficient consensus to make sure you can build up a strong center. And, those who are outside the process realize the futility of being outside the process, and they will come in over time. And, with the support of civil society in norther Ireland, the business community, the churches, you will have for the first time ever in the history of Northern Ireland a proper, inclusive political dialogue.

Again, another facet which is helping the peace process with the last British elections, which occurred in May of 1997, when Gerry Adams and Martin McGuinness were elected. These are the two people at the heart of the Republican peace process. The symbolism, the propaganda value of all of this is huge. The self esteem which their community has got is huge. The fact that these are the two people who are leading the peace faction, have been elected, cannot be underestimated.

The fact that they've gone into a parliament symbolically - because they haven't gone in in person - the fact that they've gone in there, which is led by Labor government, who chose no favors to any Ulster Unionists or any Irish nationalist … (inaudible) But, a Labor government which is a huge majority, and has got a very close working relationship with the Clinton administration. All of that plays in favor of a peace process.

The Blair team, long before they come into office, were watching very closely what John Major did. The one thing that they had hoped was that Major would push things along so far that they could pick it up and go further with it. They didn't foresee that they were going to get such a magnificent, spectacular victory. So, they don't have to look over their shoulders at the conservatives who are so disorganized and so demoralized. They also have, at a person level, a very good relationship between the president and the prime minister. They have people in the Labor administration who have studied very closely how the democratic presidential campaigns worked, and how the American political system works. So that there is a meeting of minds and a meeting of attitudes which was never there before.

I think we have to suspend judgement on the long war. As they sit at the talks at the moment, the best that can be given is an interim judgement. And interim judgement is that the IRA and the Republican movement have led through their own mistakes, also through their own heroism, and also through their own ruthlessness. That if they had gone for this earlier, it is conceivable that we could have avoided some of the deaths.

Equally, it is conceivable that others had to go through the same learning curve. And so you cannot look at the Republican movement in isolation. You have to look at the wider picture. And in the wider picture, you arrive at an interim judgement that most of the parties, including the Republican movement, are now prepared to accept less than …. when they set out. And that I see as huge progress. And that I see as learning from other peace processes.

People like Gerry Adams and Martin McGuinness have gone through their own very painful form of political odyssey. They have gone down a very long road where they believe in simplistically that you could win this militarily. They have suffered with their people, they have suffered themselves. They have realized the damage which violence has done.

They have had the moral courage to admit that there is another way forward. They have shown the political leadership to bring their people along … and if they can continue in that vein, then perhaps they will be judged to be Mandelas … Washingtons … whomever.

Sinn Fein have to convince the Irish people as a whole that this is not part of a cynical ploy, that they're not going to return to violence. So, they have a very tall order in speaking to constituencies.

It's not the governments in Dublin or London, it's not the administration here; it is the people of Ireland. And that is a monumental task.

In the end, there is never any end in politics; politics is a process. What they will see in the medium term is less than Irish unity. Not simply because of their campaign of violence, but simply because the way that politics is evolving globally.

So, in the end, what they might see is the notion of strong regionalism in the island of Ireland, which will be part of a regional European union. And, in that sense, people will be able to claim multiple identities. They can be British, they can be Irish, they can be European. And in that sort of fudge you have an answer to the Irish conflict.

Americans, and particularly Irish Americans, have also gone through their own learning curve over this past 25 to 27 years. There was a cross-simplicity to begin with. There was identification with the underdog, while turning a blind eye to many of the things that that underdog was doing. To simplifying some horrible violence on the part of the IRA and others.

But, now that they have gone through that, I think that Americans have a much stronger realization of the complexity of the problem, and also of a much stronger sense of the ownership to the outcome of the problem. And it's holding onto that ownership which I think is very important in the medium term.

We could say that, in fact, peace process is the hard bit; killing is easy. Killing can give certain people in the community their sense of self esteem. It's the only thing they know.

Knowing that that has to stop, they simply become ordinary members of their community. And so as part of the peace process, it is essential that what has built into it is an attempt to civilianize these people. It has been tried in other peace processes with very limited success, it should be said. El Salvador is a classic example.

But, I think, it is more likely to be achievable in the Irish conflict for very simple reasons. And that is the continuing part of the family, the continuing traditional Catholic beliefs. The fact that it is the communities which sanctions violence, and the community can turn it off.

This book

The King’s Speech Wembley Park 1925 Gene possible Research Centers

British Royals want to know what this gene is, FOXP2

1941

The surgery on Rosemary Kennedy has failed, the daughter of Rose Mary Kennedy, daughter of Joseph Kennedy Sr.

She seems ok intellectually and loving but does not progress with her school work. What is that? It is not she is a “bad” kid, just doesn’t do homework and may have other problems like grammar or speaking.

Her father, WASP and England friendly, had this to say.

> Joseph P Kennedy Sr. on siding with QEII over Socialism, Communism, or Nazim (socialism with a nationalist characteristic)
>
> [image]
>
> In an interview with two newspaper journalists, Louis M. Lyons of The Boston Globe, and Ralph Coghlan of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Kennedy said: ***
>
> It’s all a question of what we do with the next six months. The whole reason for aiding England is to give us time … As long as she is in there, we have time to > prepare. It isn't that [Britain is] fighting for democracy. That's the bunk. She's fighting for self-preservation, just as we will if it comes to us. … I know more about the European situation than anybody else, and it's up to me to see that the country gets it.

Joseph Kennedy Sr was enormously powerful in Iron and Steel, Ambassadorship, and many other facets of Western business, politics, and media including owning RKO Pictures.

JPK Sr does know more than anything else and he surely loved Rosemary Kennedy as she loved him.

Like Prescott Bush and Geroge H.W. Bush, long time Eugenics and Vienna Pscyhology participants they follow the rise of Hitler carefully and want Nazi Germany wiped out as does Arnold Schwarzenegger and others.

Rosemary Kennedy retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Rosemary read few books but could read Winnie-the-Pooh.[10] Diaries written by her in the late 1930s, and published in the 1980s, reveal a young woman whose life was filled with outings to the opera, tea dances, dress fittings, and other social interests.[11] Kennedy accompanied her family to the coronation of Pope Pius XII in Rome in 1939. She also visited the White House.[6] Kennedy's parents told Woman's Day that she was "studying to be a kindergarten teacher," and Parents was told that while she had "an interest in social welfare work, she is said to harbor a secret longing to go on the stage." When The Boston Globe requested an interview with Rosemary, her father's assistant prepared a response which Rosemary copied out laboriously:

> I have always had serious tastes and understand life is not given us just for enjoyment. For some time past, I have been studying the well known psychological method of Dr. Maria Montessori and I got my degree in teaching last year.

In 1938, Kennedy was presented to King George VI and Queen Elizabeth at Buckingham Palace during her father's service as the United States Ambassador to the United Kingdom.[13] Kennedy practiced the complicated royal curtsy for hours. At the event, she tripped and nearly fell. Rose Kennedy never discussed the incident and treated the debut as a triumph. The crowd made no sign, and the King and the Queen smiled as if nothing had happened.

The Untold Story of JFK's Sister, Rosemary Kennedy, and Her Disastrous Lobotomy retrieved from People.com by Liz McNeil and copied or modified to here

"Darling Daddy," 22-year-old Rosemary Kennedy wrote in a 1940 letter to her father Joseph P. Kennedy, then serving as U.S. Ambassador to Great Britain. "I am so fond of you. And I love you so very much."

Just over a year later, that same young woman affectionate, dutiful and always eager to please her father was unable to form a sentence. In what would become a decades-long secret and a source of deep shame for the most famous dynasty in American history, Joe and Rose Kennedy's intellectually disabled eldest daughter lost everything at age 23, when her father scheduled a catastrophic lobotomy that left her with the mental capacity of a toddler.

After the secret surgery, it would be another two decades after Joe became incapacitated by a severe stroke in 1961 before any of Rosemary's eight siblings would learn the truth about their sister's disappearance: she was living at a Catholic facilty for the mentally disabled in Jefferson, Wisconsin, hidden from public view.

Now, for the first time, two new books offer a devastating portrait of the lovely, troubled woman whose life was cruelly derailed by her father.

In Rosemary: The Hidden Kennedy Daughter, excerpted in this week's PEOPLE, author Kate Larson depicts a vivacious daughter with a "perfect smile" who struggled to find her place in a family that prized achievement and success above all else. For the first time, Larson details the chilling events that deprived Rosemary's brain of ox

…

How do you solve a problem like Marylin Monroe, Rosemarie Kennedy, or Maria? retrieved from STLyrics Show Tune Lyrics and copied or modified to here

She climbs a tree and scr*pes her knee
Her dress has got a tear
She waltzes on her way to Mass
And whistles on the stair

And underneath her wimple
She has curlers in her hair
I even heard her singing in the abbey

She's always late for chapel
But her penitence is real
She's always late for everything
Except for every meal
I hate to have to say it
But I very firmly feel
Maria's not an asset to the abbey

I'd like to say a word in her behalf
Maria makes me laugh

How do you solve a problem like Maria?
How do you catch a cloud and pin it down?
How do you find a word that means Maria?
A flibbertijibbet! A will-o'-the wisp! A clown!

Many a thing you know you'd like to tell her
Many a thing she ought to understand
But how do you make her stay
And listen to all you say
How do you keep a wave upon the sand

Oh, how do you solve a problem like Maria?
How do you hold a moonbeam in your hand?

When I'm with her I'm confused
Out of focus and bemused
And I never know exactly where I am
Unpredictable as weather
She's as flighty as a feather
She's a darling! She's a demon! She's a lamb!

She'd outpester any pest
Drive a hornet from its nest
She could throw a whirling dervish out of whirl

She is gentle! She is wild!
She's a riddle! She's a child!
She's a headache! She's an angel!
She's a girl!

How do you solve a problem like Maria?
How do you catch a cloud and pin it down?
How do you find a word that means Maria?
A flibbertijibbet! A will-o'-the wisp! A clown!
Many a thing you know you'd like to tell her
Many a thing she ought to understand
But how do you make her stay
And listen to all you say
How do you keep a wave upon the sand

Oh, how do you solve a problem like Maria?
How do you hold a moonbeam in your hand?

Rome's Very Best

On December 19, 1961, at the age of 73, Josepsh Kennedy Sr. suff He survived but was left paralyzed on his right side. Thereafter, he aphasia, which severely affected his ability to speak. He remained m regained certain functions with therapy, and began walking with a speech also showed some improvement. Kennedy began to experien muscular weakness, which eventually required him to use a wheelc Kennedy was taken to The Institutes for the Achievement of Human Philadelphia, a medical and rehabilitative center for those who hav brain injury.

Kennedy's son Robert was assassinated on June 5, 1968.[97] In th his son's death, Kennedy made his last public appearance when he, son Ted made a filmed message to the country. He died at home in the following year on November 18, 1969.

From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Maria Montessori retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Maria Tecla Artemisia Montessori (/ˌmɒntɪˈsɔːri/ MON-tiss-OR-ee, Italian: [maˈriːa montesˈsɔːri]; August 31, 1870 May 6, 1952) was an Italian physician and educator best known for the philosophy of education that bears her name, and her writing on scientific pedagogy. At an early age, Montessori enrolled in classes at an all-boys technical school, with hopes of becoming an engineer. She soon had a change of heart and began medical school at the Sapienza University of Rome, where she graduated with honors in 1896. Her educational method is in use today in many public and private schools globally.

Life and career Birth and family

Montessori was born on August 31, 1870 in Chiaravalle, Italy. Her father, Alessandro Montessori, age 33, was an official of the Ministry of Finance working in the local state-run tobacco factory. Her mother, Renilde Stoppani, 25 years old, was well-educated for the times and was the great-niece of Italian geologist and paleontologist Antonio Stoppani.[1][2] While she did not have any particular mentor, she was very close to her mother who readily encouraged her. She also had a loving relationship with her father, although he disagreed with her choice to continue her education.

18831896: Education

The Montessori family moved to Florence in 1873, then to Rome in 1875 because of her father's work. Montessori entered a public elementary school at the age of 6 in 1876. Her early school record was "not particularly noteworthy",[4] although she was awarded certificates for good behavior in the 1st grade and for "lavori donneschi", or "women's work", the next year.

Secondary school

In 1883[6] or 1884,[7] at the age of 13, Montessori entered a secondary, technical school, Regia Scuola Tecnica Michelangelo Buonarroti, where she studied Italian, arithmetic, algebra, geometry, accounting, history, geography, and sciences. She graduated in 1886 with good grades and examination results. That year, at the age of 16, she continued at the technical institute Regio Istituto Tecnico Leonardo da Vinci, studying Italian, mathematics, history, geography, geometric and ornate drawing, physics, chemistry, botany, zoology, and two foreign languages. She did well in the sciences and especially in mathematics.

She initially intended to pursue the study of engineering upon graduation, then an unusual aspiration for a woman. By the time she graduated in 1890 at the age of 20, with a certificate in physicsmathematics, she had decided to study medicine, a more unlikely pursuit given cultural norms at the time.

University of RomeMedical school

Montessori moved forward with her intention to study medicine. She appealed to Guido Baccelli, the professor of clinical medicine at the University of Rome, but was strongly discouraged. In 1890, she enrolled in the University of Rome in a degree course in natural sciences, passing examinations in botany, zoology, experimental physics, histology, anatomy, and general and organic chemistry, and earning her diploma di licenza in 1892. This degree, along with additional studies in Italian and Latin, qualified her for entrance into the medical program at the University in 1893.

What is Montessori?

© Copyright 2021 MORNINGSTAR MONTESSORI SCH
Cedarburg, Wisconsin | All Rights Reserved.

[image]

Dr. Montessori worked in the Psychiatric Clinic at the University o began working with “special needs” children from the insane asylu children succeeded so well that Dr. Montessori was hailed around t “miracle-worker.” Already a lecturer at the University of Rome, she own education by studying philosophy, anthropology and psycholo

With her discoveries being scientifically proven, in 1906 Dr. Maria created a new classroom she called the “prepared environment.” Ba from Edouard Seguin, she created hands-on manipulatives, such as letters, cylinder blocks and the number rods, all made of beautiful materials. She designed child-sized furniture, incorporated Montess such as slicing vegetables, washing dishes and cloths, polishing sho arranging, serving meals, etc. using child- sized implements. In eve Montessori incorporated the elements of grace, beauty, purpose, ca discovery, and independence. In every material, there is a beginnin can you imagine each child placing the material back on the shelf w belongs?

She was met with hostility and harassment from some medical students and professors because of her gender. Because her attendance of classes with men in the presence of a naked body was deemed inappropriate, she was required to perform her dissections of cadavers alone, after hours. She resorted to smoking tobacco to mask the offensive odor of formaldehyde.[10] Montessori won an academic prize in her first year, and in 1895 secured a position as a hospital assistant, gaining early clinical experience. In her last two years, she studied pediatrics and psychiatry, and worked in the pediatric consulting room and emergency service, becoming an expert in pediatric medicine. Montessori graduated from the University of Rome in 1896 as a doctor of medicine. Her thesis was published in 1897 in the journal Policlinico. She found employment as an assistant at the University hospital and started a private practice.[11][12]

18961901: Early career and family

From 1896 to 1901, Montessori worked with and researched so-called “phrenasthenic” childrenin modern terms, children experiencing some form of cognitive delay, illness, or disability. She also began to travel, study, speak, and publish nationally and internationally, coming to prominence as an advocate for women’s rights and education for mentally disabled children.

On March 31, 1898, her only child a son named Mario Montessori (March 31, 1898 1982) was born.[14] Mario Montessori was born out of her love affair with Giuseppe Montesano, a fellow doctor who was co-director with her of the Orthophrenic School of Rome. If Montessori married, she would be expected to cease working professionally. Instead of marriage, Montessori decided to continue her work and studies. Montessori wanted to keep the relationship with her child’s father secret under the condition that neither of them would marry anyone else. When the father of her child was pressured by family to make a more advantageous social connection and subsequently married, Montessori was left feeling betrayed and decided to leave the university hospital. She was forced to place her son in the care of a wet nurse living in the countryside, distraught to miss the first few years of his life. She would later be reunited with her son in his teenage years, where he proved to be a great assistant in her research.

Work with mentally disabled children

After graduating from the University of Rome in 1896, Montessori continued with her research at the University's psychiatric clinic. In 1897 she was accepted as a voluntary assistant there. As part of her work, she visited asylums in Rome where she observed children with mental disabilities, observations that were fundamental to her future educational work. She also read and studied the works of 19th-century physicians and educators Jean Marc Gaspard Itard and Édouard Séguin, who greatly influenced her work. Montessori was intrigued by Itard's ideas and created a far more specific and organized system for applying them to the everyday education of children with disabilities. When she discovered the works of Jean Itard and Édouard Séguin they gave her a new direction in thinking and influenced her to focus on children with learning difficulties. Also in 1897, Montessori audited the University courses in pedagogy and read "all the major works on educational theory of the past two hundred years".

Public advocacy

In 1897 Montessori spoke on societal responsibility for juvenile delinquency at the National Congress of Medicine in Turin. In 1898, she wrote several articles and spoke again at the First Pedagogical Conference of Turin, urging the creation of special classes and institutions for mentally disabled children, as well as teacher training for their instructors.[18] In 1899 Montessori was appointed a councilor to the newly formed National League for the Protection of Retarded Children, and was invited to lecture on special methods of education for children with intellectual disabilities at the teacher training school of the College of Rome. That year Montessori undertook a two-week national lecture tour to capacity audiences before prominent public figures.[19] She joined the board of the National League and was appointed as a lecturer in hygiene and anthropology at one of the two teacher-training colleges for women in Italy.

Orthophrenic School

In 1900 the National League opened the Scuola Magistrale Ortofrenica, or Orthophrenic School, a “medico-pedagogical institute” for training teachers in educating mentally disabled children with an attached laboratory classroom. Montessori was appointed co-director.[21] 64 teachers enrolled in the first class, studying psychology, anatomy, and physiology of the nervous system, anthropological measurements, causes and characteristics of mental disability, and special methods of instruction. During her two years at the school, Montessori developed methods and materials which she later adapted to use with mainstream children.[22]

The school was an immediate success, attracting the attention of government officials from the departments of education and health, civic leaders, and prominent figures in the fields of education, psychiatry, and anthropology from the University of Rome.[23] The children in the model classroom were drawn from the asylum and ordinary schools but considered

“uneducable” due to their deficiencies. Some of these children later passed public examinations given to so-called “normal” children.[24]

19011906: Further studies

In 1901, Montessori left the Orthophrenic School and her private practice, and in 1902 she enrolled in the philosophy degree course at the University of Rome. (Philosophy at the time included much of what is now considered psychology.) She studied theoretical and moral philosophy, history of philosophy, and psychology as such, but she did not graduate. She also pursued independent study in anthropology and educational philosophy, conducted observations and experimental research in elementary schools, and revisited the work of Itard and Séguin, translating their books into handwritten Italian. During this time she began to consider adapting her methods of educating mentally disabled children to mainstream education.[25]

Montessori’s work developing what she would later call “scientific pedagogy” continued over the next few years. In 1902, Montessori presented a report at a second national pedagogical congress in Naples. She published two articles on pedagogy in 1903, and two more the following year. In 1903 and 1904, she conducted anthropological research with Italian schoolchildren, and in 1904 she was qualified as a free lecturer in anthropology for the University of Rome. She was appointed to lecture in the Pedagogic School at the University and continued in the position until 1908. Her lectures were printed as a book titled Pedagogical Anthropology in 1910.[26]

19061911: Casa dei Bambini and the spread of Montessori’s ideas The first Casa

In 1906 Montessori was invited to oversee the care and education of a group of children of working parents in a new apartment building for low-income families in the San Lorenzo district in Rome. Montessori was interested in applying her work and methods to children without mental disabilities, and she accepted.[27] The name Casa dei Bambini, or Children's House, was suggested to Montessori, and the first Casa opened on January 6, 1907, enrolling 50 or 60 children between the ages of two or three and six or seven.[28]

At first, the classroom was equipped with a teacher's table and blackboard, a stove, small chairs, armchairs, and group tables for the children, and a locked cabinet for the materials that Montessori had developed at the Orthophrenic School. Activities for the children included personal care such as dressing and undressing, care of the environment such as dusting and sweeping, and caring for the garden. The children were also shown the use of the materials Montessori had developed.[29] Montessori, occupied with teaching, research, and other professional activities, oversaw and observed the classroom work, but did not teach the children directly. Day-to-day teaching and care were provided, under Montessori's guidance, by the building porter's daughter.[30]

In this first classroom, Montessori observed behaviors in these young children which formed the foundation of her educational method. She noted episodes of deep attention and concentration, multiple repetitions of activity, and a sensitivity to order in the environment. Given a free choice of activity, the children showed more interest in practical activities and Montessori's materials than in toys provided for them and were surprisingly unmotivated by sweets and other rewards. Over time, she saw a spontaneous self-discipline emerge.[31]

Repeating this from the Preface

Book 12 Chapter 33 FROM THE MOUNTAIN PROPHECIES

So, as I have stated, yesterday this same man was again watching the DNA as it was working and also commenting on the new DNA when someone beside him questioned him as to where he had come from, commenting that he had not seen him at all in this kind of work. And in response to the comments of this second person, this man told him that he had come from the Mars base and that he was one of fifteen commanders, who made their way among the moon bases, the Mars base and the base on Saturn, which is really on one of the moons of Saturn according to what our Father in Heaven told me. This man continued to tell the second person that the “pressure” in the underground base on Mars became very unstable, that the conditions on the Saturn base also became unstable, that they base actually “imploded”, and that they were forced to leave these Mars! He went on to say that at first they did not know what was bringing about these instabilities on the Mars base, but that at this time, they believe that Yahweh was behind these instabilities. He also said that the whole solar system is unstable at this time.

There are about 17 known FOXP2 LONDON KE Family members with the language writting and speaking issues which affects about half of that family. I think it involves Borderline Personality Disorder too.

Londo KE family retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The KE family is a medical name designated for a British family, about half of whom exhibit a severe speech disorder called developmental verbal dyspraxia.[1] It is the first family with speech disorder to be investigated using genetic analyses, by which the speech impairment is discovered to be due to genetic mutation, and from which the gene FOXP2, often dubbed the "language gene", was discovered. Their condition is also the first human speech and language disorder known to exhibit strict Mendelian inheritance.[2]

Their first report in 1990 shows that 16 family members were affected by severe abnormality, though their hearing was normal and some had normal intelligence, and that the condition was genetically inherited (autosomal dominant).

I (Edward Paul Donegan) was once told by a speech therapist I had a few dates with that "my speech articulators could not keep up" not that I was bipolar she thought I was rational but had a lot I was simply tying to cram into sentences more than my bodily mechanics could do well. -

"Developmental verbal dyspraxia (DVD), also known as childhood apraxia of speech (CAS) and developmental apraxia of speech (DAS),[1] is a condition in which children have problems saying sounds, syllables and words. This is not because of muscle weakness or paralysis. The brain has problems planning to move the body parts (e.g., lips, jaw, tongue) needed for speech. The child knows what they want to say, but their brain has difficulty coordinating the muscle movements necessary to say those words."

"Childhood apraxia of speech (CAS) is a neurological childhood (pediatric) speech sound disorder in which the precision and consistency of movements underlying speech are impaired in the absence of neuromuscular deficits (e.g., abnormal reflexes, abnormal tone). CAS may occur as a result of known neurological impairment, in association with complex neuro-behavioral disorders of known or unknown origin, or as an idiopathic neurogenic speech sound disorder. The core impairment in planning and/or programming spatiotemporal parameters of movement sequences results in errors in speech sound production and prosody."

The American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA) Formation December 1925; 95 years ago (as American Academy of Speech Correction) New York City, New York, U.S. Headquarters 2200 Research Boulevard Rockville, Maryland, U.S.is a professional association for speech-language pathologists, audiologists, and speech, language, and hearing scientists in the United States and internationally. It has more than 197,856 members and affiliates. *

Ad Hoc Committee on Apraxia of Speech in Children (2007)

Risk to the Throne: Using unregistered out of wedlock Windsor descendents for grooming Brittians sleeper agents and moles for extended navy and soveriegn empire power, and economic power in the Middle East North Africa, but JFK must be gotten out of the way.

So anyways one day I was sitting around in some behavioral health care counseling center I was ordered into (and used anyway) following a civil comittment following a dispute with the Narcs and I saw this pamplet on one of wall pamplet holders and this one called Borderline Personality Disorder seemed to fit me and my mother pretty good and I think it is the FOXP2 KE King Edward VII gene also visible in Prince Albert, Prince of Yorkk, who would marry Elizabeth, now

Queen Elizabeth who rule as King under the name King George VI then dying in 1952

It is he who made the Kings Speech in 1925 at Wembely Stadium promoting British Imperialism in a speech which nearly ended it!

British Empire Exhibition (similar to Worlds Fair) retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

A British Empire Exhibition [similar to a Worlds Fair] had first been proposed in 1902, by the British Empire League, and again in 1913.[4] The Russo-Japanese War had prevented the first plan from being developed and World War I put an end to the second, though there had been a Festival of Empire in 1911, held in part at Crystal Palace. In 1920 the British Government decided to site the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley Park, on the site of the pleasure gardens created by Sir Edward Watkin in the 1890s.

One of the reasons for the suggestion was a sense that other powers, ie America and Japan, were challenging Britain on the world stage. Despite victory in World War I, this was in some ways even truer in 1919. The country had economic problems and its naval supremacy was being challenged by two of its former allies, the USA and Japan. In 1917 Britain had committed itself eventually to leave India, which effectively signalled the end of the British Empire to anyone who thought about the consequences, while the Dominions had shown little interest in following British foreign policy since the war. It was hoped that the Exhibition would strengthen the bonds within the Empire, stimulate trade and > demonstrate British greatness both abroad and at home, where the public was believed to be increasingly uninterested in Empire, preferring other distractions, such as the cinema.

Yet it was in `1901 the FOXP2 gene was first seen as far as history records show and that was in King Edward VII and the British Royals wanted a cure and began looking for one.

King George VI, Price Albert of York, would make the speech in 1925 and later become king of England and Great Brittian after his older Brother Edward Prince of Wales and for one year King Edward VIII was crowned King only to step down for close ties to Nazi Germany. I am told I had a grandfather I thought or Ireland a former king who stepped down and I was nameed after and I believe that was King Edward the VIII and in a gene that shows in half of family members Edward VIII did not show it, his younger brother did. Tom Donegan did not show it, Ed Donegan (me) and his mother did including the swallowing trouble which is from dry throat.

But this is not the complete comments I have about the Kings Speech. Let me introduce here other elements are a symptoms cluser of Mininal Braid Dysfucntion, Borderline Personality Disorder, FOXP2.

> The KE family is a medical name designated for a British family, about half of whom exhibit a severe speech disorder called developmental verbal dyspraxia. [1] It is the first family with speech disorder to be investigated using genetic analyses, by which the speech impairment is discovered to be due to genetic mutation, and from which the gene FOXP2, often dubbed the “language gene”, was discovered. Their > condition is also the first human speech and language disorder known to exhibit strict Mendelian inheritance. [2]

>
> Their first report in 1990 shows that 16 family members were affected by severe abnormality, though their hearing was normal and some had normal intelligence, and that the condition was genetically inherited (autosomal dominant).

First, the speech.

Film Review THE KING'S SPEECH retrieved from Copyright © 2021 International Churchill Society. All Rights Reserved. and copied or modified to here

FEBRUARY 7, 2011 by David Freeman, for Finest Hour 150

On the last day of October, 1925 HRH Prince Albert, Duke of York, twenty-nine years old and second son of King George V, made his first broadcast speech. The occasion was the closing ceremony of the Empire Exhibition at Wembley Stadium. The Duke spoke into a microphone before a crowd of 100,000, but what often happened in private now happened in public: his words came haltingly, and he was acutely embarrassed. One man listening to the crowd that day, a speech therapist recently arrived from Australia, remarked, "He's too old for me to manage a complete cure, but I could very nearly do it."

One year later Lionel Logue had his chance. With the Duke and Duchess of York scheduled to make a Royal Tour of Australia, the need to improve the Duke's speaking became pressing. Help had been sought before, never with success, but the Duke agreed to see Logue, a man with no medical training but strongly recommended.

One year later Lionel Logue had his chance. With the Duke and Duchess of York scheduled to make a Royal Tour of Australia, the need to improve the Duke's speaking became pressing. Help had been sought before, never with success, but the Duke agreed to see Logue, a man with no medical training but strongly recommended.

The Duke and Logue hit it off from the start, and HRH left their very first meeting brimming with confidence. After two months of treatment, significant improvement in the Duke's speech became evident and the Australian tour was a fine success.

For his part King George V was delighted. Although the King had verbally abused his children when they were young, he admired the adult "Bertie," who rapidly became his favored son and preferred successor. But primogeniture was not to be questioned in those days, and so arose the 1936 Abdication Crisis.

Borderline Personality Disorder NAMI

> Genetics
>
> While no specific gene or gene profile has been shown to directly cause BPD, research suggests that people who have a close family member with BPD may be at a higher risk of developing the disorder.

Environmental factors

People who experience traumatic life eventssuch as physical or sexual abuse during childhood or neglect and separation from parentsare at increased risk of developing BPD.

Brain function

The emotional regulation system may be different in people with BPD, suggesting that there is a neurological basis for some of the symptoms. Specifically, the portions of the brain that control emotions and decision-making/judgment may not communicate optimally with one another.

Borderline Personality Disorder

Borderline Personality Disorder (BPD) is a condition characterized by difficulties regulating emotion. This means that people who experience BPD feel emotions intensely and for extended periods of time, and it is harder for them to return to a stable baseline after an emotionally triggering event.

This difficulty can lead to impulsivity, poor self-image, stormy relationships and intense emotional responses to stressors. Struggling with self-regulation can also result in dangerous behaviors such as self-harm (e.g. cutting).

It's estimated that 1.4% of the adult U.S. population experiences BPD. Nearly 75% of people diagnosed with BPD are women. Recent research suggests that men may be equally affected by BPD, but are commonly misdiagnosed with PTSD or depression.

Symptoms

People with BPD experience wide mood swings and can feel a great sense of instability and insecurity. People with BPD experience wide mood swings and can feel a great sense of instability and insecurity. According to the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual diagnostic framework, some key signs and symptoms may include:

1. Frantic efforts to avoid real or imagined abandonment by friends and family.

2. Unstable personal relationships that alternate between idealization (“I’m so in love!”) and devaluation (“I hate her”). This is also sometimes known as “splitting.”

3. Distorted and unstable self-image, which affects moods, values, opinions, goals and relationships.

4. Impulsive behaviors that can have dangerous outcomes, such as excessive spending, unsafe sex, reckless driving, or misuse or overuse of substances.

5. Self-harming behavior including suicidal threats or attempts.

6. Periods of intense depressed mood, irritability or anxiety lasting a few hours to a few days.

7. Chronic feelings of boredom or emptiness.

8. Inappropriate, intense or uncontrollable angeroften followed by shame and guilt.

9. Dissociative feelingsdisconnecting from your thoughts or sense of identity or “out of body” type of feelingsand stress-related paranoid thoughts. Severe cases of stress can also lead to brief psychotic episodes.

I have my own internal experiences (always rational though it is made to appear by mocking me I am not, I am treated as though bipolar or shchizophrenic delusional not because I am either but rather in a sapient effort of others to misdiagnose me and work to not corretly recognize my true cognitive conditionm, to hide FOXP2 isn’t that abnormal.

In addition to my own self analysis and intropsection, the observation of my mother, my skill in the language and proccess of therapy and having been in it, my knowledge of semantics and of the disorder I am a qualified subject matter exert in it and have such rare expertise uniquely available to me lines of experts try to copy into their opinions my own.

I wish to focus just for a moment on Dissassiative Feeling, the symptom described as watching yourself, in a rational way, but in some way as an observer perspective. I am going to call this ADD Spin Off Proccess (ASP).

King Prince Albert of York, later King George VI showed ASP during his speech. Likely in an event of great importance he was feeling a lot of strong emotions and with ADD he began to wander a bit internallly. While part of him was speeking, some cognitive proccess was also wandering away, not contained by the Executive Function of the forebrain. Perhaps he was wondering how the dinner after the speech would go, or some practice sessions he had done, or some other thought proccess shared time with the speech and it became jerkey and several times he had to look at his notes about where he was.

Mark Zuckerbert who I think is in the Twins Program of MKULTRA and I have both shown that often it is possible to “juggle” several things at once as a secrondary prococess is instantiated and operates in parrallell with the primvary one which the secondary process spins out of.

I am sure speech coaching did help him him, theater has been recomended to me, singing seems to be a way to flow with language, but this is a matter of holdign continous focus and I think during at least in some circumatances experiences a secondary thread in cognition.

Affix Affix into your mind the Events of 1776

George III retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

George III (George William Frederick; 4 June 1738[c] - 29 January 1820) was King of Great Britain and Ireland from 25 October 1760 until the union of the two kingdoms on 1 January 1801, after which he was King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland until his death in 1820. He was concurrently Duke and Prince-elector of Brunswick-Lüneburg (“Hanover”) in the Holy Roman Empire before becoming King of Hanover on 12 October 1814. He was a monarch of the House of Hanover but, unlike his two predecessors, he was born in Great Britain, spoke English as his first language[1] and never visited Hanover.[2]

[image]

Some now believe the bouts of vomiting and Bipolar activity were the result of poison based on a recent study of hair samples.

George's life and reign, which were longer than those of any of his predecessors, were marked by a series of military conflicts involving his kingdoms, much of the rest of Europe, and places farther afield in Africa, the Americas and Asia. Early in his reign, Great Britain defeated France in the Seven Years' War, becoming the dominant European power in North America and India. However, many of Britain's American colonies were soon lost in the American War of Independence. Further wars against revolutionary and Napoleonic France from 1793 concluded in the defeat of Napoleon at the Battle of Waterloo in 1815. In 1807, the transatlantic slave trade was banned from the British Empire.

In the later part of his life, George had recurrent, and eventually permanent, mental illness. Although it has since been suggested that he had bipolar disorder or the blood disease porphyria, the cause of his illness remains unknown. George suffered a final relapse in 1810, and his eldest son, the Prince of Wales, became Prince Regent the following year. When George III died in 1820, the Regent succeeded him as King George IV. Historical analysis of George III's life has gone through a "kaleidoscope of changing views" that have depended heavily on the prejudices of his biographers and the sources available to them.

FOXP2 and signs of Trouble in the Realm is first seen in King George V's older brother and also in King George V

Prince of Wales Albert Victor retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Prince Albert Victor, Duke of Clarence and Avondale (Albert Victor Christian Edward; 8 January 1864 - 14

January 1892) was the eldest child of the Prince and Princess of Wales (later King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra) and grandson of the reigning British monarch, Queen Victoria. From the time of his birth, he was second in the line of succession to the British throne, but did not become king as he died before his father and grandmother.

Albert Victor's intellect, sexuality, and mental health have been the subject of speculation. Rumours in his time linked him with the Cleveland Street scandal, which involved a homosexual brothel; however, there is no conclusive evidence that he ever went there, or was indeed homosexual.[1] Some authors have argued that he was the serial killer known as Jack the Ripper, but contemporaneous documents show that Albert Victor could not have been in London at the time of the murders, and the claim is widely dismissed.

Albert Victor was known to his family, and many later biographers, as "Eddy". When young, he traveled the world extensively as a naval cadet, and as an adult he joined the British Army, but did not undertake any active military duties. After two unsuccessful courtships, he became engaged to be married to Princess Victoria Mary of Teck in late 1891. A few weeks later, he died during an influenza pandemic. Mary later married his younger brother, who became King George V in 1910

In the following transcript excerpt from a video on Youtube with auto transcript the basis can be found in history for Great Britain and QEII for the affects on London of WWII and the Germans and later I will say this fits the British attitudes in Manchurian Candidate 1962 and their dislike for the Genocide acts of the Germans as Germany shifted from 1936 through 1939 including propaganda of the 1936 Berlin Olympics.

I will later assert the Prescott Geroge H.W. Bush along with SidneyGottlieb and others were working on the Speech Defect gene and created themselvs and their family lines and other family lines out of some use of Glorian, James, and other DNA as had been going on for centuries and continues today in Illuminati families like the Rockefellers and Bush family lines, the Obama, Schwarzeneggers the Kennedy's, the Kelllys, and others. LIke the Donegans.

I also assert this expertise of parents-siblings-descendents in pre-genetic sequencing era was used in plant as well as animal genetic studies and included people like the parents of Valerie Jarret in Iran.

The Remarkable Life Of The Queen Mother | A Century In 100 Minutes retrieved from Real Royalty and copied or modified to here

a tour the Duke and Duchess of Windsor made to Germany was headline news in Britain and America this upset the royal family and the British government who were concerned that Germany was rearming its war machine on a lighter note for the royal family the United States were captivated by the royal couple when in 1939 the king and queen embarked on a six-week royal tour of the continent the first reigning monarchs to set foot in North America on the 8th of June 1939 they were greeted in Washington by President Roosevelt huge crowds turned out to welcome them the king reveled at this chance to meet the world leader Queen Elizabeth and the president's wife Eleanor Roosevelt struck up an instant friendship as did their husbands on this trip they won a crucial ally for Britain their visit was a triumph which was to have far-reaching effects for Britain in the darkest days of World War 2

this relationship would prove invaluable here as in France a year before the American people were captivated by Elizabeth's dignity and grace and particularly charmed by Norman Hartnell elegant creations their tour included a visit to Canada despite initial apprehensions they received a warm welcome even among the french-speaking population in performing his public duties the king was regularly called upon to make speeches but his speech impediment which he had had since his childhood made this a grueling experience for a man with a stammer a speech in French to the people of Quebec was a particularly terrifying experience [Music] [Music] then they told our parents and I growing debt by the king and queen were thrown into a ceaseless round of work Elizabeth did all she could to lighten her husband's burden and make his official duties and public appearances easier for him in 1939 with the war clouds looming over Europe the royal family were filmed by the newsreels attending a Scout camp shortly before the war Queen Elizabeth launched the ship named after her the Queen Elizabeth was the largest ocean-going liner ever built for the Cunard Line the event was recorded by the film cameras the occasion offers a rare opportunity to hear her speaking for which they had hoped I have however a message for you from the king he bids the people of this country to be of good cheer as war was declared with Germany everyone looked to the royal family for morale and leadership in 1940 Buckingham Palace suffered a direct hit Queen Mary had been sent to badminton a safe house Elizabeth wrote to her my darling mama I hardly know how to begin to tell you of the horrible attack on Buckingham Palace this morning

Bertie and I arrived there at a quarter to eleven and he and I went up to our poor windowless rooms when the royal couple inspected the damage the Queen said "I'm glad we've been bombed now we can look the East End in the face".

There were lighter moments when an explosion hit the drainage systems the garden was flooded with rats which everyone had great fun chasing.

by the end of the war the Queen recalled there were no windows left at all poor old house while the King believed victory would eventually come the strain of the war took its toll on him he was a heavy smoker I don't think she tried to stop him smoking very much and I don't think she realized probably how bad it was for him when it came to the drinking the drinking didn't affect his daily life didn't affect his work he used to like a good hearty Sui got of the whiskey decanter and evening.

A dormant attention to book learning in what in the 1960s was called "Minimal Brain Disorder?

> minimal brain dysfunction
>
> ScienceDirect.com *
>
> In the 1960s minimal brain dysfunction (MBD) used to be a definition describing a group of children who had combinations of perception, language, attention, impulse control and motor control impairments. The term 'disorders of attention, motor and perception' or DAMP was used, particularly in Scandinavia.

I (Edward Paul Donegan) red that in my childhood medical records (MBD) though an IQ of 127. I did not know if that was corrected for age, a number next to it was about the same.

When Albert Victor was just short of seventeen months old, his brother, Prince George of Wales, was born on 3 June 1865. Given the closeness in age of the two royal brothers, they were educated together. In 1871, the Queen appointed John Neale Dalton as their tutor. The two princes were given a strict programme of study, which included games and military drills as well as academic subjects. Dalton complained that Albert Victor's mind was "abnormally dormant". Though he learned to speak Danish, progress in other languages and subjects was slow. Sir Henry Ponsonby thought that Albert Victor might have inherited his mother's deafness.[8] Albert Victor never excelled intellectually. Possible physical explanations for Albert Victor's inattention or indolence in class include absence seizures or his premature birth, which can be associated with learning difficulties, but Lady Geraldine Somerset blamed Albert Victor's poor education on Dalton, whom she considered uninspiring

Minimal Brain Damage retrieved from Science Direct
and copied or modified to here

Minimal brain damage Also called minimal brain dysfunction, minimal brain damage does not 'look' like major brain damage. A person with minimal brain dysfunction will not have 'obvious' brain damage; however, minimal dysfunction may affect behavior, emotions, learning, or memory - that is, the more subtle (or 'higher') functions of the brain. For example, although major brain damage might result in severe mental retardation, minor brain dysfunction might result in a learning disability that would not necessarily affect intelligence in any way (e.g., dyslexia). Because we know that minimal brain dysfunction appears to be related to problems such as learning disorders and hyperactivity, it is logical for scientists to be interested in the possibility that minimal brain dysfunction is related to behavioral problems like violence.

The premise of this book is the FBI, CIA, DARPA, and others have been using population groups of out of wedlock descendents of Windsor Kutscheras to study a speech gene and during these studies the CIA has been simultaneously grooming some subjects to be future leaders of a secretive elites ruling family.

Now family databases can find “the clones” and the race is on to silence and eliminate those whose existence is a risk to the corridors of power, but the attack must be convert and complete before anyone knows who was attacked or why.

The Ebb and Flow of Great Britain

Great Britain, the country made up of the Three Crowns of the England, Northern Ireland, and Scotland plus other kingdoms reached its peak in the 1920s, once having held Pakistan, the (now) Republic of Ireland, and additional territories.

In the British Imperialism rally at Wembly Stadium Prince Albert of York, younger brother to Nazi connected King Edwward VII Prince of Wales gave a bungled speech. The British empire began a search spanning generations of twins to study language and spoken and written language in the brain.

This overlapped with the expertise of Cryptography and the use of anomalies and grammatical semantics in messaging and the DARPA Brain Program in cognition and the Language of Thinking Hypothesis about how minds speak was part of Bletchley Park and information theory. Consider the information of a sentence, a thought. Put it into some script form like letters from a Scrabble game, then send the letters into a machine like a Encoder Decoder Ring, and the machinery moves thinking around in a machine, not only a mind passing a thought, but encrypting and decrypting the thought in its journey.

According to the official historian of British Intelligence, the "Ultra" intelligence produced at Bletchley shortened the war by two to four years, and without it the outcome of the war would have been uncertain.[1] The team at Bletchley Park devised automatic machinery to help with decryption, culminating in the development of Colossus, the world's first programmable digital electronic computer.[a] Codebreaking operations at Bletchley Park came to an end in 1946 and all information about the wartime operations was classified until the mid-1970s.

Admiral Hugh Sinclair was the founder and head of GC&CS between 1919 and 1938 with Commander Alastair Denniston being operational head of the organization from 1919 to 1942, beginning with its formation from the Admiralty's Room 40 (NID25) and the War Office's MI1b.[21] Key GC&CS cryptanalysts who moved from London to Bletchley Park included John Tiltman, Dillwyn "Dilly" Knox, Josh Cooper, Oliver Strachey and Nigel de Grey. These people had a variety of backgrounds - linguists and chess champions were common, and Knox's field was papyrology. The British War Office recruited top solvers of cryptic crossword puzzles, as these individuals had strong lateral thinking skills.

In January 1945, at the peak of codebreaking efforts, nearly 10,000 personnel were working at Bletchley and its outstations.[43] About three-quarters of these were women.[43] Many of the women came from middle-class backgrounds and held degrees in the areas of mathematics, physics and engineering; they were given chance due to the lack of men, who had been sent to war. They performed calculations and coding and hence were integral to the computing processes.[44] Among them were Eleanor Ireland who worked on the Colossus computers[45] and Ruth Briggs, a German scholar, who worked within the Naval Section.

The female staff in Dilwyn Knox's section were sometimes termed "Dilly's Fillies".[48] Knox's methods enabled Mavis Lever (who married mathematician and fellow code-breaker Keith Batey) and Margaret Rock to solve a German code, the Abwehr cipher.

Many of the women had backgrounds in languages, particularly French, German and Italian. Among them were Rozanne Colchester, a translator who worked mainly for the Italian air forces Section,[51] and Cicely Mayhew, recruited straight from university, who worked in Hut 8, translating decoded German Navy signals.

The Kennedy Administration including Catholic French JFK wife Jackie Kennedy and John F. Kennedy were a threat to Great Britain long term plan for the well founded (Rothschild's) return of Houses of Royals flowing back under Great Britain rule.

> Ebb and Flow (also called ebb flood and flood drain) are two phases of the tide or any similar movement of water. The ebb is the outgoing phase, when the tide drains away from the shore; and the flow is the incoming phase when water rises again. The terms are also common in figurative use.

Following WWII and the Atomic Bombing and Los Alamos project the British made a point I have made, that the Manhattan Project was conducted in the USA but not a USA project, using world physicists and planners.

England, the Queen of England, likely felt the same way and saw the Irish president of the USA a threat to the glory of Britain, and British goals for Ireland, Pakistan, and other locations, and British plans for taking on Eastern Europe as well.

This book relies on sources like this https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2pUmLlg6tcs and also highlights JFKs arrival in San Antonio Texas, and the agriculture ties to Australia and JFK appointed Ambassador to Australia in the H-E-B Grocery Chain, a Southern Baptist ministry of Laity Lodge Hill Country Agriculture, and the USDA and USAID role in the plans leading to the assassination of JFK.

The Curse of the Kennedy's comes from inside the Kennedy family and Joseph Kennedy Sr. aligned with Great Brittian will will erupt in 1961 during the Republic of Ireland Troubles

[image]

Rose Elizabeth Fitzgerald Kennedy (July 22, 1890 - January 22, 1995) was an American philanthropist, socialite, and a member of the Kennedy family. She was deeply embedded in the “lace curtain” Irish Catholic community in Boston, where her father John F. Fitzgerald was mayor. Kennedy was the wife of businessman and investor Joseph P. Kennedy Sr., who was United States Ambassador to the United Kingdom, formally known as Ambassador to the Court of St. James’s in the UK. Their nine children included President John F. Kennedy, Senator Robert F. Kennedy, and longtime Senator Ted Kennedy. In 1951 she was ennobled by Pope Pius XII, becoming the sixth American woman to be granted the rank of Papal countess.

The word “hydrangea” is derived from Greek hydor meaning “water” and angeion meaning “vessel,” referring to the plant’s seed pods, which look like small water perhpaps of blue water

DAILY JFK The Life of John F. Kennedy retrieved from dailyjfk.com and copied or modified to here

Joseph Kennedy JR born

Joseph Patrick Kennedy Jr. (July 25, 1915 - August 12, 1944) was the eldest of the nine children born to Joseph P. Kennedy Sr.

John F. Kennedy Born May 29 1917

John Fitzgerald Kennedy was born outside Boston in Brookline, Massachusetts on May 29, 1917, at 83 Beals Street,[4] to Joseph P. Kennedy Sr., a businessman and politician, and Rose Kennedy

Tuesday, June 19, 1917

Baptism

JFK is baptized at St. Aidan's Roman Catholic Church in Brookline, Massachusetts. He is given as his first and middle names the name of his maternal grandfather, John Fitzgerald, the former mayor of Boston and United States Congressman.

February 20, 1920 Birth of Kathleen Agnes "Kick" Kennedy

Became the wife of the Marquess of Hartington, heir apparent to the 10th Duke of Devonshire.

When her father was serving as United States Ambassador to the United Kingdom, Kathleen made many friends in London and was the "debutante of 1938." Working with the Red Cross, she began a romantic relationship with Lord Hartington, whom she married in May 1944. He was killed on active service in Belgium only four months later.

Kathleen died in a plane crash in 1948, flying to the south of France while on vacation with her new partner, the 8th Earl Fitzwilliam.

July 10, 1921 JFK's younger sister Eunice Kennedy is born

JFK's younger sister Eunice Kennedy is born in Brookline, Massachusetts. She is named after Rose Kennedy's sister.

November 25 1925 Robert Francis Kennedy (Bobby) is born

Will serve as Attorney General, US Senator, and run for President

August 13, 1926 Rose Kennedy departs for an extended trip to Europe

Rose Kennedy departs for an extended trip to Europe, leaving behind JFK and his siblings in Brookline. She spends he days on vacation going to bullfights and dining in fine restaurants. In the diary she kept of the trip, she does not mention any of her children.

[had she written anything at all we would have what she had said and also known what was not said other than all was unsaid.] This is the year followin The King;s (Prince Albert of York, married to Quenn Elizibeth II) Speech. Despite poor vocal performance Prince Alber of York will assume the Thrown as King George VI and replace abdicating Nazi tied King Edward of Wales, all this 10 years later in 1936 as Austria is siezed]

[image]

*Joseph Kennedy Sr*Born Joseph Patrick Kennedy September 6, 1888 Boston, Massachusetts, U.S. maried to Rose Kennedy

"Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Joseph Patrick Kennedy Jr. (July 25, 1915 - August 12, 1944) was the eldest of the nine children born to Joseph P. Kennedy Sr. and Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy. A US Navy lieutenant, he was killed in action during World War II while serving as a land-based patrol bomber pilot, and posthumously awarded the Navy Cross. Operation Aphrodite made use of unmanned, explosive-laden Army Air Corps Boeing B-17 Flying Fortress and Navy Consolidated PB4Y-1 Liberator bombers that were deliberately crashed into their targets under radio control.[7] These "drone" aircraft could not take off safely on their own and so a crew of two would take off and fly to 2,000 feet (610 m) before they activated the remote control system, armed the detonators, and parachuted from the aircraft. After trials, the first mission took place on August 4, 1944, against targets including the Fortress of Mimoyecques, an underground military complex under construction in northern France. One year later the order for the atomic bombing of Japan was ordered on the Queen Mother's birthday, and the bomb was developed under the name Trinity and supported by Roman Catholics. - wikipedia

Operation Aphrodite made use of unmanned, explosive-laden Army Air Corps Boeing B-17 Flying Fortress and Navy Consolidated PB4Y-1 Liberator bombers that were deliberately crashed into their targets under radio control.

Were they in a secretive mission still not disclosed and were the two Kennedy brothers wounded, one fatally?

> Within months of arriving in the Pacific, Kennedy's boat was rammed by a Japanese destroyer, killing 2 crew members and stranding Kennedy and his surviving shipmates, marking the beginning of the famous PT-109 episode in which Kennedy towed a badly wounded crewman with the strap of his life jacket clenched between his teeth for a punishing 5-hour swim to a nearby island. The survivors were eventually rescued and Kennedy would serve another 6 weeks before ending his Pacific tour of duty on November 18

Joseph Kennedy Jr Born: July 25, 1915, Hull, MA
Died: August 12, 1944,

June 23, 1944: The First FJK Back Surgery. Surviving the collision with the Japanese destroyer and enduring the grueling nature of the subsequent rescue worsened JFK's back problems. Therefore, once he returned stateside, he was evaluated by a team of physicians at the Mayo Clinic, including noted orthopedist Dr. Ralph Gormley, who summarized Lt. Kennedy's condition at that time as "confined … to the region of the left sacroiliac with pain in the posterior part of the left hip down as far as the knee."

Given that Kennedy's presentation was not an obvious one for a herniated disc, he underwent an air myelogram and the Mayo team stated that "a diagnosis of a protruded disk was not definite … at this time you are not in need of surgery." *

The undertaking of the back surgery was the day after JFK had flight training at Emmerory Riddle, perhaps a flight accident?

[image]

Jan. 13, 1942: Ejection Seat Works, Pilot Elated

1942: At the height of World War II, German test pilot Helmut Schenck becomes the first person known to use an ejection seat to successfully exit his aircraft in an emergency situation.

Schenck, testing a Heinkel He-280 jet fighter, was in tow behind a conventionally powered aircraft when his plane iced up, making it impossible to start his engines. He jettisoned his canopy and activated the seat. Powered by compressed gas, the seat catapulted him clear of the aircraft.

Schenck was the first to use this method of exiting his aircraft in an emergency. Another Heinkel pilot had previously ejected successfully under test conditions.

Germany, which produced the Messerschmitt Me-262, the world's first operational jet fighter, also led the way in developing the ejection seat (.pdf). This was logical enough, considering that the speed and g-forces generated by these high-speed planes made escape problematical for a pilot equipped with only a parachute. Exiting the aircraft by "bailing out," as was common in propeller-driven planes, was exceedingly dangerous in a jet aircraft.

The British also studied aircraft ejection during the interwar years but set the project aside in favor of other pursuits. They would not seriously revisit the subject until after the war.

Ejection seats were eventually installed in several jet-aircraft models flown by the Luftwaffe, including the Heinkel He-162 Volksjäger, the Arado Ar-234B Nachtigal and the Messerschmitt Me-163 Komet. Strangely, the ejection seat was only rarely installed in the Me-262, which was the most widely used German jet fighter of the war.

From the time of Schenck's successful escape to the end of World War II, approximately 60 Luftwaffe airmen ejected from their planes in combat situations.

My (Edwward Paul Donegan) father (James Paul Donegan) flew in the first, second and would have been potentially third atomic bombing runs against. He was a P-51 pilot in the Manhattan Project and those planes flew with the B-17s and and b-29s for bombing/counter bombing London, Dresden, and other combat areas and this was led by Gen Doolitle. Folowing this my father was in above ground testing in the Santa Sousana Field Labrotory SSFL fields working including Hawaii and Las Vega nuclear above ground testing programs. I was born near the P-51 plant in Inglewood neighborhood Manhattan Beach city of Los Angeles County in a Catholic hospital and JFK seemed to be present at my birth.

This books narrative uses my birth in that context wiuth a theoritcal that Obama Jr. was another birth, half brother, at that same delivery, and this book is the narrative of that MKULUTRA Birthe theory and why learing to talk at two years old is important for the FOXP2 gene.

Joseph P. Kennedy Jr.'s father Jospeh Fitzpatrick (and his wife Rose) had aspirations for him to become US president.[1] He was a delegate to the 1940 Democratic National Convention and planned to run for a seat in the US House of Representatives after his military service as the first stepping stone on the path to the White House.[1] His death while participating in a top-secret mission in 1944 caused his father to transfer his aspirations to his next-oldest son, John F. Kennedy,[1] who followed the path first planned for his brother by advancing from the House to the US Senate and then to the presidency.

*John F. Kennedy*John Fitzgerald Kennedy (May 29, 1917 - November 22, 1963), often referred to by his initials JFK, was an American politician who served as the 35th president of the United States from 1961 until his assassination near the end of his third year in office. Kennedy served at the height of the Cold War, and the majority of his work as president concerned relations with the Soviet Union and Cuba. A Democrat, Kennedy represented Massachusetts in both houses of the U.S. Congress prior to his presidency.

*Rosemary Kennedy*Rose Marie "Rosemary" Kennedy (September 13, 1918 - January 7, 2005) was the eldest daughter born to Joseph P. Kennedy Sr. and Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy. She was a sister of President John F. Kennedy and Senators Robert F. and Ted Kennedy. In her early young adult years, Rosemary Kennedy experienced seizures and violent mood swings. In response to these issues, her father arranged a prefrontal lobotomy for her in 1941 when she was 23 years of age; the procedure left her permanently incapacitated and rendered her unable to speak intelligibly. Rosemary Kennedy spent most of the rest of her life being cared for at St. Coletta, an institution in Jefferson, Wisconsin. The truth about her situation and whereabouts was kept secret for decades. While she was initially isolated from her siblings and extended family following her lobotomy, Rosemary did go on to visit them during her later life.

Kathleen Cavendish, Marchioness of Hartington Kathleen Agnes Cavendish, Marchioness of Hartington (née Kennedy; February 20, 1920 - May 13, 1948), also known as “Kick” Kennedy,[1][2] was an American socialite. She was the second daughter of Joseph P. Kennedy, Sr. and Rose Kennedy as well as a sister of former U.S. President John F. Kennedy and Senators Robert F. Kennedy and Edward M. “Ted” Kennedy and the wife of the Marquess of Hartington, heir apparent to the 10th Duke of Devonshire. When her father was serving as United States Ambassador to the United Kingdom, Kathleen made many friends in London and was the “debutante of 1938.” Working with the Red Cross, she began a romantic relationship with Lord Hartington, whom she married in May 1944. He was killed on active service in Belgium only four months later. Kathleen died in a plane crash in 1948, flying to the south of France while on vacation with her new partner, the 8th Earl Fitzwilliam.

*Eunice Kennedy Shriver*Eunice Mary Kennedy Shriver DSG (July 10, 1921 - August 11, 2009) was an American philanthropist[1] and a member of the Kennedy family. She was the founder of the Special Olympics, a sports organization for persons with physical and intellectual disabilities. For her efforts on behalf of the disabled, Shriver was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom in 1984. She was a sister of U.S. President John F. Kennedy, U.S. Senators Robert F.

Kennedy and Edward Kennedy, Rosemary Kennedy, and U.S. Ambassador to Ireland Jean Kennedy Smith, as well as the sister-in-law of Jacqueline Kennedy. She was married to Sargent Shriver, who was the United States Ambassador to France and was the Democratic nominee for Vice President of the United States in 1972

Joseph P. Kennedy Sr Died November 18, 1969 having survived the Kennedy Curse and living longer than any of his children in House Camelot Hyannis Port, Massachusetts, U.S.

The theory of this book theory and several movie analogies used in this book.

Powers that Be: Windsors, Vatican (Rose Kennedy), DuPont (Manhattan Project and Camdem SC employer of Glorian s brother Harold, Vatican and Rose Kennedy, Britain and Joseph Kennedy Sr. planning his war here Jr. for POTUS The 1926 exfill of Von Trapp Maria Kutschera and 1926 “Kings Daughters” study children Glorian, Marylin, one other) Columbia University NYC

Joseph Kennedy Sr and Rose Kennedy

English Monarch

Vatican

(Allies Forces led World Order)

Glorian Doneag (mother Per stories

James Paul Donega P-51 Manhat

Happy Donega Nuclear Enginee Cape

Joseph P. Kenned Jr. Planned

John F. Kennedy Actual POTUS told to me it appears the abdicated King Edward father of hers (not on my fathers side) Was King Edward VIII, too close to Franz Kutschera's daughters) Mitochondria being erased from the Earth Project Pilot Father)

Cod (Uncle)

POTUS Aug 4 1944 Manhattan Project B-17 death of Joseph Kennedy Jr. Would his war story exceeded that of a PT Boats skipper?

Thomas Neil Donega (D-E-W attacke)

Edward Paul Donega Novem (me) 19 1961 Manhat Beach (D-E-W attacke no naturua childre

B-29 Dunham Barrack Obama Jr, birth certificate Aug 4 financied by the Joseph Pk Kennedy Jr Foundation

1961 (Half Brother)

No natural children

Malcom X (Donald Barr (unidentified in publicity photo) hols and expermintal monkey in white house

Future POTUS

Assassination upon two year birthday of me and an experimental monkey held in the White Hosue by Donald Barr Novermber 23 or 1961, Trinity Baptist in Chicago starts a few days alter and raises Barrack Obama Jr.

St. Josephs Hospital Manhattan Beach includes DARPA NASA studied twins AND MCMartin preschool CIA facility

From a very young age, Joseph Kennedy Jr. was groomed by his father and predicted to be the first Roman Catholic US president. When he was born, his grandfather John F. Fitzgerald, the mayor of Boston, told the news: “This child is the future president of the nation.”[2] He often boasted that he would be president even without help from his father.

> Attempted first Aphrodite attack Twelve August with robot taking off from Fersfield at One Eight Zero Five Hours. Robot exploded in the air at approximately two thousand feet eight miles southeast of Halesworth at One Eight Two Zero hours. Wilford J. Willy Sr Grade Lieutenant and Joseph P. Kennedy Sr Grade Lieutenant, both USNR, were killed. Commander Smith, in command of this unit, is making full report TO US Naval Operations. A more detailed report will be forwarded to you when interrogation is completed
>
> - Top Secret telegram to General Carl Andrew Spaatz from General Jimmy Doolittle, August 1944

General Spaatz received a temporary promotion to general March 11, 1945, and was assigned to Air Force Headquarters in Washington, D.C., in June 1945. The following month he assumed command of the U.S. Strategic Air Forces in the Pacific, with headquarters on Guam. There he supervised the final strategic bombing of Japan by the B-29, including the two atomic bomb missions. He was present at all three signings of unconditional surrender by the enemy, at Rheims, Berlin and Tokyo.

Why I am a Targeted Individual. The Free Masons overlap with FBI and Free Mason families have a coverup need of what they did wroing in the the USA and to the USA.

[image]

Twins were created and studied regarding a speech defect. Thos in the CIA program without the langauge defect may become CIA backed leaders

And then came 1961, the Troubles in Ireland, and JFK resentment to English groomed leaders planted around the world. In the USA JFK as a State Department belief and a personal reaffirmation of US political philosophy backs republicanism. JFK begins firing the CIA assassinations program that program preparing US backed replacements ready to take over for overthrown or dead existing foreign leaders.

My father turns atheist after his best friend is betrayed by the Catholic church (as Ireland is) and my father and his parents loyal to both, overcoming Boston WASP oppression.

The British weapons designs (Whitehead Torpedo) perhaps, or the Columbia University New York NYC overlooking Manhattan Island becoming the Manhattan Project or the P-51 being a North American Aviation manufactured British Spitfire Marlin is what might be called the Very Special Relationship Joseph Kennedy Sr. and others like the DuPont, Kellogg, and other families had with the British during WWII and the enormous industrial capacity of the USA.

From 1960 or so until 1962 begin some life path changes from George H.W. Bush (son of MKULTRA Prescott Bush) in Bush's move to Texas to go into politics to defeat the far-right (as well as the oil business as a CIA FronT Company) called Zapata Oil and in 1962 November 18 Richard Chenney will experience being pulled over by the police and afterwards alter his life course asserting that the police had charged him with drunk driving.

Lyndon B. Johson will have a minister named Jim Jones who runs a CIA fugurist transcendentalist movement in Jonestown Guyanna investigated by Leo Ryan who was murdered along with the Jonestown residents on a November 18th day.

Johnson had his particular brand of persuasion, known as "The Johnson Treatment".[298] A contemporary writes, "It was an incredible blend of badgering, cajolery, reminders of past favors, promises of future favors, predictions of gloom if something doesn't happen. When that man started to work on you, all of a sudden, you just felt that you were standing under a waterfall and the stuff was pouring on you." [and would lean provocatively into your face as body language and violating personal space]

Johson has a plant to promote Christianity rather than Islam among poor blacks, fits Barrack Obama Sr. and Jr.
retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Johnson's cowboy hat and boots reflected his Texas roots and genuine love of the rural Hill Country. From 250 acres (100 ha) of land that he was given by an aunt in 1951, he created a 2,700-acre (1,100 ha) working ranch with 400 head of registered Hereford cattle. The National Park Service keeps a herd of Hereford cattle descended from Johnson's registered herd and maintains the ranch property.

Biographer Randall Woods argues that Social Gospel themes Johnson learned from childhood allowed him to transform social problems into moral problems. This helps explain his longtime commitment to social justice, as exemplified by the Great Society and his commitment to racial equality. The Social Gospel Southern Methodist?] explicitly inspired his foreign-policy approach to a sort of Christian internationalism [along with the Anglican Church in Kenya] and nation-building. For example, in a 1966 speech he quoted at length from the Social Creed of the Methodist Church issued in 1940, adding "It would be very hard for me to write a more perfect description of the American ideal."

JFK'S FORGOTTEN DALLAS MOTORCADE: THE UNSEEN FILM AND PHOTOS

Campaign '60 The candidate and his running mate made a two-day dash through Texas that would test the new parameters of the Kennedy-Johnson relationship. Stars icon BY ALAN PEPPARD *

[image]

JOHN F. KENNEDY WAS JUST DAYS from securing the 1960 Democratic nomination for president when Dr. W.A. Criswell strode, bible in hand, to the carved wooden altar of the mighty First Baptist Church in Dallas.

Chopping the July air with disdain, he prophesied that the election of the Catholic Kennedy would “spell the death of a free church in a free state.”

The following week, when Kennedy was nominated on the first ballot, it came with an added sting for Criswell and other conservative Texans: Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson, a son of the , joined the ticket in the No. 2 spot.

Ron Paul served as a flight surgeon in the U.S. Air Force from 196 worked as an obstetrician-gynecologist from the 1960s to the 1980s
Howard Paul is a US Senator and was born January 7 1963. From 1
Ron Paul served in the US Air Force via Texas National Guard.

Hill Country Texas region - he Texas Hill Country is a geographic region of Central and South Texas, forming the southeast part of the Edwards Plateau. Given its location, climate, terrain, and vegetation, the Hill Country can be considered the border between the American Southeast and Southwest.[1] The region represents the very remote rural countryside of Central Texas but also is home to growing suburban neighborhoods and affluent retirement communities.[2]

Dallas Rep. Bruce Alger, Texas’ lone Republican in Congress, called it a capitulation “to radical forces of the East and North.”

Wednesday, May 24, 1961

May 24, 1961

JFK hosted a luncheon for Prince Rainier and the Philadelphia born and raised Princess Grace of Monaco. The athletic physique, broad shoulders, and muscular arms of the First Lady are highlighted by the sleeveless syle of dress that she often wore.

JFK and Jackie with Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco at the west entrance of the White House (photo courtesy JFK Library)

JFK hosted a luncheon for Prince Rainier and the Philadelphia born and raised Princess Grace of Monaco. The athletic physique, broad shoulders, and muscular arms of the First Lady are highlighted by the sleeveless style of dress that she often wore.

Wednesday, February 15, 1961 February 15, 1961 JFK is in Washington where he accepts an Irish christening cup for his son from Irish Ambassador Thomas J. Kiernan. John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr. (November 25, 1960 - July 16, 1999), often referred to as John-John or JFK Jr.,

Grabbing the Houston Gauntlet

CRISWELL'S JULY 3 SERMON had been the Protestant clergy's warning shot. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale and Dr. Daniel Poling, editor of the Christian Herald, began the real barrage in early September, charging that the Vatican would trump the Constitution in a Kennedy White House.

> “I’m getting tired of these people who think I want to replace the gold at Fort Knox with a supply of holy water”
>
> - John F. Kennedy, on the role Catholicism would play in his presidency
>
> “I’m getting tired of these people who think I want to replace the gold at Fort Knox with a supply of holy water,” JFK snapped privately.
>
> In Texas, members of the Greater Houston Ministerial Association joined the offensive by pressing Kennedy to address their group.
>
> “They’re mostly Republicans, and they’re out to get you,” warned Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, a Hard Shell Baptist from Bonham, northeast of Dallas.
>
> He knew that the evangelicals who dominated Texas were vigilant against what they saw as the two great conspiracies for world domination - communism and Catholicism. Kennedy’s brass-knuckle aide Kenny O’Donnell agreed: “If you have to meet the religious issue, Houston is not the place to do it.”
>
> But the candidate smelled an opportunity. “Tell them I’m going to do it,” JFK responded.

[image]. [image]

Gregory Wayne Abbott (born November 13, 1957) is an American politician, attorney, and former jurist serving since 2015 as the 48th governor of Texas. A member of the Republican Party, he served as Attorney General of Texas from 2002 to 2015 and as a member of the Texas Supreme Court from 1996 to 2001. Abbott was elected governor in 2014 and re-elected in 2018.

> Why Texas Gov. Greg Abbott uses a wheelchair
>
> The Dallas Morning News *
>
> Just as he was on the cusp of succeeding he was nearly lost. “You wake up, you study, you take a break, you go out for a run,” Abbott told Theodore Kim in an interview for a 2010 profile. “There was no forewarning, foreboding, no thinking that my life would change forevermore.”
>
> Surgeons found that Abbott had bone fragments lodged in his broken spine. He also had fractured ribs and damaged kidneys. After the accident, Abbott was forced to lie flat for a month before starting the rehab process.
>
> The governor passed the bar exam a year later, starting him on the path toward a career in politics. During his 2014 gubernatorial election campaign, he often told crowds that the accident literally gave him “a spine of steel.”

The lawuit which which padded his wheelchair with about 8 million dollars suggests some wrongdoing on behalf of someone or some company.

Cecilia Phalen Abbott (born November 13, 1959) is the First Lady of Texas. She is married to Greg Abbott, and is the first Hispanic First Lady of Texas.

Cecilia Phalen was born on November 13, 1959. She is the granddaughter of Mexican immigrants.[1] Abbott was raised in San Antonio, Texas by her parents, who were both educators, and she had three siblings. Abbott graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School. She then attended University of Texas at Austin, where she met her future husband, Greg Abbott.[2] She later attended University of St. Thomas, where she received a bachelor's degree in Psychology, a master's degree in Education, and a master's degree in Theology.[3] She married Greg Abbott in 1981, with whom she shares a birthday. They have one adopted daughter, Audrey. The Abbott family currently lives in the Texas Governors Mansion in Austin, Texas. They have two dogs: Pancake, who is known as the First Dog of Texas, and Peaches, who is known as the First Puppy of Texas.

Clones? In Texas

Michael Saul Dell (born February 23, 1965) is an American billionaire businessman and philanthropist. He is the founder, chairman and CEO of Dell Technologies, one of the world's largest technology infrastructure companies.[1] He is ranked 25th richest in the world by Bloomberg Billionaires Index, with a net worth of US$51.7 billion as of April 17, 2021.

In 2011, his 243.35 million shares of Dell stock were worth $3.5 billion, giving him 12% ownership of the company.[3] His remaining wealth of roughly $10 billion is invested in other companies and is managed by MSD Capital, which incorporates his initials.[4] In January 2013 it was announced that he had bid to take Dell Inc. private for $24.4 billion in the biggest management buyout since the Great Recession. Dell Inc. officially went private in October 2013.[5] The company once again went public in December 2018.[6]

Dell serves on the Foundation Board of the World Economic Forum, the executive committee of the International Business Council, the U.S. Business Council. He previously served as a member of the U.S. President's Council of Advisors on Science and Technology.[35] In April 2020, Governor Greg Abbott named Dell to the Strike Force to Open Texas - a group "tasked with finding safe and effective ways to slowly reopen the state" during the COVID-19 pandemic.[36]

Philanthropy In 1999, Michael and Susan Dell established the Michael and Susan Dell Foundation, which focuses on, among other causes, grants, urban education, childhood health and family economic stability. In 2006, the foundation provided $50 million in grants to three health-related organizations associated with the University of Texas: the Michael & Susan Dell Center for Advancement of Healthy Living, the Dell Pediatric Research Institute to complement the Dell Children's Medical Center, as well as funding for a new computer science building at the University of Texas at Austin campus.[43] - Wikipedia

POLITICAL NOTES: Straws in the Wind Monday, Nov. 16, 1959 retrieved from Time Magazine and copied or modified to here

In Detroit, Teamster Boss Jimmy Hoffa announced ferociously that his huge, racket-riddled union would organize nationally to defeat every one of the 324 Senators and Representatives who voted for the hated Landrum-Griffin labor-reform bill. Singled out on Hoffa's purge list: Massachusetts' Senator John F. Kennedy, top banana of the Democratic presidential hopefuls ("I won't support any spoiled millionaires," huffed Hoffa), and-surprisingly-Michigan's Senator Patrick V. McNamara, longtime (1937-55) president of the Detroit Pipefitters (A.F.L.) and shameless apologist for the Teamsters Union during the Senate investigation of Hoffa and his henchmen. Still a political toddler, Hoffa may regret his hasty ukase against Pat McNamara: he may have unwittingly painted himself into the corner of Congressman Robert P. Griffin, 36, one of the likeliest of Republican candidates for McNamara's Senate seat next year, and one of the sponsors of the labor-reform bill.

The Baptist General Convention of Texas, meeting in Corpus Christi, struck a glancing blow at Roman Catholic candidates for high political office, e.g., Jack Kennedy, California's Governor Pat Brown. The convention advised its 1,600,000 fellow Baptists that, since "the Roman Church is both a religion and an ambitious political system aspiring to be a state, we recommend that our people bear these facts in mind when they are asked to vote for a Catholic official."

Passing through Denver, the Democrats' presidential anchor man, Hubert Humphrey, paused in a backroom to give some local politicos his current rundown on the situation. Items: Lyndon Johnson and Jack Kennedy are "as good as out of it now"; of his other rivals, only Stuart Symington and Adlai Stevenson are "still possibilities"; Humphrey will take on Kennedy in the Wisconsin and Oregon primaries, will "clobber him in both." And, "if I see I cannot make it, I will sit down and talk with Stevenson."

The morning mail brought a noteworthy item to city rooms all over Texas. It was a reprint of an editorial from a Texas paper: "Lyndon Baines Johnson, the senior Senator from Texas, and the Senate majority leader, has become one of our greatest statesmen. And the Paris News wishes to say in plain words that it feels Lyndon Johnson should be the next President of the United States." At the bottom of the release was an arresting editor's note: "This editorial is being mailed to all weekly and daily newspapers in Texas at the request of Senator Lyndon B. Johnson."

Tip O'Neill retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Member of the U.S. House of Representatives

Thomas Phillip “Tip” O’Neill Jr. (December 9, 1912 - January 5, 1994) was an American politician who served as the 47th Speaker of the United States House of Representatives from 1977 to 1987, representing northern Boston, Massachusetts, as a Democrat from 1953 to 1987. The only Speaker to serve for five complete consecutive Congresses, he is the third longest-serving Speaker in American history after Sam Rayburn and Henry Clay in terms of total tenure and longest-serving in terms of continuous tenure (Rayburn and Clay served multiple terms in the Speakership).

Born in North Cambridge, Massachusetts, O’Neill began campaigning at a young age, volunteering for Al Smith’s campaign in the 1928 presidential election. After graduating from Boston College, O’Neill won election to the Massachusetts House of Representatives, where he became a strong advocate of Franklin D. Roosevelt’s New Deal policies. He became Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1949 and won election to the United States House of Representatives in 1952 to the seat vacated by John F. Kennedy.

In office January 3, 1953 - January 3, 1987 Preceded by John F. Kennedy Succeeded by Joseph P. Kennedy II

US House or Frepresentives Majorityh Whip Preceded by Hale Boggs (also a practicing Catholic]

Tip O’Neill was the third of three children born to Thomas Phillip O’Neill and Rose Ann (née Tolan) O’Neill in the Irish middle-class area of North Cambridge, Massachusetts, known at the time as “Old Dublin.” His mother died when he was nine months old, and he was raised largely by a French-Canadian housekeeper until his father remarried when he was eight. O’Neill Sr. started out as a bricklayer, but later won a seat on the Cambridge City Council and was appointed Superintendent of Sewers. During his childhood, O'Neill received the nickname "Tip" after the Canadian baseball player James "Tip" O'Neill.[1] He was educated in Roman Catholic schools, graduating in 1931 from the now defunct St. John High School in Cambridge, where he was captain of the basketball team; he was a lifelong parishioner at the school's affiliated parish church St. John the Evangelist [Roman Catholic] Church. From there he went to Boston College, from which he graduated in 1936.

An equally publicized threat to England was the "disability" of the FOXP2 gene, the Kings Speech gene, which is tied to a hidden but existing genetic liability running in English and Cape Cod family lines.

Lyndon B. Johnson retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

[image]

Lyndon B. Johnson in 1960, 1961, and perhaps earlier seemed to have been involved with Herman Edward Butts, a Baptist plan in Texas tied to agriculture and USAID in Australia, Indonesia, and other locations in which some Sleeper Agents would be planted via the Peace Corps, and this appears tied to Baptist San Antonia family of Herman Edward Butts and William Cook of Chicago Baptists, forming the Tinity Baptist Church in Chicago, and I believe this LBJ backed plan was Windsor Ulster Irish backed and also created Barrack Obama.

Lyndon Baines Johnson (August 27, 1908 - January 22, 1973), often referred to by his initials LBJ, was the 36th president of the United States, serving from 1963 to 1969. He had previously served as the 37th vice president from 1961 to 1963 under President John F. Kennedy. A Democrat from Texas, Johnson also served as a U.S. representative, U.S. senator and the Senate's majority leader. He holds the distinction of being one of the few presidents who served in all elected offices at the federal level.

Johnson had one brother, Sam Houston Johnson, and three sisters, Rebekah, Josefa, and Lucia. The nearby small town of Johnson City, Texas, was named after LBJ's father's cousin, James Polk Johnson, whose forebears had moved west from Georgia.[

Johnson had English-Irish, German, and Ulster Scots ancestry. Through his mother, he was a great-grandson of pioneer Baptist clergyman George Washington Baines, who pastored eight churches in Texas, as well as others in Arkansas and Louisiana.

Johnson married Claudia Alta Taylor, also known as "Lady Bird", of Karnack, Texas, on November 17, 1934. He met her after he had attended Georgetown University Law Center for several months. Johnson later quit his Georgetown studies after the first semester in 1934.[36] During their first date he asked her to marry him; many dates later, she finally agreed.[37] The wedding was officiated by Rev. Arthur R. McKinstry at St. Mark's Episcopal Church in San Antonio.[38] They had two daughters, Lynda Bird, born in 1944, and Luci Baines, born in 1947. Johnson gave his children names with the LBJ initials; his dog was Little Beagle Johnson.

Born in a farmhouse in Stonewall, Texas to a local political family, Johnson worked as a high school teacher and a congressional aide before winning election to the U.S. House of Representatives in 1937. He won election to the United States Senate from Texas in 1948 after narrowly winning the Democratic Party's nomination.[2] He was appointed to the position of Senate Majority Whip in 1951.

In the 1952 general election, Republicans won a majority in both the House and Senate. Among defeated Democrats that year was McFarland, who lost to upstart Barry Goldwater. In January 1953, Johnson was chosen by his fellow Democrats to be Minority Leader; he became the most junior senator ever elected to this position. One of his first actions was to eliminate the seniority system in making appointments to committees while retaining it for chairmanships.

In the 1954 election, Johnson was re-elected to the Senate and, since the Democrats won the majority in the Senate, then became majority leader. Former Majority Leader William Knowland of California, became the Minority Leader. Johnson's duties were to schedule legislation and help pass measures favored by the Democrats. Johnson, Rayburn and President Dwight D. Eisenhower worked well together in passing Eisenhower's domestic and foreign agenda.

A 60-cigarette-per-day smoker, Johnson suffered a near-fatal heart attack on July 2, 1955, at age 46. He abruptly gave up smoking as a result and, with only a couple of exceptions, did not resume the habit until after he left the White House on January 20, 1969. Johnson announced he would remain as his party's leader in the Senate on New Year's Eve 1955, his doctors reporting he had made "a most satisfactory recovery" since his heart attack five months prior

He became the Senate Democratic leader in 1953 and majority leader in 1954. In 1960 Johnson ran for the Democratic nomination for president. During the convention he came into conflict with the Democratic front-runner, fellow senator John F. Kennedy. The two men compromised and the Kennedy-Johnson ticket won in the 1960 presidential election. Vice President Johnson would assume the presidency on November 22, 1963 after President Kennedy was assassinated. The following year Johnson was elected to the presidency when he won in a landslide against Arizona Senator Barry Goldwater. Johnson received 61.1% of the popular vote in the 1964 presidential election; this makes his victory the largest share of the popular vote of any candidate since James Monroe's victory in 1820.

Candidacy for president - Johnson made a late entry into the campaign in July 1960 which, coupled with a reluctance to leave Washington, allowed the rival Kennedy campaign to secure a substantial early advantage among Democratic state party officials. Johnson underestimated Kennedy's endearing qualities of charm and intelligence, as compared to his reputation as the more crude and wheeling-dealing "Landslide Lyndon".[69] Caro suggests that Johnson's hesitancy was the result of an overwhelming fear of failure.

Johnson attempted in vain to capitalize on Kennedy's youth, poor health, and failure to take a position regarding Joseph McCarthy.[71] He had formed a "Stop Kennedy" coalition with Adlai Stevenson, Stuart Symington, and Hubert Humphrey, but it proved a failure. Johnson received 409 votes on the only ballot at the Democratic convention to Kennedy's 806, and so the convention nominated Kennedy. Tip O'Neill was a representative from Kennedy's home state of Massachusetts at that time, and he recalled that Johnson approached him at the convention and said, "Tip, I know you have to support Kennedy at the start, but I'd like to have you with me on the second ballot." O'Neill replied, "Senator, there's not going to be any second ballot."

Joseph McCarthy

Support from Roman

Catholics and the Kennedy family *

McCarthy object to the end of WWII under General Marshall, the Marshall Plan, and cites 205 conspirators list of Communisim connected Deep State.

One of the strongest bases of anti-Communist sentiment in the United States was the Catholic community, which constituted over 20% of the national vote. McCarthy identified himself as Catholic, and although the great majority of Catholics were Democrats, as his fame as a leading anti-Communist grew, he became popular in Catholic communities across the country, with strong support from many leading Catholics, diocesan newspapers, and Catholic journals.[86] At the same time, some Catholics opposed McCarthy, notably the anti-Communist author Father John Francis Cronin and the influential journal Commonweal.[87]

McCarthy established a bond with the powerful Kennedy family, which had high visibility among Catholics. McCarthy became a close friend of Joseph P. Kennedy Sr., himself a fervent anti-Communist, and he was also a frequent guest at the Kennedy compound in Hyannis Port, Massachusetts. He dated two of Kennedy's daughters, Patricia and Eunice.[88][89] It has been stated that McCarthy was godfather to Robert F. Kennedy's first child, Kathleen Kennedy. This claim has been acknowledged by Robert's wife and Kathleen's mother Ethel,[90] though Kathleen later claimed that she looked at her christening certificate > and that her actual godfather was Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart professor Daniel Walsh.[90]

Seymour Hersh stated that Robert F. Kennedy (known as Bobby) hated Johnson for his attacks on the Kennedy family, and later maintained that his brother offered the position to Johnson merely as a courtesy, expecting him to decline. Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. concurred with Robert Kennedy's version of events, and put forth that John Kennedy would have preferred Stuart Symington as his running-mate, alleging that Johnson teamed with House Speaker Sam Rayburn and pressured Kennedy to favor Johnson. Robert Kennedy wanted his brother to choose labor leader Walter Reuther.

Biographer Robert Caro offered a different perspective; he wrote that the Kennedy campaign was desperate to win what was forecast to be a very close election against Richard Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.. Johnson was needed on the ticket to help carry Texas and the Southern states. [A "Balanced Ticket of Northeastern Liberal Catholic Democrat and Protestant Sourthern Consvervative Deomocrat]

It was Nov. 22, 1963; President John F. Kennedy had just been assassinated in Dallas. Lyndon Johnson, soon to become our next president, rushed to the emergency room of Parkland Memorial Hospital.

But then the emergency-room physician saw something that alarmed him.

"His face was ashen," the doctor would later say of Johnson, "and he was holding his chest."

The vice president (having had a previoius herat attack) was examined and had an electrocardiogram and heart enzyme tests. All were negative for a heart attack.

Johnson's domestic policy was aimed to create programs that would expand civil rights, public broadcasting, Medicare, Medicaid, aid to education and the arts, urban and rural development, and public services. Johnson coined the term the "Great Society" in 1964 to describe these efforts. In addition, he sought to create better living conditions for low income Americans by spearheading a campaign unofficially called the "War on Poverty"; assisted by a strong economy, the effort helped millions of Americans rise above the poverty line during his administration.

Johnson followed his predecessor's actions in bolstering the space program, and it was under his presidency that NASA's efforts became a top national priority and the Apollo Program was expanded. He enacted the Higher Education Act of 1965 which established federally insured student loans. Johnson signed the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1965 which laid the groundwork for U.S. immigration policy today. Johnson's opinion on the issue of civil rights put him at odds with other white, southern Democrats. His civil rights legacy was shaped by signing the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Voting Rights Act of 1965, and the Civil Rights Act of 1968. During his presidency the American political landscape transformed significantly,[4] as white southerners who were Democratic stalwarts gradually moved to the Republican Party and African-Americans began moving towards the Democratic Party.

Because of his domestic agenda, Johnson's presidency marked the peak of modern liberalism in the United States.

Johnson's presidency took place in Cold War America and thus he prioritized halting the expansion of Marxist-Leninist governments. Prior to 1964, the U.S. already had a noticeable presence in Vietnam by providing weapons, training, and aid to South Vietnam in order to stem the communist movement in the region. In 1964, following a naval skirmish, Congress passed the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution, which granted Johnson the power to launch a full military campaign in Southeast Asia, marking the escalation of American involvement in the Vietnam War. The number of American military personnel in Vietnam increased dramatically, and as the war progressed, American casualties soared along with deaths of Vietnamese civilians. In 1968, the Tet Offensive inflamed the anti-war movement and public opinion dramatically turned against the war. Many called an end to U.S. involvement, and opposition to the war surged among draft-age students on university campuses.

Dec. 12, 1972, the designer of the Great Society stood on the stage of his newly dedicated presidential library on the University of Texas campus. He was there for the Civil Rights Symposium, marking the opening of his White House files on civil rights.

Suddenly, he was gripped with an agonizing attack of chest pain. Recognizing it as angina, Johnson quietly reached for the nitroglycerin pills he carried and popped one under his tongue.

Johnson then proceeded to deliver his speech: “Whites stand on history’s mountain, and blacks stand in history’s hollow.” The challenge, he said, was to “get down to the business of trying to stand black and white on level ground.”

It appears to me that the Southern Protestants were aligned with English protestants and this was with the British WASPS, MKULTRA and the CIA in Texas Agriculture and wildcating.

The WASPS, likely tied to the Special Relationship with England and Ireland, Ulsters, saw the Vatican and Republic of Ireland a threat of NON USA foreign authority.

George H. W. Bush retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

[image]

George Herbert Walker Bush was born in Milton, Massachusetts[2] on June 12, 1924. He was the second son of Prescott Bush and Dorothy (Walker) Bush.[3] His paternal grandfather, Samuel P. Bush, worked as an executive for a railroad parts company in Columbus, Ohio,

[Said another way, robber barrons of defnes contracting and railroads, other public works projects.]

Samuel Bush was a railroad executive, then a steel company president, and, during World War I, also a federal government official in charge of coordination and assistance to major weapons contractors., Business, Industrialist, President of Steel Company

George Herbert Walker Bush was born in Milton, Massachusetts[2] on June 12, 1924. He was the second son of Prescott Bush and Dorothy (Walker) Bush.[3] His paternal grandfather, Samuel P. Bush, worked as an executive for a railroad parts company in Columbus, Ohio.

Bush spent most of his childhood in Greenwich, at the family vacation home in Kennebunkport, Maine,[b] or at his maternal grandparents' plantation in South Carolina.[9] Because of the family's wealth, Bush was largely unaffected by the Great Depression.[10] He attended Greenwich Country Day School from 1929 to 1937 and Phillips Academy, an elite private academy in Massachusetts, from 1937 to 1942.[11] While at Phillips Academy, he served as president of the senior class, secretary of the student council, president of the community fund-raising group, a member of the editorial board of the school newspaper, and captain of the varsity baseball and soccer teams.[12]

On his 18th birthday, immediately after graduating from Phillips Academy, he enlisted in the United States Navy as a naval aviator.[13] After a period of training, he was commissioned as an ensign in the Naval Reserve at Naval Air Station Corpus Christi on June 9, 1943, becoming one of the youngest aviators in the Navy.[14][c] Beginning in 1944, Bush served in the Pacific theater, where he flew a Grumman TBF Avenger, a torpedo bomber capable of taking off from aircraft carriers.[19] His squadron was assigned to the USS San Jacinto as a member of Air Group 51, where his lanky physique earned him the nickname “Skin”.[20]

After graduating from Yale, Bush moved his young family to West Texas. Biographer Jon Meacham writes that Bush’s relocation to Texas allowed him to move out of the “daily shadow of his Wall Street father and Grandfather Walker, two dominant figures in the financial world”, but would still allow Bush to “call on their connections if he needed to raise capital.”[39] His first position in Texas was an oil field equipment salesman[40] for Dresser Industries, which was led by family friend Neil Mallon.[41] While working for Dresser, Bush lived in various places with his family: Odessa, Texas; Ventura, Bakersfield and Compton, California; and Midland, Texas.[42] In 1952, he volunteered for the successful presidential campaign of Republican candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower. That same year, his father won election to represent Connecticut in the United States Senate as a member of the Republican Party.[43]

[book asserts a CIA operation begun in 1945 and 1958 was carried out by the CIA and a group of COlumnbia University and Harvard University Skull and Bones Rockefeler Rotchshilds supported Shadow financed shadow defense contractor mafia government]

With support from Mallon and Bush's uncle, George Herbert Walker Jr., Bush and John Overbey launched the Bush-Overbey Oil Development Company in 1951

With support from Mallon and Bush's uncle, George Herbert Walker Jr., Bush and John Overbey launched the Bush-Overbey Oil Development Company in 1951.[44] In 1953 he co-founded the Zapata Petroleum Corporation, an oil company that drilled in the Permian Basin in Texas.[45] In 1954, he was named president of the Zapata Offshore Company, a subsidiary which specialized in offshore drilling.[46] Shortly after the subsidiary became independent in 1959, Bush moved the company and his family from Midland to Houston.[47] There, he befriended James Baker, a prominent attorney who later became an important political ally.[48] Bush remained involved with Zapata until the mid-1960s, when he sold his stock in the company for approximately $1 million.

In 1988, The Nation published an article alleging that Bush worked as an operative of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) during the 1960s; Bush denied this claim.[50]

The Democratic Party had historically dominated Texas, but Republicans scored their first major victory in the state with John G. Tower's victory in a 1961 special election to the United States Senate. Motivated by Tower's victory, and hoping to prevent the far-right John Birch Society from coming to power, Bush ran for the chairmanship of the Harris County Republican Party, winning election in February 1963.[51] Like most other Texas Republicans, Bush supported conservative Senator Barry Goldwater over the more centrist Nelson Rockefeller in the 1964 Republican Party presidential primaries.[52]

Elan School

Élan School retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Élan School was a private, coeducational, and controversial residential behavior modification program and therapeutic boarding school in Poland, Androscoggin County, Maine. It was a full member of the National Association of Therapeutic Schools and Programs (NATSAP). The facility was closed down in 2011 due to reports of abuse, many from former students,[1] dating back to its opening in 1970.

lan was located on a 33-acre (13 ha) campus[2] that was formerly a hunting lodge.[3] There were also other campuses, such as the one on 424 Maplecrest Road in Parsonsfield, Maine, which was formerly a hotel and hospital before it was bought by Élan in 1975. This campus was known to have some of the worst abuse in the school's history, and has been said to have been put out of use sometime in the 1980s.[4]

The school acquired some notoriety during the 1990s and early 2000s when former classmates of Michael Skakel, who had attended Élan in the 1970s, testified against him in his trial for an unsolved murder that had occurred about two years before he enrolled at Élan.[5] The school was also the subject of persistent allegations of abuse in their behavioral modification program.

On March 23, 2011, Élan School announced it would close on April 1, 2011.[7]

Élan was featured in Children of Darkness, a critically acclaimed documentary filmed in 1983 that explored the grueling realities of emotionally troubled youth and the various residences and institutions that housed them.

Notables

Michael Skakel

Michael Christopher Skakel (born September 19, 1960) is the fifth of seven children, born to Rushton Walter Skakel and Anne Reynolds. Rushton's sister Ethel is the widow of U.S. Senator Robert F. Kennedy.[24] Skakel's grandfather George was the founder of Great Lakes Carbon Corporation, a coal company that was one of the largest and wealthiest privately held corporations in the United States.[25][26]

The Skakel family lived in the affluent neighborhood of Belle Haven in Greenwich, Connecticut. After his mother's death from brain cancer in 1973, Skakel began abusing alcohol

He was a poor student and reportedly flunked out of a dozen schools.[28]Skakel also struggled for years with Dyslexia, which went undiagnosed until he was aged 26. Skakel's cousin, Robert F. Kennedy, Jr., > later wrote that he was a “small sensitive child - the runt of the litter with a harsh and occasionally violent alcoholic father who both ignored and abused him.”

The McMartin Preschool (Manhattan Beach California, CIA research center)

In 1956, at age 49, Virginia McMartin opened her preschool in downtown Manhattan Beach, and it quickly became popular within the local community. Following reports of sexual abuse at the school, McMartin was arrested in March 1984 on child molestation charges - Google Knowledge Panel

McMartin preschool trial retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The McMartin preschool trial was a day care sexual abuse case in the 1980s, prosecuted by the Los Angeles District Attorney Ira Reiner. Members of the McMartin family, who operated a preschool in Manhattan Beach, California, were charged with hundreds of acts of sexual abuse of children in their care. Accusations were made in 1983, arrests and the pretrial investigation took place from 1984 to 1987, and trials ran from 1987 to 1990. The case lasted seven years but resulted in no convictions, and all charges were dropped in 1990. By the case’s end, it had become the longest and most expensive in American history.[2][3] The case was part of day-care sex-abuse hysteria, a moral panic over alleged Satanic ritual abuse in the 1980s and early 1990s.

Notables

Edward Paul Donegan

I believe my mother and I out of wedlock Windsor Kutsceras, born in the Manhattan Project twins studies and I have mutiple biological half brothers illegally Barrak Obama?

Future president of the USA and possible Glorian Donegnan Malcom X birth

Ted Gunderson

Ted Gunderson would investigate the CIA involvement in this school as well as CIA activity tied to 1926 born Marylin Monroe and also Jeffery McDonald, all fitting into the JFK assassination

PROJECT MONARCH, MK-ULTRA AND “THE FAMILY” CULT IN AUSTRALIA

PROJECT MONARCH, MK-ULTRA AND “THE FAMILY” CULT IN AUSTRALIA retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Monarch Programming is a method of mind control used by numerous organizations for covert purposes. It is a continuation of project MK-ULTRA, a mind-control program developed by the CIA, and tested on the military and civilians. The methods are astonishingly sadistic (its entire purpose is to traumatize the victim) and the expected results are horrifying: The creation of a mind-controlled slave who can be triggered at anytime to perform any action required by the handler. While mass media ignores this issue, over 2 million Americans have gone through the horrors of this program. This article looks at the origins of Monarch programming and some of its methods and symbolism.

Notables

Julian Paul Assange burn July 3 1971

Julian Paul Assange is an Australian editor, publisher and activist who founded WikiLeaks in 2006. WikiLeaks came to international attention in 2010 when it published a series of leaks provided by U.S. Army intelligence analyst Chelsea Manning. Wikipedia Born: July 3, 1971 (age 50 years), Townsville, Australia the spree killer who pled guilty to murdering 35 people and injuring 21 others in the Port Arthur massacre, Assange: “When I was 13, my mother started dating a guy who was part of a nasty Australian cult. The Family. They believed in blue auras and cleansing souls > and the strict discipline of children …starvation diets … regular dosing of psychiatric drugs and severe beatings.It had a surprisingly large network of influence, extending to the highest levels of government. My mum knew the guy was a wanker, but by the time she came to her senses they'd had a kid together and …we spent the next three years on the run. The Family chased us all over the country."

Martin Bryant

>
> Berg: "That's terrifying"
>
> Assange: : …why you think my hair is white?"

Commonly reported Methods of these schools and harrassment of this geneolagy line (FBI CIA US Marshalls Gang Stalk)

The victim/survivor is called a "slave" by the programmer/ handler, who in turn is perceived as "master" or "god." About 75% are female, since they possess a higher tolerance for pain and tend to dissociate more easily than males. Monarch handlers seek the compartmentalization of their subject's psyche in multiple and separate alter personas using trauma to cause dissociation.The following is a partial list of these forms of torture:

- Abuse and torture
- Confinement in boxes, cages, coffins, etc, or burial (often with an opening or air-tube for oxygen)
- Restraint with ropes, chains, cuffs, etc.
- Near-drowning

- Extremes of heat and cold, including submersion in ice water and burning chemicals
- Skinning (only top layers of the skin are removed in victims intended to survive) (and introduction of scabies and other parasites)
- Spinning
- Blinding light
- Electric shock
- Forced ingestion of offensive body fluids and matter, such as blood, urine, feces, flesh, etc.
- Hung in painful positions or upside down
- Hunger and thirst
- Sleep deprivation - sexual releif frustration
- Compression with weights and devices
- Sensory deprivation
- Drugs to create illusion, confusion, and amnesia, often given by injection or intravenously
- Ingestion or intravenous toxic chemicals to create pain or illness, including chemotherapy agents
- Limbs pulled or dislocated

- Application of snakes, spiders, maggots, rats, and other animals to induce fear and disgust

- Near-death experiences, commonly asphyxiation by choking or drowning, with immediate resuscitation

- Forced to perform or witness abuse, torture and sacrifice of people and animals, usually with knives

- Forced participation in slavery

- Abuse to become pregnant; the fetus is then aborted for ritual use, or the baby is taken for sacrifice or enslavement

- Spiritual abuse to cause victim to feel possessed, harassed, and controlled internally by spirits or demons

- Desecration of Judeo-Christian beliefs and forms of worship; dedication to Satan or other deities

- Abuse and illusion to convince victims that God is evil, such as convincing a child that God has abused her

- Surgery to torture, experiment, or cause the perception of physical or spiritual bombs or implants

- Harm or threats of harm to family, friends, loved ones, pets, and other victims, to force compliance

- Use of illusion and virtual reality to confuse and create non-credible disclosure

In invitation to participate in Cultural Fiction

It is my beleif the Native Americans of Kamloops like the the Lakota Indians of Wounded Knee and the world dark skinned poplution of Black Hebrew Isrealites have all been invited to created a cultural record of being long lost King lines of DNA from what had been perceived in their culture as Great Gods.

This has happens in parallel with genomic plants of European DNA, twins studies, and the study of the desperately concealed FOXP2 gene tied to speech and language and I also believe Collete MacDonald, child of Green Berett Jeffery Macdonal had shown, was being expressed, as is the case in half of the children who cary the London FOXP2 KE family gene, really the Prince of York gene, King Edward's younger brother.

> ### Triune brain
>
> From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia ***
>
> The triune brain is a model of the evolution of the vertebrate forebrain and behavior, proposed by the American physician and neuroscientist Paul D. MacLean. MacLean originally formulated his model in the 1960s and propounded it at length in his 1990 book The Triune Brain in Evolution.
>
> The triune brain consists of the reptilian complex, the paleomammalian complex (limbic system), and the neomammalian complex (neocortex), viewed each as independently conscious, and as structures sequentially added to the forebrain in the course of evolution. However, this hypothesis has been subject to criticism, [2] and is no longer espoused by the majority of comparative neuroscientists in the post-2000 era.

Black Hebrew Israelites

From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia *

Ben Ammi Ben-Israel established the African Hebrew Israelites of Jerusalem in Chicago, Illinois, in 1966, a time when black nationalism was on the rise as a response to the Civil Rights Movement. In 1969, after a sojourn in Liberia, Ben Ammi and about 30 Hebrew Israelites moved to Israel.[27] Over the next 20 years, nearly 600 more members left the United States for Israel. As of 2006, about 2,500 Hebrew Israelites live in Dimona and two other towns in the Negev region of Israel, where they are widely referred to as Black Hebrews.[57] In addition, there are African Hebrew Israelite communities in several major American cities, including Chicago, St. Louis, and Washington, D.C.

The Black Hebrews believe they are descended from members of the Tribe of Judah who were exiled from the Land of Israel after the Romans destroyed the Second Temple in 70 CE.[57][59] The group incorporates elements of African-American culture into their interpretation of the Bible.[58] They do not recognize rabbinical Jewish interpretations such as the Talmud.[57] The Black Hebrews observe Shabbat and biblically ordained Jewish holidays such as Yom Kippur and Passover.

Extremist Sects Within the Black Hebrew Israelite Movement retrieved from The Anti Defamation League and copied or modified to here

Followers, who are also referred to as “Black Hebrews” or “Hebrew Israelites,” believe that Blacks, Hispanics, and Native Americans are the descendants of the Twelve Tribes of Israel. It should be noted that not all BHI adherents include Native American populations in the Twelve Tribes, but they all agree that white people or conventionally accepted Jews are not members of the tribes. This is a departure from the mainstream understanding of the Twelve Tribes as a reference to Jacob's twelve sons, who each represent a different genealogical thread of the Jewish population. Similarly, adherents of the white supremacist Christian Identity Movement also claim to be members of the "lost tribes" of Israel.

This book and my life history viewed in the totality formuate that Alma Powell who is a speech therapist with 1961 Boston Massachussetes ties along with Colin Powell were among many working with Her Majesty's Service, Free Masons from St Louis speech therapists, and these two individuals have been long term tracking that gene, studing it in twins, using family lines in world diplomacy and sleeper agents, and covering up the program including perhaps the murder of Colletete MaCDonalds.

2018-2019. Ancient & Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, Orient of Missouri

In the early 1950s in Colorado, the Scottish Rite of Freemasonry of the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States initiated a program to help children with speech and language disorders. The results obtained from this program led to the establishment of RiteCare Scottish Rite Childhood Language Program (SRCLP) clinics to provide diagnostic evaluation and treatment of speech and language disorders, as well as learning disabilities.

Today, there are SRCLP clinics, centers, and special programs operating or planned for children and therapists located throughout the United States. Each facility is staffed by speech-language pathologists or other trained personnel. Through the support of Scottish Rite members, these clinics, centers, and programs continue to increase. The value of this philanthropy has long been apparent. Tens of thousands of youngsters across the United States have been helped significantly. With the good work of dedicated clinicians and parents, the Scottish Rite has achieved successes that could only be imagined a few years back. Children who might have remained educationally behind for a lifetime can now talk, read, and lead productive lives.

Find a speech, language, learning clinic near you!
retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Children's Dyslexia Centers

For over two decades, the Scottish Rite Masons, Northern Masonic Jurisdiction, have been national leaders in the effort to help children and their families overcome the painful obstacles of dyslexia. With more than 40 Dyslexia Centers in 13 states, the Children's Dyslexia Centers tackle the challenge of dyslexia head-on, both by providing free tutoring for children with dyslexia and by training a growing cadre of highly skilled and dedicated tutors.

Other Speech, Language, Learning Centers

Today, there are over 180 RiteCare Scottish Rite Childhood Language Programs with SRCLP clinics, centers, and special programs operating or planned for children and therapists located throughout the United States. Each facility is staffed by speech-language pathologists or other trained personnel. Through the support of Scottish Rite Masons, Southern Masonic Jurisdiction, these clinics, centers, and programs continue to increase.

Find a speech, language, learning clinic near you!

Columbia, Missouri

Robert G. Combs Language Preschool
University of Missouri - Columbia 124 Clark Hall Columbia, MO 65211 573-884-2940 Director: Greta Hull (Email) Website

Hannibal, Missouri

In 2000, the MU Department of Communication Science and Disorders, with the generous support of the Valley of Columbia Scottish Rite, opened the Robert G. Combs Language Preschool. The preschool serves children aged 2 to 5 years with or without speech and language difficulties. MU Communication Science and Disorders seniors and graduate students are clinicians for this preschool under the direct supervision of certified faculty. Given the intense speech and language focus of this program, a very low clinician to student ratio is maintained, approximating 1 clinician for every 2-3 students. The Scottish Rite provides scholarships for children with speech difficulties to attend this preschool.

Hannibal, Missouri

Hannibal Regional RiteCare Hannibal Regional Hospital 150 Medical Drive Hannibal, MO 63401 573-406-5777 Director: Shelley Bergman

In 2010, the Scottish Rite Freemasons Valley of Columbia and RiteCare Valley of Columbia made an inaugural gift to the Hannibal Regional Hospital's speech therapy assistance program to provide scholarship funds for speech therapy services for children 6 years and under who might not otherwise receive treatment they need. The RiteCare Valley of Columbia supports the ongoing partnership with Hannibal Regional Hospital to perpetuate the mission of helping children.

Joplin, Missouri

RiteCare Valley of Joplin 505 S. Byers Ave. Joplin, MO 64801 417-623-3219 Director: Jim Carpenter (Email) Website

The Valley of Joplin Scottish Rite RiteCare began their philanthropic program in 1987 in parternship with Children's Miracle Network. Their mission is to advance the efforts of all language impaired children by bringing them into the world of words and the joy of clearly understood or expressed ideas. In addition to providing a helping hand to young children who may have a variety of special needs, the RiteCare program provides scholarships for children with speech therapy and hearing aids.

Kansas City, Missouri

RiteCare Clinic of Kansas City 1330 Linwood Blvd. Kansas City, MO 64109 816-561-2277 x 701 Director: Denise Miller

The Kansas City Rite Care Clinic for Childhood Language Disorders began in 1985 and is operated and staffed by Children's Mercy Hospital with a clinical site within the Kansas City Scottish Rite Temple with the mission to help children with language problems reach their highest potential.

Kirksville, Missouri

RiteCare Early Literacy Lab Truman State University 100 E. Normal Street Kirksville, MO 63501 660-785-7414 Director: Melissa Passe Website

In 2003, Truman State University and the Valley of Columbia Scottish Rite agreed to co-found and support a program to prevent literacy problems in children who are at high risk. Services to children and their families are provided by students and faculty of the Truman State University communication disorders program. The RiteCare Communication Disorders Early Literacy Lab (ELL) serves children at risk for literacy difficulties, primarily from K-grade 4. The Scottish Rite provides funds for furnishings and materials, faculty training, and other program expenses.

St. Joseph, Missouri

United Cerebral Palsy of Northwest Missouri 3303 Frederick Ave. St. Joseph, MO 64506 816-364-3836 Director: Teresa Gagliano (Email) Website

In 2001, the St. Joseph Scottish Rite Foundation and UCP of Northwest Missouri joined together to provide speech therapy for children in the community. Many young children have speech and language delays but are unable to pay for therapy. The Scottish Rite provides funding for children who do not qualify for any other assistance.

St. Louis, Missouri

Walker Scottish Rite Clinic at Maryville University Maryville University - Walker Hall 650 Maryville University Dr. St. Louis, MO 63141 314-529-9200 Director: Jacob Gutshall

The Walker Scottish Rite Clinic is a 501(c)(3) charitable organization and was founded in 1988 by St. Louis Scottish Rite Masons to serve preschool age children with speech and language disorders. Originally known as the Aphasia Clinic, the name was soon changed to the Scottish Rite Clinic for Childhood Language Disorders to more accurately reflect the children served. The Clinic was an independent charitable entity and governed by a 15 member local Board of Directors from 1988-2014. In January 2015, the Walker Scottish Rite Clinic entered into a professional partnership with Maryville University to expand therapy opportunities for children in the Greater St. Louis area. The Clinic continues as a 501(c)(3) organization, now under the umbrella of Maryville University. The Walker Scottish Rite Clinic serves children at seven clinical sites in the Greater St. Louis and surrounding communities. Services include screenings, evaluations, individual and group therapy, audiological evaluations, and parent training. All Clinic services are free to client families.

The Walker Scottish Rite Clinic Outreach

The KidTalk Outreach program serves children at six underserved partner locations in the greater St. Louis region: Jefferson County Health Department (Arnold, MO), Lincoln County Health Department (Troy, MO), Crider Health Services of Franklin County (Union, MO), Scottish Rite Lodge of Perfection (St. Louis City), SouthSide Early Childhood Head Start (St. Louis City), and YWCA-Head Start North County Center (Ferguson, MO).

Warrensburg, Missouri

RiteCare Early Language and Literacy Lab University of Central Missouri Martin 31E Warrensburg, MO 64093 660-543-8779 Director: Kimberly Stewart

In 2011, the Scottish Rite Freemasons Valley of Columbia and RiteCare Valley of Columbia made an inaugural gift to the University of Central Missouri Welch-Schmidt Center for Communication Disorders to open the RiteCare Early Language and Literacy Lab for children who might not otherwise receive treatment they need. The Scottish Rite provides funds for furnishings and materials, faculty training, and other program expenses.

[image]

‘Horrible History’: Mass Grave of Indigenous Children Reported in Canada An Indigenous community says it has found evidence that 215 children were buried on the grounds of a British Columbia school, one of the many in Canada set up to forcibly assimilate them.

OTTAWA - For decades, most Indigenous children in Canada were taken from their families and forced into boarding schools. A large number never returned home, their families given only vague explanations, or none at all.

Now an Indigenous community in British Columbia says it has found evidence of what happened to some of its missing children: a mass grave containing the remains of 215 children on the grounds of a former residential school.

Chief Rosanne Casimir of the Tk'emlups te Secwepemc First Nation said on Friday that ground-penetrating radar had discovered the remains near the site of the Kamloops Indian Residential School, which operated from 1890 until the late 1970s.

"It's a harsh reality and it's our truth, it's our history," Chief Casimir said at a news conference. "And it's something that we've always had to fight to prove. To me, it's always been a horrible, horrible history."

The remains, which Chief Casimir described as "many, many years old - decades," included those of children as young as 3.

Starting in the 19th century, Canada was home to a system of residential schools, mostly operated by churches, that Indigenous children were forced to attend. The system went into decline during the 1970s, with the last school closing in 1996.

10 times the royal family visited the Okanagan and Kamloops https://infotel.ca/ Kelowna News Kathy Michaels November 17, 2019 - 12:00 PM

1919

There were two royal visits this year. The first was Sept. 30 and was from Edward, Prince of Wales (the future Edward VIII).

He stopped in Kelowna and gave a short address before continuing a tour of B.C.

Then on Oct. 9 the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, as part of a Canadian tour, arrived in Penticton on the Kettle Valley Railway and then travelled by boat on Okanagan Lake to Peachland, Kelowna, and then Vernon. Then they returned to Penticton to board the train home.

1958

This is the year Princess Margaret arrived for the opening of the first Okanagan Lake Floating Bridge in July. The bridge was a big change for the valley, which made it all the more worth a royal visit.

1959

Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh toured all provinces in Canada that year and while in B.C., stopped in Kamloops.

1971

This year offered a boom of royal visits when on May 6, Queen Elizabeth II, Prince Charles and Princess Anne landed in the valley. They first were in Penticton, then they drove up to Kelowna and stopped at City Park. Finally they moved on to Vernon for lunch.

1983

In March, Queen Elizabeth II landed at Kelowna Airport and headed off to Vernon for lunch. It was a very brief stopover and part of her American West Coast tour. Part of their tour took them to Kamloops, as well.

1986

Prince Charles and Princess Diana visited Kelowna May 3, 1986 on their way to Burnaby for Expo 86, There were 25,000 people at City Park for their appearance. The Prince and Princess of Wales also toured Vernon and Kamloops on their way to the coast.

1994

Prince Edward, the Earl of Wessex, made a stop at a private reception at Harvest golf course in South East Kelowna for supporters and sponsors of Duke of Edinburgh citizenship program.

2014

Prince Edward was back 20 years later, with Princess Sophie, Earl and Countess of Wessex, Sept. 16, 2014. Edward visited Cedarcreek Estate Winery, Sophie visited Mission Hill Winery, Edward met with firefighters, Sophie handed out “Duke of Edinburgh” awards.

2016

William and Kate, the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge, arrived in Kelowna and were met with great fanfare Tuesday, Sept. 27. They visited UBCO for the unveiling of an Aboriginal art installation by Les Louis, then they watched a Volleyball demonstration. An estimated 5,000 people greeted them at the university. They then went on to visit Whitehorse and Carcross in the Yukon in following days

[image]

In 1974, assassination researchers (using the Zapruder shot video) Alan J. Weberman and Michael Canfield compared photographs of the men to people they believed to be suspects involved in a conspiracy and said that two of the men (The Three Tramps, men arrested shortly after the assassination of JFK) were Watergate burglars E. Howard Hunt and Frank Sturgis

---

Frank Anthony Sturgis (December 9, 1924 - December 4, 1993), born Frank Angelo Fiorini, was one of the five Watergate burglars whose capture led to the end of the presidency of Richard Nixon.[1] He served in several branches of the United States military and in the Cuban Revolution of 1958, and worked as an undercover operative for the Central Intelligence Agency.[2] Sturgis and Miami CIA head David Morales met with E. Howard Hunt shortly before the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

“On April 14, 1942, William Donovan, as Coordinator of Information (forerunner of the Office of Strategic Services), activated units charged with gathering intelligence, harassing the Japanese through guerrilla actions, identifying targets for the Army Air Force to bomb, and rescuing downed Allied airmen.”[4] This was what led to Stilwell’s Chinese forces, Wingate’s Raiders, Merrill’s Marauders, in the war, and Frank got trained in Guerrilla tactics and gathering intelligence which became useful in his later events.

Sturgis was claimed to be a member of Operation 40, a Central Intelligence Agency-sponsored counterintelligence group composed of Cuban exiles. The group was formed to seize control of the Cuban government after the Bay of Pigs Invasion.[25]The operation was concentrating on Cuba and were operating out of Mexico.

Despite his claimed involvement in numerous CIA sponsored operations including the Bay of Pigs invasion, the 1975 Rockefeller Commission succinctly states that “Frank Sturgis was not an employee or agent of the CIA either in 1963 or at any other time.”

See The ultimate keeper of secrets regarding who killed JFK Rolling STones interview with E. Howard Hunt in his prison cell

[image]

The Last Confession of E. Howard Hunt The ultimate keeper of secrets regarding who killed JFK retrieved from Rolling Stone and copied or modified to here

APRIL 5, 2007 12:00PM ET

And at times, he even seems to think of his dad with pride: “Did you hear that the character that Tom Cruise plays in the Mission: Impossible movies is named after him? Instead of Everette Hunt, they named him Ethan Hunt. I know he’s been portrayed as kind of an inept, third-rate burglar, but burglary wasn’t really his bag. My dad was a really good spy, maybe a great spy.”

But then he starts talking about what it was like growing up the eldest son of Everette Howard Hunt, and a different picture emerges. “He loved the glamorous life, cocktail parties, nightclubbing, flirting, all that,” Saint says. “He was unfaithful to my mom, but she stayed with him. He was a swinger. He thought of himself as a cool dude, suave, sophisticated, intellectual. He was Mr. Smooth. A man of danger. He was perfect for the CIA. He never felt guilt about anything.”

In the early days of the cold war, the CIA's mandate was simple: to contain the spread of communism by whatever means necessary; it was tacitly given permission to go about its dirty business unfettered by oversight of any kind. For much of the Cold War, it was answerable to no one. And if you were lucky enough to become one of its agents, you had every right to consider yourself a member of an elite corps, a big swinging all-American dick like no other.

The middle-class son of a Hamburg, New York, attorney, E. Howard Hunt graduated from Brown University in 1940 with a bachelor's in English, joined the Navy during World War II, served in the North Atlantic on the destroyer Mayo, slipped and fell, took a medical discharge and wound up in China working under "Wild" Bill Donovan in the newly formed Office of Strategic Services. When the OSS was transformed into the CIA, Hunt jumped onboard. He loved action as much as he hated communism, and he soon began operating with a level of arrogance entirely typical of the CIA.

He was instrumental, for instance, in planning the 1954 coup in Guatemala that overthrew the left-leaning, democratically elected president, Jacobo Arbenz, and ushered in forty years of military repression, which ultimately cost 200,000 Guatemalans their lives. Years later, when asked about the 200,000 deaths, E. Howard said, "Deaths? What deaths?" Like Saint says, he never felt guilt about anything: "He was a complete self-centered WASP who saw himself as this blue blood from upstate New York. 'I'm better than anybody because I'm white, Protestant and went to Brown, and since I'm in the CIA, I can do anything I want.' Jew, nigger, Polack, wop - he used all those racial epithets. He was an elitist. He hated everybody."

My writing of this book

November 18 1961 Santa Monica area Manhattan Beech California birth of Edward Paul Donegan.

November 28 1961 Dismissal Allen Dulles, ten days after Edward Pauld Donegan is born in Manhattan Beach as part of the Manhattan Project, and JFK seems to be their with the Shrivers Lawfords in California with Irish Mafia.

Donald Barr CIA Free Mason with an experimental monkey having a birthday at the White House November 23 1961

Donald Barr with a research monkey at a White House birthday party 22 November 1961.

Description Unidentified man with a research monkey in an unidentified room in the East Wing, Second Floor, White House,

Washington, D.C.

Photo: Kennedy presents the National Security Medal to Dulles, November 28, 1961 but privately fires him avoiding speculation.

During the Kennedy Administration, Dulles faced increasing criticism. In autumn 1961, following the Bay of Pigs incident and the Algiers putsch against Charles de Gaulle, Dulles and his entourage, including Deputy Director for Plans Richard M. Bissell Jr. and Deputy Director Charles Cabell, were forced to resign.

On November 28, 1961, Kennedy presented Dulles with the National Security Medal at the CIA Headquarters in Langley, Virginia. The next day, November 29, the White House released a resignation letter signed by Dulles.[40] He was replaced by John McCone.

On November 29, 1963, President Lyndon Baines Johnson appointed Dulles as one of seven commissioners of the Warren Commission to investigate the assassination of the U.S. President John F. Kennedy. The appointment was later criticized by some historians, who have noted that Kennedy had fired him, and he was therefore unlikely to be impartial in passing the judgments charged to the Warren Commission.

This book will speculate convincingly and authoritatively Catholics like Micheal Hastings, a Catholic High School student from France and others like Mel Gibson, who opposed WASPS in Australia and the USA, have been targeted by Patreus, the NSA and others as the British have planned monarchies and wealth based familial power around the world.

[image]

The first written records of Christians in France date from the 2nd century when Irenaeus detailed the deaths of ninety-year-old bishop Saint Pothinus of Lugdunum (Lyon) and other martyrs of the 177 AD persecution in Lyon. In 496 Remigius baptized King Clovis I, who therefore converted from paganism to Catholicism. In 800, Pope Leo III crowned Charlemagne Emperor of the Holy Roman Empire, forming the political and religious foundations of Christendom in Europe and establishing in earnest the French government's long historical association with the Catholic Church.[5] In reaction, the French Revolution (17891790) was followed by heavy persecution of the Catholic Church. Since the beginning of the 20th century, Laïcité, absolute neutrality of the state with respect to religious doctrine, is the official policy of the French Republic.

Quebec Act Great Britain [1774] retrieved from The Editors of Encyclopaedia Britannica and copied or modified to here

Quebec Act, act of the British Parliament in 1774 that vested the government of Quebec in a governor and council and preserved the French Civil Code, the seigneurial system of land tenure, and the Roman Catholic Church. The act was an attempt to deal with major questions that had arisen during the attempt to make the French colony of Canada a province of the British Empire in North America. Among these were whether an assembly should be summoned, when nearly all the inhabitants of the province of Quebec, being Roman Catholics, would, because of the Test Acts, be ineligible to be representatives; whether the practice of the Roman Catholic religion should be allowed to continue, and on what conditions; and whether French or English law was to be used in the courts of justice.

As a Republic or Ireland Loyalist family not an an English Ulster Royalist line, from Cape Cod and born into the Catholic church from Irish Catholic Irish family I can tell stories from within my family about WASPS in Boston. Jackie Kennedy the French Catholic married to Irish Catholic JFK or many other Catholics in this book may have similar feelings about British WASP Plans, and these people are Justice Scalia, Thomas Crane Wales, Robert Kennedy, Judge Roll, and many others.

Notable People from Hill County Texas

Herman Edward Butts and his Civic religious and business leadership through HEB Stores and his family as VISTA CORPs food programs and JFK Ambassosdor to Australia

Laity Lodge operated by he Butts family in Hill Counrty

Laity Lodge is a place of subtle discovery: an ecumenical retreat center in the Texas Hill Country. For 60 years, guests from all walks of life have made their way to this outpost along the Frio River, slowing down to discover-in nature, in conversations around the table, in times of quiet reflection, and in participation in the arts-the nearness and goodness of God.

Hill Country Products - the HEB Family owned grocery store generics products

At least equal to product quality of the name brands the H-E-B generics are all the product and none of the extra hype for poeple on a budget.

Lance Armstrong

Professional cyclist renowned for seven consecutive Tour de France wins after surviving cancer. He was stripped of his seven Tour de France titles over a doping controversy. Born in Plano but a long-time resident of Austin.

Liz Carpenter

Journalist, author, political speech writer, humorist, public speaker, first female Vice President of University of Texas student body. One of the founders of National Women's Political Caucus and co-chair of ERAmerica, traveling the country to push for passage of the Equal Rights Amendment. Drafted President Johnson's Nov 22, 1963 speech to the American public after the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

Following Johnson's succession to the presidency, Carpenter became the first professional newswoman to be press secretary to a first lady for Lady Bird Johnson (1963-1969), for whom she also served as staff director. Carpenter also assembled several other staffers as an informal "White House Humor Group" to add humorous remarks to the President's speeches, at Johnson's request

Les and Liz Carpenter were married on June 17, 1944, after he was discharged from the United States Navy during World War II. They launched the Carpenter News Bureau in the National Press Building in Washington, D.C. For the next sixteen years Carpenter covered Congress and the White House for various newspapers in Texas. She missed work only briefly when their two children, Scott and Christy, were born.[7]

She was still a working reporter at the time of the 1960 Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles, California. She soon joined the staff of Lyndon B. Johnson in his campaign for Vice President in 1960 and traveled on his foreign missions as a press spokeswoman. After Kennedy's election, she became the first woman executive assistant to the vice-president.[citation needed]

Carpenter was in Dallas on November 22, 1963, at the time of the assassination of John F. Kennedy. She drafted the fifty-eight words that Johnson used on his return to Washington

> This is a sad time for all people. We have suffered a loss that cannot be weighed. For me, it is a deep personal tragedy. I know that the world shares the sorrow that Mrs. Kennedy and her family bear. I will do my best. That is all I can do. I ask for your help and God's.

Michael Saul Dell (born February 23, 1965)

Michael Saul Dell (born February 23, 1965) is an American billionaire businessman and philanthropist. He is the founder, chairman and CEO of Dell Technologies, one of the world's largest technology infrastructure companies.[1] He is ranked 25th richest in the world by Bloomberg Billionaires Index, with a net worth of US$51.7 billion as of April 17, 2021.

In 2011, his 243.35 million shares of Dell stock were worth $3.5 billion, giving him 12% ownership of the company.[3] His remaining wealth of roughly $10 billion is invested in other companies and is managed by MSD Capital, which incorporates his initials.[4] In January 2013 it was announced that he had bid to take Dell Inc. private for $24.4 billion in the biggest management buyout since the Great Recession. Dell Inc. officially went private in October 2013.[5] The company once again went public in December 2018.[6]

Dell serves on the Foundation Board of the World Economic Forum, the executive committee of the International Business Council, the U.S. Business Council. He previously served as a member of the U.S. President's Council of Advisors on Science and Technology.[35] In April 2020, Governor Greg Abbott named Dell to the Strike Force to Open Texas - a group "tasked with finding safe and effective ways to slowly reopen the state" during the COVID-19 pandemic.[36]

Philanthropy In 1999, Michael and Susan Dell established the Michael and Susan Dell Foundation, which focuses on, among other causes, grants, urban education, childhood health and family economic stability. In 2006, the foundation provided $50 million in grants to three health-related organizations associated with the University of Texas: the Michael & Susan Dell Center for Advancement of Healthy Living, the Dell Pediatric Research Institute to complement the Dell Children's Medical Center, as well as funding for a new computer science building at the University of Texas at Austin campus.[43]

Lady Bird and Lyndon B. Johnson

POTUS, FLOTUS, Philanthropy in Texas including Lady Bird Lake in Texas and Lady Bird Island in Virginia

Tommy Lee Jones

Tommy Lee Jones (born September 15, 1946) is an American actor and film director. He has received four Academy Award nominations, winning Best Supporting Actor for his performance as U.S. Marshal Samuel Gerard in the 1993 thriller film The Fugitive.

‘

He attended Harvard College on a need-based scholarship where his roommate was future Vice President Al Gore.[

Matthew David McConaughey

Matthew David McConaughey (/məˈkɒnəheɪ/; born November 4, 1969) is an American actor and producer. He first gained notice for his supporting performance in the coming-of-age comedy Dazed and Confused (1993), which was considered by many to be his breakout role.[After a number of supporting roles in films including Angels in the Outfield (1994) and Texas Chainsaw Massacre: The Next Generation (1994)

Chester William Nimitz (/ˈnɪmɪts/; February 24, 1885 - February 20, 1966)

Chester William Nimitz (/ˈnɪmɪts/; February 24, 1885 - February 20, 1966) was a fleet admiral of the United States Navy. He played a major role in the naval history of World War II as Commander in Chief, US Pacific Fleet, and Commander in Chief, Pacific Ocean Areas, commanding Allied air, land, and sea forces during World War II.

Nimitz was the leading US Navy authority on submarines. Qualified in submarines during his early years, he later oversaw the conversion of these vessels' propulsion from gasoline to diesel, and then later was key in acquiring approval to build the world's first nuclear-powered submarine, USS Nautilus, whose propulsion system later completely superseded diesel-powered submarines in the US. He also, beginning in 1917, was the Navy's leading developer of underway replenishment techniques, the tool which during the Pacific war would allow the US fleet to operate away from port almost indefinitely. The chief of the Navy's Bureau of Navigation in 1939, Nimitz served as Chief of Naval Operations from 1945 until 1947. He was the United States' last surviving officer who served in the rank of fleet admiral. The USS Nimitz supercarrier, the lead ship of her class, is named after him.

Examples of Crown backed British businesses, commercial ventures, sponsored or supported partnerships, and other imperial influences of the Crown, crown backed bussines, charity, and relgious work emphasized throughout the world since 1905

East India Company retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Originally chartered as the "Governor and Company of Merchants of London Trading into the East-Indies",[5][6] the East India Tea Compay rose to account for half of the world's trade during the mid-1700s and early 1800s,[7] particularly in basic commodities including cotton, silk, indigo dye, sugar, salt, spices, saltpetre, tea, and opium. The company also ruled the beginnings of the British Empire in India.

The company eventually came to rule large areas of India, exercising military power and assuming administrative functions. Company rule in India effectively began in 1757 after the Battle of Plassey and lasted until 1858 when, following the Indian Rebellion of 1857, the Government of India Act 1858 led to the British Crown assuming direct control of India in the form of the new British Raj.

The British Raj (/rɑːdʒ/; from rāj, literally, “rule” in Sanskrit and Hindustani)[2] was the rule by the British Crown on the Indian subcontinent from 1858 to 1947.[3][4][5][6] The rule is also called Crown rule in India,[7] or direct rule in India.[8] The region under British control was commonly called India in contemporaneous usage, and included areas directly administered by the United Kingdom, which were collectively called British India, and areas ruled by indigenous rulers, but under British subsidiary alliance or paramountcy, called the princely states. The region was sometimes called the Indian Empire, though not officially.

Columbia University in New York City through which MKULTRA work is conducted by British and US Defense and Medical contractors has been a large influence on british pilgrims society and life and whether directly connected to Columbia University medicine or not, here in Corpus Christ Texas I have seen an example of British Canadian Australian activity in the building of a hospital, the Spobn Sanitarium, in 1905 Texas, the year the British began a plan of encourage would trade activity and other charitable and business world involvement.

This book will point out Catholics like Dr Jeffery MacDonald, trained in medicine at Columbia University, become fish out of water when in the 1920s, 1025 in particular, British medical reearch around the world began styudying pscyhiatry, eugenics, and other military brain research in illegal programs clustered in OSS and British Intelligence backed programs.

This book looks at secret twins studies, William Barr, Donald Barr, Jeffery Epstein, the Prescott Bush family and descendents, the Kennedy family and descendants, and the Donegan family and descents, and illegal psychiatric studies and abusive military research and coverups in these families leading into 1945 and the Manhattan Project, RADAR, and and other sciences that my Cape Cod familiy became an espionage victim of.

This book will and the research I have done supporting it show former FBI Special Agent in charge Ted Gunderson (alogn with Louisiana prosecutor Jim Garrison) to be a focal point on finding these long deep British Rotschilds Rockefeller and Prescott BUSH NWO MLKULTRA programs visible surfacing, such as the assassinations of the Kennnedys, the murder of Jeffery Mac Donalds family by other parties, and how even Marilyn Monroe figured into this and became a victim of the CIA herself.

While these British Pilgrim like institutions may not hvve been planned for any purpose, when they were needed for a secret program beginning in 1925 for Eugenics research, they were available.

[image]

US Army Hospital 15 operated on North Beach at about the same time and the the postcard rather than the hospital may have belonged to the SIsters of Charity who provide nursing during war and other major life threating situations such as Influenza or poverty.

On January 23, 1919, the first wounded patients arrived-twenty-four men, “practically all Texans” from the Thirty-sixth Division, who had been wounded in October 1918, when the division was in action. They had recuperated sufficiently for the hospital ship transit of the Atlantic and were shipped to Corpus Christi for final convalescence before discharge. More wounded, including two African-Americans, both Texans, arrived until late February. While the U. S. Army was segregated, army hospitals generally were not. Wounded arrived until February 26, 1919, when the army decided to close the hospital. The war was over, the number of patients was now finite, and many leased facilities were being identified for closure in the coming months. The flow of patients reversed, and patients left the convalescent hospital and went back to posts, mainly Fort Sam Houston. The base hospital there had more staff as well as specialists, so patients would receive better care before they were discharged. On February 28, 1919, all remaining patients were moved to San Antonio.

Once the closure was announced, Corpus interest groups contacted the Texas legislators who again pressured the U. S. Army to keep the hospital open. The army had a consistent answer: GH15 was too small and inefficient, and there were 40,000 empty beds in other hospitals. The government continued to operate the facility as a hospital, but the army transferred it to the United States Public Health Service (PHS), which was responsible for veterans’ healthcare before the Veterans Bureau was formed. The army left a caretaker party (eventually only six soldiers) to handle the official transfer over to the PHS on May 31, 1919. The army’s final act was shipping 119 pounds of medical records to the Medical Records Section in Washington, D. C., on June 9, 1919.

The PHS ran the hospital through the hurricane of September 14-15, 1919. The hurricane wrecked the hospital, but the PHS persevered and purchased the remaining building (singular) and 4.5 acres on June 7, 1920, for $120,000, and rebuilt. Reconstruction was completed in 1922, and the PHS ran the hospital until 1927, when they sold it and it resumed operation as a hotel (The Breakers) until 1970.

The Spohn hospitlas tpday are a Christian network of hospitals tied to a priave family of great wealth and histor in the area started when Dr. Spohn traveled from Canada to Corpus Chrisi and establish Spohn Sanitarium in 1905.

This book will also conjecture and utilize available Open Source information that Bebrew compound Branch Davidians and the Lakota Tribe of Wounded Knee rejected the plan on nationalism soveriegnty grouunds, and they were anihalated as was CIA research center Jonestown Guyana.

> ### History - Incident at Wounded Knee
>
> US Marshall Service *
>
> The Wounded Knee incident began in February 1973, and represented the longest civil disorder in the history of the Marshals Service.
>
> The town of Wounded Knee, South Dakota was seized on February 27, 1973, by followers of the American Indian Movement (AIM), who staged a 71-day occupation of the area. In response to the incident, Marshals Service volunteers stepped forward from all ranks of service to assist in a resolution. U.S. Marshals, Chief Deputies, Deputies, and support personnel alike were ready to make the sacrifices required to join the historic operation.
>
> At its conclusion, U.S. Marshal Lloyd Grimm (District of Nebraska) would lie seriously wounded, as would an FBI agent. Two Indians would also unfortunately be killed. Exposure to personal danger, extreme weather conditions, prolonged hours of duty, and absence from home were just a few of the many frustrations people of the Marshals Service faced at Wounded Knee.

Like Republic of Ireland Catholics the Lakota Indians had been "sensitized" to foreign genocidal attacks having suffered a massacre long before the 1973 one.

The Massacre at Jonestwon Guyana CIA research center occurred on Date: November 18, 1978 and is tied to the spiritual advisor of Lyndon B. Johnson, reverend Jim Jones.

President Johnson was a member of the "Christian Church," also called the "Disciples of Christ." … While often going to his own church in Texas, the First Christian Church, he also attended Trinity Lutheran Church and Saint Francis Xavier Church, both in Stonewall, Texas.

Parent Church Is Chagrined By Evolution of Jones's Cult retrieved from New York Times and copied or modified to here

People Given Hope

"Here was a guy who could walk into the most gosh-awful slum and give people hope," said the Rev. A. Dale Fiers, leader of the denomination from 1964 through 1973. "Don't forget, in the 1960's the church was looking for this kind of man."

Founded in the early 19th century by settlers moving inland, the Disciples, like many other American churches, had little interest in theology or dogma. They founded regional and general offices but gave local churches autonomy.

Today, the Disciples include conservative churches like the Park Avenue Christian Church, where Dr. Fiers is interim pastor; experimental churches like the University Disciples of Christ in Chicago; black congregations in North Carolina, mixed congregations in the border states and a Haitian church in Brooklyn.

Their most famous member, Lyndon Baines Johnson, was baptized in the Pedernales River, and his funeral services were held at the Disciples' national church in Washington.

This long pattern of diversity existed when Mr. Jones approached the Disciples in 1960 as the leader of the People's Temple. By church law, for the congregation tojoin, members merely have to state: "I believe in Jesus Christ, Son of the Living God, and accept Him as my Lord and Saviour."

This easy acceptance may seem strange to most Roman Catholics and Jews, whose clergy come from approved seminaries, and to many Protestant groups, which review their ministers carefully. Yet many other Protestant groups are free with membership and ministry.

Camps like The Family in Australia, Kamloops in British Columbia Canada, an MacCMartin Preschool Manhattan Bech Manhattan Project Los Angeles County study twins and select who to groom, > Discovering they are of Royal origins at some later poing in life, after being selected and groomed in various CIA and British operated groups around the world

In 1963, Dunham (Barracks said to be mother) met Lolo Soetoro at the University of Hawaii. This is also when Barrack Obama Jr was turning 2 years old, studied develeopmental psychology as normal, and JFK was assasinstated. Lolo Sotero, thenew husband for Ms. Dunhum replacing Barrack Obama Sr., was an Indonesian East-West Center graduate student in geography. The couple married on Molokai on March 15, 1965.[30] After two one-year extensions of his J-1 visa, Lolo returned to Indonesia in 1966. His wife and stepson followed sixteen months later in 1967. The family initially lived in the Menteng Dalam neighborhood in the Tebet district of South Jakarta. From 1970, they lived in a wealthier neighborhood in the Menteng district of Central Jakarta.[31]

I do show the FOXP2 gene which is intentionally miss diagnosed in me, and those tied to being my biological half brother I think are the secret CIA birth of Barrack Obama Jr, the Kelley brothers of NASA, and hundreds of others.

Edward VIII, also called (from 1936) Prince Edward, duke of Windsor, in full Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David, (born June 23, 1894, Richmond, Surrey, Englanddied May 28, 1972, Paris, France), prince of Wales (1911-36) and king of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and of the British dominions and emperor of India from January 20 to December 10, 1936, when he abdicated in order to marry Wallis Warfield Simpson of the United States.

Charles Eugène Bedaux matter retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Charles Eugène Bedaux (10 October 1886 - 18 February 1944) was a French-American millionaire who made his fortune developing and implementing the work measurement aspect of scientific management, notably the Bedaux System. Bedaux was friends with British royalty and Nazis alike, and was a management consultant, big game hunter and explorer.

Major Bedaux clients included DuPont, Imperial Chemical Industries, Anglo-Persian Oil Company (later BP), Fiat, and Campbell's.

Bedaux purchased the sixteenth-century Château de Candé, in France, and lived there with his American second wife, the former Fern Lombard (1892-1972), a daughter of lawyer James Lombard of Grand Rapids, Michigan.[1] The couple purchased the château in 1927 and renovated it, completing work in 1930.

On 3 June 1937, Charles and Fern Bedaux hosted the wedding of Wallis Simpson and Prince Edward, Duke of Windsor at the château. To Bedaux's delight, the Windsors enthusiastically embraced the idea of making a tour of Nazi Germany. Bedaux arranged the couple's visit, where they publicly met the Führer, Adolf Hitler.

Arriving in Berlin that October, the couple were greeted by an SS band playing God Save The King while crowds chanted: We want the Duchess! Parties and receptions followed, and the Duchess, who had felt snubbed in England, noted with satisfaction that all the leading Nazis bowed or curtsied to her. The Windsors toured factories, coalmines and the training school of the elite Death's Head Division of the SS. Edward rewarded his hosts with a fulsome speech in praise of Germany and delivered a Nazi salute.

This book

Abuse in McMartin Manhattan Beach California Preschool , Jesuit Daniel Freeman Hospital Manhattan Beach and continuing MKULTRA abuse. Those in or that have knowledge about Column 2 are killed in guerillas war system

In reality I am a normal person well prepared for life from a family that gave their all to prepare me for life, and to keep the USA free so I could and other families could live in it free.

In about 2012 I was diagnosed with advanced Type II Diabetes and had an A1c of 13.3, a measure of over about three months how bad the high blood sugar medical emergency was.

Those who have A1c around 6t are considered in decent condition from Diabetes and that is the usual goal when intervention on Diabetes is attempted.

A1c above 10 is considered a lethal medical emergency and heart attack and stroke in the typical person with an A1c of 13.3 and Metabolic Syndrome (Syndrome X) has untreated diabetes.

The health consequence of harrassed gym access alone is Agravated Battery including with racial elements as the medical affects of untreated diabetes take their toll on my body.

As if to make a lethal opportunity out of that my medical spending, gym conditions, nutritional needs, etc., were interfered with. Since then I have wanted to meet and settle down with a white woman, me healthy and in the gym scene, and me healthy and in the gym scene, yet that has been interfered with as a Legend was created by actors surrounding me I sexualized Yoga pants and was a peeping threat to gym women, making me a threat to gum women and also it was created as a legend I liked teens or tots in swimwear or yoga pants making my presence unwanted by gym women.

When FOXP2 is recognizable (much is hidden about the Syndrome to hide the CIA connection to it) a GangStalk is used to try and slander, misdiagnose, and socially cleanse society from the stigmatized slandered FOXP2 gene expressing people.

Is Espionage terms I might just “drop like a house fly” dead to the floor though others using my gym techniques are welcome and popular and there is no need or demand for me in any gym as a health program workout partner system prespective.

Most probably Mockingbird, the plan to develop rage in people who show FOXP2 which has phenotype that is recognizable in grammar, etc., the CIA plan is to isolate and destroy those lives so that the nearly identical “clones” shot showing that quirk are seen as very different.

When James Angleton set the Infiltration scheme up he was aware certain factors might expose the infiltrators. One is the history of FOXP2 gene becoming known, and thus family lines of the rare gene identified. Two is that the DiVinci code not be broken and conspiracyh theories about the CIA plan be views as Russian attempts to influence the USA with Propaganda undermining the CIA/DIA/DARPA/NSA/FBI Further Reading

Vocabulary.com retrieved from Noxious and copied or modified to here > noxious

>
> Something noxious is harmful and could be even fatal - whether it is colorless, odorless, and invisible like carbon monoxide, or dark, strong-smelling, and obvious, like black smoke from a fire. People are called noxious too when they hurt others with cruelty or mental anguish.

English and Latin roots for noxious are related to the meanings of “harm,” “damage,” and “injury.” While obnoxious might come to mind when seeing the word noxious, obnoxious is a much less damaging adjective to describe someone annoying. Most uses for noxious involve real physical or emotional damage unless the word is used in exaggeration. Examples range from “the noxious gas fumes made the dog pass out” to “his cologne was so noxious I had to exit the elevator and take the stairs.”

1. Adjective: injurious to physical or mental health “noxious chemical wastes” “noxious ideas”

obnoxious

If something is obnoxious, it’s annoying and unpleasant. Generally, people like to avoid obnoxious folks.

If something is driving you absolutely crazy, it’s probably obnoxious. Yelling and stomping your feet is obnoxious. Poking someone repeatedly is obnoxious. Driving like a maniac is obnoxious. If the teacher comes in and finds students jumping up and down and throwing books, she might say, “Stop being so obnoxious!” Any time someone is obnoxious, someone else probably wants them to stop it.

1. Adjective: causing disapproval or protest

I live under these noxious, obnoxious, and abusvie conditions including being “labeled” by assaultive acts such as being forced position with racial assailants of me, child porn, sexually abusive comments and gestures towards me, etc.,

The form of abusive noxious and obnoxious assaults including radiological attacks are widely criminal mob assaults but those illegal acts under the GangStalk are required by a dangerous criminal syndicate which protects itself by the murder of journalists, actors, police and medical personnel, and other members of society so the Criminal Syncopate can continue long term Shadow Government profit objectives while avoiding the liability of Shadow Government officials, Syndicate members who have infiltrated government positions.

Henry Murray retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Henry Alexander Murray (May 13, 1893 - June 23, 1988) was an American psychologist at Harvard University, where from 1959 to 1962 he conducted a series of psychologically-damaging experiments on undergraduate students, one of whom was Ted Kaczynski, later known as the Unabomber

[image]

In 1927, at the age of 33, Murray became assistant director of the Harvard Psychological Clinic. He developed the concepts of latent needs (not openly displayed), manifest needs (observed in people’s actions), “press” (external influences on motivation) and “thema”-“a pattern of press and need that coalesces around particular interactions”.

Murray collaborated with Stanley Cobb, Bullard Professor of Neuropathology at the Medical School, to introduce psychoanalysis into the Harvard curriculum but to keep those who taught it away from the decision-making apparatus in Vienna. He and Cobb set the stage for the founding of the Boston Psychoanalytic Society after 1931, but both were excluded from membership on political grounds.

In 1935, Murray and Morgan developed the concept of apperception and the assumption that everyone’s thinking is shaped by subjective processes, the rationale behind the Thematic apperception test. They used the term “apperception” to refer to the process of projecting fantasy imagery onto an objective stimulus.

In 1937, Murray became director of the Harvard Psychological Clinic. In 1938 he published Explorations in Personality, a classic in psychology, which includes a description of the Thematic Apperception Test. In 1938 Murray acted as a consultant for the British Government, setting up the Officer Selection Board. Murray’s work at The Harvard Psychological Clinic enabled him to apply his theories in the design of the selection processes with a “situation test”, an assessment based on practical tasks and activities, an analysis of specific criteria (e.g. “leadership”) by a number of raters across a range of activities. Results were pooled to achieve an overall assessment.

World War II, Office of Strategic Services, 1939-45
During World War II, he left Harvard and worked as lieutenant colonel for the Office of Strategic Services (OSS). James Miller, in charge of the selection of secret agents at the OSS during World War ll, said the situation test was used by British War Officer Selection Board and OSS to assess potential agents.

MK ULTRA Wild Bill Donovan George H.W. Bush Henry Murry -[Studing Hitler in the OSS

Some sources includng Jonatham Moreno in his book suggested that Murray's experiments were part of, or indemnified by, the US Government's research into mind control known as the MKUltra project.

[image] [image]

Mind Wars: Brain Science and the Military in the 21st Century.

Jonathan D. Moreno has been a senior staff member for three presidential advisory commissions and has served on a number of Pentagon advisory committees. He is an ethics professor at the University of Pennsylvania and the editor-in-chief of the Center for American Progress' online magazine Science Progress.

One of the most important thinkers describes the literally mind-boggling possibilities that modern brain science could present for national security." -LAWRENCE J. KORB, former US Assistant Secretary of Defense

Lawrence J. Korb (born July 9, 1939, in New York City) is a senior fellow at the Center for American Progress and a senior adviser to the Center for Defense Information. He was formerly director of national security studies at the Council on Foreign Relations in New York.

"Fascinating and frightening." -Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists

The first book of its kind, Mind Wars covers the ethical dilemmas and bizarre history of cutting-edge technology and neuroscience developed for military applications. As the author discusses the innovative Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA) and the role of the intelligence community and countless university science departments in preparing the military and intelligence services for the twenty-first century, he also charts the future of national security.

Fully updated and revised, this edition features new material on deep brain stimulation, neuro hormones, and enhanced interrogation. With in-depth discussions of "psyops" mind control experiments, drugs that erase both fear and the need to sleep, microchip brain implants and advanced prosthetics, supersoldiers and robot armies, Mind Wars may read like science fiction or the latest conspiracy thriller, but its subjects are very real and changing the course of modern warfare.

Harvard human experiments, 1959-62

In 1947, he returned to Harvard as a chief researcher, lectured and established with others the Psychological Clinic Annex.

From late 1959 to early 1962, Murray was responsible for unethical experiments in which he used twenty-two Harvard undergraduates as research subjects.[6] Among other goals, experiments sought to measure individuals' responses to extreme stress. The unwitting undergraduates were submitted to what Murray called "vehement, sweeping and personally abusive" attacks. Specifically-tailored assaults to their egos, cherished ideas and beliefs were used to cause high levels of stress and distress. The subjects then viewed recorded footage of their reactions to this verbal abuse repeatedly.

Among the subjects was 17-year-old Ted Kaczynski, a mathematician who went on to be known as the 'Unabomber', a domestic terrorist who targeted academics and technologists for 17 years. Alston Chase's book Harvard and the Unabomber: The Education of an American Terrorist connects Kaczynski's abusive experiences under Murray to his later criminal career.

In 1960, Timothy Leary started research in psychedelic drugs at Harvard, which Murray is said to have supervised.

In 1943 Murray helped complete Analysis of the Personality of Adolph Hitler, commissioned by OSS boss MGen. William "Wild Bill" Donovan. The report was done in collaboration with psychoanalyst Walter C. Langer, Ernst Kris, New School for Social Research, and Bertram D. Lewin, New York Psychoanalytic Institute. The report used many sources to profile Hitler, including informants such as Ernst Hanfstaengl, Hermann Rauschning, Princess Stephanie von Hohenlohe, Gregor Strasser, Friedelinde Wagner, and Kurt Ludecke. The groundbreaking study was the pioneer of offender profiling and political psychology. In addition to predicting that Hitler would choose suicide if defeat for Germany was near, Murray's collaborative report stated that Hitler was impotent as far as heterosexual relations were concerned and that there was a possibility that Hitler had participated in a homosexual relationship. The report stated: “The belief that Hitler is homosexual has probably developed (a) from the fact that he does show so many feminine characteristics, and (b) from the fact that there were so many homosexuals in the Party during the early days and many continue to occupy important positions. It is probably true that Hitler calls Albert Forster “Bubi”, which is a common nickname employed by homosexuals in addressing their partners.”

> #HenryMurry #ColumbiaUniversity #Harvard #OSS #PsyOps studied #Hitler. I think he studied #FOXP2Syndrome in various families Kutschera, Windsor, and other descended, Einstein, Monroe, Harold and Glorian, Kennedy’s others. Like USSR Olympians trained from brith these families enter contests to rule Commonwealth Countries, political offices not sports. CIA OSS behavioral research from Kutschera family Glorian Donegan who also had the FOXP2Syndrom from the Windsor side

Theodore John Kaczynski born May 22, 1942), also known as the an American domestic terrorist and former mathematics professor.
mathematics prodigy, but abandoned his academic career in 1969 t primitive life. Between 1978 and 1995, he killed three people and i others in a nationwide bombing campaign against people he believe advancing modern technology and the destruction of the environme social critique opposing industrialization and advocating a nature-c anarchism. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

His belief was that diffences in poeple, sometimes with race refere being concealed by Anthropologists who had a technorcat agenda o world and controlling it along with media and scientific support for theory matches MKULTRA and the oil business grooming leaders to alter the world tied to big oil. Further Reading

The CIA helped underground chemists set up acid laboratories in the San Francisco Bay Area in 1967 to "monitor" events in the Haight-Ashbury district. Dr. Louis West rented a house in the district for observation purposes. West had extensive contacts with MK-ULTRA and LSD testing. Previously, he treated Jack Ruby, who he decided was insane. Ruby died in prison of cancer a few years later. Some believe Ruby's death was part of a continuing cover up of the Kennedy assassination, because one of the goals of MK-ULTRA was to find a substance that could induce cancer, and deaths from cancer would be above question.

The CIA also contracted with Eli Lilly Co., to ensure the supply of LSD. The contract signed in 1953 under Subproject 18 of MK-ULTRA totaled $400,000. George H. W. Bush was once a member of the Eli Lilly board, and the Quayle family was a large stockholder.

Many of the acid advocates in the 1960s had connections to the CIA. Ken Kesey, author of One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nes. and leader of the Merry Pranksters, Beat poet Allen Ginsberg, and Robert Hunter, lyricist for the Grateful Dead, first took LSD in a CIA-connected program at Stanford University. There also are suggestions that Timothy Leary received CIA-channeled money through various government agencies.

Accidental outgrowths of MK-ULTRA and its associate subprojects were all the "crazies" roaming the country. Dr. Hackney was a psychiatrist who did BeMod experiments for the CIA from 1970–75, involving how much pain a subject could withstand. These experiments were done at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Minnesota on the homeless or those who had no family. Society already considered them crazy, so no one would listen to them if they complained about the BeMod experiments. Hackney then began to figure out that these people really were not insane. Almost all of them had flashbacks involving the military, killing or learning to kill. Hackney found the stories consistent. Studies showed that these "crazies" were very conditioned and brainwashed when they were 18–21, and it worked great. The problem arose when the victims turned about 40 and all of it began to unravel. Repressed memory syndrome was offered as the diagnosis.

Shortly after repressed memory syndrome was accepted, the False Memory Syndrome Foundation appeared. The foundation's sole aim appears to be to discredit studies and research on repressed memory syndrome. Many members of the foundation have ties with the CIA and MK-ULTRA. For instance, Martin Orne, a senior CIA-Navy researcher based at the University of Pennsylvania's Experimental Psychiatry Laboratory, is one of the Generally families DID know they were part of a scientific study. They did NOT know Sidney Gottlieb and Free Masons and German Jewish Refugees were using the "elite - sovereign - celebrity - whatever" family line in unauthorized Espionage plans to create world planted leaders IF those lab experiments (authorized use of DNA or not) showed to be free of the visible characteristic of FOXP2 Syndrome, a sort of machining defect in an otherwise pretty high performing brain.

The long term usag of this be Free Masons, Rosecurians, Rockefeller Medicine, and others was not fully disclosed and illegal and meant to foster QEII Commonweath Kinfolk for the groomed sleeper agents.

Meanwhile illegal acts are used to hide people like Ed Donegan and disavow he comes from a high performing brain line, when in fact he does.

The Gangstalk will be used to subvert my life and alter perceptions of me. Like being trapped in a trash compactor operated by the Illuminati their lies, rather their lie pushed into my life from every angle, seems on consistent truth, but it is just rubbish pushing in on a would be Jedi.

Who

Free Masons in Business and Government

What

GangStalk, create phony appearances by evidence plants, false records, paid actors, subversion behind the scenes of normal life liberty and happiness to veer the life of the victim into lower outcomes and reputation damage by KOMPROMAT

When

At all times.

Where

During public and private life, evidence planted in bedroom, shower, private common spaces of apartments, public places

Why

> The most powerful of WWII Allies and Free Masons and Jewish Refugees of Nazism made private long term work of Eugenics which can not be hidden from history UNLESS outcomes of lives are altered and truths of who people really are are hidden.

Defense contractors tied to Grand Masters of Masonry and Europe will contest Nazi Germany in several ways including using some families that intersect with (defense contractors, the Kutscheras/Von Trapps/Whitehads/Joseph Kennedy Sr the Bush family) collide in a certain way if you consider Propaganda as part of Eugenics as Nazi Germany did.

These defense contractors had big business interests and were backed in oil businesses, missile and torpedo, media and film, and aviation and space.

It is much more inter-related than it appeared as war efforts were on film, in track and field, and in claims of racial superiority and inferiority and this turned geo-polical and big business based.

This is where FJK, RFK and Ted Gunderson and others came up against big businesses and the dirty war mafias used by the CIA.

Monarch Fighting and Ed Donegan Fighting tell of the Grand Masters and their war to stay rich and stay out of criminal trouble.

I assert I am one of many who were experimental DARPA and Queen of England test births from about 1901 on in which the Royal Families and other aristocrats are quietly trying to hide and breed out Minimal Brain Dysfunction FOXP2 gene first it seems formerly identified in the King Edward VII line of the Windsors, Glorian Donegan, and Malcolm X.

#GangStalk is poisoned atmosphere by an invisible cloud of Colloid. Toxic, will break the law, noxious, but invisible. Nerve gas, atmospheric poison, but invisible. Texas DPS Rangers were using mental health bacteria against me in Austin and Rangers beat themselves off.

Mc Martin in Manhattan Beach California under the multidisciplinary atomic blast experiments included a sub project of genetic variants, testing for them and understanding them and Sidney Gottlieb was part of that project which also tied to the secret history of the Obama family and CIA activities involving Windsors and JFK.

Follow the World Scale Disaster and Historical Events and find QEII and FOXP2

The NAZI party grew out of smaller political groups with a nationalis orientation that formed in the last years of World War I. In 1918, a lea the Freier Arbeiterausschuss für einen guten Frieden (Free Workers' Co a good Peace) was created in Bremen, Germany. On 7 March 1918, An an avid German nationalist, formed a branch of this league in Munich.
a local locksmith who had been a member of the militarist Fatherland during World War I and was bitterly opposed to the armistice of Nover and the revolutionary upheavals that followed. Drexler followed the vi militant nationalists of the day, such as opposing the Treaty of Versaill antisemitic, anti-monarchist and anti-Marxist views, as well as believin superiority of Germans whom they claimed to be part of the Aryan "m (Herrenvolk). However, he also accused international capitalism of bei Jewish-dominated movement and denounced capitalists for war profite World War I. Drexler saw the political violence and instability in Germ result of the Weimar Republic being out-of-touch with the masses, espe lower classes. Drexler emphasised the need for a synthesis of völkisch with a form of economic socialism, in order to create a popular nationa oriented workers' movement that could challenge the rise of Communi internationalist politics. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Die Trapp-Familie: A novice nun, Maria, is sent to care for the unruly children of the wealthy Baron von Trapp, a captain in the Austrian navy. The Baron and Maria fall in love and get married. The family becomes a nationally-acclaimed singing group, but when the Baron is comissioned to join Hitler's navy after the annexation of Austria in 1938, the family flees to the United States. https://cantarachristopher.wordpress.com/2018/12/16/die-trapp-familie-1956-und-die-trapp-familie-im-amerika-1958/

The Von Trapp Household in Austria pre Anschluss

tps://www.archives.gov/publications/prologue/2005/winter/von-trapps-htmlM

- Maria was born on 26 January 1905 to Augusta (née Rainer) and Karl Kutschera.[8] She was delivered on a train heading from her parents' village in Tyrol to a hospital in Vienna, Austria. Her mother died of pneumonia when she was two in the year of 1907 Her greif stricken father mostly abondoned her to other family and when she was 9 in 1914 or so her Uncle Franz Kutschera became her Gaurdian. [Franz Kutschera later Nazi Gestapo General and house live-in with Barron Ritter Von Trapp had Maria Kutschera in common and nothing else.]

- Maria came to the von Trapp family in 1926 as a tutor for one of the children, Maria, who was recovering from scarlet fever, not as governess to all the children. [this is the time Glorian Donegan and Marylin Monroe were born]

- Maria and George married a year later in 1927, 11 years before the family left Austria, not right before the Nazi takeover of Austria in 1938.

- There were 10, not 7 von Trapp children and I think Marylin Monroe, Glorian (nee Gainey) Donegan, and Harold Gainey were three possible 1925 1926 Prince Edward of Wales parented children.

- The family was musically inclined before Maria arrived, but she did teach them to sing madrigals.

- I think three of the denied children were by Prince Edward of Wales (per my family spoken history though Prince of York may also have fit. the 7 remaining children may have been between Von Trapp and Maria Kutschera Von TRrapp] It is possible the earlier out of wedlock births may have derailed (along with other factors such as a free-spirit) may have derailed the Convnet plan Franz Kutschera landed on for her.

- Maria came to the von Trapp family in 1926 as a tutor for one of the children, Maria, who was recovering from scarlet fever, not as governess to all the children. [this is the time Glorian Donegan and Marylin Monroe were born]

- Barron George Von Trapp my not have been trying to marry a foreign princess. Maria Kutschera may have wanted in 1926 to marry a foreign prince, Prince Edward of Wales, notorious playboy.

- Maria and George married a year later in 1927, 11 years before the family left Austria, not right before the Nazi takeover of Austria in 1938.

- There were 10, not 7 von Trapp children and I think Marylin Monroe, Glorian (nee Gainey) Donegan, and Harold Gainey were three possible 1925 1926 Prince Edward of Wales parented children.

- It is possible the earlier out of wedlock births may have derailed (along with other factors such as a free-spirit) may have derailed the Convnet plan Franz Kutschera landed on for her.

- The family was musically inclined before Maria arrived, but she did teach them to sing madrigals. [Actually Maria may have had had singing coaching from Franz Kutschera and later the Catholic priests Franz Wasner would utilized that after finding of her singing during the Convent period of Maria's life.]

- The von Trapps traveled to Italy, not Switzerland. Georg was born in Zadar (now in Croatia), which at that time was part of the Austro-Hungarian Empire. Zadar became part of Italy in 1920, and Georg was thus an Italian citizen, and his wife and children as well. The family had a contract with an American booking agent when they left Austria. They contacted the agent from Italy and requested fare to America. [And it is there they may have arrived in North Carolina in 1926 where my mother Glorian Gainey and Harold Gainey were born.

The real Father Franz Wasner was Father Odo woo worked with Duke of Urach?

Count Friedrich Wilhelm Alexander Ferdinand of Württemberg, 1st Duke of Urach (6 July 1810 - 17 July 1869), was the son of Duke Wilhelm of Württemberg (1761-1830), younger brother of King Frederick I of Württemberg, by his morganatic wife, Baroness Wilhelmine von Tunderfeldt-Rhodis (1777-1822), who had married in 1800.[1] He was the first Head of the House of Urach.

Carl Alexander Herzog von Württemberg (Father Odo OSB) (12 March 1896 - 27 December 1964) was a member of the House of Württemberg who became a Benedictine monk. During the Nazi and post-Nazi era, he provided aid to refugees, Jews, and prisoners of war and was reported to Nazi authorities for these activities. He acted as informant of Federal Bureau of Investigation and spied on Wallis Simpson, the lover and later wife of the former British king Edward VIII.

This is the monk who came to the USA during WWII and reported King Edward VIII of having Nazi ties to the FBI. He rean an underground railroad from Nazi Germany and may have helped both Arnold Swchwartezenegger and Maria Kutschera out of Germany and in that way Arnold Schwartzenevver would know the real history of Maria Kutschere and the Nazis and J. Edgar Hoover would too. The Peace Corps of CIA backed USAID may have had some involvement from him too.,

Carl Alexander was the third son of Albrecht, Duke of Württemberg and his wife, Archduchess Margarete Sophie of Austria. He also had four younger sisters. He was taught at home and attended high school after 1914.

In World War I, he fought on the Western Front in Italy. He resigned from the army at the rank of captain, following the German Revolution of 1918-1919, and within a few months became a postulant at the Abbey of St. Martin in Beuron. He entered the novitiate in 1920 as “Brother Odo,” taking vows in February 1921. His father succeeded King Wilhelm II, a distant cousin, as head of the House of Württemberg in October of that same year. Brother Odo was ordained a priest in 1926. In the summer of 1930, Father Odo was sent to the Abbey of St. Martin, in Weingarten, not far from Castle Altshausen. He held several offices in the monastery and was active with different Catholic youth organizations. Because of his position and his family’s conservative Catholic values, he was involved in opposition to National Socialism as early as 1933 and was interrogated by the Gestapo several times.

He left the abbey and traveled to Württemberg in 1934. The Nazis expelled Father Odo from Germany in 1936, and he took refuge in monasteries in Switzerland and Italy. In Switzerland, he founded International Catholic Refugees and traveled through Europe.

The historian and archivist of the House of Württemberg, Eberhard Fritz, believes that Claus von Stauffenberg's opposition to Adolf Hitler may have been partly motivated by his relationship with the House of Württemberg (Stauffenberg's father was the last Oberhofmarschall of the Kingdom of Württemberg). Stauffenberg was personally acquainted with Father Odo and was well aware of pockets of resistance against the Nazis.

After the end of World War II, Father Odo founded the Central European Rehabilitation Association (CERA), with the aim of providing war-torn Central Europe with food, clothing, medicine, and other necessities. In 1949, after CERA had fulfilled its function and was dissolved, Father Odo returned to the abbey of St. Bartholomew in Germany. He left the monastery in 1952 because of a heart condition, returning to his family castle in Altshausen. There he spent the last years of his life and was a refounder of the Yellow Hussars of Altshausen.

Father Odo was briefly interviewed and mentioned in the 1959 biography of his cousin Queen Mary of Teck by the British biographer James Pope-Hennessy.

According to his wishes, Father Odo was buried in the cemetery of the Abbey of St. Martin at Weingarten, Württemberg.

Consider the Eye of Providence on Heath Ledger's forhead in a movie still frame and William of Ulrich. Heath [Prince] Andrew Ledger (April 4 1979 - 22 January 2008) Matilda Rose Ledger his recently born daughter

Further Reading

Wilhelm served as a cavalry officer in the army of the then-independent Kingdom of Württemberg.

U-bout retired Captain George Von Trapp whose submarine role was firing WHitehead torpedoes at enemy ships, Agatha Whitehead the heir to the British torpedo manufacture line.

3 of the 10 Von Trapp children are not accounted for. I think Marylin Monroe, Glorian Donegan, Harold Gainey. North Carolina in 1925/1926.

Getting to North Carolina and the Public Charge Rule

The Public Charge Rule is not a new U.S. immigration concept. From as early as 1882, the U.S. Congress used the concept to deny visas to people who would become a “public charge” as immigrants. A public charge is anyone who would become dependent on the U.S. government after gaining immigrant status. *

While the Von Trapp family was out of wedlock Windsor that was secret. Franz Kutschera likely at that time had little recognition. The very poor family only finally gained entrance and passage to the USA (where they had stated to Border Agents they wished to stay) when they displayed they had a singing agent and income capability. Glorian and Harold were adopted but that seems to have circumvented the immigration process.

Franz Kutschera Franz Kutschera (22 February 1904 - 1 February 1944) was an Austrian Nazi politician and government official. He along withe Joseph Mengle were selecting genetically shunned population for the gas chamber. Mengle escaped to Buenos Aries and is talked obliquely by Jen Moore who interviewed Maria Kutschera and Jen Moore mentions this Mengele and Buenos Aeirs connection to the story several times including while pointing her camera at my and Glorian Donegan's Virginian apartment.

> OSS to CIA, black budgets, Operation Paperclip, & Hidden Identities YouTube
>
> Okay it is Sunday night and I'm looking out at beautiful Washington DC and as you can tell I have a great view this evening it's a Sunday night tonight before the Monday morning testimony I believe before the Judiciary Committee on the OIG report so that's gonna be tomorrow morning and I will be there live it in person to see the fireworks if there are any I hope there are a little bit courage mr. Jim Jordan and mr. good luck and mr. gates to it mr. Gowdy to all go full wards get these documents so I'm posting this video just because I'm going to attach the interview number three and four that I had done now regarding um you know start the first two interviews were kind of starting in World War one and moving into World War two OSS to the CIA different players that were involved dealt the Dulles brothers Hitler obviously Aleister Crowley in my six in my five how the OSS became the CIA the Vatican's involvement the indoctrination that occurred the different experiments that were done how MKULTRA was brought together under several different kind of philosophies or mythology's I guess you could say some of it is really hard to listen to but it's the truth and it needs to be told because it's still happening so though as these interviews go long I move it into the United States and Canada in particular I mean it's a very lot of other places but United States in Canada really was infiltrated through black budgets by the CIA and went from OSS into CIA the Vatican was involved in that and Operation Paperclip in how these Nazi scientists including Hitler and Mengele and Himmler and all these kind of the worst characters of all were secretly moved in to Argentina and South America and then some of them were even brought up into the United States and they were given new identities they were brought into universities hospital programs various secret sites black-budget sites where the experimentation continued on all kinds of things and all kinds of Americans especially small children and I'm going to lead into things like the Kinsey studies if anyone has looked into that Masters and Johnson how they're all tied together some of the places that are still in operation as of today that I am aware of but uh these two interviews specifically start to bring into the politics of the United States of America at least since World War two the different players involved a lot of these players that call them players or politicians or you know businessmen or senators or you know what whatever title they might have there's some of them that don't want their identities known their real identities are the real history zone and I'm not gonna name names at this point except you could do some deduction use your deduction skills and you know kind of think about whose identities might have been hidden recently even even years and years and decades ago but recently really and so these interviews start talking about that and how that came about and why there's such a mystery and why there's so many sealed records and some of the information that I am in possession of to begin to peel back the layers of this onion so the American people can fully understand where we are today why we are here today and who these people really are because this country is our country the American people's country we are in charge of the government they don't get to hide from us so it's time for their exposure and I'm going to be part of that so you can listen to interviews three and four and it gets into some pretty gnarly details but there's truth there and I've got court cases and documents to back it up personal eyewitnesses you name it this is the story of a whistleblower our whistleblowers in general yes it is dangerous I accept that at the same time I refuse to be silent anymore and so I'm going to carry on releasing

> this information

Later on as an adult Glorian would join the USA while her brother Harold Gainey went to work of Du Pont in Sumpter South Carolina.

The story of at least 3 picks up in US records in North Carolina, Festus Gainey who my mother Glorian Gainey and Harold Gainey were raised with until he died.

Festus Gainey
BIRTH 19 Oct 1884
Wayne County, North Carolina, USA
DEATH 3 Mar 1936 (aged 51)
Goldsboro, Wayne County, North Carolina, USA
BURIAL
Thornton Family Cemetery
That would have put her at 8, becoming 9 on December 13th that year.

Does December 13 have any significance in Austria to former King Edward VIII who abdicates in 1936?or Maria's family?

I think Maria Kutschera left for Sout Carolina USA pregnant with Glorian Donegan and King Edward VIII was the father

A visit to the grandfather of Glorian Donegan Maria Garudian Franz Kutchera December 14 1936

This was about the time the death of Festus Gainey orphaned Glorian Donegan and teh DuPonts stepped in.

Gaurdian.com and copied or modified to here

Duke of Windsor in Austria

Guest at castle near Vienna

Monday 14 December 1936 guardian.co.uk

Ex-King Edward, now Duke of Windsor, is to stay for an indefinite period as the guest of Baron Eugene de Rothschild at the latter's castle at Enzesfeld, 25 miles south of Vienna. [This confirms the information published in the "Manchester Guardian" last week that the ex-King had arranged to go to Austria.]

The express on which the Duke of Windsor travelled from Boulogne reached Vienna at 10.05 last night. The Duke drove off at once in Baron Eugene de Rothschild's car for Enzesfeld.M

The house at which the Duke is to spend the first part of his self-imposed exile is a hunting lodge with about forty rooms, standing in an estate of nearly fifteen square miles.

At Vienna station

As the train drew in at the station police hurried on to the platform and formed a cordon round the special sleeper which was next to the engine and luggage-van, allowing none of the passengers anywhere near it. Inside the cordon a number of detectives, led by Dr. Skubl, Police President of Vienna, and Sir Walford Selby, the British Minister in Vienna, had gathered. No representative of the Austrian Government was present.

Schloss Enzesfeldt, near Vienna, Austria

Schloss Enzesfeldt is a prominent landmark in the Triesting valley, about 25 miles from Vienna. The castle was developed as a fortress in the late 11th century to defend the valley from invading Slavs and Magyars. It came under the control of the Habsburgs, who sold the castle in the 16th century. After a variety of owners, the estate was purchased in 1880 by Salomon Albert Anselm von Rothschild (1844-1911), who restored the castle and improved the property, and was a great benefactor to the town of Enzesfeldt. The estate passed to Eugène von Rothschild (1884-1976), and between the wars the Viennese Rothschild family entertained on a grand scale at Enzesfeldt.

Enzesfeldt and the Duke and Duchess of Windsor

Eugène's first wife Cathleen 'Kitty' Wolf (1885-1946), had been a friend of Elsie de Wolfe (Lady Mendl), and in 1937, it was on her recommendation that the Rothschilds invited the Duke of Windsor to stay when he left England, having signed the Instrument of Abdication on 10 December 1936. It was to prove a difficult three-month visit: the Duke was a demanding guest, and he had to remain apart from Wallis Simpson until there was no danger of compromising the granting of a decree absolute in her divorce proceedings. The couple were reunited at the Château de Candé, Monts, France, in May 1937, where they were married a month later.

The Second World War

During the Second World War, properties of the Viennese Rothschilds, including Enzesfeldt were confiscated by the Nazis. The Viennese business of the Rothschilds was seized, and Eugène and other members of the family had to pay a substantial ransom for the release of his brother Louis von Rothschild (1882-1955) from imprisonment by the Gestapo in Vienna. Eugène and Kitty left for the United States, where they settled on Long Island, and where Eugène, met and married his second wife, the former actrees Jeanne Stuart (1908-2003) in 1952, after Kitty's death in 1946.

In 1963, Eugène sold the Enzesfeldt estate, and it was subsequently developed into a country club by Baron Hubert von Pantz.

Return to Estates listing

The Rothschild Family Schloss Enzesfeldt, near Vienna, Austria Schloss Enzesfeldt is a prominent landmark in the Triesting valley, about 25 miles from Vienna. The castle was developed as a fortress in the late 11th century to defend the valley from invading Slavs and Magyars. It came under the control of the Habsburgs, who sold the castle in the 16th century. After a variety of owners, the estate was purchased in 1880 by Salomon Albert Anselm von Rothschild (1844-1911), who restored the castle and improved the property, and was a great benefactor to the town of Enzesfeldt. The estate passed to Eugène von Rothschild (1884-1976), and between the wars the Viennese Rothschild family entertained on a grand scale at Enzesfeldt.

Enzesfeldt and the Duke and Duchess of Windsor

Abdicates December 10 1936 Vists Austria December 14 1937

Eugène's first wife Cathleen 'Kitty' Wolf (1885-1946), had been a friend of Elsie de Wolfe (Lady Mendl), and in 1937, it was on her recommendation that the Rothschild's invited the Duke of Windsor to stay when he left England, having signed the Instrument of Abdication on 10 December 1936. It was to prove a difficult three-month visit: the Duke was a demanding guest, and he had to remain apart from Wallis Simpson until there was no danger of compromising the granting of a decree absolute in her divorce proceedings. The couple were reunited at the Château de Candé, Monts, France, in May 1937, where they were married a month later.

The Second World War

During the Second World War, properties of the Viennese Rothschild's, including Enzesfeldt were confiscated by the Nazis. The Viennese business of the Rothschild's was seized, and Eugène and other members of the family had to pay a substantial ransom for the release of his brother Louis von Rothschild (1882-1955) from imprisonment by the Gestapo in Vienna. Eugène and Kitty left for the United States, where they settled on Long Island, and where Eugène, met and married his second wife, the former actrees Jeanne Stuart (1908-2003) in 1952, after Kitty's death in 1946.

In 1963, Eugène sold the Enzesfeldt estate, and it was subsequently developed into a country club by Baron Hubert von Pantz.

"Die Heilige Johanna der Schlachthöfe" Eva Kotthaus (L) as Johanna and Franz Kutschera (R)s as the butcher millionaire[of the Castle] Pierpon Mauler perform a scene of the play "Die Heilige Johanna der Schlachthöfe" during the dress rehearsal by Bert Brecht. On the occasion of the opening of the new theatre of Frankfurt, "Faust I" is performed on 14 December 1963 and "Die Heilige Johanna der Schlachthöfe" on the following day. | usage worldwide (Photo by Heinz-Jürgen Göttert/picture alliance via Getty Images)

Johanna Karolina Gobertina Barbara von Trapp was the sixth child of Georg Ritter von Trapp and his first wife, Agathe Whitehead. She was a member of the Trapp Family Singers

Festus Gainey
BIRTH 19 Oct 1884
Wayne County, North Carolina, USA
DEATH 3 Mar 1936 (aged 51)
Goldsboro, Wayne County, North Carolina, USA
BURIAL
Thornton Family Cemetery
That would have put her Glorian Gainey of North Carolina at 8, becoming 9 on December 13th that year having been born in North Carolina Dec 13 1926

Return to Estates listing

The Allies of World War I or Entente Powers were a coalition of countries led by France, Britain, Russia, Italy, Japan, and the United States against the Central Powers of Germany, Austria-Hungary, the Ottoman Empire, Bulgaria, and their colonies during the First World War (1914-1918).

The Japanese fleet was said to be far ranging operating in the Meditaranion ocean and Captain Von Trapp may have held military intelligence knowlege about the Japanese Navy, Cenral Europe, and the naval defense of Japan.

U-boats were naval submarines operated by Germany, particularly in the First and Second World Wars. Although at times they were efficient fleet weapons against enemy naval warships, they were most effectively used in an economic warfare role and enforcing

The Cunard liner was attacked by U-20 commanded by Kapitänleutnant Walther Schwieger. After the single torpedo struck, a second explosion occurred inside the ship, which then sank in only 18 minutes. Only 761 people survived out of the 1,266 passengers and 696 crew aboard, and many of the casualties were American citizens. The sinking turned public opinion in many countries against Germany. It also contributed to the American entry into the War two years later; images of the stricken liner were used heavily in US propaganda and military recruiting campaigns.

The contemporary investigations in both the United Kingdom and the United States into the precise causes of the ship's loss were obstructed by the needs of wartime secrecy and a propaganda campaign to ensure all blame fell upon Germany.[1] Argument over whether the ship was a legitimate military target raged back and forth throughout the war, but after the war it was revealed that at the time of her sinking she was carrying over 4 million rounds of machine-gun ammunition (.303 calibre), almost 5,000 shrapnel shell casings (for a total of some 50 tons), and 3,240 brass percussion artillery fuses.

From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

A woman who was raised poor on a farm who did not tour with the Von Trapps (She and Harold showed FOXP2 Syndrome) but was of "two competing systems" the Franz Kutschera relatives via Maria Kutschera plus Maria Kutschera's wishful fling with Prince Edward of Wales, out of wedlock.

With 7 accounted for as singers (Goerge Von Trapp children) and 3 secret Prince of Wales children alreaedy in the USA

> Though she was a caring and loving person, Maria wasn't always as sweet as the fictional Maria. She tended to erupt in angry outbursts consisting of yelling, throwing things, and slamming doors. Her feelings would immediately be relieved and good humor restored, while other family members, particularly her husband, found it less easy to recover. In her 2003 interview, the younger Maria confirmed that her stepmother "had a terrible temper … . And from one moment to the next, you didn't know what hit her. We were not used to this. But we took it like a thunderstorm that would pass, because the next minute she could be very nice."

Instead of the fictional Max Detweiler, pushy music promoter, the von Trapps' priest, the Reverend Franz Wasner, acted as their musical director for over 20 years.

Georg von Trapp, born in 1880, became a national hero as a captain in the Austrian navy during World War I. He commanded submarines with valor and received the title of "Ritter" (knight), and later baron, as a reward for his heroic accomplishments. Georg married Agathe Whitehead, the granddaughter of Robert Whitehead, the inventor of the torpedo, in 1912. They had seven children together: Rupert, 1911-1992; Agathe, 1913-[2010]; Maria, 1914-[2014]; Werner, 1915-[2007]; Hedwig, 1917-1972; Johanna, 1919-1994; and Martina, 1921-1952. After World War I, Austria lost all of its seaports, and Georg retired from the navy. His wife died in 1922 of scarlet fever. The family was devastated by her death and unable to bear living in a place where they had been so happy, Georg sold his property in Pola (now Pula, Croatia) and bought an estate in Salzburg.

The family lost most of its wealth through the worldwide depression when their bank failed in the early 1930s. Maria tightened belts all around by dismissing most of the servants and taking in boarders. It was around this time that they began considering making the family hobby of singing into a profession. Georg was reluctant for the family to perform in public, "but accepted it as God's will that they sing for others," daughter Eleonore said in a 1978 Washington Post interview. "It almost hurt him to have his family onstage, not from a snobbish view, but more from a protective one." As depicted in The Sound of Music, the family won first place in the Salzburg Music Festival in 1936 and became successful, singing Renaissance and Baroque music, madrigals, and folk songs all across > Europe.

>
> When the Nazis annexed Austria in 1938, the von Trapps realized that they were on thin ice with a regime they abhorred. Georg not only refused to fly the Nazi flag on their house, but he also declined a naval command and a request to sing at Hitler's birthday party. They were also becoming aware of the Nazis' anti-religious propaganda and policies, the pervasive fear that those around them could be acting as spies for the Nazis, and the brainwashing of children against their parents. They weighed staying in Austria and taking advantage of the enticements the Nazis were offering-greater fame as a singing group, a medical doctor's position for Rupert, and a renewed naval career for Georg-against leaving behind everything they knew-their friends, family, estate, and all their possessions. They decided that they could not compromise their principles and left.
>
> https://www.archives.gov/publications/prologue/2005/winter/von-trapps-html

Agatha Whitehead deceased Maria Kutschera from a Catholic convent nun novitiate assigned to help the widowed and retired George Von Trapp with flighty children herself and them like FOXP2 Syndrome showing likely already in the Von Trapp family and children.

Barron Von Treapp an Austrian Knight (for bravery in the military) displaying the Austrian Crown on his living room tapestry, allied with England and Agetha Whitehead torpodo company, and part of the Royal Aristocratic rule of the Kingdom of Austria while trying to marry a princess of foreign title, and carrying a Syndrom gene (Much like Arnold Schwartzenegger) which the British Royal family knew about since 1890 and were studying since 1901 in Australian mental health assylumns, and rejecting anti-semetism, it was clear Barron Von Trapp had every reason to escape the annex of Austria by the Germans who were going to war with every part of his identity.

When the Von Trapps, the famous musical family depicted in The Sound of Music, escaped the Nazis, the story of their Austrian home was far from over.

“After they left, Heinrich Himmler moved in here,” our host and building manager Christopher Unterkofler explains.

The messenger of posts was not a youth, the ages were wrong, that was Himmler working with Franz Kutschera as Nazi plotters.

After the war, a religious group, the Catholic Missionaries of the Precious Blood, bought the property from the Von Trapps, who had had their ownership restored after the Nazis were defeated.

Concentration camp Mauthausen, visit of Heinrich Himmler. Franz Kutschera third from the right in the first row (Bundesarchiv, Bild 192-016 / CC-BY-SA 3.0)

Julie Andrews said she could “feel the evil” when she visited the real Von Trapp house

Heidi Lux in Upworthy.com *

Andrews did visit the von Trapp house in Salzburg, Austria later on in her life. “It wasn’t until much later that I happened to visit the real villa where they actually lived,” she told BuzzFeed News. During her visit, Andrews said she could “feel the evil that once permeated those walls.” The evil Andrews refers to is, of course, the Nazis. “Because after they fled the country, which they had to do, as in the film, [Heinrich] Himmler took over that villa, and the atrocities there were just terrible,” she continued.

Not one year later, the house was occupied by Nazis. Heinrich Himmler used the house as his summer residence until 1945. Himmler was the second most powerful man of the Third Reich. Himmler set up and ran the Nazi concentration camps. The house was surrounded by armed guards and barbed wires. A barracks for the SS was built in the garden. Himmler also built the white wall around the house using slave labor. After the wall was completed, he had those who constructed the wall shot. Very monstrous.

Now, the von Trapp house is a more peaceful place. In 1947, the property was purchased from the von Trapp family by the Missionaries of the Precious Blood *.

Did Julie Andrews meet her biological father when and if she met King Edward VIII? retrieved from By Claudia Puig, USA TODAY April 1, 2008, ABC News.com and copied or modified to here

Born on Oct. 1, 1935, Andrews grew up poor and was raised by an alcoholic mother and abusive stepfather. Barbara Ward Morris and Edward (Ted) Wells (the man Andrews thought was her father) were divorced when she was 7. Julie's mother remarried Ted Andrews, a Canadian-born tenor.

Ted Andrews insisted on giving Julie singing lessons and legally adopted her. Julia Wells became Julie Andrews. At 9 she joined her mother and Ted in their popular vaudeville act.

On November 1, 1948, Julie Andrews, aged 13, became the young performer ever to be seen in a Royal Command Variety Performanc George VI and Queen Elizabeth at the London Palladium.

Her voice was so impressive the press dubbed her "the pig-tailed prodigy." She had moments few children can claim: At 10 she performed for Queen Elizabeth (who later became the Queen Mother) and at 11 did her first radio broadcast for the BBC. She was performing nightly at the London Palladium at the tender age of 12.

Meeting the queen made a powerful impression. "After I curtsied to her, she said to me, 'You sang beautifully tonight.' At school the next day, the students were agog," Andrews recalls in Home. "It was my first taste of celebrity. The school klutz was suddenly the center of attention. Everyone became aware that my parents were in 'showbiz' and I relished being accepted at last."

There are other unsettling secrets in a life that sounds quasi-Dickensian with the young Julie helping to support her family by performing nightly.

Andrews' maternal grandfather, a coal miner, died at 43 of syphilis after infecting her grandmother. When Julie was 14, her mother took her to a party and casually introduced her to a man she later told Julie was her biological father.

"It rocked my world," says Andrews, who adored Wells, her mother's first husband, with whom she lived the first six years of her life and whom she called Dad. (Andrews doesn't reveal the name of her biological father.)

"I think I met him (her biological father) twice, and I corresponded maybe twice in my whole life with him," she says. "I didn't know if my dad knew that he was my father, so I never could talk about it with him. What if he didn't know? Why would I hurt him? What if it wasn't true?"

…

Mauthausen concentration camp retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Mauthausen was a Nazi concentration camp on a hill above the market town of Mauthausen (roughly 20 kilometres (12 mi) east of Linz), Upper Austria (Alps). It was the main camp of a group with nearly 100 further subcamps located throughout Austria and southern Germany.[

The Mauthausen main camp operated from the time of the Anschluss, when Austria was united with Nazi Germany on 8 August 1938, to 5 May 1945, at the end of the European theatre of Second World War. Starting with the camp at Mauthausen, the number of subcamps expanded over time and by the summer of 1940 Mauthausen and its subcamps had become one of the largest labour camp complexes in the German-controlled part of Europe.

As at other Nazi concentration camps, the inmates at Mauthausen and its subcamps were forced to work as slave labour, under conditions that caused many deaths.

Traveler.com

Franz Kutschera uncle to orphaned Maria Kutschera whose parents died, one a school teacher, and seems to be living with Captain George Von Trapp in the Austrian castle. Uncle Franz is disgusted by the behavior (free spirited and the apple seems bitten of) of Maria Kutschera until both Franz Kutschera and Franz Joseph same first names different plans for Austria hear the Von Trapp singers in the Salzburg singing contest winning first prize.

VIsting the house Rudy Brubaker banker whose bank failed erasing the Whitehead torpedo missile company fortune way. To shore up the Austrian bank George Von Trap transfered the Whitehead fortune from London into the Austrian bank. Father Wasner a Catholic Priest friendly to the family and involved with church music and getting the Von Trapps out following the events of ‘36 t0 ‘38.

Chancelor Emporer Kaiser and other names of the Aristocrat Masonic Royal Austria Franz Joseph will hear the children sing on the radio. While the Nazis sneak his country out from under him and annex it to Gernmany Franz Joseph may have recomeneded the singing children to London.

Joseph Kennedy Sr. a remote friend of Captain Von Trapp and Agatha Whitehead, US Ambassador to England an steel and ship magnate from Boston Massachusetts.

Interesting Sound of Music (original in German) production. In the second segment on YouTube a change occurs.

Captain Von Trapp Austrio-Hungarian may himself have the gene or perhaps Agatha Whitehead or both. In Segment 1 on YouTube Maria Kutschera novitiate finds Captain Von Trapp (who himself succeeded in the military perhaps from intensive regimentation of himself) regiments his children and hides them. In Segment Two on YouTube novitiate Maria makes play clothes for the children from drapes as if gunny sacks but look good and takes the children to the park to roll down hills and not worry about getting them dirty. *

This is what Captain Von Trapp fears, exposure of the children to the public, Maria Von Trapp embraces the children for who they are and encourages play and later singing.

Segment Three on YouTube places Captain Von Trapp in an interesting situation. The banks are after him now that his rich wife Agatha Whitehead torpedo manufacture fortune heir has died. Maintaining capital assets such as the Estate and caring for his children is serious problem for him and a rich Princess has turned down his marriage interests. A boarding school for the children is beyond his means and so far his efforts are not working.

Maria Kustchera has a new theory of child rearing which is not “old fashioned” and is more respectable and more mainstream that it had seemed so far and is gaining acceptance. So why not try it?

In episode 4 Captain Von Trapp has married Maria Kutschera with the encouragement of the foreign princess who declined his courtship. Banker Rudy of an Austrian bank wiped out financially by the Great Depression and German boycott of Austria declares bankruptcy and commits suicide. Just before the suicide Von Trapp tries to write his rich London advocate (Joseph Kennedy Sr.) for help. Perhaps that help will come in the form of a move to London. As t his happened the Organ donated to the church is too small however the children are becoming a Human Resource in their musical theater skills and the Church priest Father Wasner responsible for music starts involvement with the children and family.

In Episode 5 Chancellor Fanz Joseph hears the children singing on the radio and recognizes the Von Trapp name as the "u- boat commander" whose submarine fired Whitehead Torpedoes at surface vessels. Further Reading

With Rudi's Grubers bank failed Captain Von Trapp informs Maria he has lost not only a friend but his fortune (the inheritance of Agetha Whitehead, his first wife) and they are now ruined.

In Episode 6 the guy around the house, perhaps the butler, perhaps an Uncle of Maria whose name is Franz reveals himself to be a Nazi party member, illegal in Austria, but he know reveals his "cutup cross" (nazi swastika) on hist turned out lapel. This as Von Trapp regrets he has no family left because his own esteemed poet relative line on another branch of the Von Trapp family has already died out.

Franz and his Nazi thug friends demand a Nazi flag on annexed Austrian houses, they know the Von Trapps and Rudi Gruber and Von Trapp himself were closelyh tied German Nazi enemy Windsors of England.

For the Von Trapps is was Austria that moved, once a hero he is now an enemy in a now different Austria.

In 1925 Twins, brothers, half brothers, and other out of wedlock out of realWindsorFamily began with the co-operation of Columbia University and Harvard Skull and Bones and under those pillars a gathered variety of MKLULTRA institutions. This included 1925 Von Trapp Windsor DNA in USA out of wedlocks such as Marilyn Monroe and Glorian Donegan, over the years many others including the Bush family, Cruz familiy, and others worldwide.

Barrack Obama was one of several groomed by DARPA in a program JFK and others were assassinated to protect. This led into the Boston Bombing(s) and acts against the Donegan family, tied into MKLULTRA and the study of FOXP2.

> Genetic Marker - Genome.gov
>
> A genetic marker is a DNA sequence with a known physical location on a chromosome. Genetic markers can help link an inherited disease with the responsible gene. DNA segments close to each other on a chromosome tend to be inherited together. Genetic markers are used to track the inheritance of a nearby gene that has not yet been identified, but whose approximate location is known. The genetic marker itself may be a part of a gene or may have no known function.
>
> Genetic and phenotypic markers
>
> Manufacturers of products derived from biological systems have long sought to identify relevant genotypic and phenotypic markers displayed by production strains and cell lines which could be employed as in-process monitors to predict product quality. Ideally, changes in these markers would signal possible changes in product quality and could be used to ensure batch to batch product consistency.
>
> above excerpt from Genetic and phenotypic markers and their relationship to product quality and consistency - National Lirbary of Medicine pubmed.cpom

Genes and queens retrieved from Mark A Joblingcorresponding author1 NCBI and copied or modified to here

The aristocratic families of Britain claim special status through their descent from another William, the Conqueror, born in AD 1027. But in theory, all the indigenous people of Britain have an ancestor in common as recently as about AD 1200, so descent from the conquering William should be no surprise to any of us. The only difference between the aristocracy and the rest is that the former have kept records. Even accounting for the very nonrandom mating habits of our species, a simulation-based study suggests that the most recently living person who is a common ancestor of everyone on the planet lived a mere 3,400 years ago [8]. This paper ends with what is, for Nature, a remarkably poetic piece of writing: 'No matter the languages we speak or the colour of our skin, we share ancestors who planted rice on the banks of the Yangtze, who first domesticated horses on the steppes of the Ukraine, who hunted giant sloths in the forests of North and South America, and who laboured to build the Great Pyramid of Khufu'

Evocative as these genealogical arguments are, however, they do not correspond to the passage of DNA. With every generation, the amount of DNA inherited from a specific ancestor halves, so if William the Conqueror lived 33 generations ago, we expect our genetic legacy from him, on average, to consist of less than a single base pair of our 3,200-Mbp genome. Not much of a royal inheritance.

There's a widely held view that royal dynasties are a rather inbred lot, and maybe an injection of genes from a member of the populace would be a good thing: Inbred groups tend to have relatively high frequencies of genetic disorders. Queen Victoria seemed to agree: In a letter to one of her daughters, she wrote, ‘I do wish one could find some more black-eyed Princes and Princesses for our children! I can’t help thinking what dear Papa said that it was … when there was some little imperfection in the pure Royal descent that some fresh blood was infused’.

The best-known example of a genetic disorder within the British monarchy involves blood more literally: It is haemophilia. Queen Victoria herself was a carrier of this X-linked blood-clotting disorder, which at the time was untreatable in the affected males. Only a few haemophiliacs survived to reproductive age, because any external cut or internal bleeding after a bruise could be fatal. One of Victoria’s sons, Leopold, died of it.

While the past few generations of British royals have been haemophilia-free because they descended from Victoria’s unaffected son Edward VII, other royal families of Europe have not been so fortunate. Ironically, Victoria’s granddaughter (Victoria Eugénie) was brought into the Spanish Bourbon dynasty to revitalise their allegedly degenerate bloodline. The first dramatic evidence of haemophilia was at her baby son Alfonso’s circumcision. Queen Victoria’s daughter Alice passed the defective gene to her daughter Alexandra, who joined the Russian Romanov dynasty with her marriage to Tsar Nicolas II; their long hoped-for son, Alexis, was a haemophiliac. The imperial family’s absorption in their son’s sufferings, and their reliance on the monk Rasputin’s supernatural help (he apparently stopped the child’s internal bleeding by means of a telegram), may have contributed to their own fate. Alexis went on to die in 1918, not of his haemophilia, but as a result of Bolshevik bullets, together with his parents and sisters.

The latest instalment has been the marriage of William, son of Charles and Diana, and second in line to the throne, to a ‘commoner’, Kate Middleton, on 29 April 2011. While not exactly sweeping ashes for a living (the now Duchess is described as a 'former fashion buyer'), this Cinderella has broken new ground. As anyone who has seen the movie The King's Speech will know, marrying out of the aristocracy has hardly been embraced with joy in the past. But to those with a genetic or genealogical bent, these royal goings-on are food for thought.

Project MKUltra retrieved from military.wikia.org and copied or modified to here

In 1973, with the government-wide panic caused by Watergate, the CIA Director Richard Helms ordered all MKUltra files destroyed.[46] Pursuant to this order, most CIA documents regarding the project were destroyed, making a full investigation of MKUltra impossible. A cache of some 20,000 documents survived Helms' purge, as they had been incorrectly stored in a financial records building and were discovered following a FOIA request in 1977. These documents were fully investigated during the Senate Hearings of 1977.[2]

In December 1974, The New York Times alleged that the CIA had conducted illegal domestic activities, including experiments on U.S. citizens, during the 1960s. That report prompted investigations by the U.S. Congress, in the form of the Church Committee, and by a presidential commission known as the Rockefeller Commission that looked into domestic activities of the CIA, the FBI, and intelligence-related agencies of the military.

In the summer of 1975, congressional Church Committee reports and the presidential Rockefeller Commission report revealed to the public for the first time that the CIA and the Department of Defense had conducted experiments on both unwitting and cognizant human subjects as part of an extensive program to influence and control human behavior through the use of psychoactive drugs such as LSD and mescaline and other chemical, biological, and psychological means. They also revealed that at least one subject had died after administration of LSD. Much of what the Church Committee and the Rockefeller Commission learned about MKUltra was contained in a report, prepared by the Inspector General's office in 1963, that had survived the destruction of records ordered in 1973.[47] However, it contained little detail. Sidney Gottlieb, who had retired from the CIA two years previously, was interviewed by the committee but claimed to have very little recollection of the activities of MKUltra.

The scope of Project MKUltra was broad, with research undertaken at 80 institutions, including 44 colleges and universities, as well as hospitals, prisons and pharmaceutical companies.[9] The CIA operated through these institutions using front organizations, although sometimes top officials at these institutions were aware of the CIA's involvement.[10] As the Supreme Court later noted, MKULTRA was:

> concerned with "the research and development of chemical, biological, and radiological materials capable of employment in clandestine operations to control human behavior." The program consisted of some 149 subprojects which the Agency contracted out to various universities, research foundations, and similar institutions. At least 80 institutions and 185 private researchers participated. Because the Agency funded MKULTRA indirectly, many of the participating individuals were unaware that they were dealing with the Agency.

Methodology

1. Approach Ethnicity and invite Twins Studies participation. Blue Blood will be mixed into population and watch for results. Could be future great leaders will emerge

2. Study FOXP2 in different language, nature, and nurture groups

3. Misdiagnose Dispose of or hide when FOXP2 is visible in twins

4. Plant Prophecies Ancient Kings were once a part of that culture and those bloodlines continue (All bloodlines are KOSH)

5. Terminate leakers of plan building Feudal Blue Bloods plan

Windsor Kutschera lines	Normal Europeans no different
(1) By world standards above average brain, good facilities	(2) Same brai but rarely severe AD/HD	MOST PEOPLE SAFE but ruled by Sleeper Agents
Kennedy's' Bush Family, Schwarzengge	Maria Kutschera Vontrapp	MOST PEOPLE SAFE but ruled by Sleeper

Cruz family, others		Agents
Obamas, others	Ed Donegan, Caitlan Mahoney, others	MOST PEOPLE SAFE but ruled by Sleeper Agents
Martin and Kamloops and others serpate wheat from chafff	Assassinations teamd plants Good Brainers, conducts teror acts to cover up planted moles family lines

The Central European Brain in which FOXP2 is quite common

Dirty War - It begins in early childhood in the CIA backed schools

THis book is about British Pilgram Society WASPS with Council on Foreign Relations creating a Subversion guerilla war to plant and protect SLeeper Agents and Moles via assasinations and acts of terror.

text used here copied from and other location in this book where the source is cited

John J. Pershing Middle School https://blog.chron.com/ *

According to HISD, Pershing Middle was built in 1928 and was originally located next to West University Elementary off University. In 1949, the school was moved to a new facility at 7000 Braes, which is what you see in these pictures.

A Houston Chronicle caption from 1950 said the $2 million school “greatly relieved the crowded conditions at West University Elementary School.” The principal at the time was Clarence Orman.

Not everyone, apparently, was a fan of the school. In August 1958 someone set fire to a classroom annex. Houston fire officials told the Chronicle that there didn’t appear to be a link between that and an arson earlier in the month at Spring Branch High School.

The article concluded:

A sign painted, “I hate this school” was found by firemen on one side of the Pershing building, but principal John A. Ratliff said the sign was an old one.

Over the years Farrah Fawcett, and Randy and Dennis Quaid attended school in the 1949 building.

In 2007, THE SCHOOL BUILDING WAS REPLACED BY A NEW ONE NEXT DOOR AT 3838 BLUEBONNET BLVD

Jewel (2001 film) Farah Fawcet knowiog the backstory will die of cancer shortly thereacter. She was born in Corpus Christi

In 1945, Jewel Hilburn (Farrah Fawcett), 39, and her husband Leston (Patrick Bergin), 41, are living in poverty in rural Mississippi, and raising their four children: Raylene (Rachel Skarsten), Burton (Kyle Fairlie), Wilman (Max Morrow), and Annie (Alexis Vandermaelen). All four children were nannied by Jewel’s friend and housekeeper, Cathedral (Cicely Tyson). Leston makes a living pulling out pine stumps for the war effort. Cathedral’s husband, Nelson (Ardon Bess), and their sons, Sepulchur and Temple, all work for Leston.

The Hilburns discover that Jewel is pregnant, and decide it will be their last child. Cathedral has a premonition and warns Jewel that the child will bring hardship and test her, but that it is God's way of smiling down on Jewel. Some kind of bone problem must have affected the childs hand so it can not write.

Beaudry tells Jewel that Brenda Kay should receive regular injections to strengthen her bones. The injections are expensive, but the Hilburns manage to pay for them, even when times get tougher after Leston loses his job. The kids sell the vegetables the family grows, Raylene quits school and gets a job, and Jewel takes on sewing work. Meanwhile, Jewel concentrates her attention on caring for Brenda Kay, who survives, but misses developmental milestones. Aged seven, Brenda Kay walks downstairs by herself for the first time. Brenda Kay's constant needs mean Jewel has less time and energy for her older children.

Jewel reads of a "miracle school" [Mc Martin?] in Los Angeles, California, that is reputed to help children like Brenda Kay, and proposes that the family moves there to find work while Brenda Kay attends the school. While Leston considers, Burton decides to go to California immediately to look for work. Brenda Kay, meanwhile, has a couple of near brushes with death.

Jewel has secretly applied to the special school and Brenda Kay has been accepted. To raise money, Jewel secretly starts selling items from her home. Eventually Leston notices and confronts her. After an argument, he agrees to move to California, on condition that they return to Mississippi someday.

Except Raylene, who gets married and stays in Mississippi, the Hilburns relocate to Los Angeles to reunite with Burton, now working at a garage. Leston finds work, and Brenda Kay enrolls in the school, run by director Nathan White. For the first time, Brenda Kay meets other children like herself, and Jewel is not solely responsible for her.

In 1961, Brenda Kay is sixteen. The school has not raised Brenda Kay's attainment, but Leston has a better job, and Jewel works at the school as an assistant. White suggests to Jewel that she must let go of Brenda Kay, as her efforts are holding her daughter back. Keeping her promise to Leston, they return to Mississippi to search for a new house, but Leston realizes that his home is now in Los Angeles, and Mississippi is his past. They return to California and resume their lives. Gradually, Jewel accepts White's argument that Brenda Kay must be allowed to live her own life. White recommends a group home for adults with Down Syndrome, where Brenda Kay will learn to live independently from Jewel's over-protective care.

The Hilburns leave Brenda Kay at the home with the new friends she has made. Jewel visits her often, but has finally realized the importance of letting her grow by herself.

The late William R. (Buddy) Quaid," Buddy", was an actor and an electrician. He is remembered as a voluble and gregarious man who loved to sing and perform for his family. He was a Merchant Marine during World War II. He happened to bear an uncanny resemblance to the 1940's actor Dana Andrews Born: JANUARY 1, 1909, COLLINS, MS DIED: DECEMBER 17, 1992, Los Alamitos, CA Height: 5′ 10″.

Randy Quaid is claiming to be a target of what he calls Hollywood Star Whackers.

He claims that other stars on on a similar type of hit list. Stars such as Britney Spears, Mel Gibson, and of course Lindsay Lohan.

Did LBJ: The Early Years include the East-West Center of Hawaii? If Quaid were well known would it be common knowledge?

LBJ: The Early Years retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

LBJ: The Early Years is a television movie that appeared on the NBC network in February 1987, depicting the pre-presidential life of Lyndon B. Johnson, the 36th president of the United States. Actor Randy Quaid won a Golden Globe award for his portrayal of Lyndon Baines Johnson.

An ebullient Johnson starts his tenure as United States Senator by parking in the Senate Majority Leader reserved parking spot, much to the chagrin of the parking attendant. The same lot is shown again in the future, and Johnson's name is now fixed on the parking spot. Johnson is now working tirelessly with all of the members of the Senate, battling the troublesome Joseph McCarthy, making amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act, and pressing for civil rights legislation. A new face in Washington, Senator John F. Kennedy, is told under no uncertain terms that a committee spot on the Foreign Relations Committee in the Senate would be his if he stayed for a crucial labor vote. This meeting proved important as time moves forward to 1959, when Kennedy is one of the candidates for nomination in the Presidential campaign for the Democratic Party. A visit by JFK's brother Robert F. Kennedy to Texas is arranged as father Joseph Kennedy, who along with his sons, wish to know if LBJ is running for President or not. Johnson refers to Robert Kennedy as a "Harvard man" in a derisive tone while he discovers Robert's true intentions, and goes out of his way to try to embarrass him while hunting.

The lack of action by Johnson in responding to Kennedy in a timely fashion allows John Kennedy to build up a very strong support network, essentially denying Johnson any real chance at the Presidential nomination. Promised votes by Wyoming, now going over to Kennedy to send him over the top to win the nomination, puts Johnson and his family off. Johnson says that his father was right, and that he made a big mistake by not doing something sooner. An offer of the Vice Presidency by John Kennedy is at first rejected by Johnson because of the advice of Sam Rayburn. The next day, Rayburn tells Johnson that he has changed his mind, and LBJ accepts the offer, despite Robert Kennedy's attempt at preventing the deal.

After JFK is elected in 1960, Johnson soon regrets his decision, and he is made to fill the most benign of roles while the President and his brother shut him out of meetings. This position changes drastically when Kennedy is shot in Dallas in 1963, and Lyndon Johnson becomes the new President of the United States. He accompanies now widow Jacqueline Kennedy, along with his wife, on Air Force One on a trip back to Washington. He takes the Oath of Office by Texas federal district judge Sarah T. Hughes on board the aircraft, and a still of the moment along with a short audio summary of the events after ends the movie.

Randy Quaid claims that he has been followed around, and that he has been scammed out of money by lawyers and others. He claims not to be mentally ill, and that close friends such as Heath Ledgar, and David Carradine, were killed not by accident, but as part of a conspiracy.

[image]

Beverly Francis Carradine (April 4, 1848 - April 22, 1931) was an American Methodist minister and a leading evangelist for the holiness movement. He was a productive author, writing primarily on the subject of sanctification.[2] The patriarch of the Carradine family, he was the grandfather of actor John Carradine and great-grandfather of actors David, Keith, and Robert Carradine.

[image]

In Terry Gilliam's new film The Imaginarium of Dr. Parnassus, a character appears to be a manifestation of the hanged man tarot card, and has symbols on his forehead corresponding with those on a card shown in the film. The tarot decks I'm familiar with don't have such symbols on the hanged man card, however, and Googling hasn't been revealing. Is there a deck that the specific card shown in the film comes from?

Heath Andrew Ledger (4 April 1979 - 22 January 2008)

> Intour Weekly *
>
> Heath's death was ruled an accidental drug overdose due to a lethal cocktail of prescription painkillers found in his system. Fans initially thought he was suicidal after breaking up with ex-fiancée Michelle Williams, while others thought it had something to do with playing the Joker in The Dark Knight. Could it be possible the actor was even murdered? Watch the video below to see some of the wildest theories about the causes of his death.
>
> Perhaps the reason fans are so unsettled by Heath's death is the mystery over how his body was found. The actor's masseuse found him first, but instead of immediately calling 911, she instead called Mary-Kate Olsen - twice. Mary-Kate sent her bodyguard over to Heath's house. Once Heath's masseuse, housekeeper, and Mary-Kate's bodyguard assessed the situation, then 911 was called. This little fact about his death sent many skeptics and theorists on the Internet running wild with accusations, from blaming Mary-Kate to questioning the masseuse.
>
> Mary-Kate's lawyer has maintained that she had nothing to do with it, but the situation still seems rather mysterious, especially since the masseuse changed her story a few times, initially saying she called Mary-Kate > two times when actually it was four times. It was also later revealed she wasn't a licensed therapist.

>
> [She and her twin sister co-founded luxury fashion brand The Row, lifestyle brand Elizabeth and James, and more affordable fashion lines Olsenboye and StyleMint.]
>
> But whatever theory fans want to run with as to the cause of Heath's death, there are still many questions that will, unfortunately, remain a mystery.

Randy Quaid was nominated for an Academy Award, BAFTA Award and a Golden Globe Award for his role in The Last Detail in 1973. In 1978 he co-starred as a prisoner in Midnight Express. Quaid also won a Golden Globe and was nominated for an Emmy Award for his portrayal of U.S. President Lyndon Johnson (36th President of the United States In office November 22, 1963 - January 20, 1969) in LBJ: The Early Years (1987).

The McMartin school was in Manhattan Beach California and a front for CIA backed MKULTRA research and Eugenics activities and studies.

The most powerful elites in the world need my life sabotaged with false allegations and the Trust Fund of Glorian Donegan is used to finance those allegations which flow from mafia crime gangs making false allegations against me.

The powerful elites backing the CIA cartel MKULTRA activities seem to be run out of Free Mason halls including Knights of Columbus hall in Arlington Virginia who have no need for the money from my mother's trust fund by they do need my life and reputation sabotaged.

In addition to prison gangs faking allegations against me to be paid via my mothers trust fund retarded peole and others are linking themselves wrongly as claimants to the trust fund, linking themselves in ways to me which seem to fit appearances but are appearances only.

Many if not all those linking themselves to claims for trust fund assets have no other assets of any type and there is great sympathy for them which is being epxloited to allow their misconduct.

It is my belief that various family lines are under study be secret grooming and DARPA Brain Eugenics studies. https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Christopher_Pyle of #ColumbiaUnivsersity have “good brains” but carried a sometimes noticeable bug, #FOXP2. Those with it get sabotaged and burred in backyards

Social cleansing

In his book

Volume III

End of Millennium

This final volume in Manuel Castells’ trilogy studies the key defining taking place in the last decade of the twentieth century as an expressio crises resulting from the transition between the old industrial society a emerging global network society. The book studies empirically the coll Soviet Union, tracing it back to the incapacity of industrial statism to r transition to the Information Age. Castells documents how inequality, social exclusion, nationally and globally, are an inherent feature of the network society that emerged under the domination of global capitalis proposes that the rise of a global criminal economy is a fundamental d that would alter the way societies, economies, and institutions are to b understood in our time. Highlighting the growth of the Asian Pacific as dynamic region of the world economy the author explains why China, Japan, is the economic and political actor revolutionizing the global sy Further, he studies the European Union as the expression of a new form political institution, the Network State.

After linking the content of End of the Millennium to current develop new preface to this volume assesses the validity of the theoretical cons presented in the conclusion of the trilogy, proposing some conceptual modifications in light of the observed experience.

Castells III 9781405196888_1_pretoc Page Proof page 1 7.1.2010 4:25 of Contents for Volumes I and II of Manuel Castells' The Information A Economy, Society, and Culture

, Manuel Castells states the Cali Cartel had participated in social cleansin of desechables ("discardables"). The desechables included prostitutes, str petty thieves, homosexuals and the homeless.

Along with some of the locals, the Cali Cartel formed parties self-nam de limpieza social ("social cleansing groups") who murdered the desec often leaving them with signs on them stating: "Cali limpia, Cali linda" Cali, beautiful Cali"). The bodies of those murdered were often tossed Cauca River, which later became known as the "River of Death". The m of Marsella in Risaralda was eventually bankrupted by the cost of reco corpses and conducting autopsies.[6][48]

Christopher Pyle retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Christopher H. Pyle (born 1939) is a journalist and Professor of Politics at Mount Holyoke College in South Hadley, Massachusetts. He testified to Congress about the use of military intelligence against civilians, worked for the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights, as well as the Senate Committee on Government Oversight. He is the author of several books and Congressional reports on military intelligence and constitutional rights, and has testified numerous times before the U.S. Congress on issues of deportation and extradition.

Pyle graduated from Bowdoin College (1961) and earned LLB (1964), MA (1966), and PhD (1974) degrees at Columbia University.

n the 1960s, Pyle served in the United States Army as a captain in Army Intelligence Command (now United States Army Intelligence and Security Command).

In the 1960s while an Army captain in intelligence, Pyle learned that "Army intelligence had 1,500 plainclothes agents watching every demonstration of 20 people or more throughout the United States," (as later Pyle recounted on December 19, 2005, on Democracy Now[3] and again on ABC News on January 6, 2006, [4]) as part of a broad-based program of domestic spying. In January and July 1970, Pyle disclosed the Army's spying in articles that appeared in a new publication, Washington Monthly. The exposé went into syndication in more than 40 newspapers in the USA. While Pyle went on to interview more than 120 anonymous soldiers to document the practices, he himself came under attack in "bureaucratic retaliation" that included a spot on President Richard M. Nixon's "Enemies List." The upshot of investigations into Pyle resulted in the discovery by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) - that Pyle had overpaid his taxes.

Senator Sam Ervin investigated the Army's spying as chair of the Judiciary Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights, and Pyle worked as an analyst for his committee, testifying to Congress about his own findings (1971-1974). Ervin continued to investigate government activities; together with the Church Committee inquiries, these Congressional studies led to the drafting of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act. Pyle served as a consultant for three Congressional committees in this area: the Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights on the Judiciary Committee (1971-1974), the Committee on Government Operations (1974), the Select Committee to Study Government Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities (1975-1976). (Later in the 1970s Ervin served as chair of the Congressional committee that conducted hearings on the Watergate scandal.)[1] He also helped draft the Privacy Act of 1974.

Pyle also served as a consultant to the Office of Technology Assessment as well as a constitutional expert before Senate and House Judiciary committees and the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.

This book

Walter E. Fernald Developmental Center

Waltham is a city in Middlesex County, Massachusetts, United States, and was an early center for the labor movement as well as a major contributor to the American Industrial Revolution. The original home of the Boston Manufacturing Company, the city was a prototype for 19th century industrial city planning, spawning what became known as the Waltham-Lowell system of labor and production. The city is now a center for research and higher education, home to Brandeis University and Bentley University as well as industrial powerhouse Raytheon Technologies.

Another first in Waltham industrial history involves the method to mass-produce the magnetron tube, invented by Percy Spencer at Raytheon. During World War II, the magnetron tube technology was applied to radar. Later, magnetron tubes were used as components in microwave ovens and is part of the Donald J. Trump, John Trump, history.

[image]

The movie includes a Steward and brain eating by a character Joann.
hard to decode but a Walter character figures in quite prominently.

Most of the filming took place in the Boston, Massachusetts area, wit shot in downtown Boston, South Boston, Waltham, Ipswich, Winthrop, Medfield, Quincy, Kingston, and North Andover, as well as other locali filming took place on the Milton Academy campus and at Boston Publi large indoor set was built inside a former Lucent Technologies building Andover to recreate a NASA laboratory. The production crew also jour NASA's Langley Research Center in Hampton, Virginia, to shoot a num scenes for the film. Richard Kelly's father had worked at NASA Langley 1970s and 80s.

Later the The Department of Energy and Human Genome Life Sciences porject, at Waltham up until 1925 then under new programs Ratheon, and others study gene defects and cognitive sciences.

Public Document No. 28

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

TRUSTEES

OF THE

WALTER E. FERNALD STATE SCHOOL,

Waltham (Feeble-minded)

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING NOVEMBER 30,

1937

DEPARTMENT OF MENTAL DISEASES

PUBLICATION OF THIS DOCUMENT APPROVED BY THE COMMISSION ON ADMINISTRATION AND FINANCE
500 4-'38. Order 3750

OCCUPATIONAL PRINTING PLANT
DEPARTMENT OF MENTAL DISEASES
GARDNER STATE HOSPITAL
EAST GARDNER, MASS.

Walter E. Fernald Developmental Center retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The Fernald Center, originally called the *Experimental School for Teaching and Training Idiotic Childre*n,[4][5] was founded in Boston by reformer Samuel Gridley Howe in 1848 with a $2,500 appropriation from the Massachusetts State Legislature. The school gradually moved to a new permanent location in Waltham between 1888 and 1891. It would eventually comprise 72 buildings total, located on 196 acres (0.79 km2). At its peak, some 2,500 people were confined there, most of them "feeble-minded" boys perhaps like in the movie Jewel with Farah Fawcet majors, unknown symptom group.

Under its third superintendent, Walter E. Fernald (1859-1924), an advocate of eugenics, the school was viewed as a model educational facility in the field of mental retardation. It was renamed in his honor in 1925, following his death the previous year. The institution was involved in several different procedures that used the residents as test subjects some of which include sterilization and radiation experimentation.

The institution did serve a large population of children with cognitive disabilities (referred to as "mentally retarded children"), but The Boston Globe estimates that upwards of half of the inmates tested with IQs in the normal range. In the 20th century, living conditions were spartan or worse; approximately 36 children slept in each dormitory room. There were also reports of physical and sexual abuse.

Nuclear medicine research in children

Two Sisters Plot at least of the Seven

Some simply call it collectively MKULTRA and the scientific co-op England and the USA in the Manhattan Project of nuclear reseach, r propulsion, Cryptography, and other Defense Advanced Research

> Harvard University (Domestic and WASPY
>
> In Boston at one time its school color was Magenta. Later t > changed it to Crimson. Home to Skull and Bones
>
> Columbia University (Magenta was its school color leaning > England)
>
> New York City and overlooking the beach of Manhattan Isl > to England, the British Royals more like Colonial figures wh > independence and later went north to Canada. and friendly

The Fernald School was the site of the 1946-53 joint experiments by Harvard University and MIT that exposed young male children to tracer doses of radioactive isotopes.[7] Documents obtained in 1994 by the United States Department of Energy[8] revealed the following details:

- The experiment was conducted in part by a research fellow sponsored by the Quaker Oats Company.
- MIT Professor of Nutrition Robert S. Harris led the experiment, which studied the absorption of calcium and iron.

- MIT Professor of Nutrition Robert S. Harris led the experiment, which studied the absorption of calcium and iron.

- The boys were encouraged to join a “Science Club”, which offered larger portions of food, parties, and trips to Boston Red Sox baseball games.

- The 57 club members ate iron-enriched cereals and calcium-enriched milk for breakfast. In order to track absorption, several radioactive calcium tracers were given orally or intravenously.

- Radiation levels in stool and blood samples would serve as dependent variables

- In another study, 17 subjects received iron supplement shots containing radioisotopes of iron.

- Neither the children nor their parents ever gave adequate informed consent for participation in a scientific study.

The Advisory Committee on Human Radiation Experiments, reporting to the United States Department of Energy in 1994, reported on these experiments:

> In 1946, one study exposed seventeen subjects to radioactive iron. The second study, which involved a series of seventeen related subexperiments, exposed fifty-seven > subjects to radioactive calcium between 1950 and 1953. It is clear that the doses involved were low and that it is extremely unlikely that any of the children who were used as subjects were harmed as a consequence. These studies remain morally troubling, however, for several reasons. First, although parents or guardians were asked for their permission to have their children involved in the research, the available evidence suggests that the information provided was, at best, incomplete. Second, there is the question of the fairness of selecting institutionalized children at all, children whose life circumstances were by any standard already heavily burdened.

It has been claimed that the highest dose of radiation that any subject was exposed to was 330 millirem, the equivalent of less than one year's background radiation in Denver.[11] A 1995 class-action suit resulted in a 1998 District court decision awarding the victims a $1.85 million settlement from MIT and Quaker.

The school also participated in studies of thyroid function in patients with Down Syndrome and their parents.[12] This study showed that their iodine metabolism was similar to normal controls.

As Ed Donegan interjecting after the Wikipedia materials this was someting long tested in me and discussed, thyroid function tests, and how this related to Minal Brain Dysfunction, now though to be anaologous to or overlapping with ADHD which is poor metabaolism with the catamocholines in the prefrontal cortex, the Exutive, of the brain which switches between (arbitrates) brain resources among tasks, today Dopamine and Norepaphrine are thought to play key roles.

1925. The Wemberly speech, twins and Minimal Brain Dysfunction. Harvard Skull and Bones and the Department of Energy and others are at work. 1926 and three tramps, Glorian Donegan is one of them. Continuing DNA, radiation, and cloning studies generation to generation in the Donegan family.

This book

Read the Writing on the Wall to Learn of 33rd Degree Free Masons Deep State

Art Mirrors Life

Lord of the Rings

Middle Earth has some interesting metaphors for hidden identities in the USA (Family Jewels) and the secrecy behind them.

Gilraen [Mother of Aragorn] and Aragorn lived together at Rivendell until TA 2951, when Aragorn turned twenty and was told of his heritage by Elrond. At that time also Aragorn met Elrond's daughter Arwen. -https://lotr.fandom.com/wiki/Gilraen

What was that secret heritage? Who were the Elves like Elrond and the Numenorians and the Humans?

Gilraen's Memorial is the twenty-eighth scene of The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring (extended edition). This scene was not featured in the theatrical release of The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring.

In the early morning, as the Fellowship of the Ring prepares to depart Rivendell, Aragorn clears away some greenery from the white stone monument dedicated to his mother, Gilraen. Elrond comes up behind Aragorn, reminding him that his mother knew his ancestry would always put him at risk of danger, and left him in Rivendell for his own safety. Elrond also reminds Aragorn that, even if the elves can reforge the sword of Elendil, he is the only one who can wield it and reclaim the legacy of Númenor, despite his reluctance to take up the role.

Arothorn II Chieftain of the Dúnedain, also called Lord of the Dúnedain, was a title taken by the Heirs of Isildur after the loss of the Kingdom of Arthedain; sixteen lords of Men, from Aranarth (elder son of Arvedui, last King of Arthedain) to Aragorn II Elessar. The title was hereditary. Gilraen was his wife. Aragorn who wanders but was not lost was the Numenorian son of Glraen and Aragorn.

Elros Tar-Minyatur, also known as Elros the Half-elven, was the first King of Númenor and was half-elven. He was the son of Eärendil and Elwing, both of whom were half-elven. Half Elf and Half Men. Interbred and living (sometimes secretly on Middle Earth) as men and living on the Island of Númenor as their known identity. On Middle Earth Zahaddom is at war with the Elves and others.

I am suggesting in modern USA there are some Family Jewels that is to say Windsor tied genealogy living in the USA under secret identities. Half Noble imortal Elves above Men and Half Man.

The Ghosts of Los Angeles County California.

Greayer "Grubby" Clover (April 1897 - August 30, 1918)[2] was an American aviator in the First World War. He was the namesake for Clover Field, the original name of Santa Monica Airport in Santa Monica, California.

How the aviation industry shaped Los Angeles
retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The fascinating, strangely forgotten history is recounted in a new four-part documentary produced by KCET

It was like nothing America had ever seen before. Over 11 days in January of 1910, more than 200,000 people flooded Dominguez Field in Los Angeles County. They were there for the Los Angeles Air Meet, to witness aviation pioneers such as Glenn Curtiss, Didier Masson, and Charles Willard take to the sky in powered airplanes.

[image]

Blue Sky Metropolis tracks the history of Southern California aerospace pioneers, including Amelia Earhart, pictured here in 1936 atop the Lockheed-Elecktra monoplane at Union Air Terminal in Burbank. Bettmann Archive

“This was only the second demonstration of powered flight ever made in the world,” says filmmaker Peter Jones. “And it was in Los Angeles because of these risk-taking people-the Chandler family, and also William Randolph Hearst … who, with Henry Huntington, sponsored the Los Angeles Air Meet."

These titans of early Southern California saw potential in the death-defying spectacle. "A lot people just looked at these flying machines as entertainment, daredevil entertainment," Jones says. "But they thought there could be something to this as a real industry. And they were right. And so that created Los Angeles as the place where this kind of new thing was happening."

This pivotal event would help cement Los Angeles as the center of the burgeoning aviation and aerospace industry for decades to come. This fascinating, strangely forgotten history is recounted in Blue Sky Metropolis, a new four-part documentary produced by KCET in partnership with Emmy-Award winning Jones.

Part of the PBS "Summer of Space," featuring programming honoring the 50th anniversary of the first lunar landing, Blue Sky Metropolis premiers 8 p.m. Sunday on KCET. Narrated by actor Tony Goldwyn, the series tracks the history of SoCal aerospace pioneers and boosters, including John Northrop, Donald Douglas, Amelia Earhart, Howard Hughes, Walt Disney, Wernher von Braun, and the rocket-mad folks who started the Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

Their stories are close to Jones' heart. An LA native, he is a product of the of the aerospace industry-his father was president of Northrup Corp. for 30 years.

…

And people like Howard Hughes, Joseph Kennedy Sr of RKO, Marliyn Monroe, Peter Lawford, and others were telling some of this history in allegorical films with names changed but underlying truths in ghost-writen works. The Misifts (as Norma Jean was with her passionate though volatile emotions and ubounded risque light witt a live wire as they (we) are called) or Jet Pilot 1957 or The ROcky Horror Picture show or Manchurian Candidate tells stories that sound earile close to home, close to the story-line of the real figures of The King's Speech (The speech given in 1925 by Prince Albert) and the possibility WWI and WWII underground railroads left some hidden identity CIA backed families bastard children of Albert inside the USA and I Ed Donegan assert I come from one of those families as my mother did and my father found out about when he married her.

John F. Kennedy with the Duke and Duchess of Windsor at the Waldorf Astoria in NYC in 1957

I assert James and and Glorian Donegan (portrayed as Jim and Anna in Jet Pilot 1957 were also hobnobbing with Mr. Simpson and Duke Edward. verb (used without object),hob·nobbed, hob·nob·bing. to associate on very friendly terms (usually followed by with): She often hobnobs with royalty. Archaic. to drink together. - Dictionary.com

George Gordon Battle Liddy (November 30, 1930 - March 30, 2021) was an American lawyer, criminal and FBI agent who was convicted of conspiracy, burglary, and illegal wiretapping for his role in the Watergate scandal during the Nixon administration.

Working alongside E. Howard Hunt, Liddy organized and directed the burglary of the Democratic National Committee headquarters in the Watergate building in May and June 1972. After five of Liddy's operatives were arrested inside the DNC offices on June 17, 1972, subsequent investigations of the Watergate scandal led to Nixon's resignation in 1974. Liddy was convicted of burglary, conspiracy, and refusing to testify to the Senate committee investigating Watergate. He served nearly 52 months in federal prisons.

At age 29, Liddy became the youngest[11] bureau supervisor at FBI headquarters in Washington, D.C.. Under the mentorship of deputy director Cartha DeLoach, Liddy secured a position on director J. Edgar Hoover's personal staff, even acting as Hoover's ghostwriter. Despite his achievements, Liddy was also known for his reckless behavior among his fellow agents, highlighted by two particular incidents.[14]

The first incident took place in Kansas City, Missouri, during a covert operation. He was arrested but was subsequently released after contacting Clarence M. Kelley, former FBI agent and the then-chief of the Kansas City Police. The second incident involved an FBI background check that Liddy conducted on his future wife before they got married in 1957. Liddy later claimed this action was a routine precautionary measure.

He would also ghost write for CIA backed productions anonymyzing CIA FBI story-lines still classified.

This of tbe Birther Plot and the the hidden identity of Glo Donegan itself is in some Hollywood story lines.

Rumor Has It... 2005 PG-13 1h 37m Sarah Huttinger is a woman who learns that her family was the inspiration for the book and film "The Graduate" -- and that she just might be the offspring of the well-documented event.

I think there are movies and movie lines that depict the MKULTRA stories including OBamas,. Donegans, British Empire of a thousand years, etc., and Jet Pilot of Col Shannon is one, Rocky Horror PIcture Show of Joseph Kennedy Sr story line making the creature at Peter Lawford house Los Angeles.

In Avatar at 32 minutes 30 seconds we start seeing a great midichlorian like interconnectedness.

> What do the floating jellyfish mean in Avatar?
>
> Known to the Na'vi as atokirina, the Woodsprites are seeds from the Tree of Souls. The Na'vi revere the woodsprites and consider them bearers of omens and signs of sanctity. While woodsprites have the appearance of Earth jellyfish, they float in the wind similar to dandelion seeds.

At one hour, a finest hour, an airbattle begins to change and an allegiance forms to defend the planet and its Great Tree.

This theme repeats in much Science Fiction and matches Great Britian's theory of a Thousand (M) years of Kingdom (K) preserved by its aristocracy.

What are Roman numerals? Roman numerals are the symbols used in a system of numerical notation based on the ancient Roman system. The symbols are I, V, X, L, C, D, and M, standing respectively for 1, 5, 10, 50, 100, 500, and 1,000.

C is 100, M is 1,000. 33rd is the highest Mason,.

The Donegan Story and also Free Mason stories

In the Misfits they seem to me trying to break the sound barrier with the P-51 at its limkt and talking about a house as though it were a B-29 in dialogue that is out of place. In Jet Pilot they are making the transition to Jets and John Wayne has met Olga - a woman with a past from another country - an adversary. I think this is Jim and Glorian Donegan meeting in Inglewood of Los Angeles where I was born. ROcky HOrror goes into 1961-1963 and I think also covers the Peter Lawford storyline of JFK and RFK tied to the Manchurian Candidate 1962 storyline. Police probably are not required to follow these kinds of types but conspiracy theorists can and if they do I think it will reach the mainstream that the hidden stories can be de-anonymized with my help. Data anonymization is a type of information sanitization whose intent is privacy protection.

Salvation Army has frozen some DNA during testing work

Is Austin Powers International Man of Mystery and Goldmember Virtuecon likely DuPont Desilu have frozen semen from outside Las Vegas. It turns out to be Austin Mojo and will be trafficked by Salvation Army and Fez Mustafaa.

33 minutes 53 seconds in Goldmember USA and England meet as a match, at Finest Hour 509th arrives on Tokyo Island of Dr Evil to defeat him.

Cable News helps steal Austin Powers Mojo, Fat Bastard seems to be Donald Barr bag pipe player who hates Jimmy Son and will eat him.

At 33′53″ Austin Powers Gold Member England-USA match made. 33’ Star Trek Into Darkness Division 31 aka 13. Missiles are Eugenics Torpedoes. War is inevitable. Unless Special Division can act secretly between powers.

Frau Greta Farbissina is a fictional character played by Mindy Sterling in the Austin Powers film series.[1][2] Farbissina is a German attack and defence specialist and the founder of “the militant wing of the Salvation Army”. She is also Dr. Evil’s henchwoman and tries to help in his schemes to terrorize and take over the world. She has a heavy German accent and is well known for a running gag in which she shouts her orders needlessly loud and screeching, often startling Dr. Evil. For her performances, Sterling was nominated for Favorite Supporting Actress in a Comedy at the BMI Film & TV Awards.

Mustafa (Will Ferrell) is an Arab (either Egyptian or Lebanese) or Turkish henchman of Dr. Evil, appearing in the first and second movies. He is apparently Dr. Evil’s weapons designer as he took credit for constructing the cryogenic chamber which was used to freeze Dr. Evil and the trap fire pit Which was used to kill a few of Dr. Evil’s henchmen (including Mustafa himself).

Mustafa may fit Malcom X and the Fez. As an advocate for Mecca and a Muslim he is used by the Salvation radicals but then killed in a Brazen Bull burning him in a pit of his own design.

> Character Analysis Starbuck
>
> The first mate is the only man aboard the Pequod who resists Ahab's plan to devote the ship's mission to hunting and killing the White Whale. Starbuck contrasts with Ahab in his spirit and manner. Where Ahab is bombastic, outrageous, and monomaniac, Starbuck is prudent, calm, and reasonable. But he lacks Ahab's power. The chief mate argues that the ship's mission, as prescribed by the owners, is to harvest as much whale oil as possible and return home safely, showing a profit. He feels it is "blasphemous" to be enraged by a dumb object of nature such as a whale, and he realizes that the lives of all aboard are at serious risk. At one point (Chapter 123), Starbuck even considers shooting the captain to end the madness. Ultimately, however, Starbuck acquiesces. He concedes that he is no match for the enormity of the charismatic captain's spirit. Even though he is certain that Ahab is mad, Starbuck cannot take the action necessary to stop him. Perhaps he is too moral to kill or feels bound to a higher duty. At any rate, the first mate obeys orders. As a character, he changes only because he submits to Ahab. https://www.cliffsnotes.com/literature/m/mobydick/character-analysis/starbuck

Our Heritage

Our story begins in 1971 along the cobblestone streets of Seattle’s historic Pike Place Market. It was here where Starbucks opened its first store, offering fresh-roasted coffee beans, tea and spices from around the world for our customers to take home. Our name was inspired by the classic tale, “Moby-Dick,” evoking the seafaring tradition of the early coffee traders.

Ten years later, a young New Yorker named Howard Schultz would walk through these doors and become captivated with Starbucks coffee from his first sip. After joining the company in 1982, a different cobblestone road would lead him to another discovery. It was on a trip to Milan in 1983 that Howard first experienced Italy’s coffeehouses, and he returned to Seattle inspired to bring the warmth and artistry of its coffee culture to Starbucks. By 1987, we swapped our brown aprons for green ones and embarked on our next chapter as a coffeehouse.

Starbucks would soon expand to Chicago and Vancouver, Canada and then on to California, Washington, D.C. and New York. By 1996, we would cross the Pacific to open our first store in Japan, followed by Europe in 1998 and China in 1999. Over the next two decades, we would grow to welcome millions of customers each week and become a part of the fabric of tens of thousands of neighborhoods all around the world. In everything we do, we are always dedicated to Our Mission: With every cup, with every conversation, with every community - we nurture the limitless possibilities of human connection.

Howard D. Schultz (born July 19, 1953)[2] is an American businessman and author who served as the chairman and chief executive officer of Starbucks from 1986 to 2000, from 2008 to 2017, and as interim CEO from 2022 to 2023. Schultz also owned the Seattle SuperSonics basketball team from 2001 to 2006.

Schultz began working at Starbucks in 1982. He later left and opened Il Giornale, a specialty coffeeshop that merged with Starbucks during the late 1980s. Under Schultz, the company established a large network of stores which has influenced coffee culture in Seattle, the U.S., and internationally. Following large-scale distribution deals Starbucks became the largest coffee-house chain in the world. Schultz took the company public in 1992 and used a $271 million valuation to double their store count in a series of highly publicized coffee wars. He stepped down as CEO in 2000, succeeded by Orin Smith.

During the 2008 financial crisis, Schultz returned as chief executive. Succeeding Jim Donald, Schultz led a mass firing of executives and employees and shuttered hundreds of stores. He orchestrated multiple acquisitions of American and Chinese beverage companies, introduced a national loyalty program, and enforced fair trade standards. His aggressive expansion in Chinese markets has been credited[by whom?] with reconciling the country's tea-culture with coffee consumption in China. Schultz was succeeded by Kevin Johnson as CEO in April 2017 and Myron Ullman as chairman in June 2018.

Schultz has written four books on business. He is an outspoken neoliberal. Schultz publicly considered a candidacy in the 2012, 2016, and 2020 U.S. presidential elections as an independent candidate. He declined to join all three contests. His positions on domestic politics are socially liberal and fiscally moderate. In foreign policy, he is seen as a "liberal hawk", favoring American-led international affairs and neoliberalism. Schultz was named the 209th-richest person in the U.S. by Forbes with a net worth of $4.3 billion (October 2020). Schultz started the Schultz Family Foundation to help military veterans and fight youth unemployment.

On March 16, 2022, Starbucks announced that CEO Kevin Johnson was retiring, and that Howard Schultz would take over as interim CEO until Laxman Narasimhan took over as CEO in April 2023. On March 20, 2023, Schultz announced that he would be stepping down early from the position. https://www.starbucks.com/about-us/

Virtucon retrieved from https://austinpowers.fandom.com/ and copied or modified to here

In 1967, Virtucon Industries was founded by Number

Two. Even though it got a rocky start as a small business, it eventually gained enough funding and corporate power.

The company started as a volatile chemicals manufacturing company. In 1982, the company switched to the communications industry, buying and building more than 38 cable company subsidiaries. By 1997, the conglomerate has grown into several different industries, such as shipping in Texas, a steel mill in Cleveland, oil refineries in Seattle, and a factory in Chicago that produced miniature models of factories. In the first two films, the corporation is a front for Dr. Evil's many schemes. However, because of its resources and influence, the police are left with little-to-nothing against Dr. Evil.

The company helps fund and supply Dr. Evil's empire to take over the world. In the second Austin Powers film, Virtucon builds a time machine for Dr. Evil to transport to 1969 (at the time, Virtucon would still be in its growing years).

In Austin Powers in Goldmember, the company is not mentioned or referenced at all. It is possible that Scott took over the company after his father and Number Two become good.

Virtucon's Project Vulcan

One side of the chart is labeled "Secret Projects." Under that we see "Human Organ Trafficking", "Salvation Army", "Carrot Top Movie", Cable News and in CLOSE-UP&emdash; "Project Vulcan."

Virtucon exisst at a restricted area looks like atomic blast area of Las Vegas.

Possible Virtuecom

Monsanto retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

In 1901 Monsanto was founded in St. Louis, Missouri, as a chemical company.[18] The founder was John Francis Queeny, who at age 42 was a 30-year veteran of the nascent pharmaceutical industry.[19] He funded the firm with his own money and capital from a soft drink distributor. He used for the company name, the maiden name of his wife, Olga Méndez Monsanto, who was a scioness of the Sephardic Jewish Monsanto family.[20] The company's first products were commodity food additives, such as the artificial sweetener saccharin, caffeine and vanillin.

Monsanto expanded to Europe in 1919 in a partnership with Graesser's Chemical Works at Cefn Mawr, Wales. The venture produced vanillin, aspirin and its raw ingredient salicylic acid, and later rubber processing chemicals. In the 1920s, Monsanto expanded into basic industrial chemicals such as sulfuric acid and PCBs. Queeny's son Edgar Monsanto Queeny took over the company in 1928. In 1926 the company founded and incorporated a town called Monsanto in Illinois (now known as Sauget). It was formed to provide minimal regulation and low taxes for Monsanto plants at a time when local jurisdictions had most of the responsibility for environmental rules. It was renamed in honor of Leo Sauget, its first village president.

In 1935, Monsanto bought the Swann Chemical Company in Anniston, Alabama, and thereby entered the business of producing PCBs.

In 1936, Monsanto acquired Thomas & Hochwalt Laboratories in Dayton, Ohio, to acquire the expertise of Charles Allen Thomas and Carroll A. Hochwalt. The acquisition became Monsanto's Central Research Department.[30]: 340-341 Thomas spent the rest of his career at Monsanto, serving as President (1951-1960) and Board Chair (1960-1965). He retired in 1970.[31] In 1943, Thomas was called to a meeting in Washington, D.C., with Leslie Groves, commander of the Manhattan Project, and James Conant, president of Harvard University and chairman of the National Defense Research Committee (NDRC).

They urged Thomas to become co-director of the Manhattan Project at Los Alamos with Robert Oppenheimer, but Thomas was reluctant to leave Dayton and Monsanto.[32] He joined the NDRC, and Monsanto's Central Research Department began to conduct related research.[33]: vii To that end, Monsanto operated the Dayton Project, and later Mound Laboratories, and assisted in the development of the first nuclear weapons.

Post-WWII

In 1946, Monsanto developed and marketed "All" laundry detergent, which they sold to Lever Brothers in 1957.[34] In 1947, its styrene factory was destroyed in the Texas City Disaster.[35] In 1949, Monsanto acquired American Viscose Corporation from Courtaulds. In 1954, Monsanto partnered with German chemical giant Bayer to form Mobay and market polyurethanes in the United States.

Monsanto began manufacturing DDT in 1944, along with some 15 other companies. This insecticide was critical to the fight against malaria-transmitting mosquitoes. Due to DDT's toxicity, it was banned in the United States in 1972.

In 1977, Monsanto stopped producing PCBs; Congress banned PCB production two years later.

1960s and 1970s

In the mid-1960s, William Standish Knowles and his team invented a way to selectively synthesize enantiomers via asymmetric hydrogenation. This was the first method for the catalytic production of pure chiral compounds.[39] Knowles' team designed the "first industrial process to chirally synthesize an important compound"-L-dopa, which is used to treat Parkinson's disease.[40] In 2001, Knowles and Ryōji Noyori won the Nobel Prize in Chemistry. In the mid-1960s, chemists at Monsanto developed the Monsanto process for making acetic acid, which until 2000 was the most widely used production method. In 1964, Monsanto chemists invented AstroTurf (initially ChemGrass).

In the 1960s and 1970s, Monsanto was a producer of Agent Orange for United States Armed Forces operations in Vietnam, and settled out of court in a lawsuit brought by veterans in 1984.[42]: 6 In 1968, it became the first company to start mass production of (visible) light-emitting diodes (LEDs), using gallium arsenide phosphide. From 1968 to 1970, sales doubled every few months. Their products (discrete LEDs and seven-segment numeric displays) became industry standards. The primary markets then were electronic calculators, digital watches and digital clocks.[43] Monsanto became a pioneer of optoelectronics in the 1970s.

Between 1968 and 1974, the company sponsored the PGA Tour event in Pensacola, Florida, which was renamed the Monsanto Open.

In 1974, Harvard University and Monsanto signed a 10-year research grant to support the cancer research of Judah Folkman, which became the largest such arrangement ever made; medical inventions arising from that research were the first for which Harvard allowed its faculty to submit patent application.

…

Mary Popins

During this book I will cite major media as being the proponents and historians of the Deep State with slightly fictionalized accounts of world history told as Space Opera, light hearted musicals, or other works.

Those who are insiders enough recognize the story lines and names, and I Edward Donegan am one such person.

Elsewhere I go into Mary Poppins in detail which is very important to free masons and free masons murders and the Bush family treason.

The story line of this book is that in 1902 King Edward VII showed Minimal Brain Dysfunction now called FOXP2 London KE Family language gene defect, grammar and spelling, ADHD, and some fine motor control likely tied to ADHD.

Following the Atalanta Revolutions of France and the USA and other nations Great Britain was in decline exactly as it faced radio and the speech defect.

Mary of Teck was Queen of the United Kingdom and the British Dominions, and Empress of India, from 6 May 1910 until 29 January 1936 was bred into the England's royal family and she added a spoon full of sugar to what had been heavy handed British rule.

George Walker Bush is the product of two family traditions, the Bushes and the Walkers including Bert Walker at the beginning of the 20th Century. On one side is the familiar patriarch Prescott Bush (1895-1972), the decorous Republican senator from Connecticut, the New England WASP, the pennant-waving Yale man. On the other side of his father's family stands a lesser-known patriarch, George Herbert Walker (1875-1953), the St. Louis buccaneer and raucous playboy.

In 1910 the British were concerned of the ebb of Great Britian by rebellions coming from India, Ireland, earlier the USA, and elsewhere.

The Special Relationship between the families of Great Britain really includes the Bush family. Though set in 1910s King Edward VII King George V Bert Walker Mary Teck time of England and banking, the movie was filmed in 1964 and contains 1964 descendants references.

A George Banks who seems to be George H.W. Bush and tied to Constable H 43 is part of a "Spoonful of sugar helps the medicine go down" which corresponds to Common friendly and Mary Teck. I also add that this relationship includes expanding the royal family line for Great Britain and also expanding the gene pool of the Royal Families with breading sleeper agents for the 21st Century JFK objected to but 1963 CIA George H.W. Bush, James Angleton, and others like Donald Barr wanted. It is Mary "pop ins" to commoner homes that is part of the new charm and lighter touch of rule.

Glorian Donegan was part of that gene pool having been out of wedlock Windsors fooling around and this is how my life ties to the JFK assassination, a witness as to why the Free Mason Deep State and anti communists killed JFK over illegal DNA experiments Donegan family included.

A veil is an article of clothing or hanging cloth that is intended to cover some part of the head or face, or an object of some significance. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia Perhaps veiled truths?

> Fay Grim Movie
>
> BY BRIAN D. RENNER MAR. 4, 2007 *
>
> Fay Grim is a single Mom from Woodside, Queens, New York, manically preoccupied with raising her 14 year old son, Ned, so he won't grow up to be like his father. His father, Henry, is missing. Seven years earlier, he accidentally killed a vicious neighbor and fled- never to be seen or heard from again.

The Avant Gaurd artist DJ Mendel and Mark Cuban

Mark Cuban retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

[image]

4 Billion dollars net woth, owner of Dallas Mavericks

On July 7, 1982, Cuban moved to Dallas, Texas, where he first found work as a bartender for a Greenville Avenue bar called Elan[28][29] and then as a salesperson for Your Business Software, one of the earliest PC software retailers in Dallas.[30] He was fired less than a year later, after meeting with a client to procure new business instead of opening the store.

Cuban started his own company, MicroSolutions, with help from his previous customers from Your Business Software. MicroSolutions was initially a system integrator and software reseller. The company was an early proponent of technologies such as Carbon Copy, Lotus Notes, and CompuServe.[32] One of the company's largest clients was Perot Systems.

The company grew to more than $30 million in revenue, and in 1990, Cuban sold MicroSolutions to CompuServe-then a subsidiary of H&R Block-for $6 million.[24] He made approximately $2 million after taxes on the deal.

Audionet and Broadcast.com

In 1995, Cuban and fellow Indiana University alumnus Todd Wagner joined Audionet (founded in 1989 by Chris Jaeb who retained 10% of the company), combining their mutual interest in Indiana Hoosier college basketball and webcasting.[36] With a single server and an ISDN line, Audionet became Broadcast.com in 1998. By 1999, Broadcast.com had grown to 330 employees and $13.5 million in revenue for the second quarter. In 1999, Broadcast.com helped launch the first live-streamed Victoria's Secret Fashion Show.[39] That year, during the dot com boom, Broadcast.com was acquired by Yahoo! for $5.7 billion in Yahoo! (Kevin Edwards tied to it) stock.

in detail

Steganography

Steganography is the practice of concealing a message within another message or a physical object. In computing/electronic contexts, a computer file, message, image, or video is concealed within another file, message, image, or video. Wikipedia

Feedback

> Semaphore
>
> Semaphore ("apparatus for signalling," from Greek sema “sign, signal” and phoros “bearer”) is the use of an apparatus to create a visual signal transmitted over distance. A semaphore can be performed with devices including: fire, lights, flags, sunlight and moving arms. Semaphores can be used for telegraphy when arranged in visually connected networks, or for traffic signalling such as in railway systems, or traffic lights in cities. RGw whole of the signal is the Object to the Subject Traffic signaling a stop based on the presdate of the color of the signal

Metaphor

Meta data which is abstract through neutral signa such as Widgets or other fictionalizations but represent the data of a Semaphore pair of subjet predact object. One or more element of SPO abstracted as something else.

I have been asserting George H.W. Bush and others have used private thugs to help his escape of guilt in MKULTRA and he is using NWO allies and illegal genetic engineering of Sleepers and Moles for England including his own family he needs to escape detection of.

Like with violence against the Kurds illegal acts are now waged against out of wedlock family lines tied to FOXP2 genes in various High Offices of certain nations including Germany and England. The violence against FOXP2 is denied and other acts of terror are denied but the war is by non uniformed often child soldiers as either shields for the Bush family or child warriors for the Bush family where Bush means the larger LBJ conspiracy while George H.W. Bush and Donald Barr and Arnold Schwarzenegger ran things.

This story line is in the move Fay Grimm (2007) and is likely promoted by Kamala Harris.

Zone 804 West German Peter Shilling in 1983-1984 Cold War Berlin

a voice from somewhere in the night across a million miles of light a tranquil region reaching out from space looking for higher forms of life the ship from somewhere still unknown sees how desperate we have grown bearing gifts it hesitates behind the moon never been so far away from home calling Earth and still no one has heard the simple message of it's words from the zone 804
in peace not war
we come to restore
your planet
curious childrean watch the sky parents call them back inside while leaders argue over what to use silos are open standing by calling Earth and still no one has heard
the simple message of it's words
from the zone 804
in peace not war
we come to restore
your planet
from the zone 804
in peace not war
we come to restore
your planet
from the zone 804
in peace not war
we come to restore
your planet
from the zone 804
in peace not war
we come to restore
your lost planet

Terra Titanic, Major Tom, also Berlin, City of Lights, Cold War, Checkpoint Charlie Berlin

Byte Swapping, Byte Order Mark retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

[image]

Microsoft compilers[9] and interpreters, and many pieces of software on Microsoft Windows such as Notepad treat the BOM as a required magic number rather than use heuristics. These tools add a BOM when saving text as UTF-8, and cannot interpret UTF-8 unless the BOM is present or the file contains only ASCII. Windows PowerShell (up to 5.1) will add a BOM when it saves UTF-8 XML documents. However, PowerShell Core 6 has added a -Encoding switch on some cmdlets called utf8NoBOM so that document can be saved without BOM. Google Docs also adds a BOM when converting a document to a plain text file for download.

The left-to-right mark (LRM) is a control character (an invisible formatting character) used in computerized typesetting (including word processing in a program like Microsoft Word) of text that contains a mixture of left-to-right text (such as English or Russian) and right-to-left text (such as Arabic, Persian or Hebrew). It is used to set the way adjacent characters are grouped with respect to text direction.

> byte endianness
>
> asked Nov 19, 2017 at 21:47 *

I’m trying to figure out a way to create a little endian/big endian conversion for 64 bit integers (uint64_t) and while I find a lot of answers online as to how to do it, none of them explain what exactly is going on. For example, to get the nth byte of the integer I found this response:

int x = (number > > (8*n)) & 0xff;

Even though I understand the bit shifting component (shifting 8n digits to the right) I don’t see where the & and 0xff come in, and what they mean aside from & is a bitwise AND operator.

So, how would this sort of logic apply to a big-endian/little-endian byte swapping method for 64 bit integers?

Thank you in advance. c

Coach 30044 silver badges1414 bronze badges 1

Endianness does not involve bit swapping, but only byte swapping. From big to little endianess, you have to reverse the whole bytes making up the data word, leave the bits alone -

Ctx

Nov 19, 2017 at 21:49 & 0xff and similar masks off the 8 bits that need to be shifted (or were shifted) to the opposite endian byte. Usually the result will be ORred with the target value. -

Weather Vane Nov 19, 2017 at 21:50

It might be easiest to think of an analogy with decimal numbers:

Take the number 308. It has three digits, ‘3’, ‘0’, and ‘8’. By convention, digits to the left are more significant than digits to the right. But the convention could just as easily have been the other way …the digits could’ve been written in reverse order (e.g., 803).

Why is this relevant? Consider a hexadecimal representation of a number on a computer: 0xabcd0123. In a mathematically rigorous sense, one can view this number as 4 radix-256 digits. (i.e., 0xab, 0xcd, 0x01, 0x23). So, endianness is about the convention by which these radix-256 digits are ordered when written into memory.

Steganography retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Steganography (/ˌstɛɡəˈnɒɡrəfi/ (About this soundlisten) STEG-ə-NOG-rə-fee) is the practice of concealing a message within another message or a physical object. In computing/electronic contexts, a computer file, message, image, or video is concealed within another file, message, image, or video. The word steganography comes from Greek steganographia, which combines the words steganós (στεγανός), meaning “covered or concealed”, and -graphia (γραφή) meaning “writing”.

The first recorded use of the term was in 1499 by Johannes Trithemius in his Steganographia, a treatise on cryptography and steganography, disguised as a book on magic. Generally, the hidden messages appear to be (or to be part of) something else: images, articles, shopping lists, or some other cover text. For example, the hidden message may be in invisible ink between the visible lines of a private letter. Some implementations of steganography that lack a shared secret are forms of > security through obscurity, and key-dependent steganographic schemes adhere to Kerckhoffs's principle.

>
> The advantage of steganography over cryptography alone is that the intended secret message does not attract attention to itself as an object of scrutiny. Plainly visible encrypted messages, no matter how unbreakable they are, arouse interest and may in themselves be incriminating in countries in which encryption is illegal.
>
> Whereas cryptography is the practice of protecting the contents of a message alone, steganography is concerned with concealing the fact that a secret message is being sent and its contents.

It is my belief that I have been able to achieve SIGNINT of foreign power terrorist mafia body because they used Virtually private communications in plane view, hiding in plaine view, and if the they cyphers are broken then their communications detected in OSINT turn into SIGINT as the intercepted clear text is unpacked from the publicly available cyphertext.

Steganography includes the concealment of information within computer files. In digital steganography, electronic communications may include steganographic coding inside of a transport layer, such as a document file, image file, program, or protocol. Media files are ideal for steganographic transmission because of their large size. For example, a sender might start with an innocuous image file and adjust the color of every hundredth pixel to correspond to a letter in the alphabet. The change is so subtle that someone who is not specifically looking for it is unlikely to notice the change.

An example here is a skeleton hard to detect in normal view but can be seen by still frame and magnification of high res image.

The movie appears British propaganda and has shapes looking like England subsuming Ireland.

Thematicly some children play. One kid, smart, has a 49ers hat on. His dumber larger friend Ozzie has something wrong with his brain and is being made fun of behind his back.

Citizens and non-citizens

The eight men involved in the case were Ernest Peter Burger, George John Dasch, Herbert Hans Haupt, Heinrich Heinck, Edward Kerling, Herman Neubauer, Richard Quirin and Werner Thiel. Burger and Haupt were U.S. citizens. (317 U.S. 1)

Beligerant Acts

the law of war draws a distinction between the armed forces and the peaceful populations of belligerent nations and also between those who are lawful and unlawful combatants. Lawful combatants are subject to capture and detention as prisoners of war by opposing military forces. Unlawful combatants are likewise subject to capture and detention, but in addition they are subject to trial and punishment by military tribunals for acts which render their belligerency unlawful. The spy who secretly and without uniform passes the military lines of a belligerent in time of war, seeking to gather military information and communicate it to the enemy, or an enemy combatant who without uniform comes secretly through the lines for the purpose of waging war by destruction of life or property, are familiar examples of belligerents who are generally deemed not to be entitled to the status of prisoners of war, but to be offenders against the law of war subject to trial and punishment by military tribunals.

Guerilla Acts include D-E-W, assasinations, etc., conducted under-cover from illegal black budgets including US Citizens at infiltrators into US Government who facilitate the the Guerilla Acts enabling them.

Upon landing, Dasch and Burger turned themselves in to the Federal Bureau of Investigation with some difficulty, since the FBI did not believe them immediately. They convinced the FBI that they were telling the truth and the remaining six were taken into custody in New York and Chicago, Illinois by FBI agents. The FBI had no leads until Dasch gave his exaggerated and romanticized version in Washington, D.C.

Military tribunalOn July 2, 1942, President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued Executive Proclamation 2561 establishing a military tribunal to prosecute the Germans.[2][3] Placed before a seven-member military commission, the Germans were charged with:

- violating the law of war;
- violating Article 81 of the Articles of War, defining the offense of corresponding with or giving intelligence to the enemy;
- violating Article 82 of the Articles of War, defining the offense of spying;
- conspiracy to commit the offenses alleged in the first three charges.
- violating the law of war;
- violating Article 81 of the Articles of War, defining the offense of corresponding with or giving intelligence to the enemy;

- violating Article 82 of the Articles of War, defining the offense of spying;

- conspiracy to commit the offenses alleged in the first three charges.

From July 8 to August 1, 1942, [and likelyh withy British Intelligence assisting] the trial took place in Assembly Hall #1 on the fifth floor of the Department of Justice building in Washington D.C. On August 3, 1942, two days after the trial ended, all eight were found guilty and sentenced to death. Roosevelt later commuted the death sentence of Dasch to 30 years in prison and the sentence of Burger to life in prison, as they had both confessed and assisted in capturing the others. Indeed, it was Dasch who approached the FBI, offering to turn the men in, which he then did. Burger was part of the plot to turn on the others and cooperated with the FBI extensively. The remaining six were executed in the electric chair on the third floor of the District of Columbia jail on August 8 and buried in a potter's field called Blue Plains in the Anacostia area of Washington.

In 1948, Dasch and Burger were released by President Harry S. Truman and deported to the American Zone of occupied Germany. Dasch spent the remaining years of his life trying to return to the U.S. One time, a visa application was sent to J. Edgar Hoover by the State Department on Dasch's behalf. Hoover stated that the idea of giving Dasch a visa was "outrageous" and promptly denied it. Dasch died - still in Germany - in 1992.

Throughout the trial, Roosevelt's decision of creating a military tribunal to prosecute the Germans was challenged by Lieutenant Colonel Kenneth Royall, who was appointed to defend the Germans. Royall said that Roosevelt had no right to create a military tribunal to try his clients, citing Ex parte Milligan (1866), a case in which the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that the federal government could not establish military tribunals to try civilians in areas where civilian courts were functioning, even during wartime.

On July 31, the Supreme Court unanimously denied Royall's appeal, writing, "The military commission was lawfully constituted … petitioners are held in lawful custody for trial before the military commission and have not shown cause for being discharged by writ of habeas corpus."

Subliminal Messaging: Are You Sensitive?

Dramatic Reading

Deckard : Enhance 224 to 176. Enhance. Stop. Move in. Stop.

Deckard : Pull out, track right. Stop.[writing is visible] Center and pull back. Stop. [arm and door are visible] Track 45 right. Stop. Center and stop. Enhance 34 to 36.

[dresser top is visible] Deckard : Pan right or-and pull back. Stop. mirror is visible] Deckard : Enhance 34 to 46.

[blurred white object in mirror becomes visible] Deckard : Pull back. Wait a minute. Go right. Stop. [Zhora's arm becomes visible] Deckard : Enhance 57 to 19. Track 45 left. Stop. [Zhora is visible] Deckard : Enhance 15 to 23. [marks on Zhora's face become visible] Deckard : Gimme a hard copy right there.

Subliminal stimuli

Subliminal stimuli (the prefix sub- literally means "below" or "less than") are any sensory stimuli below an individual's threshold for conscious perception, in contrast to supraliminal stimuli (above threshold). A 2012 review of functional magnetic resonance imaging (fMRI) studies showed that subliminal stimuli activate specific regions of the brain despite participants' unawareness. Visual stimuli may be quickly flashed before an individual can process them, or flashed and then masked to interrupt processing. Audio stimuli may be played below audible volumes or masked by other stimuli. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Do you own a copy of the movie print? Perhaps an actress (FOXP2 Syndrome tends to run in Woman most - The Witch Mother) has a copy of a film she can run more slowly than it was in the theaters. At what point is a message availble to a person blinfolded by not seeing the correct names given for a person or the face of a person but is a character in a movie? What's my line game with movies in slo-mo or for those who have enough history knowledge to decode it.

Who is the real character represented by Col. Jim Shannon in the movie Jet Pilot?

Who are the real characters surrounding Maria Von Trapp in the Sound of Music? Who is Father Franz?

Who is Captain Cooper in the TV show House M.D. The Right Stuff? Could it be Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr. (June 2, 1930 - July 8, 1999) ? Doctors will keep the audience guessing but write works of art in which metaphors characters are used much like for JFK as dead patient in Preparations to Be Together for an Unknown Period of Time or who is that son of King Edward in Knights Tale, or Girl Interrupted? Or the Playboy story, or many other stories

Brittany Anne Murphy-Monjack was an American actress and singer. Born in Atlanta, Murphy moved to Los Angeles as a teenager and pursued a career in acting. Her breakthrough role was as Tai Frasier in Clueless, followed by supporting roles in independent films such as Freeway and Bongwater. Wikipedia Born: November 10, 1977, Atlanta, GA where Lady Bird Johson's Ladies Gardening Society Ornothology (Bird Eggs) seems to have been based.

Tai (Brittany Murphy) is a transfer student who arrives at Bronson Alcott High and instantly stands out due to her differences in appearance and attitude to the other students. Much of the film centers on Cher's "project" to make Tai attractive and popular, and, after this fails, her subsequent realization that it is Tai's personal substance that is important rather than her looks or popularity. And from the looks of it, she has dark wavy red hair and dark eyes. Before popularity, she wore plain shirts and baggy jeans, but when popular, she started wearing cute and trendy clothes and makeup.

A closer look at the Latent Image shows a operation only a Galactic Alien could have done in 1961, IVF into a Surrogate and a baby resulting Voyager Latent Image retrieved from Memory Alpha fandom and copied or modified to here

Latent Image

Seven discovers that The Doctor's memory files from Stardate 50979 are still available, but that The Doctor's program has been rewritten to deny him access to them. She restores them, but The Doctor experiences them out of order. He remembers going to the unknown ensign's birthday party, going on the shuttle mission with her and Kim and being attacked by an unknown species, and performing surgery on them with Tom Paris in sickbay (not necessarily in that order).

The Doctor meets with Janeway and Tuvok in the briefing room. Janeway doesn't recognize the species that attacked the shuttle crew, and Seven says that they are unknown to the Borg. Tuvok suggests that the images have been manipulated, but The Doctor thinks that there was an attack on Voyager by the unknown species, all of the crew's memories of it were erased,

---

Latent Image (Star Trek: Voyager) retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The episodes typically focus on problems encountered by its crew. In this case ships holographic A.I. medical program, called "The Doctor" and played by actor Robert Picardo, finds something amiss in his programming memory. In the typical style of the Star Trek franchise, the story uses science fiction to explore the philosophical issues, in this case, of medical ethics, decision making, and human rights.

During a routine medical examination, the Doctor discovers evidence that Ensign Harry Kim has undergone complex brain surgery within the last two years which only the Doctor could have performed. Having no memory of the procedure, the Doctor attempts to reconstruct the missing time period and discovers that certain files in his memory were deleted.

The Doctor eventually discovers that Captain Janeway and the crew conspired to eliminate files concerning a traumatic event that caused a holographic equivalent of a psychotic break. After an attack during an away mission, the Doctor could only treat one of two equally critically injured patients - Ensign Jetal and Ensign Harry Kim. The Doctor saved Harry; Jetal died on the operating table. As time passed, the Doctor was overpowered by guilt … [Was one patient Barrack Obama Jr who will bring peace and the other JFK who will tear apart the Western Hemisphee into war?"]

This episode originally aired on UPN on January 20,

1999.

In the final scene, the Doctor reads from La Vita Nuova. The words differ from the actual poem to make them more applicable to the story and give a more profound sense of closure: “In that book, which is my memory, on the first page of the chapter that is the day when I first met you appear the words, ‘here begins a new life’“.

In Nanny state themes Illuminati use a command decision had to be made by Janeway and the crew to remove the memory files of the Doctor because ethical inconsistencies were causing him conflicts which overwhelmed him.

Latent Image 50979. Does the military know in 1995 or so John F. Kennedy Aircraft Carrier is going to be 79?

 February 20, 1961

JFK met with the Secretary General of the Organization for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC) Thorkil Kristensen at around 11

 am in the Oval Office.

* JFK met with the Secretary General of the Organization for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC) Thorkil Kristensen at around 11 *

* am in the Oval Office. *

Could read 11 18 1961 Happy Birthday

More Dec 13s ?

Elements of HTML in documents like p (paragraph) or span (span something)not displayd, not visible. Only things inside a paragaraph or span are. Empty paragraphs or empty spans or their properties do not show

JFK and Thorkil Kristensen (center) with unidentified man – February 20, 1961

11 surface of water 18 61

11/18/61

> Flip latent mirage into extent code
>
> February 20, 1961
>
> JFK met with the Secretary General of the Organization for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC) Thorkil Kristensen at around 11 18 61-more in the Oval Office.
>
> Donald Barr holds Experimental Monkey in White House November 23 1961, Cipher for black experiment in mixed race.

Latent: (of a quality or state) existing but not yet developed or manifest; hidden or concealed. "discovering her latent talent for diplomacy" - Oxford Languages

Good Sam in Texas Baptist Church.

Friday, November 17, 1961 Sam - JFK was in Texas to attend the funeral and graveside services for legendary Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn. The service was held at the First Baptist Church in Bonham, Texas just outide Dallas.

Jeri Ryan tied to Obama Jr. becoming Senator from Illinois

[image]

[image]

Jeri Lynn Zimmermann February 22, 1968 Munich, West Germany (now Germany)

Lieutenant Thomas Eugene "Tom" Paris is a fictional character in the American science fiction television series Star Trek: Voyager and is portrayed by Robert Duncan McNeill Robert Duncan McNeill (born November 9, 1964.

Joanna Cassidy (born Joanna Virginia Caskey, August 2, 1945) is an American actress. She is known for her roles as the replicant Zhora Salome in Blade Runner was considered for the role of Janeway.

A character from Earth was abducted to meet Aliens and assimilated into them, sort of like Gary 7 i Assignment Earth
Further Reading

> Ronnie Cooke
>
> Set in Boston, the series centers on Winslow High School (similar to Sir With Love setting,) a fictional public high school in the Boston Public Schools district. Its slogan was "Every day is a fight. For respect. For dignity. For sanity.
>
> David E. Kelley

David Edward Kelley (born April 4, 1956) is an American television writer, producer, and former attorney, known as the creator of Doogie Howser, M.D., Picket Fences, Chicago Hope, The Practice, Ally McBeal, Boston Public, Boston Legal, Harry's Law, Goliath, Big Little Lies, Mr. Mercedes, Big Sky, and Nine Perfect Strangers as well as several films.

Seven of Nine

Seven of Nine (born Annika Hansen) is a fictional character introduced in the American science fiction television series Star Trek: Voyager. Portrayed by Jeri Ryan, she is a former Borg drone who joins the crew of the Federation starship Voyager.

Annika Hansen was born in 2350 on stardate 25479 at the Federation Tendara colony as the only daughter of eccentric exobiologists Magnus and Erin Hansen. They made their preparations and, on stardate 32611, with Annika in tow, they set off. They made a stop at the Drexler outpost in the Omega sector reference Dr Janos Drexler in Preparations to Be Together for an Unknown Period of Time

Anton Drexler (13 June 1884 - 24 February 1942) was a German far-right political agitator for the Völkisch movement in the 1920s. He founded the pan-German and anti-Semitic German Workers' Party (DAP), the antecedent of the Nazi Party (NSDAP). Drexler mentored his successor in the NSDAP, Adolf Hitler, during his early years in politics.

Ryan was born Jeri Lynn Zimmermann on February 22, 1968, in Munich, West Germany, the daughter of Gerhard Florian "Jerry" Zimmermann, a master sergeant in the U.S. Army, and his wife Sharon, a social worker. She has one older brother, Mark. Ryan grew up on Army posts in Kansas, Maryland, Hawaii, Georgia and Texas.

When she was 11, her father retired from the Army and the family settled in Paducah, Kentucky. She graduated from Lone Oak High School in 1986 (as a National Merit Scholar), and then attended Northwestern University, where she was a member of the Alpha Phi sorority. She graduated from Northwestern in 1990 with a Bachelor's degree in Theatre.

In 1989, Ryan was chosen as Miss Illinois. She competed in the Miss America 1990 pageant, where she finished as third runner-up, winning the preliminary swimsuit competition and singing "On My Own" from Les Misérables for her talent.

Voyager season 5 episode 4 In The Flesh 7 of 9 laments Mutual Assured Destruction thinking on Earth lead to 600 million deaths in WWIII Earth. Mirrors Jodie Foster God of Carnage. Species 08 4 72 remains a threat of flesh creatures.

[Space Relations by Donald Barr was released in 1973.] the records of MKULTRA were destroyed in 1972 at the CIAs request after the death of J Edger Hoover.]

Because most of the MKULTRA records were deliberately destroyed in 1972 by order of the Director at that time, Richard Helms, it is impossible to have a complete understanding of the more than 150 individually funded research projects sponsored by MKULTRA and related CIA programs.

Dr. Sidney Gottlieb approved of an MKULTRA subproject on LSD in this June 9, 1953 letter. Enlarge Dr. Sidney Gottlieb approved of an MKULTRA subproject on LSD in this June 9, 1953 letter. Experiments were often conducted without the subjects' knowledge or consent.

The foreign policy of the Ronald Reagan administration from 1981 to 1989 was characterized by a strategy of “peace through strength.” Critics label Reagan’s policies as aggressive, imperialistic, and “warmongering”; however, these policies were supported by leading American conservatives who argued they were necessary to protect U.S. security interests.

Ryan’s character and the Hologram Doctor’s note such philosophies have resulted in millions of war deaths.

Reagan escalated the Cold War during his presidency, accelerating a reversal from the policy of détente that began in 1979, following the Soviet war in Afghanistan. Reagan ordered a massive buildup of the United States Armed Forces and implemented new policies toward the Soviet Union. He revived the B-1 Lancer program that had been canceled by the Carter administration, and began producing the MX missile. In response to Soviet deployment of the SS-20, Reagan oversaw the North Atlantic Treaty Organization’s (NATO’s) deployment of the Pershing missile in West Germany. Reagan’s Foreign Policy and the End of the Cold War - Lumen Learning *

> From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia
>
> USS Enterprise (CVN-65)
>
> USS Enterprise (CVN-65), formerly CVA(N)-65, is a decommissioned[14] United States Navy aircraft carrier. She was the first nuclear-powered aircraft carrier and the eighth United States naval vessel to bear the name. Like her predecessor of World War II fame, she is nicknamed “Big E”. At 1,123 feet (342 m),[6][7] she is the longest naval vessel ever built.
>
> In November 1965, the Enterprise was transferred to the Seventh Fleet, home-ported at NAS Alameda, California.
>
> In 1958, Enterprise’s keel was laid at Newport

News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company in Shipway 11. On 24 September 1960, the ship was launched, sponsored by Mrs. W. B. Franke, wife of the former Secretary of the Navy. On 25 November 1961, Enterprise was commissioned, with Captain Vincent P. de Poix, formerly of Fighting Squadron 6 on her predecessor, in command. On 12 January 1962, the ship made her maiden voyage starting an extensive shakedown cruise and a lengthy series of tests and training exercises designed to determine the full capabilities of the nuclear powered super carrier. On 20 February 1962, Enterprise was a tracking and measuring station for the flight of Friendship 7, the Project Mercury space capsule in which Lieutenant Colonel John H. Glenn, Jr. made the first American orbital spaceflight. Enterprise completed shakedown activities at Naval Station Norfolk on 5 April 1961.

Sea Vixens of 893 NAS operating from Enterprise in 1962.

In October 1962, Enterprise was dispatched to her first international crisis. Following revelations that the Soviet Union was constructing nuclear missile launch sites on Cuba, President John F. Kennedy ordered the United States Department of Defense to conduct a large-scale buildup. Among the preparations, the U.S. Atlantic Fleet readied large numbers of its ships. On 22 October, President Kennedy ordered a naval and air “quarantine” (blockade) on shipment of offensive military equipment to Cuba, and demanded the Soviets dismantle the missile sites there. Five Second Fleet carriers participated in the blockade-Enterprise (as part of Task Force 135), Independence, Essex, Lake Champlain, and Randolph, backed by shore-based aircraft. By 28 October, the crisis was averted, after the United States secretly agreed to remove nuclear missiles from Italy and Turkey.

The name has been adopted by the future Gerald R. Ford-class aircraft carrier USS Enterprise (CVN-80).

In May 2006, Enterprise departed for a six-month deployment, operating in the 6th, 5th and 7th Fleet areas in a world-tour, supporting Operations Iraqi and Enduring Freedom, and visiting ports in Dubai, Hong Kong, and crossing the line. She returned to Norfolk on 18 November 2006.

In the real world, and being the sole member of the Enterprise-class aircraft carrier, Enterprise was nicknamed “the Starship,” after her fictional namesake. She was in commission from 1961 to 2012.

Memory Alpha Fandom *

In April 1983, the Enterprise, half a mile from shore after a 14-month, 46,000-mile cruise, ran aground in San Francisco Bay; George Takei was aboard the ship during this incident.

In 1993 and 1994, the Star Trek Association of Towson, a fan club in Towson, Maryland, sponsored “The Big E Con,” a convention held while the ship was at its home port of Norfolk, Virginia. The events featured tours of the ship and appearances by Star Trek notables. The fan club also donated Star Trek memorabilia for display in the ship’s recreation room.

USS John F. Kennedy (CV-67)

USS John F. Kennedy (CV-67) (formerly CVA-67)

is the only ship of her class (a variant of the Kitty Hawk class of aircraft carrier) and the last conventionally powered carrier built for the United States Navy.[4] The ship was named after the 35th President of the United States, John F. Kennedy, and was nicknamed “Big John”. John F. Kennedy was originally designated a CVA (fixed wing attack carrier); however, the designation was changed to CV.

After nearly 40 years of service in the United States Navy, John F. Kennedy was officially decommissioned on 1 August 2007. She is berthed at the NAVSEA Inactive Ships On-site Maintenance facility in Philadelphia, formerly the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard, and, until late 2017, was available for donation as a museum and memorial to a qualified organization. In late 2017, the Navy revoked her “donation hold” status and designated her for dismantling.

COULTER’S “GUILTY” GETS IT RIGHT ON JACK RYAN
retrieved from Illinois Review and copied or modified to here

COULTER’S “GUILTY” GETS IT RIGHT ON JACK RYAN

Chapter 5 of her best-selling “Guilty” reviews how Obama and his political brain David Axelrod used the Chicago Tribune to dig into his opponents’ tawdry and embarrassing divorce and child custody records in order to win both of that year’s elections.

Coulter gets it right on Republican Jack Ryan, how the Chicago Tribune-contrived “sex-less” scandal and weak-spined Republicans who refused to support him destroyed Illinois’ only realistic chance of keeping Obama within the state's borders in 2006.

JODIE FOSTER BACKGROUND: PROGRAMMED MULTIPLE AND PROPAGANDIST

Jodie Foster Observations background

Father was in the Airforce and mother a producer in hollywood = classic judaeo-masonic mind control applied. Further went to Yale, a major programming/ elite institution. On top of that was involved in film in a sexual way at a very young age, most likely this had already happened off camera as hollywood kids are not kids they are initiated into sex at a very early age. Worked on Disney projects aka judaeo- masonic mkultra/monarch training. Played a prostitute in taxi driver at 12 years old, classic indication of involvement with judaeo-masonic mafia. Was allegedly the cause of a presidential assassination attempt by Hinkley, however Hinkley had many ties into the judaeo-masonic occult state and this was most likely in jealousy of Reagans likely sexual relationship with a young programmed multiple Foster. Hinkley was most likely a programmed multiple as well like many high level judaeo-masons so he could have been under orders to attempt the assassination only. This could have been a warning to Reagan by his superior in judaeo-masonry, George Bush. Bush was the real president during the whole Reagan adminstration. Reagan was just an actor who read speeches etc

Travis Bickle a Taxi Driver in the Jodie Foster Robert DiNero mov alone, is a 26-year-old honorably discharged U.S. Marine and Vietn veteran suffering from post-traumatic stress disorder and living in is York City. Travis takes a job as a night shift taxi driver to cope with insomnia. He frequents the porn theaters on 42nd Street and keeps which he consciously attempts to include aphorisms, such as “you’r healthy as you feel.”

Travis becomes infatuated with Betsy, a campaign volunteer for se presidential candidate Charles Palantine. After watching her interac worker Tom through her window, Travis enters to volunteer as a pr her, then takes her out for coffee. Betsy agrees to go on another dat during which he takes her to see a pornographic film; a disgusted B Travis attempts to reconcile with her, to no avail. Enraged, he storn campaign office where she works and berates her before he is order Tom.

Reagan was also a part of the judaeo-masonic hollywood community and most likely had met Foster there at a young age. Most higher level judaeo-masons are in fact pedophiles/pederasts and the Hollywood community is a sex cult and the propaganda wing of the judaeo-masonic led occult world state. Foster would later go on to star in the MKULTRA/monarch movie “Silence of the Lambs” which has a title that refers to the muzzling of Christians by satanic cults through the use of cover “serial killers”, a term invented and pusehd by the FBI, which are only chosen from the cult to be the fall guy. Serial killers do not exist, evidence of David Mcgowans “Programmed to Kill” book et al. Foster most likely a programmed multiple child and running hypnocourier missions to politicians etc with sexual services as a trigger.

Foster denied being homosexual/bisexual for a long time until her brother wrote a biography alleging that and also that their mother was a bisexual, most likely her father was also a bisexual as that’s common practice among higher level Judaeo-Masons especially in the military wing. Foster was a star in Maverick where she played a two faced woman who used her full womanly endowments as a way to get what she wanted, indicative of her real role in elite hypnocourier and sex kitten programming.

Figure 1 Aboard the illuminati kingpins jet, with panguitch, UT coordinates, she's always watched.

Contact

Foster further starred in Contact, another pre-conditioning movie about "alien" life and contact with humans. This is not possible in reality as the Earth is flat and no manmade object goes over 250 or so miles up. The sun is around 4000 miles up and 32 miles in diam. this is true of the moon as well. It's not possible to go to the moon, there is no free fall, rockets do not work in a vacuum etc etc etc The "alien" psyop is a mkultra/ monarch occult state project to further the "space" age nonsense delusion.

The technology will most likely be fully in place and ready sometime soon if not already to pull this bamboozle. Numerous examples of Foster movies with judaeo-masonic imagery, moths, checkerboard pattern, space, aliens, serial killers, two faced(maverick), sci-fi psyop. Science Fiction is only a psy-op it is not real in most ways especially as it relates to space nonsense. In Contact Foster "listens" to the random noise and gets a signal, this is not unlike real life implants to programmed multiples hidden in pop culture, they can be activated and given instruction via implants, FOster most likely gets this in real life. Typical "order out of chaos" 33rd deg scotch rite scamming. THEY create the chaos and come along with the order, their order, to the confused and scared masses. Classic pavlov on a large scale.

Also

Globe programming throughout but that's been in almost all judaeo-masonic controlled media from the beginning. When the signal is sent to programmed multiple will respond, Foster is one of those. A signal could easily be faked by the judaeo-masons in various militaries to be an “alien” signal detected by “scientists” aka priests of public ignorance. This whole “alien” psyop has been seeded in propagandaf’entertainment”) since Jules Verne. Mathematics worship pushed, it’s not any sort of reality or test of reality, the point is its “universal” language aka New World Order “language” of the high priests of “reality”.

Figure 2 The judaeo-masonic obelisk ever present. This “joker” is probably one user and handler among many of this programmed multiple personality kitten.

Anyways getting back to Contact it’s amazing that the initial image sent by the “aliens” is a picture of Adolf Hitler, a very hight initiate and patron saint of judaeo-masonic satanism. That tells us a lot. Grouping together the alien psyop and naziism is pretty apt, both are the products of satanism and are hallmarks of the satanic world which the highest elites in judaeo-masonry practice. They will always put out clues to the what’s really going on, it’s almost like satan is both required to and wants to, it’s a good recruiting tool as in most people admire success even in nefarious activities.

It makes satanism take on an entertainment aspect most people get fascinated with, snake fascinated, curiousity killed the cat fascinated. Foster gets schooled by her “sponsor” a high level judaeo-mason on the goose chase she’s on, her sponsor is most likely a real character in the elite that is Fosters owner on an occult level, she was most likely programmed to his specifications and is her owner and handler. This is not unlike Bob Hope and Brice Taylor as described in her book “thanks for the memories” about being a mind controlled slave. Anyways getting back to the movie Foster plays herself really, a dorothy in Oz being led around according to the judaeo-masonic occult state satanic plan. Movies like this show how this can and might be faked by the propaganda machine as well, can’t tell the fake news stories in the movie from teh fake ones in the real world. That's on purpose of course, in the real world they tell us more about their shenanigans than in the news world nonsense. We see the largest satanic obelisk in the world in this movie as well, the Washington monument. The District of Columbia is an NWO area for the leveling of the world by the Judaeo-masonic satanists. It's a proxy for the higher level satanists in Britain and Europe.

Figure 3 Always watched, globe earth/space opera programming as well.

Anyways in Contact further the "bad" guy is a protestant fundamentalist preacher, thus equating the Christians with the bad guys, typical judaeo-masonic subliminal messaging.

In fact I wouldn't doubt that Foster herself is a crypto-pharisee she certainly has all the marks of it, a homosexual sodomite from a satanic family background who is a hollywood star, a programmed multiple who can mostl likely perform the most deadly missions for the judaeo-masonic satanists, you can't get much more satanic. The story is going most likely how it would in the real life scam, the pharisees and freemason servants would HAVE to have some cooked up tragedy so they can escape the difficulties of faking ever more fantastic frauds. In the film the "terrorist" is from Panguitch, UT which is shown in the Illuminati Kingpins, Hadden, aircraft earlier as the longitude and lattitude of his plane. Obviously the subtext here is that the kingpin sed a programmed multiple, the "terrorist" as a way to destroy the first "machine" which the aliens sent plans for so the one built by his company in Japan could be used in this farce, ensuring more profits for this evil elite satanist. Demons and their followers have no loyalties to one another, they will and do fight amongst themselves and satan loves it. Another aspect of this Japan machine is the railroading of internationalists for sovereign countries, in the satanic NWO there are no countries only districts, sectors in their satanic UN map with 33 districts. The USA as a wholly judaeo- masonic battering ram, most likely the final one among others like the USSR, Nazi Germany, Red China, the satanic EU, Napoleonic Europe etc.

Figure 4 The judaeo-masonic trestle board chekerboard floor, a calling card. The programmed multiple in her fantasy world of computers, also a depiction of the programming environment mengele mkultra monarch.

Getting back to Contact Foster further goes through another guided trance state in a programming environment which she has been through probably since childhood among the occult community. This programming session takes place in “space” travel while she’s strapped into a seat, classic imagery of mkultra monarch tbmc. Remember that this is all presented as something “wonderful” and magical but in fact it’s backed up as the absence of terrible satanic rituals, drugs, torture, hypnosis and more of the most excruciatingly painful pavlovian anchors imaginable. If she does NOT behave and go with the flow she will be triggered to relive absract past tortures and will most likely receive fresh tortures to help her remember. Foster is like Candy Jones, Marilyn Monroe, Brice Taylor, Elvis, and many many more living inside a satanic matrix but also taking part in it and continuing it through movies, use of her fortune to back satanic organizations and movements, examples set, hypnocourier beta sex kitten missions for those above her in satanism and other ways. Programmed multiples are not innocent. The satanic imagery continues in her alien encounter dream. Another thing is that the cast is full of hollywood douchebags like James Woods, Mcaunahey, Rob Lowe, Angela Bassett, Tom Skerritt etc. Figure 5 More obelisk imagery, this is a judaeo-masonic farce, a talisman of deception and slavery.

Figure 6 This is a theme in modem society, we live in a judaeo-masonic matrix.

After the programming session Foster's character is probed to see that she never denies the reality of the what the programmers want her to believe happened, in effect they are verifying that their control is so effective that 2 + 2 can equal 5 if the programmers say it does. She is further tested to make sure she bleats the sayings of a communist pharisee known as Einstein whose work is nothing but drivel that's never been verified true or used in any meaningful way. The story gets even more bizarre that the new world religion, actually satanism, is pushed by Foster's character, she is a high priestess of judaeo- masonry and it's false science dictatorship. It also illustrates that even in the movies the judaeo-masons bicker amongst themselves as evidenced by James Woods character the Secretary of WAR ("Defense") denigrating the illuminati kingpin hadden as perpertrating a cunning plan, a conspiracy, for this japan machine.

The SOW has been and is always now either a pharisee or a freemason makes no difference which one. So he's attacking a kingpin in his own cabal as a tool for confusion and deceit for his own gain, sop. Another note being we frequently see the huge District of Columbia Obelisk in these later scenes. This being one of the most ubiquitous symbols and signs of judaeo-masonic trickery and subterfuge.

In the end we see Foster indoctrinating children into her satanic beliefs and life, her Quixhotic journey in circles, the mind control and delusion spread like a virus for future lost souls.

Another spreader of this virus Carl Sagan is who the film is dedicated to, of course this is based on his novel of the same name. Pretty sad movie really, lies and falsehoods are taken as truth in the "space" age of satan.

> Never forget that the bottom line is to corrupt peoples spiritual perception, physical control is only a symptom of that. The denial of the Jesus Christ as the Messiah and the Holy Trinity is their primary goal, even unto subverting from within the Church so that Christianity is associated with mayhem and confusion which the elite Pharisees manage through their financial control and other forms of control like blackmail etc It's the same as it was at the crucifixion, the mobs still are led around by the elite pharisees and their proxies aka pilates and roman soldiers. They've already lost, but think they are and have won like they think they won at the crucifixion, as their master satan thought so too.

A safe harbor is a legal provision in a statute or regulation that provides protection from a legal liability or other penalty when certain conditions are met. - Winston.com

Chapter 17 the Attempted Coup D'Etat of March 30, 1981

Webster G Tarpley *

Chase Untermeyer of Bush's staff, who had been with him throughout the day, put in that in his recollection Bush had not been told the assailant's name through the time that Bush reached the Naval Observatory in Washington on his way to the White House.

On April 1, 1981, the Rocky Mountain News of Denver carried an account of a press conference given the previous day in Denver by Neil Bush. During most of the day on March 31, Neil Bush had refused to answer phone calls from the media, referring them to the vice presidential press office in Washington. But then he > appeared in front of the Amoco Building at East 17th Avenue and Broadway in Denver, saying that he was willing to meet the media once, but then wanted to "leave it at that." As it turned out, his wishes were to be scrupulously respected, at least until the Silverado Savings and Loan scandal got out of hand some years later.

>
> The Rocky Mountain News article signed by Charles Roos carried Neil Bush's confirmation that if the assassination had not happened, Scott Hinckley would have been present at a dinner party at Neil Bush's home that very same night. According to Neil, Scott Hinckley had come to the home of Neil and Sharon Bush on January 23, 1981 to be present along with about 30 other guests at a surprise birthday party for Neil, who had turned 26 one day earlier. Scott Hinckley had come "through a close friend who brought him," according to this version, and this same close female friend was scheduled to come to dinner along with Scott Hinckley on that last night of March, 1981.
>
> "My wife set up a surprise party for me, and it truly was a surprise, and it was an honor for me at that time to meet Scott Hinckley," said Neil Bush to reporters. "He is a good and decent man. I have no regrets whatsoever in saying Scott Hinckley can be considered a friend of mine. To have had one meeting doesn't make the best of friends, but I have no regrets in saying I do know him."

Repudiation of a person's own statements under the alibi they were a fictional work only or really meant something else can offer a criminal safe harbor to communicate illegal plans and operations. Cryptography is another way to avoid detention of illegal communications.

Symbolic Communications in representational language including encrypted language.

Ex parte Quirin, 317 U.S. 1 (1942), is a case of the United States Supreme Court during … instructed in the use of explosives and in methods of secret writing.

I accuse the Illuminati including Donald Barr of using cyperhtext, secret writing, in the creation of cypher figures in “space” (abstract representations in Cypher, or representational system of hiding meaning and use that system for espionage communications.

semaphores

Vocabulary.com retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

> semaphore
>
> A semaphore is a gadget used for conveying signals. Semaphores have either lights or mechanical arms that move.
>
> The word semaphore is related to a Greek word meaning “signal,” and that’s exactly the purpose of semaphores: they give signals. The place you’re most likely to have seen a semaphore is a railroad crossing: the gadget with moving arms is a semaphore. Some semaphores have mechanical arms, while others just use lights to communicate. A semaphore system can also use flags. In all cases, semaphores give visual signals that communicate something important, especially to people traveling.
>
> In this book The Medical State I say literary characters and literary tales are devices, semaphores > of telling real stories through semaphores which substitute for the real people but are comparable and in places like outer space where the events are fictional and do not involve real acts or real law enforcement in the cypher representation of the stories thus become “safe” communication.

I had something from Linda Newkirk a few years back, not really her or perhaps at least via her and her blog of the Criminal Syndicate’s Shadow Government’s activities in which she described a system of writing openly as Illuminati (them making symbols of recognition to each other in the light from a candle to hand silhouettes to the wall) and then using “two barks and a half a bark” from a dog that no one would ever figure out and thus they could keep the military of the USA and others from finding out the code, I think is the CIA Diagraph of February 20 in more or less analog form, locations in movies at 33 minutes, or references to 33 miles about Earth , or 2 hours and 20 minutes, etc., DNA tied to that date.

As for fictional work by Donald Barr and others I assert literary fiction is used as escapisim from non fiction writing thus stripping the actionabilty from the criminal liability of the figures involved as well as striping away the liability of the person writing about real events who then denies to most that the events were in fact real.

Neil Bush and the Hinckleys

Scott Hinckley, the brother of John Hinckley Jr., who is charged with shooting President Reagan and three others, was to have been a dinner guest Tuesday night at the home of Neil Bush, son of Vice President George Bush, The Houston Post has learned.

John Warnock Hinckley Jr. was born in Ardmore,

Oklahoma, and moved with his wealthy family to Dallas, Texas at the age of four.

His father was John Warnock Hinckley (JUNE 6, 1925 January 29, 2008), chairman and president of the Vanderbilt Energy Corporation. His mother was Jo Ann Hinckley (née Moore; December 7, 1925 July 30, 2021).

[image] Hinckley Sr

BIRTH 6 Jun 1925 Tryon, Gaston County, North Carolina, USA DEATH 29 Jan 2008 (aged 82) Williamsburg, Williamsburg City, Virginia, USA BURIAL Williamsburg Presbyterian Church Columbarium Williamsburg, Williamsburg City, Virginia, USA MEMORIAL ID 24280258 · View Source

Gaston County is included in the Charlotte-Concord-Gastonia, NC-SC Metropolitan Statistical Area.

Jack was married for 61 years to his college sweetheart, Jo Ann Moore from Oklahoma City, Okla. They have three children and four grandchildren: son, Scott Hinckley and his wife, Christa, from Irving, Texas, and their children, Christa Keel Hinckley and Spencer Hinckley; daughter, Diane Sims and her husband, Stephen, from Dallas, Texas, and their children, Christopher Sims and wife, Sheaffer, and Stephanie Sims; and son, John Hinckley Jr. of Washington, D.C., who attempted to assassinate President Ronald Reagan.

His wife JoAnn Moore (Lane) was given to the world on April 8th, 1938 in Texanna, Oklahoma and went into the arms of her Lord and Savior Jesus Christ on October 5, 2009. She was a loving Mother, Grandmother, Great Grandmother, Sister, Aunt and Friend. She will be remembered for her selfless ways, homemade rolls and fudge. She will be missed beyond words and forever in our hearts. She was preceded in death by her parents, Lonnie and Cara Lane; brother, Harold Lane and sister, Caroline Fox. She is survived by her siblings, Bobby Gene Lane of Checotah, OK, Elizabeth Personnett of Checotah, OK, Lonnie Lane Jr. of Wichita, KS, James Lane of Blanchard, OK and Don Lane of Checotah, OK. Her four children are David Lane and his wife, Bonnie, Teresa Ramos, Jimmy Moore and his wife, Sheila and Emma Compton and her husband, Chris. She has ten grandchildren, Ricky, Eric, Rolando and Lance Ramos, Brittany, Gabrielle, Tori, Christopher and Claire Compton and Jerry Lane; four great-grandchildren, Alexis Ramos, Lucas Compton, Drake Ramos and Dayanerah, as well as, a number of nieces and nephews and many friends. Service 10:00 A.M. Friday Arrow Heights Baptist Church, 101st & Elm, Broken Arrow, OK with graveside service at 2:00 P.M. Friday in Triplett Cemetery in Texanna, OK near Checotah, OK. Ninde Brookside Chapel 918-742-5556.

According to the article, Neil Bush had admitted on Monday, March 30 that he was personally acquainted with Scott Hinckley, having met with him on one occasion in the recent past. Neil Bush also stated that he knew the Hinckley family, and referred to large monetary contributions made by the Hinckleys to the Bush 1980 presidential campaign. Neil Bush and Scott Hinckley both lived in Denver at this time. Scott Hinckley was the vice president of Vanderbilt Energy Corporation, and Neil Bush was employed as a land man for Standard Oil of Indiana. John W. Hinckley Jr., the would-be assassin, lived on and off with his parents in Evergreen, Colorado, not far from Denver.

Neil Bush was reached for comment on Monday, March 30, and was asked if, in addition to Scott Hinckley, he also knew John W. Hinckley Jr., the would-be killer. “I have no idea,” said Neil Bush. “I don’t recognize any pictures of him. I just wish I could see a better picture of him.”

Sharon Bush, Neil’s wife, was also asked about her acquaintance with the Hinckley family. “I don’t even know the brother,” she replied, suggesting that Scott Hinckley was coming to dinner as the date of a woman whom Sharon did know. “From what I know and have heard, they [the Hinckleys] are a very nice family …and have given a lot of money to the Bush campaign. I understand he [John W. Hinckley Jr.] was just the renegade brother in the family. They must feel awful.”

Rosetta Stone of the cover-up of a truth

To understand both Jen Moore and Franz Kutschera look at the character Max Detweiler of the 1960 Julie Andrew musical. He is actually rich Austrian theater owning family Kutscheras who are the early proponents of NAZI Germany. He uses his theaters to put on shows using the Whitehead Von Trapp children. At least for a short while Maria Kustschera ward of Franz Kutschera is a part of of it. Henriech Himmler is also involved. Maria Kutschera and George Ritter Von Trapp leave Austria with 7 children and likely pregnant with three children she hoped would be in a marriage with the Windsors, thougth the Windsors urged a marriage to Captain Von Trapp instead.

A Brady Bunch or Courtship of Eddie's Father like two families

Why not try Malcom X and Glorian Gainey and get Malcolm X Ranz Kutschera Windsor Obama?

Cast of Sound of Music and how the stories change the truth with fictionolizations in the US versions

Johanna Kutschera Likely deceased mother of Maria Kutscheras

Johanna Kutschera BIRTH unknown DEATH 7 Mar 1927 (husband also dies) BURIAL Friedhof Südwest Vienna, Wien Stadt, Vienna (Wien),leaving Austrian orphans raised by [abusive?] Uncle Franz the singing propaganda master

Maria August Kutschera will name one of her daughters after her mother.

Maria Augusta Kutschera raised by Uncle Franz (Julie Andrews and Carrie Underwood)

Baroness Maria Augusta von Trapp DHS (née Kutschera; 26 January 1905 28 March 1987) was the stepmother and matriarch of the Trapp Family Singers.[4][5] She wrote The Story of the Trapp Family Singers, which was published in 1949 and was the inspiration for the 1956 West German film The Trapp Family, which in turn inspired the 1959 Broadway musical The Sound of Music and its 1965 film version.

Max Detweiler.

An altered identity covering the real identity, Max is in charge of Propaganda for the NAZI Party and sees Germany taking Austria and assisting in that proccess. Max mocks Von Trapp as an English Monarchist or German Monarchist and urged Captain Von Trapp (ret.) to join the Nazi party., He Maries Maris Kutschera, Max's neince in reality, and leaves for England as Germany moves in on Austria.

Franz Mathias Wasner (December 28, 1905 June 21, 1992) was an Austrian Roman Catholic priest, the director and conductor of the Trapp Family Singers, and a missionary. In the quasi-fictionalized stage and screen musical The Sound of Music, he is represented by the character Max Detweiler.

Father Franz priest who singing coached the Von Trapps into singing was also a lie. Arthur and Franz Kutschera (Nazi propogandists of theaters and the Berlin 1936 stage show Olympics and Nazi SS general) wre the family of Maria Austria Kutschera who married Whitehead Torpedo widower Captain Von Trapp

Uncle Franz adopts niece Maria

Franz Kutschera Born: February 22, 1904, Oberwaltersdorf, Austria was an Austrian Nazi politician and government official. He held numerous political and military positions with the Nazi Party and the Schutzstaffel both before and after the German Anschluss of Austria in 1938. During World War II he served with the SS in France, Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union. Wikipedia

Hermann Kutschera (April 27, 1903 November 4, 1991) was an Austrian architect. He was born in Vienna. In 1936 he won a gold medal in the art competitions of the Olympic Games for his “Sprungschanze mit Stadion” (“Skiing Stadium”).[1]

In the graphic below a play by Arthur Kutschera with Johannes Von Trapp mocks gay Windsors and loss of the throne (King Edward II)

It was a significant part of the Von Trapp Singers story that they were fleeing Franz Kutschera but that was whitewashed from the story so the singers and relatives of the singers in future generations could dissavow thaat family line as biological relatives.

1944: Franz Kutschera, by underground justice retrieved from underground justice and copied or modified to here

We enter ambiguous territory for this here site here, for Kutschera's punishment, while delivered by ambush, was decreed by a court the illicit (to Germany) "Special Courts" of the Polish government in exile. Needless to say, the defendant was judged in absentia.

Such courts asserted the legitimate governance of an occupied nation but they had to shift for themselves when it came to enforcing their underground writ. An orchestrated commando hit, uncontroversially titled Operation Kutschera, was required for this one since the SS chief wasn't a fellow that an opportunistic assassin could just catch with his guard down in some cafe. Instead, Poland's internal Home Army units under the command of Emil Fieldorf put a 12-person team on the job.

On the morning of February 12, 1944, Kutschera's "executioners" blocked with another car the limousine carrying the doomed SS-man to work. In an instant three men, codenamed "Lot" (Bronislaw Pietraszewicz), "Kruszynka" (Zdzislaw Poradzki) and "Mis" (Michael Issajewicz), sprang onto the street brandishing submachine guns and efficiently slaughtered Kutschera and his driver. Meanwhile, other members of the team swooped in with getaway vehicles and covering fire for the resulting shootout with surprised German guards. Though all escaped the scene, Lot and another team member both succumbed hours later to their wounds; two additional members of the backup group were trapped escaping across the Kierbedz Bridge and died hurling themselves into the Vistula under a rain of German bullets.

The Reich paid Kutschera tribute in his customary coinage with the mass execution of 300 civilian hostages the next day, but the memory of this dagger to the throat of a national enemy has lived in glory for Poles ever since.

The Black Strawhats reject the Kutsscheras

> ### The Salvation Army Mission Statement
>
> https://www.salvationarmyusa.org/usn/ *
>
> The Salvation Army, an international movement, is an evangelical part of the universal Christian Church. Its message is based on the Bible. Its ministry is motivated by the love of God. Its mission is to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ and to meet human needs in His name without discrimination.

Die heilige Johanna der Schlachthöfe retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Saint Joan of the Stockyards (German: Die heilige Johanna der Schlachthöfe) [utilizing Franz Kutschera and the Von Trapp Singers] is a play written by the German modernist playwright Bertolt Brecht between 1929 and 1931, after the success of his musical The Threepenny Opera and during the period of his radical experimental work with the Lehrstücke. It is based on the musical that he co-authored with Elisabeth Hauptmann, Happy End (1929). In this version of the story of Joan of Arc, Brecht transforms her into "Joan Dark", a member of the "Black Straw Hats" (a Salvation Army-like group) in 20th-century Chicago. The play charts Joan's battle with Pierpont (Perhaps Pier DuPont) Mauler, the unctuous owner of a meat-packing plant. Like her predecessor, Joan is a doomed woman, a martyr and (initially, at least) an innocent in a world of strike-breakers, fat cats, and penniless workers. Like many of Brecht's plays it is laced with humor and songs as part.

Pierre Samuel du Pont was an American entrepreneur, businessman, philanthropist and member of the prominent du Pont family. He was president of DuPont from 1915 to 1919, and served on its board of directors until 1940. Born: January 15, 1870, Wilmington, DE Died: April 4, 1954, Kennett Square, PA Wikipedia

Maria was asked to teach one of the seven children (Maria Franziska) of widowed naval commander Georg von Trapp in 1926, while she was still a schoolteacher at the abbey.[7][10] His wife, Agathe Whitehead, had died in 1922 from scarlet fever.[11] Eventually, Maria began to look after the other children (Rupert, Agathe, Werner, Hedwig, Johanna and Martina), as well.

Maria Agatha Franziska Gobertina von Trapp (28 September 1914 18 February 2014) was the second-oldest daughter of Georg von Trapp and his first wife, Agathe Whitehead von Trapp.[1][2] She was a member of the Trapp Family Singers, whose lives inspired the musical and film The Sound of Music. She was portrayed by Heather Menzies as the character “Louisa”. She died at age 99, and was the last surviving sibling portrayed in the film.

Her siblings were Rupert von Trapp (19111992), Agathe von Trapp (19132010), Werner von Trapp (19152007), Hedwig von Trapp (19171972), Johanna von Trapp (19191994), and Martina von Trapp (19211951). Along with her six siblings, father, and stepmother, Maria Augusta von Trapp, she was part of the Trapp Family Singers, who inspired the 1959 Broadway musical and the 1965 Academy Award-winning Best Picture The Sound of Music. Von Trapp sang second soprano in the choir, together with her sister Martina von Trapp. The family fled Austria after the German annexation of Austria, fearing reprisals resulting from declining to sing at Hitler’s birthday party and Georg von Trapp’s refusal to accept a commission in Nazi Germany’s Kriegsmarine.

Born 1905

Genesis : The playwrites result is the drama 1929 / 30 during the Great Depression . The location is the Union Stock Yards , the slaughterhouses of Chicago . With the drama, Brecht takes up various of his own preparatory work and suggestions from the extensive literature on Joan of Arc and the Salvation Army. In particular, parallels to the work of George Bernard Shaw can be seen . His drama Major Barbara (premiered in 1905) [3] is also about the disillusionment of a member of the Salvation Army. In his play St. Johanna (premiered in 1923) Shaw (like Brecht) “grounds” the Johanna figure idealized by Schiller.

Preliminary work Brecht and Elisabeth Hauptmann Brecht and Elisabeth Hauptmann have been intensively involved with the Salvation Army since 1927 . They wanted to know how the organization came into being, how it was structured, how it worked. To do this, they attended meetings of the Salvation Army and they evaluated publications of the Salvation Army. [4] The book “Figures” by Paul Wiegler , [5] which contains criticism of the Salvation Army’s financial conduct as well as a chapter on Joan of Arc , offered concrete links.

Brecht’s dramatic fragments Jae Fleischhacker in Chicago [7] and The Bread Shop [8] already contain essential motifs from Johanna. So it says in the “bread shop” of the Salvation Army ..

1890 - 1927

Hermann Joseph Muller (December 21, 1890 - April 5, 1967) was an American geneticist, educator, and Nobel laureate best known for his work on the physiological and genetic effects of radiation (mutagenesis), as well as his outspoken political beliefs.[2] Muller frequently warned of long-term dangers of radioactive fallout from nuclear war and nuclear testing, which resulted in greater public scrutiny of these practices.

Rose Elizabeth Fitzgerald Kennedy (July 22, 1890 - January 22, 1995) was an American philanthropist, socialite, and a member of the Kennedy family. She was deeply embedded in the “lace curtain” Irish Catholic community in Boston, where her father John F. Fitzgerald was mayor. Kennedy was the wife of businessman and investor Joseph P. Kennedy Sr., who was United States Ambassador to the United Kingdom, formally known as Ambassador to the Court of St. James’s in the UK. Their nine children included President John F. Kennedy, Senator Robert F. Kennedy, and longtime Senator Ted Kennedy. In 1951 she was ennobled by Pope Pius XII, becoming the sixth American woman to be granted the rank of Papal countess.[1]

During the 1890s the gene seems to have entered the Windsor line through a known woman referenced by Mellville and her descendents in aristocracy seemed to be either selected as non defective or killed.

Franz Kutschera may have lost is sister to assasination and later his daughter Maria to defection to the English Monarcy following the events of 1925.

Future leaders OR surviving FOXP2 families after the British Monarchy of assassinations of family members?

Assasination victims - The Kennedy's. The Donegans. The Kutscheras. The Swartzenegers though for whatever reason stuck with the British.

Shows it	Does Not show it
Prince Albert of York later King George VI	Prince Edward of Wales later King Edward VIII closer to Nazis than Prince Albert
Johanna Kutschera BIRTH unknown DEATH 7 Mar 192 (husband also dies) BURIAL Friedhof Südwest Vienna	Franz Kutschera was an Austrian Nazi politician Born: February 22, 1904, Oberwaltersdorf, Austria adopts Maria, teaches singing as therapy
Maria Kutscherea shows gen	Singing Kutscheara children meets the Whitehead Von Trapp family in Austria
Glorian Donegan and Harold	Others in North Carolina

Donegan	more presentable for singing
Ed Donegan	Tom Donegan
Arnold Schwarzenegger	Meinhard Schwarzenegger
Unless connected, Targeted	, CIA backed Rise to Power
Ed Donegan	Barrack Obama Jr
Neilia and Amy	Biden (bird egg references in family line)

Wemberly Park Gene

The Legal Consequences of Using Real People in Fiction retrieved from copylaw.com and copied or modified to here

Despite the breathing space the First Amendment affords writers, not all libel-in-fiction lawsuits are resolved in favor of the author or their publisher partner. For example, in 2009, in the “Red Hat Club” case, the plaintiff was awarded $100,000 in damages by a Georgia court for a fictional portrayal modeled on her. The “original” claimed that her fictional counterpart, falsely depicted in the bestselling novel as a sexually promiscuous alcoholic who drank on the job, defamed her. From a libel defense perspective, this drawn-from-life portrayal failed, in part, because the author included personal characteristics that made the plaintiff recognizable, and mixed them with other traits that were false and defamatory, but, still believable.

Now back to your question. Are you sure you never identify the real person who inspired your main character? Aside from his name, can he be identified from his ethnicity, appearance, historical or other details found in your book, so that someone who knew him (or knew of him), could identify him as a character in your book? While you may not identify your ex-friend by name, if you haven't completely disguised him, the potential for trouble exists. Is your friend a public official or public figure? If so, he has another hurdle to jump. Unless he can prove by clear and convincing evidence that what you wrote was deliberately or recklessly false, there's a good chance - but no guarantee - you'll be excused from liability under what's known as the "Actual Malice Standard."

Merely changing the name of your friend isn't enough. You might consider transforming him beyond recognition. Why? Courts consider plausibility. A broadly drawn caricature of your friend, which is difficult to reconcile with your ex-friend, can be an effective device to stave off a libel lawsuit. For example, Kim Pring, a former Ms. Wyoming, sued Penthouse over an article that described Ms. Pring's ability to cause men to levitate by performing oral sex. Initially, the Federal District Court found for Miss Pring, awarding her $26.5 million in damages. On appeal, however, the Court of Appeals reversed the decision; holding that no reasonable person could believe that was described was actual facts. Be outrageous. Embrace tastelessness - if done properly it can take the chill out of free speech. [Note the italicized "if"]. If done improperly, and the hypothetical reasonable reader thinks your failed parody conveys actual facts, the First Amendment may not be available to you. "Obvious cues," like levitation or time travel can help telegraph what is First Amendment protected fiction from fact. When it doubt, have the book vetted by a publishing attorney.

Here's a run-down of a few techniques that can minimize the chance of getting sued for libel in fiction: (a) disclaim; (b) disassociate the doppelgänger from its real-life counterpart; (c) depict but do not disparage; and/or (d) wait for the real-life person to die before publishing your novel or story. Important! With regard to option (d), revenge is best served cold at your publication party - preferably with a Sauvignon Blanc, Riesling, or Gewurztraminer.

Disclaimers, while helpful, are by nature, self-serving. While a disclaimer cannot insulate you or your publisher from a libel suit, it may support the defense that identification with the real person in your novel is unreasonable. The words “A Novel” in the subtitle of your book is considered by some attorneys to be the best form of disclaimer. In addition, a full disclaimer should appear on the reverse title page of your novel, or skillfully integrated into the introduction or preface of your book.

Change the physical characteristics of your main character enough to disguise his identity. The risk of being sued is further reduced if your main character is treated as a likable character rather than a vicious and unscrupulous evildoer. While it is very tempting to retaliate against those who have inspired us (or harmed us), if your protagonist isn’t likable, it is even more important to disguise his identity.

Create a Frankenstein monster. Combine or clone several people’s physical traits and biographical facts, so no single person’s actual DNA appears in your book. If the work is not “of or concerning” an identifiable person, you have a complete defense to a libel lawsuit based on fictionalization. Speaking of Frankenstein, the dead cannot be defamed. As such, they make terrible plaintiffs - but excellent targets for vengeful authors. Why? Under U.S. libel law, if the original is dead, s/he can’t sue for libel. If this last suggestion gives you an additional reason to outlive your literary prey, consider it my gift to you. And remember, he who laughs last, laughs best.

Criminal syndicalism retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Criminal syndicalism has been defined as a doctrine of criminal acts for political, industrial, and social change. These criminal acts include advocation of crime, sabotage, violence, and other unlawful methods of terrorism.[1] Criminal syndicalism laws were enacted to oppose economic radicalism.[2]

Idaho legislation defines it as, “the doctrine which advocates crime, sabotage, violence, or other unlawful methods of terrorism as a means of accomplishing industrial or political reform”

> The Syndicate in this book The Medical State alledges a free wheeling and dealing CIA mafia cartel which uses human trafficking in volunatary and non voluntary celebrity genome which is used in Indian like efficiency. The best of experimentation is used on themselves and they will groom secret inter blue blood families especially in Kingdoms and while doing so, out of public view, washout the laundry of genetic variety which is being bred out or fails to keep up the good reputation of the Cabal.
>
> History
>
> Over time the Great Families will use their interconnections to remain a select bred group while bolstering each other in wolrd politics based on what in 21st Century parlance might be termed the Queen Elizibeth II COalition.

Key terms in criminal syndicalism statutes had vague definitions.

Criminal syndicalism became a matter of public attention during and after the World War I period, and has been used to stymie the efforts of radical labor movements

During the 1910s, the public was hostile towards leftist ideologies and deemed social radicalism un-American. Government officials on the state and federal level ordered arrests, imprisonments and killings of people who challenged industrial capitalism or made militant demands under the pre-existing economic structure.

By the year 1933, over 700 convictions of criminal syndicalism were made.[3] Organizations like the American Civil Liberties Union believe laws on criminal syndicalism were aimed to punish doctrines or memberships in unions.

Industrial Workers of the World

Criminal syndicalism laws were enacted to combat the efforts of radical labor unions. The Industrial Workers of the World (IWW) is one such union in particular.[5][6] Defining the labor efforts as criminal allowed for the government to stop the Wobblies' activities and the labor problem of World War I and post World War I altogether. Senator W.G. Walker of Idaho, the nation's first state to enact a criminal syndicalism law, introduced the criminal syndicalism legislation to the Senate with an anti-IWW speech.

The IWW's confrontational rhetoric factored into public concerns.[7] The organization used "sabotages" and military tactics in its invocation of social change.[7] The public assumed the IWW promoted violence and destruction of properties even though the IWW did not share these intentions.[7] The IWW's later attempts at reducing enforcement efforts through distancing itself from this doctrine were unsuccessful.

The IWW's opposition to United States' involvement in World War I was in contrast of public sentiment, leading to an unfavorable public opinion towards the organization.

Patriotic societies alleged that German gold financed IWW operations, and that the organization received support from hostile nations.

The red scare exacerbated public distrust and fear against all radical leftist organizations, including the IWW.[11] Strikes (involving over 4 million workers) across the nation increased negative sentiments against these organizations.[12] Various bombings and bombing plots attributed to radical leftists caused the public to view radical leftist organizations as threats to state security.

While repressions against the IWW through government actions and vigilantism were rampant, the public continued to perceive efforts to suppress the organization as insufficient.

he defense by the IWW's General Defense Committee in the case of Fiske v. Kansas resulted in a critically important 1924 Supreme Court ruling which led to the decline of criminal syndicalism laws as a factor in legislative anti-union initiatives.

A famous legal case was Whitney v. California in which a school in Oakland taught that capitalist countries exploited the worker and social change in the political system could alter the lwas of the USA to work as a socialist collective. Although prosecuted Justices Brandeis and Holmes noted they school had the free speech rights of the United States constitution and Due Process protections of their rights under the US Constitution such that California being Government was not allowed to punish the private speech which established the right of lawful speech and the protections of the US Constitution applicable to all entities of government actors including state governments.

It was precisely this Red Scare which led to cases like Thomas v. Collins, labor speech rights, which J Edgar Hoover and CIA directors feared were subvering the USA to the Communist threat and Justice Felix Frankfurter was one who agreed with Brandies and Homes on these matters, opposing the far right judges at the time.

The Piers DuPont family, Joseph Kennedy Sr, Whitehead/ VOntrapp, George Prescot and other Bush (vanderr something) were huge DOD Contractor millionaires, and the SCOTUS of 1900 - 1950 (jews mostly) were breaking up the Textile child labor exploiters, railroad workers exploiters, rail road overcharging, etc., Anti war pampleteering allowed too, which was likely a problem for lovely little war supporters.

The Office of Scientific Research and Development (OSRD) was an agency of the United States federal government created to coordinate scientific research for military purposes during World War II. Arrangements were made for its creation during May 1941, and it was created formally by Executive Order 8807 on June 28, 1941. It superseded the work of the National Defense Research Committee (NDRC), was given almost unlimited access to funding and resources, and was directed by Vannevar Bush, who reported only to President Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

These were large grants for Kellog Corp, DuPont Corp, universities, and more.

Ghosting War Criminals 33s Psychiatry refuses to recognize, they are not there Movie: Preparations to Be Together for an Unknown Period of Time . Invocations: Screen message time 0:46 10:15 am. Nazis convicted at Nuremburg 10/15/1946 and hanged 10/16/1946.

Preparations to Be Together for an Unknown Period of Time retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Preparations to Be Together for an Unknown Period of Time (Hungarian: Felkészülés meghatározatlan ideig tartó együttlétre) is a 2020 Hungarian drama film directed by Lili Horvát. It was selected as the Hungarian entry for the Best International Feature Film at the 93rd Academy Awards, but it was not nominated.

The film dealt with a patient who could have spinal damage or a brain nerve damage. In JFKs case a stimulant used with ADHD was tried.

A neck and possible GI or nerves problem including Minimal Brain Dysfunction could parallel JFK. 1944 he undergoes spine surgery. 19 years later possible brain exam autopsy. Movie refernce to 19 or 20 years later again working on case.

John F. Kennedy's Chronic Back Pain Conflicts Revealed retrieved from www.spineuniverse.com and copied or modified to here

What treatments did Kennedy receive that were considered modern at the time? Dr. Pait: The treatment that John F. Kennedy received was considered modern for its time. Given his prominent status, he had access to the best hospitals and physicians.

Despite being advised by the Mayo Clinic surgeons (Rochester, MN) not to undergo spine surgery, on June 23, 1944 he underwent surgery at the New England Baptist Hospital (Boston, MA) by a Lahey Clinic neurosurgeon. Like many people today, Kennedy had to weigh his options, including, the risks and benefits of surgery. Young Jack Kennedy's father, Joseph Kennedy Sr, a former U.S. Ambassador to the United Kingdom, told the Lahey Clinic doctors, including Frank Lahey, something had to be done!

Jack Kennedy's pain became intractable, prompting him to undergo surgical intervention. Kennedy underwent an L4-L5 laminotomy and L5-S1 discectomy. Unfortunately, the surgical benefits were short-lived and disappointing. His spine demons continued their mischief.

During Kennedy's time as a Senator, he required near-constant use of crutches. He sought care at the Hospital for Special Surgery (New York, NY) where he received implantation of a metal plate (called a Wilson plate) that was attached along the spinous processes of his vertebrae (the knob-shaped projections on the back of each bone in the spine) in his low back and down onto his sacrum (the triangular bone at the end of the spine). This is an example of early use of instrumentation and spinal fusion.

Unfortunately, the surgery led to infection and removal of the metal implant. Just as today, infections sometimes happen even in the best of hands. Years later, Kennedy developed another spinal infection requiring surgery.

Later in life, Kennedy was treated by the notable physician Janet Travell, MD, who developed a technique for trigger point injections using procaine (an anesthetic that numbs the area and reduces pain). Dr. Travell became the first female White House physician. These trigger point injections and a muscle-strengthening program led to a period of improvement in Kennedy's back pain and functioning.

Later in 1960, campaigning for the presidency took its toll on Kennedy. At this time, he met with Max Jacobson, MD, also known as Dr. Feelgood, who injected him on many occasions with a concoction that included amphetamines. In fact, Dr. Jacobson injected Kennedy before the first presidential debate with Richard Nixon. Amphetamines have many side effects, including mood swings and impaired judgement, that some believe may have affected Kennedy's performance at the debate. However, physically, he looked much better than Nixon, which was important for this first ever televised presidential debate.

Natasa Stork the woman returning to Vienna may be Janet G. Travell who treated JFK and thought Brain Nerve not degenerated discs

- GOd of Carnage: Yasmin Reza's father was a Russian-born Bukharan Jewish engineer, businessman, and pianist and her mother was a Jewish Hungarian violinist from Budapest. During the Nazi occupation, her father was deported from Nice to Drancy internment camp. At the beginning of her career, Reza acted in several new plays as well as in plays by Molière and Marivaux.

- December 12, 2012 Story behind the JFK Santa Monica photo. Eva Ban husband Alexander Ban wed Eva Charlotte Boross (born November 18 1919, He married Agnes Edith Juhász (born 11/18/1909 in Budapest, Hungary)

- Sidney Gottlieb (August 3, 1918 - March 7, 1999) CIA Speech Biologist and TSS OSS Assasinations. Gottlieb was born to Hungarian Jewish immigrant parents Fanny and Louis Gottlieb in the Bronx on August 3, 1918. A stutterer since childhood, he earned a master's degree in speech therapy from San Jose State University after retiring from the CIA. He was born with a club foot, which got him rejected from military service in World War II but did not prevent his pursuit of folk dancing, a lifelong passion. Was he the 4f Jewish non entrant into WWII who could make Captain America super soldiers by serum?

- Goerge Soros

- Many others and it seems the speech research was based in Budapest per the film Preparations to Be Together for an Unknown Period of Time with Natasha Stork which seems to have recently deceased JFK as the post mortem patient.

-

EFP (European Film Promotion) *

[image]

Natasa Stork, born in Budapest, has spent her acting career with one foot firmly placed in the theater world and one in film. After completing her studies at the University of Theatre and Film in 2008, she joined the Hungarian National Theatre Company. During her two years with the classical theater company, she continued to act in independent, experimental work both on stage and screen. In 2010, Natasa was granted a one-year EU Scholarship to study dance in Amsterdam, another of her passions. She followed this up with performances on stage for innovative companies such as Krétako¨r led by Árpád Schilling and Kornél Mundruczó's Proton Theater as well as in international theater projects including ONE LAND MANY FACES (Carreau Du Tample, Paris, 2015), THE IMPOSSIBLE VASTNESS (Hamburg, 2017), and DIE UNSCHEINBAREN (Luzerner Theater, Luzern, 2019). Parrallel to her on-going theatre work, Natasa was cast in HEAVENLY SHIFT (by Márk Bodzsár, 2013) which was awarded Best Film at the International Film Festival Porto and in 2014, in WHITE GOD (by Kornél Mundruczó) which won the main prize in Un Certain Regard that same year. In 2020, she was cast in her first leading role in a feature film, Lili Horvát's PREPARATIONS TO BE TOGETHER FOR AN UNKNOWN PERIOD OF TIME. The film has won top awards at several international film festivals and her performance received Best Actress awards at the Antalya Golden Orange Film Festival, the Les Arcs Film Festival and the Valladolid International Film Festival.

Janet G. Travell retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

[image]

Janet Graeme Travell (December 17, 1901 - August 1, 1997) was an American physician and medical researcher.

She was born in 1901 to John Willard and Janet Eliza (Davidson) Travell. Heavily influenced by her father's profession of physician, Travell made the decision to pursue a career in the medical field. In June 1929, in New York City, Janet married John William Gordon Powell, who was an investment counselor. They had two daughters-Janet and Virginia. At the age of 95, Travell died of heart failure at her home in Northampton, Massachusetts.

She is remembered as President John F. Kennedy's personal physician and a researcher of the concept of trigger points as a cause of musculoskeletal referred pain.

Fleur-de-lis Fleur de lis French Saints New Orleans I conflate with the song Beethoven - Für Elise . Do others?

> "Für Elise" just means "For Elise" in German.
>
> Well that's the official story …look into who this Elise was. Very unconclusive. Could have easily been referring to the fleur de lis. Which holds great meaning to the natural world *.

Liberty Bridge Budapest connects the Castles of Budha and Eastern Budapest area.

Dr of Psychiatry disavows knowing his former patient, now a ghost, and writes book on it at presser November 20 2019. Looks like some other numerology in there.

Its 38 point 2 degrees. BARONESS AND THE BUTLER, THE (1938) - (MOVIE CLIP) THE RESULTS FROM BUDAPEST As Hungary's Prime Minister (Henry Stephenson) dines with his wife (Helen Westley), son-in-law (Joseph Schildkraut) and daughter (Annabella), butler Johann (William Powell) has a secret revealed, in The Baroness And The Butler, 1938.

Helen is the mother of the protagonist of the movie, the female unwelcome to return to Bhudapst and is a ghost to others. She is in apartment 109. She is concerned the kids will be sold off.

At 42 minutes in the book I don't know if that has meaning Dr Janos Drexler recieving compliments on his literature but factual book explains about ghosting and as a Doctor he must be abstract rather than too factual for privacy reasons (about Presidents of the USA?). Further Reading

At 1 hour, its finest hour, lots of talk of wanting more 604s (music) for the lady, I think June 4 commonwealths for England.

At 1 hour 3 minutes these numerals. 0620 382 6683 California SSN block 620? Kansas Home Renovators?

At 1 hour the woman from the too harsh analytical side of Liberty Bridge will agree to join the other side and help. Perhaps all will help in selecting targets for bombing inside Central Europe far from view of Windsor Castle.

The vestibulocochlear nerve (auditory vestibular nerve), known as the eighth cranial nerve, transmits sound and equilibrium (balance) information from the inner ear to the brain. Through olivocochlear fibers of Nerve VII, it also transmits motor and modulatory information from the superior olivary complex in the brainstem to the cochlea. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

The front cover is a daytime shot, while the back cover was taken at night. Amongst the tenants who can be seen through the die-cut windows are JFK assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, astronaut Neil Armstrong, Elizabeth Taylor as Cleopatra, King Kong, the Virgin Mary, Judy Garland and the main cast of The Wizard of Oz, members of Led Zeppelin in drag, their infamous manager Peter Grant, body builder Charles Atlas, the Queen and Laurel & Hardy. The inner sleeve could be combined in a number of ways to make different covers, and there was an inner sleeve designed by Mike Doud with all the song titles that saw the title written out on closed window shades:

A few looks deeper into these figures

Elizabeth Taylor

Dame Elizabeth Rosemond Taylor DBE (February 27, 1932 - March 23, 2011) was a British-American actress. She began her career as a child actress in the early 1940s and was one of the most popular stars of classical Hollywood cinema in the 1950s. She then became the highest paid movie star in the 1960s, remaining a well-known public figure for the rest of her life. In 1999, the American Film Institute named her the seventh-greatest female screen legend of Classic Hollywood cinema. Born in London to socially prominent American parents, Taylor moved with her family to Los Angeles in 1939.

During the production of the film Cleopatra in 1961, Taylor and co-star Richard Burton began an extramarital affair, which caused a scandal.

Cleopatra was Queen of the Ptolemaic Kingdom of Egypt, and its last active ruler. A member of the Ptolemaic dynasty, she was a descendant of its founder Ptolemy I Soter, a Macedonian Greek general and companion of Alexander the Great.

King Kong

King Kong is a fictional giant monster resembling a gorilla, who has appeared in various media since 1933. He has been dubbed The Eighth Wonder of the World, a phrase commonly used within the films. His first appearance was in the novelization of the 1933 film King Kong from RKO Pictures, with the film premiering a little over two months later. Upon its initial release and subsequent re-releases, the film received universal acclaim.

The King Kong character was conceived and created by American filmmaker Merian C. Cooper. In the original film, the character's name is Kong, a name given to him by the inhabitants of the fictional "Skull Island" in the Indian Ocean, where Kong lives along with other oversized animals, such as plesiosaurs, pterosaurs and various dinosaurs. An American film crew, led by Carl Denham, captures Kong and takes him to New York City to be exhibited as the "Eighth Wonder of the World".

Kong escapes and climbs the Empire State Building, only to fall from the skyscraper after being attacked by airplanes with guns. Denham comments "it wasn't the airplanes, It was beauty killed the beast", for he climbs the building in the first place only in an attempt to protect Ann Darrow, an actress originally kidnapped by the natives of the island and offered up to Kong as a sacrifice (in the 1976 remake, her character is named "Dwan").

Oh, let the sun beat down upon my face And stars fill my dream I'm a traveler of both time and space To be where I have been To sit with elders of the gentle race

> This world has seldom seen They talk of days for which they sit and wait All will be revealed Talk in song from tongues of lilting grace Sounds caress my ear And not a word I heard could I relate The story was quite clear Oh, baby, I been blind Oh, yeah, mama, there ain't no denyin' Oh, ooh yes, I been blind Mama, mama, ain't no denyin', no denyin' All I see turns to brown As the sun burns the ground And my eyes fill with sand As I scan this wasted land Try to find, try to find the way I feel Oh, pilot of the storm who leaves no trace Like sorts inside a dream Leave the path that led me to that place Yellow desert stream My shangri la beneath the summer moon I will return again As the dust that floats high in June We're moving through Kashmir

[image]

Bedtime for Bonzo is a 1951 American comedy film directed by Fred de Cordova, starring Ronald Reagan, Diana Lynn, and Peggy as Bonzo.[4] It revolves around the attempts of the central character, psychology professor Peter Boyd (Reagan), to teach human morals to a chimpanzee, hoping to solve the "Nature versus Nurture" question. He hires a woman, Jane Linden (Lynn), to pose as the chimpanzee's mother while he plays father to it, and uses 1950s-era child rearing techniques.

- Ronald Wilson Reagan (February 6, 1911 - June 5, 2004)
- Diana Marie Lynn (born Dolores Eartha Loehr, July 5, 1926] - December 18, 1971) was an American actress.

Bigelow soon developed the script with husband James Cameron, and filming took place four years later.

Point Break retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

[image]

Former Ohio State quarterback and rookie FBI agent Johnny Utah (Mormons?)(Keanu Reeves) assists experienced agent Angelo Pappas (Gary Busey) in investigating a string of bank robberies by the “Ex-Presidents”: a gang of robbers who wear rubber masks of Ronald Reagan, Jimmy Carter, Richard Nixon and Lyndon B. Johnson.

- Bodhi ‘Bodhisattva:Bodhi (Patrick Swayze): the charismatic leader of a gang of surfers and Bank Robbers certain ex-Presidents

- FBI Agent Johnny Utah and FBI Agent Angelo Pappas: Keanu Reeves and Gary Busey

- Tyler Ann Endicott: Lori Petty

- Surfer Gang operationg as endless summer bank robbers out of LA at times : Ensemble cast

Rather than robbing the vault, they only demand the cash the tellers have in their drawers, and are gone within ninety seconds.

Point Break is the outer point of a land mass a wave approaches and begins to curl at.

Bohdi forsees something big happening in a point every 50 years and expects a Coming of some type, some wave.

Their paths (bank robber Bohdi and and FBI Agent Utah cross through Tyler. Wax is detected forensically from the bank robberies and swim trunks tan lines lead to a surfers culture infiltration. While buying Sex Wax and a surf board Utah meets Tyler. Oddly a Lori Petti similar child is working the store selling the surf equipment and what does a 50 year outlook hold, into the 21st Century?

Johny Utah tracks Bodhi to Bells Beach in Victoria Australia (a Commonwealth) where a record storm is producing lethal waves. This is an event Bodhi had talked about experiencing, calling it the [prophesied] “50-Year Storm”.

Chronoflection

- 33 Minutes : Robbers/Surfers confront Cop who wanderec waves. Do locales cite their sovereignty over their land? No juts “fuck up” cop

- Finest Hour : Ghost Riders. Ghosts are surfering, riding th etheral music play Tyler tell Johny it looks like he has just

- Bohdi “We have been able to hit 30 banks in 3 years and t been able to touch us." Does that make more sense in 1991 from 1961 and 3 DNA Banks?

Bodhisattva might be taken for several figures, Jim Jones Disciples of Christ or Adolph Hitler seer-visionary Savitri Devi Born as Maximiani Julia Portas.

"Savitri Devi: The mystical fascist being resurrected by the alt-right - BBC"

Portas studied philosophy and chemistry, earning two master's degrees and a Ph.D. in philosophy from the University of Lyon.[3] She next traveled to Greece, and surveyed the legendary ruins. Here, she became familiar with Heinrich Schliemann's discovery of swastikas in Anatolia. Her conclusion was that Ancient Greeks were Aryan in origin. Her first two books were her doctoral dissertations: Essai-critique sur Théophile Kaïris (Critical Essay on Theophilos Kairis) (Lyon: Maximine Portas, 1935) and La simplicité mathématique (Mathematical Simplicity) (Lyon: Maximine Portas, 1935).

Savitri Devi Mukherji[a] (born Maximiani Julia Portas, French: [mak.si.mja.ni pɔʁ.tɑ]; 30 September 1905 - 22 October 1982) was a French-born Greek fascist, Nazi sympathizer, and spy who served the Axis powers by committing acts of espionage against the Allied forces in India. She was later a leading member of the Neo-Nazi underground during the 1960s.

Savitri was a proponent of a synthesis of Hinduism and Nazism, proclaiming Adolf Hitler to have been an avatar of the Hindu god Vishnu.[5] She depicted Hitler as a sacrifice for humanity that would lead to the end of the worst World Age, the Kali Yuga, which she believed was induced by the Jews, whom she saw as the powers of evil.

Her writings have influenced neo-Nazism and Nazi occultism. Rejecting Judaism and Christianity, she believed in a form of pantheistic monism; a single cosmos of nature composed of divine energy-matter.[7] Within neo-Nazism, she promoted occultism, ecology,[8] and the New Age movement, and more contemporaneously, she has influenced the alt-right.[9] She also influenced the Chilean diplomat Miguel Serrano. In 1982, Franco Freda published a German translation of her work Gold in the Furnace, and the fourth volume of his annual review, Risguardo (1980-), was devoted to Savitri Devi as the "missionary of Aryan Paganism".

Rick King is an American director and screenwriter notable for co-writing the story to the 1991 film Point Break[1][2] and its 2015 remake

---

Amazon's Still Selling Lots of Nazi Books retrieved from the Daily Beast and copied or modified to here sophisticated fascists will enjoy the many books by the French New Right, a major influence on America's alt right. Guillaume Faye's author page features not only his books but also direct links to the website of Arktos, his publisher, which the SPLC describes as "one of the foremost publishers of identitarian literature." This isn't an isolated example; other author pages link to Arktos and similar sites like American Renaissance.

The French New Right influenced Richard Spencer in particular, and Amazon continues to sell at least one of his books, The Uprooting of European Identity.

Authors named in past exposés remain on the platform. While some of white nationalist Greg Johnson's books were removed after ProPublica reported on the "unprecedented access to a mass audience" Amazon has provided white supremacists, his White Identity Politics is still available.

Antifascist researcher Shane Burley describes the book as Johnson's attempt to synthesize "his key white nationalist ideas into an easily digestible, yet incredibly sanitized, form." The description to another Johnson book cuts to the chase about how it "offers a basic introduction to White Nationalism."

This book

Misfits 1961

Gable suffered a heart attack two days after filming ended and died ten days later on November 16, 1960. Monroe and Clift attended the premiere in New York in February 1961, while Arthur Miller attended with his two children. Monroe later said that she hated the film and her performance in it. Within a year and a half, she was dead of an apparent drug overdose. The Misfits was the last completed film for both Monroe and Gable, her childhood screen idol. In her last interview, Monroe, who never knew her father, said she often fantasized that Gable was her father. Montgomery Clift died five years later, and made only three more movies.

Despite on-set difficulties, Gable, Monroe, Clift and Wallach delivered performances that modern critics consider superb. Many critics regard Gable's performance as his finest, and Gable, after seeing the rough cuts, agreed. Monroe received the 1961 Golden Globe Award as "World Film Favorite" in March 1962, five months before her death. Huston was nominated for the Directors Guild of America Award for Outstanding Directing - Feature Film. In 2005, the film was nominated by the American Film Institute in the AFI's 100 Years of Film Scores list.

With Marilyn Monroe's marriage to Misfit author Arthur Miller troubled, Marilyn Monroe was drinking too much after work and using prescription drugs.

Spouses- James Dougherty (m. 1942; div. 1946) Joe DiMaggio (m. 1954; div. 1955) Arthur Miller (m. 1956; div. 1961)

The Prince and the Showgirl (originally titled The Sleeping Prince) is a 1957 British romantic comedy film starring Marilyn Monroe and Laurence Olivier, who also served as director and producer. The screenplay written by Terence Rattigan was based on his 1953 stage play The Sleeping Prince. The Prince and the Showgirl was filmed at Pinewood Studios in Buckinghamshire. In London in June 1911, George V will be crowned king on 22 June and in the preceding days, many important dignitaries arrive, including the 16-year-old King Nicholas VIII of the (fictional) Balkan country of Carpathia

Edward Paul Donegan asserts an inside Holllywood secret is King George VI (Prince ALbert of York) in their terms issued USA offspring Marilyn Monroe Norma Jean, Julie Andrews, and Glorian Donegan via Maria Kutschera and Jospeph Kennedy Sr British Emabassord and FDR helped these daughters Kings Daughters into the USA staring with Dean Rusk 1925 1926 in North Carolina.

The Misfits by Wikipeida In Reno, Nevada, 30-year-old Roslyn Tabor files for a quickie six-week residency divorce from her inattentive husband, Raymond. Afterward, Roslyn's landlady Isabelle takes her to a cocktail lounge at Harrah's for drinks. At Harrah's they meet an aging cowboy named Gaylord Langland, and his tow truck driver best friend, Guido. The friendly Guido tells Roslyn and Isabelle about his unfinished house in the country by Pyramid Lake. Later that day, the group drives out to the unfinished house Guido has built for his late wife. After drinking and dancing, Roslyn has had too much to drink, so Gaylord drives her home to Reno (and a small clique forms)

FICTION, THE MISFITS

Chicken feed: the last frontier of the quixotic cowboy

OCTOBER 1 1957 ARTHUR MILLER Illustrations by EUGENE KARLIN

WIND blew down from the mountains for two nights, pinning them to their little camp on the desert floor. Around the fire on the grand plateau between the two mountain ranges, they were the only moving things. But awakening now with the first pink of dawn they heard the hush of a windless morning. Quickly the sky flared with true dawn like damp paper catching fire, and the shroud of darkness slipped off the little plane and the truck standing a few yards away.

As soon as they had eaten breakfast they took their accustomed positions. Perce Howland went to the tail, ready to unlash the ropes, Gay Langland stood near the propeller, and both watched the pilot, Guido Racanelli, loading his shotgun pistol and stowing it under the seat in the cockpit. He looked thoughtful, even troubled, zipping up the front of his ripped leather jacket. “Sumbitch valve is rattling,” he complained.

“It’s better than wages, Guido,” Perce called from the tail.

“Hell it is if I get flattened up there,” Guido said.

“You know them canyons,” Gay Langland said.

“Gay, it don’t mean a damn thing what the wind does down here. Up there’s where it counts.” He thumbed toward the mountains behind them. “I’m ten feet from rocks at the bottom of a dive; the wind smacks you down then and you never pull up again.”

They saw he was serious so they said nothing. Guido stood still for a moment, studying the peaks in the distance, his hard, melon cheeks browned by wind, the white goggle marks around his eyes turning him into some fat jungle bird. At last he said, “Oh, hell with it. We’ll get the sumbitches.” He climbed into the cockpit calling to Gay, “Turn her over!”

Perce Howland quickly freed the tail and then the wing tips and Gay hurried to the propeller, swung the blade down and hopped back. A puff of white smoke floated up from the engine ports.

“Goddam car gas,” Guido muttered. They were buying low octane to save money. Then he called, “Go again, Gay-boy; ignition on!” Gay reached up and pulled the propeller down and jumped back. The engine said its “Chaahh!” and the fuselage shuddered and the propeller turned into a wheel in the golden air. The little, stiff-backed plane tumbled toward the open desert, bumping along over the sage clumps and crunching whitened skeletons of winter-killed cattle, growing smaller as it shouldered its way over the broken ground, until its nose turned upward and space opened between the doughnut tires and the desert, and it turned and flew back over the heads of Gay and Perce. Guido waved down, a stranger now, fiercely goggled and wrapped in leather. The plane flew away, losing itself against the orange and purple mountains which vaulted from the desert to hide from the cowboys’ eyes the wild animals they wanted for themselves.

They had at least two hours before the plane would fly out of the mountains, driving the horses before it, so they washed the plates and the cups and stored them in the aluminum grub box. If Guido did find horses, they would break camp and return to Bowie tonight, so they packed up their bedrolls with sailors’ tidiness and laid them neatly side by side on the ground. Six great truck tires, each with a rope coiled within, lay on the open truck bed. Gay Langland looked them over and touched them with his hand, trying to think if there was anything they were leaving behind. Serious as he was he looked a little amused, even slightly surprised. He was forty-six years old but his ears still stuck out like a little boy's and his hair lay in swirls from the pressure of his hat. After two days and nights of lying around he was eager to be going and doing and he savored the pleasurable delay of this final inspection.

Perce Howland watched, his face dreamy and soft with his early-morning somnambulist's stare. He stood and moved, bent over the tires and straightened himself as effortlessly as wheat, as though he had been created full-grown and dressed as he now was, hipless and twenty-two, in his snug dungarees and tight plaid shirt and broad-brimmed hat pushed back on his blond head. Now Gay got into the cab and started the engine and Perce slid into the seat beside him. A thin border collie leaped in after him. "You nearly forgot Belle," he said to Gay. The dog snuggled down behind Gay's feet and they started off.

Thirty miles ahead stood the lava mountains which were the northern border of this desert, the bed of a bowl seven thousand feet in the air, a place no one ever saw excepting a few cowboys searching for strays. People in Bowie, sixty miles away, did not know of this place.

Now that they were on the move, following the two-track trail through the sage, they felt between them the comfort of purpose and their isolation. It was getting warm now. Perce slumped in his seat, blinking as though he would go to sleep, and the older man smoked a cigarette and let his body flow from side to side with the pitching of the truck. There was a moving cloud of dust in the distance, and Gay said, "Antelope," and Perce tipped his hat back and looked. "Must be doin' sixty," he said, and Gay said, "More."

After a while Perce said, "We better get over to Largo by tomorrow if we're gonna get into that rodeo. They's gonna be a crowd trying to sign up for that one."

"We'll drive down in the morning," Gay said.

"Like to win some money. I just wish I get me a good horse down there."

"They be glad to fix you up. You're known pretty good around here now."

Perce tucked his thumbs into his belt so his fingers could touch his prize, the engraved belt buckle with his name spelled out under the raised figure of the bucking horse. He had been coming down from Nevada since he was sixteen, picking up money at the local rodeos, but this trip had been different. Sometime, somewhere in the past weeks, he had lost the desire to go back home.

They rode in silence. Gay had to hold the gearshift lever in high or it would slip out into neutral when they hit a bump. The transmission fork was worn out, he knew, and the front tires were going, too. He dropped one hand to his pants pocket and felt the four silver dollars he had left from the ten Roslyn had given him.

As though he had read Gay's mind, Perce said, "Roslyn would've liked it up here. She'd liked to have seen that antelope, I bet."

Through the corner of his eye Gay watched the younger man, who was looking ahead with a little grin on his face. "Yeah. She's a damned good sport, old Roslyn." He watched Perce for any sign of guile.

"Only educated women I ever knew before was back home near Teachers College," Perce said. "I was learning them to ride for awhile, and I used to think, hell, education's everything. But when I saw the husbands they got married to, why I don't give them much credit.

And they just as soon climb on a man as tell him good morning."

"Just because a woman's educated don't mean much. Woman's a woman," Gay said. The image of his wife came into his mind. For a moment he wondered if she was still living with the same man.

"You divorced?" Perce asked.

"No. I never bothered with it," Gay said. It surprised him how Perce said just what was on his mind sometimes. "How'd you know I was thinking of that?" he asked, grinning with embarrassment.

"Hell, I didn't know," Perce said.

"You're always doin' that. I think of somethin' and you say it."

"That's funny," Perce said.

They rode on in silence. They were nearing the middle of the desert where they would turn east. Gay was driving faster now, holding onto the gearshift lever to keep it from springing into neutral. The time was coming soon when he would need about fifty dollars or sell the truck, because it would be useless without repairs. Without a truck and without a horse he would be down to what was in his pocket.

Perce spoke out of the silence. "If I don't win Saturday I'm gonna have to do something for money."

"Goddam, you always say what's in my mind."

Perce laughed. His face looked very young and pink. "Why?"

“I was just now thinkin’,” Gay said, “what I’m gonna do for money.”

“Well, Roslyn give you some,” Perce said.

He said it innocently, and Gay knew it was innocent, and yet he felt angry blood moving into his neck. Something had happened in these five weeks since he’d met Perce and let him come home to Roslyn’s house to sleep, and Gay did not know for sure what it was. Roslyn had taken to calling Perce cute, and now and again she would bend over and kiss him on the back of the neck when he was sitting in the living-room chair, drinking with them.

Not that that meant anything in itself because he’d known eastern women before, and it was just their way. What he wondered at was Perce’s hardly noticing what she did to him. Sometimes it was like he’d already had her and could ignore her the way a man will who knows he’s boss. Gay sensed the bottom of his life falling if it turned out Roslyn had really been loving this boy beside him. It had happened to him once before, but this frightened him even more and he did not know exactly why. Not that he couldn’t do without her. There wasn’t anybody or anything he couldn’t do without. He had been all his life like Perce Howland, a man moving on or ready to. Only when he had discovered his wife with a stranger in a parked car did he understand he had never had a stake to which he’d been pleasantly tethered.

He had not seen her or his children for years, and only rarely thought about any of them. Any more than his father had thought of him very much after the day he had gotten on his pony, when he was fourteen, to go to town from the ranch, and had kept going into Montana and stayed there for three years. He lived in his country and his father did and it was the same endless range wherever he went and it connected him sufficiently with his father and his wife and his children. All might turn up sometime in some town or at some rodeo where he might happen to look over his shoulder and see his daughter or one of his sons, or they might never turn up. He had neither left anyone nor not-left as long as they were all alive on these ranges, for everything here was always beyond the furthest shot of vision and far away, and mostly he had worked alone or with one or two men between distant mountains anyway.

He drove steadily across the grand plateau, and he felt he was going to be afraid. He was not afraid now, but something new was opening up inside him. He had somehow passed the kidding point: he had to work again and earn his way as he always had before he met Roslyn. Not that he didn't work for her, but it wasn't the same. Driving her car, repairing her house, running errands wasn't what you'd call work. Still it was too. Yet it wasn't either. He grew tired of thinking about it.

In the distance now he could see the shimmering wall of heat rising from the clay flatland they wanted to get to-a beige waste as bare and hard as pavement, a prehistoric lake bed thirty miles long by seventeen miles wide couched between two mountain ranges, where a man might drive a car at a hundred miles an hour with his hands off the wheel and never hit anything at all.

WHEN they had rolled a few hundred yards onto the clay lake bed, Gay pulled up and shut off the engine. The air was still, in a dead, sunlit silence. Opening his door, he could hear a squeak in the hinge he had never noticed before. When they walked around out here they could hear their shirts rasping against their backs and the brush of a sleeve against their trousers. They looked back toward the mountains at whose feet they had camped and scanned the ridges for Guido's plane.

Perce Howland said, "I sure hope they's five up in there.”

“Guido spotted five last week, he said.”

“He said he wasn’t sure if one wasn’t only a colt.”

Gay let himself keep silence. He felt he was going to argue with Perce. “How long you think you’ll be stayin’ around here?” he asked.

“Don’t know,” Perce said, and spat over the side of the truck. “I’m gettin’ a little tired of this, though.”

“Well, it’s better than wages.”

“Hell, yes. Anything’s better than wages.”

Gay’s eyes crinkled. “You’re a real misfit, boy.”

“That suits me fine,” Perce said. They often had this conversation and savored it. “Better than workin’ for some goddam cow outfit buckarooin’ so somebody else can buy gas for his Cadillac.”

“Damn right,” Gay said.

“Hell, Gay, you are the most misfitted man I ever saw and you done all right.”

“I got no complaints,” Gay said.

“I don’t want nothin’ and I don’t want to want nothin’.”

“That’s the way, boy.”

Gay felt closer to him again and he was glad for it. He kept his eyes on the ridges far away. The sun felt good on his shoulders. “I think he’s havin’ trouble with them sumbitches up in there.”

Perce stared out at the ridges. “Ain’t two hours yet.” Then he turned to Gay. “These mountains must be cleaned out by now, ain’t they.”

“Just about,” Gay said. “Just a couple small herds left.”

“What you goin’ to do when you got these cleaned out?”

“Might go north, I think. Supposed to be some big herds in around Thighbone Mountain and that range up in there.”

“How far’s that?”

“North about a hundred miles. If I can get Guido interested.”

Perce smiled. “He don’t like movin’ around much, does he?”

“He’s just misfitted like us,” Gay said. “He don’t want nothin’.” Then he added, “They wanted him for an airline pilot flyin’ up into Montana and back. Good pay too.”

“Wouldn’t do it, huh?”

“Not Guido,” Gay said, grinning. “Might not like some of the passengers, he told them.”

Both men laughed and Perce shook his head in tickled admiration for Guido. Then he said, “They wanted me take over the riding academy up home. Just stand around and see the customers get satisfied and put them girls off and on.”

He fell silent. Gay knew the rest. It was the same story. It brought him closer to Perce and it was what he had liked about him in the first place. He had come on Perce in a bar where the boy was buying drinks for everybody with his rodeo winnings, and his hair still clotted with blood from a bucking horse's kick an hour earlier. Roslyn had offered to get a doctor for him and he had said, "Thank you, kindly. But if you're bad hurt you gonna die and the doctor can't do nothin', and if you ain't bad hurt you get better anyway without no doctor."

Now it suddenly came upon Gay that Perce must have known Roslyn before they had met in the bar. He stared at the boy's straight profile. "Want to come up north with me if I go?" he asked.

Perce thought a moment. "Think I'll stay around here. Not much rodeoin' up north."

"I might find a pilot up there if Guido won't come. And Roslyn drive us up in her car."

Perce turned to him, a little surprised. "Would she go up there?"

"Sure. She's a damn good sport," Gay said. He watched Perce's eyes, which had turned interested and warm.

Perce said, "Well, maybe; except to tell you the truth, Gay, I never feel comfortable takin' these horses."

"Somebody's goin' to take them if we don't."

"I know," Perce said. He turned to watch the far ridges again. "Just seems to me they belong up there."

"They ain't doin' nothin' up there but eatin' out good cattle range. The cow outfits shoot them down if they see them."

“I know,” Perce said.

There was silence. Neither bug nor lizard nor rabbit moved on the great basin around them. Gay said, “I’d a soon sell them for riding horses, but they ain’t big enough. And the freight’s more than they’re worth. You saw them-they ain’t nothin’ but skinny horses.”

“I just don’t know if I’d want to see like a hundred of them goin’ for chicken feed, though. I don’t mind like five or six, but a hundred’s a lot of horses. I don’t know.”

Gay thought. “Well, if it ain’t this it’s wages. Around here anyway.” He was speaking of himself and explaining himself.

They heard the shotgun off in the sky somewhere and they stopped moving. Gay slid out of the tire in which he had been lounging and off the truck. He went to the cab and brought out a pair of binoculars, blew dust off the lenses, mounted the truck and, with his elbows propped on his knees, he focused on the far mountains.

“See anything?” Perce asked.

“He’s still in the pass, I guess,” Gay said.

They sat still, watching the empty sky over the pass. The sun was making them perspire now and Gay wiped his wet eyebrows with the back of one hand. They heard the shotgun again. Gay spoke without lowering the glasses: “He’s probably blasting them out of some corner.”

“I see him,” Perce said quickly. “I see him glintin’, I see the plane.”

It angered Gay that Perce had seen it first without glasses. In the glasses Gay could see the plane clearly now. The plane was flying out of the pass, circling back and disappearing into the pass again. “He’s got them in the pass now. Just goin’ back in for them.”

Now Gay could see moving specks on the ground where the pass opened onto the desert table. “I see them,” he said. “One, two, three, four. Four and a colt.”

“We gonna take the colt?” Perce asked.

“Hell, can’t take the mare without the colt.”

Gay handed him the glasses. “Take a look.”

Gay went forward to the cab and opened its door. His dog lay shivering on the floor under the pedals. He snapped his fingers and she leaped down to the ground and stood there, quivering as though the ground had hidden explosives everywhere. He climbed back onto the truck and sat on a tire beside Perce, who was looking through the glasses.

“He’s divin’ down on them. God, they sure can run.”

“Let’s have a look,” Gay said.

The plane was dropping down from the arc of its climb and as the roaring motor flew over them they lifted their heads and galloped faster. They had been running now for over an hour and would slow down when the plane had to climb after a dive and the motor’s noise grew quieter. As Guido climbed again Gay and Perce heard a shot, distant and harmless, and the shot sped the horses on as the plane took time to climb, bank and turn. Then as the horses slowed to a trot the plane dived down over their backs again and their heads shot up and they galloped until the engine’s roar receded. The sky was clear and lightly blue and only the little plane swung back and forth across the desert like the glinting tip of a magic wand, and the horses came on toward the vast striped clay bed where the truck was parked, and at its edge they halted.

The two men waited for the horses to reach the edge of the lake bed when Guido would land the plane and they would take off with the truck.

“They see the heat waves,” Gay said, looking through the glasses. The plane dived down on them and they scattered but would not go forward onto the unknowable territory from the cooler, sage-dotted desert behind them. The men on the truck heard the shotgun again. Now the horses broke their formation and leaped onto the lake bed, all heading in different directions, but only trotting, exploring the ground under their feet and the strange, superheated air in their nostrils. Gradually, as the plane wound around the sky to dive again, the horses closed ranks and slowly galloped shoulder to shoulder out onto the borderless waste, the colt a length behind with its nose nearly touching the mare’s long tail.

“That’s a big mare,” Perce said. His eyes were still dreamy and his face was calm, but his skin had reddened.

“She’s a bigger mare than usual up there, ya,” Gay said. Both men knew the mustang herds lived in total isolation and that inbreeding had reduced them to the size of large ponies. The herd swerved now and they could see the stallion. He was smaller than the mare, but still larger than any they had brought down before. The other two horses were small, the way mustangs ought to be.

The plane was hurrying down for a landing now. Gay and Perce Howland got to their feet and each reached into a tire behind him and drew out a coil of rope whose ends hung in a loop. They glanced out and saw Guido taxiing toward them and they strapped themselves to stanchions sticking up from the truck bed and stood waiting for him. He cut the engine twenty yards away and leaped out of the open cockpit before the plane had halted, its right wing tilted down, as always, because of the weak starboard shock absorber. He trotted over to the truck, lifting his goggles off and stuffing them into his torn jacket pocket. His face was puffed with preoccupation. He jumped into the cab of the truck and the collie dog jumped in after him and sat on the floor, quivering. He started the truck and they roared across the flat clay.

The herd was standing still in a small clot of dots more than two miles off. The truck rolled smoothly past sixty. Gay on the right front corner of the truck bed and Perce on the left pulled their hats down to their eyebrows against the rush of air and hefted the looped ropes which the wind was threatening to coil and foul in their palms. Guido knew that Gay was a good roper and that Perce was unsure, so he headed for the herd's left in order to come up to them on Gay's side of the truck if he could. This whole method of mustanging-the truck, the tires attached to ropes and the plane-was his idea, and once again he felt the joy of having thought of it all. It had awakened him to life after a year's hibernation. His wife dying in childbirth had been like a gigantic and insane ocean wave rising out of a calm sea, and it had left him stranded in his cousin's house in Bowie, suddenly a bachelor after eleven married years. Only this had broken the silence of the world for him, this roaring across the lake bed with his left boot ready over the brake pedal should the truck start to overturn on a sudden swerve.

The horses, at a standstill now, were staring at the oncoming truck, and the men saw that this herd was beautiful.

A wet spring had rounded them out, and they shone in the sunlight. The mare was almost black and the stallion and the two others were deeply brown. The colt was curly-coated and had a grey sheen. The stallion dipped his head suddenly and turned his back on the truck and galloped. The others turned and clattered after him, with the colt running alongside the mare. Guido pressed down on the gas and the truck surged forward, whining. They were a few yards behind the animals now and they could see the bottoms of their hoofs, fresh hoofs that made a gentle tacking clatter because they had never been shod. The truck was coming abreast of the mare now and beside her the others galloped, slim-legged and wet after running almost two hours.

As the truck drew alongside the mare and Gay began twirling his loop above his head, the whole herd wheeled away to the right and Guido jammed the gas pedal down and swung with them, but the truck tilted violently so he slowed down and fell behind them a few yards until they would straighten out and move ahead again. At the edge of their strength they wheeled like circus horses, almost tamely in their terror, and suddenly Guido saw a breadth between the stallion and the two browns and he sped in between, cutting the mare off at the left with her colt. Now the horses stretched, the clatter quickened. Their hind legs flew straight back and their necks stretched low and forward. Gay whirled his loop over his head and the truck came up alongside the stallion whose lungs were screaming with exhaustion and Gay flung the noose. It fell on the stallion's head and, with a whipping of the lead, Gay made it slip down over his neck. The horse swerved away to the right and stretched the rope until the tire was pulled off the truck bed and dragged along the hard clay. The three men watched from the slowing truck as the stallion, with startled eyes, pulled the giant tire for a few yards, then reared up with his forelegs in the air and came down facing the tire and trying to back away from it. Then he stood there, heaving, his hind legs dancing in an arc from right to left and back again as he shook his head in the remorseless noose.

As soon as he was sure the stallion was secure, Guido turned sharply left toward the mare and the colt which were trotting idly together by themselves in the distance. The two browns were already disappearing toward the north, but they would halt soon because they were tired, while the mare might continue back into her familiar hills where the truck could not follow. He straightened the truck and jammed down the gas pedal. In a minute he drew up on her left side because the colt was running on her right. She was very heavy, he saw, and he wondered now if she were a mustang at all. Then through his right window he saw the loop flying out and down over her head, and he saw her head fly up and then she fell back. He turned to the right, braking with his left boot, and he saw her dragging a tire and coming to a halt, with the free colt watching her and trotting beside her very close. Then he headed straight ahead across the flat toward two specks which rapidly enlarged until they became the two browns which were at a standstill and watching the oncoming truck. He came in between them and they galloped; Perce on the left roped one and Gay roped the other almost at the same time. And Guido leaned his head out of his window and yelled up at Perce. “Good boy!” he hollered, and Perce let himself return an excited grin, although there seemed to be some trouble in his eyes.

Guido made an easy half circle and headed back to the mare and the colt and slowed to a halt twenty yards away and got out of the cab.

The three men approached the mare. She had never seen a man and her eyes were wide in fear. Her rib cage stretched and collapsed very rapidly and there was a trickle of blood coming out of her nostrils. She had a heavy, dark brown mane and her tail nearly touched the ground. The colt with dumb eyes shifted about on its silly bent legs trying to keep the mare between itself and the men, and the mare kept shifting her rump to shield the colt from them.

They wanted now to move the noose higher up on the mare's neck because it had fallen on her from the rear and was tight around the middle of her neck where it could choke her if she kept pulling against the weight of the tire. Gay was the best roper, so Perce and Guido stood by as he twirled a noose over his head, then let it fall open softly, just behind the forefeet of the mare. They waited for a moment, then approached her and she backed a step. Then Gay pulled sharply on the rope and her forefeet were tied together. With another rope Gay lassoed her hind feet and she swayed and fell to the ground on her side. Her body swelled and contracted, but she seemed resigned. The colt stretched its nose to her tail and stood there as the men came to the mare and spoke quietly to her, and Guido bent down and opened the noose and slipped it up under her jaw. They inspected her for a brand, but she was clean.

"Never see a horse that size up here," Gay said to Guido.

Perce said, "She's no mustang. Might even be standardbred." He looked to Guido for confirmation.

Guido sat on his heels and opened the mare's mouth and the other two looked in with him. "She's fifteen if she's a day," Gay said. "She wouldn't be around much longer anyway."

"Ya, she's old." Perce's eyes were filled with thought.

Guido stood up and the three went back to the truck, and drove across the lake bed to the stallion.

"Ain't a bad-lookin' horse," Perce said.

He was standing still, heaving for breath. His head was down, holding the rope taut, and he was looking at them with deep brown eyes that were like the lenses of enormous binoculars. Gay got his rope ready. “He ain’t nothin’ but a misfit,” he said. “You couldn’t run cattle with him; he’s too small to breed and too old to cut.”

“He is small,” Perce conceded. “Got a nice neck though.”

“Oh, they’re nice-lookin’ horses, some of them,” Guido said. “What the hell you goin’ to do with them, though?”

Gay twirled the loop over his head and they spread out around the stallion. “They’re just old misfit horses, that’s all,” he said, and he flung the rope behind the stallion’s forelegs and the horse backed a step and he drew the rope and the noose bit into the horse’s fetlocks drawing them together, and he swayed but he would not fall. “Take hold here,” Gay called to Perce, who ran around the horse and took the rope from him and held it taut. Then Gay went back to the truck, got another rope, returned to the rear of the horse and looped his hind legs. But the stallion would not fall. Guido stepped closer to push him over, but he swung his head and showed his teeth and Guido stepped back. “Pull him down!” Guido yelled to Gay and Perce, and they jerked their ropes to trip the stallion, but he righted himself and stood there, bound by the head to the tire and by his feet to the two ropes which the men held. Then Guido hurried over to Perce and took the rope from him and walked with it toward the rear of the horse and pulled hard. The stallion’s forefeet slipped back and he came down on his knees and his nose struck the clay ground and he snorted as he struck, but he would not topple over and stayed there on his knees as though he were bowing to something, with his nose propping up his head against the ground and his sharp bursts of breath blowing up dust in little clouds under his nostrils. Now

Guido gave the rope back to young Perce Howland who held it taut and he came up alongside the stallion's neck and laid his hands on the side of the neck and pushed and the horse fell over onto his flank and lay there and, like the mare, when he felt the ground against his body he seemed to let himself out and for the first time his eyes blinked and his breath came now in sighs and no longer fiercely. Guido shifted the noose up under his jaw, and they opened the ropes around his hoofs and when he felt his legs free he first raised his head curiously and then clattered up and stood there looking at them, from one to the other, blood dripping from his nostrils and a stain of deep red on both dusty knees.

Then the men moved without hurrying to the truck and Gay stored his two extra ropes and got behind the wheel with Guido beside him, and Perce climbed onto the back of the truck and lay down facing the sky and made a pillow with his palms.

Gay headed the truck south toward the plane. Guido was slowly catching his breath and now he lighted a cigarette, puffed it and rubbed his left hand into his bare scalp. He sat gazing out the windshield and the side window. "I'm sleepy," he said.

"What you reckon?" Gay asked.

"What you?" Guido said.

"That mare might be six hundred pounds."

"I'd say about that, Gay."

"About four hundred apiece for the browns and a little more for the stallion. What's that come to?"

"Nineteen hundred, maybe two thousand," Guido said.

They fell silent figuring the money. Two thousand pounds at six cents a pound came to a hundred and twenty dollars. The colt might make it a few dollars more, but not much. Figuring the gas for the plane and the truck, and twelve dollars for their groceries, they came to the figure of a hundred dollars for the three of them. Guido would get forty-five, since he had used his plane, and Gay would get thirty-five, including the use of his truck, and Perce Howland, if he agreed, as he undoubtedly would, had the remaining twenty.

"We should've watered them the last time," Gay said. "They can pick up a lot of weight if you let them water."

"Yeah, let's be sure to do that," Guido said.

They knew they would as likely as not forget to water the horses before they unloaded them at the dealer's lot in Bowie. They would be in a hurry to unload and be free of them, free to pitch and roll with time in the bars or asleep in Roslyn's house or making a try in some rodeo. Once they had figured their shares they stopped thinking of money, and they divided it and even argued about it only because it was the custom of men. They had not come up here for the money.

Gay stopped the truck beside the plane. Guido opened his door and said, "See you in town. Let's get the other truck tomorrow morning."

"Perce wants to go over to Largo and sign up for the rodeo tomorrow," Gay said. "Tell ya-we'll go in and get the truck and come back here this afternoon maybe. Maybe we bring them in tonight."

"All right, if you want to. I'll see you boys tomorrow," Guido said, and he got out and stopped for a moment to talk to Perce. "Perce?"

Perce propped himself up on one elbow and looked down at him.

Guido smiled. “You sleeping?”

“I was about to.”

“We figure about a hundred dollars clear. Twenty all right for you?”

“Ya, twenty’s all right,” Perce said. He hardly seemed to be listening.

“See you in town,” Guido said, and turned on his bandy legs and waddled off to the plane where Gay was already standing with his hands on the propeller blade. Guido got in and Gay swung the blade down and the engine started immediately. Guido gunned the plane and she trundled off and into the sky and the two men on the ground watched her as she flew toward the mountains and away.

Now Gay returned to the truck and said, “Twenty all right?” And he said this because he thought Perce looked hurt.

“Heh? Ya, twenty’s all right,” Perce answered. Then he let himself down and stood beside the truck and wet the ground while Gay waited for him. Then Perce got into the cab and they drove off.

Perce agreed to come back this afternoon with Gay in the larger truck and load the horses, although as they drove across the lake bed in silence they both knew, gradually, that they would wait until morning, because they were tired now and would be more tired later. The mare and her colt stood between them and the sage desert toward which they were heading. Perce stared out the window at the mare and he saw that she was watching them, apprehensively but not in real alarm, and the colt was lying upright on the clay. Perce looked long at the colt as they approached and he thought about it waiting there beside the mare, unbound and free to go off, and he said to Gay, “Ever hear of a colt leave a mare?”

“Not that one,” Gay said. “He ain’t goin’ nowhere.”

Perce laid his head back and closed his eyes. His tobacco swelled out his left cheek and he let it soak there.

Now the truck left the clay lake bed and it pitched and rolled over the sage clumps. They would return to their camp and pick up their bedrolls.

“Think I’ll go back to Roslyn’s tonight,” Gay said.

“Okay,” Perce said and did not open his eyes.

“We can pick them up in the morning, then take you to Largo.”

“Okay,” Perce said.

Gay thought about Roslyn. She would probably razz them about all the work they had done for a few dollars, saying they were too dumb to figure in their labor time and other hidden expenses. To hear her sometimes they hadn’t made any profit at all. “Roslyn going to feel sorry for the colt,” Gay said, “so might as well not mention it.”

Perce opened his eyes and looked out at the mountains. “Hell, she feeds that dog of hers canned dog food, doesn’t she?”

Gay felt closer to Perce again and he smiled. “Sure does.”

“Well, what’s she think is in the can?”

“She knows what’s in it.”

“There’s wild horses in the can,” Perce said, as though it was part of an angry argument with himself.

They were silent for a while.

“You comin’ back to Roslyn’s with me or you gonna stay in town?”

“I’d just as soon go back with you.”

“Okay,” Gay said. He felt good about going into her cabin now. There would be her books on the shelves he had built for her, and they would have some drinks, and Perce would fall asleep on the couch and they would go into the bedroom together. He liked to come back to her after he had worked, more than when he had only driven her here and there or just stayed around her place. He liked his own money in his pocket when he came to her. And he tried harder to visualize how it would be with her and he thought of himself being forty-seven soon, and then nearing fifty. She would go back east one day, maybe this year, maybe next. He wondered again when he would begin turning grey and he set his jaw against the idea of himself grey and an old man.

Perce spoke, sitting up in his seat. “I want to phone my mother. Damn, I haven’t called her all year.” He sounded angry. He stared out the window at the mountains. He had the memory of how the colt looked and he felt an almost violent wish for it to be gone when they returned. Then he said, “I got to get to Largo tomorrow and register.”

“We’ll go,” Gay said, sensing the boy’s unaccountable irritation.

“I could use a good win,” he said. He thought of five hundred dollars now, and of the many times he had won five hundred dollars. “You know something, Gay? I’m never goin’ to amount to a damn thing.” Then, suddenly he laughed. He laughed without restraint for a moment and then laid his head back and closed his eyes.

“I told you that first time I met you, didn’t I?” Gay grinned. He felt a bravery between them now, and he was relieved to see that Perce was grinning. He felt the mood coming on for some drinks at Roslyn’s.

“That colt won’t bring two dollars anyway,” Perce said. “What you say we just left him there?”

“Why, you know he’d just follow the truck right into town.”

After they had driven for fifteen minutes without speaking, Gay said he wanted to go north very soon for the hundreds of horses that were supposed to be in the mountains there. But Perce had fallen fast asleep beside him. Gay wanted to talk about that expedition because as they rolled onto the highway from the desert he began to visualize Roslyn razzing them again, and it was clear to him that he had somehow failed to settle anything for himself; he had put in three days for thirty-five dollars and there would be no way to explain it so it made sense and it would be embarrassing. And yet he knew that it had all been the way it ought to be even if he could never explain it to her or anyone else. He reached out and nudged Perce, who opened his eyes and lolled his head over to face him. “You comin’ up to Thighbone with me, ain’t you?”

“Okay,” Perce said, and went back to sleep.

Gay felt more peaceful now the younger man would not be leaving him. There was a future again, something to head for.

The sun shone hot on the beige plain all day. Neither fly nor bug nor snake ventured out on the waste to molest the four horses tethered there, or the colt. They had run nearly two hours at a gallop and as the afternoon settled upon them they pawed the hard ground for water, but there was none. Toward evening the wind came up and they backed into it and faced the mountains from which they had come. From time to time the stallion caught the scent of the pastures up there and he started to walk toward the vaulted fields in which he had grazed, but the tire bent his neck around and after a few steps he would turn to face it and leap into the air with his forelegs striking at the sky and then he would come down and be still again. With the deep blue darkness the wind blew faster, tossing their manes and flinging their long tails in between their legs. The cold of night raised the colt onto its legs and it stood close to the mare for warmth. Facing the southern range five horses blinked under the green glow of the risen moon and they closed their eyes and slept. The colt settled again on the hard ground and lay under the mare. In the high hollows of the mountains the grass they had cropped this morning straightened in the darkness. On the lusher swards which were still damp with the rains of spring their hoofprints had begun to disappear. When the first pink glow of another morning lit the sky, the colt stood up and, as it had done at every dawn, it walked waywardly for water. The mare shifted warningly and her bone hoofs ticked the clay. The colt turned its head and returned to her and stood at her side with vacant eye, its nostrils sniffing the warming air.

Notes: 77 time a witness for divroce, two 7s that is lucky darling. 6:46, 7:46 Raymond Tybor wants Isabell to stop the divorce. Isabelle aka Monroe states she feals alone inside even though he is there. Abandonment like trauma issues bring her emotional pain. 9 Mins going Mustanging and new engines weird conversation. New engine Rolls Royce as Packard Motors makes the P-51 fly after anemic North American Aviation P-51 had underperformed with American engine.

The North American Aviation P-51 Mustang is an American long-range, single-seat fighter and fighter-bomber used during World War II and the Korean War, among other conflicts. The Mustang was designed in April 1940 by a team headed by James H. Kindelberger of North American Aviation (NAA) in response to a requirement of the British Purchasing Commission. The commission approached NAA to build Curtiss P-40 fighters under license for the Royal Air Force (RAF). Rather than build an old design from another company, NAA proposed the design and production of a more modern fighter. The prototype NA-73X airframe was rolled out on 9 September 1940, 102 days after the contract was signed, and first flew on 26 October.

The Mustang was designed to use the Allison V-1710 engine, which had limited high-altitude performance in its earlier variants. The aircraft was first flown operationally by the RAF as a tactical-reconnaissance aircraft and fighter-bomber (Mustang Mk I). Replacing the Allison with a Rolls-Royce Merlin resulted in the P-51B/C (Mustang Mk III) model, and transformed the aircraft's performance at altitudes above 15,000 ft (4,600 m) (without sacrificing range),[8] allowing it to compete with the Luftwaffe's fighters.[9] The definitive version, the P-51D, was powered by the Packard V-1650-7, a license-built version of the two-speed, two-stage-supercharged Merlin 66, and was armed with six .50 caliber (12.7 mm) AN/M2 Browning machine guns.

The Allison V-1710 aircraft engine designed and produced by the Allison Engine Company was the only US-developed V-12 liquid-cooled engine to see service during World War II. Versions with a turbocharger gave excellent performance at high altitude in the twin-engined Lockheed P-38 Lightning, and turbo-superchargers were fitted to experimental single-engined fighters with similar results.

The United States Army Air Corps (USAAC) preference for turbochargers early in the V-1710's development program meant that less effort was spent on developing suitable mechanically driven centrifugal superchargers for the Allison V-12 design, as other V-12 designs from friendly nations like the British Rolls-Royce Merlin were already using.

When smaller-dimensioned or lower-cost versions of the V-1710 were desired, they generally had poor performance at higher altitudes. The V-1710 nevertheless gave excellent service when turbocharged, notably in the P-38 Lightning, which accounted for much of the extensive production run.

The Allison Engine Company was an American aircraft engine manufacturer. Shortly after the death of James Allison in 1929 the company was purchased by the Fisher brothers. Fisher sold the company to General Motors, which owned it for most of its history. It was acquired by Rolls-Royce plc in 1995 to become the US subsidiary, Rolls-Royce North America.

From late 1943, P-51Bs and P-51Cs (supplemented by P-51Ds from mid-1944) were used by the USAAF's Eighth Air Force to escort bombers in raids over Germany, while the RAF's Second Tactical Air Force and the USAAF's Ninth Air Force used the Merlin-powered Mustangs as fighter-bombers, roles in which the Mustang helped ensure Allied air superiority in 1944. The P-51 was also used by Allied air forces in the North African, Mediterranean, Italian, and Pacific theaters. During World War II, Mustang pilots claimed to have destroyed 4,950 enemy aircraft.

At the start of the Korean War, the Mustang, by then redesignated F-51, was the main fighter of the United States until jet fighters, including North American's F-86, took over this role; the Mustang then became a specialized fighter-bomber. Despite the advent of jet fighters, the Mustang remained in service. The North American Aviation F-86 was the next air superiority plan this time against Russian Migs that James Paul Donegan also flew from Atsugi.

Star Wars Since Buyout and B4 discretion is advised.

[Hide]

"I have traveled too far and seen too much to ignore the despair in the galaxy. Without the Jedi, there can be no balance in the Force."

—Lor San Tekka to Commander Poe Dameron[3]

Lor San Tekka was a human male explorer and parishioner of the Church of the Force who was born in the waning years of the Galactic Republic. He became a believer in the ideals of the Jedi Order during the Clone Wars, despite not being force-sensitive, and followed the underground faith of his church during the dark times of the Galactic Empire's rule over the galaxy. San Tekka found Jedi lore that the Empire attempted to suppress, and his knowledge of the galaxy and its history was useful to the New Republic after it prevailed over the Empire during the Battle of Endor and began a period of galactic reconstruction. Lor San Tekka also helped Luke Skywalker, the last known Jedi Knight at the time, seek out Jedi lore that the Empire had attempted to destroy. At some point, San Tekka lived with the Crèche and learned about their spiritual culture. https://starwars.fandom.com/wiki/Lor_San_Tekka

Lor San Tekka
Biographical information
Born	c. 45 BBY[1]
Died	34 ABY, Jakku[2]
Descriptive information

https://starwars.fandom.com/wiki/Lor_San_Tekka show an image of I think dying King George VI in 1951 fearing the rise of the First Order, Nazis born yet again. Though he will die in 1952 othes will fight against enemies of the Thousand Years of Rule. MK-ULTRA one thousand years of the Empire.

United State Army Special Operations Command

OSS Office of Strategic Services

The Jeds Staff and Axe struck fear

Target Patton book by Robert Wilcox

the Jedburghs retrieved from JFK Library and copied or modified to here

The mission of the Jedburgh teams was to supplement existing SO/SOE ‘circuits,’ to help organize and arm the resistance, arrange supply drops, procure intelligence, provide liaison between the Allies and the Resistance, and to take part in sabotage operations. Project Jedburgh was a joint Allied program, with the OSS Special Operations (SO) branch, the British Special Operations Executive (SOE), and the French Bureau Central de Renseignements et d’Action (BCRA) involved. Eighty three American, 90 British, 103 French, 5 Belgian, and 5 Dutch personnel were extensively trained in paramilitary techniques for Jedburgh missions. Ninety-three Jedburgh teams parachuted into France and eight went into The Netherlands. A model team consisted of one French, one British, and one American serviceman. Every team had at least one officer and a radioman, but team sizes varied from two to four men.

So as not to alert the Germans to the exact invasion date, Supreme Commander, Allied Forces Europe, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, did not permit Jedburgh teams to parachute into occupied-France until the night of 5/6 June 1944. For the next three months thereafter, Jedburgh teams supported attacks on enemy lines of communication and reduced the destruction of key infrastructure by the retreating Germans. Their actions, like those of the OSS Operational Groups (OG), forced the Germans to divert significant military assets away from major battlefronts. As Allied forces overran the Jedburgh areas of operations, their missions were terminated.

Like many OSS veterans, several former Jedburghs had successful post-war careers. William E. Colby, who also commanded the Norwegian OG, served as the CIA Director from 1973-1975. Major General John K. Singlaub led the Studies and Observation Group (SOG) in Vietnam from 1966-1968. The Jedburgh with the closest connection to Army Special Forces was Colonel Aaron Bank, first Director of Special Forces (SF) and Commander of the first operational SF group, the 10th SFG. Many of the tactics and techniques used by Jedburgh teams were adopted for training early Special Forces in the 1950s.

Star Wars recreates the Finest Hour of Commonwealths

Maginot Line retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The Maginot Line (French: Ligne Maginot, IPA: [liɲ maʒino]), named after the French Minister of War André Maginot, is a line of concrete fortifications, obstacles and weapon installations built by France in the 1930s to deter invasion by Germany and force them to move around the fortifications. The Maginot Line was impervious to most forms of attack. In consequence, the Germans invaded through the Low Countries in 1940, passing it to the north.

However, the French line was weak near the Ardennes Forest. General Maurice Gamelin, when drafting the Dyle Plan, believed this region, with its rough terrain, would be an unlikely invasion route of German forces; if it were traversed, it would be done at a slow rate that would allow the French time to bring up reserves and counterattacks. The German Army, having reformulated their plans from a repeat of the First World War-era plan, became aware of and exploited this weak point in the French defensive front. A rapid advance through the forest and across the River Meuse encircled much of the Allied forces, resulting in a sizeable force having to be evacuated at Dunkirk leaving the forces to the south unable to mount an effective resistance to the German invasion of France.

Luke and Leia as if orphans (Darth Vader aka Anakin is still alive) are hidden out on this farm, Luke is

Anna Kin was actually Glorian Donegan. Her father was Prince Albert of York (or King Edward VII) and her mother was Maria Kutschera, neice of Gestapo General Franz Kutschera.

So why is Darth Vader now on the Dark Side and his wife now dead? Maria Kutschera lost her parents to the plague of WWI the Spanish Influenza the Illuminati could cure.

Darth defects but his children are hidden, Luke and Leia. Leia will have children by Hans Solo. These children Kilo Ren and Rey realize their biological parent Anna Kin was Glorian Donegan, and they realize Rey is Barrack Obama Jr and Kilo is Ed Donegan, and Rey must choose between the Windsors or Kutscheras.

I am left as Kilo Ren via Glorain Donegan embracing Glorian Donegan was of both Kutschera and Windsor parents.

NWO Under the Chatham House Rule of using fiction to anonymize Bilderberg talks

The story of the Donegan's planted in songs and film often with Free Mason indicators like 33 minutes, a Finest Hour of London, or over-lord space alien metaphors of a s super class of NWO connected conspirators and how Lee Harvey Oswald fit in as an insider double agent (CIA operative defecting to Russia to infiltrate it) and later framed as JFK assassin or duped into it assassinating JFK.

Sound of Music

Maira Kutschera is the neice of Franz Kutschera and had FOXP2 Minimal Brain Disorder. Orphaned and pregnant while in a Convent she leaves of be Captain Von Trapps (widower of Agetha Whitehead) and HIS seven children. With thre of her own by the English Royal family (Harold Gainey Glorian Gainey, Norma Jean) in 1926 they depart Nazi Germany as Arnold Schwarzenegger and his brother do. The Gaineys and Von Trapps arrive in North Carolina through London.

Pearl Harbor

James Donegan of Boston joins the US Army Air Corp. His brother Happy Donegan is a nuclear engineer, at least later, and James Donegan fights in P-51s initially probably over Dover, certainly over Germany, and late in the bombing of Japan escorting and performing reconnsaince for B-17 and B-29 Bombers Stanley Armour Dunham is stealing designs for, the Witicha Kansas Plant. The P-51 is built in Ingleside area of Manhattan Beach City of Los Angeles county California where I am born and is connected to SSFL labs, JPL, and Area 51 CIA operations, NASA DARPS NSA. Further Reading

Mullhalland Falls

In preparation for the atomic bombing of Japan a test blast was conducted in the Nevada Desert. My father may hvae been a test subject. He did describe being in a blast tower and observing a blast including while we toured museums showing films of int about about 2013. I thought that may have been in later testing, after WWII.

Jet Pilot (1957)

Moves are coming out which tell tales of Illuminati history likely for showing in lodges. Zoom in or see where the clock as at 33 to see where Illuminati history is occurring. Jet Pilot goes into the story of RADAR and Reconnaissance my father was a part of in the P-51 in WWII and F-86 in the Korean War. This is also though. Lee Harvey Oswald is the RADAR operator there explaining the technology to scree writers on background. Further Reading in Combat Camera Units chapter

In 1956 post-war Vermont in her ski lodge hotel home Augusta Maria Von Trapp is facing money loss. A German company buys the rights to her book of pre-war Austria *. At this time background data to the whole story may begin including at a Japanese air base of the U2, reconnaissance, and the end of WWII. German real names production is made, then shortly after a US version with Julie Andrews and the names altered, Kutschera Himmler piece in movie but minimized. Dorothy Kilgallen friend of JFK toured with the opening of Sound Of Music adn was killed by mafia Ron Pataki

The story of Jim Donean and Glorian Donegan, GLorian Gainey by Edward VIII and Maria Kutschera is going to be told with distorted but close names.

The Americanization of Emily

The Americanization of Windsor Family Ann Kin "Tell Us How You Won The War (WWII) Charlie (USAF Pilots are Charlie)" Oswald and the Gaineys (Glorian Donegan, James Donegan, maybe Marilyn Monroe of Janet Jason Leigh are at the Japanese airbase) touring Horishoma, Nagasaki, and RECON patrols of Korea and Russia by the U2. James Donegna meets a sister of Glorian, I think Marylin Monroe, maybe Julie Andrews, but after a first pass to her is ignored quickly finds an is attracted to Glorian Gainey, my mother

Manchurian Candidate 1962

Manchuria Location Manchuria (Manchukuo), Inner Mongolia (Mengjiang), and northern Korea (Japanese Korea) seperated by water from Japan

Soviet invasion of Manchuria causes final surrender of Japan. Manchuria is an exonym for a historical and geographic region of Russia and China in Northeast Asia. Across from Japan Russians move into Korea China region Manchuria ready to attack Japan ended WWII. I believe at Japanese base Oswlad, James Donegan, the Gainey family, others explaing the end of WWII. FOXP2 researched by GOttlieb and Dr Cameran runs in Windsors and Kutscheres ,part of defection of Gaineys, Schwartzeneggers, Von Trapps in underground railroad, test birth twin is Barrack Obama Jr. which will continue to test Windsor

Kutschera DNA lines and Minimal Brain Dysfunction. Further Reading

Moon River

From the late 1950s James and Glorian are maried and in love and Thoma Neil Donegan in about 1959 is thier first born. I am born a year and 11 months later November 18 back at Manhattan Beach California. My father had been a part of above ground blast testing, probably that movie Mullhollnd Falls. Glorian and James travel the world as he leaves the USAF (the spin off of AS ARMY AIR CORPS which has the Captain America sheild type logo)

Moon river, wider than a mile
I'm crossing you in style some day
Oh, dream maker, you heart breaker
Wherever you're goin', I'm goin' your way
Two drifters, off to see the world
There's such a lot of world to see
We're after the same rainbow's end
Waitin' 'round the bend
My huckleberry friend
Youtube Moon river and me Moon River(Sung by Audrey Hepburn)

Rocky Horror Picture Show

With Doctor Cameron and Dr Sidney Gottlieb likely meeting up while the Sonic Oscillator (RADAR) is being discussed and shown, and WHY the 3 children and Arnold Schwarzenegger lines came from special Minimal Brain Disorder speech defect families, Glorian Eggs which already produced Tom are now used for Barrack Obama Jr shown to a banquet while Obama Jr was just 7 hours old Further Reading

Dune

Family lines are being manipulated to produce certain destined leaders. Who is the good guy and bad guy is a little reversed, but it seem James Donegan is Duke Lito with Jessica produced Ed Donegan. Jessica was a concubine for the Duke sexually but was part of a religious order who was using her biological babies, the allowed babies, for their own line of rulers.

Love Story

The son of Joseph Kennedy falls in love with French woman Jackie Kennedy. At first renouncing aristocracy altogether Jackie inspires him to accept it but as Catholics. Like John F. Kennedy son of Joseph Kennedy Sr John realizes he knows little of what his mother Roze Fitzpatrick lived through in the poor Boston docks. He with Roman Catholic and Irish loyalties will succeed but face tragedy first. The real end of the marriage is the death of him, not his wife.

I include this as the story of James Paul Donegan and Glorian Donegan because I equate the parents of James Paul Donegan and HIS Irish immigrant parents with the experience and life lens of Rose Fitzpatrick Kennedy and loyalty to Ireland against NOrthern Ireland and exploitative Great British Commonwealths.

Rise of Skywalker

Darth Vader Helmet - Darth Anna Kin Skywalker, Glorian Donegan. Anna Kin son of Emperor Palpatine, son of poor farmer mother

Anna's Children were Leia and Luke

Leia by Hans Solo has Rey and Kilo. Are they Palpatine OR Skyalker, bio parents of Annakin? Ed is Kilo Rey is Obama Jr.

- Supreme Chancellor Sheev Palpatine : As Queen of England, Ruler Great Britain

- Murdered mother of Anakind Sywalker : Probable Maria Kutschera Von Trapp North Carolina farmer

---

  - Anakin Skywalker Darth Vader of the Farmer and the Emporer : Annakin Skywalker has both Palpatine and Skywler parents. As Maria Kutschera, A Sith (Franz Kutshera) and Windsor (Skywalker Prince Albert) child. Turns to Dark Side when mother is murderd and democracy could not prevent murder or bring back mother. Perhaps Glorian Donegan

---

- Jedi Luke Skywalker : Luke and Leia fight Palpatine for Freedom. Luke is on a barren island with no children metaphprically Ed Donegan, son of Anna Kin of of others, Glori Ann kin of Prince Edward of Wales, Maria Kutschera of Austria

- Jedi Princess Leia Marries Ben Solo : Leia in her fight maries Hans Solo and the children will split between the Great Brittain

---

Both Rey Solo and Ben Solo come from Princess Leia.

Princess Leia like her brother Luke Skywalker came from Anna Kin Skywaler (Glory Ann Gainey NC USA) farmer, like the latter children. Captain Von Trapp and Maria Kutschera 7, Maria Kutschera 1926 Norma Jean, Glorian Gainey, Harold Gainey

- Jedi Rey of Leia Skywalker: Likely Barrack Obama Jr. from Glori Ann and Malcolm X.

- Ben Solo / Kylo Ren: Ben sides with the Nazi side, Rey with the Freedom side. Probably Edward Paul Donean

Ben Solo and Rey Solo are split olong the lines Ann Kin is derived from. On his fathers side an Emperor King. On his mothers side a poor farm woman.

As Been and Rey search for thier own identities Ben in particular identifies with Ann Kin of the Empririal side of latter Anna Kin. Rey identifies with justice against the Empire Annakin, Luke, and Leia were initially born into.

- Order 66: Rey chooses the Skywalker side, but does have hidden roots in the Palpatine side. Order 66 eliminates Palpatines and she is safely Skywalker. No record of the Kutschera line now dissavowed in Skywalker family.

  It is also in the story line of My Normal where the gritty produce elite art about the grit. Further Reading

Churchill Society (ICS) and copied or modified to here

Finest Hour 141, Winter 2008-09

Although Finest Hour has covered this subject before we asked Sir Martin for his own rendition based on his most recent research.

"This was their finest hour" was a speech delivered by Winston Churchill to the House of Commons of the United Kingdom on 18 June 1940, just over a month after he took over as Prime Minister at the head of an all-party coalition government.

> What General Weygand has called the Battle of France is o > of Britain is about to begin. Upon this battle depends the su > civilisation. Upon it depends our own British life, and the lo > institutions and our Empire. The whole fury and might of th > soon be turned on us. Hitler knows that he will have to break > the war. If we can stand up to him, all Europe may be freed and > may move forward into broad, sunlit uplands. But if we fail, th > including the United States, including all that we have know > sink into the abyss of a new Dark Age made more sinister, a > protracted, by the lights of perverted science. Let us therefo > our duties, and so bear ourselves that, if the British Empire a > last for a thousand years, men will still say, 'This was their fines
> Churchill

It was the third of three speeches which he gave during the period of the Battle of France, after the "Blood, toil, tears and sweat" speech of 13 May and the "We shall fight on the beaches" speech of 4 June.[1] [2] "This was their finest hour" was made > after France had sought an armistice on the evening of 16 June. Wikipedia

On the night of 14 November 1940, three hundred German bombers dropped 500 tons of explosives, 33,000 incendiary bombs and dozens of parachute mines on the industrial city of Coventry. During the raid, 507 civilians were killed and 420 seriously injured.

What Did Fighter Command Do After The Battle Of Britain?

With the Germans bombing of England the Spitfire rose to the defense. Made as the P-51 later in the USA the war turned

The summer of 1940 was the Royal Air Force's finest hour. RAF Fighter Command defeated the Luftwaffe in the skies over southern England, and helped save a nation which appeared to be teetering on the brink of defeat. German failure to win control of the air persuaded Hitler to abandon plans to invade Britain. His attention was already turning towards the east and a future attack on the Soviet Union. Although the balance of forces was never as one-sided as legend maintains, the Battle of Britain was undoubtedly a remarkable victory, and is rightly celebrated as one of the most decisive aerial campaigns of the Second World War.

With the daylight battle won, RAF Fighter Command faced a new challenge. The Luftwaffe had switched to a night bombing offensive in the autumn of 1940, hoping to inflict decisive damage on British industry and the morale of the civil population. Many cities and ports were bombed, but London was the most important target. The intensive series of nightly raids between September 1940 and May 1941 would become known as the 'Blitz'.

A play at the Belgrade Theatre in Coventry, One Night In November, repeated the frequently made claim that Winston Churchill knew of the attack several days in advance, but that he held back the information to protect the most important secret of the war: the breaking of the German Enigma code at Bletchley Park. In the words of the press publicity: " … the play examines the idea that Winston Churchill had advance warning of the attack. Was Coventry sacrificed for the greater good? Or to provoke America into the war?"

National WWI Museum and Memorial, Kansas City

2022 International Churchill Conference

Join us at the National WWI Museum for the 39th International Churchill Conference. Kansas City, October 6-8, 2022 The truth about the bombing of Coventry is very different. On 12 November 1940, Enigma decrypts made it clear that a major German bombing raid was imminent. Its code name, Moonlight Sonata, had been read in the decrypts. But the decrypts gave no clue as to the destination of the German bombers.

The Air Intelligence report that Churchill received on 12 November gave, on the basis of the latest intelligence, five possible targets: Central London, Greater London, the Thames Valley, or the Kent or Essex coasts.

A German pilot who had been shot down on November 9th had, under interrogation, suggested that two cities-Coventry and Birmingham-would both be attacked in a "colossal raid" between 15 and 20 November; but the senior Air Intelligence Liaison officer at Bletchley, Squadron Leader Humphreys, noted, in contrast to this, that there was "pretty definite information that the attack is to be against London and the Home Counties."

Are Miticholians in the blood of Knights Blue?

Star Wars matter retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The Star Wars canon fictional universe spans multiple eras, of which three are focused around each of the film trilogies. The following eras were defined in January 2021:

A mystical power known as the Force is described in the original film as “an energy field created by all living things … [that] binds the galaxy together”. Through training and meditation, those whom “the Force is strong with” are able to perform various superpowers (such as telekinesis, precognition, telepathy, and manipulation of physical energy). The Force is wielded by two major knightly orders at conflict with each other: the Jedi, peacekeepers of the Galactic Republic who act on the light side of the Force through non-attachment and arbitration, and the Sith, who use the dark side by manipulating fear and aggression. While Jedi Knights can be numerous, the Dark Lords of the Sith (or ‘Darths’) are intended to be limited to two: a master and their apprentice.

- The Force Awakens 32 Minutes 15 Seconds “There is no try.” 33 Minutes the Millennium Falcon and its Skywalker sweeps across the clouds and joins the battle with Rey and Fin. 59 Minutes Kilo hears the call of Anakin aka Darth. Finest Hour Rey, Hans Solo, Fin make an allegiance to defeat the again rise of evil. Luke is Rey’s uncle. Rey and Kilo daughters of Leia

  As she scavenges awaiting family Rey wears a helmet from the Tierfon Yellow Aces were a starfighter squadron in the Alliance to Restore the Republic that was led by Captain Dosmit Ræh. *

> Spitfires and yellow tail Mustangs : the 52nd Fighter Group in World War Two is a book by Tom Ivie and Paul Ludwig

> Rey has waited so long, so long, for her family to find her. Meanwhile the First Order will stop at nothing to find and destroy Luke the last of the Jedi (Or Kutscheras?"

- The High Republic: The era of the "High Republic", set 200 years before the prequel trilogy. It includes the media released in The High Republic and the upcoming The Acolyte.

> Is the Republic in fact Nation-State Kingdoms of Blue Bloods who work together in the League of Nations, Sottish Rites, Knights of Malta?

- Fall of the Jedi: The era of the prequel trilogy, in which the democratic Galactic Republic is corrupted by the Supreme Chancellor Palpatine, who is secretly the Sith Lord Darth Sidious. After orchestrating the Clone Wars between the Republic and a Separatist confederation, Palpatine exterminates the Jedi Order, overthrows the Republic, and establishes the totalitarian Galactic Empire. It includes the prequel trilogy films and the animated The Clone Wars

> Is this era the ebb of Kingdoms as socialist states, independence movements, Banana Republics, communism, and liberalism via democratic or republican self government?

- Reign of the Empire:: The era after the prequel trilogy, exploring the reign of the Empire. It includes the animated The Bad Batch and Solo: A Star Wars Story.

Is the Martial Society of NAZIS? Martial law is the temporary imposition of direct military control of normal civil functions or suspension of civil law by a government, especially in response to a temporary emergency where civil forces are overwhelmed, or in an occupied territory. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia pictured Tanks during the martial law in Poland, December 1981

- Age of Rebellion: The era of the original trilogy,[h] in which the Empire is fought by the Rebel Alliance in a Galactic Civil War that spans several years, climaxing with the death of the Emperor and fall of the Empire. It includes the animated Star Wars Rebels, Rogue One: A Star Wars Story, and the original trilogy films.

Do Blue Bloods still live and are they going to reestablish the old rule of Jedis baking their ancient government of enlightenment?

- The New Republic: The era after the original trilogy, set during the formative years of the New Republic following the fall of the Empire. It includes The Mandalorian and its spin-off series, The Book of Boba Fett, and Ahsoka.

> The Return of Jedi Knights, the Jedi Council round-table, and perhaps Prime Minister Constitutional Monarchy of upper and lower houses

- Rise of the First Order : The era of the sequel trilogy, in which the remnants of the Empire have reformed as the First Order. Heroes of the former Rebellion, aided by the New Republic, lead the Resistance against the oppressive regime and its rulers-the mysterious being known as Snoke and the revived Palpatine. It includes the animated Star Wars Resistance and the sequel trilogy films.

> Will there always be challenges between the Blue Bloods for who will rule? And how will the Blue Bloods rule?

Star Wars a New Hope. at 33 minutes “You fought with my father? Yes, I was a Jedi Knight. We kept the peace for a thousand generations. We did not use clumsy blasters, our weapon was the Light Saber.”

Moesha Poppins Dinner Scene

Landonis Balthazar "Lando" Calrissian III is a fictional character in the Star Wars franchise. He was introduced in The Empire Strikes Back (1980) as an old friend of Han Solo and the administrator of the floating Cloud City on the gas planet Bespin. Eric Holder?

Luke and Leia as if orphans (Darth Vader aka Anakin is still alive) are hidden out on this farm, Luke is

Anna Kin was actually Glorian Donegan. Her father was Prince Albert of York (or King Edward VII) and her mother was Maria Kutschera, neice of Gestapo General Franz Kutschera.

So why is Darth Vader now on the Dark Side and his wife now dead? Maria Kutschera lost her parents to the plague of WWI the Spanish Influenza the Illuminati could cure.

Darth defects but his children are hidden, Luke and Leia. Leia will have children by Hans Solo. These children Kilo Ren and Rey realize their biological parent Anna Kin was Glorian Donegan, and they realize Rey is Barrack Obama Jr and Kilo is Ed Donegan, and Rey must choose between the Windsors or Kutscheras.

I am left as Kilo Ren via Glorain Donegan embracing Glorian Donegan was of both Kutschera and Windsor parents.

It is also in the story line of My Normal where the gritty produce elite art about the grit. Further Reading

Before there was Luke Skywalker in the Lars home farm, Luke of Luke and sistr Leia, there was his mother another poor woman and his father Darth Vader aka Emperor Palpatine.

The Lars home is the Raleigh North Carolina home of Luke Skywaler raised there as by Festus Gainey (Lars.)

- Prince Albert and Maria Kutschera have 3 children.

Maria’s mother dies of Spanish Flue

- Anankin (Glorian Donegan) Glorians father Festus dies at 9

- Luke Ed Donegan also Princess Leia Hans Solo

- Rey and Ren from Leia and Solo

As Solos, Ren and Ray trace back to Prince Albert and Maria Kutschera having Annakin

Annakin to Luke and Leia to Ren and Rey. Who Luke was is easy. But who was Annaikin and where did he (she, Glorian Donegan) come from?

[image]

Episode I the Phantom Menace. Will Blue Miticlorians converge with Red Blood?

At first it is a Vergence in the force, Anakin has a mother but not father. Later, the father is in some way Palpatine and a Convergance between two different philosophies, Lords and Slaves.

Anakin. A Vergence or Convergance in the Force.

Vergance from Shmi Skyalker or her Convergence with Palpatine?

- CronoflexionAt 33 Minutes Anakin meets Queen Amadala. Is she an Angel Anakin asks? Anakin has heard from pilots Angels are real.

- Cronoflexion:At 60 minutes (The Finest Hour) in Star Wars Episode I young Ani will use the small single seat fighter like speeder in an aviation race and win his freedom.

Are You A Vampire? Twilight

The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn - Part 2 retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

[image]

Dawn: Part 2, is a 2012 American romantic fantasy film directed by Bill Condon and based on the 2008 novel of the same name by Stephenie Meyer and the fifth and final installment in The Twilight Saga film series,

The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn - Part 2, commonly referred to as Breaking Dawn: Part 2, is a 2012 American romantic fantasy film directed by Bill Condon and based on the 2008 novel of the same name by Stephenie Meyer and the fifth and final installment in The Twilight Saga film series, constituting the second of a two-part adaptation of the novel and following the first part of Breaking Dawn in 2011. Kristen Stewart, Robert Pattinson, and Taylor Lautner reprise their roles, with Mackenzie Foy portraying Renesmee Cullen. Alongside Pattinson, Lautner, Stewart, and Foy, the film also stars an ensemble cast including Billy Burke, Peter Facinelli, Elizabeth Reaser, Kellan Lutz, Nikki Reed, Jackson Rathbone, Ashley Greene, Michael Sheen, and Dakota Fanning.,

Part 2 was released on November 16 just about Barrack OBama Jr's true birthday, in 2012.

The film, despite mixed critical reception, was a box office success, grossing nearly $830 million worldwide against a production budget of $136 million, becoming the sixth-highest-grossing film of 2012 and the highest-grossing film of The Twilight Saga series.

Bella [perhaps Southern Bella] who has just given birth impregnated by Vampire Edward, awakens from her human-to-vampire transformation. After Edward helps her satisfy her initial thirst, Bella is introduced to her daughter both human and vampire daughter Renesmee.

Alice gets a vision of the Volturi and Irina coming to kill the Cullens and instructs the others to gather as many witnesses as they can to testify that Renesmee is not an immortal child.

> Edward Donegan interjects
>
> The Vampire rulers the Voltarie Coven looking French Aristocracy have a rule they (Vampires) must never be detected by Humans and now with Technology Humans are a threat to Vampires rather than vice versa.
>
> -

Lead ruling Vampire Aro, despite being afraid of the vision future, a possible battle with other vampire covens and also other immortals defending half human babies, still wants to execute Renesmee as she might become savage.

Alice and Jasper reveal their final witness, Nahuel (a half-human half-vampire just like Renesmee). He proves that he is not a threat, supporting the notion that Renesmee is not one either. The Volturi unhappily leave, Aro fearfully explaining that there will be no battle today.

This book about Metaphors leads to wonder of Southern Bella's Human baby with vampire Edward as the father is a metaphor and the baby Renesmee is Barrack Obama Jr by Malcom X and Glorian Donegan and Southern Bella is Glorian Donegan like persona sort of namsake perspective. More likely the Cabal wonder if Ed Donegan surviving Free Mason hit would be a threat to the detection of Barrack Obama Jr, half brother of Edward Paul Donegan, Barrack Obama JR a Rosecurian Free Mason of Windor Kutschera origins, Nazi DNA the elites are thring to hide but Jen Moore and Ed Donegan are trying to reveal the identity of, Donald Barr Free Mason created Barrack Obama Jr with Red State republicans.

Pillory epub

Mary Popins

Princess Mary (Mary of Tek who will marry onto the English Thrown, King George V) was devoted to her children and to her public duties. She left her children in the care of a nanny, Charlotte “Lalla” Bill, and taught her children history and music. With her public duties, she was equally devoted, becoming Patron of a number of charities. When her father-in-law became King Edward VII, Prince George and Princess Mary undertook an eight-month tour of the British Empire. No royal had undertaken such a big tour before. Princess Mary broke down in tears at the thought of leaving her children, though they were in the care of their doting grandparents. She would drop in on commoner homes and find herself welcome. Her theory was through WWI and beyond was that the Leauge of Nations a Royals based fore=-runner to the United Nations need to be stronger and reach into more Kingdoms IF war was to be avoided in the future and advocated expanded intermarriages of royal households.

This book suggests those like me who have the rare London KE VII Family FOXP2 gene are being “hit” to preempt the understanding of why Great Britain wished to expand its gene pool and who participated in the plan (Free Masons including in St Loius) and who objected to the plan the Kennedy family preferring republican government and Irish independence from Norther Ireland.

The story line of this book is that in 1902 King Edward VII showed Minimal Brain Dysfunction now called FOXP2 London KE Family language gene defect, grammar and spelling, ADHD, and some fine motor control likely tied to ADHD.

Following the Atalanta Revolutions of France and the USA and other nations Great Britain was in decline exactly as it faced radio and the speech defect.

Mary of Teck was Queen of the United Kingdom and the British Dominions, and Empress of India, from 6 May 1910 until 29 January 1936 was bred into the England's royal family and she added a spoon full of sugar to what had been heavy handed British rule.

George Walker Bush is the product of two family traditions, the Bushes and the Walkers including Bert Walker at the beginning of the 20th Century. On one side is the familiar patriarch Prescott Bush (1895-1972), the decorous Republican senator from Connecticut, the New England WASP, the pennant-waving Yale man. On the other side of his father's family stands a lesser-known patriarch, George Herbert Walker (1875-1953), the St. Louis buccaneer and raucous playboy.

George Bush: The Unauthorized Biographyhttps://www.amazon.com/George-Bush-Webster-Griffin-Tarpley/dp/0930852923

George Herbert ("Bert") Walker, for whom President George H.W. Bush was named, did not immediately accept Harriman's proposal. Would Walker leave his little St. Louis empire, to try his influence in New York and Europe?

Bert was the son of a dry goods wholesaler who had thrived on imports from England.©s1©s0 The British connection had paid for Walker summer houses in Santa Barbara, California, and in Maine-- "Walker's Point" at Kennebunkport. Bert Walker had been sent to England for his prep school and college education.

By 1919 Bert Walker had strong ties to the Guaranty Trust Company in New York and to the British-American banking house J.P. Morgan and Co. These Wall Street concerns represented all the important owners of American railroads: the Morgan partners and their associates or cousins in the intermarried Rockefeller, Whitney, Harriman and Vanderbilt families.

Bert Walker was known as the midwest's premier deal-arranger, awarding the investment capital of his international-banker contacts to the many railroads, utilities and other midwestern industries of which he and his St. Louis friends were executives or board members.

Walker's operations were always quiet, or mysterious, whether in local or global affairs. He had long been the "power behind the throne" in the St. Louis Democratic Party, along with his crony, former Missouri Governor David R. Francis. Walker and Francis together had sufficient influence to select the party's candidates.

Back in 1904, Bert Walker, David Francis, Washington University President Robert Brookings and their banker/broker circle had organized a world's fair in St. Louis, the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. In line with the old Southern Confederacy family backgrounds of many of these sponsors, the fair featured a "Human Zoo" : live natives from backward jungle regions were exhibited in special cages under the supervision of anthropologist William J. McGee.

So Averell Harriman was a natural patron for Bert Walker. Bert shared Averell's passion for horse breeding and horse racing, and easily accommodated the Harriman family's related social philosophy. They believed that the horses and racing stables they owned showed the way toward a sharp upgrading of the human stock--just select and mate thoroughbreds, and spurn or eliminate inferior animals.

George Bush: The Unauthorized Biographyhttps://www.amazon.com/George-Bush-Webster-Griffin-Tarpley/dp/0930852923

In 1910 the British were concerned of the ebb of Great Britian by rebellions coming from India, Ireland, earlier the USA, and elsewhere.

The Special Relationship between the families of Great Britain really includes the Bush family. Though set in 1910s King Edward VII King George V Bert Walker Mary Teck time of England and banking, the movie was filmed in 1964 and contains 1964 descendants references.

A George Banks who seems to be George H.W. Bush and tied to Constable H 43 is part of a “Spoonful of sugar helps the medicine go down” which corresponds to Common friendly and Mary Teck. I also add that this relationship includes expanding the royal family line for Great Britain and also expanding the gene pool of the Royal Families with breading sleeper agents for the 21st Century JFK objected to but 1963 CIA George H.W. Bush, James Angleton, and others like Donald Barr wanted. It is Mary “pop ins” to commoner homes that is part of the new charm and lighter touch of rule.

Glorian Donegan was part of that gene pool having been out of wedlock Windsors fooling around and this is how my life ties to the JFK assassination, a witness as to why the Free Mason Deep State and anti communists killed JFK over illegal DNA experiments Donegan family included.

Overlord Chimney Sweeps in the Sky

George Herbert “Bert” Walker line and the Prescott Bush Line by Prescott Bush Dorothy Walker marriage retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Dorothy Walker (marries Prescott Bush) Born: July 1, 1901, York County, ME Died: November 19, 1992, Greenwich, CT

[image]

Prescott Sheldon Bush (May 15, 1895 - October 8, 1972) was an American banker and politician. Wife: Dorothy Walker Bush, the mother of former President George H.W. Bush, Prescott Bush (father) Dorothy Walker (mother) had biological child George Herbert Walker Bush. Doroth Walker comes from the “Bert: Herbert Walker family line. A Bert is in the early 1910s movie and seems to be about George Herbert “Bert: Walker daughter Dorothy marrying Prescott Bush, Prescott and Dorothy mother of George H.W. Bush.

Parents of Bert Walker: David Davis Walker and Martha Adela Beaky David Davis “D. D.” Walker (January 19, 1840 - October 4, 1918) was an American businessman. He started his career as a dry goods wholesaler in St. Louis, Missouri. He was the co-founder of Ely & Walker, which remains a clothing brand to this day.

George Herbert “Bert” Walker Sr. started a banking and investment firm named G.H. Walker & Co. in 1900. His family had developed many international banking contacts, and he helped organize the 1904 St. Louis World’s Fair. Walker was known as the power behind the local Democratic Party.

George Herbert “Bert” Walker Jr. (November 24, 1905 - November 29, 1977) was an American businessman and an uncle of President George H. W. Bush.

In 1920, Walker became the President of the W.A. Harriman & Co. investment firm, and quickly arranged the credits that W. Averell Harriman needed to take control of the Hamburg-Amerika Line. Walker also organized the American Ship and Commerce Corp. to be subsidiary of the W.A. Harriman & Co., with contractual power over the affairs of the Hamburg-Amerika. W.A.

Harriman & Co. (renamed Harriman Brothers & Company in 1927) well-positioned for this enterprise and rich in assets from their German and Russian business, merged with the British-American investment house Brown Bros. & Co. on January 1, 1931. Walker retired to his own G.H. Walker & Co. This left the Harriman brothers, his son-in-law Prescott Bush and Thatcher M. Brown as senior partners of the new firm of Brown Brothers Harriman & Co. The firm's London branch continued operating under its historic name Brown, Shipley & Co.

Walker was a director of the W.A. Harriman & Company; Harriman Fifteen, American International Corporation; Georgian Manganese Corporation; Barnsdall Corporation; American Ship & Commerce Corporation; Union Banking Corporation; G.H. Walker & Company; Missouri Pacific Railroad; Laclede Gas and the New Orleans, Texas and Mexico Railroad.

Golf and horseracing

In addition to his business concerns, Bert Walker was also a golf enthusiast and a President of the United States Golf Association (USGA). The USGA's Walker Cup (the famous biennial golf match) acquired Walker's namesake for his role in the event's creation.

He also coheaded the syndicate, (with W. Averell Harriman), which rebuilt the famed sports venue of Madison Square Garden and the Belmont Race Track, 1925.

Mary Popins

During this book I will cite major media as being the proponents and historians of the Deep State with slightly fictionalized accounts of world history told as Space Opera, light hearted musicals, or other works.

Those who are insiders enough recognize the story lines and names, and I Edward Donegan am one such person.

Elsewhere I go into Mary Poppins in detail which is very important to free masons and free masons murders and the Bush family treason.

The story line of this book is that in 1902 King Edward VII showed Minimal Brain Dysfunction now called FOXP2 London KE Family language gene defect, grammar and spelling, ADHD, and some fine motor control likely tied to ADHD.

Following the Atalanta Revolutions of France and the USA and other nations Great Britain was in decline exactly as it faced radio and the speech defect.

Mary of Teck was Queen of the United Kingdom and the British Dominions, and Empress of India, from 6 May 1910 until 29 January 1936 was bred into the England's royal family and she added a spoon full of sugar to what had been heavy handed British rule.

George Walker Bush is the product of two family traditions, the Bushes and the Walkers including Bert Walker at the beginning of the 20th Century. On one side is the familiar patriarch Prescott Bush (1895-1972), the decorous Republican senator from Connecticut, the New England WASP, the pennant-waving Yale man. On the other side of his father's family stands a lesser-known patriarch, George Herbert Walker (1875-1953), the St. Louis buccaneer and raucous playboy.

In 1910 the British were concerned of the ebb of Great Britian by rebellions coming from India, Ireland, earlier the USA, and elsewhere.

The Special Relationship between the families of Great Britain really includes the Bush family. Though set in 1910s King Edward VII King George V Bert Walker Mary Teck time of England and banking, the movie was filmed in 1964 and contains 1964 descendants references.

A George Banks who seems to be George H.W. Bush and tied to Constable H 43 is part of a "Spoonful of sugar helps the medicine go down" which corresponds to Common friendly and Mary Teck. I also add that this relationship includes expanding the royal family line for Great Britain and also expanding the gene pool of the Royal Families with breading sleeper agents for the 21st Century JFK objected to but 1963 CIA George H.W. Bush, James Angleton, and others like Donald Barr wanted. It is Mary "pop ins" to commoner homes that is part of the new charm and lighter touch of rule.

Glorian Donegan was part of that gene pool having been out of wedlock Windsors fooling around and this is how my life ties to the JFK assassination, a witness as to why the Free Mason Deep State and anti communists killed JFK over illegal DNA experiments Donegan family included.

> The Secret Jewish History Of Mary Poppins
>
> Forward.com *
>
> the Sherman brothers, sons of Russian-Jewish immigrants, won two Grammys and two Academy Awards for their score to "Mary Poppins," which included such now-> classics as “A Spoonful of Sugar,”“Feed the Birds (Tuppence a Bag),” and “Chim Chim Cheree.” The brothers - Richard and Robert - were staff writers for numerous Walt Disney [CIA] films, including “Chitty Chitty Bang Bang,” “Charlotte’s Web,” and “The Jungle Book.” Perhaps their best-known song is “It’s a Small World (After All),” the theme of the 1964 New York World’s Fair, although their song “You’re Sixteen” could be equally famous, as it was first a Top 10 hit for Johnny Burnette in 1960 and then a chart-topping single in 1974, when it went all the way to the toppermost of the poppermost in a version by former Beatle Ringo Starr.

The 1964-1965 New York World’s Fair was a world’s fair that held over 140 pavilions and 110 restaurants, representing 80 nations (hosted by 37), 24 US states, and over 45 corporations with the goal and the final result of building exhibits or attractions at Flushing Meadows-Corona Park in Queens, New York City.[1][2][3] The immense fair covered 646 acres (2.61 km2) on half the park, with numerous pools or fountains, and an amusement park with rides near the lake. However, the fair did not receive official support or approval from the Bureau of International Expositions (BIE).

Hailing itself as a “universal and international” exposition, the fair’s theme was “Peace Through Understanding”, dedicated to “Man’s Achievement on a Shrinking Globe in an Expanding Universe”. American companies dominated the exposition as exhibitors. The theme was symbolized by a 12-story-high, stainless-steel model of the Earth called the Unisphere, built on the foundation of the Perisphere from the 1939 World’s Fair. The fair ran for two six-month seasons, April 22 - October 18, 1964, and April 21 - October 17, 1965.

Admission price for adults (13 and older) was $2.00 in 1964 (equivalent to $16.69 in 2020 after calculating for inflation). Admission in 1965 increased to $2.50 (equivalent to $20.53 in 2020 after calculating for inflation). In both years, children (2-12) admission cost $1.00 (equivalent to $8.34 in 2020 after calculating for inflation)

The fair is noted as a showcase of mid-twentieth-century American culture and technology. The nascent Space Age, with its vista of promise, was well represented. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia/

©NSAGov Willy Mary Teck from her Castle on the Clouds “pop in” to save George Banks (or is it George H.W. Bush in 1964, along with Bert the chimney sweep or Bert Walker head of Bush family, part of Prescott Bush story. https://g.co/kgs/vF2JT5 ©SecretService ©WebsterGTarpley

Will Mary Poppin from a Castle on the Clouds?

Mary Poppins

The Life I Lead sung by George Banks *

It’s grand to be an Englishman in 1910
King Edward’s on the throne;
It’s the age of men
I’m the lord of my castle
The sov’reign, the liege!
I treat my subjects: servants, children, wife
With a firm but gentle hand
Noblesse oblige!

> Edward VII (Albert Edward; 9 November 1841 - 6 May 1910) was King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the British Dominions, and Emperor of India, from 22 January 1901 until his death in 1910
>
> Mary of Teck (Victoria Mary Augusta Louise Olga Pauline Claudine Agnes; 26 May 1867 - 24 March 1953) was Queen of the United Kingdom and the British Dominions, and Empress of India, from 6 May 1910 until 29 January 1936 as the wife of King-Emperor George V

Mary Poppins is a 1964 American musical fantasy film directed by Robert Stevenson and produced by Walt Disney retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

There is that Julie Andews again (Sound of Music, many other films) who does not know her father is, but learns of it, and will not say but sings before the Queen of England.

Julie Andrews as Mary Poppins, a magical and loving woman who descends from the clouds in response to the Banks children's advertisement for a nanny. The Banks children-Jane, Michael, and the twins, John and Barbara-live at 17 Cherry-Tree Lane in London with their parents. When their nanny leaves, her replacement arrives one evening borne on the east wind. Mary Poppins is vain and often irritable, but within her stern exterior lurk all kinds of delightful wonder. When the wind is blowing from the West again she will disspaar back into the clouds.

[image]

Dick Van Dyke as Bert seems a One Man Band but is from the clouds of secret people who see all of London from the rooftops and get help to people like George W. Banks who in 1964 needs help!

Mary Popplins and the Overlord Chimenewy sweeps who see all and prevent wars including Britain against USA (East India Boston Harbor and run on British banks) and Ireland (rescuing Red Irish Fox from British hounds slaughter.)

Mary Poppins - Chim Chim Cheree Today Bert is a Screever who draws on a sidewalk in highest quality what sees from his rooftops. A Horse Racing Downs Mary will win and on her High Horse rescue the Red Coat Irish Fox from Hounds in Ireland, and other tasks of say A Queen.

Don't make it so complicated Bert [and Dorothy trying to click your heels together] Just step accross into the Enchanted Land. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=kG6O4N3wxf8

Schriever Air Force Base Branch: 101 Falcon Parkway Schriever Air Force Base, CO 80912 open since 1957

This will turn into a High Horse ride through Great Britain. "Throughout the Middle Ages it was customary for people of all classes and background to travel, often widely. The households of the upper classes and royal courts moved between manors and estates; the demands of diplomacy, war and crusades took men to distant countries"

War horses were more expensive than normal riding horses, and destriers the most prized, but figures vary greatly from source to source. Destriers are given a values ranging from seven times the price of an ordinary horse[3] to 700 times.[1] The Bohemian king Wenzel II rode a horse “valued at one thousand marks” in 1298.[6] At the other extreme, a 1265 French ordinance ruled that a squire could not spend more than twenty marks on a rouncey.[20] Knights were expected to have at least one war horse (as well as riding horses and packhorses), with some records from the later Middle Ages showing knights bringing twenty-four horses on campaign.

-From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia/”

George W. Banks is the British Banker, and seeing trouble in his house Bert and Mary will add their magic into the household. Is the wind blowing East to West or West to East?

He narrowly escapes being fired from the Great Britain located bank his father (perhaps Prescott Bush) had also worked for. He as a continuing non fired employee is under the influence of Mary Poppins theores on life and living and compassion.

Constable Jones is Scotland Yard police officer H 43 (perhaps former OSS) with Scotland Yard and is often seen patrolling the neighborhood where the Banks family lives. He appears to be a kind and dutiful man but shows a dislike for how Mr. Banks treats his family and servants.

George Herbert Walker Bush (June 12, 1924 - November 30, 2018) was an American politician, diplomat, and businessman who served as the 41st president of the United States from 1989 to 1993. A member of the Republican Party, Bush also served as the 43rd vice president from 1981 to 1989 under Ronald Reagan, in the U.S. House of Representatives, as U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, and as Director of Central Intelligence.

George Walker Bush (born July 6, 1946) is an American politician who served as the 43rd president of the United States from 2001 to 2009.

Kelly Jean Van Dyke (June 5, 1958 - November 17, 1991) was an American actress and adult film performer. She was the daughter of actor Jerry Van Dyke, niece of his brother the actor Dick Van Dyke, and first cousin once removed of Shane Van Dyke. As an actress, she was known for such television programs as My Mother the Car.

Kelly Van Dyke-Nance committed suicide on November 17, 1991. According to her younger brother Ronald, Jack Nance, who was in Bass Lake, California, filming Meatballs 4 at the time, attempted to console her on the phone as she talked about suicide. Unfortunately, a lightning storm knocked out the phones in Bass Lake, and subsequently it took over 45 minutes for Nance and director Bobby Logan to find a deputy sheriff. The sheriff contacted Los Angeles police and Nance's apartment manager. They broke in, finding that the 33-year-old Van Dyke had hanged herself.

Van Dyke was born on December 13, 1925, in West Plains, Missouri, to Hazel Victoria (née McCord; 1896-1992), a stenographer, and Loren Wayne "Cookie" Van Dyke (1898-1976), a salesman. He grew up in Danville, Illinois. He is the older brother of actor Jerry Van Dyke (1931-2018), who appeared as his brother in The Dick Van Dyke Show. Van Dyke is a Dutch surname, although he has English, Irish, and Scottish ancestry. His family line traces back to Mayflower passenger John Alden.

In his youth, Van Dyke considered a career in the ministry, although a drama class in high school convinced him to become a professional entertainer. Throughout his acting career he continued to teach Sunday school in the Presbyterian Church where he was an elder, and he continued to read such theologians as Martin Buber, Paul Tillich, and Dietrich Bonhoeffer.

"BERT ENTERTAINS A CROWD"

from Disney's Mary Poppins

All right, ladies and gents!

Comical poems suitable for the occasion …

…extemporized and thought up before your very eyes.

All right, here we go.

♫ Room here for everyone gather around ♫
The constable's "responstable."
Now, how does that sound?
clears throat

♫ Hello, Miss Lark I got one for you. ♫

Miss Lark likes to walk in the park with Andrew.
Hello, Andrew.

♫ Ah, Mrs. Cory a story for you. ♫
Your daughters were shorter than you, but they grew.

♫ Dear Miss Persimmon- ♫

[pausing in a concerned way]

♫ Wind's in the east, mist comin' in.
Like something is brewin' about to begin Can't put me finger on what lies in store
But I feel what's to happen,

all happened before. ♫ [Atomic war]

[returning more comfortable again]

I'm sorry. Where was I?

(BERT does "STEP IN TIME")

(silly Finale)

BANG!

COPYRIGHTS go to DISNEY!

https://www.smule.com/song/disneys-mary-poppins-dick-van-dyke-bert-entertains-a-crowd-scene-song-karaoke-lyrics/11198736_11198736/arrangement

George Bush: The Unauthorized Biography retrieved from By Webster Griffin Tarpley and Anton Chaitkink and copied or modified to here

[image]

WebsterGTarpley https://twitter.com/WebsterGTarpley

George Bush: The Unauthorized Biography By Webster Griffin Tarpley and

Anton Chaitkin

able of Contents

Introduction - American Caligula

Chapter 1 - The House of Bush: Born in a Bank

In the autumn of 1919, Prescott Bush made the acquaintance of Bert Walker's daughter Dorothy. [There is no place like home.] They were engaged the following year, and were married in August, 1921.14 Among the ushers and grooms at the elaborate wedding were Ellery S. James, Knight Woolley and four other fellow Skull and Bonesmen from the Yale Class of 1917.15 The Bush-Walker extended family has gathered each summer at the "Walker country home" in Kennebunkport, from this marriage of President Bush's parents down to the present day.

When Prescott married Dorothy, he was only a minor executive of the Simmons Co., railroad equipment suppliers, while his wife's father was building one of the most gigantic businesses in the world. The following year the couple tried to move back to Columbus, Ohio; there Prescott worked for a short time in a rubber products company owned by his father. But they soon moved again to Milton, Mass., after outsiders bought the little family business and moved it near there.

Thus Prescott Bush was going nowhere fast, when his son George Herbert Walker Bush-the future U.S. President-was born in Milton, Mass., on June 12, 1924.

Perhaps it was as a birthday gift for George, that “Bunny” Harriman stepped in to rescue his father Prescott from oblivion, bringing him into the Harriman-controlled U.S. Rubber Co. in New York City. In 1925 the young family moved to the town where George was to grow up: Greenwich, Connecticut, a suburb both of New York and of New Haven/Yale.

Then on May 1, 1926, Prescott Bush joined W.A. Harriman & Co. as its vice president, under the bank’s president, Bert Walker, his father-in-law and George’s maternal grandfather-the head of the family.

https://tenor.com/users/cchudso

Prescott Bush would demonstrate strong loyalty to the firm he joined in 1926. And the bank, with the scope and power of many ordinary nations, could amply reward its agents. George Bush’s Grandfather Walker had put the enterprise together, quietly, secretly, using all the international connections at his disposal. Let us briefly look back at the beginning of the Harriman firm-the Bush family enterprise-and follow its course into one of history's darkest projects.

From 1926, George's father Prescott Bush showed a fierce loyalty to the Harrimans and a dogged determination to advance himself; he gradually came to run the day-to-day operations of W.A. Harriman & Co. After the firm's 1931 merger with the British-American banking house Brown Brothers, Prescott Bush became managing partner of the resulting company: Brown Brothers Harriman. This was ultimately the largest and politically the most important private banking house in America.

Chapter 2 - The Hitler Project

Chapter 3 - Race Hygiene: Three Bush Family Alliances

Chapter 4 - The Center of Power is in Washington

Chapter 5 - Poppy and Mommy

Chapter 6 - Bush in World War II

Chapter 7 - Skull and Bones: The Racist Nightmare at Yale

Chapter 8 - The Permian Basin Gang

Chapter 8b - The Bay of Pigs and the Kennedy Assassination

Chapter 9 - Bush Challenges Yarborough for the Senate

Chapter 10 - Rubbers Goes to Congress

Chapter 11 - United Nations Ambassador, Kissinger Clone

Chapter 12 - Chairman George in Watergate

Chapter 13 - Bush Attempts the Vice Presidency, 1974

Chapter 14 - Bush in Beijing

Chapter 15 - CIA Director

Chapter 16 - Campaign 1980

Chapter 17 - The Attempted Coup D'Etat of March 30, 1981

Chapter 18 - Iran-Contra

Chapter 19 - The Leveraged Buyout Mob

Chapter 20 - The Phony War on Drugs

Chapter 21 - Omaha

Chapter 22 - Bush Takes the Presidency

Chapter 23 - The End of History

Chapter 24 - The New World Order

Chapter 25 - Thyroid Storm

This book

Mulholland Falls Analogy and MKULTRA COINTELRPO, MLKULTRA, tied to Ongoing Government Blunders with my DNA and DNA rights

The Switch is a 2010 American romantic comedy film formerly titled The Baster, [3] was inspired by the short story "Baster" by a preconditioning storyline writer named … Jeffrey Eugenides.

30-something Kassie Larson (Jennifer Aniston) is single, hasn't found love yet, and decides she wants to have a baby. Despite the objections of her long-time, best friend Wally Mars (Jason Bateman), she chooses to do so alone because she can't wait any longer. She also wants a face-to-face sperm donor, disdaining using a sperm bank.

Roland produces his sperm in the bathroom, leaving it in a sample cup.

Wally uses the bathroom and sees the sample. Drunk, Wally plays with the cup and accidentally spills it into the sink. Panicking, neurotic Roland replaces the sperm with his own.

Wally notices the strong personality and behavioral similarities between him and Sebastian (Kassie Larson's 7 year old) and realizes the result of the switch out sperm cups and the fertilization of Kassie Lorason (Jennifer Aniston) which occurred seven years earlier.

Rumor Has It (stylized as Rumor Has It …) is a 2005 American romantic comedy film directed by Rob

Reiner,

> The concept of the screenplay by Ted Griffin is that Sarah Huttinger, (Jennifer Aniston) learns that her mother and grandmother may be the inspiration for the 1963 novel The Graduate by Charles Webb.
>
> Sarah visits her mother's best friend, Aunt Mitzy, who confirms that Jocelyn spent time with their prep school classmate Beau Burroughs the week before her wedding to Sarah's father Earl, and that Beau was friends with Charles Webb, the author of the novel The Graduate.
>
> Jeff points out Sarah's parents were married just short of nine months before her birth, leading her to wonder if Beau might really be her biological father. Sarah also accuses her grandmother of being the inspiration for Mrs. Robinson, the older character who seduced the young man (in The Graduate)

My belief is that there is an alleged genealogy backstory of Barrack Obama Jr., and perhaps the Kelly NASA Twins. Marilyn Monroe, Glorian (Gainey) Donegan, Harold Gainey were North Carolina MISSING 3 children of Maria Augusta Kutschera by Prince Albert of York King George VI OR Prince Edward of Wales King Edward VIII. These lines cary a small gene, FOXP2 that Vienna and CIA and WIndsors were watching. Aug 4 1962 was ovum from Glorian used with Malcom X for Barrack Obama jr. Should a Legend be created by the FBI that he was a son of Marilyn Monroe, the white mother, photos were created with RFK, others backing the event. Marilyn backed out and she was murdered at that time, the staged Aug 4 1962 Birthday of Barrack Obama Jr.

This occurred during atomic testing my father and mother wre involved in during the Manhattan Project.

> November 19 1961 the day after my and Barrack Obama Jr.s birth and day of Birth Certificate.

> The Misfits move release and death of Clark Gabel November 19 1961. John Housing directing, Divinic birthday

> November 18 1962 Cheney and Bush of Zapata Oil likely join plan

> August 4 1962 Marilyn dead, RFK in the area, likely staging possible time-line of birthday party with Obama Jr.

> August 5 1962 Malcolm X invited to meet with black civil rights lawyer

> The Bush Cheney Zapata Oil faction of Boston Cape Cod are at odds with JFK and later RFK over assassination and moles.

My guess is #MalcomX approached #MarilynMonroe as Barrack Obama Jr. parents. Instead, Madelyn Lee Payne and Stanley Armour Dunham or more likely, Marylin Monroe met her nephew and was going to talk.

Atomic Testing exposes soldiers to a blast. General Timms in command of the Atomic Proving Grounds of the Atomic Energy Commission is on horse. He and the other soldiers, most of foot, will die of cancer.

Colonel Nathan Fitzgerald the colonel responsible for security will kill a call girl who saw the cancer victims.

It's lonely in the Department of Defense Palms Springs Las Vegas desert area, but a call girl is present. Later that same free spirited call girl will be freed from her pimps, also at the pool party by a cop from the Four Hats and they will fall in love and a story arc develops tying the anti mafia cops into the Atomic Proving grounds, and the murders covering up the cancer secrets.

In Donegan's case it is illegal use of DNA never authorized by speech therapist CIA and FBI, DuPonts, Kellog X Kellex and others.

The world's first nuclear explosion occurred on July 16, 1945, when a plutonium implosion device was tested at a site located 210 miles south of Los Alamos, New Mexico, on the barren plains of the Alamogordo Bombing Range, known as the Jornada del Muerto. Inspired by the poetry of John Donne, J. Robert Oppenheimer code-named the test "Trinity." Hoisted atop a 100-foot tower, the plutonium device, or "Gadget," detonated at precisely 5:30 a.m. over the New Mexico desert.

Mulholland Falls Movie Analogy

[image]

General Thomas Timms

GEneral Tims is Atomic Proving Grounds Atomic Energy Commission military base general and played by John Malcovich. His security officials is Colonel Fitzgerald played by Treat Williams. Radiation exposure victims (Atomic Veterans) are dying at the base and kept secret as a military secret

Allison Pond

Allison Pond (portrayed by Jennifer Connelly) is a free-spirited young woman in 1950's California who tragically is murdered in the film 'Mulholland Falls'. While in a relationship with a general in charge of atomic tests in the desert, Allison stumbles upon secrets - and sufferings - being hidden as a result of those tests, something that leads someone to murder her by throwing her from a plane. Investigating her murder is the L.A.P.D.'s 'Hat Squad', a group of intrepid detectives who get much more leeway in their methods and their cases because they get results. Heading that squad is Det. Max Hoover (Nick Nolte), who happens to be a former lover of Allison's. Determined to find her killer, he and his squad confront Federal and military roadblocks determined to keep them from getting to the truth. In the end, Hoover discovers Allison was murdered to keep from blowing the whistle on human testing of radiation sickness, and avenges her by disposing of her killers.

How Kodak Exposed The Atomic Bomb on Youtube Veritasium 11.5M subscribers. Kodack from paper in airplanes know photographic film and lit radium instruments of unlit cockpits fogged and contaminated photographic paper. but in Indiana they found Cerium-141 contamination at their papermills. At Any Price blackmail and Kodack? That began at much like my recon film my father used might have been affected by. When Allison Pond was Xrayd an ankle was image was fogged and the coroner realized radioctive glass fragment

Colonel Nathan Fitzgerald

Treat Williams as Colonel Nathan Fitzgerald. The blackmailer using Allison Pond call seductress secret sex tapes turns out to be Fitzgerald, who demands the film of Base General Timms with Allison be brought to him. Hoover realizes that Fields' film footage of Allison also includes images of "atomic soldiers", American servicemen who were unwillingly used by Fitzgerald as guinea pigs for A-bomb tests before being transferred to a secure military hospital ward on his orders; the colonel intends to let them die so he can avoid being held accountable. Hoover and Coolidge fly to the base, and secretly deliver the film to Timms, who is terminally ill with cancer himself, so he can expose Fitzgerald's wrongdoing.

Lieutenant Max Hoover Team Leader of Four Hats

Lieutenant Maxwell Hoover, and his partners Coolidge, Hall, and Relyea are brought in to investigate the suspicious death of a young woman whose body was found at a construction site. An examination reveals that every bone in her body is broken and the coroner comments that she looks as though she “jumped off a cliff” even though there are no cliffs nearby. The woman turns out to be someone Hoover knew very well: a prostitute named Allison Pond. The detectives receive a film of Allison having sex in a motel room, taken by a camera hidden behind a two-way mirror. Allison’s friend, Jimmy Fields, admits that he and Allison made numerous such films, including one with Hoover in it.

The Four Hats - Can they chase Frank Sinatra or Peter Laweforf?

Hoover (Nick Nolte) is part of an LA group of anti-mob police unit that plays rough using dirty tricks to push the invading Chicago Mob back to Chicago. This is a real LAPD group of the 1950s and ’60s. Despite the name Hoover, or using the name Max Hoover, Hoover is at odds with the FBI Director who at the time was J. Edgar Hoover who was covering for the Atomic Energy Commission and its problems with the dark secret of radiation victims.

Miami Vice Yerkovich has indicated he devised the concept after learning about asset forfeiture statutes allowing law enforcement agencies to confiscate the property of drug dealers for official use. Two automobiles drew a lot of attention in Miami Vice, the Ferrari Daytona and Testarossa.

In an average episode, Crockett and Tubbs wore five to eight outfits,[2][4] appearing in shades of pink, blue, green, peach, fuchsia, and the show's other "approved" colors.[4] Designers such as Vittorio Ricci, Gianni Versace, and Hugo Boss were consulted in keeping the male leads looking trendy.[2][4] Costume designer Bambi Breakstone, who traveled to Milan, Paris, and London in search of new clothes, said that, "The concept of the show is to be on top of all the latest fashion trends in Europe."[4] Jodi Tillen, the costume designer for the first season, along with Michael Mann, set the style. The abundance of pastel colors on the show reflects Miami's Art-deco architecture.

The Squad the Bad Guys Feared : Hat-Wearing Foursome Was Legendary at LAPD

Four young, impeccably dressed men-in dark, tailor-made, single-breasted suits, wide-brimmed hats, and polished shoes-piled out and approached a hot dog stand. All were well over six feet tall and collectively they weighed more than half a ton.

"They were the most impressive group I ever knew in my 25 years with the department," said Joe Deiro, a retired LAPD detective. "They were tough with criminals but very compassionate people, respected in the underworld."

The squad was led by Max Herman Sr. The others were Clarence A. (Red) Stromwall, Harold N. Crowder and Edward F. Benson. - LA Times *

Clean Hats or Dirty Hats surrounding Edward Paul Donegan?

- Clean Hats : Encouraged by RICO Asset Seizures from criminals for Police Use Clean Hats policing can seize assets from dirty criminals and use the assets for themselves in their lives as they infiltrate criminal networks looking like glamorous nightclub mobsters

- Dirty Hats : Can seize assets from legitimate nightclub acts and stars by framing the legitimate nightclub acts so the Dirty police can then get a night club ticket and bankroll for themselves illegally but also encouraged bhy RICO asset seizures law, a longtime fear of wrongfully motivated government acting under RICO seizures laws

FBI Special Agent Jeffrey McCafferty

Representing the Director of the FBI (in fact J. Edgar Hoover would have been that person)

The FBI agent visits the LAPD and personally asks the chief to stop the investigation; when his request is denied, Hoover's (Nolte) house is ransacked by federal agents with a search warrant, who fail to recover the film of Hoover with Allison Pond (Jennifer Connelly who also had an affair with the general in charge of the test site). Hoover then brutally assaults the FBI agent, after which another film is delivered to his wife Kate, showing her husband and Allison having sex in the motel.

Colonel Nathan Fitzgerald

Treat Williams as Colonel Nathan Fitzgerald. The Colonel assigned to security he is using the tape of married LAPD Officer Hoover with Allison Pond while in fact Hoover wa married but Hoover had chosen to keep the sorrow of his affair as his own guilt and not make his wife carry extra pain from it.

General Thomas Times

He gives speeches about the need for a few to die so more might live. Timms drops names like the upcoming meeting he has with the Secretary of Defense and notes like the Four Hats anti crime squad his team needs to break some rules to ensure all are protected

Comparisons to real life persons

	Silence Witness to Atomic Research Area secrets	Silence	J. Edgar Hoover Top USA Brass	Region resistar to Radiat Mafia CIA Hits by J. Edgar Hoover	Cancer Ward Exosu Victim	Assasinations and Psychological Warfare military official
Movi	Alliso Pond	Defen Intelli Agenc CIA, Dept of Energ US Military including Air	Same in movie real life, J. Edgar Hoove	Lt Ma Hoove and the Four Hats and LAPD Police Chief	Cance patien in milita medic buildi being hidde from public	Colonel Nathan Fitzgerald who reports to Timms but even more so sees

		Force				his mission as a duty higher in command than Tims is
Real Life	Jen Moore	Same, pluse Holde Mache Jr, Rosen Chene NDAA Fusion Centers	Same in movie real life, J Edgar Hoove	Ted Gunde LA and Dallas Field Office RICO Assistant to RFK Attorney General, assistant on assassination of JFK, Jim Garrison, trial of Clay Shaw	Doneg and secret DNA histor and testin	Colonel Oliver North, Pegasus, Contras, Death Squads

Which character are you in Mulholland Falls?

It will turn out Allison Pond (and perhaps JFK) were murdered when the nuclear weapons facility decided any threat to the program including the dirty secrets Allison Pond found out about a cancer outbreak need to be suppressed by murders including Allison Pond because she was close with both the General of the base AND the LAPD Four Hats unit leader.

The Day the Fish Came Out (film 1967)

Fictional, the movie about the time of the Robert F. Kennedy assassination is conceptually very important

The film, set in 1972, was inspired by an actual incident which occurred on 17 January 1966: a B-52G Stratofortress collided with a KC-135 Stratotanker over Palomares, Spain, and four B-28 FI 1.45-megaton-range hydrogen bombs aboard the B-52 were briefly lost.

Life on the remote Greek fictional resort island of Karos is forever changed when atomic bombs are dropped there by a NATO plane rapidly losing power. Life on the island is so bleak that the inhabitants stage a mass exodus on news that Denmark has opened Greenland to Greek emigration. The pilots drop their payload - which includes two atomic weapons and a mysterious box called simply “Container Q”

The pilot and navigator of the lost bomber scour the island like vagabonds. Unknown to the pilots, the Americans have already deployed their own operation: a team of agents disguised as resort developers. The pilots are unaware of the fact that American agents are also on the island searching for their cargo.

The significance of the plot is that MKULRA is covering up military industrial CIA assassinations and long term operations by using espionage teams to target locations and people who pose an informational threat to US misconduct and assassinations including overthrow of the US Government and its elected offices by the Military Industrial Complex.

Quote retrieved from National Association of Atomic Veterans and copied or modified to here

National Association of Atomic Veterans, Inc.

(A Non-profit Veteran's Assistance Organization)

The NAAV Mission Purpose

NAAV was founded in August, 1979 by the late Orville E. Kelly (of Burlington, Iowa) for the purposes of allowing the U. S. Atomic Veteran Community to speak, with a single voice, to their inability to get a fair hearing related to their developing (radiogenic) health issues that may have been precipitated by their exposure to "ionizing" radiation while participating in a nuclear weapon test detonation, or a "post-test" event. From the beginning, and to date, we continue to pursue our purpose to this dedicated cause.

Who is an Atomic Veteran

Atomic Veterans were members of the United States Armed Forces who participated in atmospheric and underwater nuclear weapons tests from 16 July, 1945 to 30 October 1962. They also include veterans who were assigned to post test duties, such as “ground zero” nuclear warfare maneuvers & exercises, removing radiation cloud samples from aircraft wing pods, working in close proximity to radiated test animals, de-contamination of aircraft and field test equipment, retrieval and transport of test instruments & devices, and a host of other duty assignments that provided an opportunity for a radiation exposure & contamination event.

Also included are military personnel who were a part of the Occupation Forces assigned to Hiroshima and Nagasaki, Japan soon after the detonation of Atomic-Bombs over those respective cities, and those American prisoners of war (POW’s) who were housed in close proximity to those cities. These Veterans fit the VA’s “official” description of an Atomic-Veteran.

There is a second group of veterans who may have been involved in radiation exposure events. These include post test events related to nuclear weapon devices detonated underground or in shafts (after 1962) that may have provided a radiation exposure event, or those who’s duties involved regular use of radiation producing equipment or processes, such as power plant technicians aboard nuclear powered Aircraft Carriers and Submarines, X-ray technicians, and those veterans assigned to the Enewetak Atoll radiation clean-up projects. These veterans fit the VA’s “official” description as Occupational radiation exposed veterans.

The U. S. Nuclear Weapons Testing Program

There were more than one million U.S. Armed Forces personnel, civilian scientists and engineering technicians involved in the detonation of nuclear & thermonuclear weapon devices, from 16 July 1945 (the “Trinity” test at Alamogordo, NM.) to 23 September, 1992 (the last test in the “Julin” series at the Nevada Test Site). The United States has sponsored a total of 1,054 nuclear weapons tests, and detonated two of these weapons over enemy soil during an act of war.

During this period of time there were 1,147 actual nuclear (aka “bomb”) tests. Some of these nuclear and thermonuclear detonations failed to produce any noticeable explosion, either by design, or due to mechanical or electrical faults. Several of these tests, by official definition, were actually multiple detonations, two or more at the same time, designed for gathering specific data & information or for instrument calibration purposes.

In Dedication to Jen Moore chapter I explain the manufacture and plant of dirt for usage cover up of Atomic Veterans being abused.

To Whistle blower Jen Moore - Her self sacrifice to protect an Atomic Veteran family from Free Masons, and from what? retrieved from Dirty Acts in Coverup war and copied or modified to here

I believe DARPA, the CIA, and others are trying to use mercenary, even race based assaults upon me and my mother in a Gagntalkt to coverup espionage mistakes history against my family

“Race, Sex Offender, or Atomic Veteran?” Ploy

Espionag Agencies Targeting of me

The mistakes NWO MKULTRA are covering up

Public Hatred of White Supremacy

Public Hatred of Pedophiles

Public Support of Atomic Veterans

Seizing Genes on the basi of White Supremacism for use with vulnerable populations who are threatend by the White

Planting that evidence as Black Nationalism to provoke retaliation legal and social claims and as Character Assassination

Permissions were never given to my mother's Genome during Manahttan Project, Targeted now for use and fake permissions, secret projects dispersing them

Blacks have been punching me all my life, physically, air punch, attitude, or discriminatory treatment of me starting a fight I never understood

Tot and Teen Abuse Ring created around me I am not in Sidney Gottlieb huh?

I might die in this fight or end up in a homeless shelter a victim of unprovoked attacks because others are incited against me on manufactured "Legend" (false back-stories about me)

I might die in this fight or end up in a homeless shelter

DARPA, The CIA, FBI, DOJ who misused DNA and Free Masons may die in this fight over their illegal and unethical conduct.

predicates for assaults

MKUTRA, Race Wars, and the Manhatan Project

I am a Targeted Individual of Targeted Gangstalking of state backed criminal assailants attacking me with not only impunity but State backing and State pay for the criminal assailants of me

Underneath all of this has been secret tapping of genome into Illuminati and SJW causes by excuse against me, or deceit of my father and mother. I believe the IVF of me made him the Manchurian Candidate whose lab fertilization of me also was used to create Barack Obama

My father and mother had their DNA misused during the Cold War and espionage agencies are now targeting me illegal with violent assaults from Donegan DNA, and other Illuminati projects use of that DNA as well.

The truck has pink gay tom, Blue Obama, and brown Ed Donegan paint. Leprechaun is a 1993 American horror film written and directed by Mark Jones. It stars Warwick Davis in the title role, and Jennifer Aniston in her film debut. Davis plays a vengeful leprechaun who believes a family has stolen his pot of gold. As he hunts them, they attempt to locate his gold to vanquish him.

Edward Paul Donegan on twitter https://twitter.com/EddoneganB responding to https://twitter.com/©sokol_andrea

> Those in Social Control, Gov/Media Deep State, create appearances in public which get big rich crime boss families off the hook. Obtuse acts, not acute statements > of exact meaning. Obtuse gestures around me I am authorizing my DNA, using it for bills (of others) NOT true though

That is one message of the Gangstalk in the public appearances being created before the public and with break-ins of my apartment Also the message is Ed is harrasing tots and avoid him, ostracize him, in other words the Slander Campaign against me is old school OSS Psychological Warfare painting me as an evil or fool before the public.

> Abuse of Process
>
> An abuse of process is the unjustified or unreasonable use of legal proceedings or process to further [some desired outcome] via a cause of action by an applicant or plaintiff in an action. A is a claim made by the respondent or defendant that the other party is misusing or perverting regularly issued court process and may include an assertion the Plaintiff is attempting Deep Pockets lawfare on invalid facts OR the trumped up action is based in politics and the allegations are brought only to smear on faulty facts alone
>
> In Law creating false pretext (police planting drugs] or an act of proccess such as an arrest is abusing the procces of arresting supsects
>
> A police officer may break a taillight on a car to later pull over the vehicle and question the occupants abusing the normal patrolling processes
>
> In Ethics a person may be told to avoid someone; however, the reality is the person being slandered is merely the victim of a smear campaign

I assert I am an honest person with adult erotic interests in adults and adults only and the dishonest people are using a baseless smear campaign to beat me out to normal reproductive age women

State Use of a Smear campaign in Ethics is also a matter of Law. Police backed activity in this area Conspires Against My Rights under COlow of Law

Eisenhower's farewell address

Now this conjunction of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry is new in the American experience. The total influence-economic, political, even spiritual-is felt in every city, every Statehouse, every office of the Federal government. We recognize the imperative need for this development. Yet, we must not fail to comprehend its grave implications. Our toil, resources, and livelihood are all involved. So is the very structure of our society.

In the councils of government [National Space Council?], we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military-industrial complex. The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist. We must never let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable citizenry can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of defense with our peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together. [1]

> Akin to, and largely responsible for the sweeping changes in our industrial-military posture, has been the technological revolution during recent decades.
>
> In this revolution, research has become central, it also becomes more formalized, complex, and costly. A steadily increasing share is conducted for, by, or at the direction of, the Federal government.
>
> …
>
> The prospect of domination of the nation's scholars by Federal employment, project allocation, and the power of money is ever present and is gravely to be regarded.
>
> Yet in holding scientific discovery in respect, as we should, we must also be alert to the equal and opposite danger that public policy could itself become the captive of a scientific-technological elite

The Bush family, Sotleibs, Dulles brothers, Kelly brothers, Kraft and DuPont, others in media and law, religion.

Take MKULTRA, Universities, Media, Science, and US DOD Contracting all together as overalays creating a CIA funded adult entertainer Swallow Raven system in which false confessions of what Edward Donegan has done are taken from an impersonator of Edward Donegan which has the affect of > Limiting his normal life as he is blamed for what a Crisis Actor did as a peeper who also later confessed as Edward Donegan, agreeing to to pay-up Edward DOnegan's DNA in to a legitmate Law Enforcement Intelligence Asset Seizure under the NDAA

>
> - Using ESpionage based impersonators to get Edward Donegan blamed and shunned in society and kept in SKid

Row non white skid row institutions

The Espionage Eco System surrounding Edward Donegan

https://www.spymuseum.org retrieved from Language of Espionage and copied or modified to here

Babysitter

Bodyguard to someone or something or to the operation itself like Nicky Parsons (Julia Styles character) keeping the operation to find Bourne under wraps

Bagman

An agent who pays spies and bribes authorities

Agent

A person unofficially employed by an intelligence service, often as a source of information

Vocabulary.com retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Agent-in-Place, “Placed Individual”

A government employee who is influenced to cooperate with a foreign government instead of defecting; now working for two employers instead of one

Agent-of-Influence

A person who works within the government or media of a target country to influence national policy

Asset

A clandestine source or method, usually an agent

Black Bag Job

Secret entry into a home or office to steal or copy materials such as my underwear or sheets to be planted elsewhere of KOMPROMAT placed in my hone during my abscense.

200 Material Witness to the Felony Protection Racket undermining me not protecting me

I have a very long term history and continuing experience of losing fights I did not start, in sidewalks, stores and the legal system giving me long term record of misdemeanors tied to conduct of “double dumb ass on you” statements to various people, etc.,

I have traced the provocations to something I analogize to > Mulholland Falls, not to be confused with the 2001 film Mulholland Drive. From Wikipedia, the free

encyclopedia

Treat Williams as Colonel Fitzgerald

Cleanup of Espionage (Manhattan Project in my case) by Espionage hits as needed to save the bosses

In a US Federal Prison with the Department of Defense US Public Health Commissioned Corps medical staff I sat in a small prison cell and began to feel a pinging and burning. as my meal plate was delivered. The entire situation was bizzare as I was under arrest on a misdemeanor “harassing and annoying’ calls to a National Institute of Health/HhS Freedom of Information Act Officer regarding genetics research of the Human Genome Program.

I moved both the mattress and meal under the steal bed and my white underwear began to get burns on the cloth which fit the 1 inch round holes in the steal prison bed foundation round holes patter. I moved the mattress into the shower area and told others there was something wrong, I think I felt some kind of radiation burn as my skin turned red.

I was placed in a psych ward and watched from there, on TV, Barrack Obama being sworn into office with my vising mother and brother in the North Carolina psychiatric hospital, delusional it was said I had been exposed to radiation. My brother hid the underwear I was offering as proof and he had also hid DNA and photos from my mother.

In Mulholland Falls and the The Bourne Identity series these are characters who are trying to brind down those who could compromise the Espionage Gone

Wrong of their agencies, really in both cases the CIA with the CIA working with DAPRA and Atomic Energy

The Bourne Identity - Logistics coordinator, Niky Parsons (Julia Stiles) handled many technical tasks during Treadstone missions. In The Bourne Identity, she was responsible for many smaller tasks, such as printing wanted posters for Bourne and his traveling partner (later girlfriend), Marie Helena Kreutz, and operating a switchboard through which calls to and from Treadstone's base were filtered. She also handled more important tasks, such as being commanded to cover up the very public death of an agent, the agent killed himself by jumping out a window to escape Bourne after Bourne beat him severely (although she specifically says that she couldn't because it was public and in Paris). Essentially, her job as logistics coordinator involved managing the technical details of Treadstone missions and cleaning up collateral damage.

Mulholland Falls Gen. Timms (John Malkovich), kingpin of U.S. atomic testing, who saw the girl on the last weekend of her life. And Timms, in turn, is connected to the unbending Col. Fitzgerald (Treat Williams) will kill the woman and other witnesses to the goings on at the facility).

This book is largely about Abuse of Power, Abuse of Power as Criminal Harassment Under Color of Law, and that authority abused by Masonry is intimidation, harassment, or illegal operations against witnesses to Masons misconduct; here, I allege Masons use of assassinations in the US to conceal CIA cover MKULTRA operations and eliminate victims of covert operations.

What is the difference between fiction and life if fiction is plausible? This book poses that the Boston Marathon Bombing was a cover-up during mulit-suspect mass crowd event and that a black US Dpet of Defense employee at the JFK library fire may have been in an operation to destroy evidence that the JFK library.

Afterburn is another one where the wife of a dead air force pilot had to fight the military industrial complex

[image]

In this fact-based film, Ted Harduvel (Vincent Spano), one of the finest pilots employed by the U.S. Air Force, is enlisted to perform test flights for a new model of the F-16 plane. When Ted dies after his jet goes down, the military's official report claims that the cause of the accident was human error. But Ted's spouse, Janet (Laura Dern), refuses to believe this, and so investigates. As Janet digs deeper into the case, a disturbing military conspiracy slowly becomes apparent.

Afterburn is a 1992 drama film written and produced for television, based on a true story where one woman takes on the United States military and General Dynamics, manufacturer of the F-16 jet fighter aircraft that took her husband's life. The docudrama starred Laura Dern, Robert Loggia, and Vincent Spano. The film's name is derived from the "Afterburner" bar where the central character (Janet Harduvel), who works as a waitress, met her future husband, a setting that forms the focus of the first part of the film.

On November 15, 1982, Janet Harduvel (Laura Dern) is devastated by the news of the death of her husband Ted (Vincent Spano) who flew as a United States Air Force pilot in one of the world's most sophisticated fighter aircraft, the General Dynamics F-16 Fighting Falcon.[N 1] She is stymied in finding out the truth behind his crash in Korea and takes on the US military and General Dynamics, maker of the F-16. With the help of her lawyer, Leo Morrone (Robert Loggia), and her sister Mary (Welker White), Harduvel begins the long process of unraveling the lies and deception that are behind a joint military and General Dynamics cover-up that blames the accident on pilot error. Despite setbacks, she proves to be unwavering in her search for the truth to clear his name and uncover the deadly secret buried in the F-16.

The technical issues that are dealt with in Afterburn is that the F-16 "Viper"[N 4] is entirely reliant on its electrical systems to relay flight commands as well as digital instrument reading, instead of traditional analog instruments and mechanically-linked controls, leading to the early moniker of "the electric jet".[10] In Capt. Harduvel's final mission, he relied on his faulty instrument reading that showed him close to terrain, but did not indicate that he was upside down and his "pull out" actually propelled him at full power, inverted, into a hillside.[5] General Dynamics was aware of a potential problem of wiring becoming chafed by the high-G forces inherent in the F-16's flight envelope, and had a maintenance advisory issued.

A dramatic tension was created with Harduvel pitted against the secrets buried deep in the miles-long wiring that eventually was proved to be the reason for a series of F-16 crashes. Principal photography took place in southern California, although the production had no access to USAF bases, the ingenious use of a solitary "mocked-up" F-16 fighter and USAF fighters created by the special effects team of Stargate Films, were seamlessly blended into the film.[9] A number of evocative images by Isidore Mankofsky of the F-16 are used for effect, later to be recognized by an Emmy nomination for his cinematography. Also notable is the music by Stewart Copeland, best-known to the public as the drummer for the British band The Police, but who also was a very successful composer with an extensive career in films and TV productions.

subject matter retrieved from Find a grave memorial and copied or modified to here

[image] [image]

Capt Theodore Harduvel JR. 8th Tactical Fighter wing was killed November 16th when his F-16 Fighting Falcon crashed near Taejon, Korea during a low level training mission. Captain Harduvel was a member of the Wolfpack fighter wing since 1982, he received a Bachelor of Science degree in Physics from the University of Illinois. He received his commision in 1971 after graduating from the Air Force Academy. He was a distinguished graduate. He was a F-4 Commander and Instuctor pilot at Macdill Air Force Base. and held the possition of flight examiner at Hahn AFB Germany. He was weapons Officer at Macdill AFB for the F-16 Unit. His awards include Air Force Commander Medal, Combat Readiness Medal, Outstanding Unit Award, National Defense Medal, Air Force Longevity with two oak leaf clusters and the Small Arms Marksmanship Medal, he also won the Top Gun Medal in 1982. He was going to be promoted to Major several months after his Korea tour. He is survived by his wife Janet L. and daughter Christina J.

If you consider me the son of an air force pilot abused in DNA studies as analogous to the air force wife, in my case the defense contractors of big business are not only failing to come clean they are trying a hit on me from the offices they and their church groups hold.

If the analogy were to hold the Janet Harduvel would be assaulted as she walked down the street, then arrested for being “off her meds” for reporting the assaults, people would make statements to her “Good thing we took LSD and sold secretes to the Russians last night. I hope we can keep our clearances with the Veterans Administration” etc., which would undermine her reason for investigating the big wigs and undermine her credibility.

Harduvels wife a Prophet?

“Star Goddess” Janet Sciales retrieved from Janet Sciales profiled in St. Petersburg Times by Gary P. Posner and copied or modified to here

The May 9 St. Petersburg Times showcased local astrologer Janet Sciales in an article entitled, “To Lutz woman, the stars tell life’s story.” Sciales, who is billed as the “Star Goddess” on her highly rated, every-other-Monday radio appearance on FM 98.7’s The Freak Show, has been Tampa Bay’s most prominent astrologer for at least as long as Tampa Bay Skeptics has been around.

Ironically, Sciales was among the inaugural TBS members upon our founding in 1988. I had arranged to see her at her office one Monday that summer, with an invitation to address the second meeting of TBS. Not only did Sciales enthusiastically accept, she handed over a check for membership, explaining that while she knew from experience that “astrology” was real, she agreed with TBS’s philosophy with regard to “psychic” power and the rest of the pseudosciences. (In later years I would occasionally see her billed as a “psychic astrologer.”)

I had previously seen Sciales on television a number of times. So, the night before that Monday encounter, I was struck by her resemblance to the woman featured in Diane Sawyer’s 60 Minutes story about the widow of an Air Force “Top Gun” pilot whose F-16 had crashed into a mountain in South Korea. The widow, Janet Harduvel, had won a multi-million-dollar jury award in 1987 against General Dynamics, alleging a flight instrumentation malfunction due to frayed wiring as the cause of the crash. The verdict would ultimately be overturned, not on its merits, but on the basis that federal defense contractors enjoy blanket immunity from such lawsuits.

When I mentioned the uncanny resemblance, Sciales acknowledged that she was indeed Janet Sciales Harduvel (her personal story is detailed in the recent Times article). She then went on to regale me with an anecdote about how, in the process of becoming friends with Diane Sawyer, she predicted, through astrology, that Sawyer would soon fall in love with a man of Germanic descent. Indeed, Sawyer would shortly thereafter meet and ultimately marry director Mike Nichols.

Google knowledge panel retrieved from Mike Nichols and copied or modified to here

Mike Nichols was an American film and theater director, producer, actor, and comedian. He was noted for his ability to work across a range of genres and for his aptitude for getting the best out of actors regardless of their experience. Wikipedia

Born: November 6, 1931, Berlin, Germany Died: November 19, 2014, Manhattan, New York, NY Spouse: Diane Sawyer (m. 1988-2014), Children: Max Nichols, Daisy Nichols, Jenny Nichols

Sciales also told me that she had prevailed upon her attorneys to time certain crucial legal actions, such as the filing of papers with the court, based upon the astrological charts. And she credited such timing with her successful jury trial outcome (despite her defeat on appeal). Though the Times article does not mention that, it does contain another anecdote that Sciales did not tell me: She supposedly had been forewarned by the stars that she was destined to be widowed, and, more specifically, that something terrible would happen to her husband on that final mission. Yet, as compelling as that anecdote is, all mention of astrology had been deliberately kept out of the 60 Minutes program.

In 1966, Warner Brothers invited Nichols to direct his first film, Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?, starring Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton. The groundbreaking film inspired some critics to declare Nichols the "new Orson Welles". It won five Academy Awards (out of 13 nominations) and was the top-grossing film of 1966. His next film, The Graduate (1967), starred then unknown actor Dustin Hoffman and Anne Bancroft. It was another critical and financial success, became the highest-grossing film of the year, and received seven Academy Award nominations, winning Nichols the Academy Award for Best Director. Among the other films Nichols directed were Catch-22 (1970), Carnal Knowledge (1971), Silkwood (1983), Working Girl (1988), Postcards from the Edge (1990) The Birdcage (1996), Primary Colors (1998), Closer (2004) and Charlie Wilson's War (2007). Nichols also was known for work on television directing HBO's Wit (2001) with Emma Thompson and Angels in America (2003) starring Meryl Streep.

Warner Bros. Entertainment Inc. (commonly known as Warner Bros.[a] and abbreviated as WB) is an American diversified multinational mass media and entertainment conglomerate headquartered at the Warner Bros. Studios complex in Burbank, California, and a subsidiary of AT&T's WarnerMedia through its Studios & Networks division. Founded in 1923 by four brothers Harry,

Albert, Sam, and Jack Warner, the company established itself as a leader in the American film industry before diversifying into animation, television, and video games, and is one of the “Big Five” major American film studios, as well as a member of the Motion Picture Association (MPA).

In 1903, Harry’s brothers, Abe and Sam, began to exhibit The Great Train Robbery at carnivals across Ohio and Pennsylvania. In 1905, Harry sold his bicycle shop and joined his brothers in their fledgling film business.[24] With the money Harry made from selling the bicycle shop, the three brothers were able to purchase a building in New Castle, Pennsylvania. They would use this building to establish their first theater, the Cascade.[25] The Cascade was so successful that the brothers were able to purchase a second theater in New Castle.[26] This makeshift theatre, called the Bijou, was furnished with chairs borrowed from a local undertaker.

In 1907, the Warners expanded the business further and purchased fifteen theaters in Pennsylvania. Harry, Sam, and Albert then formed a new film exchange company, The Duquesne Amusement Supply Company,[26] and rented an office in the Bakewell building in downtown Pittsburgh.[26] Harry sent Sam to New York to purchase, and ship, films for their Pittsburgh exchange company,[26] while he and Albert remained in Pittsburgh to run the business.[26] In 1909, the brothers sold the Cascade Theater and established a second film exchange company in Norfolk, Virginia. Harry agreed to let younger brother Jack be a part of the company, sending him to Norfolk to serve as Sam’s assistant.[28] A serious problem threatened the Warners’ film company with the advent of Thomas Edison’s Motion Picture Patents Company (also known as the Edison Trust), which charged distributors exorbitant fees.[29] In 1910, the Warners sold the family business to the General Film Company for “$10,000 in cash, $12,000 in preferred stock, and payments over a four-year period for a total of $52,000”.

After they sold their business, Harry and his three brothers joined forces with independent filmmaker Carl Laemmle’s Independent Motion Picture Company, and began distributing films from his Pittsburgh film exchange division. In 1912, the brothers earned a $1,500 profit with the film Dante’s Inferno. In the wake of this success, Harry and the brothers broke with Laemmle and established their own film production company.[31] They named their new company Warner Features.[32] Once Warner Features was established, Harry acquired an office in New York with his brother Albert, sending Sam and Jack to run the new corporation’s film exchange divisions in San Francisco and Los Angeles.[33] In 1917, Harry won more capital for the studio when he was able to negotiate a deal with Ambassador James W. Gerard to make Gerard’s book My Four Years In Germany into a film.

In 1918, after the success of My Four Years In Germany, the brothers were able to establish a studio near Hollywood, California.[29] In the new Hollywood studio, Sam became co-head of production along with his younger brother, Jack.[35] They were convinced that they would have to make movies themselves if they were to ever generate a profit. Between the years 1919 and 1920, the studio did not turn a profit.[36] During this time, banker Motley Flint, who was, unlike most bankers at the time, not anti-semitic, helped the brothers pay off their debts.[36] The four brothers then decided to relocate their studio from Culver City, California to the Sunset Boulevard section of Hollywood.

During this time, Warner decided to focus on making only dramas for the studio.[36] The studio rebounded in 1921 with the success of the studio’s film Why Girls Leave Home;[36] The film’s director, Harry Rapf, became the studio’s new head producer.[37] On April 4, 1923, following the success of the studio’s film The Gold Diggers, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc. was officially established, with help from a loan given to Harry by Montly Flint. Harry became company president, with Albert as treasurer and Jack and Sam as co-heads of production.[38] Harry and his family moved to Hollywood.

Godfather of Talkies The success of Warner Bros.' early talkie films (The Jazz Singer, The Lights of New York, The Singing Fool and The Terror) catapulted the studio into the ranks of the major studios. Flush with cash, the Warners abandoned their old location in the Poverty Row section of Hollywood and acquired a big studio in Burbank, California.[40] As a result of this success, Warner was able to acquire the Stanley Company of America (founded by Jules E. Mastbaum), which controlled most of the first-run theaters on the East Coast.[41] This purchase gave them a share in rival First National Pictures, of which Stanley owned one-third.[42] After this purchase, Warner was soon able to acquire William Fox's one third remaining share in First National and was now officially the majority stockholder of the company.[42] After success of the studio's 1929 First National film Noah's Ark,[43] Harry Warner also agreed to make Michael Curtiz a major director at the Burbank studio as well.

The Warner Brothers and the breakthrough of Talkies

* [image]

[image]Sound-on-film is a class of sound film processes where the sound accompanying a picture is recorded on photographic film, usually, but not always, the same strip of film carrying the picture. Sound-on-film processes can either record an analog sound track or digital sound track, and may record the signal either optically or magnetically. Earlier technologies were sound-on-disc, meaning the film's soundtrack would be on a separate phonograph record.

Lee de Forest (August 26, 1873 - June 30, 1961) was an American inventor and early pioneer in radio and in the development of sound-on-film recording used for motion pictures. He had over 300 patents worldwide, but also a tumultuous career-he boasted that he made, then lost, four fortunes. He was also involved in several major patent lawsuits, spent a substantial part of his income on legal bills, and was even tried (and acquitted) for mail fraud. His most famous invention, in 1906, was the three-element "Audion" (triode) vacuum tube, the first practical amplification device. Although de Forest had only a limited understanding of how it worked, it was the foundation of the field of electronics, making possible radio broadcasting, long distance telephone lines, and talking motion pictures, among countless other applications.

Nationality American Alma mater Yale College (Sheffield Scientific School) Occupation Inventor Known for Three-electrode vacuum-tube (Audion), sound-on-film recording (Phonofilm)

A vacuum tube, electron tube,[1][2][3] valve (British usage), or tube (North America),[4] is a device that controls electric current flow in a high vacuum between electrodes to which an electric potential difference has been applied.

The type known as a thermionic tube or thermionic valve uses the phenomenon of thermionic emission of electrons from a hot cathode and is used for a number of fundamental electronic functions such as signal amplification and current rectification. Non-thermionic types, such as a vacuum phototube however, achieve electron emission through the photoelectric effect, and are used for such purposes as the detection of light intensities. In both types, the electrons are accelerated from the cathode to the anode by the electric field in the tube.

Audio power amplifier using tubes, in operation. Red-orange glow is from heated filaments.

The simplest vacuum tube, the diode, invented in 1904 by John Ambrose Fleming, contains only a heated electron-emitting cathode and an anode. Electrons can only flow in one direction through the device-from the cathode to the anode. Adding one or more control grids within the tube allows the current between the cathode and anode to be controlled by the voltage on the grids.

[the functionality of a Gate between the Anode and Cathode which can control the flow of electrons creates an analogy or digital control, or switch, on reostat control on the flow of electrons. In analog circuits this can be used easily for output level or input level and in digital circuits it works easily for on off logic gate functions. The Quantum Tunnel affect of the Zener Diode is the implicit non direction of flow which contradicts the allowed flow direction. The quantum tunnel creates a switch operable int the negative simplex (implied only) contradiction space to the positive overtly allowed direction flow simplex space.]

These devices became a key component of electronic circuits for the first half of the twentieth century. They were crucial to the development of radio, television, radar, sound recording and reproduction, long-distance telephone networks, and analog and early digital computers. Although some applications had used earlier technologies such as the spark gap transmitter for radio or mechanical computers for computing, it was the invention of the thermionic vacuum tube that made these technologies widespread and practical, and created the discipline of electronics.

In the 1940s, the invention of semiconductor devices made it possible to produce solid-state devices, which are smaller, more efficient, reliable, durable, safer, and more economical than thermionic tubes. Beginning in the mid-1960s, thermionic tubes were being replaced by the transistor. However, the cathode-ray tube (CRT) remained the basis for television monitors and oscilloscopes until the early 21st century. Thermionic tubes are still used in some applications, such as the magnetron used in microwave ovens, certain high-frequency amplifiers, and amplifiers that audio enthusiasts prefer for their “warmer” tube sound.

Not all electronic circuit valves/electron tubes are vacuum tubes. Gas-filled tubes are similar devices, but containing a gas, typically at low pressure, which exploit phenomena related to electric discharge in gases, usually without a heater.

Circuits Copyright 2013 - 2021 © Elprocus

Electrical devices are built with the help of the linear and nonlinear components. To understand the basic design of these devices, the fundamental understanding of linear circuit and non-linear circuit are necessary. In this article, we are discussing what is a linear and non-linear circuits with its differences, elements of the linear & nonlinear circuit and some of the examples are explained.

Linear Circuits

Simply we can say that the linear circuit is an electric circuit and the parameters of this circuit are resistance, capacitance, inductance and etc are constant. Or we can say the parameters of the circuits are not changed with respect to the voltage and current is called the linear circuit. Generally, the word linear means a straight line which looks like diagonal and it tells about linear characteristics in between voltage and current. i.e the current flow in the circuit is directly proportional to the voltage. the formula is I Amperage aka power flow is equal to the voltage levels difference and resistance to equalization flow between the voltage levels of the parts of the circuit expressed as E = I/R

Generally, the word linear means a straight line which looks like diagonal and it tells about linear characteristics in between voltage and current. i.e the current flow in the circuit is directly proportional to the voltage. If there is an increase in the voltage then the current flow in the circuit also increases and vice versa.

Non Linear Circuits

In the an active (or internally interactive circuit) or also called Non Linear electric circuit, the parameters like waveforms, resistance, inductance and etc are not constant is called as Non- linear circuit.

The actions of Non Linear Circuit are complex but follow rules of physics such that things like an oscillating wave (as though in an ocean) will alter parameters of wave function based on conditions (comparable to depth of the ocean, in a circuit how much energy the circuit holds) and thus acts as if an intelligence responding to conditions in ever more complex circuit design possibilities.

Turing test

The Turing test, originally called the imitation game by Alan Turing in 1950, is a test of a machine's ability to exhibit intelligent behaviour equivalent to, or indistinguishable from, that of a human. Wikipedia the Touring Test (and internally active cirucits) retrieved from Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy and copied or modified to here

The phrase “The Turing Test” is most properly used to refer to a proposal made by Turing (1950) as a way of dealing with the question whether machines can think. According to Turing, the question whether machines can think is itself “too meaningless” to deserve discussion (442). However, if we consider the more precise-and somehow related-question whether a digital computer can do well in a certain kind of game that Turing describes (“The Imitation Game”), then-at least in Turing’s eyes-we do have a question that admits of precise discussion. Moreover, as we shall see, Turing himself thought that it would not be too long before we did have digital computers that could “do well” in the Imitation Game.

The phrase “The Turing Test” is sometimes used more generally to refer to some kinds of behavioural tests for the presence of mind, or thought, or intelligence in putatively minded entities. So, for example, it is sometimes suggested that The Turing Test is prefigured in Descartes’ Discourse on the Method. (Copeland (2000:527) finds an anticipation of the test in the 1668 writings of the Cartesian de Cordemoy. Abramson (2011a) presents archival evidence that Turing was aware of Descartes’ language test at the time that he wrote his 1950 paper. Gunderson (1964) provides an early instance of those who find that Turing’s work is foreshadowed in the work of Descartes.) In the Discourse, Descartes says:

> If there were machines which bore a resemblance to our bodies and imitated our actions as closely as possible for all practical > purposes, we should still have two very certain means of recognizing that they were not real men. The first is that they could never use words, or put together signs, as we do in order to declare our thoughts to others. For we can certainly conceive of a machine so constructed that it utters words, and even utters words that correspond to bodily actions causing a change in its organs. … But it is not conceivable that such a machine should produce different arrangements of words so as to give an appropriately meaningful answer to whatever is said in its presence, as the dullest of men can do. Secondly, even though some machines might do some things as well as we do them, or perhaps even better, they would inevitably fail in others, which would reveal that they are acting not from understanding, but only from the disposition of their organs. For whereas reason is a universal instrument, which can be used in all kinds of situations, these organs need some particular action; hence it is for all practical purposes impossible for a machine to have enough different organs to make it act in all the contingencies of life in the way in which our reason makes us act. (Translation by Robert Stoothoff)

[If an Ocean can be designed or replicated as a machine can it act as though a boat is sailing through or respond to other similations of the machine has an input system to create simulations?]

Although not everything about this passage is perfectly clear, it does seem that Descartes gives a negative answer to the question whether machines can think;

and, moreover, it seems that his giving this negative answer is tied to his confidence that no mere machine could pass The Turing Test: no mere machine could talk and act in the way in which adult human beings do.

[image]

Jack L. Warner

Jack Leonard Warner (born Jacob Warner;[1] August 2, 1892 - September 9, 1978) was a Canadian-American film executive, born in Canada, who was the president and driving force behind the Warner Bros. Studios in Burbank, California. Warner's career spanned some 45 years, its duration surpassing that of any other of the seminal Hollywood studio moguls.

As co-head of production at Warner Bros. Studios, he worked with his brother, Sam Warner, to procure the technology for the film industry's first talking picture, The Jazz Singer (1927).[3] After Sam's death, Jack clashed with his surviving older brothers, Harry and Albert Warner. He assumed exclusive control of the film production company in the 1950s, when he secretly purchased his brothers' shares in the business after convincing them to participate in a joint sale of stocks.

Although Warner was feared by many of his employees and inspired ridicule with his uneven attempts at humor, he earned respect for his shrewd instincts and tough-mindedness.[2] He recruited many of Warner Bros.' top stars[5] and promoted the hard-edged social dramas for which the studio became known.[6] Given to decisiveness, Warner once commented, "If I'm right fifty-one percent of the time, I'm ahead of the game."

Throughout his career, he was viewed as a contradictory and enigmatic figure.[7] Although he was a staunch Republican, Warner encouraged film projects that promoted the agenda of Democratic President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal.[6] He opposed European fascism and criticized Nazi Germany well before America's involvement in World War II.[8] An opponent of communism, after the war Warner appeared as a friendly witness before the House Un-American Activities Committee, voluntarily naming screenwriters who had been fired as suspected communists or sympathizers.[9] Despite his controversial public image, Warner remained a force in the motion picture industry until his retirement in the early 1970s

[image]

Harry Warner

Harry Morris Warner (born Hirsz Mojżesz Wonsal;[1] December 12, 1881 - July 25, 1958) was an American studio executive, one of the founders of Warner Bros., and a major contributor to the development of the film industry. Along with his three younger brothers (Albert, Sam and Jack) Warner played a crucial role in the film business and played a key role in establishing Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc, serving as the company president until 1956.

Warner was born Hirsz Mojżesz "Wonsal" or "Wonskolaser"[3][4][5] to a family of Ashkenazi Jews[6][7][8][9][10] from the village of Krasnosielc, Poland (then part of the Russian Empire: Russian Partition).[11][12][13] He was the son of Benjamin Wonsal, a shoemaker born in Krasnosielc, and Pearl Leah Eichelbaum. His given name was Mojżesz (Moses), however, he was called Hirsz (Anglicized to Hirsch) in the United States. In October 1889, he came to Baltimore, Maryland with his mother and siblings on the steamship Hermann from Bremen, Germany. Their father had preceded them, immigrating to Baltimore in 1888 in order to pursue his trade in shoes and shoe repair. It was at that time that he changed the family name to Warner which was used thereafter. As in many Jewish immigrant families, some of the children gradually acquired anglicized versions of their Yiddish-sounding names. Hirsz became Harry,[1] and his middle name Morris was likely a version of Mojżesz.

In the later part of 1925, Harry's younger brother Sam had also acquired a radio station, KWBC. After acquiring his radio station, Sam decided to make an attempt to use synchronized sound in future Warner Bros. Pictures. Harry had initial reservations about the idea; when Sam first made this suggestion, Harry wanted to focus on background music before delving into people talking on screen. Harry responded, "We could ultimately develop sound to the point where people ask for talking pictures" The company also began acquiring theaters. Eventually, Warner Bros. came to own and operate some 250 theaters. By February 1926, however, the brothers' radio business had failed, and the studio was facing a net loss of $333,413.00.

After a long period of refusing to accept the usage of sound in the company's films, Warner now agreed to use synchronized sound in Warner Bros. shorts, as long as it was used only for background music, Harry then made a visit to Western Electric's Bell Laboratories in New York, (which younger brother Sam had earlier visited) and was impressed. One problem that occurred for the Warners, though, was the fact that the high-ups at Western Electric were anti-Semitic. Sam, though, was able to convince the high-ups to sign with the studio after his wife Lina wore a gold cross at a dinner he attended with Western Electric brass. After this, Harry signed a partnership agreement with Western Electric to use Bell Laboratories to test the sound-on-film process.

[image]

Albert Warner

Abraham “Albert” Warner (born Aaron Wonsal,[1] July 23, 1884[2] - November 26, 1967) was an American film executive who was one of the founders of Warner Bros. He established the production studio with his brothers Harry, Sam, and Jack L. Warner. He served as the studio’s treasurer, until he sold his stock in 1956.

As a young man, along with his brother Sam, Albert Warner entered the nickelodeon business, and started displaying copies of The Great Train Robbery from a Kinetoscope at carnivals in Ohio and Pennsylvania in 1903; Sam ran the projector and Albert sold tickets.[28] In 1905, Harry agreed to join his two brothers’ business and sold his Youngstown bicycle shop.[28] During this time, the three brothers purchased a building in New Castle, Pennsylvania;[28] with their new building, the brothers established their first theater, The Cascade Movie Palace.[29] The theater was so successful that the brothers were able to purchase a second theater in New Castle as well.[30] This makeshift theatre, called the Bijou, was furnished with chairs borrowed from a local undertaker.[31] In 1907, the three brothers acquired fifteen additional theaters in the state of Pennsylvania, and named their new business The Dusquesne Amusement Supply Company.[32] The three brothers then rented an office in the Bakewell building in downtown

Pittsburgh with a loan from Max Fleischer.[30] Harry then sent Sam to New York to purchase and ship films for their Pittsburgh exchange company,[30] while he and Albert remained in Pittsburgh to run the business.

[image]

Sam Warner

Samuel Louis Warner (born Szmuel Wonsal[1][2],[3] August 10, 1887 - October 5, 1927) was an American film producer who was the co-founder and chief executive officer of Warner Bros. He established the studio along with his brothers Harry, Albert, and Jack L. Warner. Sam Warner is credited with procuring the technology that enabled Warner Bros. to produce the film industry's first feature-length talking picture, The Jazz Singer.[4] He died in 1927, the day before the film's enormously successful premiere.[5]

Samuel Warner was the first member of his family to move into the entertainment industry. In the early 1900s, he formed a business partnership with another Youngstown resident and "took over" the city's Old Grand Opera House, which he used as a venue for "cheap vaudeville and photoplays". The venture failed after one summer.[24] Warner then secured a job as a projectionist at Idora Park, a local amusement park.[25] He persuaded the family of the new medium's possibilities and negotiated the purchase of a Model B Kinetoscope from a projectionist who was "down on his luck".[26] The purchase price was $1,000.[27] Warner's interest in film came after seeing Thomas Edison's The Great Train Robbery while working as an employee at Cedar Point Pleasure Resort in Sandusky, Ohio. During this time, Albert agreed to join Warner and together the two displayed showings of The Great

Train Robbery at carnivals throughout the states of Ohio and Pennsylvania;[28] Sam Warner would run the film projector and Albert would sell tickets.

In 1905, Harry Warner agreed to join his two brothers and sold his Youngstown bicycle shop.[29] Through the money Harry made by selling the bicycle shop, the three brothers were now able to purchase a building in New Castle, Pennsylvania;[30] The brothers named their new theater The Cascade Movie Palace.[31] The Cascade Movie Palace was so successful that the brothers were able to purchase a second theater in New Castle.[32] This makeshift theatre, called the Bijou, was furnished with chairs borrowed from a local undertaker.[33] They maintained the theater until moving into film distribution in 1907.[34] That year, the Warner brothers established the Pittsburgh-based Duquesne Amusement Company, and the three brothers rented an office in the Bakewell building in downtown Pittsburgh.[32] Harry then sent Sam Warner to New York to purchase, and ship, films for their Pittsburgh exchange company, while he and Albert remained in Pittsburgh to run the business.[32]

In 1925, after years of bachelorhood,[79] Warner met eighteen-year-old Ziegfeld Follies performer and actress Lina Basquette while spending time in New York visiting the Bell Laboratories. The two began an intense love affair.[80] On July 4, 1925, the two were married.[81] While Warner's younger brother Jack did not object to Basquette's Catholicism, the rest of the Warner family did.[82] They refused to accept Basquette and did not acknowledge her as a member of the Warner clan.[82] On October 6, 1926, the couple's only child, daughter Lita, was born.

Basquette and her daughter reconnected in 1977 when Basquette backed a lawsuit that Lita brought against her uncle Jack Warner's estate.

In September 1927, Jack-who was working nonstop with Sam on production of The Jazz Singer-noticed that his brother started having severe headaches and nosebleeds. By the end of the month, Sam was unable to walk straight.[88] He was hospitalized and was diagnosed with a sinus infection that was aggravated by several abscessed teeth. Doctors also discovered that Warner had developed a mastoid infection of the brain. After four surgeries to remove the infection, Warner slipped into a coma. He died of pneumonia caused by sinusitis, osteomyelitis and epidural and subdural abscesses on October 5, 1927, the day before the premiere of The Jazz Singer.

According to Hollywood Be Thy Name, the 1993 memoir of Jack Warner, Jr., and Cass Warner Sperling, character actor William Demarest claimed that Sam Warner was murdered by his own brothers.[91] This allegation, leveled in 1977, was never corroborated, and Demarest's reliability was questioned because of his long dependence on alcohol;[91] the last time that Sam would meet with his entire family was at his parent's wedding anniversary in 1926.[

The FBI's Special Agent Christopher Lorek and Special Agent Stephen Shaw, who arrested Dzhokhar, were mysteriously killed on May 17, 2013. In a case of strange timing, during what is presented as a freak accident, the two FBI agents where killed during a training mission when they were reported to have fallen out of their helicopter off the Atlantic coast of Virginia. Officially, bad weather was reported to be the cause of their deaths.*

Mason techniques are used including illegal surveillance of me to allege Prior Art or prior State of Art by others who appear to be my superiors, appear to instruct me, and I appear one of many followers of the teachers of that art thus shifting followers, esteem, raech and worth of my voice away from me and to others.

There was the ongoing Masonic/ FBI Gangstalk of the Tsarneves at the same time the suspicious murders of the Walthams were committed and connected and many other strange events.

> A view of the Corinthian Hall during a tour of the Grand Masonic Lodge of Massachusetts. The Corinthian Hall features unique handcrafted architectural designs and portraits of George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, Joseph Warren, and Marquis de Lafayette, all original Freemasons. *

it is a form of silencing me similar to The boy who called Wolf and is now ignored.

I am exactly under that Free Mason Gangstalk including during the writing of this book theft of my PC and destruction of my PC and writing materials (research DVDs, The Kings Speech) people actually standing not to my window in my home office nose touch the outside of my window making faces at me, banging on the dumpster of the gas station next door, theft of manuscript, death threat for writing it, shouting at me during the writing of it, all much like Tom Dunham experienced with his web site publicly exposing the same criminal elements I am writing about.

A as I have claimed over and over again I am NOT retarded Jim Volckecka William Ruiz and others publicly conspire against my assertions of non retardation with the appearance I am retarded and I am merely trying to call Wolf (a predator is out there) claim is again a false wolf cry.

Showing I am receiving retardation coaching including among minors makes me seem developmentally retarded.

FBI Vigilantism Subverting Law Abiding Citizen for no appearent reason with Conspiracy Agaainst Right, open violence - but why?

U.S. GOVERNMENT RUNS 'GANG STALKING' VIGILANTISM, SAYS EX-FBI OFFICIAL

http://www.nowpublic.com/world/u-s-govt-runs-gang-stalking-vigilantism-says-ex-fbi-official Official confirms what thousands of victims have long known: an evil U.S. shadow government is conducting a covert, taxpayer-funded genocidal purge of American society - while Congress and an apparently entrained Obama administration sleep.

Author's note: Former FBI official Ted Gunderson died of cancer on July 31, 2011. Was his illness induced by silent electromagnetic assault or by other nefarious means? We will never know - and that's just the way certain entities want it.

A former senior official of the Federal Bureau of Investigation says "rogue" military intelligence and law enforcement units of the federal government oversee a nationwide network of community-based "gang stalking" harassment, intimidation and domestic terrorism directed at thousands of U.S. citizens who have been extrajudicially targeted as “dissidents” or undesirables.

Ted Gunderson, 82, who has served as the special agent in charge of the FBI’s Los Angeles, Memphis and Dallas field offices, has stated in a series of public speaking appearances that he is now targeted by these same elements, and fears for his life and for the safety of his family. He reports that the windows of his home have been shot out, and he believes he has been poisoned and physically sickened by those seeking to silence him.

Since his retirement from the FBI in the 1979, Gunderson has been a Southern California- based private investigator. He is most noted for his defense work on the murder case involving former Army physician Dr. Jeffrey MacDonald.

The ex-FBI official’s comments represent the most compelling testimony to date indicating that “black operations” of the federal government are dedicated to waging a covert war of terror and persecution targeting American citizens.

